Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Our new fire alarm system may be all right, but it seems to me that it has one important defect—the stroke upon the bell in the city clock tower is too weak—it can't be heard beyond the central portion of the city; the hammer hasn't snap enough; doesn't strike hard enough. If the Fire, Water and Light Committee can't get a louder boom out of the bell they should try again—strengthen the spring or whatever operates the hammer and make it play fortinissimo rather than pianissimo. With a good bell harnessed to a Bell system there should be a little more bell in the fire alarms.

Yours, Etc.,

CANOEISTS COMPLAIN OF DANGEROUS EDDY

Would Like Protection at the Approach to Slide

The canoeists of the city are already complaining of the approach to the rollers at the dam at the Locks Bridge, alleging that it is dangerous for a canoeist, unless he is skilful, to attempt to bring his boat up the eddy.

It has been suggested that some dredging be done at this point to construct a breakwater to turn the current off the shore.

MR. J. GILMAN WILL OCCUPY JUBILEE HOUSE

Moves Down To-morrow Night—Men Engaged in Repair Work.

Mr. John Gilman, of Jubilee Point, returned to the city to-day, and announces that he has a gang of men working at his summer resort getting things in shape for the season, which will soon begin. The wharf is being rebuilt, and general improvements are being made to the hotel and park. He expects to have everything in readiness for the 24th of May, which is virtually the opening of the tourist season. He believes that Jubilee Point will have even more visitors this year than ever before, and will also have many picnics.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff, and also for its excellence as a general hair dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later, baldness, in killing it. Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. The Market Drug Store. Two sizes—50c and $1.

CITIZEN MAKES A SUGGESTION

In Reference to the New Fire Alarm System, Which Looks to be a Pretty Good One.

To the Editor of the Examiner.
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—

In reading an account in your issue last night, of the method of operating the new fire alarm system now being installed by the Northern Electric Company of Montreal, I noticed that it stated that, "the prolonged ringing of the bell, as formerly, will be done away with." It seems to me that such a fire alarm system as this is not perfect unless the system be arranged to first of all ring in a general alarm, the bell being struck in rapid succession some thirty times, which would involve only a few seconds, then a short pause, followed by the ward number, then the box number, this operation to be repeated, as described, at least four times. Under the present system, which is now considered complete, the ward number and box number are sent in only. Taking, for example, Ward No. 1, box 12; only those living in the vicinity of the city clock would be aroused, as the alarm would not amount to much more than the midnight hour being struck. If the general alarm is first announced, then the ward and the box number, and repeated four times, the whole city would be awakened in short order, and if a disastrous fire was raging, someone might lend great assistance in saving life as well as property. Otherwise it might not be known that a fire had occurred, until advised the following morning. Cards showing the ward and box numbers in our city, with a short explanation as to how to proceed to send in an alarm, could be printed at small cost, and every business place have them tacked up in suitable places. By so doing, any person, by stepping inside one of our stores could locate the exact vicinity of the fire as soon as the alarm was sent in. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space,

Yours,
CITIZEN.

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

A Chapter on That Delectable Matrimonial Sequence, the Honeymoon—Do Not Permit It to Come to a Speedy End, but Cherish It and Prolong It Indefinitely.

[Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.]

MY DEAR BOY—Your mother and I have just returned from the wedding in which you were, to us, the most interesting if not the most conspicuous figure. It was a great wedding; never saw anything quite so pretty in my life. Everything was in good taste, and you went through your part like a little man. I was almost proud of you.

And the bride! My boy, I believe you've discovered something that's better than a gold mine. Unless my judgment is mightily at fault, she's all right. Your mother is just as well pleased as I am, and that's saying a great deal for her, for she never could see any girl quite good enough for you. You know she doesn't hesitate to say whom she likes, or dislikes, and she usually settles the point on sight, so I was very uneasy, as no doubt you were, about the way Mrs. John Junior would strike her. But she took to her new daughter-in-law like a duck to an orphan chick, and I attach more importance to that than I do to my own judgment.

Why, she's so tickled that she persists in waking me up in the middle of the night just to have an audience while she disposes of a stock of adjectives that would astonish a Frenchman. You little know, my boy, how much she has missed you since you went out to wrestle with fortune on your own book, and you can hardly appreciate what a concession it is for her to look with favor upon this young woman who has taken possession of you. After awhile you will understand, but not now.

Angels Without Wings.

I suppose you are pretty well along with your honeymoon by this time, and unless your lot is different from that of other mortals you have made some discoveries. You have found, I don't doubt, that the wings you supposed were full fledged haven't even sprouted. That is the amazing discovery every newly married man makes, and the quicker he makes it and becomes reconciled the better it is for his future welfare.

Angels are all well enough in pictures, but they would certainly grate on our nerves if we had to associate with them. Nor is perfection to be desired in a genuine flesh and blood woman. This would be a mighty tiresome world if all of us did exactly as we ought. It is mainly our faults and the faults of others that furnish us the diversion that makes life worth while. That isn't strictly orthodox, but it's true, and I believe it will continue to be true as long as humanity retains that innate cussedness which dominates it.

Don't infer, however, that I consider imperfections and attractions to increase in corresponding ratio. A little salt is necessary to make your food palatable, but a very little more will spoil it. A faultless wife is likely to be insipid, and good, healthy imperfections should rather be cause for rejoicing than lament. So, my boy, when you find one in your dear little bride, don't have a conniption fit, but make a note of it, and when you get an opportunity analyze it tenderly. They may keep you pretty busy for awhile, but when you get them all classified you will have that intimate acquaintance which is absolutely essential to domestic happiness. A long while ago somebody said, "Man, know thyself!" and I would paraphrase that aud, I believe, improve it by saying, "Man, know thy wife!" It's much more important. On the other hand, it is just as necessary that the wife know the husband, but I don't care to discuss that side of the question. I don't feel competent.

Reform Your Faults, Not Hers.

You may wonder that I don't suggest a study of your wife's virtues. Lord bless you, my boy, you don't need to study them. They will fall upon you and envelop you and permeate you, and all you have to do is to appreciate them and give frequent evidence of your appreciation. Virtues seldom cause domestic trouble unless they are allowed to become aggressively active, and then, as a rule, they cease to be virtues. Just confine your attention to her faults. If these are little ones, be thankful and let them alone. If any should look to be serious, don't try to remove them with an ax. You are likely to sprain your arm and dull the tool. Treat them with tact and patience and love, and in the course of time, perhaps a long time, you can so modify them that they will become unobjectionable or even likable.

All this, however, presupposes some attention to your own failings, which are probably more numerous and more pronounced than hers, and in the case of a man there are more circumstances which call for the use of a metaphorical surgical instrument. If you don't wield it yourself, the little girl ought to, and if you need it she will unless I am mistaken in my judgment of her. But you can't treat a woman's faults in that way. Dictation, opposition, force, may get results, but it will be at the expense of happiness. You can't run a home as you would a factory. Your wife is not a servant or your inferior in anything but physical strength. Besides, she is a woman and as such is entitled to the fullest measure of that chivalric courtesy which every gentleman owes to the other sex. That she is your wife increases your obligation in this respect. I have heard of women who doubted their husbands' love if they neglected the periodical beating, but I never saw any of that class, and I doubt their existence. No; the only way to correct a woman's fault, if it really needs correction, is by a pressure so gentle she never suspects its existence, applied with the patient persistence that is in all things irresistible. You know that in the grinding of a lens for a great telescope the final work is done with the palm of the bare hand. If you bend a twig sharply, it will break, but if you bend it gently and secure it in its new position you can by constant repetition of the process mold it to any form you desire. So the ideal husband and wife consciously and unconsciously mold each other's disposition. Domestic happiness, my son, is the highest form of bliss attainable on earth, and it is worth all the trouble it generally takes to secure it.

A Perpetual Honeymoon.

The popular idea of the honeymoon is a period of a few weeks immediately following the wedding during which the couple skylark around over the country, making spectacles of themselves for the amusement of anybody who happens to be observing them. It is a period of unrestrained billing and cooing by the end of which they are supposed to have become satiated and return home to settle down to a practical, everyday life in which love and its outward manifestations are not expected to figure to any great extent. I sincerely hope you will not take that view of it. The honeymoon should not be subject to limitations of place or of time. As a mere outing it should be made brief; as a sentimental condition, modified by the activities and necessities that demand bread and butter at regular intervals, it should continue until death breaks the bond. I have been married thirty years and am still in the midst of my honeymoon, and I hope to see this moon in its meridian for many years to come. You should never cease to be lovers. I can see no reason why the return to earth should cause an entire change of relations. Some people seem to think that the tender little attentions which mark the period of courtship and that immediately follow the wedding are incompatible with the struggle for a living; that the kiss, the caress, the little compliments, are not only unnecessary, but even foolish. If you desire happiness as nearly absolute as possible here below, don't make that mistake.

Love Is Not All.

Love alone is not sufficient for a woman. She hungers for its outward and visible manifestation, and it is a hunger that can never be fully appeased. A man can rest content in the confidence of his wife's affection and doesn't worry if she neglects to express it in words or actions, but she is of different fiber. She wants to hear you say "I love you" once in awhile, to feel your arm steal around her and your lips pressed to hers. She never grows weary of these things, and she never grows too old to appreciate them. Their neglect is the beginning of indifference, and indifference is love's deadliest foe.

Without love marriage degenerates first to a mere convenience and then to a condition of bondage in which iron chains take the place of roses, chains which the divorce courts are too often called upon to sever. If you do not give your wife frequent evidence of your affection, you will have only yourself to blame if she turns to some one else for that which her nature demands. No; you cannot possibly attach too much importance to these seemingly insignificant things. They are the very foundations of domestic happiness. You may provide a comfortable home and every material desire of her heart, you may treat her with courtesy and kindness, you may give her high social position, but if she loves you all these are as nothing if unaccompanied by the purely sentimental expressions of your own affection for her. With visible love she will live happily in the humblest cottage.

Some people would smile at this. Some would call it an old fashioned idea that has no place in the advanced civilization of today. The mountains and the hills, the lakes and the rivers, are old fashioned, and they are no more immutable than human nature, of which love is the highest expression. In spite of all of our culture, men and women, under the veneer, are just the same as they were when Pan played his pipes in the groves of Arcadia. We are as God made us, and while we may develop the brain we can't alter its composition, nor can we eradicate the love longing from a woman's heart. So let her have all she wants.

Keep the Lovelight Burning.

I am writing all this now because I want to keep you from settling down in the all too customary way after your return from your wedding trip. You will have to resume the chase after dollars, and you'll have to sprint a little faster than before, but that won't justify you in putting the little girl up on a shelf like a piece of valuable bric-a-brac nor in shoving her back into the kitchen to become your cook. She is neither a goddess to be worshiped from afar nor a menial to be bossed at close range. She is just a delightful bundle of flesh and blood and nerves, designed for everyday wear and attaining her highest happiness in loving and helping you.

Do all you can, therefore, to keep that lovelight burning brightly, for if you are the right sort your own happiness will be based upon hers. Love her always and let her know, let her know, let her know that you love her. That is the fatal mistake of so many—keeping their love to themselves, as if it were something to be ashamed of, until continual suppression extinguishes it entirely. Exercise is as necessary to love as it is to all attributes of life, physical, mental or spiritual. This is not theory, but fact, which has been proved over and over again since the world began, and my own experience does not differ from that of countless thousands of others who bear testimony to its truth.

Putting the little girl upon the shelf.

Your mother reminds me that it is time for me to be in bed, so I must bring this epistle to a close. With love to the new Mrs. Sneed—God bless her—I remain your affectionate father,

JOHN SNEED.

English Pronunciation.

There is a village in north Devon which the signposts call Wolfardisworthy, but which we have heard pronounced "Woolserthy." Very likely, however, if you went there and pronounced it so you would be reproved for the contraction.

This was what happened to us at Cirencester. Passing through that town we were solemnly corrected for calling it "Cicester." On the other hand, when wandering in Norfolk and drawing nigh to a place which was marked on the map "Happisburgh," we found ourselves quite unintelligible because we did not pronounce it "Hazebro."

Even in English the difference between sight and sound is confined to a small minority of words, though some people seem to be of the same opinion as a young Hanoverian lady of our acquaintance who naively remarked: "You English do pronounce so strangely! There is your great author. You spell him D-i-c-k-e-n-s, and you pronounce him Box."—London Spectator.

Why They Wished to Prolong Life.

It is curious to note the inadequacy of the objects for which men would seem to wish to prolong their days. Collingwood, as his epitaph informs us, "a pious, just and exemplary man," would have liked to have had another blow at the French. Lord Peterborough, Pope's contemporary, desired to live in order "to give that rascal (Bishop Burnet) the lie in half his history"—an aspiration of which he proved the sincerity by carrying with him the volumes, carefully marked, when, already believed to be dying, he went to Lisbon. And Bentley, making up his mind to reach the age of eighty and no further, observed that "it was an age long enough to read everything worth reading."—London Standard.

Too Bad.

There is a sweet girl in Washington with a most saintly patience, but even she could not resist the temptation recently to let fly a little arrow. He was about nineteen, but weary, oh, very weary! He had made a call of perhaps two hours, and she also was beginning to feel some slight fatigue.

"I never get over a thing, you know," he said sadly. "I really never expect to care for a woman again. I made a fool of myself over one once."

"And you never get over anything? Too bad!" she said sympathetically. And he smoked a whole box of cigarettes thinking it over afterward.

Canadian Peers Without Heirs.

It is a noteworthy and curious fact that of our three Canadian peerages not one has an heir male to continue it. Lord Strathcona's title will presumably descend one day to his daughter, Mrs. Howard, who will thus add another to the small and select company of peeresses in their own right. Lord Mount Stephen, though he has been twice married, has no children; and the one other Canadian peerage, that of Macdonald of Earnscliffe, is now held by the widow of the first Lord Macdonald, and as yet no provision has been made for its inheritance by her only daughter.

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Two Grateful Letters from Women Who Avoided Serious Operations.—Many Women Suffering from Like Conditions Will Be Interested.

When a physician tells a woman, suffering from female trouble, that an operation is necessary it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart. As one woman expressed it, when told by her physician that she must undergo an operation she felt that her death knell had sounded.

Our hospitals are full of women who are there for just such operations!

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but such cases are much rarer than is generally supposed, because a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after the doctors had said an operation must be performed. In fact, up to the point where the knife must be used to secure instant relief, this medicine is certain to help.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have escaped serious operations.

Mrs. Robert Glenn of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I have suffered untold agonies from a serious female trouble for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound, and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. Pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Miss Margaret Merkley of 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps, bearing-down pains, and an irritable disposition compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said that I had a serious female trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation as my only hope. To this I strongly objected—and I decided as a last resort to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"To my surprise the ulceration healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared, and I am once more strong, vigorous and well; and I cannot express my thanks for what it has done for me."

Serious feminine troubles are steadily on the increase among women—and before submitting to an operation every woman should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been curing the worst forms of female complaints, all functional troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement, weakness, irregularities, indigestion and nervous prostration. Any woman who could read the many grateful letters on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office would be convinced of the efficiency of her advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THE RECORD ADMIRAL FURNACE

Is fitted with the improved Record Triangular Grate—the most perfect furnace grate on the market. Of the four triangular grate bars, each bar is operated by the use of a handle applied to either of the two centre bars. To remove this handle after shaking is impossible until the grate bar has been returned to its original position, flat and in place, without any of the cogs sticking up. The result is that the bars are always flat under the fire and that it is impossible for lumps of coal to drop through and be wasted. The Record Triangular Grate can be entirely removed from without without lying on stomach or bothering with a light. 104

FASHION NOTES.

New Sailor Hat—Blouse Styles—Popular Linen Collar.

Fine white chip sailor hats show the broad low crown worn some years ago, and it is worth noting how many are touched up with velvet and wings of orange or flame color.

Wide stitched plaits are found on tailor made blouses. They are arranged so as to allow for the drooping shoulder effect which is found on all bodices, plain or elaborate.

A dull blue and white striped cloth made with a modified empire coatee and trimmed with bias bands of the material is an excellent model.

Linen collars are very popular—not alone the embroidered ones, but those of plain linen. Some very dainty effects are seen in the shops, and this revived style brings into vogue an endless variety of fancy neckwear. A pretty bow is of fine white linen, with four pear shaped ends, two a trifle larger than the other two, and all of them buttonholed in white wash cotton and sprinkled with French dots. When put together with a tiny cross everpiece in the middle they form a charming little neck piece. In the shops such an adornment costs $1, and if made at home the price is merely nominal.

Frilled bosom plaits, with or without the stocks, jabot and little bows, are great favorites.

Panama straw hats dyed in various shades are worn in the morning with plain suits. Favorite shades are dark green, gray and violet.

Batiste is the best liked material for underwear and is always satisfactory. Here are two dainty garments made of this fabric. The skirt has a deep embroidered ruffle headed with ribbon run beading. The corset cover is adorned with val lace and beading.

IN VOGUE.

Pongee Silk For Traveling Dresses. Empire Trimming Effects.

Pongee silk is here again and, like taffeta and foulard, has improved with age. For certain occasions there is nothing equal to it. As a traveling dress in gun metal, golden brown silk pongee, though a trifle expensive, is the best of all materials. It can be made as traveling dresses are made—with long coat and plaited skirt. And this season, out of regard for the fondness for hand embroidery, there can be a border of hand work around the hem, or the pongee can be trimmed with bands of taffeta arranged in pointed design.

When the shirt waist suits are to be considered—for the shirt waist suit is by no means dead—there are cheap silks that make up beautifully for the purpose. There is a glace taffeta that is the best shirt waist silk on the market.

For the empire effects both fringe and tassels are used for trimming, and some of the most expensive braids are set off by narrow fringe, such as are used for trimming bedroom curtains. Rosettes combining velvet ribbon and taffetas and chenille and lace are set at intervals in the trimming. These must be very small and Frenchy.

The plain blouses, with their studs and separate collar and cuffs, are unquestionably more complicated to carry out, but they are apt to look trim and smart much longer than the lingerie bodice, and, too, they give far more satisfactory wear, so that they bring their owners compensations.

The gown illustrated is of reseda green foulard silk dotted with black. The skirt is in three sections, edged with narrow velvet black ribbon, each of which has a straight lower edge. The yoke is of heavy lace.

FORECAST OF FASHION.

All Kinds of Coats For One's Selection This Season—Elastic Belts.

There is much variety in the shape and style of coats for spring, and it is almost impossible to state which will be most popular. Tight fitting coats buttoned simply down the front, some rather long and others short, will be worn with severe tailored costumes.

Elastic belts are in great demand. The narrow ones come in all colors—

plain and plaided. They are studded and embossed with various designs. The soft elastic belts, which crush into the buckle, come only in black and white and are four or five inches wide.

Some of the long gloves have a buttonhole or loop at the top to fasten them to the sleeves, thus eliminating a common annoyance.

There is no abatement of the use of braid on spring suits. It is found on skirts as well as on coats and jackets.

Ribbons are used in all sorts of ways on hats. Sometimes they form spikes, sharp, which are often twisted. Then there are stiff loops standing up from the hat or soft loops flattened against the brim at or drooping dejectedly from the rear.

Many of the new hats are quite flat and are trimmed with flatly arranged wings. Many have flat loops of velvet filling in under the brim at the back. When the hat is light, the wings of medium shades and the velvet loops much darker the effect is very good.

A warm weather frock for the wee girl is shown in the picture. It is of blue and white checked gingham trimmed with white embroidery and has a white collar. This design makes up beautifully in all the thin materials.

A ROSE JAR.

How to Make This Old Fashioned Scent Last For Years.

The rose jar of years ago is now seen in young women's boudoirs, and happy indeed is the possessor of a jar that is a family heirloom. For those that are not so fortunate many beautiful jars are shown for this purpose.

To fill it, gather the rose petals and let them stand in a cool place for two hours, toss them and put them in a large covered dish, sprinkle each layer with salt, keep adding to these until you have enough stock. Shake the leaves up every morning, and let the whole stand two weeks after the last petals are added.

In a large glass jar place two ounces of crushed allspice, two ounces of broken cinnamon, then put in the rose leaves and let stand eight weeks covered.

Then it will be ready for the permanent jar. Add two ounces of lavender flowers and one ounce of shredded orris root. Mix all well together and put in the rose jar in alternate layers with the rose stock and a few drops of oil of roses.

Over this pour a wineglassful of good cologne, from time to time add a little lavender water and occasionally fresh rose petals. This will last for years.

SARTORIAL NEWS.

Lettuce Green a Smart Summer Shade. Helmet Hats Are Popular.

There is a new yellow green that resembles a pale lettuce shade that seems to be gaining in popular fancy.

The helmet shaped hat is taking a prominent place in millinery, and a great many brown and ecru hats are seen.

Pale putty and pongee tones are smart and attractive. Pongee in natural color showing double linked rings of blue, red, green or brown are worthy of attention as frock material, and there is a stylish pongee barred with a fine line of brown.

Brown and white cherries and a few deep red dahlias, with brown taffeta ribbon, form the decoration on a brown straw shade hat.

The touch of gold on tailored suits is handled so carefully that it is not as inappropriate as one might think.

Black and white effects in summer fabrics are very fashionable, and frogs and cabochons are found even on the linen suits of the season.

Long skirts are cut circular, and short ones are seven and nine gored, usually plaited. The nine gored kilt plaited skirt is very fashionable in checked and striped materials.

The kimono dressing sack shown in the cut is made of Japanese cotton crape finished with a simple ribbon banding. It can be made with or without a center seam in the back, and it will be found satisfactory for all the fabrics used for negligees of the sort.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Smart Lace Frocks—Novelty Purse. New Fabrics.

Novelties are the frocks of all over valenciennes, with insertions of finely tucked or embroidered batiste.

Very stunning is a purse of dull smoke colored leather covered with a network of dull rose gold, each diamond shaped crossing caught up by an amethyst or a topaz.

The plaided pongees are charming and of striking originality, with occasional blocks of Roman colors to liven up the check.

Long crepe de chine scarfs, with broad bands of solid embroidery across each end, are finished with a nine inch silk fringe. These are attractive either as a light wrap for the neck and shoulders or as a dainty head covering.

Mirage silk is a new discovery bounded on the one side with rajah and on the other with taffeta, possessing somewhat the irregular weave of the former with the stiffer dressing of the latter.

Two attractive models are illustrated for children's wash frocks. The older girl is wearing a dress of linen lawn trimmed with embroidery, while the younger one is gowned in a checked pink gingham, with a yoke of plain white embroidery in the corners.

Recruiting Marches.

It is reported in the military clubs, says The Birmingham Post, that the war office will order certain regiments to send strong parties, accompanied by their bands and colors, on a series of recruiting marches through their respective territorial areas during the coming summer and autumn.

Particular attention, it is added, will be paid to the rural district when employment becomes slack, after the harvests; and among the regiments which are expected to be called upon to undertake marches of this description are the 2nd Battalion Royal Warwickshire Regiment, the 1st Royal Welsh Fusiliers, the 2nd Gloucestershire Regiment, the 3rd Worcestershire Regiment, and the 1st South Staffordshire Regiment.

SEASONABLE SOUPS.

Tested Recipes For Cheap and Easily Made Soups.

Brown Broth.—Put two tablespoonfuls of butter in a frying pan, add two tablespoonfuls of chopped onions and two of chopped carrots and cook until a golden brown. Put these in a kettle with a quart of boiling water and a bay leaf and simmer fifteen minutes. Press through a sieve. While the soup is simmering put about a tablespoonful of sugar into an iron saucepan and when it browns and burns add two tablespoonfuls of chopped onions, then two or three tablespoonfuls of water. Add this to the soup, with a teaspoonful of salt and a saltspoonful of pepper. Strain the soup, return it and let settle. Add half a pint of blocks of bread that have been stirred up with beaten eggs, bring to a boil and serve with grated cheese.

Tomato Bouillon.—Use one can of tomatoes, add a pint of water, a slice of onion, a bay leaf, a little celery seed and boil rapidly for ten minutes. Press through a colander as much of the flesh as possible. Add the well beaten whites of two eggs, bring quickly to the boiling point, boil five minutes and strain through cheesecloth. The fleshy portion of the tomato that remains in the cheesecloth may be put aside for flavoring sauces. Reheat the bouillon, add a cup of whipped cream and serve at once with strips of toasted bread.

East Indian Soup.—Put into a kettle a tablespoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of fine chopped onions, two tablespoonfuls of grated carrots and the same of grated turnips. Stir carefully for about two minutes, add a quart of water or stock, a dash of red pepper, a little black pepper, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a sliced apple and simmer gently for fifteen minutes. Add a teaspoonful of curry and four or five tablespoonfuls of boiled rice, which should be boiled while you are making the soup.

Quick Turkish Soup.—Stir a teaspoonful of beef extract into one quart of boiling water; add a tablespoonful of grated onion and a saltspoonful of celery seed. When this reaches the boiling point, pour it slowly over the well beaten yolks of two eggs. Have ready drained four tablespoonfuls of boiled rice; add and serve at once.

Cream of Potato Soup.—Pare four small potatoes, cover with boiling water and boil rapidly for five minutes. Throw the water away and cover with a pint and a half of boiling water. Add a slice of onion, a bay leaf and a few celery tops chopped fine. The green leaves of the celery will answer the purpose. Cover and boil fifteen minutes or until the potatoes are soft. While these are boiling put a pint of milk in the double boiler, add a tablespoonful of butter and one of flour rubbed together; press the potatoes through a fine sieve, using the water in which they were boiled; add this mixture to the hot milk in the double boiler. Stir until thoroughly heated and serve.

King Edward's Kitchen.

It is doubtful if there is another cook in the world whose skill in culinary arts is equal to that of M. Menager, who rules the kitchen at Buckingham Palace. For his service as King Edward's cusines M. Menager, it is said, receives a salary of £2,000 per annum, his duties lasting about two hours each day, if the time occupied in passing the luncheon menu, drawn up by the master of his Majesty's household, is excepted.

Toward 6 o'clock M. Menager directs his steps towards the kitchen, where are saucepans and culinary utensils which have cost not less than £10,000. There are 4,000 knives, 3,000 forks, and 3,000 spoons, solely employed in the preparation of the dishes, while the equipment of the kitchen provides for 8,000 covers being laid.—Tit-Bits.

Close Quarters.

"And have you but one doll, little girl?"

"Yes'm, an' it has to be a small one, too. We live in a flat."

King's Cane Collection.

King Edward is a diligent collector of walking sticks, match-boxes, caricatures, and model ships. His collection of canes numbers nearly 2,000, and most of these have remarkable associations. A stick highly prized by the King is one used by Queen Victoria in her closing years. It is made from a portion of the oak in whose boughs Charles I. concealed himself after his defeat by Cromwell at Worcester.

ANALYSIS OF MURDER

MEN IN PRIME OF VIGOR COMMIT THIS CRIME MOSTLY.

Majority of Victims Are Women—Men Are Oftenest Killed by Manslaughter—Drink Has No Special Relation to Homicide—Jealousy Is a Prime Motive—Saturday a Favorite Day For This Crime.

A remarkable analysis of the crime of murder for the last 20 years by Sir John Macdonnell, Master of the Supreme Court, is the principal feature of the criminal statistics of England and Wales for 1905, which was issued recently. The number of people sentenced to death for murder from 1886 to 1905 was 488 males and 64 females. In the last decade the actual number of cases in which execution followed the death sentence is shown in the following table:

| Year. | Sentenced. | Executed. |
| 1904 | 28 | 16 |
| 1903 | 40 | 27 |
| 1902 | 33 | 22 |
| 1901 | 28 | 15 |
| 1900 | 20 | 13 |
| 1899 | 29 | 15 |
| 1898 | 27 | 11 |
| 1897 | 14 | 6 |
| 1896 | 33 | 20 |

Sir John writes: "The first fact to be noted is that murder, as might be expected, is a crime of men. Murder means murder by men in a great majority of cases. Out of 532 sentenced to death since 1886, 488 were men. The figures are more remarkable because as regards women they include cases of child murder, to which they are, of course, much more prone than men. The proportion of persons executed to those sentenced is also much higher in men.

Most of Victims Women.

"The next noticeable point, which is rarely mentioned, is that a great majority of the persons murdered are women. They are as three to one. Murder means to a very great extent the murdering of women by men. It is a curious fact, on the other hand, that the number of men killed by manslaughter exceeds women by two to one.

"A great majority of the murders are committed by persons between the ages of 21 and 40, that is, during the period of greatest physical vigor. This fact is illustrated by the following table, showing the ages of persons convicted of murder from 1886 to 1905:

| Age. | No. |
|---|---|
| 12 to 16 | 1 |
| 16 to 21 | 56 |
| 21 to 30 | 180 |
| 30 to 40 | 141 |
| 40 to 50 | 91 |
| 50 to 60 | 51 |

"A further notable point in regard to murders committed by men is the very large proportion of murders of wives. Out of a total of 488 murders for which men were sentenced, to death in the 20 years under consideration, no fewer than 124, or about 1 in 4, were murders of wives by their husbands. Most of the men convicted of murder belonged like the women to the laboring classes.

Motives for Murder.

"The principal causes or motives for murders during this period were: Jealousy and intrigues, 92; drink, 90; quarrels or rage, 68; revenge, 77; robbery, 50; extreme poverty, 39; illegal operations 13, and for insurance money, 3. Saturday is a favored day for murder, 208 cases having been ascertained to have taken place on that day. Between 10 o'clock and midnight is the favorite time for the commission of the crime. The majority of the murders appear to be committed in densely populated urban districts, seaports, manufacturing towns, and mining districts."

Sir John Macdonnell makes this remarkable declaration of the relation of drink to crime:

"Drunkenness is no doubt the cause of many crimes and is the accompaniment of many others, but the theory of the close correspondence of crime and drunkenness must be viewed with caution."

Frog's Long Imprisonment.

While an old horse-chestnut stump was being cut down at Lathbury, a live frog was discovered between the bark and the timber, about 15 inches from the ground. The bark was thick, and had grown completely round it, and, writes a correspondent, there was not the slightest hole through which the frog could have crept in recent years. The tree has shown no signs of life for at least five years past, and on the lowest computation the bark must have had two years' growth. The frog must, therefore, have been cut off in its prison from light and food for at least seven years. It was yellow and small, but in excellent health, and when placed on the grass hopped off.

An Early Riser.

Lord Alverstone, the Lord Chief Justice of England, who has a salary of $40,000 a year, when at the bar used invariably to get up between 5 and 6 in the morning, except when he had been late in Parliament. On one occasion he wanted to talk over a certain point in a brief with one of his juniors. He asked the young man to call in the morning. "At what time, Sir Richard?" asked the young barrister. "At half-past six, at my house," was the reply. The young man arrived on the stroke of the moment. In order to do it, however, he sat up all night!

Lieutenant-General Sir Charles Knox, who is a thorough-going motorist, tells the following amusing story in The Automobile Owner: "My determination to do everything on the car myself once led to a somewhat funny incident. I was commanding the Fourth Division on Salisbury Plain, when one day a new staff officer joined. On reporting himself he came round by mistake to the back of my house, where my car was. I happened to be underneath it, clad in overalls, making an adjustment. He came up and looked at me, and inquired, 'Can you tell me where the general is?' 'Yes,' I said, 'at the present moment he is underneath this car.' That staff officer's face was a study."

CANADA LEADS THE WAY

CONDITION MORE PROSPEROUS THAN IN ANY COUNTRY.

Commons Committee on Agriculture Presents Glowing Report — Wheat Crop Average High—Cheese In the British Markets — "The World's Greatest Bread Field"—Small Fruit Left Over in Large Quantities.

The Commons Committee on Agriculture and Colonization submitted its final report to Parliament recently. It mentioned that in Great Britain the average wheat crop is 30.95 bushels per acre. In Ontario the average of Winter wheat is 22.50, and of Spring wheat 18.92, showing that we are not in this respect a great way behind the Mother Country; France averages 19.57 bushels, which is under the average yield for Ontario. Manitoba gives about 18.45. The Northwest of Canada 19.13, while Russia in Europe gives an average of 9.05 bushels per acre, and the United States 13.43.

The Argentine Republic gives an average of 14.76 bushels per acre. Australasia as follows: New South Wales, 9.9 bushels per acre; Victoria, 7.18 bushels; South Australia, 6.62 bushels; West Australia, 11.51, and Queensland, 15.77.

Dairy Industry.

Referring to the dairy industry in Canada, it says it is in a very prosperous condition. Canadian cheese is now regarded in the British market as second to that of no other country. This is largely due to the introduction of cool curing rooms, as an adjunct of cheese factories, and the ample provision for export in cold and cool storage.

Large quantities of small fruits of the apple orchards are left over annually. These are not marketable, owing to size, but it might be profitably manufactured into excellent jam, jellies, etc.

It is suggested that co-operation would probably convert what is now a loss into a profitable industry.

Most Prosperous In World.

The report concludes: "A careful survey of the entire field demonstrates that agriculture, the corner-stone of national wealth and power, is in a prosperous condition at present in Canada than in any other country of the world, while the yet unmeasured territory of rich virginal lands awaits settlement, ready to respond bounteously to the industry and intelligence of many millions of willing hands. In a word, Canada is the world's greatest bread field of the day."

MAROONED IMMIGRANTS.

Hundreds of Homeseekers In the West Have Rough Experience.

The Winnipeg Tribune of April 19 says:

At the Canadian Northern depot this morning it was learned that no train has as yet arrived from Edmonton, and it is now eight days since a train reached Winnipeg from that point. There was no train made up for the western capital this morning.

News was received in the city last night from Dauphin that the Edmonton train leaving Winnipeg Sunday morning had been held at that point for twenty-four hours, and that four trains are also held at Kamsack. It is estimated that there are from 1,500 to 2,000 people stalled along the main line and it is said that in the smaller towns the provisions are running short.

A great many of the passengers who are held up are unable to supply themselves with food, the long and protracted journey having exhausted their funds, and of these many are women accompanied by children.

The company have so far done nothing to supply provisions to these marooned and famished people, and have refused to give any information to their unfortunate patrons that might relieve their suspense. In one case they refused to accept a prepaid message from a passenger for transmission over their telegraph lines, presumably because said message was a despatch to the outside world describing the situation.

At the immigration department there are some twenty or thirty foreigners waiting to go out on the main line of the C.N.R.

These people are penniless and are subsisting solely on the provisions supplied them by the agent of the Dominion Government in Winnipeg. They naturally cannot understand the delay, and are greatly distressed at being unable to get to their destinations.

Yesterday, at the C.N.R., they were told that no train would go out on the Edmonton line for three days.

For Service on Prairies.

Among the thousands of transatlantic passengers who passed through Montreal recently en route for the Canadian West, were two-score young Englishmen, who have been sent to Canada by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, at the request of the Lord Bishop of Saskatchewan, to take up mission work in his diocese.

These men are neither graduates of any divinity school, nor of any university in England; they have no degree whatever; they are simply earnest, healthy young fellows, who have answered the call of the Ven. Archdeacon Lloyd and the S. P. G. for volunteers for aggressive mission work in the Canadian West.

Upon their arrival in Saskatchewan, they will each be given a horse, a tent, a camper's outfit, and a sum of money sufficient to last them for a limited period. There, they will be turned out upon the prairies, as it were, and made to shift for themselves.

They will visit the settlers, from mission stations, and prepare the way for duly ordained clergymen. They will sleep where night overtakes them, and they will eat such food as they can secure from the settlers.

After three years' work they will be ordained and given a permanent incumbency.

Very Good.

"Has he given up the stage for good?"

"Yes. They say he couldn't have done better."

"In the Wars"

When "in the wars," when you slice your finger, chop your hand; when the children come in with cut or bruise; when the housewife burns her hand on the stove door or with the smoothing iron; when unsightly pimples break out and when scratched become ugly and painful; when you get a cut or scratch from barbed wire and fear blood poison—then is the time when Zam-Buk proves its merit. It takes the soreness out of injuries, stops bleeding, prevents blood poison, soothes and heals. Made from purely herbal essences.

Mr. Alf Henry Orth, of Shipley, Ont., says:—"Zam-Buk is without doubt the best healing balm in Canada. I had a rusty wire nail run under my thumb-nail, which caused a very bad wound indeed. The pain was very acute, and the nail being rusty I feared serious consequences. I knew how good Zam-Buk is, and so melted a little and let it run into the wound under the thumb-nail. In quick time it gave me relief, and after that I went on with my work just as usual. In a short time the injury was quite cured, and the soreness went away almost immediately Zam-Buk was applied."

Zam-Buk is obtainable from all druggists at 50c per box. For cuts, burns, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases, freckles, pimples, eczema, itch, rashes, blood poison, pustules, ulcers, etc. is unequalled. Cures piles. 6 boxes for $2.50 from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send, 1c. stamp for trial box.

QUAINT AND CURIOUS.

Are Some Customs In Connection With Parliament of Britain.

It is worth knowing, says Answers, that there are six boys who have a right to sit in Parliament, in the House of Commons, though they cannot take part in the debates or vote, of course. But they have the privilege of claiming seats in the special gallery which is allotted to them, whenever they wish for such, and each day the authorities of the House send down to Westminster School to ask if the "King's Scholars" there desire to use the six seats which are their right, or if not all six, how many. And a list has to be sent to the Clerk of the House from the school, stating the names and positions in school of the scholars who intend to avail themselves of this quaint privilege.

Another curious claim which these Westminster "King's scholars" have the right to make relates to the House of Commons, and is always allowed when requested. This is the right to use the Terrace of the House as their strolling place on Sunday afternoons! And that will explain why, on a beautiful summer Sunday, passengers on the river steamers are so often surprised to observe clusters of boys, in cap and gown, promenading on the terrace as though it belonged to them.

BLACKS ARE THRIFTY.

Aborigines In Queensland Encouraged to Start Banking Accounts.

Blacks with banking accounts constitute the latest development in Queensland. With a view to the encouragement of thrift, the department in charge of aboriginals in the state is pressing their employers to pay them wages, and at the same time urging on the blacks themselves, both male and female, the importance of banking the money, with the result that most of them have banking accounts. The system was recently inaugurated in connection with the inmates of the Garambah aboriginal station, many of whom are employed in clearing and farm work, and already fifty bankbooks show a credit of £150. As far as possible every native within the care of the department is being put to work, many of the girls being sent to Brisbane, where they enter domestic service. There are about 120 girls now in Brisbane, and all have banking accounts. The department is also supervising the expenditure of the money by sending the lady inspector with the girls when making purchases.

Adventure at Windsor.

The Prince of Wales had an interesting adventure on Good Friday afternoon which incidentally revealed His Royal Highness' kindness of heart.

With the Princess of Wales and Princess Mary he was motoring from Frogmore to Windsor, when, near the entrance to Beaumont College, the royal party came on an overturned carriage, with the horse imprisoned beneath it by the fetlock, and a party of four young people standing disconsolately by the roadside. The driver of the carriage was vainly endeavoring to release the horse.

Making enquiries, the Prince of Wales ascertained that the party consisted of two young London men and their sweethearts, and that they had met with the accident through the horse kicking over the shaft and overturning the trap. The prince took off his overcoat, had the tools taken out of his motor-car, and directed a series of operations designed to release the imprisoned horse and set the trap on its wheels. But the motor tools were not strong enough, and the prince despatched a man to Runnymede Lodge for an axe and a crowbar. When these implements were obtained, the prince, who all this time had remained unrecognized, worked with the driver of the carriage and the chauffeur with all the energy of a trained workman, but it was found that the carriage would have to be taken to pieces.

At this moment a soldier rode up on a bicycle, recognized the prince, and imparted to the crowd the fact that the friendly motorist was the Prince of Wales, whereupon a hearty cheer was raised. The prince sent the soldier into Windsor for assistance, gave him half a sovereign, and resumed his interrupted journey.

Fox Jumps Into Cradle.

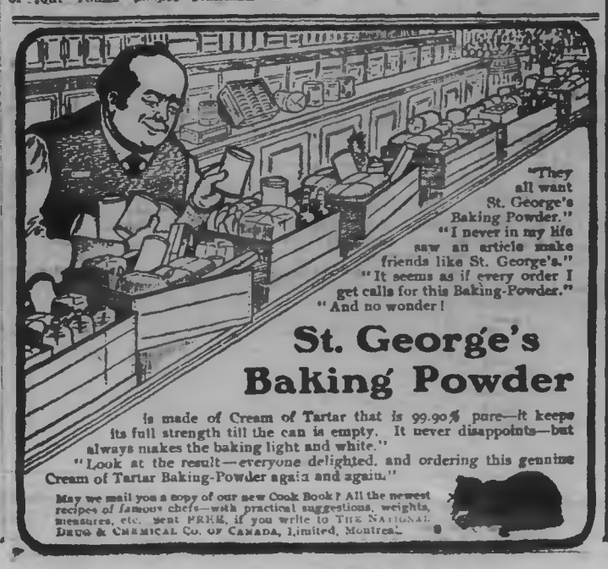
There was an extraordinary termination to a run with the Duke of Beaufort's hounds recently. The run had been a long one, and they knew that the fox was almost spent. Suddenly the scent turned abruptly from the open, leading straight into the garden of a cottage in the little village of Castle Coombe, Gloucestershire. Those who were following wondered what had happened, and were more astonished still to see the entire pack without checking for an instant, dash through the open door into the little room. A shrill scream was heard, and when the whipper-in threw himself from his horse and gained the threshold he saw a sight which probably no foxhunter has ever met before or since. A white-faced woman stood clasping a child in her arms, and right there in the cradle from which the infant had just been snatched, 18 couples of fierce hounds were struggling to devour their fox.

A remarkable anti-English story, originally emanating from The Allegmeine Marine Correspondenz," which published it from a "reliable English source," is now going the round of the German newspapers, which are giving it prominence, and profess to see in it a proof of insincerity of the British proposal for the discussion of the reduction of armaments.

The Allegmeine Marine Correspondenz says that three "Dreadnoughts" are now being built at Armstrongs to the order of the Argentine Government, and adds that the English press recently announced that Messrs Vickers, Son, and Maxim are building a giant battleship for the Brazilian Government. The correspondent asks whence these South American states get the money for this very considerable outlay, and point out that these four ships just form a division, which could be purchased by Great Britain at the opportune moment.



"They all want St. George's Baking Powder."
"I never in my life saw an article make friends like St. George's."
"It seems as if every order I get calls for this Baking-Powder."
"And no wonder!

GAVE COAL FOR JEWELS

LORD NEVILL SON OF BRITISH MARQUIS SENT TO JAIL.

Goes to Prison For Twelve Months For Cute Swindle—Rang the Changes On Pawnbroker—Has Already Served Five Years Penal Servitude—Wrote a Book Describing Convict Life.

At the Clerkenwell sessions last week Lord Wm. Nevill was found guilty of the charge of swindling a pawnbroker and was sentenced to a year's imprisonment.

Lord William Nevill is the fourth son of the Marquis of Abergavanny. He was sentenced to five years' penal servitude on Feb. 15, 1898, for fraud in connection with a promissory note, the prosecutor being Captain Spender-Clay, who in 1904 married Pauline Astor, daughter of Wm. Waldorf Astor.

The crime for which Lord William was sentenced was stealing from a pawnbroker a box containing $2,000 worth of jewelry, by exchanging it for a similar box, apparently containing the jewels, but which, when opened, was found to contain two pieces of coal wrapped in tissue paper.

Many fashionable women attended the trial. Lord Nevill, who was stylishly dressed, bore himself with composure.

The judge, in pronouncing sentence, said he should treat the case as that of any other prisoner, and would give him the same sentence as he would a workingman.

Lord William's Career.

Lord William Beauchamp Nevill is the fourth son of the Marquis of Abergavanny, K.G., who is now in his 81st year. Lord William was educated at Eton, and was once aide-de-camp to the then Viceroy of Ireland, and a lieutenant in the 3rd Queen's Own (Royal West Kent) Regiment. He was also on the staff of Sir Henry Loch at Government House, Melbourne. He married in 1889, a daughter of the Marquis of Santurce, Miss Luisa Maria Carmen de Murrieta, shortly before that famous financial family came to grief. He has been received into the Roman Catholic Church. He is the author of a book on prison life, entitled "Penal Servitude," which yielded, after initial expenses, about £300. As a child his wife was a great favorite of the King, when he was Prince of Wales, who paid visits to her parents' home at Wadhurst Park. The motto of the Nevill family is "Ne vile velis" ("Form no mean wish"). Lord William is tall, handsome, and of a military carriage.

NATIONAL FINANCES.

How Britain's Monetary Interests Wax Or Wane.

The Exchequer receipts and expenditure for February 16th shows that the revenue for last week was £4,031,000, against £4,487,000 for the corresponding week of 1906; there were no other receipts; the total for the week is well over what is required for each of the next six weeks in order that the estimates for the year may be realized; last week's total was exceptionally heavy; income-tax is coming in well, the receipts being £2,240,000, against £2,238,000. The expenditure was £1,117,000 (the whole of which was for supply services), against £1,778,000 (of which £1,380,000 was for supply); £1,000,000 was issued in payment of matured treasury bills. £965,000 as surplus revenue applied to reduce debt, and £500,000 in repayment of ways and means advances; the total issues were, therefore, £3,582,000. The Exchequer balances are thus increased by £449,000 to £8,233,000; on February 17th, 1906, they were £10,143,000. With regard to the above-mentioned issues in payment of treasury bills, as £2,500,000 of these bills matured on Monday, February 11th, it would seem that £1,500,000 must have been in the hands of Government departments, or elsewhere, and been provided for, without an issue, during the week.

Razorless Shave.

A London barber, Witherington, has thrown his fellow barbers into consternation by inventing a paste that will remove a beard in ten minutes without the aid of a razor.

After an application of this preparation the hair becomes so brittle that you wash it off with a sponge. This "shave sans scrape" is guaranteed not to injure the skin.

Mr. Witherington has blessed mankind indeed if this be true. There will be no scraping or accidental cutting. There will be no busy barber to persist in your being singed, shampooed, manicured, massaged, or a thousand other tortures that cost extra. Then you won't have to tip the colored gentleman who makes a bluff at brushing your hat.

All you will have to do before breakfast, is to apply the paste and after ten minutes wash yourself and your beard is gone. Truly, this is happiness worthy of the next world.

Hope in the Lord, but exert yourself—Russian Proverb.

And Then He Wondered.

Gerald—Don't you feel safer with a dog in the house?

Geraldine—Yes; I'm glad you gave

AMONG YUKON INDIANS.

Thirty Years' Service With Residents of the Canadian Northwest.

One of the makers of history in Western Canada is now spending the evenings of his days in Winnipeg, venerated by those who know him and his life's journey. The active years of his life were chiefly spent above the Arctic Circle. The Yukon, the Klondike and other regions since made famous by gold were traversed by him long ago. He was ordained deacon in 1852 and ten years later was selected to establish a mission at Fort Aux Liards, Mackenzie River district, but proceeded instead to Fort Yukon.

Proceeding in 1862 from what was then called the Red River settlement to Fort Yukon. Archdeacon McDonald labored there among the Indians composed of numerous tribes and who annually assembled there for the purpose of fur trading with the Hudson Bay Company. During his eight years' stay he visited the Indians in the surrounding country both winter and summer. Thousands of miles were traversed annually, either in canoe or boat in summer time and on snowshoes or in dog sled during the winter. In 1865 scarlet fever spread among the Indians and many of them were carried off by the disease.

Gained Many Converts.

During the first four years only the infants were baptized, but then it was deemed advisable to baptise the adults and they were examined each summer as they came down to the fort with their furs and in later years the archdeacon traveled around from post to post administering baptism wherever necessary. From Fort Yukon tribes of Indians were visited about four hundred and fifty miles down the river at the spot where the Tanana enters the Yukon, where such rich gold deposits were afterward found. At first the Indians held themselves aloof from the missionary, but after three or four visits all gave their consent, over one hundred of them receiving baptism, and the following year there were three hundred more. These people had to be addressed through an interpreter, one of themselves who could speak the language of the Tukudh, the people among whom the missionary resided. During these forty-two years of residence in the frozen north Archdeacon McDonald was accustomed to travel thousands of miles each year. A blinding blizzard or a windstorm did not hinder him on his mission. For thirty odd years his work went on without interruption, but in 1897 the great rush for gold began, and rapidly the country around Fort Yukon became civilized and to-day is a thriving city known as Dawson City, with ten thousand people.

CHAD'S BEAR GONE.

Familiar Figure at Well-Known Winnipeg Hostelry Strangled.

Winnipeg last week suffered the loss of one of its widely known "citizens," in the person of a huge bear, who met death in fighting for freedom. "Chad's Bear," as everybody called the animal, has been for years one of the chief attractions at Deer Lodge, a popular suburban hostelry, owned by "Rod" Mackenzie, son of the president of the Canadian Northern. Silver Heights the suburb is called, and was the home of Lord Strathcona when he was commissioner of the Hudson Bay Co. The bear took his name from H. W. Chadwick, the genial manager of the hotel. The hotel was burned last month, and now the bear is gone; the former is to be rebuilt at once, but "Chad's Bear" will be hard to replace.

Bruin had a great capacity for soft drinks, and after visitors had irrigated at the bar, which was just beyond the city limits and not under regulations, they took ginger pop to the bear, who handled it as scientifically as any man. The bear got loose last week and attempted to destroy a big buffalo and moose in the Deer Lodge Zoo and was lassoed. He fought hard, and when tied to a tree strangled himself in his efforts to escape. "Chad's Bear" was also the local weather man, and the day when he emerged from his winter sleep was recorded regularly in the local papers as a guide to the people, signifying that spring was come. "Chad's Bear" will be reproduced by the taxidermist and will sit before the new hotel this summer, but, alas! he will be on the "water waggon." Many a person who has enjoyed the famous "possum" dinners at the Lodge will mourn the loss of "Chad's Bear."

Vigor and Health Fully Restored.

THE OLD TIRED, LISTLESS FEELINGS, THE SLEEPLESSNESS AND NERVOUSNESS WERE DRIVEN AWAY BY

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The experience described in this letter corresponds to that of thousands of women who have not yet learned of the marvellous restorative and invigorating power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. Henry Clarke of Port Hope, Ont., states: "I have used several boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for nervousness and a completely run-down system, and can heartily recommend it as a wonderfully effective treatment. Before using this treatment I had been in very poor health for some months. I appeared to have no energy or ambition, felt tired and listless most of the time and could scarcely drag myself about the house. I was weak, irritable and nervous, could not sleep well and felt discouraged about my health. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has taken away these symptoms and given back my usual vigor and health, consequently I endorse it fully."

Weakness, lightheadedness, dizziness at rising is one of the certain indications of thin blood, and an exhausted condition of the body.

The action of the heart is weak, digestion is impaired, and all the vital organs perform their functions imperfectly, giving rise to headaches, feelings of fatigue and depression.

Because it goes directly to the formation of new, rich blood, every dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is bound to prove of some benefit under such conditions.

Naturally and gradually the exhausted system is restored until every organ is given back its accustomed strength and vigour. The weight is increased, the form is rounded out, and health and vitality drive out weakness pain and disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood builder and restorative, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author are on every box.

CLING NO OLD CUSTOMS.

White Man's Invasion Has Not Interrupted Tribal Relations.

Although the white man is fast invading the hunting grounds of the Batchawana Indians, who inhabit the wooded shores of Lake Superior on the Canadian side, the march of civilization has not wiped out the tribal relations of the red men, who still meet annually to elect their chief, at which time they don gala attire and hold strange ceremonies, says a Sault Ste. Marie special.

It is customary at the meetings when the election of a chief is held for the candidates for the honors of the tribes to come north and address their people, setting forth the reasons why they should be chosen.

Attend In Finery.

Many strange dances are sometimes indulged in, the music for which is furnished by rude instruments somewhat resembling drums. All the members of the village down to the papooses gather on such occasions, the women being attired in all their finery.

Years ago, on the site of what is now Fort Brady, the Michigan Soo, before the red men had been forced to move further north into the Canadian woods, they worshipped annually at the foot of a huge elm tree which was supposed to contain the spirit of a beautiful Indian maiden. As the story goes, an Indian brave was smitten by the charms of the dusky lass, who was the daughter of a great chief who ruled over the tribes north of the Straits of Mackinac. But they quarrelled, and in his anger he struck her to earth. The Great Spirit came and took her away and her lover fled into the forest and was seen no more.

Calling For Revenge.

It was at the foot of the elm that the tragedy occurred. Some time after the Indians were startled by the strange sounds which came from the tree when the wind blew through its branches, and they imagined that it was the spirit of the maiden calling out to them to avenge her death.

And so every week they gathered and laid trophies of the hunt at the foot of the tree and piled green boughs there as tokens of their sorrow. The tree would then sigh its blessing on the people, and for a moment a strange white light would pervade the woods. In the darkness that followed the red men would wend their way back to the village with heads bowed in reverence.

It was under this tree that generations ago they gathered and held their elections. It was believed that when the right candidate appeared the spirit of the tree would make known its choice by uttering low moans. Then the vote would be taken. But when the army of Uncle Sam invaded the valley of the St. Mary's and built a road around the rapids, the tree was cut down. Then more settlers came and gradually the Indians went across the border into Canada, where they have been holding their annual elections to this day.

Postoffice Promotion.

Intense feeling has been stirred up in postoffice circles in Winnipeg through the appointment of easterners to responsible positions at the office, many of which, it is alleged, have been made without consultation and the consent of the local postmaster. Local employes claim that appointments to different positions on the staff of the local office should rest with the postmaster, which, of course, would do away with the possibility of bringing in outsiders. As matters stand now, however, it is claimed that George Ross, superintendent of postoffices of the Dominion, has taken upon himself to make appointments in the postoffice, his latest action being the bringing in of Thomas J. Bower, of Toronto, to Winnipeg. The latter came to Winnipeg last summer, taking up a position in the office, ad has been recently appointed superintendent. It is now stated he is now slated for the position of deputy postmaster, made vacant through the death of the late William Braden. So much have the employes resented the appointment of Mr. Bower to the superintendency that already there have been ten resignations. With the prospect that Bower may be made deputy postmaster, things have reached a pass when a general walkout may be expected.

Lady Minto as a Tiger Shot

Lady Minto and her daughters are remarkable for the zest with which they throw themselves into any sport that offers. While in Canada they gained the reputation of being the best and most graceful women skaters Ottawa has ever seen, and in India they have established something of a record as tiger shots. Shooting at Kolabari a few weeks ago Lady Minto killed a particularly fine animal, while Lady Eileen Elliot accounted for a cub and a full-grown tiger in the course of one day's sport.

Real Modesty.

"Was your marriage a failure?"
"No, but my wife's was."

KING'S NEW YACHT.

Description of His Majesty's Turbine Boat.

A further demonstration—if any be needed—of King Edward's love of the sea is furnished by the new turbine yacht, appropriately named Alexandra, which is being built for His Majesty, and which will be launched from the yard of Messrs. A. and J. Inglis & Co. at Glasgow on April 30.

The new royal yacht is a most elegantly appointed vessel, her fittings and handsome decorations making her, in this respect, quite the first craft afloat. The Alexandra is intended to replace the Osborne, which is no longer considered to be fit for use. She is a vessel of 285 feet long by 40 feet broad and is 2,000 tons gross.

Three Parsons turbines will be the propelling power, each of these turbines driving separate shafts. The yacht's speed capacity will be 17 knots.

Shorter by 137 feet than the Victoria and Albert, and of less than half the tonnage of the former, the new vessel is intended only for the private use of the Royal Family and their immediate attendants. She is meant primarily for short cruises and for visiting harbors where the draught of water is limited, such as Flushing, Nice, and other Continental ports which his Majesty when on holiday frequents.

The order for the construction of the new yacht was received by the Glasgow shipbuilding firm in competition with a number of other firms who submitted designs, and it was given them by an Admiralty Committee, including Mr. Philip Watts, Director of Naval Construction, who approved the designs.

The Queen's drawing-room and the smoke-room are on the upper deck aft. The decorated work, furniture, etc., will, as far as possible, be made in Scotland.

Insult to King William.

More than two hundred years ago Antonio Verrio, a painter, took revenge on William III. of England by painting a clever caricature of him riding on a black donkey. The caricature was not discovered by the King, for it was concealed in the famous painting of "The King's Staircase," in Hampton Court, in London.

The insult was discovered recently by Charles Allom, artist-decorator for the King of England and the Prince of Wales.

Full extent of the insult has not been made clear, for there has also been found a sinister triple-faced Diana, probably modelled after the features of some court lady, possibly Mary, William's Queen, to whom a Cupid, wearing the features of the King, mounted on a black donkey, is paying adoration.

He is upon a black donkey and gazes upward at Diana in an attitude of supplication and adoration. At a distance the Cupid appears of the usual type, but when Mr. Allom had examined it closely from a scaffold he found the face was a perfect caricature of William of Orange, whose bald head with his wig removed, showing a fringe of sparse gray hair at the nape of the neck, is to be seen quite clearly at short range.

This clearly intended insult is accentuated when the head of Diana is seen. She is seated on a crescent and appears as a beautiful woman. But looked at intently it is discovered that she wears three faces, one in front and the others on either side of her head, with the ears forming the noses. These features have sinister expressions.

Ladies Wanted to Bet.

The clause in the New Victorian (Australia) Gaming Suppression Act, which prohibits the making of wagers on a racecourse between bookmakers and women, was responsible for some comical incidents at Flemington Racecourse recently, when the law had to be observed for the first time on a registered course. Many women, who are in the habit of frequenting the betting-ring, and know more as a rule about the proper price of a horse than of the doings of the Government, attempted to make wagers as usual, and were indignant when the bookmakers declined to do business. One feminine backer, who had evidently made up her mind that she had a certainty in her possession, insisted upon being laid odds, and threw the money into the bookmaker's bag, at the same time demanding a ticket; while another, who had been told that the law did not permit betting with women on racecourses, sent her son to put the money on, but was again disappointed, as the son was obviously under the age of twenty-one, and, according to the law, could not make a bet.

Queen Aids Destitute Dancer.

A delightful story of Queen Alexandra's self-sacrifice in the cause of kindness and mercy is told in connection with her Majesty's recent stay in Paris.

It seems that a letter was sent to her Majesty, calling attention to the case of Loie Fuller, the famous dancer, who had fallen on evil times owing to illness. The dancer was to make a reappearance at the Hippodrome, and it was suggested that the royal patronage would help her greatly.

Every moment of the Queen's time was already filled by prearranged engagements, but her Majesty cancelled several engagements and went to the Hippodrome.

Honors For Premiers.

It is stated on good authority that it is highly probable that the King will bestow some signal mark of honor on the Colonial Premiers in attendance at the conference. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is already a Privy Councillor and there is extreme likelihood of Dr. Jameson, Mr. Deakin, and Sir Joseph Ward being also included in the roll of "right honorables." The doughty Prime Minister of Cape Colony, is a C.B., and Sir Joseph Ward is a K.C.M.G., but Mr. Deakin, the commonwealth's Premier is untitled. Many interesting speculations are afloat as to what may be in store for General Botha. It is said there is a possibility of his being likewise "sworn of the Privy Council," but it is more likely he will be offered a K.C.M.G., which is the order so intimately identified with the Colonies. An absurd rumor that he is to be created an honorary major-general of the British army may be dismissed without comment.

SUFFRAGETTES ON STAGE.

"Votes For Women" Received by an Audience With Enthusiasm.

"Votes for Women," a new play by Miss Elizabeth Robins, who terms it a dramatic tract, was received with thunderous applause at the Court Theatre, London, recently. The story briefly told is that of a beautiful young suffragist wronged in earlier days by a rising politician. She finds him engaged to a nice, well brought up girl, and as compensation for her personal wrong gets him to espouse the cause of the suffragists by resigning his seat in the Cabinet.

The feature of the production is the marvelous reproduction of an open air meeting in Trafalgar Square in support of women's suffrage. The Tribune says: "Looked upon as a work of art, 'Vote for Women' is clever throughout, brilliant at times and on the whole disappointing. Miss Wynne Matthison brings the charm of her personality and admirable elocutionary art to the interpretation of the character of the heroine."

Marvel of Realism.

The Morning Post says of the second act, in which the Trafalgar Square meeting is reproduced: "It is a marvel of realism. It may, however, prove a good deal more than that. It may advance the cause of female suffrage more than any number of meetings in Trafalgar Square could do. As the play, 'Votes for Women,' is of little value as a preachment, the second act may have an influence on social and political life such as no play has had in this generation."

A Born Fighter.

The Daily Mail says: "Miss Robins is a born fighter. In the eagerness of her championship she even sacrificed that precious thing, her art. 'Votes for Women' wilfully misses being a very fine play. It is full of beautiful writing and the sense of the theatre that rare gift inspires every scene. The characters are deftly drawn and their temperament and will animate the whole, and all this is thrown away on a topic that in comparison with the purpose and value of art must be considered transitory. For sheer stage management the Trafalgar Square scene beats anything we can remember on the London stage."

Footballer's Airship.

Mr. T. Coop, of Harrow, who a few years ago played for two seasons as "full back" for England, in international Rugby football, is now seeking international fame as the inventor of a businesslike flying machine.

He has put together an ingenious and simple model, which follows Jules Verne's plan of revolving wings as the means of lifting the machine in the air.

"If the idea is no good you may take the machine out and trample on it," Mr. Coop said cheerfully when Major Baden-Powell inspected the model. "If it is any good, I will go on and make the real thing."

Major Baden-Powell, who is an authority on ballooning, said that Mr. Coop seemed to have adapted the right principle for a workable flying machine. Before long Mr. Coops hopes to put his working model to the test.

Jules Verne's imaginary airship had a solid body, which was raised by many revolving horizontal screws In Mr. Coop's model there are two large horizontal screws, or sets of wings, which revolve in opposite directions on the same upright axis, one set above the other. The body of the machine, which is like a boat, hangs below from a long horizontal beam, on which are to be placed two 20 h.p. motors. Mr. Coop calculates that the motors will drive the wings at 500 revolutions per minute, giving sufficient lifting power to raise three men.

The machine will be driven forward by a vertical screw at the rear of the motor beam. There is also a vertical screw amidships at each side of the main beam, for the purpose of counteracting side winds. Guiding is effected by means of a rudder.

In Narrow Confines.

The Indian reserves in the vicinity of Edmonton are to be enclosed with wire fences as a result of the progress of civilization, and the greater number of residents in the neighborhood of the Indian settlements.

Prices are now being secured from the local hardware dealers by James Gibbons, the Indian agent, and it is the intention shortly to purchase in the vicinity of sixty miles of wire. The posts necessary for the fences are now being got out by the Indians of the White Whale Lake, Alexander, and Michael reserves, and about 20 miles of fence will be put around each reserve.

As a result of the recent sales of Indian land the territory held by the aborigines is greatly circumscribed, and its complete enclosure is a task of much less magnitude than it would have been several years ago.

IMPOSSIBLE TO STOOP OR BEND

SEVERAL DOCTORS COULD DO NO GOOD.

PAIN IN BACK AND KIDNEYS.

People often say, "How are we to know when the kidneys are out of order?"

The location of the kidneys, close as it is to the small of the back, which is not affected materially by other organs, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter.

The note of warning comes from the back. Backache is the signal sent out by the kidneys the minute they become overtaxed. Those who heed the warning when it first comes, usually have but little trouble. The danger lies in delay. A few doses of taken in time, often saves years of suffering, and in many cases life itself.

They stimulate the action of the kidneys, enabling them to perform their duty perfectly.

Miss S. C. Fyn, Beam Secum, N.S., writes: "For the past three years I have been troubled with a very bad pain in my back and kidneys. It was so bad it was impossible for me to stoop or bend. I had several doctors attend me, but found no relief until I picked up one of your Egyptian Dream Books, and found out about your remarkable remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured two boxes and their action surprised me, for they completely cured me. I don't think they have an equal for kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Of Interest to Miners and Investors

The North Ontario Reduction & Refining Company, Limited, who are installing a plant for the refining of Cobalt and other ores at Sturgeon Falls, have their buildings, including a laboratory and sampling plant, just about completed and have contracted for all their machinery, which will be installed as rapidly as possible. They expect to be ready to receive ore some time in June.

This is the first refining plant to be erected in the Province of Ontario, which should enable the Company to secure the bounty offered by the Ontario Government, which amounts to $165,000 a year, this will pay 30 thirty per cent. on the entire capital. In addition to the bounty, enormous profits made by refiners will enable the company with its low capitalization to pay very large dividends.

We advise you to investigate this proposition. As a bona fide investment it has no equal. Prospectus and full information will be mailed on application to

Armed Natives Are Crowding Into City of Lahore, India.

THE SITUATION IS OMINOUS

Leader of Seditious Element Arrested —Governor Taking Necessary Steps to Repress Hostile Action—Troops Held In Readiness — Defences Being Strengthened—Trouble Started by Native Journal.

Lahore, British India, May 10.—Everything seems to point to the imminence of a native outbreak here, and the authorities are talking all the steps possible to suppress it by force of arms. The political unrest is hourly assuming graver proportions. Bands of stalwart rustics armed with bludgeons, who have been enlisted by the leaders of the sedition, are crowding into the native city, and troops of all arms and bodies of police, mounted and dismounted, are being drafted into the City of Lahore from all parts of the province. The fortifications of Lahore have been subject to a special inspection, and the artillerymen have been reinforced.

The Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, Sir Dinzel Ibbetson, is taking active measures to circumvent any possible outbreak. He has issued a proclamation prohibiting meetings of every kind and solemnly warning the public not to attend any assemblages under pain of severe punishment. In addition the Lieutenant-Governor has struck at the root of the revolutionary movement by causing the arrest yesterday afternoon of a prominent lawyer, Lajpatrai, who practiced in the chief court of the Punjab, and who was the leader, financier and organiser of most of the seditious demonstrations and revolutionary riots in the Punjab. Immediately after being taken into custody Lajpatrai was deported to another province. His arrest caused a profound sensation among the Hindus, who hitherto had believed that the authorities would not dare to take such drastic action. Another revolutionary leader, for whose arrest a warrant has been issued, received an intimation of the action taken by the authorities, escaped from Lahore and is now hiding.

Riots In Bengal.

Calcutta, May 10.—Serious rioting has broken out in East Bengal. A band of two thousand Davits looted the bazaar at Dewanganj, burned down some adjacent villages, and set fire to the town of Tarakanda, ten miles from Nasirabad, capital of Mymunsingh district.

Many of the rioters were arrested.

Fatal Rear End Collision.

Cincinnati, O., May 10.—One man was killed, another fatally and two others seriously injured, in a rear-end collision yesterday at Jones station, near Hamilton An engine was following a passenger train on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad, and heavy smoke prevented the engineer seeing the train, into the rear of which the engine crashed.

Gold Near Larder Lake.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 10.—Murdock McLeod, a well-known mining man discovered two nuggets of gold, each weighing 25 pounds, near the Larder Lake district. He also reports old finds in the hills north of the Soo, near Lake Superior. Great interest is taken in these reports.

Badly Burned By Acid.

Tweed, May 10.—George Hercombe, an employe of the Ontario Powder Works here, was dangerously hurt while rolling a drum of acid into the store house at the works. The drum bursted, and the acid went over his body, burning him badly. His recovery is doubtful.

Deaf Mute Killed By Car.

Montreal, May 10.—Albert Blanche, a deaf mute employe of the postoffice department, had his head ground off yesterday by a street car at the corner of St. Denis and Beaudry streets. He was conversing by signs with a deaf companion, and did not see the car approaching.

Foul Play Suspected.

Brantford, May 10.—The lifeless body of Benjamin Jackson of North Park street was found at an early hour yesterday morning on Terrace Hill street. Suspicions of foul play are entertained, and an inquest will be held.

Killed By Emery Wheel.

Brantford, May 10.—William Hopkins, an employe of the Goold, Shapley Muir Company, was killed yesterday morning by the bursting of an emery wheel on which he was working.

CANNOT GET A JURY IN THIS TRIAL

Haywood Murder Case Put Over Until Next Week.

OPENING OF GREAT TRIAL

Orchard Has Made Confession—Expected to Give Important Evidence for State—Other Prosecutions Will Follow If Conviction Is Secured —Big Issues Involved—Three Other Defendants to be Tried.

Boise, Idaho, May 10.—Wm. D. Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, yesterday was placed on trial for complicity in the murder, at Caldwell, Idaho, on Dec. 30, 1905, of former Governor Frank Steunenberg. Haywood is one of four defendants charged with the murder.

The others are Charles H. Moyer, president of the Federation; Geo. A. Pettibone, a former member of the Executive Committee; and Harry Orchard, who is expected to be the most important witness for the State against Haywood, Moyer, and Pettibone. He is said to have made a confession, and it has been the task of the prosecution to endeavor to corroborate this confession wherever possible.

The fact that Haywood's case is the first called for trial is regarded as indicating that the prosecuting attorneys believe their strongest evidence is against him. The outcome of his case will determine the action to be taken with regard to Moyer and Pettibone. Should there be a conviction of Haywood then Moyer and Pettibone would be called for trial, while an acquittal of Haywood undoubtedly would mean an abandonment of the case against the other accused men. Orchard will not be tried until all of the other cases are disposed of. It is said that the evidence against him is so strong that he cannot hope for other than a conviction of murder in the first degree. Orchard, it is said, has been promised no degree of clemency whatsoever. Having admitted his active part in the heinous crime, Orchard unquestionably will be executed.

Caldwell, where the murder was committed, is the county seat of Canyon County. A change of venue to Boise, the capital City of Idaho, and county seat of Ada County, was granted on the motion of the defence.

The tribunal for which the cases were set is known as the District Court of the Third Judicial District. The presiding judge is Judge Fremont Wood, a native of Maine. Judge Wood is regarded as a careful, deliberate man, and the prosecution and defence in the present trial believe that he will see equal justice is done. Orchard is confined in the Idaho State penitentiary, several miles out of this city. He is kept under careful guard.

Counsel for state and prisoner entered upon the examination of talesmen and kept steadily at the task for five hours. No talesmen were accepted as jurors, but substantial progress was made, and the indications are that a jury may be obtained by the end of next week.

PEDLAR PALMER COMMITTED.

English Pugilist to Stand Trial on Murder Charge.

London, May 10.—A verdict of murder was returned in the Croydon Police Court yesterday against Pedlar Palmer, the English pugilist, who, it is alleged, killed a man named Robert Cheat on April 24, by beating him while they were returning from the races in a railroad car.

When Palmer heard the decision he shrieked loudly and fainted in the dock. His wife and sister, who were in the court, also created a scene. They had to be carried, screaming, from the room.

The prisoner was formally committed for trial at the Central Criminal Court.

Has Exercised Good Influence At Colonial Conference.

TAX ON FOREIGN IMPORTS

Premier Deakin's Resolution Not Approved—Lloyd-George Says Would Not be Fair to Other Colonies—Preference Now an Issue In British Politics—Naturalization Question to Be Dealt With.

London, May 10.—(C. A. P.)—As the conference of Premiers draws to a close one thing emerges from the obscurity which the semi-privacy has cast over its proceedings and that is the great influence which Laurier has wielded over its deliberations. An instance occurred yesterday in the proceedings where it is to be observed that Deakin first and then Lloyd-George succumbed to his pressure on the question of the tax on foreign imports for the purposes of the improvement of Imperial trade communications which the persistent Australian Premier unexpectedly brought forward. But apart from this, the whole trend of the debates on other phases of the preference clearly indicates that between the ardent Deakin and the fiery Jameson on one side and the immovable representative of the Home Government on the other Laurier acted as a buffer, preventing any possibility of an unforunate collision.

Cause of Discord.

Winston Churchill on Tuesday gave a hint at differences which have not appeared in the sub-edited daily reports, when he said that the preference question had been the apple of discord in the conference. Perhaps when the full report of the proceedings is published the proper importance will be given all round to Laurier's statesmanlike clearsightedness in recognising that nothing could be done with the Government in the direction of reciprocity and, acting with due suavity, in accordance with that recognition. His interposition between the heads of eager preferentialists and the free trade wall behind which the present British Government rests will possibly be of untold benefit to future relationships.

Reciprocity the Issue.

Another point may be made clear. Not only the conference itself, but the public speeches of Deakin, Laurier and the other Premiers have given immense impetus to the movement towards reciprocity here. Three months ago the movement, according to the Liberal press, was not only "dead, but damned." To-day it is admitted that the colonial preference is the main issue in party politics.

Deakin's Resolution.

Yesterday the precis is a lengthy one. Deakin opened by proposing a resolution recommending that an order to provide funds for developing trade and commerce and means of communication and transport within the Empire, a duty of one per cent. upon all foreign imports should be levied, or an equivalent contribution made by each of its Legislatures, and that after consultation between their representatives in conference a common fund should be devoted to co-operative projects approved by Legislatures affected with the general purposes of rostering the industrial forces of the Empire so as to promote its growth and unity.

Division Unfair.

Lloyd-George said there would be more to be said for the scheme if the fund was to be applied to Imperial defence. He felt it difficult to regard the resolution as a business-like proposition. On import figures for 1905 the duty would involve an approximate contribution from the United Kingdom of £4,500,000, while the contribution from Australia would be only £100,000, from New Zealand £200,00, from Canada £400,000, Newfoundland £50,000, Cape Colony, £40,000, and Natal £25,000. Thus the United Kingdom would pay £7 1-2 for every £1 paid by all the self-governing colonies together.

The scheme was unfair between the colonies themselves, as Canada would be paying four times as much as Australia, although her population was 5.7 millions to Australia's 4,000,000. He also maintained that it would be unsatisfactory to raise a fund and then to consider on what it should be spent.

Laurier's Objections.

Laurier said it was not desirable to pass such a resolution. He believed that for any practical scheme for improving cable communication, navigation, which would tend to produce unity in the various colonies, would be prepared to vote money and that these should be dealt with on their merits.

Laurier objected to Deakin's scheme, pointing out that it would be an absolute departure from the doctrine of constitutional government to provide money in advance without voting it for a particular purpose. He was not altogether in favor of Lloyd-George's amendment, and wished the question to stand over.

To Be Considered Again.

Deakin thereupon agreed that the objects he had in view might properly form a matter for a subsidiary conference. Neither resolution was put to a vote.

Resolutions favoring universal penny postage and alternative cable routes were passed.

On the question of naturalization a resolution was agreed to proposing an enquiry with a view to attaining as far as practicable uniformity and ascertaining how far and under what conditions naturalization in one part of the empire should be effective in other parts at a subsidiary conference to be held, if necessary. The opinion expressed by several of the colonial delegates is that naturalization, under the imperial statute, of persons of non-European descent should not affect their status under the laws of any self-governing colonies.

As regards profit on silver coinage, Asquith stated that there was no objection to any self-governing colony having a subsidiary silver coinage. The treasury further would undertake to bear the cost of returning worn gold coins from the colonies.

An Australian resolution, expressing the desirability of strengthening British interests in the Pacific, in view of the probable completion of the Panama Canal, was discussed. The conference adjourned until Tuesday.

UNION WINS OUT.

Public Works Department Yields to Request of Stonemasons.

Ottawa, May 10.—A conflict between the Department of Public Works and the International Union of Bricklayers and Stonemasons, over a clause in the contract for the extension of the House of Commons, has just been terminated by the Government acceding to the request of the labor organization.

The contract provided that the cut stone should not be dressed on the premises, the reason being that the grounds would be disfigured by the rubble and the noise of the operations and be a serious annoyance to the Legislators.

This stipulation was in direct contravention of a rule of the International Union of Bricklayers and Stonemasons, which provides that stone must be cut and shoddies dressed "on the job."

After considerable discussion Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and the acting Minister of Public Works finally came to the conclusion that the contract would have to be amended. In pursuance of this the stonecutters and dressers are permitted to perform their work on the Hill.

Dinny Daly Tells Dramatic Tale Of A Midnight Drowning

Tragic Story of How His Companion Drove Into the Otonabee River and Was Drowned—Daly Fell From the Vehicle and Was Saved

LOST MAN IS STILL ALIVE

The silence of the corridors of the police station was disturbed about midnight last night, by the entrance of a fatigued old man who had blundered away in his mind a ghastly tale of a midnight drowning in the icy waters of the Otonabee. It was "Dinny" Daly. He had trudged along the dark and silent road from the vicinity of the Yankee Bonnet to inform the police that a man, with whom he had driven to the river, had met death, together with his horse, by being swallowed up in the relentless waters.

"Dinny's" dramatic description of the dying moments of his during friend to the Examiner this morning was a most graphic and picturesque one. Its effect was enhanced by the polished language and emphatic gestures of the relator of the ghastly tale. Every stage of the proceedings seemed to have been vividly impressed upon his feeble memory, and the oftener it was told the more he believed it.

The drowning, said Mr. Daly, occurred between 8 and 9 o'clock last night, but this morning he informed the Examiner that the supposed victim of the Otonabee had been located in a village a few miles from here at 10.30 o'clock last night. But he was not convinced of the truth of this report, and, according to "Dinny," the man and horse, and at the bottom of the river.

Last Gasp For Life

The story of the imagined tragedy is that Dinny Daly, in company with the other man, was driven down Park street towards the river. The former protested that they were following the wrong path, but he was told to mind his own business. The water's edge was reached, and Dinny, in an effort to make a rapid exit from the vehicle, according to his own story, fell out upon a log and injured his side and arm. In informing the Examiner of this circumstance, he added in a plaintive tone that "he was hurted more than he appeared to be."

While he lay half conscious on the ground he heard the splash of the horses' feet in the water. He said that the arms of the supposed drowning man were lifted in the air in the last gasp for life, and he heard the final word from his lips—"Daly"—and he sank.

This was the tragic comedy told to the police and re-told for the Examiner this morning.

A couple of young men, living at Mr. John Holmes' residence, heard of the tale last night, and went by boat down to the scene of the imagined drowning. They diligently searched the river bank at the terminal of three roads, but no marks of horses' feet or buggy could be found.

The Log Was Found

This morning Dinny himself took a relative of the supposedly drowned man to the place where he had fallen out of the vehicle. The log was there, but no traces of horse or buggy were visible.

It was learned to-day that the man whom Daly had imagined to be at the bottom of the river had reached his home in safety. Dinny, however, still adheres to the truth of his story, and it will certainly be a difficult problem to convince him otherwise.

"If I had been drinking," he said to the Examiner, "it would have been different; there would have been a chance of my getting things twisted; but I was not, and knew exactly what was happening."

Somebody should read a paper on Dr. Crothers' "New Theology."

TEXAS, THE STATE OF THE LONE STAR, THE COWBOY'S PARADISE

Mr. Howard Sackville, of Dilley, Texas, Visiting in the City—Tells of Life on the Ranches of the Southern Plains.

FORMER PETERBORO' BOY

Texas, the paradise of the cowpunchers and the state renowned for enormous size, its ranching plains and its historic spots is the home of Mr. Howard Sackville, who at present is visiting his aunt, Miss Sanderson, on Division street. Mr. Sackville will be remembered by many of the younger population of the city, as, for a number of years he attended the Central School and the Collegiate Institute here. He is a son of Mr. William Sackville, a former Peterborough man, who left for the Lone Star State over 30 years ago to assume the occupation of a rancher.

Young Howard is now a typical cowboy of the plains; he can lasso a wild steer with the best of them and states that this particular phase of ranch life is his delight. His father is the owner of a 12,000 acre ranch upon which there roam about more than 1,000 head of cattle so that he has plenty of labour to his liking to perform.

An History Locality

The Sackville ranch, Howard states, is situated near Dilley in Southern Texas, a town within 75 miles of the borderlands of Mexico. That region is now entirely quieted, unlike the bloody days when the Western Indians in all their power were accustomed to make sudden sallies through the great state. Horse thieves are now practically unknown there, but in years gone by many a murder, according to the unwritten history, was committed on the present Sackville ranch and in the town of Dilley.

A Farming Country

As mentioned above, 12,000 acres is the extent of the farm of Mr. Wm. Sackville. Of that, he has 1,000 acres under cultivation and there the corn and the sugar cane grow, and the cotton blossoms, so favoured in song and story, blow. Mr. Howard Sackville states that Texas is gradually rising in the estimation of the American farmers as a great farming country, and thousands from the western and northern states are migrating there yearly. Ranching, however, still holds sway, and it will be many years before it is superseded.

Mr. Sackville's father has about 45 saddle horses, and these, of course, are used by the cowboys for rounding up the great herds of cattle. These are regularly shipped, chiefly to St. Louis, and such occasions are looked forward to with interest by the cowboys, who are in for a free journey to that city.

Love the Cowboy Life

The land in Texas is gradually being divided up into small farms of from 5000 to 6600 acres, says Mr. Sackville. Fences are being constructed around them, and farming is becoming much more extensive than in the past. But it will be a long time, he considers, before that native-born love for the saddle and the wilds, will have died out of the cowboys, and when it does, farming alone will be the universal occupation of thee people of that vast country.

Mr. Sackville will remain in Peterborough until the 20th of May, when he leaves again on his two thousand mile journey by rail to his southern home. He was born in Peterborough and likes the city, which he considers is rapidly growing in size, beauty and commercial activity. His many friends in the city will wish the young cowboy a safe return and a prosperous future.

WANTS THE COUNCIL TO ISSUE TAGS FOR THE FELINES NOW

A lady who lives in the west end of the city called the Examiner up to-day, to suggest that the city council, which must be spoiling for some picayune matters to discuss now, since the Sign Bylaw had been disposed of, might be asked to take up the question of putting tags on cats. In that particular locality there were, she thought, hundreds of cats, and some nights they made night hideous with their noises. One's supply of old boots runs out in time, and then the cats go un-molested. If the council will not take the matter up, she thought that possibly the dog poisoner might switch his operations temporarily to the cats.

NEW SIDING ALONG THE WEST BANK

A new siding is being laid by the C.P.R. along the west bank of the Trent Canal, to the Lift Lock. It is understood that the object in building this siding is to facilitate freight shipments by rail and water. The cement shipments from Lakefield during the past season have assumed large proportions, and this year's estimates contained an item for a wharf, at Lakefield, from which the Company might make shipments by water to Peterborough, where it will be transhipped by rail to the destination.

Excursions coming to the city by rail to see the Lift Lock could, too, be run right to the Lock before detraining, and it is probable that the C.P.R. had this in mind when they decided to lay the siding. Work on it is progressing at the present time, and it will be completed shortly.

PLEASED

Mr. Stuart Satisfied With Canal

COMPLETION IS IN SIGHT

Head of Quaker Oats Company in the City and Talks Trent Canal Matters—Extension of Radial Line.

Mr. Robert Stuart, of the Quaker Oats Company, is in the city to-day, on business in connection with the company, of which he is the directing head. Mr. Stuart is now paying his first visit to Peterborough since the announcement of the fact that an amount had been placed in the estimates for the completion of the Trent Canal, and that contracts would be let at once for the work between Peterborough and Trenton.

To the Examiner, Mr. Stuart expressed pleasure at the progress already made towards the completion of the waterway, a consummation which personally, he devoutly wished for, since its completion would prove of great benefit to his company here, and, of course, by this means, of benefit to the city and county. He stated that from what he had learned of the situation since he had arrived in the city—and he had been so busy that he had not been able to give much consideration to it—he believed that the canal completion was now in sight.

Railway Extension

The extension of the Radial Railway Line to Young's Point and Stony Lake, Mr. Stuart said, had not yet been decided on, though the matter was still under consideration by the executive officers of the company.

A VALUABLE PIECE OF METAL BAR

Mr. Munro Returned From Star of East Mine With $350 Worth.

Last night Mr. R. J. Munro, returned from the Star of the East mines, near Kajadar, and reports that the work of manufacturing the gold is rapidly progressing. He brought with him a small bar of gold, about six inches long by an inch in breadth, valued at $350, which he has deposited here in a local bank.

The mills have been operating principally upon the surface ores, which are not as valuable as the lower veins. Yesterday morning the employees commenced work on a vein, which is considered by the directors to be a very valuable one.

A meeting of the directors will be held next week at the mines, when the consideration of an electric plant will be taken up. The mills at the present time are run by steam power but within a short distance of the mines is a river connecting two lakes, in which there is a fall of nine feet, so that water power will be plentiful. Mr. Munro intends to attend the meeting next week.

CLAIMS DAMAGES FROM CITY

Ex-Councillor Brown, of Toronto Junction, Injured by Falling Into Sewer

ExCouncillor Brown of Toronto Junction, has written to the local council, claiming damages for injuries received through falling into a sewer trench on Aylmer street.

Mr. Brown was a visitor in Peterborough this week, the guest of his brother, Mr. John A. Brown, of the C. G. E. A sewer was being constructed in front of No. 338 Aylmer street, and Mr. Brown alleges that he tripped over some planks left on the sidewalk there and fell into the trench, receiving a severe shaking up and some bruises. He threatens to bring an action against the city if the claims are not settled.

Messrs. O'Connell & Gordon are looking after Mr. Brown's interests in the matter.

Varicose Ulcers Cured

Miss Elizabeth Campbell, 20 Sheridan avenue, Toronto, states: "About eight years ago, I hurt my leg near the ankle and the result was what doctors call varicose ulcers. I was treated in two Toronto hospitals and sent away without being cured from the very start Dr. Chase's Ointment helped me and by persistent use it has entirely cured me."

THE EXAMINER ROAD RACE THIS YEAR WILL BE MOST POPULAR SPORTING EVENT IN PETERBOROUGH; MANY CONTESTANTS WILL ENTER

the winner of the Examiner Cup last year—He will in all probability enter the race again this year

The Examiner Road Race this year promises to be the most popular sporting event of the year, so far as Peterborough is concerned. The recent achievements of Longboat, the Caledonian Indian, have called attention to the fact that Canada produces the greatest long distance runners in the world. The work of the young athletes in the first Examiner Race, held last year, demonstrated that Peterborough County, to which the race is confined, has some runners who will yet be heard from outside of the bounds of this county.

With the object of developing the runners who are natives or bona fide residents of this county, the Examiner instituted the Annual Road Race, and the success which attended it last year was very gratifying indeed.

This year there will be a larger number of contestants than there were last year, and it is conceded that better time will be made, provided, of course, the weather conditions are favourable.

The Harriers' Club, which organization furnished the first and second winners last year, will again be represented by a good bunch of runners, and already the men are preparing for the event.

The Hiawatha Indian, Simpson, whose work last year was such a surprise to those who saw the race will again be a contestant. At the present time he is working as a river driver, and has, of course, not commenced to train yet, but there are a good many persons who are confident that he will be a mighty factor in the race this year, and those who think that way, are good guessers, for he will be.

It is not too early to begin to prepare for this event, and the Examiner advises any who contemplate entering, to do some training, since the probabilities are that the man who wins the race this year will have to run the ten miles in quicker time than was made last year.

SPANIARDS WELCOME ADVENT OF AN HEIR TO THE THRONE

Examiner Special.

Madrid, May 10. — The greatest jubilation in the history of Spain, is being experienced to-day. This morning Queen Eugenia gave birth to a son and heir to the Spanish throne. The usual elaborate preparations for the reception of the expected heir were carried out in every detail, and to-day the whole population is celebrating the advent of the heir.

The christening, which will take place in a short time, will be a brilliant function.

The Queen, who since her marriage to Alphonso has become a great favourite with the Spanish people, will now be more popular than ever.

Smith Farmers Have Not Yet Started Spring Work

Some of the Residents of That Township Have Not Commenced Work on the Land—House of Refuge Farm—Crop Going In.

THE INMATES ARE HELPING

Reeve Scott of Smith, was in the city last night, and brings a story not very pleasing as to the conditions prevailing from the agriculturists' standpoint. He stated that in some parts of Smith the farmers had not even started their spring-work yet, whereas they should be about finished now. The ground appears to be filled to overflowing with water, and the weather during the last few weeks has been decidedly unfavourable to work on the land. Even the seed that has been sown has not commenced to grow, the ground having been so cold.

The loss to the farmers from the fact that the greater portion of the clover seed sown will be useless, will be considerable. Red clover has been selling of late years at $10 and $12 a bushel, and it is no small matter to sow fifteen or twenty acres of clover seed one spring and plow it up the next.

Mr. Scott says that the spring work on the farm at the House of Refuge was progressing favourably. The superintendent, with the help of the few old men who are able to work, will put in the whole crop. One of the inmates is able to attend to the stock on the farm, and another follows a team for a part of the time, so that between them all they do considerable work. After the crop has been put in, steps will be taken to improve the grounds around the buildings. A new wire fence will be put up along the front, and the ground levelled and sodded, to present a much better appearance.

A CHURCH

Park St. Baptists to Build One Soon

A CREDITABLE BUILDING

At Annual Meeting of Congregation Held Last Night This Was Decided On — A Committee Appointed.

In addressing his people at the annual meeting last night, Rev. A. H. Brace, of Park Street Baptist Church, spoke about as follows in regard to making an early start on the work of building their new church:

"If we are to build our church we must begin now. The south end is growing rapidly, and within the next few years there will at least be two or three churches erected there. The church that is on the ground first will receive the most financial assistance, and it therefore behooves this congregation to make a start now, while the time is ripe and the opportunity at hand." Mr. Brace, in his speech, proved that he is also a financier, and in a clear manner presented a scheme after a scheme whereby money may be realized for the new building.

The Methodists propose to build a church, and it will not be long before an addition will have to be made to Knox Church. It is therefore absolutely necessary, Mr. Brace said, that immediate steps should be undertaken. The congregation would not, he felt sure, be disloyal to this request and would assist in every manner, as they seemed to be unanimously agreed that the church was needed at once. The present building is now becoming old, and will soon require extensive improvements. If the new church is proceeded with the wooden structure can be sold, and at least $1,000 received for it.

Rev. Mr. Brace is enthusiastic about the new building, and has imbued his people with this feeling.

Mr. T. J. Gilleagle and Mr. [illegible] Sloan expressed their opinions of the proposition. They were first in agreement with the plan then had become opposed to it, and yet they had changed their minds and felt that the pastor's remarks were very loyal and should be followed up by immediate action.

The [illegible] has been said for the organization is well to do, and the prospects are bright. Thus, it was moved that a Building Committee be appointed to take steps as to the best methods of proceeding with the raising of funds.

The following were appointed committee: Messrs. Coon, Aikens, Bunting, Inkpen, Goheen, Johnston, Gillespie, Sloan, Jewett, Hayward and Barrie.

The pastor said that the church will not be erected without sacrifice on the part of the individual members, and he himself was prepared to assist by every possible means. The church will cost in the neighbourhood of $15,000, and from the architect's plans promises to be a beautiful edifice, and will also be all the space in the lot possible.

JOHN SNEED GIVES HIS VIEWS ON THE HONEYMOON TO-DAY

"The Honeymoon" is the question dealt with in the letter in the series on "A Successful Husband," published in the Examiner to-day. John Sneed advises his son to make this delightful period in his life continue throughout his whole married career, and the advice is good. Read the letter and see if you cannot get some good from it.

GOOD ADVICE TO SHIPPERS

The cheese industry of Canada has arrived at its present position of eminence, practically controlling the British market, and representing some twenty-five millions of dollars to the cheese producers of the country; our cheese industry has reached its preeminence mainly by virtue of only one quality and that quality is QUALITY in capital letters. Its quality is what has given it a footing in the British market, to the exclusion of almost all other cheese, and it only by maintaining the characteristic high quality of Canadian cheese that it can hold its place there. In view of this fact, the letter of Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Dominion, Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, is timely and important. He points out that if Canadian cheese in a green—uncured—condition, is imported into Great Britain at a time of year when it enters into direct and immediate consumption, that fact will decrease the consumption, and we shall in a sense, and to an extent, be killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. This will lead to still further decrease of consumption and import, and what is worse, will have the effect of giving our cheese a bad name in its best and, practically, only market. Thus the action of a few rash salesmen, listening to the importunities of greedy buyers will tend to give a bad name to all Canadian cheese, which it does not deserve, for it is only a few salesmen and buyers that are guilty of the suicidal action of selling, buying and shipping unripened cheese. Those interested are urged to read carefully Mr. Ruddick's letter and profit by it. Experts tell us that the very minimum period of time that should elapse between making and shipment is ten days—fourteen or fifteen days is all the better. Patrons of cheese factories should bring their influence to bear upon factory managers and salesmen to prevent the shipment of absolutely green cheese, which will probably be disposed of in the Old Country at a loss and give the factory, whose name can be traced, a bad name. All the advances, all the improvements, all the fine equipment of factories stand to be made null and void, by shipping cheese which is not fit for shipment, which is not only not a fair sample, but a base counterfeit of the average Canadian cheese in the matter of quality. Read Mr. Ruddick's letter carefully.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The interesting report from Ottawa that it is all arranged that Mr. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, is to take charge of the Conservative campaign in the West at the next Dominion elections, as the recognized leader for that section of the Dominion, is probably true. Mr. Roblin and Mr. Rogers had charge of the disastrous campaign of 1904; but on the coming occasion Mr. Roblin, the Free Press remarks, is to make a strong bid for support by definitely abandoning Provincial politics and standing for a Dominion seat. Without any desire to disparage Mr. Roblin's undoubted campaigning ability, one may question whether the reinforcement will be as valuable as Mr. Borden hopes. Mr. Roblin has never been notably successful as an Opposition fighter; control of the election machinery has, to date, been essential to the success of his plans of campaign. Moreover, his record as an administrator is not likely to appeal to the electorate outside of his own party. The Liberal leaders, we think, could paraphrase King Charles the Second's celebrated remark to the Duke of York: "No one will ever kill me, brother, to make you King of England."

Regarding your Zutoo Tablets I beg to say: I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called "cures" on the market, till warned by my physician to discontinue their use on account of their bad effects on the heart. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since with the most gratifying results. I find they cure a "sick" or "nervous" headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache and they never fail to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for "sour" stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost.

KING, THE PEACEMAKER

Mr. Mackenzie King, Deputy Minister of Labour, is winning golden opinions by his peaceful triumphs, by his vigorous fight to prevent disastrous industrial war. He is commended by journals of both parties, in connection with his services in settling the Fernie, B. C., coal strike. In this regard the Toronto News, Conservative, says:

If blessed are the peacemakers Mr. Mackenzie King, the young Deputy Minister of Labour, should not want for benedictions on his mediation in the industrial wars of the country. On his departure for the western coal fields some time ago, we could not forbear the remark that he had a tangle before him, which it will take all his intelligence, tact and finesse to unravel." The latest reports from the scene of contention concur in the fact that Mr. King has unravelled the tangle, and by his successful diplomacy has secured peace in a struggle which threatened grave consequences to Western Canada.

For weeks past the whole country has watched with keen interest these negotiations at Fernie, between the mine owners and their thousands of employees—the secret but fruitless conferences between the representatives of the contending parties, the failure even of promised legislation in Alberta for an 8-hour law to effect a settlement, the decisive rejection of the first compromise agreement between the masters of the mines and the leaders of the men, and the critical hitch in the acceptance of the second agreement a few days ago. Having exhausted every means of adjustment without the intervention of a third party, it is no small triumph for the law of conciliation, and its official representative, that the opposing forces should have had their serious differences harmonized by Mr. King's skilful efforts as a mediator. Nor is there any reason to doubt that this result was brought about by his ability and good judgment of the whole situation, his strong sense of justice, and fair dealing between man and man, and the confidence of both parties in his impartial arbitrament of the questions in dispute between them. The treaty between the companies and their employees, which Mr. King drafted and negotiated, and which has been endorsed by the referendum vote, will ensure peace in the great coal mines of the west for at least two years, and by that time it is to be hoped, the new law will have been so well understood, that there will be no further distrust of its efficacy. That it was really misunderstood is shown by the fact that its provisions, wherever explained, were unanimously approved.

Meanwhile, there may well be generous recognition of what the Deputy Minister has accomplished, as the working head of a department of the public service, which grows in importance and wide usefulness from year to year. His good work has won encomiums from both political parties. Mr. Borden, the leader of the Opposition, has repeatedly praised Mr. King's "strong personality," his capable management of his Department, and his splendid service to the country. In the correspondence recently published, between the Imperial and Dominion Governments, Lord Elgin, the Colonial Secretary, compliments the Deputy Minister on his services to both Governments in his official mission to England last autumn. Mr. King's conciliation settlement of industrial disputes all over the Dominion, and the prominent and eminently useful part which he has taken in commissions of inquiry, here and elsewhere, are matters of industrial history. The civil service of Canada cannot have in its ranks too many men of his mental and moral equipment, fertility of resource, and high sense of public duty.

This is high praise coming from a journal of so strong Conservative leanings as the Toronto News — "praise from Sir Hubert is praise, indeed." But, Mr. King, with all the credit he deserves for his share in the settlement of the coal strike, deserves no little credit for the fact that the Conciliation Act of last session, was largely responsible for the gratifying outcome of th disaster to the West threatened by the coal miners' strike. This act, which was only passed last session, is very greatly the result of his own conclusions, and his patient missionary work in the cause of peace in the industrial world. As regards the West, the act came in good time. The situation when Mr. King went to Fernie, seemed to be the most dangerous of any that ever menaced the industrial and popular interests of the West. While it is to be remembered that the Conciliation or Labour Disputes Act is largely due to Mr. King's advice, it is entirely the work of the Liberal Government, which is the only government in Canada which has enacted any legislation of practical value to the interests of labour. It is to be remembered, too, that it was a Liberal member of the present Liberal Government, who first recognized the claims of labour to consideration, established the Department of Labour and placed it under a responsible Minister, and equipped with most effective working machinery, including the present splendid Deputy Minister. The Government's interest in labour is not narrow, class legislation, but aims to promote the interests of not only the toilers, but the employers, also, and, incidentally, the public, whose effective service depends upon the harmonious cooperation of the two great industrial factors, Capital and Labour, the employer and the employed. The Conciallation Act of last session is not a paternal arbitrary measure; it recognizes both Capital and Labour as intelligent, and aims in case of dispute, to bring about ameliora-tion of relations, and bring them to consultation and conference, to appeal to their mutual sense of justice and fair play, and to afford an opportunity of each seeing where the other stands, to permit of an amicable attempt to arrive at a mutual understanding, the employment of brains rather than the bludgeon, to settle disputes, as to remuneration, hours of labour, etc. It is a wise provision that before a strike, or lock out either, is inaugurated, there must be investigation. Investigation will naturally lead to a better understanding, and permit the parties to deal with each other in cool blood, and thus avoid the harsh action which might be precipitated by either party acting under the impulse of the first spur of passion, or hot-headed impulse.

A LIVING PRINCIPLE

Whichever of the Imperial conferees it was that gave original expression to the sentiment that "the Conference has been messed by two foreigners, Laurier and Botha," he may probably be excused on the theory that it is natural for a man to think ill, for the moment, of the man who has carried the day against himself. Some who attended this Conference were avowedly anxious to set up an organic institution of some sort. They were so aggressive about about it that others had to take a stand one way or the other, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier seems, when he was driven to it, to have gone straight to the heart of the matter, and to have based his decision upon that political principle which, as it appeared to him, all experiences of the working of the British constitutional method obliged him to recognize and act upon. His mind upon the matter has been mirrored in all the speeches he has made. In every speech he has impressed his auditory with his belief that the "complete and untrammelled autonomy" of the various parts offers the best hope for a continuance of the present pleasing relations within the Empire. When he spoke in Westminster Hall he was evidently thinking of a former speech in which he used the expression "Call us to your councils," for he said he had felt, the first time he saw the Parliament in London, that he would like to take his seat in it. But, "I came to the conclusion, when I asked myself again if it were not possible that these countries which are here represented might also be represented on the floor of the Houses of Parliament, that it was a dream, but still a noble dream. I came to the conclusion, unfortunately, that this would rather produce embarrassment, both to the mother nation and to the daughter nations, and I was forced to the conclusion that after all, the best way of maintaining the British Empire, in which we all take a pride, is to allow every community to administer its own affairs in its own Parliament." That is Sir Wilfrid's answer, the answer of a reflecting statesman, to proposals which he had to weigh according to his judgment. To call him a "foreigner" is not to prove his judgment wrong; rather it carries the admission that he is right, for his argument, as an argument, is unanswerable. —Montreal Herald.

DOCKYARDS IN BRITAIN.

Keyham Now Occupies First Position as Naval Stronghold.

The dockyard extension at Keyham marks a new development in the history of the western port which places it in the foremost rank of Great Britain's naval strongholds. The enlargement of the twin establishments at Devonport and Keyham, which is now officially known as the North Yard, has brought into existence two new large basins, three double docks and a single one. The work has been in hand exactly eleven years.

The history of Devonport, which, prior to 1824, was called Plymouth, goes back to the days of hemp and canvas. Keyham was founded as an outcome of the modern steam navy. It was to the foresight of Lord Auckland that the prompt introduction of a new yard was due. This was in 1846, four years after the steam frigate Firebrand had marked a first stage in the revolution in the propulsion of warships. As at first planned, Keyham had two large basins and three docks, and it was mostly used as a repairing yard. It was also the training ground of our young engineer officers before the amalgamation scheme for the training and education of officers in 1902 swept away the different branches, and brought all the cadets together at Osborne for common training.

Keyham, the New.

By the completion of the Keyham Extension Works, as the new undertaking was first called, the old and the new are welded into one. Devonport remains the name of the yard, but Keyham is the spirit of it — the spirit of machinery and engines, of vast complicated boxes of steel and brass, in which our seaman of the future will move as familiarly as his forefathers moved among spars and ropes.

The Soul and the Beard.

In Russia it was the common belief up to the time of Peter the Great that beardless men were also soulless and that a man who purposely admitted having his beard marred could never enter heaven. The great Peter above referred to ordered his heathens to "shave up," so as to appear more civilized, and when they refused to comply with his edict he fined the wealthy and middle classes 100 rubles for each beard that was permitted to grow and each peasant and laborer a kopeck for the same privilege. Finally the priests were appealed to, and they informed their parishioners that unless they submitted to having their beards shaved they need not expect that St. Nicholas, the gatekeeper of heaven, would be able to distinguish them from the bearded Turks. That had the desired effect.

A Hint About Silk.

When silk is slimsy, its body may be restored in large measure by sponging with water in which an old kid glove has been boiled.

Faded silks should be sponged with warm water and soap, taking care not to apply the water too hot; then rub with a clean, dry cloth. Iron on a flat board on the inside, thin paper being spread over to prevent glazing.

Stead and the Irish Bill.

Montreal, May 10.—W. T. Stead addressed the Canadian Club last night. Talking with reference to the new Irish Council bill, he said: The trouble with Ireland was that it was ruled by the House of Lords, while England was ruled by the Commons. If the English were treated like the Irish they would burn the House of Lords from over their heads.

Boston Train Wrecked.

Winn., Maine, May 10.—A message from Lincoln states that the express train, which left Boston at 9 o'clock yesterday morning for St. John and Halifax, was wrecked late yesterday at a point on the Maine Central Railroad, two miles from Lincoln.

The fireman, engineer and postal clerk were badly injured, but that no person was killed.

Flames From the Sea.

L'Orient, France, May 10.—Several trawlers came in here Wednesday reporting the observance of an extraordinary phenomenon at sea, which would appear to have been a submarine volcanic eruption.

The men on board the trawlers noticed bright flames and intense smoke rising from the sea.

Little Girl Badly Burned.

Kingston, May 10.—Frederick Jackson burned his hands while pulling off the burning clothes from little Lillian Butlin, daughter of William Butlin, Dufferin street, who had set fire to herself while playing with matches in the yard. The child, four years of age, was badly burned about the face.

Eloping Parson in London?

London, May 10.—In connection with the eloping couple, Rev. J. Node Cooke, and Miss Whaley from Hempstead, L. I., it was stated yesterday by a well-known dentist that the eloping couple were in London early this week. It was said that the runaway preacher had a friend of the cloth in this city, and that on coming to London he threw himself upon his mercy. The local minister rejected the couple and informed them that if he did not leave the city immediately the police would be notified. The couple are thought to have been seen on the streets by several parsons.

A woman wearing a green short silk dress and a tall handsome man with grey hair and good features, were seen at a local theatre on Monday. They left the city on an evening train for the east.

Postal Progress.

Commenting on Postmaster-General Buxton's new arrangements with the Canadian Government, by which British magazines and newspapers will be carried at a lower rate, The London Standard says:—"There is a note of sound Imperialism in the proposal, since it will help to keep in sympathy the thought of the 'English-thinking race.' But if there is money to be spent in the readjustment of the postal system at home there are wider reforms which might more profitably be undertaken. While every little Dutch village has its telephone, there are scores of villages in this country which have not even a telegraph, and we have nothing, even in the metropolis, which answers to the petit bleu of Paris. To increase rapidity of communication is of far greater importance than to reduce the cost of transmitting money-lenders' circulars. But cheapness is the craze of the day."

Japs Swarm In.

A great influx of Japanese immigration into British Columbia has commenced. Two hundred and sixty-seven arrived there the other day on the Montara and the Manuka, due from Honolulu shortly, will have many more.

The Japanese Government has notified the immigration companies that all restrictions are taken off immigration owing to the unqualified agreement of Canada in the Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty. Formerly only a limited number of coolies were allowed to be sent annually from Japan. Hereafter as many will be sent as can pay the price.

Great Britain's Foxhounds.

There are about 170 packs of foxhounds, consisting of about 6,000 couples, in England and Wales, and as the average number of days the hounds are out is about three per week the cost of the packs alone is at least £500,000 a year. This is taking no account of Ireland's twenty-six packs, with about 1,100 couples, and Scotland's eleven packs of 300 couples.

SIDELIGHTS ON SUICIDE.

Denmark Heads List—England is Fourth From the Bottom.

Sturdy, self-reliant progressive people as they are, the Japanese have yet a strong pre-disposition to self-destruction. This remarkable fact is plainly put by Mr. Bunso Kure, a prominent Japanese statistician.

In the island Kingdom the suicide rate is now nearly 200 in each 1,000,000 inhabitants, which brings it into the fourth place on the records, which are:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Denmark | 353 | Sweden | 113 |
| France | 218 | Bulgaria | 113 |
| Switzerland | 216 | England | 90 |
| Prussia | 197 | Norway | 66 |
| Austria | 159 | Holland | 59 |
| Belgium | 122 | Italy | 52 |

The increase in Japan is greater in the case of females, the figures for the fair sex being 16 per cent., while those for the males are only 14 1-2. Mr. Kure thinks that this is due to the new method of education, and to the fact that modern conditions bring women into the struggle for a livelihood side by side with men.

As to the method of suicide hanging is the most popular with men, drowning with women. More people kill themselves in May, June, and July than in ony other period.

Taking about 100,000 cases of suicide the causes were:

Lunacy, about 30,000 males and 20,000 females.

Straitened circumstances, 73 males to every 26 females.

Sickness, 60 males to every 40 females.

Disappointed love, 40 males to every 60 females.

Repentance, 75 males to every 25 females.

Family quarrels, 30 males to every 70 females.

Anxiety about the future, 55 males to every 10 females.

Pecuniary losses, 90 males to every 10 females.

Grief for the misconduct of children, fear of discovery of crime, and pain at divorce, 17 men to 63 women.

Mr. Kure inclines to the belief that a suicidal disposition exists among the Japanese, and that, possibly, it is hereditary, but the circumstances, he says, are often pitiful.

Lady Henry Somerset.

Lady Henry Somerset, whose fame as a worker and speaker in temperance and charitable causes has spread throughout Europe and America, is retiring from public life. She announces that after this spring she will speak no more in public, but will carry on her homes at Duxhurst, where she will continue to live.

An unhappy marriage led to a separation from her husband, and Lady Henry retired to live a quiet life at Reigate Priory. There she determined to give herself to social and religious work.

Her first public meeting was a little gathering of villagers from her Eastnor estate, to whom she spoke a few earnest words for temperance, signing the pledge in their presence. Practice has since made her one of the most accomplished platform speakers amongst English women.

The industrial colony founded by her at Duxhurst, in Surrey, is the pioneer institution of its kind. Women of all classes suffering from alcoholism find there in a pleasant countryside homes where, amongst workrooms and gardens, poultry yards and dairies, they can forget the old influences which have dragged them down.

It is to the honor of the foundress of Duxhurst that many a wretched woman has been intercepted in her round from gaol to gin palace and given back the possibility of decent life.

Accomplished London Cabmen.

The late Lord Rosslyn told a story to instance the kind of man who may be sometimes doing duty on a hansom. One night his lordship hailed one close to his club and drove to his town house. As he alighted the cabman touched his hat and said, "Lord Rosslyn, I believe?" "Yes," was his reply. "What do you want?" "You sometimes sell Gordon setters, my lord." "Yes, but not to cabmen." In the blandest and most gentlemanly tone the cabman stated that might be true, but still he had he advantage he thought on the point of education. He had been at a university and could speak several languages, among others Italian, which he happened to know Lord Rosslyn could not speak. An Italian count who had once been a friend of his was staying in London and wanted a brace of Gordon setters. It proved quite correct. The Italian count bought the setters for 50 guineas, and Lord Rosslyn gave the accomplished cabman a five pound note for his trouble.—London Telegraph.

British Domestic Evils.

Divorces are, happily, rare in society circles. Separation by mutual consent, however, grows more frequent every year. Everyone has upon his or her visiting list husbands and wives who never meet if they can help it, but between whom there has never been an open breach. Incompatibility of temper is the usual cause, and the reason for that is one imagines, the still common custom of encouraging the younger generation to marry before they have begun to approach years of discretion.—London Throne.

No Accent Needed.

There are questons put to applicants for positions as telephone operators, which, if not funny in themselves, sometimes draw laughable replies, says a writer in Cassell's Saturday Journal. A girl is asked, for instance, if she has a local accent, because it is a condition of the telephone service that she must speak clearly, distinctly and grammatically, and that her speech be free from local dialect.

Whether she has such an accent or not—and sometimes a girl has it unaware—she generally replies, "No," though a very accommodating candidate wrote, "No, but I could acquire one."

A Royal Aeronautophobe.

The Prince of Wales is taking much interest in the attempts of Santos-Dumont and others to solve the problem of navigation of the air. He possesses an expert knowledge of the various aeroplanes and their mechanism. His Royal Highness was always of a mechanical turn of mind, and in another sphere of life would probably have made a name as an inventor. He is remarkably clever with tools of every description, and has already imparted a good deal of his knowledge to his eldest sons. It is stated that the prince will soon become president of the Aero Club of England.

Investors in This City are Paying Considerable Attention to This Class of Investment — Result Ready Money is Said to be Scarce.

LARDER LAKE THIS YEAR

A gentleman who is engaged in the collection business in the city, told the Examiner to-day that money was hard to get in Peterborough at the present time. This condition of affairs he attributed to the popularity of investments in Cobalt and Northwest land. He stated that one man who was in the business of selling Cobalt stocks in Peterborough had told him that the small investors in this city were spending considerable money in these silver stocks.

The same conditions are said to prevail in Toronto, where the merchants are beginning to feel the effects of the tremendous amount of money which has during the last few months been invested in Cobalt stock.

This year the speculation seems likely to shift from Cobalt to Larder Lake, and those who have money to invest will likely be putting some of it into these stocks.

Real estate and mining investments seem to have the call with the public at the present time.

Work Of The Y.M.C.A. Among India's Millions Of Young Men

Rev. H. J. Keith, in an Interesting Address at Association Hall Last Night Describing Work Conducted in that Empire.

THE WORK IS PROGRESSING

A very encouraging start was made in the interests of the Foreign work of the Y.M.C.A. last night, when a large number of members of the Association listened to Rev. H. J. Keith's address on Y.M.C.A. Work in India, with special reference to Calcutta.

For the past four years the Associations of Ontario and Quebec have supported Mr. J. N. Farquhar, M.A., as their representative in Calcutta. In this the Peterborough Association has had some share, though not as large as its membership would warrant.

This year a forward movement in foreign work has begun in the Provinces, and a number of places are now undertaking to each support a representative of their own.

The Foreign Work Committee met last week in Toronto and alloted the sums expected from the different associations. This year Peterborough Y.M.C.A. members are asked to contribute $200.00—$15.00 of this amount has already been sent in, and $28.00 more was pledged for 1907 by those in attendance at the meeting. The committee confidently expect a general response on the part of the members in the practical work which calls for an exhibition of the unselfish missionary spirit on the part of the men.

Mr. Williamson, General Secretary, presided at the meeting last evening and in introducing Rev. Mr. Keith, voiced a very hearty welcome for him to the city and Y.M.C.A. on behalf of the young men.

Mr. Keith's address was deeply interesting. He spent two years in India and Calcutta and gave the information at first hand as to the needs and the work being done for the Indian young men by the Y.M.C.A.

He said India was a great country in extent as well as in promise. The young man problem in India was an inspiring problem, and the work was surrounded with many difficulties and discouragements. The people of India classed together all white men as Christians, and all the evils the whites had brought, retarded the progress of Christianity.

The Indian young man does not believe in labour, and looks on education as a means of getting a government position rather than a character builder.

There was a great feeling of unrest, due to agitators of different classes. Here the speaker referred to the present disturbances at Lahore as an illustration. Mr. Keith then dealt with what the Y.M.C.A. had done and was doing for India's young men.

The Y.M.C.A. had been a great success there and Mr. Farquhar, he considered as one of the greatest men in India. The city of Calcutta had four buildings for the different classes of young men, including one for students and one for Europeans.

The college was the key to successful work in the country. Thus the Y.M.C.A. holds the key to India today.

The Y.M.C.A. is strongly backed by the church.

In closing Mr. Keith referred to his own experience in dealing with young men there and regretted that he had to leave India.

At the close of the address a number of photos were shown presenting different features of the country and the association work.

Mr. W. D. Morrow, leader of the sociation Volunteer League, the organization having charge of the foreign work in the local association, spoke briefly, reviewing what has been done and what the privileges and obligations of the members were.

Mr. E. Dingman was elected secretary and Mr. J. H. Connat treasurer of the foreign work. These succeed Mr. Wm. Shea, who held both offices for several yars and who has recently gone to Alberta.

The chairman tendered the thanks of the meeting to Mr. Keith for his interesting and inspiring address.

Considerable Progress With The Garbage By-law

Property Committee Went Thoroughly Into the Matter Last Night---The Service to be Given Was Considered.

Considerable progress was made in the Property Committee last night with Ald. Elliott's Garbage By-law. The committee discussed the details of the measure for nearly three hours and a half, and a number of points were satisfactorily settled. There were present Ald. McIntyre, chairman; the Mayor, Ald. Elliott, Morgan and Stevenson.

The first point discussed was that of service, and the committee decided to recommend that the following service be given.—

To ordinary householders, once a week.

To business premises twice a week.

To hotels, fruit stores and factories, three times a week.

To householders in outlying districts, once in every two weeks.

The committee has drafted a scale of charges per month for the services, and last night appointed a sub-committee, consisting of the chairman and Ald. Elliott to go into the details of the matter, to ascertain the probable revenue on this scale. Ald. Morgan will go into the details of the expense involved, and if the rates now adopted by the committee prove sufficient to cover this expense they will be recommended to the council. The committee will take the service given to ordinary householders as a basis for the rates, and all other citizens will have to pay a proportionate rate, special allowance for charges being made for rooms, offices and large factories.

If the rates prove sufficient to meet the expense the public will get the service at less than half the cost they have been paying.

It is likely that the committee will recommend that tenders be asked for, for the supply of the necessary teams, wagons and men for a term of one year.

Ald. Stevenson and the Mayor will prepare the conditions of the service and of the agreement with the contractor. The various sub-committees will report at the meeting of the committee next week, when it is hoped that matters will be sufficiently advanced to bring it before the Committee of the Whole Council.

There was a long discussion over Ald. Elliott's suggestion that the service instead of being paid for by special levy, should be met out of the general taxes. No decision was arrived at, and both propositions will be submitted to the council. It was agreed that such a system of meeting the expense would be much simpler and fairly equitable, but some of the members of the committee thought that it would be better to begin with a system in which the work was done by the corporation for the individual and a special charge made on him for the service. It was further pointed out that there would have to be an increase of one mill on the tax rate owing to the increased demand on account of the new school buildings, and a further increase of three-fourths of a mill which it is estimated the Garbage Bylaw would require, would not be likely to meet with public approval.

Some discussion also took place as to the manner of disposing of night soil, but the committee had spent nearly three hours discussing the Garbage Bylaw, and did not attempt to settle this matter. The Brantford bylaw for this purpose was read and was considered satisfactory.

The only other matter taken up by the committee last night was in connection with the fence around the city's property at the powder magazine. The chairman reported that part of the fence was down, and that the people living near there wished something done to it. Ald. Morgan and the chairman will look into the matter.

A ROYAL TONIC

Beats Anything we Ever Sold as a Strength Creator and Body Builder

Our well-known druggists, McDermid & Jury, are very enthusiastic over the delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, which contains no oil. In referring to the matter, Mr. McDermid said: "We sell many tonics and we handle all kinds of remedies that claim to be tonics and strength creators, but when our advice is asked in regard to a tonic, body-builder or strength creator, we invariably recommend Vinol, as we know of nothing that can compare with it.

"In Vinol, modern science has given us all of the tonic, body-building and curative elements of that famous old remedy, cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers without a drop of the system-clogging oil which characterizes old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions.

"In the most natural manner Vinol tones up the digestive organs, creates a hearty appetite, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body.

"Our faith in Vinol is so strong that we gladly offer to refund the money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction." McDermid & Jury, Druggists. Also at the Market Drug Store, the Ormond & Walsh Old Stand.

ANOTHER EXCLUSIVE AGENCY HAS BEEN SECURED NOW

"What pleases us most about Semi-ready Tailoring," said A. W. Greenman, "is the fact that 95 per cent. of our new customers become regular customers.

"It is very satisfactory always to handle such fine goods, and there is a sense of double satisfaction when one's patrons are so delighted.

"The Semi-ready tailoring this season is particularly good, the style, fit and value having pleased our customers well. The strongest selling suits this year have been the $20 and $25 lines, the proportion of these sold being much larger than formerly. I believe that it is the intention of the Semi-ready Company to make an $18 suit for next season, and in this case we will endeavour to sell all our $15 summer suits early in this season.

"Following our plan of securing exclusive agencies for the biggest class of goods manufactured, goods which the makers guarantee, with their name and price stamped plainly on them, we have just concluded arrangements for the sole rights in Peterborough for the Doily Vardex Shoe and the Foot-rite Shoe—shoes which have an international reputation like "Semi-ready"—and which are sold in Great Britain, Canada and the United States at the same price."

The Peterborough Cheese Makers Are Given Advice

Dairy Commissioner Sends Letter to Secretary of the Cheese Board in Reference to Shipping Green Cheese.

THE INJURIOUS EFFECTS

Mr. John Riddell, the secretary of the Peterborough Cheese Board, has received an important letter from the Dominion Dairy Commissioner, which, in view of the fact that the opening of the cheese season of 1907 is at hand, is of more than ordinary importance. The letter is as follows:

"Dear Sir,—I am informed by some of the dairy instructors of Ontario that many of the cheese factories are shipping their cheese in a very green condition. In fact, one instructor writes that he has seen Monday's cheese boxed and shipped on Tuesday. It is difficult to understand how intelligent men can be induced to act so foolishly in the face of the positive warnings which they have received from time to time during the past year, as to the injurious effect of such a practice on the cheese trade of Canada.

Serious Results

If we continue to ship green cheese to Great Britain, at a time of the year when they are most likely to go into direct consumption, there can only be one result, and that will be to check the consumption of cheese enormously, with a consequent decrease in the demand, which is bound to have the effect of reducing the price before the season is over.

It would seem to require scarcely a second thought to convince any person that it is a most suicidal policy to allow the cheese to be shipped when they are not in a condition fit for food, and when their presence on the market will have the effect of stopping the consumption of cheese and encouraging the consumers to look for some other article of food.

Buyers And Sellers to Blame

It is useless to throw all the blame on the buyers, and to let it go at that. The buyers know the danger of this sort of thing well enough and the fact that they are offering to buy the cheese is proof that they will not act in the interests of the producer when it serves their purpose to do differently. The factory manager or salesman cannot escape his responsibility for the protection of his own business, or the business of his patrons. It is quite evident that the only way to deal with this question is for the salesman to refuse to sell the cheese until they are fit for market.

A Difficult Matter

I appreciate the difficulty of individual action in a matter of this kind, owing to the strenuous competition among factories, but there is nothing to prevent the salesmen of the different factories from agreeing in a body not to allow cheese to leave their factories until they have attained a reasonable age, say at least ten days or two weeks.

Some of the cheese boards have already done so, and I venture to say that the factories represented will reap a handsome reward before the season is over, because the district which resolutely refuses to allow the cheese to go forward until they are in a proper condition will add very materially to its reputation on that account.

I know of no surer way of forcing the market down than by selling green cheese. Those who are following the sales on the cheese boards closely, will have noticed that certain districts are receiving a handsome premium over others, simply because they have sufficient foresight and good business judgment to recognize that it pays them to protect the reputation of their cheese in every possible way.

When the patrons of cheese factories come to fully realize how vitally they are interested in the actual condition of the cheese as it reaches consumers in Great Britain, they will make it warm for any factory manager or salesman who allows absolutely green cheese to be shipped from the factory. What is the use of the government spending money for the purpose of instruction if cheese are to be shipped before any one can determine anything about their quality? The instructors might just as well remain at home, under such circumstances. Any of the improvements which have been made in recent years, and which have done so much to help the cheese industry, will be almost wholly nullified if this sort of thing goes on.

With the knowledge that I have as to the effect of this practice on the British market, I conceive it to be my duty to protest as vigorously as possible against a continuance of this practice and point out the inevitable results if it is continued.

J. A. RUDDICK,
Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner.

Regular meals will also be served. The new restaurant should be found very convenient by theatre patrons.

DEMAND FOR RAISE WAS REFUSED

Street Railway Employees Asked For More Money.

The street railway motor men and conductors made a request this week for an increase in salary, and on Wednesday were informed by the management that their request could not be granted by the company.

The men are now receiving 16 cents per hour. Last year they received a raise of a cent an hour, the first increase since they started. A petition signed by all the men asked for an increase but did not state any particular amount. The company was forced to refuse the demand.

IRISH COUNCIL BILL.

Unionists to Hold Mass Meeting to Oppose the Measure.

London, May 10.—The Unionists have arranged for a great meeting of protest against the Irish Bill, to be held in Queen's Hall June 13. A. J. Balfour will preside, and he will be supported by all the leaders of his party.

At Dublin the fate of Mr. Birrell's Irish Bill is regarded here as depending entirely on the attitude taken by the proposed Nationalist convention and while there is nobody able to predict, there is no doubt that the Nationalists, rank and file, are deeply disappointed in the proposed measure, and it will require all John E. Redmond's influence to obtain from the conference a resolution in its favor.

It is reported that some of Mr. Redmond's followers threatened to resign if the bill was accepted. But the revolt was, to a great extent, smoothed over on condition that efforts would be made to secure a modification of the measure and it is believed that with the exception of Timothy Healy, who expressed great regret at being obliged to oppose a bill introduced by a friendly ministry, and William O'Brien, Nationalist member for Cork, whose attitude is doubtful, the party as a whole will accept the bill.

WANTS WHITNEY TO ACT.

The Lord's Day Alliance Wants Test Cases Made.

Toronto, May 10.—Rev. Dr. J. G. Shearer, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, and Rev. T. Albert Moore, assistant secretary for Western Canada, waited on Premier Whitney yesterday afternoon for the purpose of bringing to his attention a number of violations of the Sabbath, which they think should be made test cases.

Mr. Whitney, while in sympathy with a perfectly restful Sunday, could not promise that the Government would authorise any action, outside of the jurisdiction of the Government.

It is probable, however, that a number of suits will be brought against Sabbath-breakers in the near future, and whether they are successful or not, the Alliance is determined to fight to the bitter end every attempt to violate Sunday.

Still Friendly.

Berlin, May 10.—Rumors that there has arisen a misunderstanding between Emperor William and Prince Von Buelow, the imperial chancellor, were yesterday met with a strongly worded official denial.

Specialist will be at Peterboro

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—No Change in American Prices.

LONDON, May 9.—Liverpool and London cables are steady at 11¼c to 12½c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, May 9.—Receipts of live stock at the city market were 106 car loads, as reported by the railways, consisting of 1631 cattle, 1451 hogs, 126 sheep and lambs, with 123 calves and one horse.

Exporters.

Several loads of export cattle were on sale, which sold from $5.15 to $5.50 per cwt., the bulk going from $5.30 to $5.35. Export bulls sold at $4 to $4.50 per cwt.

Butchers.

Picked butchers' sold from $5 to $5.30; loads of good, $4.60 to $4.90; good cows, $3.20 to $4.10; inferior cows, $2.75 to $3; steers, 950 to 1050 lbs., $3 to $3.25; bulls, 1000 to 1700 lbs., $4 to $4.50.

Feeders and Stockers.

The demand for fat cattle was so good that steers with a little flesh on them, that ought to have been sold as feeders, were taken for butchers', which caused few cattle to be taken as feeders.

Harry Murby, whose business is largely in feeders and feeders, reports a slim trade as regards numbers, he only having handled 150 during the week. Mr. Murby reports best steers, 1000 to 1100 lbs., at $4.25 to $4.75; best steers, 900 to 1000 lbs., $4 to $4.40; best steers, 800 to 900 lbs., $3.90 to $4.25; best steers, 700 to 700 lbs., $3 to $3.60; common stockers slow sale and not wanted.

Milch Cows.

Several buyers from eastern points, as well as several dealers, who were all wanting good milch cows, crowded the market to be sure. All cows approaching good quality were readily picked up. Prices ranged from $35 to $70 each. The latter figure was for an extra choice cow. The bulk would sell from $40 to $55 and a few at $60 each.

Veal Calves.

The bulk of the calves were of common to medium quality, good to choice veals being scarce. Prices ranged from $3 to $6.25 per cwt., and $15 each. Good, new-milk-fed calf of good quality brought $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

The run of sheep and lambs was light, and prices were firm all round. All offered were readily taken at higher prices. Export ewes sold at $5 to $5.65 per cwt.; rams, $3.50 to $5; yearlings, $7.50 to $8.00 per cwt.; common ewes and bucks, $3 to $4.50 per cwt.; spring lambs, $5 to $8 each for bulk of offerings, but $9 and even $10 was paid for one or three of the right kind. Farmers! Keep your lambs until fit to sell and get a good price for them. The trade demands better quality than is being offered.

Hogs.

Prices unchanged. Mr. Harris got over 1200, and quotes selects at $6.50 and lights and fats at $6.25 per cwt.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 9.—Cattle, receipts, 250 head; slow and steady; prices unchanged. Veals, receipts, 200 head; active and $5c higher; $3 to $7.50. Hogs, receipts, 3500 head; heavy; fairly active and steady; light, slow and a shade lower; mixed, $6.70; yorkers, $6.75 to $6.85; pigs, $6.65; roughs, $6.30 to $6.40.

Sheep and lambs, receipts, 6000 head; sheep, active; lambs, fairly active; yearlings, $6.75 to $7; wethers, $6 to $6.25.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Beeves, receipts, 1131; no trading in live cattle; feeling dull. Calves, no fresh receipts; none for sale; feeling steady. Sheep and lambs, receipts, 8282; sheep, nominally steady; lambs, a trifle easier; spring lambs, steady; prime clipped lambs, $7.90; fair state spring lambs, $8 per head; muskrats yearlings, $7 per 100 pounds. Hogs, receipts, 1236; none for sale alive; nominally weak.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Cattle, receipts about 4000; market steady; prime to choice steers, $4 to $5.50; cows, $2.25 to $5; heifers, $3 to $5.50; bulls, $2.40 to $4.60; calves, $2.75 to $6; stockers and feeders, $3 to $4.25.

Hogs, receipts, about 31,000; market steady; choice to prime heavy, $6.42½ to $6.45; medium to good heavy, $6.40 to $6.42½; butchers' weighing, $6.42½ to $6.50; good to prime mixed, $6.30 to $6.42½; packing, $6.20 to $6.40; pigs, $6.40 to $6.50; bulk of sales, $6.40 to $6.45.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY

The Tate Optical Co., Peterborough:

DEAR SIRS,—During the last three or four years (prior to May last) my eyesight had failed to such an extent that I was unable to read or see anything at close range and could get no Glasses that would help me. I tried two different Opticians in Toronto and was told by both that they could do nothing for me, and that my sight would never be better. A statement of my case was sent to Montreal by a Hastings optician and several pairs of Glasses sent me, but with the same result, my vision could not be improved. Last May, while looking at a Pair of Glasses you made for Mr. John Fife, Keene, and talking with him he advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, and I am pleased to say that the Pair of Glasses he made for me have given me entire satisfaction and I can do now what I have not done for years past—read any ordinary print and see distinctly at close range. I feel very grateful, not only for the interest you have taken in my case, but particularly as to the blessing of good eyesight. Thanks to your knowledge and skill.

Yours truly,
(Signed) JOHN CARTER, Sr.,

Christian Scientist Todd. Reveals Ministers' Secrets

Says That Members of Ministerial Association Were, in the Main, Favourable to Teachings of Christian Science.

HIS STATEMENTS ADMITTED

At Meeting of the Association When Paper on Christian Science Was Read—Are Members Inconsistent?—Mr. Tood Thinks So.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

I shall have to ask permission to reply to a resolution of the Ministerial Association, which appeared in your issue of Monday last, and, to my sense, if very unkind, un-Christian, and, I believe, uncalled for. After the brotherly, Christian spirit in which we met a month ago, and just when we were congratulating ourselves on a more Christly spirit amongst us as professing Christians, it is to be regretted that such a resolution should appear in the public press. After the kindly feeling expressed toward me one month ago, surely our dear brethren do not wish me to think that they have conspired together to blacken my character and rob me of my reputation, by adopting a resolution, to appear in the public press, insinuating that I falsified in my remarks when I was trying to uplift them before our people, and thereby create a more kindly feeling as co-workers in the Master's vineyard; and to do this without even mentioning the wrong to me, if they felt that I had wronged them. What is our Master's, or Wayshower's injunction? "If thy brother trespass against thee, go to him alone and tell him his fault," etc., Matthew, 18, 15. When I learned from the press that they took objection to my remark, I put once call on their president. He informed me that the chief trouble was my voicing what was said—their rules are against giving to the public what is done there.

I would gladly have apologized to the brethren for this breach of etiquette had I had an opportunity.

Circumstances now compel me to tell a little more of the secrets. I am very much surprised that the esteemed divine, Rev. Dr. Torrance, D. D., would come before the public as seconder of a resolution, telling the public that there was not a word at the former meeting for me to base my remarks upon, when he himself was not there. Let him go before Judge Weller, or our Magistrate Dumble, and he will be told that hearsay is not evidence; they only want what he actually knows. I see by the report that two others must have voted on hearsay, in order for the vote to be unanimous, as they were not at the former meeting.

I was trained by a (good) old Scotch mother in childhood never to make a statement that you cannot prove. That teaching is with me to-day, and I adhere to it; therefore, if you will allow me sufficient space in which to give the facts, I feel that I can show that I had ample ground, on which to base my remarks.

Any man or woman of ordinary intelligence who will read my remarks will see that I did not say that the Peterborough Ministerial Association were favourable to Christian Science, any more than the press was favourable. I was showing the progress from a metaphysical basis, that is, the universal change of thought toward Christian Science. As an illustration, I referred to the Ministerial meeting. My remarks were to the effect that there was less opposition to the teaching of Mrs. Eddy, and that there would be less as it became better understood. I believe that I would have been justified in saying that the Ministerial brethren were favourable, judging from what was said and what was not said, if they did not favour what was given. I shall now attempt self-justification by giving, so far as my memory serves me, what took place at the meeting I attended, and let the public judge. If I do not quote correctly, I am satisfied to have the paper published verbatim.

I was invited in when Rev. Canon Davidson was about to read his paper on "Christian Science and Religion." To my sense, the paper was an able and honest presentation of facts, and which shows Canon Davidson to be a man capable and willing to lead his people into higher and broader conditions of thought. He proved, by Scripture, four points in favour of Mrs. Eddy's teaching, which the clergy used to denounce Mrs. Eddy for asserting. First, "That through the fall of man the body came into a state of suffering," (Sin the cause of suffering, Mrs. Eddy.) Second, "In due time Christ came as a Saviour of the body as well as the soul." It was undeniable that His mission and work was the healing of the body, as well as saving the soul." Third, "It is undeniable that He gave this same work not only to the twelve apostles, but to the seventy." Fourth, "It is undeniable that He authorized those that believed on Him to do the same work." Fifth, "It is undeniable that it is the duty of the Christian Church to-day to heal as well as preach, to look after the body as well as the soul."

Here he referred to a religious body known as Christian Science (not so-called, as shown in the last report) who claim to do this healing work. "I find," he said, "a great deal of truth in it. I have been benefited by studying the literature. I would recommend the study of the literature; take the truth out of it into our churches. The church must rise and perform the duty she has been neglecting to do."

Then the criticism. The first called was Dr. Crothers, who began almost immediately to question me how we treated, and what the treatment consisted of, etc. I stated that I did not expect any part in the discussion, and would not enter into any controversy, but accept or reject them, as they chose. Strange to say, there was not one opposing thought offered to any explanation I made, nor to one statement would give them some points, as I understood them; they could agree in the paper read, only concerning the exhortation in James, the duty of the church to pray for the sick, and heal them. At this point I had to give Mrs. Eddy's spiritual interpretation of that passage. I gave her interpretation of several passages of Scripture, and not a voice raised against them.

It is true that Mr. Webb began to make light of Christian Science by reading from a book purporting to be authority on Christian Science, a lengthy formula of treatment, which showed at once that it was not Mrs. Eddy's teaching, which is the only true Christian Science. There is a bylaw in the Mother Church forbidding the use of formulas in any way. I explained that we discredit what those false, so-called Christiance Scientists teach, as do the other churches. There was not one objection to any thought given out as being the teaching of Mrs. Eddy, what they objected to as being wrong was the false thought.

Mr. Bright referred to three cases of healing that he had heard of through my effort, taking me to relate them. I did so. In responding to the vote of thanks, I was again questioned, and while on my feet I read from our text-book, "Science and Health," the tenets of our church, etc., and again was free from opposition. The meeting closed in a most Christly spirit.

I have tried to give the truth of our meeting together, as nearly as I could, without taking too much of your valuable space. If the brethren did not favour what I gave, which was the teaching of Mrs. Eddy, their silence would lead me to think they were not very faithful watchmen on the walls of Zion.

Now, Mr. Editor, in conclusion I would say, that, as to whether they favour Mrs. Eddy's teaching or not, I shall try and not be unduly disturbed. Those of us who have put it to the test as Jesus commanded, by healing the sick, and reforming the sinner, approve of it!

And while we court the friendship and brotherly love of our orthodox brethren, we must be about our Father's business, no matter what their attitude may be towards us; we must strive to love them and do them good, when the opportunity occurs, to be in harmony with Mrs. Eddy's teaching, even to love our enemies, and follow the Golden Rule.

With thanks,

Sincerely yours,

R. J. TODD,

A Small Proportion Of City's Juvenile Population Attend A Sunday School

A Somewhat Alarming State of Affairs Revealed by Mr. G. W. Mulligan — A Non-denomenational School to be Conducted.

SOME OF THE OBJECTS

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—By your kind permission I would set before the readers of the Examiner a few facts regarding Sunday school work in Peterborough. Through the kindness of Mr. Walker, Public School Inspector, and the various superintendents or secretaries of Sunday schools, I have been enabled to make a comparison. I find that the number of children under 17 years of age in the city who take any interest in Sunday school Bible study, is far below the number who are in the public schools and kindergarten; a very large percentage never go anywhere to school on the Lord's Day. As the hope of the church is in the young, and the boy of to-day is the man of to-morrow, it is of the utmost importance that our children should be brought under Bible training as long and as often as possible while young. The above facts should cause every father and mother to find out where their children spend the Lord's Day. Therefore, as so many of our children do not go anywhere to School on Sunday, there will be carried on in the Gospel Hall, corner of George and Brock streets, a non-denominational Sunday school, our main object being to interest those who never go anywhere; we want it distinctly understood by workers that we have no desire to draw away any who attend or are interested in Sunday school work in any of the churches, but to seek out those who are outside. Many poor children say they have no clothes. This will be no barrier at the hall—rich or poor will be welcomed alike. There will be no collection; each pupil will be supplied free with lesson papers and books, card and tickets for primary and reward for attendance and verses at the close of the year. Mr. H. A. Fife will be in charge of the Ladies' Bible Class; Mr. A. F. McKeown, the girls' Bible Class; Mr. R. Hewson, boys'; Miss H. Dies, junior girls'; Mrs. G. W. Mulligan, the primary; also the superintendent's mixed Bible Class. The school is already in a flourishing condition and we hope for co-operation from parents whose children do not go to other schools.

G. W. MULLIGAN, Superintendent.

Special Meetings

Mr. Robert McClintock and Mr. W. P. Douglas will conduct special meetings in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, above Brown's feed store, tomorrow at 3.30, and 7 p.m. All welcome.

CRIPPLED BY SCIATICA

MADE WELL AND STRONG BY DR. WILLIAMS PINK PILLS AFTER DOCTORS HAD FAILED

Mr. H. W. Awalt is one of the leading merchants of Hemford, N.S. A few years ago he was a great sufferer from that most excruciating trouble sciatica. He says: "At the time I was afflicted I was living at Baker Settlement. The attack was so severe that I had been off work for some time. The cords of my leg were all drawn up and I could only limp along with the aid of a stick. The pain I suffered was terrible. I was in misery both day and night. Every moment caused me such pain as only those who have been tortured with sciatica can know. I was treated by several doctors, but they did not help me a bit. In fact I almost began to feel that my condition was helpless, when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were brought to my attention. I got a half dozen boxes. I had used about the entire quantity before I found any benefit. But I was encouraged and got a second half dozen boxes and before these were all gone every vestage of the trouble had disappeared. Not only this, but I was improved in health in every way, as it will be readily understood that the long siege of pain I had suffered had left me badly run down. I can't speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I can't recommend them too strongly to other sufferers."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure sciatica simply because they make the rich, red blood that soothes and strengthens the jingled aching nerves. That is why they cure such nerve troubles as neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance and partial paralysis. That is why they cure all ailments due to poor, watery blood. That is why they make weary, despondent, broken-down men and women bright, active and strong. But only the genuine pills can do this, and they have the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People on the wrapper around every box. Sold by medicine dealers everywhere or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

NEW STRIKES AT LARDER LAKE

Blue Bell Makes a Wonderful Showing

New Liskeard, May 10.—Word has just been received from Larder Lake of two wonderful gold strikes made by the Blue Bell Company. One strike was make at the east end of the lake and one at the west end, where this company has large holdings. It is said that after the blast was fired some of the ore hung together by the pure wire gold and that the vein exposed showed gold in plain view.

This strike was made on the properties owned by the Blue Bell Company at the east end of the lake.

The other strike is on the property near the west end, where the Blue Bell Company has established another camp and where the company's engineers have installed an assaying office for their own special use.

The strike is said to have developed a quartz vein exceeding 100 feet in width, which shows free visible gold in astonishing quantities. It has been decided to instal the stamp mills, which are on their way, at this point and order another mill for immediate delivery for the property at the east end of the lake.

A CREDITABLE PAPER FROM WEST

Regina "Leader" Issues a Splendid 56 Page Special Spring Building Edition

Journalism in Western Canada has kept pace with the advances made in other lines of enterprise, and some of the daily papers in western cities would do credit to constituencies many times the size of those served. To-day's mail brought to the Examiner office a copy of the Special Spring Building Number of the Regina Leader, the paper owned by Hon. Walter Scott, the premier of Saskatchewan. The Leader is the only morning paper in the province and its growth during recent years has been phenomenal. The special issue referred to contains fifty-six pages, and is splendidly illustrated, many of the new buildings under course of construction, or projected for the near future, being shown, and from them it is seen that the class of buildings being erected in the capital city is such as to give it a substantial and prosperous appearance. As a supplement to the paper a large coloured map of Saskatchewan, showing the divisions of the electoral districts is given.

Taken as a whole, and considered either from a typographical or literary standpoint, the issue is a credit, not only to the publishers, but to the city, and Regina is to be congratulated upon possessing journalists with the enterprise given evidence to in the preparation and publication of this special number.

All liver and stomach troubles are cured by Miller's Granules. Sold by W. Madill.

AN ASTRONOMICAL TRANSIT

Rev. Dr. Marsh Erects One to Ascertain Exact Time from the Stars.

An astronomical transit, an instrument for the purpose of ascertaining the exact time from the stars, was erected yesterday by Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville. The instrument is small, but very accurate in its work, Dr. Marsh stating that during the five years it did service for him in Hamilton, the greatest variation from the time, as shown by the Washington Observatory, was .4 of a second. It is mounted on a cement foundation, and stands outside Dr. Marsh's study window.

If at any time anyone wants to know the exact time, all he will have to do is to telephone Dr. Marsh, and the stars will tell it to him.

The Hound of the Baskervilles

Another Adventure of Sherlock Holmes.

BY A. CONAN DOYLE.

Author of "The Green Flag" and "The Great Boer War"

Copyright (1902) by A. Conan Doyle.

"No, no," said I. "Only a humble commoner, but his friend. My name is Dr. Watson."

A flush of vexation passed over her expressive face. "We have been talking at cross purposes," said she.

"Why, you had not very much time for talk," her brother remarked, with the same questioning eyes.

"I talked as if Dr. Watson were a resident instead of being merely a visitor," said she. "It cannot much matter to him whether it is early or late for the orchids. But you will come on, will you not, and see Merripit House?"

A short walk brought us to it, a bleak moorland house, once the farm of some grazier in the old prosperous days, but now put into repair and turned into a modern dwelling. An orchard surrounded it, but the trees, as is usual upon the moor, were stunted and nipped, and the effect of the whole place was mean and melancholy. We were admitted by a strange wizened, rusty-coated old man servant, who seemed in keeping with the house. Inside, however, there were large rooms furnished with an elegance in which I seemed to recognize the taste of the lady. As I looked from their window at the interminable granite-flecked moor rolling unbroken to the farthest horizon I could not but marvel at what could have brought this highly educated man and this beautiful woman to live in such a place.

"Queer spot to choose, is it not?" said he, as if in answer to my thought. "And yet we manage to make ourselves fairly happy, do we not, Beryl?"

"Quite happy," said she, but there was no ring of conviction in her words.

"I had a school," said Stapleton. "It was in the north country. The work to a man of my temperament was mechanical and uninteresting, but the privilege of living with youth, of helping to mould those young minds and of impressing them with one's own character and ideals, was very dear to me. However, the fates were against us. A serious epidemic broke out in the school and three of the boys died. It never recovered from the blow, and much of my capital was irretrievably swallowed up. And yet, if it were not for the loss of the charming companionship of the boys, I could rejoice over my own misfortune, for, with my strong tastes for botany and zoology, I find an unlimited field of work here, and my sister is as devoted to Nature as I am. All this, Dr. Watson, has been brought upon your head by your expression as you surveyed the moor out of our window."

"It certainly did cross my mind that it might be a little dull—less for you, perhaps, than for your sister."

"No, no, I am never dull," said she, quickly.

"We have books, we have our studies, and we have interesting neighbors. Dr. Mortimer is a most learned man in his own line. Poor Sir Charles was also an admirable companion. We knew him well, and miss him more than I can tell. Do you think that I should intrude if I were to call this afternoon and make the acquaintance of Sir Henry?"

"I am sure that he would be delighted."

"Then perhaps you would mention that I propose to do so. We may in our humble way do something to make things more easy for him until he becomes accustomed to his new surroundings. Will you come upstairs, Dr. Watson, and inspect my collection of lepidoptera? I think it is the most complete one in the south-west of England. By the time that you have looked through them lunch will be almost ready."

But I was eager to get back to my charge. The melancholy of the moor, the death of the unfortunate pony, the weird sound which had been associated with the grim legend of the Baskervilles, all these things tinged my thoughts with sadness. Then on the top of these more or less vague impressions there had come the definite and distinct warning of Miss Stapleton, delivered with such intense earnestness that I could not doubt that some grave and deep reason lay behind it. I resisted all pressure to stay for lunch, and I set off at once upon my return journey, taking the grass-grown path by which we had come.

It seems, however, that there must have been some short cut for those who knew it, for before I had reached the road I was astounded to see Miss Stapleton sitting upon a rock by the side of the track. Her face was beautifully flushed with her exertions, and she held her hand to her side.

"I have run all the way in order to cut you off, Dr. Watson," said she. "I had not even time to put on my hat. I must not stop, or my brother may miss me. I wanted to say to you how sorry I am about the stupid mistake I made in thinking that you were Sir Henry. Please forget the words I said, which have no application whatever to you."

"But I can't forget them, Miss Stapleton," said I. "I am Sir Henry's friend, and his welfare is a very close concern of mine. Tell me why it was that you were so eager that Sir Henry should return to London."

"A woman's whim. Dr. Watson. When you know me better you will understand that I cannot always give reasons for what I say or do."

"No, no. I remember the thrill in your voice. I remember the look in your eyes. Please, please, be frank with me, Miss Stapleton, for ever since I have been here I have been conscious of shadows all round me. Life has become like that great Grimpen Mire, with little green patches everywhere into which one may sink and with no guide to point the track. Tell me then what it was that you meant, and I will promise to convey your warning to Sir Henry."

An expression of irresolution passed for an instant over her face, but her eyes had hardened again when she answered me.

"You make too much of it, Dr. Watson," said she. "My brother and I were very much shocked by the death of Sir Charles. We knew him very intimately, for his favorite walk was over the moor to our house. He was deeply impressed with the curse which hung over his family, and when this tragedy came I naturally felt that there must be some grounds for the fears which he had expressed. I was distressed therefore when another member of the family came down to live here, and I felt that he should be warned of the danger which he will run. That was all which I intended to convey."

"But what is the danger?"

"You know the story of the hound?"

"I do not believe in such nonsense."

"But I do. If you have any influence with Sir Henry, take him away from a place which has always been fatal to his family. The world is wide. Why should he wish to live at the place of danger?"

"Because it is the place of danger. That is Sir Henry's nature. I fear that unless you can give me some more definite information than this it would be impossible to get him to move."

"I cannot say anything definite, for I do not know anything definite."

"I would ask you one more question, Miss Stapleton. If you meant no more than this when you first spoke to me why should you not wish your brother to overhear what you said? There is nothing to which he, or anyone else, could object."

"My brother is very anxious to have the Hall inhabited, for he thinks that it is for the good of the poor folk upon the moor. He would be very angry if he knew that I had said anything which might induce Sir Henry to go away. But I have done my duty now and I will say no more. I must get back, or he will miss me and suspect that I have seen you. Good-bye!" She turned, and had disappeared in a few minutes among the scattered boulders, while I, with my soul full of vague fears, pursued my way to Baskerville Hall.

CHAPTER VIII.

From this point onwards I will follow the course of events by transcribing my own letters to Mr. Sherlock Holmes which lie before me on the table. One page is missing, but otherwise they are exactly as written, and show my feelings and suspicions of the moment more accurately than my memory, clear as it is upon these tragic events, can possibly do.

Baskerville Hall, October 13th.

My Dear Holmes,—My previous letters and telegrams have kept you pretty well up-to-date as to all that has occurred in this most God-forsaken corner of the world. The longer one stays here the more does the spirit of the moor sink into one's soul, its vastness, and also its grim charm. When you are once out upon its bosom you have left all traces of modern England behind you, but on the other hand you are conscious everywhere of the homes and the work of the prehistoric people. On all sides of you as you walk are the houses of these forgotten folk, with their graves and the huge monoliths which are supposed to have marked their temples. As you look at their grey stone huts against the scarred hill-sides you leave your own age behind you, and if you were to see a skinclad, hairy man crawl out from the low door, fitting a flint-tipped arrow on to the string of his bow, you would feel that his presence there was more natural than your own. The strange thing is that they should have lived so thickly on what must always have been most unfruitful soil. I am no antiquarian, but I could imagine that they were some unwarlike and harried race who were forced to accept that which none other would occupy.

All this, however, is foreign to the mission on which you sent me, and will probably be very uninteresting to your severely practical mind. I can still remember your complete indifference as to whether the sun moved round the earth or the earth round the sun. Let me, therefore, return to the facts concerning Sir Henry Baskerville.

If you have not had any report within the last few days it is because up to to-day there was nothing of importance to relate. Then a very surprising circumstance occurred, which I shall tell you in due course. But, first of all, I must keep you in touch with some of the other factors in the situation.

One of these, concerning which I have said little, is the escaped convict upon the moor. There is strong reason now to believe that he has got right away, which is a considerable relief to the lonely householders of this district. A fortnight has passed since his flight, during which he has not been seen and nothing has been heard of him. It is surely inconceivable that he could have held out upon the moor during all that time. Of course, so far as our concealment goes there is no difficulty at all. Any one of these stone huts would give him a hiding-place. But there is nothing to eat unless he were to catch and slaughter one of the moor sheep. We think, therefore, that he has gone, and the outlying farmers sleep the better in consequence.

We are four able-bodied men in this household, so that we could take good care of ourselves, but I confess that I have had uneasy moments when I have thought of the Stapletons. They live miles from any help. There are one maid, an old manservant, the sister, and the brother, the latter not a very strong man. They would be helpless in the hands of a desperate fellow like this Notting Hill criminal, if he could once effect an entrance. Both Sir Henry and I were concerned at their situation, and it was suggested that Perkins the groom should go over to sleep there, but Stapleton would not hear of it.

The fact is that our friend the baronet begins to display a considerable interest in our fair neighbor. It is not to be wondered at, for time hangs heavily in this lonely spot to an active man like him, and she is a very fascinating and beautiful woman. There is something tropical and exotic about her which forms a singular contrast to her cool and unemotional brother. Yet he also gives the idea of hidden fires. He has certainly a very marked influence over her, for I have seen her continually glance at him as she talked as if seeking approbation for what she said. I trust that he is kind to her.

There is a dry glitter in his eyes, and a firm set of his thin lips, which go with a positive and possibly a harsh nature. You would find him an interesting study.

He came over to call upon Baskerville on that first day, and the very next morning he took us both to show us the spot where the legend of the wicked Hugo is supposed to have had its origin. It was an excursion of some miles across the moor to a place which is so dismal that it might have suggested the story. We found a short valley between rugged tors which led to an open, grassy space flecked over with the white cotton grass. In the middle of it rose two great stones, worn and sharpened at the upper end, until they looked like the huge corroding fangs of some monstrous beast. In every way it corresponded with the scene of the old tragedy. Sir Henry was much interested, and asked Stapleton more than once whether he did really believe in the possibility of the interference of the supernatural in the affairs of men. He spoke lightly, but it was evident that he was very much in earnest. Stapleton was guarded in his replies, but it was easy to see that he said less than he might, and that he would not express his whole opinion out of consideration for the feelings of the baronet. He told us of similar cases, where families had suffered from some evil influence, and he left us with the impression that he shared the popular view upon the matter.

On our way back we stayed for lunch at Merripit House, and it was there that Sir Henry made the acquaintance of Miss Stapleton. From the first moment that he saw her he appeared to be strongly attracted by her, and I am much mistaken if the feeling was not mutual. He referred to her again and again on our walk home, and since then hardly a day has passed that we have not seen something of the brother and sister. They dine here to-night, and there is some talk of our going to them next week. One would imagine that such a match would be very welcome to Stapleton, and yet I have more than once caught a look of the strongest disapprobation in his face when Sir Henry has been paying some attention to his sister. He is much attached to her, no doubt, and would lead a lonely life without her, but it would seem the height of selfishness if he were to stand in the way of her making so brilliant a marriage. Yet I am certain that he does not wish their intimacy to ripen into love, and I have several times observed that he has taken pains to prevent them from being tete-a-tete. By the way, your instructions to me never to allow Sir Henry to go out alone will become very much more onerous if a love affair were to be added to our other difficulties. My popularity would soon suffer if I were to carry out your orders to the letter.

The other day—Thursday, to be more exact—Dr. Mortimer lunched with us. He has been excavating a barrow at Long Down, and has got a prehistoric skull which fills him with great joy. Never was there such a single-minded enthusiast as he! The Stapletons came in afterwards, and the good doctor took us all to the Yew Alley, at Sir Henry's request, to show us exactly how everything occurred upon that fatal night. It is a long, dismal walk, the Yew Alley, between two high walls of clipped hedge, with a narrow band of grass upon either side. At the far end is an old tumble-down summer-house. Half-way down is the moor-gate, where the old gentleman left his cigar-ash. It is a white wooden gate with a latch. Beyond it lies the wide moor. I remembered your theory of the affair and tried to picture all

OUR ENGLISH BISHOPS

HOW THE CHURCH IS GOVERNED IN MOTHER COUNTRY.

Hold Appointments for Life and Cannot Be Deposed Except for Derogatory Reasons—Their Incomes and Duties—Patronage Is Very Large—Palaces Are Magnificent In Some Cases—Colonial Bishoprics.

The government of the Church of England is carried on by two archbishops and thirty-five bishops. The former and twenty-four of the latter sit in the House of Lords.

Bishops are nominated by the Sovereign as head of the church, and their appointment formally ratified by the dean and chapter of the diocese. Practically, however, the choice is made on the recommendation of the Prime Minister.

By the canons of the Church of England a bishop has the power of dispensing with the proclamation of banns before marriage, and is the only person who can ordain candidates for the sacred ministry.

It is the duty of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to manage the estates of cathedrals and bishoprics, as well as to pay the incomes of bishops.

Their Incomes.

These incomes were fixed some years ago at certain annual sum. The annual income of the Primate it £15,000, and that of the Archbishop of York £5,000 less. The three most wealthy bishops are London, £10,000; Durham, £8,000, and Winchester, £6,500. The Bishop of Sodor and Man receives £2,000, and the average income of the remainder is about £4,000.

Often, however, the income is not proportionate to the expenditure, the cost of keeping up some of the old palaces being very great. Bishoprics have been declined with thanks for this reason.

Perhaps the most interesting episcopal palaces are Lambeth and Fulham, while the palace of Durham is magnificent to a degree. It has a remarkable history, and for 400 years the bishops palatine held court there, and exercised the rights of independent sovereignty.

REV. J. LONSDALE, BISHOP OF LONDON.

Ireland and the Colonies.

The Disestablished Church of Ireland has two archbishops and eleven bishops, the latter receiving from £1,000 to £2,000, and the archbishope £2,000 with houses free of rent.

The oldest English bishopric is that of London, which is said to have been founded in 179. Sixteen other bishoprics, including York, Canterbury, Hereford and Worcester, were founded between the fourth and twelfth centuries, while the last bishopric to be founded was Southwark in 1905.

Colonial bishops may perform all episcopal functions in the United Kingdom, but they have no jurisdiction. Sixty years ago the late Baroness Burdett-Coutts gave £60,000 to endow colonial bishoprics, of which there are now close upon 100.

Bishops of the Church of England hold their appointment for life and cannot be deposed, unless they act derogatorily to the rules of the Church. A bishop may resign, however, or be transferred from one see to another.

The Patronage.

The smallest English bishopric is that of Sodor and Man, which embraces a territory of 180,000 acres and has thirty-one benefices. This bishopric was formerly united to its diocese, the Western Isles of Scotland, which, when Man became dependent upon England, withdrew their obedience and had a bishop of their own. The diocese with the Isle of Man came by heir-female to the Duke of Atholl, who nominates the bishop.

The patronage enjoyed by bishops is very large in some cases. In the diocese of Canterbury, for instance, there are over one hundred livings in the patronage of the Archbishop, the values of which vary from £86 to £1,730. In York there are 103 livings in the patronage of the Archbishop varying from £30 to £1,540, while in St. Asaph there are 119 livings within the see, the aggregate value of which is £39,654.

From House Famine.

East Lancashire is suffering from a remarkable house famine, and builders and owners of houses are making fortunes rapidly. Two young mill hands, who started building less than a year ago, have made $60,000.

The extraordinary boom in the cotton trade has caused the demand for workmen's dwellings to outstrip the supply, and 200 operatives who wish to get married cannot do so because of the lack of houses.

Dwellings cannot be rented at any price, and the only chance of getting one is to buy it at the landlord's own price. Many houses have been sold in this way, and the present tenants have received notice to quit. In one street of twenty houses eight families have been turned out and have gone into lodgings.

Deported to England.

Jennie Cauldwell, an English degenerate, who some time ago, at Toronto, was ordered to be deported to England, will have to serve her sentence of six months in the Mercer reformatory before she can be taken out of Canada. The young woman, who has a long string of convictions against her, both in Canada and England, in addition to the present sentence, was sent to the Mercer for an indefinite period by the police magistrate of Hamilton. It was thought she could be deported without completing her sentence, but Chief of Police Grasett was notified by Mr. Armstrong, provincial inspector of asylums and prisons, that under the Immigration Act the girl could not be deported until she served her time. Inspector Duncan, of the detective department, stated that it is the intention of the city authorities to deport every undesirable immigrant that comes into Toronto. Isaac Isaacs, who has been ordered to be deported by the Immigration Department at Ottawa, will sail from Portland, Maine, in a day or two. An officer will be sent from Montreal to escort the prisoner to Portland.

KILLED HIS BENEFACTOR.

Schoolmaster Murders and Robs Man Who Had Educated Him.

Kindness has seldom been so tragically requited as in a case recently before the sessions judge of Alipore, India, in which a schoolmaster, aged only twenty years, was tried for murder. He was brought up and educated by a wealthy landowner of Sreepore, through whose influence he got employment in a local school. He boarded and lodged with his benefactor. Towards the end of December last there was a large collection of rent, amounting to about Rs8,000, which was kept in an iron safe in the bedroom of the naib, where the unsuced used to sleep. On the morning of December 31 last the young man took leave under pretence of going home, but returned at midnight with a sharp dagger concealed under his clothes. He went into the room of another man for the night, and when his bedfellow had fallen asleep struck off his head with one stroke of the dao. He then went into the other room where his benefactor the naib was sleeping, and fatally wounded him also. The murderer took the key of the safe from the waist of the naib, opened the safe, and took away 663 notes of Rs10 each. The durwans, who were sleeping on the verandah, were roused by the groanings of the naib, and caught the prisoner red-handed.

Theatrical Tempests.

Probably not more than one person in a hundred stops to consider how a rainstorm is produced on the stage. Few perhaps have ever given the subject any serious thought.

It might be thought that to produce a storm many intricate bits of machinery would be necessary, yet such is not the case, for the simplest devices produce the effect desired. There are some gas pipes punctured by myriads of holes, through which the water runs from small barrels, each about half full, at either end. The sound of the wind is made by a revolving barrel which touches a heavy piece of canvas in its rounds. The thunder effect is caused by the artistic manner in which a man beats a bass drum, and the gusts of dust are blown across the stage by an electric fan. The flashes of lightning come from an electric battery connected by wires, which, when placed in contact, throw out the dazzling flashes. A metal plate, which had been specially prepared by first being heated to white heat and then scratched by a knife, is placed in a calcium light machine and gives the effect of lightning in the distance.

Britain Is Supreme.

Though the Admiralty policy for the maintenance of British naval superiority is based on an adherence to the two-power standard, the total output of shipping tonnage recently has been overwhelmingly in excess of the prescribed requirements. The shipping construction put out by Great Britain last year amounted to 2,002,571 tons. The corresponding German output amounted to 360,980 tons, that of France to 85,348 tons, whilst the United States built 464,671 tons. The past annual production of all foreign nations amounted to 1,322,454 tons. Thus Great Britain leads the way with an output of 680,117 tons over and above that produced by the entire world during the past year. As Lord Tweedmouth stated when dining with the Institution of Naval Architects, this tremendous superiority of British maritime construction is entirely due to the efficiency of our naval architects and the superiority of our civil engineers.

War In the Air.

Major B. F. S. Baden-Powell, lecturing before the Royal Meteorological Society recently, stated that the French Government possess one dirigible airship, if not more, that seems to be a really practical air vessel of war.

Small balloons carrying self-recording instruments had recently ascended 32,000 feet, or nearly 16 miles, above the earth's surface.

Meteorological kites had been much improved, and instruments lifted by them had ascended to a height of four miles.

At Aldershot kites had been regularly introduced into the service. Men had actually gone up to a height of 3,000 feet on them, an elevation practically beyond the reach of rifle bullets.

The flying-machine had come to stay, and very little more remained to be done before we could say that man had veritably conquered the air.

CANADA'S MINERAL WEALTH.

Prof. Adams', of McGill, Optimistic Address to Empire Club.

Prof. Frank D. Adams of McGill University, Montreal, in a recent address to the Empire Club, Toronto, on "The Undeveloped Resources of the Dominion" said that it was somewhat like carrying coals to Newcastle for anyone from a distance to speak upon the mineral resources of the Dominion when Toronto is in itself such an important mining centre.

The speaker went on to show how the mineral output of the Dominion compared with that of twenty years ago. In 1886 the total mineral exports only amounted to $22,221,000. In 1905, which is the last year for which official reports have been made out, the amount was $63,574,000, while for 1906 it may be safely estimated as exceeding the seventy million mark.

The country was generally regarded as an agricultural one, our mineral resources having less attention given to them than they deserved. The speaker pointed out that this view was to a great extent erroneous, as the mineral output of the Dominion had now reached two-thirds of the amount of the agricultural exports of Canada.

Prof. Adams then asked this question, "Will this increase continue, or will it decrease?" In answering his own question the professor argued from geological data that the growth not only would in all human probability increase, but it was quite within the bounds of possibility that still greater riches might be discovered, the existence of which we are at present ignorant of. The remainder of the address consisted of a careful analysis of the products from their various districts of the coal, gold, nickel and copper, iron and silver in the Dominion, and pointed out that so far as one could judge by geology these products were not likely to diminish.

100 Miles An Hour In Air.

A Johannesburg inventor is exhibiting the model of a flying machine described as the "airmobile." It is of simple construction, and the maker claims that his invention will travel at the rate of over 100 miles an hour.

WE PROCLAIM TO THE PEOPLE OF ONTARIO AND CANADA

WE PROCLAIM TO THE PEOPLE OF ONTARIO AND CANADA that never in the history of mining has such an opportunity for making money been presented as is now offered in the Larder Lake gold district, and especially in the wonderful Blue Bell properties.

Put your money in The Blue Bell Gold Mines, Limited. One of the greatest opportunities that have ever been offered for investment in a gold-mining company. The Larder Lake District will be the wonder of the world and Blue Bell is in the heart of it.

Miners and prospectors from all parts of the world are flocking to Larder Lake. Mining men with millions at their command are sending their representatives and mining engineers into the field and are rapidly snapping up everything that can be purchased.

The time for investors to get in on the rock bottom is NOW—the PRESENT TIME.

The opportunity offered in Blue Bell will probably never occur again in this district. The investors of Ontario and Canada should accept this opportunity and buy in one of the greatest mining companies that will be known in this new Eldorado at the rock-bottom price of 10 cents per share.

We have gone to great expense and have used every method available to learn and know the exact situation in the Larder Lake district. We have sent a number of reliable mining men in different directions and to different locations. We have established our own assaying office on the ground at Larder Lake, putting in charge of it mining engineers of known ability and reputation. We have not taken over a single claim that has not shown actual merit; that is to say, with free, visible gold in quantities most remarkable. We are informed by our engineers that there never has been a gold district known that has shown the wonderful width of quartz veins containing free, visible gold as now actually exists in the Larder Lake district. We have quartz veins assaying gold from $200 to as high as $42,000 to the ton, that vary in width from 6 feet to 150 feet.

The Blue Bell properties consist of 1,120 acres, being 28 well-selected 40-acre claims, undoubtedly and unquestionably the choicest of the district at the present time. Originally the property consisted of but 27 claims, but one claim has been recently added, located near the Reddick property.

Now, we want to make this comparison. In the gold properties of Nevada, where the gold camps have gained renowned reputation—in camps as well known as Tonopah, Goldfield, Wonder, Searchlight—and other camps where millions upon millions have been made from claims varying in size from 10 to 20 acres. Just think of it! Ten or 20 acres running into values as high as from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 each. Mining men we have in the Larder Lake district who are well acquainted with the Nevada camps claim that the Larder Lake district is so far ahead of the mining camps in Nevada that there is no comparison whatever. Even the Rand in Africa, it is believed, will not come up to the wonderful gold district of Larder Lake.

We have received in our office in the past week from 300 to 400 pounds of samples taken from every claim owned by the Blue Bell Company. Out of these samples we have had a great number of assays made by our own assayer on the ground. These assays run all the way around $200—the lowest—to $20,000—the highest. Our assayers on the ground, of course, cannot obtain as high assays as in the laboratories in Toronto, where we have obtained the highest assays, running from $27,000 to $42,000 to the ton. Therefore it is safe for us to estimate that the assays made by our own engineers on the ground are considerably under what we would actually receive were the stamp mills that the Company are about to install on the property in actual operation, together with the cyaniting process, by the use of which every particle of the gold produced will be saved.

Could every investor come to our office and see the wonderful quartz samples, with gold showing in every portion, they would need no further urging or any further argument to convince them what Larder Lake is and what it is bound to be.

Investors who to-day have $100 to $1,000, or more, and who do not take advantage of this wonderful opportunity, will, in a year from to-day, see and realize the great opportunities that they had to invest their money with great profit. We are in a position to judge and we feel that we are judging rightly when we say to these investors, "Put your money into Blue Bell now. Every hundred dollars that you invest at the present time will, in a year from to-day, bring you $2,000." This may seem to be a broad assertion, but consider well the great amount of territory and consider well the millions that are made from properties consisting of but 20 to 40 acres of territory that never showed as rich as Blue Bell properties do to-day. It will only take a few short months to place Blue Bell on a very big dividend-paying basis. Here is a legitimate opportunity for investors to make a real profit of 400% on your money by the 15th of May (this month). The Blue Bell shares will be selling in the open market at 50 cents on and after that date, and it will not be long before investors will look back and realize how really cheap Blue Bell stock was, even at 50 cents. Such a chance to realize enormous returns on your money could seldom be possible except through the medium of legitimate mining investments and through and by the discovery of such wonderful gold districts as Larder Lake. Remember, these opportunities will only present themselves once in a lifetime. This is the accepted time—this is the golden opportunity. The conditions surrounding the Blue Bell GUARANTEE to investors not only big profits, but also absolute safety. We have a property aggregating 1,120 acres in these Larder Lake gold fields—the new Eldorado—every acre of which is as rich in gold as the Rand or the famous gold districts of Nevada, where millions upon millions are being taken out. The Larder Lake gold district will be familiar to every schoolboy almost the world over within a year or two. The titles are clear—there are no encumbrances whatever—not a dollar of indebtedness. To us there is not one single element of uncertainty as to the outcome. Investors at the present price of shares—ten cents—will realize the most wonderful profits possibly that have ever been known in any mining district in the world.

We of course feel so positive regarding this as we have had every reason to make us believe so. Our own engineers, whom we know, and our own prospectors and miners, with years of experience, whom we have every confidence in, demonstrate to us these facts. We have no other method of demonstrating to the investing public than through our advertisements, which we endeavor to make honest and straightforward. We are investing our own money and are not advising the investing public to do anything that we are not doing ourselves.

We want to state further and impress upon our clients and the investing public that those of you who join us in this proposition should understand that we are also in this proposition with you. We are backing our faith with our money, and we are asking you to join us in this proposition, which we find after thorough and exhaustive investigation to be an absolutely secure and safe investment and one that will yield returns that will make unprecedented profits for all concerned. We have no fear whatever regarding our own investment, and we wish to make it clear to you that WE cannot take a dollar of profit out of this proposition as offered to you in the Blue Bell Syndicate unless you, yourselves, receive the same returns in proportion to your interests therein. We say to you we are offering you one of the fairest, squarest and most honorable propositions that could be presented.

We pride ourselves upon the enviable reputation and standing we have earned and established with the investing public throughout Canada and the United States as brokers and financial agents. We are endeavoring to further build up, instead of tearing down this reputation, which could only have been established by legitimate business methods. We would not make the strong assertions as to the Blue Bell properties and investment therein, in these advertisements, were we not satisfied beyond any question as to the ultimate outcome of the investment which we herein advise.

It hardly seems necessary at this time, but we are glad that we are able to refer any investor to any bank, financial institution or commercial agencies in the city of Toronto or throughout Canada and the United States as to our standing and reliability.

We wish to state further that every recommendation or assertion made in any of our advertisements or letters of advice WILL BE STRICTLY CARRIED OUT and that any investor may invest his money with the full assurance that his money will be placed for the purposes and in the manner indicated and that LAW & COMPANY will fulfill their pledges in every way.

We wish to express our appreciation to the many investors who have shown their confidence in our recommendations, and we desire again to pledge loyalty to their interests, having no fear whatever as to the future, knowing full well that it will demonstrate that their confidence in us has not been misplaced.

VALUABLE MEDICAL PRESCRIPTION

Recommended by a Well-known Toronto Doctor, Whose Love for Humanity is Greater than His Prejudice Against Proprietary Medicines.

The following very valuable prescription, by an eminent and successful physician, will be appreciated by many who are suffering from la grippe, cold, cough, pneumonia, or any throat, lung or stomach trouble, or run-down system, as it is a certain cure, and will save many a doctor's bill. It is almost a certain preventive as well:—"When you feel that you are taking cold or have chilly feeling or aching in any part of the body or head, or feel weak, tired, dizzy, unfit for work, pain in the head or back of the neck, do not neglect these dangerous symptoms, but send immediately to your druggist and get a bottle of Psychine (pronounced Si-keen), and prepare as follows:

"Psychine, 2 teaspoonfuls.

"Sherry, whisky or water, 2 teaspoonfuls.

"Choice of the latter can be made according to the judgment and preference of the patient.

"Mix thoroughly and take regularly before each meal and at bedtime."

This prescription has been used in thousands of cases and has been so universally successful that a number of leading physicians regularly prescribe Psychine in their practice for any of the above troubles, or any run-down, wasting or constitutional difficulty. It is the most reliable and valuable home remedy. It tones up the entire system, giving a feeling of youthfulness and vigor, adding many years to the life of those who use it.

"Years ago I was almost a physical wreck and was suffering with lung troubles. Friends and neighbors thought I would never get better. I began to despair myself. Losing faith in my physician, I procured another one who recommended the use of PSYCHINE. It was surprising beyond description the effect it had. I seemed to gain with every dose. Inside of two weeks I was able to attend to my housework again. There are no symptoms of consumption about me now."

SANITATION IN CANADA.

Dr. Osler Says There Is Something Radically Wrong.

Publicists nowadays realize that the public health is one of the most important subjects that confront them for solution.

There are those who say that perfect sanitation would not only kill off many deadly bacilli, but would put a damper on crime.

Writers of fiction picture their morbid types always as flourishing amidst unclean surroundings, physical as well as moral.

The useful man is the healthy man. The useful community is the healthy community.

In ancient cities they had their frigidarium; their ice-cooled apartments and their sanitary appliances. The model city or town to-day is one laid out as is the model stock farm stable—clean, airy, presenting smooth, hard surfaces to resist dirt accumulation; a basic principle is to keep waste "on the move" to final annihilation.

Are We Sanitary?

The United States, in parts, has taken cognizance of these truths. So have some European cities. Canada as yet would be called by many an unsanitary nation.

To be clean costs money.

Before you spend the money you must want to be clean. Then you must hit on the right method.

The live mayor of a live town in Ontario has given considerable thought to these matters. He sought the opinion of a scientist of world-wide reputation, Mr. William Osler, who, though not resident in Canada, knows the situation here thoroughly.

Dr. Osler sent the following reply:

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.
April 2, 1907.

Dear Sir,—Nothing, I think, is more important in the Canadian provinces than the sanitation of the small towns and rural districts. While, of course, Ontario has done a great deal, and the public health work has been splendid in every way, yet, as I said the other day in Toronto, the prevalence of typhoid fever indicates that there is still something radically wrong. A million dollars contributed by the Government in improving the sanitation, if it only helped to get rid of typhoid fever, would be well spent.
(Signed) Wm. Osler.

Chance For the Government.

The Canadian mayor above referred to recently expressed himself as follows: "The increased indemnity to the provinces from the Dominion Government, and the returns from the mines of Cobalt seem to indicate that the exchequer of Ontario will be in a flourishing condition for some time to come. No doubt there will be a thousand suggestions as to what the Government will be asked to do with this money. Much of it likely will be spent in a manner which will not give the people a full measure of benefit, which otherwise might naturally be expected. I venture to point out a case which deserves the serious consideration of the Legislature as being not only urgent, but one which, if contributed to, will stamp the Whitney Government as being among the foremost, intelligent, deliberative bodies of the world.

"The sanitation of the towns and villages of Ontario is in a very backward state of repair; more especially in regard to a proper sewerage equipment. There are 450,000 people, mostly recruited from rural districts, who are congregated in these centres in such a manner as to cause the soil to be thoroughly polluted. The great need of these communities is drainage, but the cost is so great that they cannot undertake the work unless assisted by the Government. In all towns there are unsettled districts which cannot be drained from a frontage tax, and the expense, falling upon the general taxpayer, simply closes up any possibility of securing a perfect system.

Cost $4,000,000.

"It is estimated that $4,000,000 spent upon this work by the towns of Ontario would produce a fairly complete system of sewers. Towards this great work the Ontario Government could well afford to contribute at least $1,000,000, or 25 per cent. of the cost. The method of payment might be apportioned in a manner somewhat similar to that of building good roads in the rural districts."

Free Fishing on Lakes.

Writing from Detroit, Mich., a correspondent says: "It is a singular fact that while the State and Federal Governments each spend tens of thousands of dollars annually planting fish in the Great Lakes, commercial fishermen, whether residents or non-residents of the state, pay not a single dollar in taxes or other fees for the privilege of taking fish. If an American tug goes over the border and is caught taking fish in Canadian waters it is liable to be fired on by the Canadian revenue cutter, and nets confiscated. Canadian commercial fishermen, on the other hand, are free to fish anywhere in American waters of the lakes during the open season. To meet these conditions, Senator Bing has introduced in the State Legislature a bill to exact a tax of $200 on every non-resident fishing tug with a steam lift, and $100 for non-resident tugs without a lift. Resident tugs with a steam lift are to pay $25, and $10 if they have no lifts. The bill, if passed, will hit hard the Booth Co. fish trust on the Great Lakes, both in Canada and Michigan."

CENTENARIAN MARINER.

An Ancient "Salt" Dies After an Adventurous Career.

Born in Long Acre May 28, 1806, Edward Collins, aged 100 years and 11 months, has died in the Rackham street infirmary, North Kensington, from the effects of an injury caused by a fall on the stairs at his lodgings in Marylebone.

Collins came of a family renowned for longevity, his father, a pawnbroker, living to the age of 110 years, and his grandfather to 111 years. In his early days his fancy for a seafaring life led him to join the Royal Navy, and during a career of over 30 years at sea he had many adventures.

One of the earliest of these was the search for and chase of pirates in the Indian Seas. He was one of the expedition which brought to England three pirates who were hanged in public at Newgate, and he often dilated on the excitement of chasing slave-traders, arresting their officers, and liberating the poor slaves. He served his country in the Crimea, and was at the storming of Sebastopol.

On giving up his seafaring life he settled down as a maker of sails and blinds, an occupation he was able to follow close up to the time of his death. Ten of his 11 children had predeceased him.

Up to the last Collins retained all his faculties. He had lived under five Sovereigns, and remembered the rejoicing after the Battle of Waterloo and the coronation of the late Queen Victoria.

Governor of Jamaica.

Sydney Oliver, who succeeds Sir Alexander Swettenham as governor of Jamaica, is a Radical of Radicals—in fact, his views are more pronounced and frankly avowed than is customary with permanent servants of the crown. For some years he was secretary of the Fabian Society, and when this is mentioned the color of his politics runs no risk of being mistaken.

No one can gainsay, however, that Mr. Oliver is an exceptionally brilliant man, and as he is still on the sunny side of fifty his public career may yet have much in reserve. He already knows Jamaica, having served for five years in that island as Colonial Secretary, and later as acting-governor on three separate occasions. Educationally he is a good example of what Oxford and a German university can turn out, and when he first entered the Colonial Office, a quarter of a century ago it was at the head of the open competition. At present he is principal clerk of the West African department of the Colonial Office, and in his time has served as Colonial Secretary in British Honduras, auditor-general of the Leeward Islands, and secretary to the West Indian Royal Commission. Some years ago he was sent to Washington to assist in the reciprocity negotiations on behalf of the West Indian colonies, and in recognition of his work he was created a C. M. G. Mr. Oliver was formerly private secretary to Lord Selborne while at the Colonial Office.

THE SPEAKER'S DIGNITY.

Ancient Ceremonies That Survive in the House of Commons.

"Hats off, strangers, for the Speaker," the constables standing in the lobby entrance of the English House of Commons cry as they come to attention.

"Hats off! Way for the Speaker!" is the command given by the police inspector in the so-called lobby, which is really the antechamber of the House.

At once, as when the muezzin calls the faithful to prayer, there is silence and respect, and heads are bared. The Speaker is about to leave his palace adjoining the House to take his seat. "Mr. Speaker," according to A. Maurice Low in Appleton's Magazine, is a very great dignitary.

The First Commoner.

By law he is "the first commoner" and is given official precedence over every other commoner in the kingdom. During his term of office he receives a salary of $25,000 a year, the only member of Parliament not a member of the Government who is in receipt of a salary. He is provided with an official residence which is maintained at public expense. To keep him in the straight and narrow way spiritually he has his private chaplain. To enable him to walk in the devious ways of the law he has his private counsel. To minister to his comfort and convenience and dignity he has a private secretary, a train-bearer and a messenger. And when he retires he is raised to the peerage with a pension of $20,000 a year for life.

In Stately Procession.

Mr. Speaker has now left his residence and in stately and picturesque procession is entering the corridor that leads to the House. He is preceded by an usher. Then comes the sergeant-at-arms in a black coat open at the breast to show the daintiest of white cambric ruffles, knee breeches, black buckles, with a rapier on his hip. The sergeant-at-arms, who is appointed by the King personally, although he is an officer of the House of Commons, is paid a salary of $6,000 a year and has an official residence. He carries the great glittering mace on his shoulder and is followed by two doorkeepers, who wear knee breeches, silk stockings, and coats and waistcoats of the conventional evening cut, their wide expanse of shirt front partly covered by a gold chain suspended around the neck and meeting in a large gold badge.

Huge Wig and Gown.

Then comes the Speaker in huge wig and silk gown, which is held up by his train-bearer, followed by the gowned figure of the chaplain, with two doorkeepers to close the procession. The staff of doorkeepers range themselves round the walls of the antechamber—a room with wonderful oak carving and stained glass windows—and make respectful and deep obeisance as the Speaker passes, while the members stand with bared heads and in silence until the procession has entered the House. Then the members crowd in, the doors are locked, and again the voice of the muezzin is heard crying to the faithful, "Speaker at prayers."

Passing of the Lance.

The order issued recently by Mr. Haldane, British War Minister, directing that for the future Dragoons and Dragoon Guards are not to carry lances, even on ceremonial parades, seems to signify the end of this weapon.

Yet, on its invention, it proved itself a terribly effective one, as Britain found to her cost on the day she first became acquainted with it. This took place at the battle of Albuera.

Napoleon, with his keen eye for the exigencies of military service, had armed with it, as an experiment, four of his cavalry regiments, and these, in a heavy storm of rain, succeeded in surrounding and enveloping an unfortunate British infantry battalion, the old 3rd Foot, better known perhaps as "The Buffs."

What followed was little better than a massacre. The bayonets of our men were almost as useless as so many darning needles when opposed to the new weapon under the circumstances in which the "Buffs" found themselves and in less than fifteen minutes the unlucky regiment had ceased to exist, its total loss amounting to 664 officers and men.

Woman In the House.

A lady appeared in the House of Commons the other night, and members feared for a moment that the dreams of the suffragettes had come true. The tall, broad and stalwart Sir John Kennaway pushed his way through the swinging doors and made toward the bar. There was a gasp of surprise when in his bully wake was sighted a demure little lady in a fawn coat. Instant visions of a suffragette plot for a woman to force entrance into the Parliamentary holy of holies under the expansive shadow of Sir John Kennaway's coat tail. "Lady, lady!" shouted two door guardians, dashing in. A big attendant, dozing in a corner, jumped forward to block the way. Mr. Gosset, the deputy sergeant-at-arms, gripped his sword and, looked like business. Pell mell was the female intruder hustled into the lobby, looking very frightened, for she had been an unwitting sinner. Members smiled, settled themselves, and lapsed again to slumbrous attitudes.—London Evening Standard.

Cost of European Armies.

Europe spent in round numbers £200,000,000 on its army and £80,000,000 on its navy in 1906, as against £146,000,000 and £60,000,000 respectively in 1898. That is to say, Europe spends to-day £280,000,000 on its army and navy as against £206,000,000 in 1898, a total increase of £74,000,000, or, say 26 per cent. Seventy-four millions a year is equivalent to 4 per cent. interest upon a capital sum of £1,850,000,000.

That is the fine in which the Governments have mulcted their peoples by their refusal to act upon the standstill proposition of the Czar in 1899 and to adopt the peacemaking methods recommended by The Hague convention.—Review of Reviews.

THE DESPAIR OF THE DYSPEPTIC

Who has sought in vain for cure from mere stomach treatments and neglected the liver and bowels.

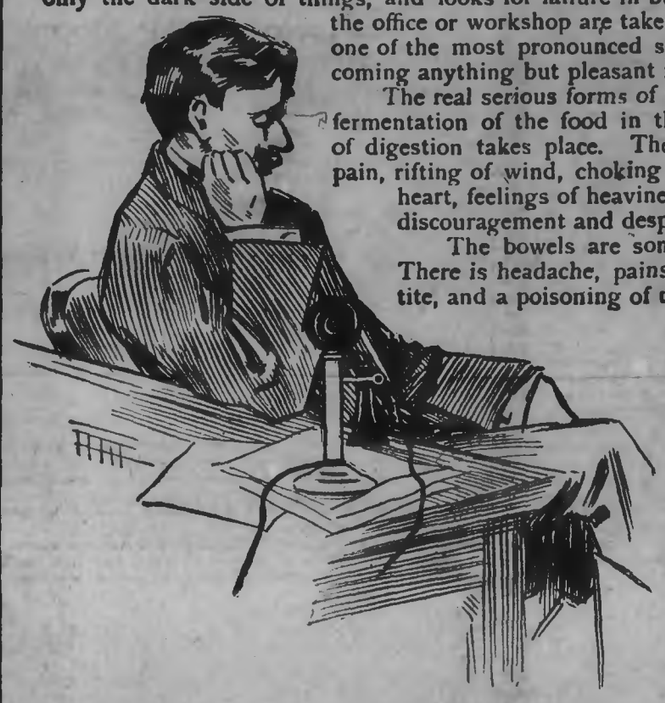
All is blackness and despair to the sufferer from indigestion and liver troubles. He can see only the dark side of things, and looks for failure in business as well as in health. The cares of the office or workshop are taken into the home, and irritability of temper, one of the most pronounced symptoms of dyspepsia, makes his home-coming anything but pleasant for the wife and little ones.



The real serious forms of indigestion and dyspepsia arise from the fermentation of the food in the intestines, where the most difficult part of digestion takes place. The result is the formation of gas, causing pain, rifting of wind, choking sensations in the chest, pains about the heart, feelings of heaviness and drowsiness, irritability of temper, discouragement and despondency.

The bowels are sometimes constipated and again too loose. There is headache, pains in the limbs, coated tongue, loss of appetite, and a poisoning of the system from the food, which has fermented instead of being properly digested.

It is in these serious and complicated derangements of the digestive system that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills show their remarkable control over the organs of digestion and excretion, and cure where mere digestive tablets and stomach treatments fail.

The flow of bile resulting from their quickening influence on the liver hastens the course of the food along the alimentary canal, prevents fermentation and ensures good digestion and assimilation. Indigestion, biliousness and constipation are speedily and thoroughly cured and vigor and health are fully restored.

Persons of sedentary habits are sure to suffer more or less from sluggish action of the liver and bowels and consequent stomach troubles, but there is cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills—not merely relief, but cure, thorough and lasting cure.

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

The Important Question of Boarding or Keeping House — However Humble the Beginning of a Home, It Is Better Than the Most Attractive Boarding House.

[Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.]

MY DEAR JOHN—I infer from your letter just received, which is more distinguished by its brevity than its lucidity, that you are undecided as to whether you shall board or keep house. You are evidently trying to argue yourself into the belief that boarding is the ideal life, while way down in your innards is a longing for a home that you can't get rid of.

There is something favorable to be said of either proposition. If there were nothing to consider but the question of cost—that is to say, the direct expense—the fixed charges, as the railroad man would put it—I should advise you to board. It used to be a popular idea, and may be yet for aught I know to the contrary, that it was cheaper for a young couple to keep house. I have had some personal experience, and I know a great many other people who have arrived at years of discretion after sundry wrestles with the same immortal conundrum, every one of whom has found, as I have, that it costs more to keep up a home, however modest, than it does to board with the same relative surroundings.

Now Proceed Slowly.

All this talk about the economy of home life is tommyrot unless it refers entirely to indirect results, and it leads to wrong conclusions and many mistakes on the part of young married people. The youth is told that two can live as cheaply as one—another old and dangerous delusion—and proceeds to figure that his income will answer very well for two on that basis. He gets married, rents him a flat or a little house and settles down to save money and be happy. He can easily do both if he goes about it in the right way, but he soon learns that two cannot live as cheaply as one—unless he was extravagant before marriage and desperately economical afterward—and that keeping house always costs more than any advance calculations. The statisticians of domestic economy make things look mighty pretty on paper. If some of them were to be believed, you could keep house and get fat on your cigar money. But their enticing theories won't work out in practice. A measure of disappointment is the invariable result of the attempt, and in the discovery lie the beginnings of many unhappy married lives.

I want you to go into this business with your eyes open. I would like very much to see you have a home of your own, for reasons which I shall give you, but I don't want you to have any false notions about its cost. If the financial end is your only consideration, by all means get you a respectable boarding place, where you will have a comfortable room and eatable food at reasonable rates. If such a combination exists. You will have the satisfaction of knowing just how much you will have to pay for your meals and lodging and laundry, and there will be few extras. As a purely financial proposition it is very simple. But—and I can't place too much emphasis on that but—marriage is not properly a financial proposition. I know very well that it is in a great many cases, and the tendency to make it so seems to be growing, but it isn't right.

Money is an important factor in domestic life, but beyond the necessities of existence it is not an essential. Properly used, it will help to make happiness, but at its best it is a mere auxiliary. Put it in single harness and depend upon it alone to draw you to bliss, and you will find that it will surely bolt at the first fork of the road and either upset the wagon or carry you farther and farther away from your goal. It is much better to hitch it to the rear end of the vehicle, where it can jog along comfortably and docilely and be on hand when you need it. Be sure, however, to tie it good and fast, for when you want it you want it bad.

But a Temporary Expedient.

Let me get back to where I jumped the track. The direct cost—mind you, the direct cost—of boarding is less than the cost of keeping house, everything being equal. That is the one thing that can be said in its favor when it is being considered by two healthy, right minded young married people who have enough money in hand to buy a little furniture, rent a small flat and lay in a month's provisions. The boarding house may be accepted as a temporary expedient, but as a permanent abode it won't do. Real, true domestic life is impossible within it. You are confined, as a rule, to a single room, in the furnishings of which you have only a material interest. At the table you are forced to meet a miscellaneous lot of people, some of whom you wouldn't care to know if you had your choice. You must accept the food that is placed before you and thank heaven it is no worse. No matter what your individual tastes may be, you can't satisfy your desires, for if you can induce the landlady to supply you with special dishes you will incur the jealousy and ill will of other less favored boarders, who will make your existence as unpleasant as possible in the many little ways so well known to habitual boarders.

In this delectable atmosphere your wife will be left alone all day, with nothing to do. She will for awhile take breakfast with you, but will soon find lying in bed becomes a more and more pleasant method of killing time, and you will leave the house without waking her. When the pangs of hunger compel her, she will rise, mince a little breakfast, do a little fancy work, read a little book, indulge in a little gossip with the other women boarders, make a few calls, perhaps, and by the time you come to dinner will be sufficiently bored to make even a family quarrel seem diverting. A woman doesn't differ much from a man. She cannot develop unless life has a purpose, and in the demoralizing surroundings of a boarding house she shrivels up morally and intellectually unless she breaks out and finds a work or a mission for herself. Ordinary boarding house life is absolute stagnation, and it is one of nature's inexorable laws that stagnation breeds death. I know there are people who will rise above adverse conditions wherever they may be placed, but I have as yet seen no reason to count you among them. At any rate, it is a serious risk, and I earnestly hope you will not take it.

Home Is a School.

On the other hand, a home is nature's training school for the making of genuine men and women. I'll admit that nature doesn't always turn out a first class job, but that's the fault of the material. I know some persons who wear trousers who couldn't be turned into men by any process, natural or artificial. I would not be so ungallant as to apply the same statement to some persons in petticoats whom I have met, but I am afraid their transformation into women with hearts and minds and souls, all in active operation, would be a task too great for any agency. However, that's a diversion.

If you want to grow in every way, mentally, morally, spiritually; if you want to be happy, get you a few rooms that you can call home. It doesn't matter whether it is a three room flat or a $10,000 apartment, just so the rent is in proper proportion to your income. I don't mean to say that a home makes happiness any more than flour makes cake, but it's a mighty necessary ingredient, and it's the one you have to start with. It gives at once the foundation, the environment and the atmosphere essential to happiness. I am aware that I am mixing my metaphors a little, but I want to press the point into you until you holler that home and happiness begin with the same letter and start at the same place.

"You never were much of a hand to accept dogmatic statements, and I can imagine you taking the other side of the question just for the sake of argument, so I'll humor you with some reasons for my belief in the theory which worked so well in practice in my case, as you certainly know, and in the experience of many of my friends.

Better Chance For Acquaintance.

I think I have told you something about the necessity of intimate acquaintance between man and wife. You must know one another, and in a boarding house you can't possibly get more than a superficial knowledge. You are more or less in public all the time, and your manners are more or less artificial. You can't be yourself. If you have any regard for your reputation, you have to wear a mask all the time. At home, unless you have a household of starched and uniformed servants, you are free to be natural. You show yourself in your true colors. Whatever faults you may have—and I reckon you're pretty well loaded with them—will stick out. If these failings are so pronounced that they induce you to go to bed with your clothes on, you need the restraints of a boarding house. Home was never intended for such cattle.

I used to know a man down in the town where I was raised whose habit it was to get pleasantly loaded every Saturday night. About 1 o'clock of a Sunday morning he would reach a point where it became necessary for him to lift up his voice in song, and the only song he knew was "Home, Sweet Home." He would warble this over and over until the barkeeper's patience was exhausted, when he would be gently but forcibly ejected with an urgent request to seek the pleasures of that sweet domicile to which he offered his unmelodious libations. Sam would meander down the straight and narrow path which led to his cottage, still singing, and without entering the house or trying to enter—he knew better—would go around to the wood shed, where, in a comfortable corner, he would sleep peacefully and happily until sunrise. Sam, however, was an exception. If I thought you had developed any idiosyncrasies of that sort, I wouldn't write letters to you. I'd call on you personally, and I'd carry with me a large club studded with tenpenny nails. But I look upon you as an average man, and home is the only place in which the average man and the average woman can become thoroughly and intimately acquainted, the acquaintance which is essential to the development of domestic happiness.

You have to wear a mask all the time.

Something to Live For.

In a home each of you has something to live for, something that is a part of and inseparable from each other. There is something about the atmosphere that develops mutual ambition to which the surroundings of a boarding house are fatal. You feel your responsibilities, and your shoulders broaden to uphold them. Your mind expands under the same impetus. You feel that you are a citizen, a factor in the affairs of the world. Nobody else will notice it, perhaps, but you can afford to look with supreme indifference upon the lack of attention of other people.

I know some persons who wear trousers.

A man and his wife should mean all things to each other. They occupy a little world to themselves. What matters it what goes on outside? The rest of humanity constitutes a source of supply for bread and butter and some other desirable things, and for this reason if no other it should be treated with consideration, but otherwise it is not essential to domestic happiness. Much too often it is the cause of domestic failure. Go inside your little fort, close the doors and let the world wag as it will. You can't do that in a boarding house; you have to take the world in with you. Of course you have heard the saying that a wagging world on the outside is better than a wagging tongue on the inside, and in some cases, I regret to say, it is true, but the men who suffer from a woman's tongue are generally themselves to blame. The fair sex has been known on occasions to resort to rolling pins and flatirons, but its natural weapon is the tongue, and, as the Iriahman would say, it is quite effective in capable hands. It has no sting, however, where love rules and where the wife is shown the courtesy she is entitled to. At any rate, whatever differences of opinion may arise between man and wife, they can be more satisfactorily discussed within the natural precincts of a home. Whatever troubles may arise, they can be better borne and easier disposed of at home than in a boarding house.

Cheaper After All.

Now I want to get back for a few moments to sordid considerations. I have said that the direct expense of keeping house is greater than that of boarding, but in the long run the home is really cheaper. The lack of occupation and the petty social rivalry of the boarding house lead to extravagances in the way of amusement and dress that would be unthought of if you were keeping house. The incentive to thrift and economy is lacking. That ambition for better things which is the peculiar product of home life will find you at the end of the year with more money in your pocket than if you had spent an aimless twelve months in a pension.

Closes the doors and shuts the world wag.

Go, get thee to a real estate agent, my boy, and rent a castle, even if it has but three rooms and all of them dark. You'll encounter difficulties, but you'll learn to overcome them; you'll have annoyances, but they'll make life sweeter by contrast; you'll have troubles, but troubles bravely borne will make a better man of you and a better woman of her. Your affectionate father, is not appreciated by many furnace manufacturers or the general public as much as it should be.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE WATER-PAN

Without the moisture evaporated from the water in the pan, the hot air distributed throughout the house is dry and dusty. Cracks and opens up the furniture—is not fit to breathe into the lungs.

Yet, mind you, some furnace makers place this important water-pan where there is often not enough heat to evaporate the water. Put it out of sight in an awkward position at the side or back, where it cannot readily be filled without being removed—and when filled it would take a juggler to replace it without spilling a big share over himself.

Note the convenient location of the large water-pan of the Sunshine—just above the fuel door. Takes but a moment or two to fill it.

THE AWKWARD COMMON WAY

THE EASY SUNSHINE METHOD

It is placed right in the path of the hot air as it circulates around the dome of the furnace. It is impossible for any heated air to pass out of the registers before extracting its due share of moisture from the water-pan. That means you breathe healthful, clarified air, free from dust and dryness.

For the sake of your furniture, your own health and peace of mind, you should decide on the Sunshine.

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

A Discussion of the Very Important and Delicate Matter of Domestic Finances—It Is a Fatal Mistake to Begin Married Life by Assuming the Entire Financial Control.

[Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.]

MY DEAR JOHN—Your inquiry reminds me of old Tommy Tucker, who lives around the corner and who used to be a member of my favorite club. You remember him—the fussy little man who always wears a high hat and a sack coat and walks with a strut that makes me think of a turkey gobbler of which I was the proud possessor in my boyhood days. Tommy is a gay old boy, very fond of the fair sex in general, and the rights of women used to be one of his favorite topics for discussion at the club. He would talk for hours about the poor downtrodden wives who are little better than the slaves of their husbands, who must grovel on their knees for actual necessities and who seldom have a dollar of their own from one year's end to another. Tommy's righteous indignation was something fair to see. "Give your wives an allowance, boys," he would say. "Let 'em have money of their own to spend. My wife has had an allowance ever since our marriage, and I tell you it pays." Well, after awhile we were astonished to hear one day that Tommy's wife had sued him for divorce on the ground of nonmaintenance, and in the proceedings which followed it developed that his much boasted allowance was the sum of $1 a week, out of which Mrs. Tucker was required to clothe herself. He doesn't belong to our club now, but his chest is as obtrusive and his tie sets at the same angle as of yore.

A Very Important Question.

This question of an allowance is a pretty serious one, and the disposition of the woman in the case enters largely into its consideration. Some women never get beyond childhood mentally and prefer to be treated like children all their lives. They know nothing about their husbands' incomes and care less if they keep them liberally supplied with the luxuries their childish natures demand. With such women there is only one course practicable, and that is the ancient and time honored one which is based on the theory that all women are irresponsible beings and are to be considered property of a higher sort, to be fed and clothed and perhaps regarded with a degree of affection, but not to be treated as mental equals or to be given any active part in domestic administration except as upper servants. The great trouble is that there are so many wives who are treated in this manner who do not deserve to be. The human dolls are, in fact, a mighty small minority of womankind. The supposed limitations of the sex have been fixed in the masculine mind by the customs and prejudices of centuries, and it is pretty hard to change its attitude, but the change is being made and made more rapidly in this country than in any other. We have learned that the average woman has just about as much sense as the average man, and, given the same training and same conditions, she can accomplish equally much. There always seems to be a subtle difference in their mental equipment which enables a woman to reach an instant conclusion by means of something we call intuition, while man arrives at the same point after a laborious process of reasoning, but whether this difference is actually physiological or a curious result of a lack of mental repression we are unable to say. But To be fed and clothed. I am wandering from the main issue. And that reminds me of a preacher who used to ride a circuit down in southern Illinois and who always preached from the same text. "I like to start from a point with which I am familiar," he would say when asked for an explanation, "but you notice that I never go over the same road, and one text is as good as another if you lose sight of it as soon as you get started, as I and most other preachers do."

Your Actual Partner.

All I have said thus far is beside the mark so far as you are concerned, for your wife is no child. As a matter of fact, really childish women are comparatively few in number. The fault in a great majority of cases where they are treated as such is the husbands', who can't or won't see the wrong they are doing themselves and their wives by such treatment. It has always seemed to me that the proper view of the marriage relation is one of actual partnership. There should be, so far as practicable, an equal division of labor, an equal division of responsibilities and an equal division of financial returns. The woman's labors and responsibilities should be within the home; the man's, for the greater part, outside of it. Success in her realm is of as much, if not more, importance to both than success in his. A business failure is a small affair when compared with a domestic failure. The one is a mere matter of money; the other affects body, mind and soul. The wife should be supreme within her sphere, but with that supremacy she should accept the responsibilities that belong to it and be held accountable for results. On the other hand, she should not interfere in his province, but each should ask for and receive the advice and help and encouragement of the other.

But you ask how can this theory be put into practical application. By applying ordinary business principles—principles which, I regret to say, are very seldom applied to domestic affairs in the right way. The trouble is that the average business man runs his home as he would his store, considering his wife as a simple item of expense—an expense which he pays in an irregular way as her needs, expressed or implied, seem to require, or in the form of a fixed allowance. The first method places her in the position of a mendicant or a pensioner; the second improves her standing, but makes her relation to him something in the nature of a salaried employee. While the latter is far the better plan of the two, giving the wife, as it does, a certain independence impossible with the former, it is not, I believe, the true relation, which should be one of equal partnership, as I have said.

From a Business View.

If you were going into business with another man as your partner, each having the same interest, it is probable that you would divide the duties of management so as to give each a certain definite responsibility. One of you perhaps would have charge of the finances and accounting, the other of the buying and selling. Each in his respective sphere would be supreme, but the profits would be yours jointly, to be held in bulk, reinvested for your joint interest or equally divided, as you might individually elect.

With proper modification the very same system may be applied to the domestic partnership, the husband holding the position of senior, the wife that of junior partner. The husband's department is his business; the wife's is the home. The one produces revenue; the other does not, analogous to the selling and accounting departments of the commercial concern. But the home, like the accounting division, is an essential factor and, like it again, may be the means of saving or losing money as it is properly or improperly conducted. I don't want to tire you, but I am very anxious to get my ideas into your noggin straight; then if you don't like 'em you can do as you please about 'em. You remember the story about the white man and the Indian who went turkey hunting and divided the game in accordance with the white man's proposition. I won't repeat the story, but you will recollect that the white man got all the turkeys. Some business partnerships and a great many domestic partnerships are managed in this way, and that sort of thing usually ends in a dissolution. If you succeed in life, you've got to play square with your partner, and particularly so to the one with whom you've made a life contract, solemnly signed and sealed in the presence of the representative of the Almighty. Give her control of the home and let her understand that she is responsible for its management.

Responsibility makes character in a woman just as it does in a man. Let her have a fixed sum every month to pay the household expenses as well as to provide for her personal requirements and allow her to expend the money without question or interference. She'll come to you for advice when she needs it. She'll come to you for more money when she needs it, but if the amount is rightly fixed she will seldom have to do that. She will take a pride in keeping within her limit and more than likely will save more money than you will. In the matter of small economies a woman can beat a man every time, but she must have a personal interest in the saving, must feel that it is hers without restriction. She will probably spend most of it on you or will surprise you by digging up a roll as big as your arm some time when you are in desperate need of it. A woman is always trustworthy if she is trusted. The man's point is to make her feel that there is no string tied to the amount given her, that it is hers absolutely, but that she is expected to meet certain expenses.

You can do as you please about 'em.

Sit Down and Figure.

Suppose, for example, you figure up your fixed charges, as the railroad man would say. Under this head will come your rent, your water license, taxes, insurance, servant's hire, etc. Make a liberal allowance for indefinite expenses, as provisions, clothing, car fare, doctor's bills, repairs, and so on. Take upon yourself the payment of all accounts except the current fluctuating expenses of the household and the personal expenses of your wife. That would give to her the responsibility for the payment of all the bills from the grocer, the butcher, the milk and ice dealers and other table accounts, as well as her own clothing, etc. Then divide your salary in proportion to the relative expenditures of each. If you assume one-half the expenditure, divide your salary equally. If your part of the expense is three-fifths or three-fourths, reserve that proportion of your income for yourself. That is the plan I have followed for many years, and it has worked well.

Another plan which has its advantages and which is based, like the other, on the partnership idea is to place your salary each week or each month, as you may receive it, in a common receptacle at home. Each of you should have free and unquestioned access to this fund, and whatever is left can be deposited in the bank from time to time. A memorandum book should be kept with the money, and all withdrawals should be properly noted. The advantage of this system is its simplicity. Its disadvantages arise from the dangers of loss by theft or otherwise and from the fact that it lessens the individual responsibility and the stimulus to individual saving when compared with the first mentioned plan. But it's a good scheme nevertheless and vastly superior to the mendicant or allowance methods.

Don't Enslave Yourself.

I never believed in the plan of giving all one's salary to one's wife any more than I believe it right for the husband to keep all of it himself. In the first place, it throws upon her a burden that properly belongs to him, in part at least, and, in the second place, it makes it necessary for him to ask her for what he needs, and too often he may be required to explain his needs in detail before he gets it. Some men are so weak that they need restraint of this kind, and for such this method is commendable, but for a man with average backbone it's humiliating to have to ask his wife for money even if he has voluntarily placed himself in durance. It reverses the position of mendicancy and is harder on a man than a woman, because in her case it has the sanction of the ages. I believe in woman's independence, but I don't believe in reversing the traditional relations of the sexes. It is possible to give your wife freedom without enslaving yourself, and a certain amount of starch in your spinal column is just as important under the conditions I have suggested as in any other situation, domestic or otherwise. I know a man whose wife allows him barely enough to pay car fare, and when he wants more he has to make an itemized requisition. She is unquestionably his superior as a financial manager and is saving money, a feat he never was able to accomplish. But he is unhappy. Her thrift should be a blessing to him, but blessings may become curses if they are worked overtime. He might have taken advantage of her greater thrift and at the same time preserved his self respect if he had reserved to himself a sufficient amount for his necessary personal expenses and a margin for the unexpected.

It reverses the position of mendicancy.

Now, my boy, just one more word before I toddle off to bed. Consider your wife as your equal—in every respect. She may not be in some, but she is entitled to the consideration. Consult her about your affairs, tell her your troubles that are worth telling at all and take no liberties yourself you are not willing to grant her. And now, with love to your dear girl, much for yourself, I will bid you good night. Affectionately, JOHN SNEED.

OTTAWA, ONT.

You know what fearful trouble I have had all my life time from constipation. I have been a dreadful sufferer from chronic constipation for over thirty years and I have been treated by many physicians and I have taken many kinds of proprietary medicines without any benefit whatever. I took a pill for a long time which was prescribed by the late Dr. C. R. Church, of Ottawa. Also for many months I took a pill prescribed by Dr. A. F. Rogers, of Ottawa. Nothing seemed to do me any good. Finally I was advised by Dr. Rogers to try "Fruit-a-tives", and after taking them for a few months I feel I am completely well from this horrible complaint. I have had no trouble with this complaint now for a long time, and I can certainly state that "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine I ever took that did me any positive good for constipation. I can conscientiously recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to the public as, in my opinion, it is the finest medicine ever produced.

(Signed)
JOHN COSTIGAN.

102

IN THREE MONTHS "Fruit-a-tives" did what Doctors and drugs failed to do in THIRTY YEARS.

"Fruit-a-tives" cured the Hon. John Costigan of the worst case of chronic Constipation that the leading physicians of Ottawa ever saw. "Fruit-a-tives" gave this famous statesman what he had not had for 30 years—perfect health.

Mr. Costigan gives the credit where credit is due—to "FRUIT-A-TIVES"—the one remedy that can, and does, cure Constipation.

Fruit-a-tives
OR FRUIT LIVER TABLETS

are the only remedy in the world really made of fruit. Juices of fresh Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes are so combined that the well known medicinal action of the fruit is increased many times. Tonics are added, and the whole pressed into fruit liver tablets.

"Fruit-a-tives" owe their wonderful power, and their wonderful success, to the fact that they are made of fruit—that they ARE fruit, INTENSIFIED.

It is the medicinal principles of fruit that can restore the great eliminating organs—the Kidneys, Bowels and Skin—to their normal condition. ## ENGLAND

After rising from the ranks, Sergeant Joseph Miller, D.C.M., of the King's Royal Rifles, has received a commission as lieutenant in the King's African Rifles, 2nd battalion. He is of Jewish parentage. He volunteered for service in Somaliland, and for conspicuous gallantry earned the Distinguished Conduct Medal, being the first Jew to receive that reward. He was one of a party sent out from General Manning's main camp to follow on the track of the Somalis. The party was ambushed, and Captain Shakerley placed his own charger and his revolver at Miller's disposal, in order that the latter might ride for assistance; but before he had got far the horse was shot dead. The intrepid scout, however, continued his passage through the bush, and, firing rapidly from his revolvers, accounted for four Somalis. The firing had been heard at the camp, and assistance arrived in time to prevent his being cut off, and Miller was able to give his message to the General.

A strange story was told to the Mayor of Grimsby recently by a coloured man, who called himself Prince Thomas Makaroo, nephew of Menelik, King of Abyssinia. The Mayor was rung up on the telephone at 6 o'clock in the morning from one of the principal hotels of the town. "I'm Prince Makaroo, of North Africa," said the voice. "I've just landed from Hamburg, and before going on to Buckingham Palace I should like to see you." The Mayor made an appointment, and the "Prince," in tall hat and fashionably cut clothes, drove up to the town hall. He explained that he had been in communication with Buckingham Palace in regard to the oppression of the Zulus as a consequence of the importation of Chinese labour into South Africa, that he had been robbed of 4000 roubles, a watch, and a thousand marks, and that he wanted a temporary loan. The police identified the "Prince as 'Khaki Jim," a man with a criminal record.

A thunderbolt which fell at Birkenhead recently caused the greatest excitement. When a storm seemed about to burst over the town, a ball of fire swept over the Bidston Observatory and struck a mound of earth, whence it rebounded into a field and set fire to some gorse. The ground was torn up, and a hole about 18 inches in diameter and two feet in depth was made. A varman who was near at the time was knocked down, and a florist working in his garden was enveloped in a ring of flame and whirled several yards, while the spade with which he was working was hurled over the hedge. A cow grazing in a field was brought to the ground by the shock, and several men in the vicinity, who had trowels in their hands, were knocked off the ladders on which they were working. People who were several yards away from the spot where the bolt fell received violent shocks, and that night suffered from nervous prostration.

A tragedy attended the last meet of the Ripley and Knapp Hill Harriers, by which a Mr. Spens lost his life. The hunt met Merriot Wood, and was led in pursuit of the fox on to the Fox Hills. A heavy mist prevailed, and the riders failed to notice the red danger posts which stud the boundaries of the danger zone at the back of the Ash Ranges, which are occupied every day by soldiers of the Aldershot Army Corps. It was not until a bullet sang through the air close to the head of the master of the hunt that the danger the party stood in was realized, and they all turned their horses and galloped for safety. As Mr. Spens turned, a bullet caught him in the neck, and, almost without a sound, he fell from his horse, dead.

William Jones, an aged perpetrator of practical jokes, was recently ordered by the Ford, Montgomeryshire, Board of Guardians to quit the workhouse. He once proved such an unmanageable inmate that he was incarcerated in the workhouse mortuary with a dead pauper. Nothing daunted, Jones removed the corpse from the coffin, propped the body against the wall, and took its place. A maid entered the mortuary shortly after wards with food, and stood transfixed by the ghastly sight. From the coffin then came an unearthly voice, "If he wunna eat, I can." Terrified, the girl fainted away. Threatened with legal proceedings unless he departed, Jones coolly replied, "Might as well be in prison as any other home."

As a result of the publicity given to the lack of applications for the Bute marriage dowry at Cardiff, there has been a sudden belated rush for the gift. Up to midday on the last day for receiving applications no letters had been recieved, but, as though by a simultaneous impulse, 17 maidens applied for the gift that day. The principal condition imposed by the late Marquis of Bute when he gave £1,000 on trust for this dowry in commemoration of his silver wedding was that the gift should go to the maidens of the poorer class whose marriage would be impeded for the want of such a sum as the interest affords. This year the amount available is £30 14s.

SCOTLAND

Hooliganism and lawlessness have been rampant on the south side of Glasgow for some time past, and the latest case reported is an extraordinary one of alleged house breaking and assault on the members of a household. The case concerns the work of two ex-convicts, who are alleged to have burst open the door of a house, entered and severely mauled the husband and wife, and bears the impression of a wanton and malicious piece of criminal work. The members of a household living on Rose street, had retired for the evening with the exception of the husband. He was in the act of doing so when the kitchen door, which had been locked, was suddenly burst open and two men rushed in. One of the intruders lifted a delf bowl from the table, and threw it at the husband striking him on the head and inflicting a severe wound. The pair then attacked him, and he ran out of the house and called the police. Meanwhile the two housebreakers are alleged to have assaulted the woman of the house. One of them pulled her out of the bed and dragged her along the floor. She was then struck on the head, face and body and badly mauled.

An extraordinary accident occurred in Dundee and it was almost a miracle that it did not prove fatal. In the back green of St. Peter street are enclosed three storey poles, to which clothes lines extending from the various house windows are attached. From one of these lines a tenant residing on the third story had suspended the week's washing and after due exposure began to haul them up. Suddenly without any previous warning the pole snapped a foot from the top. The detached eight feet of beam being projected forward by the fall of the lower part, passed close to the woman at the window, who fainted from the shock. She fell half way out of the window, and only the fact of her not being tall averted her tumbling to the ground—a distance of nearly 70 feet. Assistance was quickly rendered and the woman was brought back to consciousness, but little the worse for her experience.

The other day at Maryhill Police Court, Glasgow, a strange story was unfolded of the bolding up of an electric tram car by two brothers, one of them a seaman. It was alleged that the two men attempted to board the car while under the influence of liquor, but were refused admission; whereupon a struggle ensued, during which, it was stated, the seaman produced a revolver and levelled it at the conductor's head. The latter promptly blew his whistle and on the driver rushing to his assistance, he too was threatened. The would-be passengers then decamped, but were eventually traced, and taken into custody, though not before a police constable was injured. It was subsequently discovered that the weapon was unloaded. A similar outrage was perpetrated a month ago on a lonely stretch of road on the outskirts of Glasgow, when a tram car was held up, and a revolver brandished in real "Dick Turpin" style, the object being to obtain possession of the conductor's cash bag. The assailant on that occasion successfully evaded capture by taking to the woods.

A mystery which has doubtless puzzled many frequenters of music halls throughout the country was recently explained in the prosaic atmosphere of the Glasgow Sheriff's office when Goldin, a "illusionist," sought for an interdict to restrain Gustave Fasola appearing at the Glasgow Empire from performing a trick in which a lady is supposed to be shot from a cannon into a box suspended from the roof. It was explained that the petitioner held a patent which provided for the lady getting out of the cannon by means of a trap-door on the stage or by means of adjacent scenery, or for her to remain in the cannon, while a substitute was found in the box. The box, it was stated, consisted of two trunks, one inside the other, the inside one having a false bottom that could be opened. When the trick was performed the inner trunk was taken out and placed on the floor of the stage over a trap door, through which the lady could enter the box.

One evening recently an accident occurred in the Tollcross power station of the Edinburgh cable tramways, resulting in severe injuries to two workmen and minor personal damages sustained by three labourers. The five men were engaged in winding a winch which raises the weights which regulate the tension of the cable, when, from some some unexplained cause, the tension went back with a jerk, breaking four of the large pulion wheels in pieces. The bits of broken metal flew out in all directions. One piece was projected through the glass roof and struck the bracket and globe of a public electric arc lamp in Fountainbridge, smashing both. Another went through the roof and returned to the interior by another way. Several of the bits were afterwards found to be eight or nine pounds in weight.

IRELAND

On a recent Sunday afternoon for the first time in the history of the Sinn Fein movement, its supporters came into personal conflict with the members of the United Irish League. The new movement is growing rapidly in East Tyrone, aranches having been formed in Dungannon and throughout the constituency. Its supporters have become so powerful that they have actually threatened Mr. T. M. Kettle, M.P., with a third candiate at the next Parliamentary election in the division. A convention under the auspices of the United Irish League was held inn Coalisland recently at which Mr. Kettle, M.P., and others delivered addresses. At the same hour the Sinn Fein men held an open air public meeting at Annaghmore Cross, about one mile from Coalisland, at which a large following from Coalisland was present. The proceedings were interrupted by the arrival of about one hundered local supporters of the United Irish League, some of whom were armed with sticks and pitchforks. The Sinn Fein men although somewhat in the minority showed a bold front. Revolvers were drawn, and a conflict seemed imminent, when the police force on duty managed to get between the parties, and eventually induced the Sein men to return to Coalisland.

Exciting scenes were witnessed recently in Carrick-on-Shannon, County Leitrim, during the eviction of Edward Doyle from his business establishment in Main street. When the sub-sheriff and police went to demand possession of the house they were met by a furious opposition, and only after a long struggle did the constabulary get into the house. In the confusion which followed Doyle, hatchet in hand, threatened to cut the head off the District Inspector Steadman and Head Constable Crow, if they approached the house. Eventually the police attacked the house from front and rear, and arrested Doyle.

An extraordinary scene was witnessed in Limerick one night recently. Stephen Williams, a labourer, while under the influence of drink, flung himself into the Abbey river, opposite Barrington's Hospital. Three men went out to Williams' rescue, and seizing him they got him from the river, and held him against the wall. Williams struggled desperately to get into the stream, and loudly threatened to drown himself.

At the monthly meeting of the Portrush Urban Council recently, a dispute arose over the signing of the minutes of the previous meeting. A resolution was passed, suspending one of the members, but he refused to leave the room and could not be forced out by the chairman and porter. Finally the meeting adjourned without any business transacted.

A whole countryside at Castletown, Berehaven, ouCnty Cork, is alarmed by the impending evictions on the Leigh White estate, 168 ejectment notices having been served on the tenants, who state that they are willing to purchase their holdings through the Estate Commissioners or the Congested Districts Board.

The Athlone Board of Guardians have gained a record in the price of coffins. They have just contracted for a supply of children's coffins 4 1-2 ft. in length at 3s. each, and infants' at one penny each.

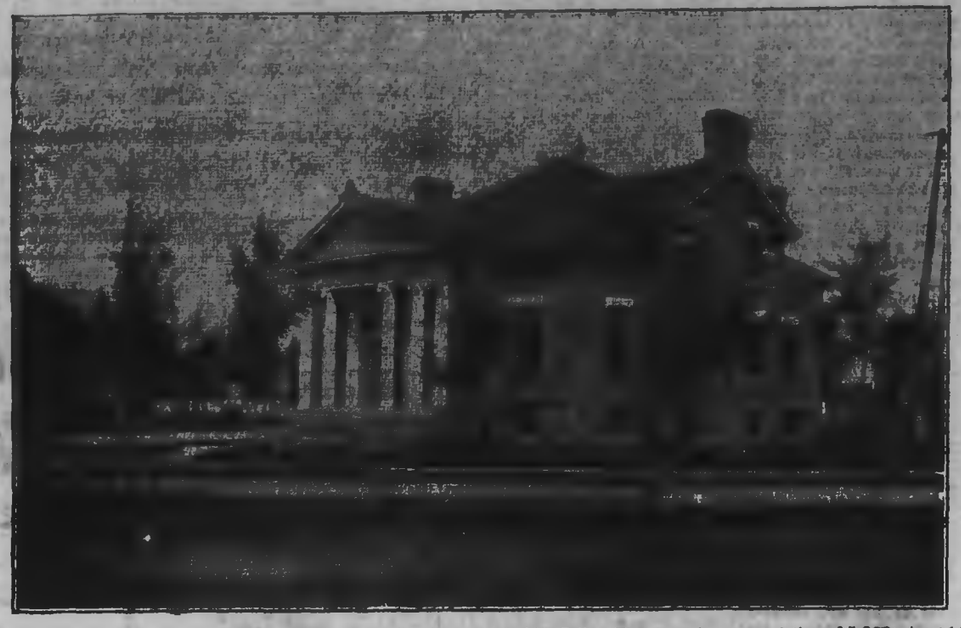
Young Englishman Breaks His Leg by Falling off Train on His Way to Peterborough

THE INADEQUACY OF PUBLIC LIBRARY IN PETERBOROUGH IS FURTHER EMPHASIZED TO-DAY



The handsome building pictured above represents the Public Library in Smith's Falls. That town has a population of 5,600; about 1-3 that of Peterborough, the Library though, is immeasurably superior.

A Wealth Of Curios Are Awaiting Inspection In The Historic Museum

Peterborough Historical Society Has Wonderful Collection of Ancient Relics of Universal Interest —Unseen by the Masses of Residents of This County

AN IDEA OF THE INTERIOR

In that historic building erected about the middle of the last century, among the pines of beautiful Inverlea Park, and now known as the Victoria Museum, silently lies the history of many tribes and races, whose relics have been carefully gathered within the old walls and preserved by the Peterborough Historical Society. Curiosities, relics and souvenirs discovered decades and in the county, country and continent, have been placed in that ancient building. There are curios there upon which few eyes have gazed, and the existence of which has never been dreamed of by the masses of the citizens of the city and county.

There are few that have not enjoyed the pleasure of a journey through Peterborough's museum, who can realize in even a slight degree the extent of the various articles on exhibition, and the interesting history bound up within those silent objects.

The Historical Society is making a strenuous effort this year to make known the charms existing in this "old curiosity shop," to the people of the county. There is little doubt that the museum is one of the best equipped in the province, and contains as many historical relics as any similar structures in cities in the Dominion the size of Peterborough. To enumerate the thousands of exhibits would, in fact, take pages for the purpose so that a person must see the interior of the building to form any idea of the extent and unique character of the curios.

Search the Attics

The society however believe that the city and county have still many relics with histories, outside the walls of the museum, serving no good purpose except the whims of the few who own them, and which might just as well be placed in the building, where they will be given protection and prominence. There are dozens of historic articles occupying dark and dusty corners in the attics and garrets, which might educate the masses who from time to time journey through the home of these world wide collections.

The members of the society are urging the owners of such articles to bring them to the museum for the benefit of the visitors They are working assiduously to enlarge their collections and are continuously adding to their extensive stock. They accept additions under two conditions. They accept an article as a gift or as a loan, according to the desire of the donator.

Through the courtesy of Lt.-Col. Rogers, the Hon. President of the Society, and Mr. Thos. Wallace, the secretary, an Examiner representative was given the rare pleasure of a run through the Victoria Museum this week, which included little stories and points of interest in connection with many of the individual embellishments of the building, whose doors will be thrown open to the public on Monday next,

Former Peterborough Divine Connected With the Prince of Wales Dragoons In Honourary Capacity

The militia orders issued yesterday contained the following orders of local interest:

Third (the Prince of Wales) Canadian Dragoons—Charlain and Honourary Capt. the Rev. H. Symonds is granted the honourary rank of major; to be provisional lieutenant, Hugh Oliver Dennis.

Fortieth (Northumberland) Regiment—Provisional Lieut. J. D. Reesor and Paymaster and Honourary Major R. H. Bonnycastle are retired.

STRIVING FOR AN IDEAL

And Not Satisfied Until They Achieve The Hundred Per Cent.

The man who is anybody and who does anything is certainly going to be criticized and abused. This is part of the penalty of success. No true man resents fair criticism, for it helps some. Adulation and candy language are dangerous for they don't promote constant striving towards something better.

One can understand and admire the spirit of the man who gathers in the ninety and nine and has the same zest for winning the hundredth. That is the Semi-Ready idea. More men were last year made known to Semi-Ready tailoring than ever before, but the Semi-Ready people have the same jaunty spirit in going after the men who are still sceptics.

AN ENGLISHMAN'S HARD LUCK

Henry Cort, on His Way to Peterborough Fell Off Train at Burketon and Broke His Leg

STORY OF THE ACCIDENT

Was Carried Past the Station—Fell to the Ground Getting Off the Train—Thought There Was A Platform

Few immigrants from England meet with hard luck so quickly after landing in Canada as did Henry Cort, an Englishman, who, accompanied by his wife and two small children, has just arrived in this country. This morning after having been carried fifty miles past his destination by mistake, Cort had the misfortune to fall and break his leg.

The accident was brought about by somewhat unusual circumstances. Cort and his family were passengers on the west-bound C. P. R. immigrant train, which passed through this city at one o'clock this morning. Their destination was Peterborough but the family was sleeping when the station here was reached and they did not hear the name of the place called by the brakeman.

How It Happened

In speaking about the accident Mr. Cort said that the conductor told him to get off at Burketon Junction. Accordingly he picked up his baggage, and followed by wife and family started to leave the train. The hour was between 1 and 2 o'clock, and it was so dark that he could not see where he was going, thinking that it was the ordinary platform, he put out his right leg to step down when, instead of meeting the platform at the expected height he fell to the ground, and the weight of his body was concentrated upon the one leg. The distance he said was three feet or more, and as he lay on the ground, cried out to his wife not to get off, or, in his own words, "Hold fast, wife!" His presence of mind undoubtedly saved his wife from injury of some nature, and also the child which she was carrying in her arms.

Mr. Cort soon received medical aid, and it was found that several of the small bones near the ankle had been broken. His foot was badly swollen and he was told that it would require a month for it to set, but he expects a longer period than that. Mr. Cort speaks highly of the treatment received at the hands of the doctor who waited upon him at Burketon.

He was brought down to Peterborough on the 11.38 train going east, and received further attention from the company's physician, Dr. Gray.

Relatives Here

Mr. Cort and family came out on the C.P.R. liner Lake Manitoba. He comes from South London, and has a brother-in-law, Mr. James Pope, on Albert street, city. The trip lasted 16 days, being six days overdue. They arrived in Quebec on Thursday, and came directly to Peterborough. Mr. Cort takes his misfortune philosophically. At noon while his wife had gone to look for Mr. Pope's residence the husband remained in the station. He said that he had not had a bite to eat since previous to the accident. His two little boys are quite young, one about five years and the other has to be carried by the mother. They are both fine looking children and a credit to the parents. It is to be hoped that he will soon have the use of his injured limb, and thus be enabled to provide for his family.

Lord Curzon Blamed For Present Trouble In India

LATE SEASON NOT NECESSARILY AN INDICATION OF THE FAILURE OF CROPS, MR. SYLVESTER FIFE'S EXPERIENCE

Are the pessimistic views we entertain in regard to crop failure this season, owing to the backward spring and cold, unreasonable weather, justified by precedent? It will be encouraging to note that in the past, equally and more unreasonable spring weather has been followed by good crops.

Mr. Sylvester Fife, of Otonabee, called at the Examiner office yesterday, and, in answer to an inquiry as to the crops prospects, said that, though seeding was late, he had seen it later. He had on his farm spring grain an inch or more above the ground on May 9th. Fifty-one years ago—in 1856—he remembered that his father, the late David Fife, distinguished throughout the world for the introduction of the celebrated Fife wheat, the progenitor of Manitoba No. 1 hard, the best wheat grown in the world to-day, and his mother, returned from a visit to the Old Country on May 9th, 1856—and not a grain of seed had been put in to the ground in Otonabee; there even had been no spring plowing done. They found the same backward spring conditions in Canada that they had left behind them on leaving Scotland. Seeding that year was late, much later than it has been or will be this year, yet that years there were good crops. Even a new variety of oats, which Mr. David Fife had bought in Scotland, owing to delay in transit, did not arrive so that they could be sown before the third of June, and even these were a good crop. Courage! The outlook is dark now for a good harvest, but, judging by the past, there is still hope. The world has been promised seed time and harvest, and that promise shall not fail.

Rev. H. J. Keith, Who Recently Returned From That Country, Tells the Examiner of His Impressions on Present Difficulty

NOTHING SERIOUS EXPECTED

He Believes That Peace Will be Restored Without Bloodshed, Though He Admits the Natives are Dissatisfied

India.—1. British provinces, population, 231,900,000. 2. Feudatory or native states, under British protection, population 62,451,400. Total population of India, 294,351,400; area, 1,766,642 square miles.

Executive Power.—1. In England, a secretary of state for India, a member of the cabinet, aided by a council of not less that ten members, mostly former residents of India. 2. In India, a governor-general (or viceroy nominally) appointed by the king, acting under secretary of state for India, and aided by a council of six members, also appointed by the king. 3. British India is divided into 13 local governments and administrations. The governors of Madras and Bombay (still called presidencies) and their councils are appointed by the king or secretary of state; the lieutenant-governors of Bengal and the north-west provinces with Oudh and the Punjaub, by the governor-general; the chief commissioners of the other provinces by the same. 4. In the native and feudatory states the government is administered by the native princes with the assistance of an English resident or political agent.

Governor-General, the Right Hon. the Earl of Minto, G.C.M.G.

Legislative Power and Local Government.—For India generally there is a legislative council, composed of the viceroy's council and some 12 or 16 other appointed members, for the purpose of making laws and regulations. In Bombay and Madras there are both executive and legislative councils. In the north-west provinces and Oudh there are only legislative councils. The chief commissioners have no legislative powers. In all the large towns there is a municipal system and committees or councils are elected by the ratepayers, but they cannot levy new taxes or pass by-laws without the assent of the provincial government.

"The British Government in trying to educate the people of India to enjoy British liberty, the work of the missionaries in teaching the same idea, and the indifference of the Government in treating the opinions of the National Congress—a body of men representing the whole of the Indian people, are," said Rev. H. J. Keith to the Examiner this morning, "the principal reasons which, to the native mind, in its ignorance, justify the agitation against the British Government in India to-day." Rev. Mr. Keith, the pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church, has just recently returned from India, and in an interview with an Examiner representative gave some interesting information regarding the reasons for the present possible mutiny of the natives, and his opinions as to the probable ending.

"The National Congress," he said, "meets annually to discuss problems of national interest, but this Congress is not recognized by the Government, which will not receive deputations."

A great deal of the present trouble, Mr. Keith believed, arose from the administration of Lord Curzon, ex-Viceroy of India. Curzon brought about a number of measures that he intended to be used as developers, or means of progress. One of these was the Petition of Bengal, in which province are over 80,000,000 of people, and where the people are now the most dissatisfied. This seemed to the natives to be too great a population to be managed by one man. The mass of these people are Mohammedans and Hindoos.

Immediate Cause

"Matters were brought to a head," said Mr. Keith, "by an address of Lord Curzon about two years ago, when, at the university of Calcutta, he made several statements against the character of the Indians as a nation. He stated that they were never found to be truthful and were very susceptible to flattery. Certain demagogues took advantage of this and "tempted to stir up a racial feel against the British."

"However wise and sympathetic the Government was, it did not show the sympathy for the masses of the people," and in this, Rev. Mr. Keith believed, lies one of the chief causes

Appendicitis Cases Are Showing Alarming Increase

Two Patients Were Taken to the Hospital to-day for Operations —The Doctors Say There is no Reason For Increase

MANY OPERATIONS LATELY

Appendicitis is on the increase, so far as Peterborough is concerned, at any rate. The doctors do not admit it. At least two of the members of the profession who were called up to-day by the Examiner, and asked as to the truth of the statement that this disease was increasing, stated that so far as they knew, there were no more cases at the present time than might be expected. The fact remains, however, that the Dan Spence ambulance was called into requisition to-day twice to convey patients suffering from this disease to the hospital to be operated on. One was a resident of Romaine street, and the other was taken from one of the river boats and lived near Rice Lake.

A number of operations for this trouble have taken place recently, too, and, fortunately, they have all been successful.

In view of the statements made by those who have charge of the ambulance there seems to be justification for the belief that there is an increasingly large number of cases of this disease, though, so far as can be learned, it is believed that those who have been afflicted with it, have passed through the operations successfully.

The opinions of the doctors who were questioned on the matter was that there was no special significance so far as the season of the year was concerned, in the increase—if there is one—in the number of cases at this particular time.

There is, however, to all appearances, an epidemic of appendicitis in Peterborough at the present time, and there is apparently no help for it. The doctors who favour operations as the only cure for this disease are in their glory now, and their critics must confess that recent experiences have proven that whether an operation is absolutely necessary or not, the patients have recovered. The question as to whether they would have succeeded in pulling through had they not consented to the operation is another matter.

John Bigwind and his wife, two members of the Salvation Army Corps on the Ojebway Indian Reserve, are in the city on business, which Mrs. Bigwind is enacting at Mawatha, where they are staying with her uncle, Jeremiah Crow. They have also visited Adjt. Wiggins at the barracks. They come from the reserve at Rama, near Orillia. Mr. Bigwind assists Sergt.-Major Wesley, the Indian in charge of the reserve at Rama. He says that the Indian language is spoken widely in the Lake Superior district and the Ojebway predominates. Mr. Bigwind farms on a fine lot that he has there. He says that the Army is doing a good work. Many of their converts are taken up by other churches. He is a staunch member of the Army.

Run Over By Street Car Going At Full Speed

Clarence Miller's Narrow Escape From Instant Death To-day—Hand and Foot Were Passed Over by the Wheels and Painfully Injured.

TRIED TO BOARD THE CAR

Clarence Miller, the fourteeen year old son of Mr. John Miller, 28 Harvey street, had a miraculous escape from being instantly killed, and received painful injuries as the result of a street car accident at one o'clock to-day, at the corner of Dublin and George streets.

The boy it is said, was waiting at Dublin street to catch a north bound car. As the car came along he waved at the motorman to stop, but his signal was not noticed by the man at the lever, and the car passed at full speed. Young Miller, it is stated, tried to jump on the front step, but but missed his footing and fell, fortunately not completely under the wheels. One hand and one foot were across the rail and the wheels passed over them, inflicting serious and painful injuries. The crew of the car were, it is said, not aware of the accident, and the car went on with uninterrupted speed.

The injured boy was picked up and taken in an express rig to Dr. Morgan's office, where his wounds were dressed, after which he was removed to Nicholls Hospital in the Dan Spence Ambulance.

The boy's fingers were badly crushed and his heel painfully cut, while he had other injuries including bruises on his face and head. At the time of going to press he was being operated on at the hospital.

AN APOLOGY, PERHAPS

Possibly the Examiner owes an apology to the residents of Boswell avenue, or deserves credit for a good suggestion. In an article on tree-planting, which appeared in these columns a few days ago, it was noted with regret that the trees had not been planted on the street in front of the fine lines of residences erected. Since that time, trees have been planted. If it's a case of post hoc propter hoc, the Examiner deserves credit. If the trees were planted before the article referred to was written, it owes an apology. It could not be noticed at the distance from which these were seen what kind of trees were planted; but this much may be said, that if anything but elms were planted, unsatisfactory results may be expected. The elm is about the only tree that will thrive where a gravelly subsoil exists. In many parts of the city are to be seen maples, especially sugar maples, that, after years of growth, have come to a standstill and barely maintain a struggling existence, or die outright. Whereas, elms planted on precisely similar soil are thriving, soaring aloft and maintaining a thrifty, vigourous life, good for a century. The reason of this difference is not far to seek. The roots of the maple, especially the hard maple, grow directly downward, and, of course, they reach the gravel subsoil. As they go down, the roots find less and less sustenance, and finally they reach the pure gravel, and —their "finish." This accounts for the numerous maples of good size which one may and does see so often dead in parts of the city where there is a subsoil of gravel. On the contrary, the roots of the elm are horizontal, or surface feeders, and will stretch out long distances for nourishment, and, being near the surface, where there is generally good soil they find it, and, therefore, grow well and long. An elm is as tough as a Shylock's heart. It will thrive under adversity, and is always a stately and shapely tree, beautiful in its diversity of form. Elms, allowed to grow to a good age, their sturdy trunks with their numerous tree-like branches and slender terminal twigs gracefully drooping earthward, well deserve the poetical description of Oliver Wendell Holmes — "A forest waving on a single tree."

Of course, there are differences of taste as to the most favoured tree. The maple, either the hard or sugar maple, or the white or soft maples, growing on suitable soil, cannot be surpassed—the first, perhaps rather stiff and formal, but the latter always graceful and rapid growing. But there is no satisfaction except for a few years, in planting especially hard maples on soils underlaid with gravel. On these, the elm is the ideal, and, in fact, the only satisfactory tree. It is to be noticed that many plant for shade trees what is known as Manitoba maples, which, as a rule, have a straggling, ungraceful growth, and, being rapid growers, the limbs are liable to be broken by high winds, and the trees present a ragged and undesirable appearance.

SCHOOL SAVINGS BANKS

The school savings banks system continues to receive the hearty endorsation of the Bureau of Education in Washington. In a recent circular the Bureau shows that 113 cities in the United States have adopted the school savings system, these cities representing 500,727 scholars, and, of these, 177,979 have deposited, to January 1, 1907, $5,485,514.48; withdrawn $4,675,897.26, leaving balances amounting to $809,617.22. The circular strongly recommends this system as a force for the good of the pupil. The contention is that it cultivates a principle of frugality which is of value; and, further, that the modern school is becoming the world, and the world is the world of schools. From the school comes the citizen, and business habits cannot be inculcated too soon. The system has been in operation in Brantford schools for some years past, and, while it has accomplished splendid results, it is doubtful if it has been pushed for all it is worth. The Peterborough Board of Education nearly adopted this system at one time, and it is to be regretted that what has proved so great a success elsewhere was not put into force here. Within the past few years, the habit of wasteful expenditure on the part of especially young wage-earners has greatly grown. This would not have been the case if habits of thrift and saving had been taught and acquired through the medium of school savings banks. Habits of national thrift cannot be formed unless they are practised in younger life. And national habits of thrift are sometimes national salvation from national humiliation and decay. The French peasantry are the most thrifty people in the world. It was due to this circumstance that France, which, in 1870, was prostrated at the foot of Germany, paid the immense "fine" exacted by her conqueror—it was subscribed wholly within the nation. France's wonderful recuperative powers, shown at this crisis, were largely due to the ingrained national habit of thrift.

THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN

The despatches announcing a condition of unrest among the natives of British India in the East, while they may be exaggerated in tone, perhaps find greater credence from the fact that the news that came from India yesterday, came on the fiftieth anniversary of the outbreak of the Indian Mutiny of 1857. On Sunday, May 10th, 1857, the native army at Meerat, in the presidency of Begal, mutineed and fired on their officers, killing the commander and several others. From this beginning spread a mutiny that cost a hundred thousand lives, and millions of treasure, before peace was restored. This peace has lasted, unbroken, for half a century, but it may be broken now, though it is probable that the conditions of unrest among the natives has been overestimated. However, whatever may be the result, if a rising takes place, it must, and will, be repressed. Great Britain cannot lay down the white man's burden, represented by governing India, more than she can lay aside her responsibility in respect of Egypt. Britain might long ago have permanently pacified India by waging a war of extermination, but that is not her policy. Moral measures for purposes of civilization may be much slower than military, but they are more certain in the end, giving more permanent results, and more in conformity with the spirit of British colonization methods, which have made the Anglo-Saxon practically the only colonizing race in the world.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Examiner's offer, made some time since, still holds good—any spring poet who will find any spring weather to rhyme about, will receive instant publication of his verses, no matter how bad they are.

Spain has had a royal young John Bull added to her population, and now we may expect bull fights with some go in them.

Evidently from the weather we get, the North Pole is coming south to see what all the fuss about its whereabouts is about.

William Lyon Mackenzie provided the country with a "pic-nic" in 1837. His grandson, Mr. Mackenzie King, Deputy Minister of Labour, provides the country with a pick-nic—the one put the majors on a job, the other gets the miners busy.

Why has Hon. J. J. Foy, Attorney-General of Ontario, been selected to represent this province at the Imperial Conference of Education, in London, this summer? Though Mr. Foy possesses the education, culture, and other qualifications for this work, it is natural to inquire why Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education in the Whitney Cabinet, was not selected? His would be a case of natural selection. If he is "fit for his job" the Minister of Education should represent Ontario in educational matters. What does his being passed over show?

When Sir Wilfrid extended the tariff preference to Great Britain, he did it with no object of personal advantage in view. But he has found it as bread cast upon the waters. Yesterday he was fined for furious driving in Regent's Park, London. The magistrate, in view of the fact that Sir Wilfrid was soon to leave London, regarded it as a case of preference, and the punishment was remitted. Sir Wilfrid's chauffeur was driving him through the park at a pace of 19 miles an hour, and was subject to a fine, but none was imposed.

A Colony of Them in That Town From This City—Blind Man in the Business Too.

The Lindsay Post says: Junk dealers are plentiful in our town at present. Many of them are of the migrating class, and just come around for the busy season. Two Jews, the Zitto brothers, are in town at present. E. Landow, another Hebrew from Peterborough, visited citizens in search of rags, rubbers and scrap iron recently. To-day, George Doig, a blind man from Peterborough, had a load of scrap iron weighed on the market scales.

YOUTHFUL OFFENDERS THREW SNOWBALLS

Were Fined One Dollar Each—Riding on Sidewalk Will Be Punished.

Three boys were fined $1 each for throwing snowballs at the door of a house on Sunday, May 5. They were Ernest and Chester Marks and Thos. Walsh. Magistrate Dumble warned them not to let it occur again, especially the present "winter."

A young man pleaded not guilty to riding a wheel on one of the city's sidewalks. He was discharged.

GOOD GROWING WEATHER

When the New Scalp Antiseptic is Used

A good head of hair is as much a "crown of glory" for man as it is for woman, notwithstanding all the poetry on the subject applied to the female sex exclusively. In the season when flies bite, the bald-headed man can sympathize with the Egyptians who were so sorely plagued on account of the children of Israel. Why not try Newbro's Herpicide? Others have been benefitted and are loud in its praise. It cleanses the scalp, kills the germ at the root of the hair, and, by keeping the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended, regardless of the temperature. Try it and be convinced.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. The Market Drug Store. Two sizes—50c and $1.

Are you not well? Are you pale, weakly, depressed in spirits, melancholy, tired and nervous and irritable? Try Miller's Compound Iron Pills. Sold by W. Machell.

A WEALTH OF CURIOS ARE AWAITING INSPECTION

for the first time this season. Two hours were spent running through the interior, which allowed only a few seconds to examine the larger articles, and then many were not even glanced at.

An Historic Building

The museum itself was once the residence of the late Judge Dennistoun. It was built away back in the fifties, in the early days of the history of Peterborough, so that none in the city could be more appropriate for the purpose for which it is used, the building being in itself, an interesting historical link with the past. The bronze lions which once guarded the stairway from their pedestals on the pillars were stolen when the residence was unoccupied and have never since been recovered. The resting places still remain but nothing except the holes in the tops of the pillars are left.

The building belongs to the Nicholls Estate and from time to time has been repaired through the generosity of Mr. Richard Hall. This year a new granolithic floor has been placed on the verandah in the front of the building which greatly enhances its beauty and stability.

In the Interior

A general survey of the interior displays many specific classes of curiosities forming unbroken chains. There are the minerals of Canada; the 37 species of wood to be found in Ontario; a sample of every bird in Canada, especially mounted under contract for the museum by the veteran taxidermist, Mr. Elcome; there are butterflies, fur bearing and all other North American animals, (domestic excepted); a complete and unique collection of North American birds' eggs presented by Mr. Ozias LaPlante to the Historical Society; Canadian fish; Indian relics of all kinds and descriptions, including arrow heads, tomahawks and the various other weapons of war of the red men.

In addition to these complete collections, there are individual relics and curios whose histories are wrapped up in the mysterious past; the histories of others have been preserved and a number are given below.

A Strange Natural Freak

One of the first articles that meets the gaze of the stranger is a curious combination of wood. It is a portion of a cedar tree about seven inches in diameter and encircling it is a pine tree upon which the bark of the pine is plainly visible. "A pine trunk on a cedar tree" is exactly what it is, but what is the explanation? It has been suggested that a bird has carried unknowingly a pine seed in its claw and deposited it in a crevice of the cedar where it germinated, and grew to about two feet in diameter. The cedar and its parasite are themselves sufficient to cause a visit to the museum.

Among the other articles in the hall way is a war drum from Central Africa. There is not a single piece of metal about it, the sounding board being made from the skin of an animal. There is also an old mill stone brought from Ireland to Canada in 1825, at the time of the Robinson immigration. It was given the Society by Mr. Sullivan of Douro.

Side by side in the hallway stand two canoes. One is a sample of the original birch bark built by the Indians and the other was the first board canoe in Peterborough, built in 1847 by Mr. Geo. Dunford. An oxen yoke, a stone in the shape of a bear, found in Burleigh and some cannon balls are other curios at the entrance.

Trent Canal Fossils

In one of the apartments of the first floor is a rare collection of fossils found in the bottom of the Trent Canal by workmen during its construction. Stones upon which traces of crawling reptiles are left are among these same collection from the Trent Canal bottom.

A glass case in the same apartment contains two pair of moccasins—one made on the shore of the Mackenzie River and the other on the coast of Labrador on the opposite side of the continent. Skin suits and other Indian made clothing occupy places in the same case. The "Totem Pole" made by the Haida Indians of British Columbia and to which is connected an interesting history is also among the exhibits.

One of the lower rooms contains an unique connection of ancient fire-arms and weapons, gathered together by Colonel Rogers. Probably the most interesting of these is the Australian boomerang. This is a short curved stick with a sharp point constructed so that if it strikes the object aimed at it returns through the air to the thrower. The old Queen Ann musket, the gourka knives of India, a war club picked up where General Custer and his force were annihilatated, a ships cutlass used by pirates in the Spanish main. Hussar helmets and horse pistol scabbards are also among Col. Rogers' collection.

In another case is a hammer used by Mr. Geo. Hancock on Nelson's ship, the "Victory" in 1805. There is a Colts' revolver brought from the Old Country in 1857 by Mr. J. D. Collins.

An Old Bank Note

The museum contains a five-shilling bank note issued by the Province of Pennsylvania by the order of George II, back in the eighteenth century. It was presented to the Historical Society by Mr. E. Courtney.

One of the latest donations to the Society was made by Mr. R. M. Dennistoun who before he left for the province of Manitoba presented the museum with a pair of Zulu spears and some shedded deer horns.

Hanging beside the stairway is the head light of the "Pioneer," the first railway engine in Canada. This was brought from Lachine. An ancient lantern enclosing a candle stick, donated by Mrs. A. F. Choate of Warsaw also hangs from the ceiling above the stairway.

An Albatross

There are probably few persons in the county who have ever seen that historic bird—the albatross. One of these hangs from the ceiling in the upstairs of the building with wings each over 4 feet in length. This bird which plays an important part in the "Rhyme of the Ancient Mariner" is very rare and to see it is worth more than the trouble of going to the museum.

A mounted turkey buzzard, a bird almost exclusively foreign to this locality, occupies a glass case. It was shot some years ago in the vicinity of Warsaw. A bald eagle, shot near Rice Lake, is another of the interesting birds.

Musical instruments are not lacking in the museum. An accordion, which belonged to Louis Riel of Northwest Rebellion fame, occupies a prominent place. It was brought to Peterborough by Captain W. E. Stewart, a cousin of Capt. Brown, whose monument is erected in Central Park.

In Sunny Florida

The Florida room in the Victoria Museum is far famed for its unique collection of souvenirs of that southern clime, which were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nesbitt of Florida, and formerly of Peterborough. Among the more interesting of the articles is a mounted opossum, made famous in minstrel song; a gecko, alligators, rattlesnake skins, representatives of the sponge family, one of which has assumed the appearance of a cigar-holder; sea fans from the lagoons, a saw-fish jaw about four feet in length, a settee made by Mrs. Nesbitt from the Palmetto bark, pampas grass, star fish, monstrous cocoanuts and innumerable other articles. These were sent to Peterborough by Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt, and afterwards arranged in the Florida room by them when visiting here.

Dummer Relics

Some of the latest additions to the Museum are the Indian curios discovered in the great Dummer cave only about a week ago. The finders have consented to loan the articles to the Historical Society for exhibition and they will certainly be viewed with interest.

Lt.-Col. Rogers is the Honourary President of the Historical Society; Mr. T. A. S. Hay, the President, and Mr. T. J. Wallace, the Secretary. If those who have relics for which they have no personal use will communicate with the secretary of the society, those relics will be placed with in the Museum, where they will be in a position to impart knowledge to the masses who visit that historic spot nestling among the pines of Inverlea.

Slaves to Spring Catarrh Restored to Health By Pe-ru-na.

Honest People Tell Their Experiences. Spring,—the Time to Cure Catarrh.

Mr. J. Q. Craig, a well-known athlete, whose home address is Bridgeton, N. J., writes from the Hotel Denavin, Delaware, Ohio, as follows:

"I can say of Peruna that, as a tonic for the spring of the year, it is the best for athletes, and as such I can give it a hearty recommendation."

Peruna does not fail to prevent the lassitude and languor incident to the approach of warm weather, if taken in time.

Mr. Wienand Houseman, a prominent and aged citizen of Seneca Falls, N. Y., is the inventor of a number of implements of modern warfare. He writes:

"For several years past, I and my family used your Peruna as a tonic and for the purification of the system in general and find that it is an excellent medicine to restore weak nerves to a healthy condition."

Mrs. John E. Mills, 36 Mulberry St., Lynn, Mass., writes:

"I have been troubled with catarrh since I was ten years old. At times my head troubled me so that I was obliged to stay in a dark room. Nothing helped me and my physician said I could never be cured.

"I began taking Peruna this spring and find myself greatly benefited by it. I have not had an attack since I took my first bottle. I think in time it will cure me. It has already improved my appetite and my general health and I have gained twenty pounds in three months.

"I have recommended it to several of my friends, who also find it very beneficial. I advise any one troubled with catarrh to use Peruna."

Mrs. A. S. Rucker, 1234 Cedar street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"I wish to tell you what Peruna has done for me. In the spring of 1903 I was very sick and so weak I could scarcely be up. I was alarmed at my condition.

"I had a bad cough for some time and I tried several cough medicines, but grew worse all the time. I knew if I did not get relief, I would soon go into consumption.

"So I decided to try Peruna. I had confidence in it before I took it and found it was just the medicine I needed, for in a short time my cough ceased and my strength returned.

"I have enjoyed better health since taking it than I had for several years previous."

Spring Catarrh.

Almost every one has come to believe that spring is a season that brings derangements of the body dependent on blood impurities.

This belief is an old one, is nearly universal, and has arisen, not as the result of the teachings of the medical fraternity, but has been learned in the bitter school of experience.

Nervous Depression.

Depression of the nervous system at the approach of spring is a fertile source of blood impurities.

There are general lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continual tired feelings, with irregular appetite, and sometimes loss of sleep.

That Tired Feeling.

That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after the invigorating cold of winter, quickly disappears when Peruna is taken.

The Correct Remedy.

Peruna meets every indication and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Peruna invigorates the system, rejuvenates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and procures regular sleep.

Do Not Delay.

Get a bottle of Peruna when the first languid feelings make themselves apparent in the spring. Take it according to the directions on the bottle. Continue this treatment through the first months of spring

This course of treatment is no experiment. It has helped thousands. Why should it not help you?

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mr. Warren M. Taylor, 1216 6th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., who, in a recent letter, writes:

"I suffered from a general feeling of lassitude, with occasional creeping chills, followed sometimes by fever and biliousness.

"These symptoms manifested themselves mostly in the spring and fall.

"I suffered this way for about seven years.

"Last spring I began using Peruna and followed the instructions as set forth in one of Dr. Hartman's booklets which I picked up in a drug store and to my great joy I noticed that within a week I was nearly cured.

"At the end of two months I was entirely cured and feel as though I have a new lease of life."

Nature's Assistance.

Spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by spring weather. This renders medicines more effective.

A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will often relieve old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years.

A Word of Advice.

To those who have been afflicted with chronic catarrh we wish to say that the spring season affords you a splendid opportunity to get rid of your disease.

It may be you have been afflicted for several years; you may have tried different remedies. Perhaps you have become discouraged.

Now Is Your Opportunity.

This failure was during the winter months. But now is your opportunity. Nature comes to your assistance at this season.

Just help her a little and she will bring you out of the quagmire in which you have been floundering so long. Give Nature a little assistance, lest her struggles be in vain.

A Typical Case.

Geo. M. Fillmore, formerly 1st Lieut. 3rd U. S. Artillery, writes from 909 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I brought forward from winter into spring a sickening case of catarrh which was making existence miserable for me, until I was induced to try a bottle of Peruna.

"An immediate improvement gave me hope, if not relief. I kept up taking Peruna and it has so strengthened and relieved me that I am now confident of a cure. I heartily endorse Peruna for catarrhal affections and as a tonic for their weakening effects."—Geo. M. Fillmore.

A short course of Peruna now will be just in time. During the month of April you will find the strategic time to rid yourself of chronic catarrh, one of the most persistent, stubborn diseases in the whole list of human ailments.

After you have tried it you will say Peruna is positively the best spring medicine you have ever used.

A great many years of extensive trials of this remedy in this class of derangements have demonstrated its efficiency.

Numerous Testimonials.

Thousands of cases might be quoted in which Peruna has rescued people from the ravages of spring catarrh, and put them on a good, solid foundation of health.

We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements Dr. Hartman is constantly receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio. All correspondence held strictly confidential.

Local Manufacturers' Equipment Is Praised

Messrs. Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company Supplied Equipment for Municipal Power Plant, of Kenora, Ont.

A PERFECT INSTALLATION

The power plant furnished the municipality of Kenora by the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co., Limited, of this city, was tested this week and declared perfect. The last issue of the Kenora Miner and News has a description of the plant, and in it praise is given the manufacturers of the equipment. Referring to the excellence of the equipment, the paper says: While praising the ratepayers of Kenora for their progressiveness which has made this splendidly up-to-date plant possible, we cannot but congratulate them on their choice of consulting engineers, nor yet withhold our admiration from those firms who have so well fulfilled and lived up to their contracts by supplying the best and only the best.

Since the completion of Kenora's electric power plant is at last an accomplished fact and many of our citizens are deeply interested in this investment which means so much to the town of Kenora, a complete account, not only of the machinery itself, but also the devices by means of which the whole plant is protected and safeguarded, will be of interest to our readers.

To begin at the motive end, the water flow is turned into mechanical power by means of Sampson wheels (furnished by the Wm. Hamilton Co. of Peterborough, Ont.) of the drowned or submerged type, which is to say, these horizontal wheels work when entirely covered by water. These wheels are directly connected to three 835 h.p. 2,400 volt alternators.

Young Englishman Returns Dissapointed, To Old Country

Said That Canada is no Place for the Unskilled nor for the Hard up English Gentlemen---Has no Love For Canadian Farmers

HE SPENT ABOUT FOURTEEN MONTHS HERE

Of all the immigrants to this country there have been few that have gone away again utterly disgusted with the country and its customs. Yet this is what a young Englishman named Pitcher did. Last Tuesday he left Peterborough on the noon C.P.R. train for Montreal where he was to take passage for the Old Country, after spending fourteen months in Canada, and most of that time not far from this city.

He is a young man not more than 21 years of age, yet he failed to make good where others are meeting with great success. As mentioned above, he came here 14 months ago. He was pleased with the appearance of the country then, and had every hope of earning a living although he was not a mechanic or tradesman. He had had a varied experience in London where his home is, working as a clerk and at several other office positions. Although he considered this a handicap still he expected to make some use of a good education which he had received.

Hire With Farmer

When he started out to look for work he heard that the farmers were offering good prices and abandoned the idea of securing a city position. Finally his finances were becoming slighter and he accepted a job with a farmer who with accustomed generosity offered him three dollars a month, so he told a reporter. He went out to Cavan where the farmer lived and commenced duties which he had never done before. Fancy a Londoner milking and learning all the other things that are important in the life of the average farmer. Whether he was successful or not he did not say, suffice that he did not become possessed with a very strong love for his employer or his methods of teaching, which according to his story, were far from being kind or considerate. Mr. Pitcher said that when he gets back to England he intends to write to the leading papers relating his experience and the general dissatisfaction which his countrymen have with the treatment they receive on the farms. At any rate he departed the other day and will soon be back in his fatherland where he hopes to get along better than he did in this country.

No Place For Unskilled

Mr. Pitcher said that he will return to Canada again but not until he has learned a good trade. A man without a trade at which he is skilled, is no use in this country, but it is rich for a man with a good trade and a fair education. Mr. Pitcher said that the average farmer does know how to treat an English gentleman. Mr. Pitcher forgot that the farmer treats a helper as a helper, no matter what he may have been in the Old Country.

ACCORDING TO HICKS, A DISMAL PROSPECT AHEAD

Rev. Irl Hicks is no false prophet. At the first of the month he predicted a snowstorm about the 6th. The snow came all right, though, so far as Peterborough is concerned, it came two days ahead of time. In his forecast he handed out some dismal prophecies on the weather for May, including, among other undesirable features, a snowstorm. The snow came, and what those who read his forecast are wondering now is whether the rest of his prophecy, which is worse still, is coming true. If it is, it would not be wise for those who have furs to pack them away in the moth balls, because the probabilities are that they will have to get them out again before long.

INTERESTING LETTER BY CLEVER GIRL

Miss Irene Craig, Describes Hydraulic Lift Lock in Letter Written to the Montreal Star.

Miss Irene Craig, daughter of Mr. John Craig, has an interesting letter in the Montreal Family Herald and Weekly Star, on the page presided over by "Maple Leaves." Miss Craig's letter is worthy of publication, and is given to the readers of the Examiner to-day. It is as follows:

Dear Maple Leaves:

The City of Peterborough, in which I live, is situated on the left bank of the Otonabee river, and is very nicely laid out. It has a population of about fifteen thousand. The only disadvantage of the city is that there is no water connection with other cities, except the village of Lakefield, which is nine miles north of here, and to reach it you are obliged to pass over the Hydraulic Lift Lock and then up through the canal. There is another body of water near here. It is called the Little Lake, and the cemetery is situated in the middle of it.

Mentioning the Hydraulic Lift Lock, I will give you an outline of it. To begin with, it is the largest in the world, and has a lift of 65 feet. The dimensions of presses are as follows: External diameter of cylinders, 8 ft. 3 1-2 in.; diameter of ram, 7 ft. 6 in.; working stroke, 65 ft.; pressure of presses during operation, 600 lbs. to the square inch; approximate weight of water in each chamber, 300 tons; depth of water in chamber, 8 feet. Dimensions of chambers: Two, each 140 ft. long by 33 ft. wide; depth, 9 ft. 10 inches. These are built of steel plates. Height of guide towers, 100 feet from foundation. Base of tower, 26 ft. 6 in. by 40 ft. 8 in. Breast wall of lock, 40 ft. thick, 80 feet high and 136 ft. long, at base. Superstructure of lock, concrete. This is said to be the largest monolithic mass of concrete in the world. It contains 26,000 cubic yards. Cost of lock, half a million dollars. Earth removed in excavating, 120,000 cubic yards. Quantity of cement used in concrete work, 26,000 barrels. Time of lockage, 8 minutes. Actual time of vertical motion 1 1-2 min. The lock proper is automatic. Gates and capstans work by hydraulic power.

We have also a number of pretty parks here. In Victoria Park, the band plays every Friday night during the summer months.

The favourite winter sport is hockey, a game of which I am very fond, and in which I take much interest. We also have skating, tobogganing and snowshoeing. Last fall there was a roller skating rink here and the people went to it in crowds.

I am fifteen years of age and am attending the Peterborough Business College. I am following the commercial course. Later on I intend to take a course in typewriting and shorthand.

I would like very much to correspond with members of about my age, and would also like to exchange post cards.

Wishing the club and its many members every success.

IRENE CRAIG,
22 Queen street,
Peterborough, Ont.

The Star's comment on the letter is as follows:

Irene is an exceptional girl to be interested in mechanical engineering, and able to give such a clear and accurate description of the Hydraulic Lift Lock, which certainly is a marvelous piece of work.

LORD CURZON BLAMED FOR PRESENT TROUBLE IN INDIA

for the strife. "There is a certain movement on the part of the Indians, known as the 'Swedish movement,' to boycott British goods and to use only those of Indian manufacture. This is one of the results of the ill-feeling between the two races, which has also given rise to the organization of a national university independent of all Government institutions.

Students Were Easy

"These movements continued with the demonstrations in Bengal and elsewhere against the Petition of Bengal, and stirred up the people generally. The students, too, have been an easy mark for the agitators. The victory of Japan over Russia, demonstrating the power of an Eastern nation to conquer a western, has not been without its effect. In Lahore, where the chief discontent is felt, is a sect known as the "Araj Somaj," which makes one of its principles the expulsion of all foreigners, and the British in particular. It has had a great influence in stirring up the people in that district. Stories also of British injustice towards Indians, in murder cases, etc., have also been used, even when they were without foundation.

"Up to the present there has been little opposition shown to the missionaries, except where ignorance prevails and where they are associated with the government they are regarded as friends of the people.

In some cases dirt and missiles have been thrown at the missionaries, but these actions were not the expressions of what the students would do as a whole.

Struck With a Brick

Rev. Mr. Farquhar, who was in Peterborough last November, Mr. Keith informed the Examiner, was struck with a brick on one occasion while speaking on a public square. The missionaries have given up giving addresses in public in the disaffected districts.

"The mass of the people," continued Mr. Keith, "had not shown any open opposition to the British Government but regard it as absolutely necessary that the British should rule. They would consider it a great calamity should Britani withdraw.

"The greater part of the Indian people are ignorant and easily worked up when questions of their own religion or country are touched upon.

"If the agitation of the demagogues are not nipped in the bud, something of a calamity might easily take place," said Mr. Keith.

Mutiny Not Probable

When asked if he considered the agitations were sufficient to warrant another mutiny, Mr. Keith replied in the negative. It was not the same kind of a feeling that caused the mutiny 50 years ago, he considered. The disaffected districts are only Bengal and Lahore. The lessons the British Government learned in the past will not be lost sight of. The natives are unarmed and if Britain shows any sympathy at all for the people, Mr. Keith considered that there was no danger.

There are about 75,000 British troops in the country and 150,000 native soldiers. Mr. Keth thought that in the case of a mutiny the greater number of the latter would remain loyal.

A chief factor in the cause of the agitation is Shurenda Nath Bamurji, a prominent orator of Bengal and owner of the "Bengalee" newspaper, which has done much to spread discontent. He gained prominence by spreading statements against Lord Curzon, for which he was arrested but finally given his freedom.

The present viceroy is Lord Minto, who succeeded Lord Curzon a year and a half ago. Lord Kitchener, of course, is commander in chief of the British forces.

THE McCALLUM RESTAURANT HAD A BIG CONTRACT ON HAND

On account of a breakdown of the engine on the 5.10 early morning C. P. R. express from Montreal to-day, the company had to give breakfast to 250 passengers when the train arrived in Peterborough about three hours late. Mr. W. McCallum was called upon to provide a light lunch for the passengers, who were delayed nearly three hours by the accident. He received an order from the C.P.R. to have everything in readiness by 7 o'clock, but it was well on towards 8 when the express arrived.

Mr. McCallum had no difficulty in catering to this unexpected demand and was on hand at that station before the train came in. Sandwiches and coffee were served on the train, the majority of the passengers being almost famished, and they soon made away with a great quantity of the victuals.

Of the 250 passengers, quite a number were immigrants, of whom about 20 detrained here. Fifteen of these were for points on the G.T.R., some going to Belleville, Uxbridge, Powassan and Kirkfield.

General satisfaction was expressed with the quality of the food Mr. McCallum provided, and also the dispatch with which he met the emergency. Two hundred and fifty people who are really hungry require a great amount of food, and it was no trifle to prepare it on such short notice.

OTHER WARSAW HAPPENINGS

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, May 10.—The Quarterly Sacramental service of the Methodist church was held here on Sunday last.

Mr. J. E. Robertson, son of Rev. Mr. Robertson, who some years ago was stationed on this circuit of the Methodist Church, will conduct service here on Sunday next, May 12th.

Messrs. N. C. Shaver and J. E. Robeson, of Mariposa, are guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. W. Wason.

Dr. Douglas left on Monday for Saskatoon, Sask., where he will spend a couple of months.

Miss Ida Jory, who has been visiting friends at Keene, returned home on Monday.

Dr. Donald Munro, late of Blythswood, Ont., who has taken over the practice of Dr. Douglas, has arrived in town, and is arranging his office and residence in the house recently vacated by Mrs. Lynn.

Messrs. Wason and Oscar Lynn left for Calgary, Alta., last week.

Mr. Wm. Wason left on Thursday on an extended trip through Western Canada.

A lively runaway occurred on Water street on Tuesday last, when a team belonging to Mr. Chas. Christie took fright near the Warsaw Milling Co.'s mill and dashed across the mill yard at frightful speed. The spirited animals took a course directly for the front of Mr. A. F. Choate's store and were only prevented from destroying the plate glass front by one of them falling on the smooth pavement. The only damage done was the breaking of a wagon tire and harness.

SUPPORT TEAMSTERS IN THE STRIKE

Committee from Trades and Labor Believes Teamsters Were Justified in the Demands Made.

The committee appointed from the Trades and Labour Council to deal with the teamsters' strike, and obtain all the information possible bearing on the trouble, did not bring in its report last evening, owing to the unavoidable absence of one or two members. It is understood, however, that the committee (which was empowered to act in the name of the Trades and Labour Council) is unanimous in supporting the teamsters in their demand for increased pay, and feel that such demand is far from being exorbitant. The committee commend Ald. McIntyre's stand on the question, and criticized the attitude of certain aldermen who are members of trades organizations, and who fail to see the justice of the teamsters' demand.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE IN KNOX CHURCH

Robert Morrison, the First British Missionary to China, Will Be Remembered To-morrow.

Knox church will hold a memorial service to-morrow morning as this is the centenary of the commencement of Protestant missions in China. Robert Morrison was the first British Missionary. He began his labours in 1807. Macao which is now one of the centres of work under the Canadian Presbyterian church, was also the scene of his labours, and a special collection will be taken up behalf of that mission.

Sheriff Hall will address the meeting for young men to-morrow afternoon at 3 p.m.

"A lost man found," is the subject for the evening service.

A DECIDEDLY ATTRACTIVE WINDOW OF TIES

"Fashion Craft" Store Shows a New Style in Window Dressing—Good Goods Well Shown.

With the opening of the "Fashion Craft" store in Peterborough a new era in window dressing as it relates to men's goods was ushered in. The windows of this store have been consistently well dressed, symbolic, doubtless, of the condition of men who wear "Fashion Craft" clothing, but to-day there is a window in this store which is perhaps the most striking of the many different designs used by the proprietors since the store's opening. It is a window full of ties and handkerchiefs, displayed in a distinctly novel and attractive manner; a credit to the designer and an evidence of the progressiveness of the members of this young, but energetic firm.

THREE GENTLEMEN WILL TAKE LONG TRIP

Messrs. Shook, Rogers and Hall Wil Go to Pacific Coast on Pleasure Trip.

On Monday three Peterborough gentlemen will start on a pleasure trip to the Pacific Coast, which will involve their absence from the city for over a month. They are Messrs. G. M. Roger, J. C. Shook and E. H. D. Hall. They will go by way of Chicago, and through Denver to Los Angeles, where they will spend some time enjoying the delightful climate of Southern California. They will go north, up through San Francisco, and will return by the C. P. R.

Music and Drama

Mons. F. X. Mercier, the world-famed tenor and artist, who will appear at the Grand opera house, on May 21st, in grand concert, is, without exception, one of the most remarkable of tenors in the world today. Mons. Mercier left Toronto in 1898, for Paris, France, to study under the world-renowned Bouhy, and and who is known all over the world as the old master who has brought to the notice of the world the greatest artists of the day.

Mons. Mercier was not destined to remain unnoticed, even in Paris. After studying a few months with Mons. Bouhy, Mons. Mercier was chosen from 41 applicants to fill the leading tenor role in all the grand operas in "L'Opera Comique," the home of grand opera. He was engaged for three years and was accorded an ovation at each appearance. He appeared afterwards in Covent Gardens, London, for one season. He was so well received there, that he was engaged for a second season, where his success was marvellous. He then toured Europe, first in Grand Opera, and afterwards in Grand Concert. Upon each appearance he was received in the same way — nothing short of an ovation at each appearance.

The English press speak of Mons. Mercier as the greatest tenor and artist that ever appeared before an English audience. Mons. Mercier then toured all the provinces of France in both Grand Opera and Grand Concert. All through the French provinces he received an ovation at each appearance. This is all the more remarkable because it is well known all through Europe that any artist who can boast of a reception in the provinces in France, has certainly something to be proud of, when you bear in mind that very few of the leading artists in the world to-day have ever appeared in any city or town in the provinces. Therefore, it goes without saying that Mons. Mercier in coming to our city is certainly doing us a great honour, and we believe that he in turn will feel that the people of Peterborough can and will appreciate his appearance by turning out en masse to hear him.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY

The Tate Optical Co., Peterborough:

DEAR SIRS.—During the last three or four years (prior to May last) my eyesight had failed to such an extent that I was unable to read or see anything at close range and could get no Glasses that would help me. I tried two different Opticians in Toronto and was told by both that they could do nothing for me, and that my sight would never be better. A statement of my case was sent to Montreal by a Hastings optician and several pairs of Glasses sent me, but with the same result my vision could not be improved. Last May, while looking at a Pair of Glasses you made for Mr. John Fife, Keene, and talking with him he advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, and I am pleased to say that the Pair of Glasses he made for me have given me entire satisfaction and I can do now what I have not done for years past—read any ordinary print and see distinctly at close range. I feel very grateful, not only for the interest you have taken in my case, but particularly so for the blessing of good eyesight. Thanks to your knowledge and skill.

Yours truly,

(Signed) JOHN CARTER, Sr.,

SOME RIVER NOTES OF INTEREST

The Three Steamers Brought Up Many Passengers To-day.

Steamboat men consider that they have good cause for complaint against the weatherman, and state that on the trip up this morning the weather was of the Arctic variety. If it keeps up, fur coats and caps will have to be worn. In spite of the weather, however, the Water Lily, Monarch and Rainbow, had a full complement of passengers this morning.

The water in the river in the vicinity of the city is exceptionally high for this time of the year.

Fishermen are complaining that the operation of the dredge, Trent, will interfere with angling this season, inasmuch as the mud which is constantly turned up by the dredge makes fishing bad. In the long run, however, the anglers will reap the benefit.

Mr. Chris. Wood is down the river this afternoon completing the work upon his new summer house which has been delayed by the weather.

STEEL CHEESE VAT IS SATISFACTORY

Conclusive Testimony of Cheese Maker to This Effect—Steel Trough at Machine Company's Cheese Vats.

To whom it may concern:

This is to certify that I have been using the new steel cheese vat made by the Steel Trough and Machine Company, of Tweed, and after giving it a fair trial I am convinced it is going to be a success. I am greatly pleased with it. It will be much more sanitary than the old wooden vat. It gives out no more heat than the wooden vat and will be much easier kept clean. I certainly would advise any person getting a vat to get the new steel vat made by the Steel Trough and Machine Company, of Tweed.

TRANSFORMATION OF OLD P.A.A. GROUNDS

Messrs. Cook Bros. Have Made a Great Change There.

People who do not often visit East City will be struck with the transformation which Messrs. Cook Bros. have made in the old P. A. A. A. grounds. The field upon which so many hard fought games were played, has been turned into a block of dwellings, through which runs a street, Cricket Place. Four handsome houses have already been erected there and three more are being built now. The district is a most desirable one for residential purposes, and few of the old timers would recognize the athletic grounds as they appear now.

ALL-EMPIRE ROUTE TO BE DISCUSSED

Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Bring Scheme Before Conference.

MAY REMOVE THE EMBARGO

Measure to Take Away Ban From Canadian Cattle—Lloyd George is Enquiring — Deportation Causes Trouble—Moville as Call Port—Premier Twits Mr. Balfour—Canada Fair and Reasonable.

London, May 11.—The Aberdeen Free Press says the attitude of Canada throughout the discussion of the question of preference at the conference, has been perfectly fair and reasonable.

The Dundee Advertiser says, in dealing with the United States and France, Newfoundland speaks as if it were the bellicose British empire, and not at all with the soft reasoning voice of a state in population equal to a second-rate British town.

May Remove Embargo.

The president of the Board of Agriculture visited Deptford Market, it is believed, for the purpose of judging whether the precautions taken and the facilities existing there were sufficient to preclude any possibility of the importation of diseased cattle. Great hopes are entertained that the visit is a prelude to a removal of the veto on Canadian cattle.

Mr. Thomas Cairns, M.P. for Newcastle-on-Tyne, gave notice in the House yesterday of a bill to remove the ban from the importation of Canadian cattle.

Laurier's Route.

The Canadian Press has reason to believe that Laurier will bring a scheme for an all-Empire route to Britain through Canada to Australasia and the Orient before the Imperial Conference next Tuesday. The scheme is now ready to be made public, and it seems probable the Home Government will give it a favorable consideration.

A deputation of M. P.'s and representatives of commercial interests in Ireland waited on Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday regarding the abandonment of Moville as a port of call for the Canadian steamers. The Marquis of Hamilton, M. P. for North Londonderry, spoke of the disadvantages to Scotland and the North of England through the substitution of Liverpool for Loch Foyle. Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised to lay the views of the deputation before Sir Richard Cartwright. Sir Wilfrid also pointed out that the shortening of the time occupied in the passage between Canada and the Mother Country is a great desideratum with the Canadian Government, and asked for information as to the alleged incapacity of Lough Foyle to accommodate the largest [illegible] steamers.

Undesirables Cause Trouble.

Two hundred deported undesirables from Canada are causing feeling between the poor law authorities and the shipping companies at Liverpool.

Balfour's Hurry.

Premier Campbell-Bannerman, speaking at Manchester said they should be thankful that Mr. Balfour at last had been brought into line on the question of a colonial preference, but he might have refrained from collapsing at the penitent form until the guests of the nation had returned home.

TO HIS NATIVE HEATH.

Sir Wilfrid Will Visit the Hamlet of His Forefathers.

Ottawa, Ont., May 11.—It is said here that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lady Laurier, have planned a period of rest on the Continent of Europe and a visit to the original village from which the Premier's family came in France. First of all, they will remain in Paris with Hon. and Madame Brodeur.

The Minister of Marine awaits the completion of the Government steamer Stanley in Scotland and will proceed upon her to the Baltic Sea to compare the work of Canadian and Russian ice-breakers.

Liners Propelled From Niagara.

London, May 11.—Sir Hugh Bell, presiding at the meeting Thursday of the Iron and Steel Institute, suggested that a century hence a ship with hardly any machinery or crew would speed across the Atlantic propelled by electric force, generated by the Falls of Niagara and transmitted to the vessel wirelessly. Such a forecast, the speaker declared, was no more incredible than the developments of the past century.

City Treasurer Accused.

Syracuse, May 11.—The city treasurer has discovered a shortage in the accounts of the office during the term of E. F. Allan as treasurer. It is impossible to tell, until experts report, how large the shortage is. In one case Mayor Alan C. Forbes is shown, upon the local contract books, to owe $1,900 since 1894. The mayor has Allan's receipt for the money.

Woodstock Carnegie Library.

Woodstock, Ont., May 11.—Woodstock is to have a fine Carnegie library building, the contracts for which were let yesterday. The style of architecture will be renaissance. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $19,000, and the committee found it necessary to remodel their plans owing to the great cost of labor and building material.

Hummel Sentenced.

New York, May 11.—One year in state prison and a fine of $500 was the sentence imposed yesterday upon Abraham H. Hummel, the lawyer who was convicted of conspiracy in the famous Dodge-Morse divorce case.

Killed Babe and Self.

Pittsburg, May 11.—Despondent because of ill-health, Mrs. Carrie Sigsworth, 31 years old, killed her 18-months-old child and then shot and killed herself yesterday at her home in Allegheny. The bodies were found by her husband when he returned from his night's work in a steel mill.

STRIKE GETTING SERIOUS.

Atlantic Liners Cannot Get Unloaded At New York.

New York, May 11.—The resident heads of the steamship companies included in the International Mercantile Marine at this port assumed the aggressive yesterday toward the striking longshoremen. After a conference they served notice upon the strikers that unless they returned to work within a week their places would be permanently fixed by other men. At the meeting the steamship men reaffirmed the determination not to yield to the demand for higher wages.

A portion of the incoming cargoes of some of the liners due to sail today is still in the holds of the vessels. With only the crews of the vessels and a few hundred inexperienced strike-breakers to move it, there was a prospect that the practice of sailing the steamers on their schedules carrying back some of the freight they had brought over would have to be continued. Piers along both sides of the Hudson River were piled high with freight.

Possibility of an extension of the strike to include the teamsters engaged in carting freight from the docks became evident yesterday when officers of the Longshoremen's Union declared that they would endeavor to bring about such a strike in sympathy with their own men. The officials also asserted that they will ask the coal trimmers to join in the strike.

SWEPT BY FIERCE GALE.

Lake Ontario Visited by the Worst Storm for Years.

Rochester, N. Y., May 11.—Lake Ontario was swept on Thursday night by one of the worst storms in years, which drove back into the harbor such boats as ventured out on the lake, kept many others in port, and caused many narrow escapes from wreck. In fact, grave fears are felt for the safety of such vessels as were caught out on the lake and had to endure the full fury of the storm, which piled the surface of the lake into huge waves, which swept over the boats from bow to stern.

One of the worst experiences was that of the D. F. Van Allan, a steam barge. This boat left Charlotte loaded with 1,000 tons of coal for the Toronto Electric Light Company. The wind was blowing a gale when the boat left the harbor, and as soon as it got fairly out into the lake, the full fury of the storm struck it. After battling for three miles, the barge finally gave up the task as hopeless, turned about and came back into the harbor. The steam barge John Rugee of Ogdensburg came into the harbor at Charlotte at 8 o'clock yesterday morning after a trying experience. Fortunately, it was running light, a fact which probably saved it, but when the barge finally made the harbor yesterday morning it was encrusted with ice and snow. The crew were exhausted with the trying experience. The boat was manned by Captain Fitzgerald and a crew of ten.

PELTED WITH ROSES.

Women Show Sympathy With Strike-breakers at 'Frisco.

San Francisco, May 11.—Roses and carnations, instead of brickbats and cobblestones, were features of the trips of two cars of the United Railroads, manned by twenty strike-breakers from the barns yesterday. The cars covered three or four miles through the business and residence streets of the western addition. The courage of the unarmed strike-breakers in operating the cars moved women to stand on doorsteps or lean from windows and wave handkerchiefs, clap their hands, cheer and throw kisses to them. On the return trip a young girl ran out of a florist's shop and tossed carnations upon the platform of one of the police-protected cars. The cars were halted while young women brought carnations and roses from the shop and offered them to the men.

HEIR TO THE THRONE OF ALFONSO

Son is Born to the King and Queen of Spain.

ALL THE NATION REJOICES

King Edward Receives the News With Delight—Auspicious Occasion Was Marked With All Regal Pomp—Great Enthusiasm — Prisoners Are Pardoned—General Holiday is Proclaimed.

Madrid, May 11.—Queen Victoria gave birth yesterday to a son, who becomes heir to the throne of Spain.

The birth of the royal babe has been awaited with eager interest throughout Spain. This was intensified early this morning, when the first word came from the palace that the accouchement of the Queen was imminent. The news spread like wildfire, and crowds flocked to the great plazza fronting the royal palace.

At 8 o'clock the King canceled the meeting of the council of Ministers, which was to have considered current state affairs. By 10 o'clock the high functionaries of the state and capital, with many Ambassadors and Ministers, in their court costumes, had reached the palace. At noon this assemblage of the nobility and power of Spain was grouped in the royal apartments set aside for official ceremonies.

Prince of the Asturias.

The birth of the babe occurred at 12.45 p.m. The announcement was immediately conveyed to the waiting officials and crowds outside the palace, who received the glad tidings with mingled feelings of enthusiasm and emotion. That the Queen had been blessed with a son—a male heir to the throne—was no less welcome than the happy event itself.

The son born yesterday to King Alfonso and Queen Victoria will, according to a decree of the Spanish Government, bear the title of Prince of the Asturias, in professed imitation of the title of Prince of Wales, given to the eldest sons of English Kings.

The formal announcement of the sex of the royal infant was made by the Camarara mayor, or mistress of the robes, to Premier Maura, who communicated the fact to the company. The news was greeted with the greatest enthusiasm, which swelled into a spontaneous cheer, as King Alfonso himself entered accompaning the Camarara mayor carrying a huge silver tray, upon which was lying the newly-born royal babe, covered with delicate lace garments.

Premier Maura at once advanced and relieved the mistress of the robes of her burden. Then all present were afforded a glimpse of the child, which, thereupon, was handed back to the mistress of the robes, and by the latter was given to the royal nurse, who returned to the Queen.

Scene in the Streets.

The scenes in the streets outside were almost beyond description. Business had been suspended for hours. An immense multitude gathered about the palace, and when the royal standard of red and gold fluttered to the peak of the flagstaff on the Punta de Diamente, a great shout of joy went up. Immediately afterward a salute of twenty-one guns carried the news to the most remote confines of the city and to the inhabitants of the surrounding country.

Pope Pius, King Edward and Emperor William will act as sponsors at the baptism of the royal infant at Madrid.

The Queen insists that she will herself nurse the child, despite the opposition of the royal household to such a departure from custom, as she desires to ensure its good health.

The child is described as being a robust blonde, and as having his mother's complexion.

Almost immediately after the birth had been announced, a Te Deum was chanted in the chapel of the palace, where the Holy Sacrament had remained exposed throughout the accouchement of the Queen.

The Queen was the first to kiss the baby, and she was followed by the two grandmothers, Princess Beatrice of Battenberg and Maria Christina, the Dowager Queen of Spain.

Decrees were issued last night ordering a national holiday throughout Spain for Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The Cabinet met yesterday, drew up and afterwards presented to King Alfonso for his signature decrees transferring the title of heir presumptive from Prince Charles of Bourbon to the new-born prince.

It has been decided that the baptism shall take place on Tuesday at noon. In court circles it is desired that the baby be named Carlos, but the matter of his appellation has not yet been definitely decided.

King Alfonso, in honor of the event, decreed the pardon of thousands of prisoners, including eight persons who were condemned to suffer the death penalty.

The press of Spain without reservation rejoices in the birth of the little prince.

The News In London.

London, May 11.—The birth of an heir to the Spanish throne was received with unfeigned satisfaction by King Edward and all the royal family here, who received the first news through a newspaper agency.

The general public, with whom Princess Ena, the name by which Queen Victoria was known previous to her conversion to Catholicism, was always a prime favorite, was equally pleased.

Roosevelt Congratulates.

Washington, May 11.—President Roosevelt sent King Alfonso the following message yesterday:

"I congratulate your Majesty and the Spanish nation on the birth of an heir to the throne of Spain."

Regrets Germany's Course.

London, May 11.—Speaking at Manchester, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Premier, expressed the keen disappointemnt of the Government at the refusal of Germany to discuss the question of the limitation of armaments at The Hague conference.

DEVOURED BY ANTS IS STATEMENT

Guatemalan Authorities Accused of Terrible Outrages.

SLAY WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Military Are Reported to Be Committing Unspeakable Atrocities—Government Allows Its Political Opponents to Be Ruthlessly Massacred—Man Stung to Death While the Soldiers Danced

New Orleans, La., May 11.—Despatches from Puerto Cortez, Honduras, Thursday, say: Americans arriving here report that the Guatemalan Government is committing unspeakable outrages. Even women and children are not being spared. A family of ten was massacred by soldiers near Guatemala City by order of the Government, when Jon Olivera, a wealthy planter, incurred the enmity of the Government on account of his political activity. When the soldiers went to arrest him he showed fight and they shot him to death. Every member of his family was then slain. Acitz Crecare, one of Cabrera's political opponents, near Livingstone, was tied to a stake in the middle of a hill of poisonous ants. His clothing was stripped from his body and the soldiers danced around his writhing form as the insects stung him to death.

The refugees report that two Americans, C. L. Lullen of Little Rock, Ark., and Marshal Stamms, of Cincinnati, are in jail in Guatemala City charged with alleged complicity in a conspiracy to assassinate President Cabrera.

Mexico and Guatemala.

Washington, May 11.—The Mexican ambassador, Mr. Creel, authorizes the statement that the trouble between Mexico and Guatemala, which has threatened to terminate the diplomatic relations between the two countries, has been definitely and satisfactorily adjusted. Mr. Creel received advices from his Home Government to this effect last night. The basis of the agreement the ambassador declined to discuss.

KILLED WHILE ESCAPING.

Mob Try to Lynch Detective Who Shot Prisoner.

Butte, Mont., May 11.—Patrolman Jackson last night shot and killed Harry Cole as the latter was attempting to escape. Cole was arrested on suspicion of being one of the Northern Pacific train robbers. A mob of 2,000 persons besieged the city jail, led by Cole's brother, in an effort to lynch Detective McGarvey, who it was thought shot Cole. McGarvey was put in the jail for protection. The mob had a rope and clamored to lynch McGarvey. Harry Cole was a brother of George Cole, now in the penitentiary for the robbery of a Burlington train two years ago.

FACES LIBEL CHARGE.

Asselin Accuses Minister Prevost of Maladministration.

Quebec, May 11.—Oliver Asselin, publisher of Le Nationaliste, Montreal, was placed on trial in the criminal court yesterday, charged with defamatory libel against Hon. Jean Prevost, Provincial Minister of Colonization and Mines, who was accused with maladministration of the mining department in the interests of personal friends. L. A. Laflamme of Montreal defends Asselin, and the day was spent in efforts to empanel a jury, but only nine jurymen were secured.

Conspiracy Case Goes Over.

Toronto, May 11.—The London conspiracy case will not come on until the next sitting of the jury assises. At Osgoode Hall yesterday Justice Anglin gave judgment granting the motion of E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., on behalf of O'Gorman, Reid, Wiley and others. The reasons advanced by the counsel for the defendants were that the evidence of T. H. Preston, who is now in Hong Kong, was very material to the defence, and, further, that if the case were brought on at the present time he (Mr. Johnston) would have to retire owing to pressure of other business.

Life Underwriters Meet.

Montreal, May 11.—The executive of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada finished its business yesterday afternoon. A committee was appointed to report on the proposals for new insurance legislation which will be laid before Parliament next session. Mr. A. H. Vipond of Montreal presided and Mr. W. S. Milne of Toronto acted as secretary. It was reported that by the organization of Saskatchewan, which was completed last week, the establishment of branches of the association in all the provinces of Canada was completed.

Earl Gray Has Sailed.

Montreal, May 11.—The Governor-General was a passenger on the Allan liner Virginia, which sailed from Montreal yesterday morning. The Governor-General, who is accompanied only by his valet, occupied the suite of rooms which Prince Arthur of Connaught had on his return to England last year.

Fire At Shannonville.

Contractors Declare Open Shop.

Denver, May 11.—Seventy-five general contractors, angered at the action of their carpenters in quitting work, because of the millmen's strike, after they had been granted a 10 per cent. increase in wages on April 1, Thursday announced that they would begin employing non-union labor next Monday. This will result in Denver becoming an open town in the building trades, it is predicted.

SOME HARMFUL EFFECTS OF THE HASTY INSURANCE LEGISLATION

It is an old but a true saying, that "It is wise to make haste slowly." Particularly is this true in regard to any measure of a legislative character, which effects such an important interest as that of life assurance. It would almost appear that our neighbours to the south of us have been too hasty in framing insurance legislation. The Canadian Parliament, now that the work of the Royal Commission is completed, is wisely taking time, or allowing time, for a discussion of the draft bill. This is characteristic of Finance Minister Fielding, and is a further evidence of the cautious and careful consideration which he bestows on the many important matters coming within the scope of his Department. Such an attitude bespeaks the statesman. Why may not Canada enact laws governing the great business of life assurance, that shall be the very best in the world?

The following article from the "Spectator" of New York, a journal established in 1828, gives some of the resultant effects of the hasty Armstrong laws:

"Some of the bills relating to insurance introduced in the different State Legislatures have taken those jammed through the New York Legislature last winter by the Armstrong committee as models for new laws. As a matter of fact, the Armstrong laws were crude, illy digested and, in some instances, wholly impracticable. As a result, the companies, while seeking to comply with their requirements, have been largely at sea, not knowing what interpretation may be put upon them. One illustration of the incoherence of these laws is found in the election of trustees for the mutual companies. The voting of the policy-holders closed on December 18, and the result of the election has not yet been officially determined, although a fair guess at the result has been made by the inspectors. The counting of the votes from all over the world, in various forms and different languages, has been a work of magnificent proportions, and has been conducted, thus far, at a cost of over $500 a day each to the Mutual and the New York Life. All this delay is due to the fact that the Armstrong law compelling such elections was so lacking in details as to the methods to be followed, that no two inspectors, or anyone else, has been able to find out just what to do in the matter. And it is probable that the courts will eventually have to decide the numerous questions that have arisen. Other provisions of the Armstrong laws discriminate so unfairly against the domestic and other companies doing business in New York State, that several have chosen to withdraw from the State rather than submit to these requirements. Among the companies that have ceased doing business in New York up to the present time are the Pacific Mutual of San Francisco, the Reliance of Pittsburg, the Hartford of Hartford, the Minnesota Mutual of Minneapolis, the Michigan Mutual of Detroit, the Canada Life of Toronto, and the North American of Toronto. The State Life of Indianapolis is probably to be added to this list, as it had not filed its annual statement with the Insurance Department on March 1, which was the limit of time allowed for such filing. The other State companies remaining and the domestic companies are handicapped in seeking business outside of the State because of the special requirements they are forced to comply with in accordance with the provisions of the Armstrong laws. Any State that adopts these unreasonable and arbitrary laws as a model for its own legislation will make a serious mistake."

FATHER: Abe, how many years could I understate my age to der insurance company, twendy or twendy-five years?

SON: Vell fader, if you cut your hair a leedle und use some dye und cosmedic, you could say fordy-five instead of seventy; den keep out 'of der vay for two years und der policy would be undisputable.

The present law provides that no policy shall be voided for misstatement of age, but that the assurance payable shall be only that amount which the premium paid would have purchased at the true age. In place of this equitable provision the Commissioners propose that the statement of age shall be unchallengable after two years, even if fraudulently wrong.

Though this is but one of the minor recommendations of the Commissioners, it is characterized by the same lack of judgment as their other proposals. Most of their suggestions are now known to be either verbatim extracts from the famous, or infamous, Armstrong law of New York, or, if original, then so crude and unworkable as to actually provoke a smile.

FINE ROLLER GAME PLAYED

Interesting Hockey Match at the Rink Last Night—V. Fowler Won Skating Prize.

AN UNUSUALLY BIG CROWD

The roller skating rink contained one of the biggest crowds of the season last night, the weekly skating contest and roller hockey matches proving a great attraction. The floor was in excellent shape and the healthful and enjoyable pastime of skating was indulged in by a crowd that filled the floor space of the rink. The skating contest for men was a decidedly interesting event and the field from which the judges had to make their award, was so large and skilful that the officials had a hard task to select the winner. They finally decided upon Mr. V. Fowler and he received the handsome gold ring, which was the prize given for the event. The judges were Messrs. Smith, C. E. Frost and H. Morgan.

Roller hockey was tried for the first time this season and promises to become a most popular pastime, both for players and spectators. The rules governing the contest are the same as those regulating ice hockey and the game is very similar, possessing many of the features that make hockey on ice Canada's most popular pastime. The game last night was very interesting despite the fact that the players were handicapped by the unusual conditions.

The two opposing teams were captained by Messrs. F. Clancy and Harvey Staunton, and so closely were they matched that at the end of two twenty-minute halves the score was a tie or to be more exact there was no score, neither team having driven the ball between the posts. The game was warmly contested and was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd which remained to see the match. The players showed good form and with more practice a team could be selected that would take a lot of beating. Mr. Fred Whitcroft made a satisfactory referee. The teams lined up as follows:—

RAPID TOOL CO'S BALL TEAM

The Rapid Tool Company employees at an enthusiastic meeting held Thursday night in the National Hotel organized a baseball team for the season with the following officers:—

Hon. Vice-Pres.—Mr. G L Hay.
President—E B Fowler.
Vice-President—F E Bell.
Sec.-Treas.—S Gibbs.

Captain—L Frazier.

The Rapid Tool bunch will have a strong team. They have secured Jack Connors to do the twirling and with him on the mound they should make a good showing in the City League which they intend entering if one is formed.

TO ARRANGE SCHEDULE ON TUESDAY

Meeting Will Be Held on Tuesday, in Lindsay, to Draw Schedule of Junior Games.

The secretary of the Junior Lacrosse Club has received a letter from Mr. H. B. Clemes, the manager of the district, calling a meeting of the teams in the district for Tuesday, May 14th, in Lindsay, for the purpose of arranging the schedule for the season.

Mr. Clemes stated in his letter that the Shamrocks of Oshawa were the only other club to respond to his former letter. It is expected, however that there will be several other clubs entering from this district.

INTERMEDIATE CITY LEAGUE FORMED

Five Teams Have Already Entered and Two More Expected—Should Provide Interesting Ball.

MR. JAS. LANG PRESIDENT

An Intermediate City Baseball League was formed at a meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. last night, and if the different teams proceed with the enthusiasm which was displayed last night there are going to be some interesting ball games played under the league's management. There were five teams represented—Strathconas, Charlie Curtis; Karenots, Charlie Ray and Victor Carton; West Ends, Watson Butcher and "Jimmy" McNern; Lilies, B. Bartley and E. Shepherd; Lakeviews, Mordie McGill and H. Theobald.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Patrons and Patronesses — Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kendry, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hall, M.P.; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Howden.

Hon. President — Hon. J. R. Stratton.

President—Jas. Lang.

Sec. Treas.—F. D. Craig.

Executive — Messrs. Curtis, Ray, Butcher, Herb Campbell and Theobald.

Mr. Dingman, of the Y. M. C. A., has promised to enter a team, and one is also expected from East City. At the next meeting on Wednesday night of next week they may appoint a representative to the Executive, providing they decide to enter.

A schedule will be drawn up on Wednesday night, and each representative is expected to have a full list of the players that his team wishes to play during the season. He must also be prepared to vote on amount of entry fee, and where the games shall be played. The Executive will ask the following to accept the duties of umpire: F. D. Craig, Leo. Derocher, Jos. Picard, Herb Campbell, Byron Green and W. J. Stacey. Six men were selected so as to ensure two for one night when two games may be played.

The object of the league is to develop the intermediate players, and "has beens" will not be allowed to participate. If there are any sporting men in the city who would like to help the boys, their assistance would be thankfully received.

The Y.M.C.A. and East Cities should be represented, and the league will thus be a fairly strong one. The games will begin after May 24.

THE GOLF CLUB WILL GO TO TORONTO

Game With Either the Lambton or Toronto Clubs on Victoria Day.

The Peterborough Gold Club will in all probability be sending a team to Toronto on Victoria Day to play a match with either the Lambton or the Toronto Club. The captain has been in communication with both these clubs, and has received replies which are favourable. In view of this fact, it is desirable that the members of the club should turn out and get into condition.

HARRIERS HAD HARD WORK TO WIN

A Closely Contested Game of Basketball Played Last Night at Y.M.C.A.

One of the fastest and most closely contested basket ball games of the season, was played last night in the Y.M.C.A. gym., between the Harriers and a picked team. The Harriers are the champions of the Y.M.C.A. Fall League, and the winners of the Cressman Trophy, and are considered to be the fastest team in the local Y.M.C.A. They kept up their reputation last night, winning out after a hard struggle by the close score of 41—38. The half-time score stood 22—12 in favour of thee winners. In the second half the picked team found their gait and settled down to lower the score. They shot basket after basket and with about three minutes to play, were holding the big end of the score, with four points to the good. But the Harriers finished strong, and won out. The best of good feeling prevailed among the players.

A GUILD ATHLETIC TO BE FORMED

Effort is Being Made to Have One in Peterborough Embracing the Church Guilds.

An effort is being made to organize a Guild Athletic League in the city, embracing representatives from the various denominations. The matter is now under consideration by Mr. A. E. Wilson of All Saints', a young and energetic sportsman who has had considerable experience in Toronto in a similar league.

The idea is that one body of officers control the business affairs of the league, the Executive Committee to consist of representatives from each guild.

The various sports would be taken up in season, and trophies put up for competition among the teams of the different guilds. No club not belonging to a church would be allowed to enter the union.

Mr. Wilson proposes to have a junior, intermediate and senior series, limiting the former to boys under 16 and the latter to young men over 18 years of age, while those between those ages would come under the intermediate series.

The idea appears to be a good one and would undoubtedly work well in Peterborough. Those wishing to assist in the formation of such a league are requested to communicate with Mr. Wilson, in care of the C. G. E.

A TREAT GIVEN AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Rev. J. W. Pedley, Delivers Delightful Lecture Under Auspices of the Fraser Mission Band.

Rev. J. W. Pedley of Toronto delighted a large audience in St. Paul's Sunday school room last night with his lecture on "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Rev. Mr. Pedley is a fluent speaker with a touch of humour that was admirably fitted to his subject, and the audience was kept in a state of laughter from beginning to end of his remarks.

At the conclusion of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Rev. Mr. Pedley on motion of Mr. John Carnegie, seconded by Sheriff Hall. Rev. Dr. Torrance was in the chair.

A short but very enjoyable musical programme was given before the lecture. Miss Mattie Robertson and Miss Gladys Crane rendered an enjoyable piano duet, in which they displayed great skill. Miss Helen Davies was heard with much pleasure in a vocal solo, and a quintette composed of Miss Davies and Messrs Crane, Nelson, Gillespie and Bonnet rendered a delightful selection, Miss Davies taking the solo very effectively.

The Fraser Mission Band, under whose auspices the entertainment was held, are to be thanked for the splendid treat the gave those present.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, May 11.—Stocks were rather dull during to-day's short session, but on the whole the tone was rather cheerful. During the first hour there was some big selling of Smelters and Reading, which took those issues off two points, but at the lower level the bears did not succeed in getting any long stock. The buying of Union Pacific had been persistent all morning, and when the bank statement, which was more favourable than had been expected, appeared, the shorts began covering and a final rally ensued, which took prices to the high of the day, and they closed there. C.P.R. was rather heavy on London selling, and some short selling here on account of the poor prospect for the coming wheat crop. The market closed with net gains in most everything and looks as though it would do better next week.

Wheat was very strong again to-day and advanced over 3 cents per bushel. The weather was a little more favourable, but foreign markets were away up, Buda Pest closing eight cents higher. Foreigners were heavy buyers of wheat, the cash article jumped up and the bull party boosted things in the old-fashioned way. Closing prices were the best of the day. Corn and oats shared in the strength with wheat. Looks as if it would ultimately be shoved over the dollar mark, but after an advance of seven cents in two days a reaction must come.

SIMCOE ST. RESIDENTS LOSE DOGS

Mr. A. Webber, Had Valuable Fox Terrier Poisoned Yesterday—A Despicable Deed.

A correspondent sends the Examiner the following communication today in reference to the dog-poisoning question:

Another of the city's best dogs is gone. Mr. A. Webber, Simcoe street, being the loser of his thoroughbred fox terrier. He had it particularly for his little girl. The two of them were playing on the street all morning, when all at once the little fellow staggered into the house, falling just inside the door, and dying a few minutes afterwards. Besides this dog, another man on the same street lost a spaniel the same morning. How long is this work going to continue?

YOUNG PIGS THE CHIEF FEATURE

Occupying Attention of the Farmers—Market Not Largely Attended.

The chilly weather that is being experienced has had a bad effect on the Saturday markets during the past few weeks. To-day's market was not at all encouraging, and only a few farmers were in. The market is featured now by the sale of young pigs. Almost every rig had a crate of pigs about six weeks old, and the general price was from $3 to $6.50. Seed potatoes were offered in a fairly large quantity at 75 cents a bag, ordinary potatoes sold at 90 cents, while butter and eggs demanded the usual prices.

Following are the prevailing quotations:

NEW MILITARY DIVISION.

Col. Steele Appointed D. O. C. For Western District No. 11.

Ottawa, May 11.—Col. A. D. Steele, who commanded Strathcona's Horse in South Africa, is to be appointed to the command of the new military district, No. 11, in the Canadian West, that is to comprise the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Col. Steele, who since the South African war has been in command of B division of the South African Constabulary, with headquarters at Pretoria, recently resigned from that body and is now in England on his way home to this country. His appointment as D. O. C. for Alberta and Saskatchewan will be most popular in the west, where the colonel spent most of his life.

G. F. MARTER PASSES AWAY.

Former Conservative Leader Succumbs After Long Illness.

Toronto, May 10.—George F. Marter, ex-M. P. P., at one time leader of the Conservative Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, and well known as a temperance leader in the province, died early yesterday morning at his home, 12 Elm Grove avenue Mr. Marter had been confined to his bed for some time with diabetes and his death was not unexpected.

All the members of his family were present at his bedside.

The late Mr. Marter was a member of the Methodist Church, and a public service will be held for him.

The funeral will take place on Monday next.

GEORGE F. MARTER, ex-M. P. P.

The late George Frederick Marter was born in 1840 and was educated in the Brantford Grammar School and early in life engaged in business as a merchant, and took an active part in municipal affairs, holding a seat in the Council of Waterford, and for some years the position of clerk for the Township of Wyndham.

He afterwards removed to Muskoka, which he represented as reeve until his ability sent him to the Ontario Legislature in 1886.

Elected Conservative Leader.

Here in the Ontario House he found a chance to expand, and on the elevation of Sir William R. Meredith to the bench in 1894, he was unanimously chosen to succeed him as leader of the Conservative Opposition. He had previously removed to Toronto and had been returned for North Toronto at the general election of 1894, defeating his opponent, Joseph Tait, by a majority of 806.

Although qualified to successfully fill the position of leader of the Ontario Conservative party, and possessing the confidence of all, Mr. Marter did not find the office particularly congenial, as he was not one to condemn measures because they emanated from the Treasury Benches of the Liberals or to approve of others because fathered by his own party.

Post Was Irksome.

His broad-minded views and his high standard of principle allowed him to dispassionately view the faults as well as the virtues of both sides of the House, and his sense of fair play and desire for real legislation in the interests of all the people were not to him reconcilable with his office, so he resigned from the post on April 2, 1896.

For several years past Mr. Marter was president of the Canadian branch of the London and Lancashire Insurance Co., which position he occupied at his death.

He was prominent in the Masonic order and was a member of the Foresters.

Staunch on Temperance.

Mr. Marter has always been known as a staunch temperance man, and one who did not leave his temperance principles behind him when he entered Parliament.

Indeed, the first attempt to secure provincial prohibition through the Ontario Legislature was when Mr. Marter, then in opposition, introduced what was known as "The Marter Bill." This was an act which provided for abolition of the bar-room throughout the province.

Smallpox Outbreak.

London, May 11.—The report of a smallpox outbreak in Anderton Township is confirmed.

It is said there are upwards of sixty cases. Assistance from the provincial board of health has been requested.

It is thought the contagion spread from Sandwich West, where there was an outbreak recently.

"DOLLAR WHEAT" AN ACTUAL FACT

Pandemonium Reigned in the "Pit" at Chicago This Morning When Wheat Shot Up

SOME MARKET FEATURES

(J. R. Heintz & Co. Special.)

Chicago, May 13.—There were big doings in the wheat pit on the Board of Trade to-day, when wheat shot up to a dollar a bushel and "dollar wheat" became a reality. Seldom have such scenes as those enacted this morning been seen on 'change. Opening prices, under an enormous volume of outside buying orders, were about six cents a bushel high, and September and December wheat sold at $1.03 a bushel, while July rose to 97 1-4 cents.

Brokers were swamped with orders and pandemonium reigned supreme. Wheat was selling at all kinds of prices in different parts of the pit at the same time. It is quite impossible to describe the scene, which has not been equalled since the big bull move five years ago. Foreign markets were away up, the crop news was sensational, and no one had any wheat to sell. Shorts were in a panic trying to cover, while the people who had wheat would not part with it.

Liverpool cables were 2 1-8 to 2 3-8d. higher, Paris was up 2 1-2 and Buda Pest 3 5-8c. Berlin alone showed a decline closing 3-4 lower. Corn and oats were very active and higher in sympathy with the wheat. The weather was a little more favourable in the southwest, while still cold in the Northwest, and snow in the Dakotas.

Fenelon Falls Is Again The Scene Of Disastrous Fire

Saw Mill This Time Falls a Prey to the Devouring Element—Serious Loss to Village.

WAS TOTALLY DESTROYED

Fenelon Falls, May 13th. — Fenelon Falls was again visited by fire early on Saturday morning. The alarm was given by the blowing of the Chemical Company's whistle, fire having been discovered in the saw-mill situated on the company's property, just south of the works. The mill had not been running steady for several years, only a few weeks' cut being made each time. This year Mr. Mort Whaley had leased it and had been operating it for about a fortnight, but was compelled to shut down about ten o'clock on Friday morning for repairs, and men had been working around the mill until late that night. Some of the night staff of the Chemical works discovered the fire about 2 a.m., on Saturday, and the alarm was at once sounded, but it was too late to save the mill, which was completely destroyed. The loss to Mr. Whaley who had an edging machine and a number of other articles in the mill, will be considerable. There was no insurance on either the mill or its contents.

GANANOQUE MAN KILLED WIFE AND TWO CHILDREN

Examiner Special

Gananoque, May 13th.—This morning a man named Waldie, who lived some distance out in the country, killed his wife and two children with a hammer, and then cut his own throat. Further particulars are not yet obtainable.

Later.—Gananoque, May 13.—William Waldie, aged 38, a farmer, living two miles east of Gananoque, killes his wife and two children with a hammer this morning, knocking their brains out while they lay asleep. The children were aged two and four. Waldie then went downstairs and wrote a note, which he left on the table, saying that upstairs would be found the work of a mental and physical wreck. The victim of a mania for the last two years, unknown to any one but himself. "Would to God I had never been born," continued the note. "I have killed the dearest woman and unborn babe and the two sweetest of children. I had intended to kill myself, but I could not at the last leave them to the scoff of the world." Waldie then went upstairs and cut his own throat from ear to ear, his body and that of the murdered wife and children being found by the hired man on his return from the cheese factory.

WATER DESTROYING FLOORS IN NEW KING EDWARD SCHOOL

On Saturday a man was engaged to pump the water from the basement of the new King Edward School. It was stated that there were no less than five inches of water on the lower floor of this building, and though the sewer has been completed, it will not carry off the water which accumulates in the cellar. The result is that the concrete floor, according to the statement of a city contractor, is being destroyed, and the continued dampness in the lower part of the building is having an injurious effect on the other parts. The fact has been established that the new Romaine street sewer will not carry the water from the cellar of the school into the main sewer, and, admitting this to be the case, it would seem that the sewer, so far as practical purposes are concerned, is useless.

Big Decrease In Quantity Of Cheese Manufactured

Backward Spring Has a Serious Effect on the Manufacture of Dairy Products.

MR. PUBLOW'S STATEMENTS

Reports received in the dairying branch of the Agricultural Department, are that the late spring has seriously affected the output of cheese, which is fully one third less than in the corresponding period of former years. The pasture growth has been greatly retarded by the cold dry weather and feed for the cattle is scarce and is rapidly advancing in price. In Carleton, Russell, Prescott, Glengarry and Stormont counties, conditions are particularly unfavourable, and the make of cheese in those counties will be considerably less than in other sections of the province.

The prospects are, however, that the quality of the cheese made will be excellent. Messrs. G. G. Publow of Kingston, and F. Hearns of London, the chief sanitary and dairy inspectors for the province, report that the factories were never in such good condition as now. The owners have spent a lot of money fixing up the factories and putting them in such shape as to make the task of keeping them clean a much easier one than formerly.

Bishop's Appeal For Broad Conception Of Our Duty

Missionary Enterprises of the Anglican Church in Canada Forms Subject of Letter to Churches.

DAY OF OPPORTUNITY

In St. John's church yesterday the annual letter from the Bishop of Toronto, in reference to the Ascension tide appeal for Canadian Missions was read by the rector. In this letter, the writer deals with the great progress being made by Western Canada, and, speaking of the opportunity for work there says:—

Opportunity! Yes, the cry of need is the voice of opportunity. The great influx of people, which has dotted the western plains with settlements, has opened countless doors for the enterprise of the Church of Christ. And it is but the precursor of a vaster incoming tide which is morally certain in the near future to cover the land. How can it be otherwise? Not only is the country wonderously attractive, but facilities for entering it are being multiplied on every hand by the building and extension of railways. The Grand Trunk Pacific is pushing its way through prairie and mountain to its western terminus at Prince Rupert. The Canadian Northern, a splendid witness to Canadian manhood and enterprise, is spreading eastward and westward. The Canadian Pacific is building branch and subsidiary lines in various directions. Thus settlement is being made easy; and soon there will be surveying over these fertile plains a wave of humanity on whose wide waters we should take care that the ship and banner of Christ's historic Church are everywhere afloat. This is our opportunity and responsibility!

Brethren, the day of small things is past. It is a day of great things for our Dominion and for our Church. Our country is great; great in its extent, its resources, its prospects, and its demands upon its people. Its lakes and rivers, its plains and mountains, are great. So too are its activities. Its railways, its ranches, its wheat fields, its engineering achievements—all are great. And the great surroundings should produce a great people—great in physical strength, in mental power, in force of character, in industry, prosperous and will! May God make them also a people great in goodness, in integrity, in purity, in zeal for God's kingdom and righteousness! Here lie the Church's chief opportunity and responsibility. To make the people of our widespread mission field truly great the Church which goes to them must be great—great not merely in numerical and financial strength but above all in the spirit of devotion and faith and self-sacrifice involved in the injunction of her Blessed Ascending Master, Jesus Christ.

COMMERCIAL CHRISTIANITY

Rev. Dr. Torrey, the evangelist, as a result of his bout at repartee with Mr. Norman Murray, of Montreal, was served with a writ. In connection therewith, he said that if he were detained in Montreal by the lawsuit somebody would have to pay for his lost time—which, he intimated, was worth $150 per day. What strikes the ordinary person as peculiar in the developed fact that a specialist at soul-saving should find it so profitable a business and should be so anxious to not lose a day's wages. We have authority of the highest character for the statement that the wages of sin is death, but it is new knowledge to discover that the wages of righteousness is $150 per day. The inspired Scriptures frankly confess their inability to put a figure on the value of a human soul. Rev. Dr. Torrey has suggested a basis of computation which the irreverent and sceptical will probably use to much advantage from the scoffers' point of view. Contrasted with Dr. Torrey, St. Paul showed poor business enterprise. When he was cast ashore on the island of Malta, he might have sent a bill of damages to the Roman Government for loss of time at $150 per day, substituted by the inefficiency of the government light-house service. But Saint Paul had not reduced the art of evangelism to the systematic business basis which it has reached in modern times—capitalizing a quickened conscience in gold dollars and cents. Seriously speaking, the circumstances quoted lead to the conclusion that we have largely lost the fine religious sense that inspired the sentiments and actions of our forefathers. The religion of sacrifice, upon which the Christian religion is founded, seems to have become a forgotten cult. When we think of the sacrifices and sufferings of the apostles, of the early evangelist, even of the faithful priests and pioneers braving the tomahawk and the stake of the savage, the wild beasts, more terribly realistic to them in the early days than the beasts at Ephesus were to the apostle to the Gentiles; suffering hunger, cold and privation, not for $150 a day, but for the bare conditions of keeping soul and body together; the only incentive, love of souls; the only reward, the intangible crown of the heavenly kingdom — when we think on these things it would seem that the ministry of these days "has fallen upon Sicilian days and sensual ease"—things that can be bought for money. What a race there is for the parish, for the charge, for the circuit that brings the fattest salary! When our blessed Lord drove the money changers out of His temple with a scourge of cords, could He see the day when the messengers of His evangel would grow to be hucksters for the cure of souls—that they would forsake "the better part" that Mary chose, and, like Martha, be "careful and troubled about many things!" From the nice blending of spiritual work with material reward, to the commercialising of the popular spirit, is an easy transition. Thus we are become a world of money-grabbers, with moral standards warped to the mould of our material aspirations. Is it any wonder that we are coming to lose conscience—to a state of mind, when the question that confronts a situation demanding action at the moral parting of the ways is, not "Is it right?" but "will it pay?" The question as to whether modern Christianity is becoming perilously commercialized is worthy, it seems, of serious thought.

SKIN DISEASES

Salt Rheum, Pimples, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Shingles, Scald Head, Itching Sores.

All diseases of the skin are more or less directly caused by a bad state of the blood, which produces acrid humors and corrupts the secretions.

No one can expect to have a clear, bright skin when the blood is in a disordered condition, and the stomach, liver and bowels acting feebly in consequence.

All the above skin diseases, in fact, any disease arising from a bad condition of the blood, are curable by through its wonderful cleansing, purifying powers on the blood, and its renovating action on the system.

Mr A. Squire, Dominion, N.S., tells how he was cured of Salt Rheum. He writes: "For years I suffered with Salt Rheum, and was unable to find a curable remedy out of all the medicines I took, and Physicians consulted. Finally I was urged by a friend to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after a very short space of time I was completely cured. I shall always recommend B.B.B. for such cases, as I consider it an indispensable remedy."

Price $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Toronto had sleighing on Friday, May 10th. The cutters were out—the striking tailors.

British India has an area of 1,766,642 square miles, and a population of 232,000,000. If all these people should mutiny there would be a tremendous mess.

The unrest in India is due to jealousy. The people do not dislike British rule or dislike Britons. But they are jealous of the close friendship of Britain for Japan, which the Hindoos hold to be an inferior race. Pat somebody else's dog on the head, and your own terrier takes umbrage.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—What is the matter with Jackson Park? I have been wanting to take my wife on a drive through this delightful park two or three times since the weather became warm, but I see that the entrances are closed with wire stretched across between the posts. Is this park not for the use of the public? I was under the impression that it was, but I must have been mistaken. When the moving picture show begins vehicles, I understand, will not be allowed in the park, but what is the objection at the present time. Perhaps, Mr. Editor, you can tell me.

One can walk through, it is true, but even to do that one has to crawl under the wire obstructions, like stealing into a place where one has no right, instead of into a park given, I believe, for the use of the public.

Yours, etc.,

"INQUIRER."

Editor Post Card Column,—

Dear Sir, — The Ontario Government is to build the Normal School, without expense to Peterborough, but still the Normal school will be a very expensive thing for Peterborough—it will cost the finest clump of forest in the city. I don't think there has ever been a bigger bungle than the selection of a site. It was first decided to place the building on the bottom land at the north side of the park, but it was found too wet. It was then decided to place it on the higher part of the park. I notice yesterday that about fifty magnificent trees have been, or are being, sacrificed. It seems an act of vandalism, and outrage, to sacrifice trees, some of them splendid oaks, perhaps the growth of a century. It seems like taking a human life. To my mind, and to the lover of nature, one of these grand old oaks is worth more than the whole Normal school building. These trees were the best grown and finest forest clump in Peterborough and it seems a shame to slaughter them, to be replaced by bricks and mortar. A common man can put up a building, but only God and a century of growth can create some of the oaks laid low in Dixon Park.

Yours truly,

PHILODENDRON.

It Helps Women to Win and Hold Men's Admiration, Respect and Love.

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

Mrs. T. E. Gillis

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study. At the first indication of ill-health, painful or irregular periods, headache or backache, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Mrs. T. E. Gillis, Windsor, N. S., describes her illness, and cures, in the following letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"When I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering with weakness and womb trouble, headaches, backaches, and that worn-out tired feeling. I have only taken the Vegetable Compound a few short weeks, and it has made me well, strong and robust. I believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is without equal for female troubles."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating, (or flatulence), inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

EDUCATIONAL SERMONS PREACHED

Rev. Mr. Bedford, of Lakefield, Preached in Mark Street Methodist Church Yesterday

THE SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

Strong appeals on behalf of the Educational Society were made by Rev. Mr. Bedford of Lakefield in preaching the annual educational sermons at Mark Street Methodist Church yesterday. There were large congregations present at both morning and evening services, and special collections were taken up in aid of the Educational Fund. Rev. Mr. Bedford is a forcible and eloquent speaker and presented the claims of the Educational Society in an effective manner.

At the morning service he spoke from the text, Proverbs xv., 32.—"He that refuseth instruction despiseth his own soul." Instruction, the speaker pointed out, was essential to everybody, both for the mind and the soul. In these days the world is in a state of spiritual ignorance and darkness, and all mankind was universally alike, the necessity for instruction being not confined to a few individuals.

The second point touched upon by the speaker was the means provided by God for the instruction of mankind. In the first place there was instruction in His works of creation and providence. In all the works of nature there was instruction for those who sought it. Further instruction was provided in His own Word, in the Scriptures which were intended to give instruction to people in divine and spiritual things. Not only had God left His words to guide people, but He was constantly giving instruction by the preaching of His Gospel. Missionaries were going forth into places still in darkness.

The employment of a person's own powers was a certain requisite to the reception of instruction. "God's works must be considered by you and me," said the speaker, "if we would get the very best out of them. His words must be read if we would find out the truths that will make us free. The Gospel must be heard and attention given it." Faith and diligence were also necessary for the reception of instruction.

The speaker said that the majority who did not read the Bible as they ought to read it, many who called themselves Christians who read light story books instead of the word of God, and there were some who did read the Bible not at all. There were many people who did not go to hear the Word of God preached.

The Rev. Mr. Bedford touched upon the folly and the evil of refusing instruction. "The uninstructed soul," he said "is in a state of degradation, necessarily unhappy, and will inevitably be lost, and lost forever." The man that refused instruction was committing self-murder and willfully destroying his own happiness.

The speaker closed his sermon with an earnest appeal to his hearers to remember those who were in spiritual ignorance and darkness.

Coughed All Night, Could Get No Sleep

COLDS ON THE CHEST WOULD YIELD TO NO TREATMENT UNTIL WE USED

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

Overwhelming evidence from the people of Canada attests that there is no treatment so effective in the cure of bronchitis and cold on the chest as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

This is positively proven in two ways. First, by the extraordinary increase in sales and secondly by hundreds of such letters as this which follows:—

Mr. James F. Thompson, Yonge Mills Leeds Co., Ont., writes:—"Last winter my two boys were so bad with colds on the chest that they coughed all night and we could get no sleep or rest. Several cough remedies were tried to no avail until I was told about Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and this treatment soon cured them. It is invaluable as a cure for colds on the lungs and bronchitis."

Parents who make a practice of keeping Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house have at hand the most certain means of curing coughs, colds, croup and bronchitis, and positively preventing more serious disease. It is sometimes forgotten that few ailments possess more possibilities of danger than a common cold.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine was especially prepared for the children by one of the most skilled and conscientious doctors that has ever practiced medicine.

Experience taught Dr. Chase that some of the simple products of the vegetable kingdom possessed most extraordinary curative properties, and he succeeded in so combining these in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as to make a medicine that is at once pleasant to the taste and wonderfully effective.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every bottle. 12

TEAM CRASHED INTO A 'PHONE POLE

Exciting Runaway on Dublin Street This Morning — Distribution of Cheese Boxes

Dublin street was the scene of a somewhat unusual and decidedly exciting runaway this morning in which the centre figure was a team of horses attached to Mann & Co's cheese-box rack. The team was just starting out from the mill with a big load of cheese boxes when the horses became frightened at something and getting beyond the control of the driver, tore down Dublin street at a gallop.

At the corner of Aylmer street their flight was abruptly checked by their coming into contact with a telephone pole. The crash as the heavy wagon struck the pole could be heard for blocks, cheese boxes were distributed to all parts of the neighbouring scenery, the telephone pole was cracked in the middle by the force of the shock, but the diver, horses and wagon escaped with almost no injuries.

The diver, Mr. Wm. Simpson, had a face slightly cut and was considerably shaken up but otherwise was not injured. While the horses, one of which had smashed into a tree, were neither of them hurt.

CHEAP EXCURSION TO TORONTO ON SATURDAY

Special Train Arranged and Return Fare Will be $2.05—Good to Return Up to Monday Night

There will be a special cheap excursion to Toronto next Saturday, when the King's Plate will be run at the Woodbine. A special train will leave Peterborough on the C.P.R., at 10 a.m., arriving in Toronto at noon. For those who wish to return that night there will be a special train leaving the Union Station at 11.30, but tickets will be good returning until Monday night on any regular train in the interval. The return fare is only $2.05, which is considerably less than single fare. The train will be a solid vestibuled train, and will run through to Toronto with probably one stop, so that passengers will arrive in the city early.

An excellent opportunity will be afforded by this excursion of spending a few days in Toronto, at a considerably less rate than those prevailing on holidays, with the additional advantage that the tickets are good for the return over a longer period.

County Sunday Schools; A Series Of Conventions

Mr. Richard Lees, of This City, Will Give Addresses at Number of Meetings to be Held Throughout the County—Other Speakers

INTERESTING DISCUSSIONS

Notices have been issued by Mr. R. C. Heard, president, and Richard Lees, General Secretary of the Sunday school Association of the County of Peterborough, calling attention to a series of conventions, under the auspices of the above association, which will be held in the different districts of the county, as follows:

Otonabee, Presbyterian church, Keene, Tuesday, May 28.

Dummer, Baptist church, Warsaw, Wednesday, May 29.

Asphodel, South Dummer church, Thursday, May 30.

Belmont, Methodist church, Havelock, Friday, May 31.

North Smith and Harvey, Buckhorn, Monday, June 3.

Smith, Baptist church, Selwyn, Tuesday, June 4.

Two sessions will be held, in the afternoon at 2.30 and in the evening

At Keene, Warsaw, South Dummer and Havelock, Rev. W. D. Harrison of Keene, will deliver an address in the afternoon on "The Teacher's qualification and Preparation," and in the evening on "Why we have the Sunday School." Mr. Richard Lees, M.A., will speak at all the meetings; afternoon, "The child from One to Twenty-one," evening, "The Sunday school and the Home."

At Selwyn and Buckhorn Mr. Harrison's place will be taken by Rev. S. S. Burns, B.A., of Lakefield.

Local committees are requested to make arrangements for the musical and devotional parts of the programmes, for other addresses, discussions or conferences, if desired, and for necessary business.

The pastors of all the churches are respectfully requested by the association to devote at least one service on the Sunday preceding these meetings to the consideration of the work of the Sunday school, or at least some phase of the religious training of the young. In a number of the churches an exchange of pulpits is being arranged to emphasize this. It is earnestly hoped that all ministers, superintendents and Sunday school workers, will give their assistance and prayerful co-operation to make these meetings a success, and so stimulate an interest in this most important branch of the church's work.

A Georgia Man Defends Construction Of The Canal

Mr. Hilbourne, in a Letter to the Toronto Globe, Points Out the Natural Benefits its Construction Will Confer.

SOME INTRESTING FIGURES

Interest in the Trent Canal extends beyond the boundaries of Canada. This fact is proven by the following letter, which was written in Georgia, and which appeared in the Toronto Globe of Saturday:

To the Editor of the Globe,—In your editorial columns, under date of March 4, you give several excellent reasons why the deepening of the Welland Canal to 21 feet on the lock sills should not be undertaken at the present time. I venture to call attention to an additional reason for pausing in that project, viz., that the Dominion Government has given assurances that the outlet from Georgian Bay to the St. Lawrence route via the Trent Canal, is to be pushed vigourously forward to completion at the earliest possible time, estimated not to exceed three years.

The chief argument advanced in favour of deepening the Welland Canal—if not the only one—was that thereby vessels carrying 350,000 bushels of grain could proceed without breaking bulk from the head of Lake Superior to Kingston, could profitably carry this grain for two cents per bushel, and that from Kingston by barges this grain could be carried to Montreal for an additional 1 1-2c per bushel, giving a 3 1-2c rate, as against a present lake and rail rate of 6 1-2c per bushel, via Georgian Bay ports, and thus effecting a saving of 3 1-2c per bushel.

Without attempting to question the accuracy of these figures, it may interest your readers to know that reliable expert evidence was given before the Transportation Commission at its Peterborough sittings, to the fact that with a depth of 8 feet 4 inches on the lock sills of the Trent Canal, which has now been decided upon, grain can be profitably carried in barges of 25,000 bushel capacity (that canal size) from its Georgian Bay port, whether Midland or the mouth of the River Severn, to Montreal at a rate of 2c per bushel.

It seems probable that grain can be carried in ordinary vessels from Fort William to these Georgian Bay ports for less than half the cost of carrying it to Kingston. So that by the completion of the Trent Canal all the advantages of deepening the Welland Canal can be secured, until, at any rate, all the St. Lawrence also are deepened to the 21-foot line.

Engineer Walsh in his report, now before Parliament, finds that less than $4,000,000 will cover the cost of completing the Trent Canal to Trenton. It is now open from Hastings to Lake Simcoe, and the cost of canalizing the River Severn thence to Georgian Bay has been estimated at $2,500,000 or a total cost of completing the Trent Canal of $6,500,000. No figures are given for deepening the Welland Canal to 21 feet. This would involve, for all practical purposes, the construction of a new canal, and a probable expenditure of, say, $25,000,000.

The deepening of the Holland River, now provided for, extends the benefit of cheap transportation to be provided by the Trent Canal to points not many miles distant from Toronto, while all that territory bordering on Lake Simcoe, including many manufacturing towns, as well as a strip of land at least 15 miles wide, upon each bank of this canal, and 206 miles long, including many cities, towns and villages, and much of the richest agricultural lands of Central Ontario, will be benefitted to an extent quite incalculable.

Between the height of land on this canal, in the vicinity of Balsam Lake, and Georgian Bay, there is a fall of over 200 feet, and from this point down to Trenton, in the other direction, a fall of over 600 feet. The result is that a tremendous amount of water-power will be available, and will no doubt be utilized, giving an impetus to this whole section of Ontario greater than any other advantage which could be bestowed upon it. It is inevitable that the city of Toronto also must largely share in the benefits of this development.

J. M. HILBOURNE.

Savanah, Ga., May 6.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS

The Fatal Germ And Its Remedy Now Facts Of Science

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff, and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. The Market Drug Store. Two sizes—50c and $1.

THE PRAYER FOR BETTER WEATHER WAS ANSWERED

At morning prayer in St. Luke's Church yesterday, the rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt prayed for fine weather and favourable crop conditions. As in answer to the petition, this morning broke fine and much warmer.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS

The Largest Order Ever Given In Canada

The wholesalers are the barometers of the drug trade. When the wholesale druggists stock any preparation extensively, this fact may be taken as a sure sign that it is in increasing demand. Probably the largest order ever placed in Canada for a Standard Remedy was recently given to Fruit-a-tives Limited by the National Drug and Chemical Company of Canada, Limited, calling for 100 gross (14,400 boxes) of "Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Liver Tablets."

Inside of two months, the National Drug and Chemical Co. sold the entire quantity and purchased an additional 100 gross.

These two orders of 200 gross, aggregating 28,800 boxes, show how large the sale of "Fruit-a-tives" has grown; and proves, too, that people all over the Dominion are fully alive to the value of this excellent preparation.

This fruit remedy no doubt has real merit, yet were it not for the best kind of newspaper advertising, which has told the story of "Fruit-a-tives" to so many of our people, its virtues would be known only to the few.

Real merit and newspaper advertising mean success.

THE REASON

Why McDermid & Jury Continue to Recommend Vinol

First: Because it is not a patent medicine and it contains besides tonic iron all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach and retard its work; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Second: Because Vinol acts first upon the stomach, creates a healthy appetite, strengthens and tones up the digestive organs, purifies and enriches the blood, and, in a natural manner, restores health and strength.

Third: Because Vinol contains no injurious drugs to react upon the system; every ingredient being named on the label, a patient knows exactly what he is taking.

Fourth: Because we never sold anything in our store that gave such universal satisfaction for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and to build up the system after a severe sickness, and for relieving hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

Try Vinol on our guarantee. McDermid & Jury, also The Market Drug Store. (The Ormond & Walsh Old Stand.)

Music and Drama

AS TOLD IN THE HILLS

W. F. Mann's presentation of the southwestern melodrama, "As Told in the Hills," was greeted by large crowds at the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening, and seemed to meet with popular approval, judging by the applause which punctuated the action of the play. On the programme it is entitled a remarkable story of life and adventure, and it certainly lived up to the advance notices so far as adventures go. There was a display of cutlery and shooting irons that would have done credit to a wholesale hardware store. It was a dull moment in the play when there was not a revolver or a knife in sight, and, in justice to the management, it may be stated that there were few dull moments.

However, "As Told in the Hills," for those who like melodrama, is a pleasing production. The plot is a strong one, and of somewhat unusual lines, giving many opportunities for dramatic climaxes. The presenting company was a clever and capable one, and the different parts were in good hands. Katherine M. Challoner as Pammena, an Indian maiden and the heroine of the play; Little Fox as the Indian hero, and Leoni E. Ramsdell as Jack Rains, a very bad "bad man," were all excellent and were given good support by the rest of the company. Comedy was supplied by Billy Baker as Nap. Jackson, a negro servant, and N. S. Stone as J. Mointosh Todd, a broken-down actor.

Clever specialties by Josephine Chairmont, N. S. Stone and Billy Baker added variety to the play. Miss Chairmont singing "Love Me, and the World Is Mine" in good voice.

A DELIGHTFUL VISIT TO OLD QUEBEC

Mr. Tenice Guerin Returns After Spending Three Weeks Visiting Friends There

Mr. Tenice Guerin returned on Saturday night from Quebec, where he has spent the last three weeks, visiting his daughter and his sister, the latter having been seriously ill. Mr. Guerin states that he never enjoyed a visit as well in his life. While he was away he met some former Peterborough men, including Dave Holland, Richard Gibbs and Richard Holt, and between them he had the time of his life. They took him in hand and showed him all there was to see around the historic old city of Quebec, and he will long cherish pleasant memories of his delightful visit.

HAY CUT 23 YEARS AGO IS FED TO THE CATTLE

Douro Farmer Found Hay in Good Condition—It Was Cut in 1884.

It is not often that a farmer allows hay to remain in the barn for 24 years and never find an opportunity of using it. Yet that is what Mr. W. Devlin of Douro did. Just 23 years ago he put a lot of wild grass in the bottom of his mow, expecting to feed it to his cattle when needed, but it was not until this spring that he ever needed it. His cattle refused to eat straw, and one day he came across the long field grass which he had entirely forgotten. He gave them some of this and they ate it greedily. It was in good condition, neither musty nor mildewed. He is now feeding it to his cattle, and finds that they take to it very well. This is another proof that 23 is not an unlucky number.

Ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral and the Members of the T. A. S. are Talking of the Matter.

It was announced some time ago that this summer would see a number of lawn socials held under the auspices of the ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral and probably assisted by the members of the T.A.S. The purpose will be to assist in meeting expenses of the new church in the south end and it is thought that a fairly large sum may be realized.

From a social standpoint these events should prove highly successful, and financially they should realize the best hopes of those who are interested in them. There are several good lawns that may be used and it is fully expected that these socials will be held during the summer months.

THE OLD FIRE HALL DESERTED

Brigade Move Into Their New Quarters To-day—Been in Use for Over Forty Years

BUILT IN EARLY SIXTIES

After having been over 40 years in continuous use as a firehall, the old station on Simcoe street to-day is deserted. Save for the new engine, which will not be moved till to-morrow, there is nothing to indicate the purposes for which the hall was built. Horses and wagons, in fact everything about the hall except the engine, were to-day removed to the new fire station on Aylmer street, and the firemen will sleep there to-night, instead of in their old quarters.

The fire engine will be removed to the new hall to-morrow night, when the brigade will have a drill with the new steamer. After this is over the engine will not be taken back to the Simcoe street hall, but removed to the new building.

The premises just vacated were built some years after the big fire in 1860, which devastated the block bounded by George, Hunter, Water and Simcoe streets, burning over two score buildings. This, the only serious conflagration that has ever occurred in Peterborough, was followed by the formation of a volunteer fire brigade, the fire having shown the necessity for such an organization. The equipment was at first crude. The brigade was purely a volunteer one, no one receiving a cent for his services, but they answered alarms with enthusiasm and did good work. Previous to the erection of the Simcoe street hall, an old building, which it was impossible to heat, was used. Then came the decision to build the new hall, and how well it was built is shown by the fact that it has done service for over 40 years as a fire station. There have been many changes in the city in the personnel of the brigade and its equipment since the firehall was built. Many a firefighter has passed to his reward, horses have gone, and even fire engines have been worn out, but the hall remained ready for use. Now, it's off with the old and on with the new, with the firemen.

The date of the formal opening of the new hall or the nature of the celebration has not yet been settled.

To-day an old resident gives the cheerful information that twenty-three years ago, he remembers, that on the eighteenth of May, 1884, there was no growth on that date. He attended a funeral that day, and the weather was so bitterly cold as to require heavy overcoats. Yet that year there were good crops. There's hope yet for bread and butter in 1907.

GOOD MUSIC AT THE CHARLOTTE ST. CHURCH

The music at the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday was of an enjoyable nature. In the morning the anthem was "The Day of Rest," by Claribal, and, following the sermon Miss Clara Bellegham sang with much expression a gospel hymn, "Jesus is Coming." The evening anthem was "At Even Ere the Sun Was Set," and the offertory selection was a solo by Miss Frances Manning, "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee," rendered in an exceedingly pleasing and sympathetic manner.

DEAR SIRS—During the last three or four years (prior to May last) my eyesight had failed to such an extent that I was unable to read or see anything at close range and could get no Glasses that would help me. I tried two different Opticians in Toronto and was told by both that they could do nothing for me, and that my sight would never be better. A statement of my case was sent to Montreal by a Hastings optician and several pairs of Glasses sent me, but with the same result my vision could not be improved. Last May, while looking at a Pair of Glasses you made for Mr. John Fife, Keene, and talking with him he advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, and I am pleased to say that the Pair of Glasses he made for me have given me entire satisfaction and I can do now what I have not done for years past—read any ordinary print and see distinctly at close range. I feel very grateful, not only for the interest you have taken in my case, but particularly so for the blessing of good eyesight. Thanks to your knowledge and skill.

SUGGESTIONS ON THE NEW BY-LAW

Ratepayer Thinks There Are Some Respects in Which the Garbage By-law Could be Improved

Editor Examiner,

Some aldermen must be born with a mania for bylaws. I notice how some of our City Fathers, no sooner that they get loose from the sign bylaw, they are into something else, which is still more offensive to the public mind, viz., the garbage bylaw. Let us first consider their plan of service, to the ordinary householder once a week, to collect vegetable waste subject to decomposition. If this is going to be any good, regarding our health, it must be every day. We have plenty of persons who are desirous of collecting the refuse from our tubjes, provided it is placed in small buckets and left convenient, not only once a week, but twice a week. This is being done already. All we want is a fuller extension of this system. Now, what we have left are the hotels, fruit stores, factories, livery barns and those who may have horses and dogs, which is a small percentage of the ratepayers. This latter group have no right to ask the ordinary citizens to pay taxes indirectly. However, if there is a bylaw passed, include the dog refuse and also the dog. I would like to see, in figures, a computation of the increase of taxes by this garbage bylaw. If there is no taint in the statement that "the public will get the service at less than half the cost they have been paying," give us the publicity in what way you come to such a statement. As ratepayers, we want proof of your mathematical work. If our city lights have nothing else to do but to originate bylaws to increase our taxes they had better go and hermitize themselves on a summer vacation, and when they return next autumn we, as ratepayers, will take care of them.

Yours truly,
RATEPAYER.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT THE DUST

There Was an Excuse This Morning—Only One Team at Work.

There were many complaints this morning about the dust clouds which made life miserable in the vicinity of the business section. There is a good excuse for the rather bad service this morning. The fire brigade was moving from its old quarters on Simcoe street to the new hall, and in order to accomplish this it was necessary to use one of the city's two teams which are employed on the street watering, and thus that department was working under disadvantages this morning as only one team was at work.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED FOR T.A.S. EXCURSION

Will Be Subdivided at Meeting to be Held Next Sunday.

At the regular meeting of the T. A.S., on Sunday afternoon about 40 members were chosen to compose the various committees.

Next Sunday at 3 o'clock these members will meet and appoint the committees, and their chairmen, and the separate duties will be proceeded with. This plan proved highly successful last year, not a hitch occurring in the working of the plans. Committees will be formed for dancing, sports, steamers, booths, and such like. A meeting of the combined committees will be held just before the day of the excursion, when the results will be received, and a general idea of the programme may be gained by all.

MR. HEALEY DENIES THE CHARGE

Westwood Man Says He Did Not Ill-treat the English Youth—Mr. Cochrane is Referred To.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir, — In reply to a statement regarding a young Englishman not being paid his wages, and being ill-treated, which appeared in the Weekly Examiner and Hastings Star on the 11th of April, I wish to state that this young Englishman, Renoir, came to me on the 10th of April, 1905, and remained two years, lacking two weeks. He left with his wages paid in full to date, and I have receipts from him for the same.

When Mr. Cochrane arrived to take (not the boy as he stated, but a man 29 years of age) he was dressed the same as any other man working on a farm would be, and when he left he was dressed in a new suit, and presented a better appearance than Mr. Cochrane himself, having none of that harsh look in his long, lean jaw. Mr. Cochrane could not expect to see glass houses in the country at this season of the year.

In regard to receiving three pound sterling, I want it to be distinctly understood that I never received one cent in any form from Renoir's father, nor have I ever written to him. Renoir's clothes are still at my place untaken and unasked.

Renoir's fingers were not frozen, but he had a felon on one finger, caused by getting it hurt last summer, and we did all we could to cure it, besides lightening his work, so the statements published were false. Mr. Cochrane should be more careful, which can easily be proved to be wrong. As to Mr. J. L. Squire of Norwood, I always heard it said that it takes a smart man to mind his own business.

M. J. HEALEY,
Westwood,
May, 16th, 1907.

INTERESTING MEETING AT Y.M.C.A.

Rev. A. H. Brace Spoke at Men's Meeting Yesterday—Good Attendance of Men

One of the largest gatherings that has been held at the Y.M.C.A. for several months, was that addressed by Rev. A. H. Brace yesterday. The service was a deeply impressive one throughout, the address being listened to with keen interest by the men present. Mr. Brace has the faculty of presenting Gospel truth in a plain and forcible way. He spoke on "A Man in a Tight Corner," referring to Zaccheus, and the steps in his conversion, namely, desire, difficulty and determination.

Mr. Stuart Ling sang "The Lord is my Shepherd," in excellent voice.

At the close of the meeting Messrs Thornton and Callendar sang by request. "Let Jesus come into Thine Heart."

This selection also added much to the impressiveness of the meeting.

SPRING POETRY

A short time ago the Examiner suggested that samples of spring poetry might be sent to this office for publication. To-day the first was received. It is as follows:—

The first bird of spring
Attempted to sing;
Yet ere he had sounded a note,
He fell from the tree,
A dead bird was he,
For the music had frix in his throat.
"FRIGIDUS."

It is a blessed thing to be able to add that the balmy breath of spring that floods earth to-day, destroys the point of the above metrical skit. At last the spring poet has found some spring weather to inspire his muse.

Another

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I noticed in Saturday's issue your request for some poetry on our late spring. I submit the following if acceptable for publication:—

Spring, in name, has arrived,
Over two months ago,
And yet cold weather is with us,
With threatening fall of snow;
Which throws gardening in the background,
And lovers of flowers too,
Who are anxious to be up and doing,
To make everything spank and new.
In beautifying their places
With flowers and lawns so green,
Where no other place in Canada
Presents a prettier scene.
A few days more, then summer;
It's to be hoped we can hail with joy,
And throw off our fur coat,
And join with the small boy,
In welcoming back the butterfly, and
The birds and bees who tell
Its time to take to bowling green,
A sport we like so well.
And if we can but perspire,
We may rightly add to our song:
Spring! Spring! O beautiful spring,
Why have you been so long?
In granting us this pleasure,
And the things we so dearly love;
But after all is said and done,
We should thank the One Above,
Who gives us health to enjoy it,
And does everything for the best,
And ask, when our days are ended
To grant us peaceful rest.

FALLS RIVER TEAM PLAY HERE ON MAY 29TH

New England Champions Will Play the Quakers on That Date

The secretary of the Peterborough Quaker Football Club has received definite information regarding the Canadian tour of the Falls River champion football team, from Mr. J. A. MacPherson, Toronto, their Canadian representative.

The New England team arrives in Peterborough from Toronto on Tuesday evening, May 28th, and on Wednesday afternoon the big game will take place at Riverside Park. The Falls River team go direct from here to play the famous Westmounts of Montreal.

The Quakers will have a formidable line up and will make a strong effort to hold down the champions.

FOOTBALL GAME ENDED IN A DRAW

Quakers Played Exhibition Game in Norwood on Saturday

The Peterborough Quaker football team had their first real chase after the pigskin on Saturday afternoon when in an exhibition game game of a listless character, they played the Norwood football team in the latter village.

The match resulted in a draw, neither side scoring. This was accounted for by the high gale, which blew across the field, and kept the ball off the grounds about two-thirds of the time. The team which journeyed east last Saturday was far different from that which won four silver cups last year, and captured the highest honours in the Midland League.

Some of the players of the Peterborough team were in the game for the first time and although they played good individual football, did not unite to form the clockwork variety that distinguished them last year. Although they did not find their opponents' citadel on many occasions, there were bright prospects and it was generally conceded that the visitors had the better of the play. McFadden in goal, had only two stops to make to save his goal. The Quaker defence, with Deforge and Scrimshaw at back, was impassable. The latter is a new addition to Peterborough, who has played the game in Winnipeg, and the Old Country, and will make a valuable addition to the Quaker ranks.

Doherty and Huycke, of the Norwood team, were the stars, and saved the game on several occasions.

The return match will be played here on Wednesday night, when both clubs will be represented by a stronger line up.

Mr. C. E Sisson of Peterborough, refereed in a satisfactory manner to both teams.

The players fined up as follows:

| NORWOOD. | QUAKERS. |
|---|---|
| Goal. | |
| Ritchie | McFadden |
| Backs. | |
| English | Scrimshaw |

TRENT VALLEY LEAGUE IN BAD WAY

Roseneath and Campbellford Only Teams Ready to Enter

Hastings, May 11.—Representatives from Roseneath and Campbellford met at the Clarendon House on Friday to draw up a schedule for the season. Hastings' representatives were present also, although they were not able to promise anything in the line of a team at once. Messrs. Murphy and Roberts of Roseneath reported their town ready to get down to business, as also did Messrs. Wood, McEvoy and Beatty for Campbellford, and as Hastings had not been properly canvassed for a team it was decided to get the organization started and notify the other two clubs, so that another meeting could be called at an early date, and a schedule drawn up. Havelock sent no representative, and Norwood was in the same boat, so it was supposed that they were out of baseball for the season.

The game will be played between 7 and 8 o'clock.

BASEBALL

The prospects for a Senior City League are brighter than they were last week, owing to the fact that the Bell Telephone Co.'s employees will in all probability organize a team for the purpose of playing in the league. This will make four teams, the Shamrocks, Strathconas, Rapid Tool Co. and the Bell Telephone Co.'s team. A meeting should be called at once to get the league under way, as there is no time to be lost.

• • • •

The Peterborough and Rapid Tool teams had a good work out at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon.

NO WOMAN CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that this system of sewerage be not clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which those afflicted undergo.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by healing the delicate membranes of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural.

They help the kidneys to flush off the acrid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages.

Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by young and old.

Let Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what they have done for thousands of others, that is, cure you. Mrs. John Young, Harwood, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for some time and my back was so lame I could scarcely get around. After using two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, I am completely cured. I find there is nothing like them for the cure of all kidney troubles."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

A Valuable Publication

There is no end of information about newspapers in the American Newspaper Annual (published by N. W. Ayer & Son, Philadelphia, $5.00 net), the 1907 edition of which is just out. Catalogued in simple tabulated form are the facts one needs in dealing with newspapers, with particular attention to circulations, which are all given in plain figures. There are supplementary lists of daily newspapers, magazines and class publications. A coloured map of each State is bound in the book. It also contains for the first time the Advertisers' Telegraph Code, compiled especially for the use of the publishing interests and filling a long-felt want in this direction.

An Excellent Number

The "merrie month of May" is dear to the fisherman, for it marks the opening of the season when he can engage in his favourite recreation. In accord with its policy of catering to the requirements of sportsmen, the May issue of Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., which appears in a fine appropriate cover, contains stories dealing with fishing in five of the Provinces of Canada — New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia. In addition there are papers of general interest to fishermen, chief amongst them being one of "A few Hints on Flies for Lakes and Streams," by Walter Greaves—hints which the amateur fisherman will welcome and from which even the experienced may learn. Fishing, however, is not all, for the lover of outdoor life in any of its forms can always find something to interest and delight them in this Magazine. The controversy about dogs in deer hunting is maintained and this month the dog advocates are given a chance of presenting their case. A capital descriptive account of the Automobile, Motor Boat, and Sportsmen's Show at Montreal is given and hunting, mountaineering, boating, trap shooting and kindred subjects are all covered in a manner which testifies to the increasing interest in these matters throughout Canada.

Much Routine Business Transacted By Council

Eight By-laws Passed Last Night---Mark Street Sidewalk Causes Long Discussion and Many Motions ---Reports Read

The City Council got through a large amount of routine business at its meeting last night. Eight bylaws were given their several readings and passed including the amended sign and box bylaws and the anti-spitting bylaw. Reports were read from the different committees and over some of these, notably, that from the Board of Works there was considerable discussion. The now famous problem of where the sidewalk on the west side of Mark street, south of Hunter street, will be built, was thrashed out once again. The Board of Works recommended that the pavement be built inside of the tree line, but there was objections on the part of Ald. Morgan and other members of the council, and it was finally decided to refer the matter back to the Board of Works with power to act.

There were present, the Mayor, Ald. Johnston, Tovey, Leary, Stevenson, Bradburn, Morgan, Duncan, Wilson, Elliott, Morrow, McIntyre and Phelan.

Communications

From F. Bartlett, offering his services to the city as an architect.—Committee of the Whole.

From the secretary of Police Commissioners, asking that Geo. Meharry be paid at the rate of $500 while he is on the police force. On motion the treasurer was instructed to have Mr. Meharry paid.

From secretary of Board of Health, enclosing a recommendation from the Board, asking that Sanitary Inspector be given street car tickets.— Finance Committee.

From the Board of Education, asking that the taxes on lot 2, plan 33, Cedar street be remitted. — Finance Committee.

From T. M. Greene, bandmaster of the Salvation Army Band, asking for a grant to that organization.—Finance Committee.

From O'Connel & Gordon, claiming damages and threatening action against the city for injuries received through falling into into a sewer trench on Aylmer street, and offering to settle for $350. — Legal Committee.

A number of requests for sidewalks and sewers were referred to the Board of Works Committee.

Fire, Water and Light Committee

A report was read from the Fire, Water and Light Committee and was adopted. The chairman was instructed to see that S. Wainright has a proper certificate before his salary will be increased $35 per year.

Ald. Phelan and Morrow moved that the report be referred back to the Committee of the Whole Council on the ground that they wanted more information before the sum of money called for by the committee was spent. The motion was lost.

The Mark Street Pavement

The recommendation in the Board of Works report to the effect that the pavement on the west side of Mark street, south of Hunter street, be built inside the tree line caused considerable discussion Ald. Morgan strongly objected to the clause, saying that the residents on that street all wished the sidewalk there outside of the tree line.

Ald. Morrow moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan, that the Board of Works be instructed to build the sidewalk on Mark street in whichever way the residents of the street will decide, either all outside or all inside the tree line.

The idea is that the people along the street will sign a petition, the majority to settle the matter.

Ald. McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that the sidewalk north of Hunter street be built where the people there decide, and the sidewalk on the south side of Hunter street as built as the ratepayers there decide.

Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that the clause be referred back to the Board of Works with power to act.

The last amendment was carried.

Condition of Hose Used

It was moved by Ald. Phelan, seconded by Ald. Morgan, that a report be given of the condition of the hose used in cleaning out the Remington street sewer. The matter was brought up by Ald. Tovey, who said that he had heard that the hose had been left lying on the road for days and frozen up.

Finance Committee

The Finance Committee reported and recommended as follows:

1—That the debentures to pay for sewers constructed in 1905 and 1906 be transferred to the City Trust Commissioners for disposal.

2—That a bylaw be passed to issue debentures for $12,000 to pay for the Ward No. 5 outfall sewer and the expense connected therewith, the debentures to be for 30 years and to bear 4 1-2 per cent. interest, and that the Committee be authorized to sell them.

Mr. Porter's Request

Mr. Porter, of King street, was heard in reference to a sidewalk on that street, and made a strong plea for a walk.

He was advised to put in a petition and the council will endeavour to meet him in the matter.

Mr. Porter also asked for a sewer on the street, stating that there were four water closets immediately around his property. He was instructed to bring the matter before the Board of Health.

Changes in Committees

It was moved by Ald. Morrow, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that the name of Ald. Bradburn be substituted for that of Ald. Leary on the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and that the name of Ald. Leary be substituted for that of Ald. Bradburn on the Manufacturers' Committee.

Bylaws Passed

The following bylaws were given their several readings and passed:—

Bylaw No. 1,307, a bylaw to increase the salaries of the drivers and engineer of the Fire Department.

Bylaw No. 1,308, a bylaw providing for fire escapes in certain buildings.

Bylaw No. 1,309, a bylaw prohibiting spitting in public places.

Bylaw No. 1,310, a bylaw amending bylaw No. 395, in regard to obstructions on the streets.

Bylaw No. 1,312, a bylaw to authorize the borrowing of $12,000 to pay the cost of the outfall sewer and septic tank in East City.

Bylaw No. 1,313, a bylaw to authorize the execution of the lease for the carters' shelter.

Bylaw No. 1,314, a bylaw to aid the Rapid Tool Company.

Work For Sanitary Inspector

Ald. Johnston, moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan, that the Sanitary Inspector be instructed to inspect the condition of Water street between Edinburgh and Antrim street, and on Gilchrist street, on Dalhousie street, east of George.—Carried.

This is intended to prevent people from throwing garbage in these places.

Public Lavatories

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that the Property Committee be instructed to see what provision can be made for a public lavatory in connection with the alterations in the old fire hall.—Carried.

APPLY COMMON SENSE TO MATTER

Editor Examiner—

Dear Sir,—A few words in reference to the teamsters' strike would not come amiss. Our streets are in such condition that the city will be called on some day to pay damages for somebody's horse being hurt. The men are not asking too much as anyone knows that ever fed a horse. Our Mayor or Chairman of the Board of Works never did. I and I don't think our City Commissioner ever did, either. The salary drawn by the city officials for doing nothing while the teams are idle would cover the raise in the teamsters' wages for nearly the whole season, and the advertising the city gets out of this move is certainly not edifying.

Yours truly,

COMMON SENSE.

P. T. Jerman, of Toronto Junction, Injured at C. P. R. Station

P. T. Jerman, of Toronto Junction, a brakeman on a C.P.R. west-bound freight, which passed through here at 5 p.m. yesterday, had his right hand badly crushed as the result of an accident at the station here. He was uncoupling a car which was to be left here, and got his hand caught between the drawheads.

The member was painfully injured. Jerman was taken to the office of Dr. Gray, the company's physician, where his injuries received attention.

New Ontario Has The Best Farming Land In The World

Wheat Grown Within Two Miles of New Liskeard Wins Prizes for the Best—Mr. M. Carton Tells of Conditions in the North.

BUSINESS IS VERY BRISK

The Peterborough men interested in New Liskeard and other of the Northern Ontario towns which have but recently sprung up amid the famous gold fields, will receive some valuable information from Mr. M. Carton of East City, who returned on Saturday after spending three weeks in those northern regions. Mr. Carton spent the greater portion of his time in New Liskeard, and he was very much surprised and impressed with the progress which that town has made, which has a population now of about 3000. He considers that New Liskeard is bound to advance, even if the mining occupation should vanish. It is entirely a farming community and has in its vicinity some of the best wheat lands in the world.

Mr. Carton informed the Examiner that the wheat grown on a farm within three miles of the town had taken first prizes both in this and the Old Country as the best in the world. The land north of the town is excellent for farming, and one man alone, Mr. Carton states, has placed $250,000 in that part of New Liskeard. Judging from the good roads and excellent farms, he considered that there was every opportunity for prosperity. There was plenty of work, for which good wages were being paid.

Immense Returns

Mr. Carton would not hesitate to advise anyone with money to invest it in New Liskeard property, for he believed he would receive immense returns. One property in the town, valued at $2,500, was rented at $35 per month. The lot alone he considered to be worth about $300.

Speaking to a merchant in the suburbs of New Liskeard, he learned that the former had last year done a business to the extent of $75,000. Another more centrally located had turned over $74,100 last year. Many of the merchants there buy goods on a much larger scale than in Peterborough. A carload of condensed milk for one man is nothing singular in New Liskeard.

Lumbering is extensively carried on in the town. There are three sawmills in operation, and there is a good demand for the products.

Unlimited Water Power

Mr. Carton was informed that near the town of Charlton, at the foot of Long Lake, was a water-power of between 100 and 150 feet. He believed that Charlton and Englehart were two places which would advance rapidly. The latter is in the gold field regions, and is widely known. The land on either side of Long Lake is particularly valuable for farming, but up to the present it was thinly populated.

In speaking of Cobalt, Mr. Carton did not think it probable that it would develop on the present site, but that the district about two miles further north would be more popular.

Mr. Carton was in the northern country on a business trip, and while there closed out the stock remaining after disposing of his wholesale business to Mr. Rishor. The weather in New Ontario he considered to be as pleasant as it is here. Snow still lies in the woods and on the roadsides, but the small streams associated with spring are on the move.

Mr. Carton intends returning north again in the near future.

MR. H. LEBRUN IS NOW IN MONTREAL

Attending the Annual Clothing Sales of the Wholesale Manufacturers

Mr. H. LeBrun left on Saturday night for Montreal, where he will attend the great mid-summer sales of men's and boys' clothing, which are held annually.

Mr. LeBrun is one of the most progressive and enterprising buyers, and is sure to pick up some choice bargains. He has a signally successful record, and his reputation as a buyer, extending over a period of thirty-five years, places him in a splendid position to know the exact wants of the public, and how to meet their needs promptly and satisfactorily.

Some interesting clothing announcements may be expected from H. LeBrun & Co's, as soon as Mr. LeBrun returns from the Canadian metropolis.

During Mr. LeBrun's stay in Montreal, he will be the guest of Mr. Martin, the M.P., for St. Mary's Division.

CITY TEAMSTERS ARE STILL HOLDING OUT

They Request $3.75 Per Day or They Won't Work

The teamsters' strike is not yet settled, although the matter was brought up at the meeting of the council last night by Ald. Leary. In doing so, Ald. Lary regretted the fact that there was any trouble, and expressed the opinion that the city should accede to the request of the teamsters, which, he said, was only a reasonable and fair demand.

There was considerable discussion over the matter. Ald. Duncan, chairman of the Board of Works, said that if all the teamsters in the city had gone on strike, for $3.75 per day, he thought they would have received that amount. When, however, contractors were paying men $3.50 per day, he did not think the city had any right to pay $3.75, and set a precedent which individuals would have to follow.

There was a short but animated debate between Ald. Duncan and Ald. Leary in regard to the matter, in which Ald. Duncan said that Ald. Leary had attempted to have his teams hired for corporation work, and had been refused.

Ald. Morgan agreed with Ald. Leary and thought that the teamsters should be given a reasonable wage.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan that the teamsters be paid $3.75 when drawing from the pit and $3.50 when doing corporation work.

Ald. Morrow moved in amendment seconded by Ald. Bradburn, that the council adjourn and the amendment was carried with the casting vote of the Mayor, the vote of the council being a tie.

ANOTHER BIG BLAZE IN BELLEVILLE

Corby's Distillery Completely Gutted By Fire On Sunday.

FIREMAN WAS BADLY HURT

Had Narrow Escape From Death—Electric Plant and Expensive Copper Work Destroyed—Damage Totals Quarter of Million Dollars—9,000 Gallons of Liquor Lost and 200,000 Bags of Grain.

Belleville, May 13.—Excitement aplenty reigned in this city yesterday owing to the fact that the big distillery at Corbyville, four miles from here, was found to be on fire at five o'clock in the morning, and in a few hours had been completely gutted.

Harry Hubbs, who had been firing in the engine room all night, discovered the fire, and came near losing his life before he escaped from the burning building.

His escape was almost cut off, and as it was he was badly burned and scalded before he gained the outside of the building. His skin hung in strips from his hands and arms, and, in addition, he fell down a flight of stone steps, injuring himself so severely that his recovery is said to be doubtful.

Started In Distillery.

The fire started in the distillery proper, and when those outside saw it the flames were bursting out of the roof. There was little fire fighting appliance in the village, and by time assistance arrived from the city the distillery and the grist mill situated next to it were beyond all hope of being saved.

The city firemen who took with them the Merryweather engine, did good work, in confining the fire to the two buildings, and that was all they could do. In a couple of hours all that was left of the distillery and mill was the walls. All the expensive machinery, comprising a new electric plant and thousands of dollars' worth of expensive copper work, lately put in, being destroyed. In the grist mill were 200,000 bags of grains which were destroyed, and in the distillery was also lost 9,000 gallons of liquor in process.

E. H. Davis is resident manager at the distillery, and he estimated the loss at fully a quarter of a million, or possibly $300,000. He absolutely refuses to discuss the insurance, which, he said, was distributed among many companies. He did say, however, that the insurance would fall fully $100,000 short of the loss. Mr. Davis said the company would undoubtedly rebuild just as soon as possible, and the new plant would be thoroughly up-to-date in every way.

Warehouses Not Touched.

About 50 men were employed in the buildings burned. There is a full stock of liquors in the bonded warehouses, which was not in any way injured by the fire, neither were any of the other buildings.

FIRE BUGS AT WORK.

Serious Blazes In Paris Caused by Incendiaries.

Paris, May 13.—The entire fire department of Paris was called out Saturday night to fight two great fires which started within two hours, and which are believed to have been the work of incendiaries.

The first fire was at Aubin's big cartridge factory, in the suburbs of Paris. It was accompanied by many violent explosions, but there was no loss of life.

The second was in the Monmartr district, at Hermann Lachapelle's metal works. Here the flames spread rapidly to some adjoining tenement houses the occupants of which were rescued with difficulty. The work of the firemen was impeded by a mob of thugs, called in Paris "Apaches," who cut the fire hose, pillaged the houses from which the occupants had been turned out by the firemen, and stabbed one policeman, who was trying to hold the people back.

The damage is estimated at $2,000,000. Many persons sustained injuries, and it is feared that two firemen lost their lives through the collapse of the factory roof. Fifty persons were rendered homeless and had to seek shelter for the night in the police stations.

SCHOOL BOOK REFORM.

Ministers of Education In Each Province to Consider Scheme.

Toronto, May 13.—The publication of a national series of textbooks for the schools of all the provinces of confederation is the proposal which the various Ministers of Education are considering. The object is to secure uniformity and co-operation, and to this end steps have been taken to call a conference some time this year.

The two new provinces—Alberta and Saskatchewan—have already moved to secure uniformity by uniting on a series of readers, the contract for publishing which has been awarded to a Toronto firm. Ontario is now advertising for tenders, and before long a new series of textbooks will be authorized by the department.

Hon. Dr. Pyne stated to the press that the education authorities of all the provinces have been communicated with on the subject of uniformity of textbooks. All are agreeable to the proposal, but beyond this favorable intimation nothing has been done.

GEN. TOLEDO ON WAY.

Will Lead Expedition Against Cabrera Within a Month.

Mexico City, May 13.—It has been learned that Gen. Salvador Toledo, who assisted Gen. Barrillas in the last Guatemalan revolution, and who is designated as the leader of the coming revolution against the Cabrera Government of Guatemala, is now en route to New Orleans, and will come to Mexico within a week or ten days.

Every Guatemalan revolutionary junta in Central America and in the United States and Mexico is now actively at work on plans for the new revolution against President Cabrera, and it is believed that actual fighting in Guatemala will begin within thirty days.

Gen. Toledo is said to have completed arrangements for the invasion of Guatemala from the Honduran border before leaving Meshia, Nicaragua, where he has been stationed for some time past. Further arrangements will be made in New Orleans, and from that place he will proceed to Mexico to confer with the Guatemalan exiles in this city.

It is now almost certain that he will lead the new movement against Guatemala. It is also asserted that upon his arrival here the provisional Government, which has been contemplated for some time, will be organized, with Gen. Toledo as provisional President.

According to the refugees, a veritable reign of terror now exists in Guatemala. It is stated that more than 10,000 of the wealthy and business classes have left Guatemala since the alleged attempts on President Cabrera's life two weeks ago. Every vessel leaving San Jose for Mexican ports is crowded by the fleeing people.

The stories of the atrocities practiced in the overcrowded prisons are revolting in the extreme.

Cabrera, it was learned, has now 20,000 troops on the Mexican border and 11,000 more on the Honduran frontier.

The situation in this city is unchanged. Officialdom regards the Guatemala affair as a closed incident as far as Mexico is concerned.

"ISLAND CITY" LOST.

All Hope of the Vessel Is Now Abandoned.

Moncton, N. B., May 13.—W. H. Edgett, of this city, who some months ago feared the loss of his three-masted 400-ton vessel, Island City, has abandoned all hope of tidings of her or her crew, and has posted her at Lloyds as lost.

The Island City left Chatham, N. B., November 28th last, with a cargo of laths for New York. She was last reported passing through the Straits of Canso. Since then nothing has been heard of her or her crew of eight men, of which Howard Priddle of St. John was captain. The cargo was owned by Mr. Edgett and insured, but the vessel was not.

It is a strange coincidence that this is the second fatality in the Priddle family within two years. Captain Priddle's brother was master of the schooner Wanderian, when that vessel was wrecked off Cape Cod a year ago last February, with the loss of all hands, including the captain's wife and two children.

WIFE WAS JEALOUS.

Woman Shoots Her Little Son and Then Suicides.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 13.—Because she knew that her husband was paying attention to another woman, who lived but a few squares from their home, Mrs. Carrie Sigsworth shot and killed her 18-months-old son and then shot and killed herself, at their home, 807 Jackson street, Allegheny.

At first it was supposed that the deed had been committed on account of Mrs. Sigsworth's ill-health, but Sigsworth admitted to Superintendent of Police Glenn that jealousy had been the cause of the awful crime.

In a letter which she left to her husband Mrs. Sigsworth did not upbraid him, but asked him for appearance sake not to bring "that other woman into the house until I am cold," and not to give her her furs and diamonds. The Sigsworths are said to come from prominent families in London and the parents of both have been telegraphed for.

Entertains Prince of Wales.

London, May 13.—Ambassador Whitelaw Reid and Mrs. Reid entertained the Prince and Princess of Wales and other distinguished persons at dinner at Dorchester House on Saturday evening. At the request of the Princess, whose first visit it was to the Park lane residence of the American Ambassador, the dinner was quite an informal affair.

THREE YEARS IN PEN FOR CONDUCTOR

Joseph Thompson Responsible For Gourock Collision.

JUDGE RIDDELL IS SEVERE

Scathing Remarks on Railway Accidents—Jury Found Conductor Guilty of Violating Rules—Carnage on Railroads Exceeds Boer War—Sentence Criticized—Minister Will Be Appealed to.

Guelph, May 13.—Three years at Kingston was the sentence meted out by his Lordship Mr. Justice Riddell to Joseph H. Thompson, the G.T.R. freight conductor, who was found guilty by a jury at the assizes here of violation of the rules of the company. His Lordship dwelt upon the carnage caused by railroad accidents, said more young healthy Canadians were killed in railway accidents due to negligence of employes each year than were during the Boer war. "The public must be protected," he said, in passing sentence.

A large number of petitions were presented by Mr. Jeffrey, counsel for defendant, for the clemency of the Court, including one from Mayor and aldermen of the city, and one from employes of the company, and the jury at the assizes had added to their verdict a recommendation to mercy. But after reading a lengthy charge, his Lordship sentenced the prisoner as above, saying that he might have sentenced him for five years.

London, May 13.—The news that Conductor Thompson at Guelph had been sentenced to three years in the Kingston penitentiary was received here with consternation among railway men. Thompson was one of the most popular men in the city on both railroads. He had of late, since the accident, which had resulted in his committal, been employed on the C.P.R.

The unfortunate man is the father of two bright little children, and with his wife has the sympathy of the whole railroad community.

The case will at once be taken to the attention of the Minister of Justice, who will be asked to grant a reprieve. The movement to secure a reduction of the sentence will be vigorously undertaken in this city, where railroad men regard the sentence as altogether too severe, under the circumstances.

Mr. Justice Riddell was asked Saturday night what action he intended to take in view of his statement at Guelph in passing sentence on Conductor Joseph Thompson. He replied that it was for the Attorney-General's Department to act.

GREAT IMPERIAL PROJECT.

Fast Atlantic Service May Result From Conference of Premiers.

London, May 13.—However fruitless the Colonial Conference may seem in some respects, there is now every reason to believe that it will result in the long-hoped-for establishment of a genuine fast Atlantic steamship service.

It may now be stated authoritatively that a definite plan has been made, details worked out, and it only waits ratification by the two Parliaments to consummate the greatest Imperial project of many years.

The plan involves the formation of an Atlantic steamship company; the commissioning of vessels which will represent the latest developments in naval architecture, with a speed of 25 knots, and able to maintain an average of 24; this service to be subsidized by the British and Canadian Governments, each to pay probably $1,000,000 per year for ten years. It also involves the Australian Commonwealth and New Zealand joining in the project by subsidizing the Pacific service, which would then be increased from 13 to 18 knots, and extended to take in New Zealand and Australia.

Youthful Murderer.

Brunswick, Me., May 13.—Cherishing a resentment over a boyish quarrel which took place over two weeks ago, Sydney Preble, 15 years old, shot and killed Morris W. Heath, aged 18 years, in Bowdoinham Saturday night. The crime was not discovered until Saturday, when M. S. Heath, father of the murdered boy, found the body buried under pine spills and leaves at the edge of a swamp.

Preble was arrested and immediately confessed.

Upper American Canal Clear.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 13.—For the first time this year the ice was all out of the upper American canal, and no trouble was experienced with it Saturday. The strong southwest wind drove it out.

Penitentiary Guard Suspended.

Kingston, Ont., May 13.—On Saturday a penitentiary guard was suspended for disobeying orders. He refused to do some duty assigned to him by the chief keeper.

HURLED TO DEATH FROM TRACK

Mystic Shriners Meet Death On Southern Pacific.

31 KILLED--SCORES INJURED

Defective Switch Sends Locomotive a Somersault in Sand—Cars Piled on Wrecked Engine—Passengers Burned and Scalded — Victims Mutilated Beyond Recognition —Many Pathetic Scenes.

Santa Barbara, May 13.—Thirty-one dead and a score injured last night comprised the casualties due to the wreck at Honda on Saturday of the Ismalia special train of New York and Pennsylvania Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, who were returning home from the annual meeting of the Imperial Council of the Nobles of the Mystic Shriners at Los Angeles.

The train, carrying 145 Shriners and friends from Ismalia Temple, Buffalo; Rajah Temple, Reading, Pa., and neighboring cities, was running north at 50 miles an hour on the Southern Pacific coast line when the locomotive struck a defective switch at the sand-swept siding at Honda, near the Pacific Ocean, along which the railroad runs for a hundred miles north of Santa Barbara. The locomotive turned a somersault into the sands. The cars landed on the wrecked locomotive, and the coaches were crushed and took fire. The flames were soon extinguished by uninjured persons from the two rear coaches. As Honda is isolated, it was not till late yesterday that definite information of the wreck could be obtained. The bodies of 25 victims are now at Santa Barbara, and four more at San Luis Obispo. The injured, many of whom are terribly hurt, and some of whom may die, are in two sanitariums at San Luis Obispo.

The wreck occurred at 2.35 o'clock, an hour and forty minutes after the conclave's visitors, forming a merry party, left Santa Barbara. They had spent all the morning there sightseeing. That the train was making terrific speed when it struck the defective track is borne out by the fact that it covered the 61 miles of crooked track from Santa Barbara to Honda in 100 minutes. The locomotive, in leaving the rails, tore up the track, badly twisting the steel rails. The baggage car half-buried laid itself in the sand beside the locomotive. It was smashed almost to kindling wood.

The dining car, on which were 32 persons eating luncheon, bounded into the air and fell directly on the demolished locomotive. Nearly every person in the dining car was instantly killed. Scores were scalded by steam escaping from disconnected pipes.

The rear coaches were hurled into the wreckage, killing or injuring those who might otherwise have escaped. Several persons pinioned in the debris were roasted alive.

Engineer Frank Champlain was pitched with the cab 75 feet beyond the engine. He got up and ran a mile, seeking help before he discovered that his arm was broken and that he was severely scalded.

Only two of the nine men, composing the dining car crew, are dead. The remainder, though cooped up in the narrow kitchen and pantry, suffered only cuts and bruises. The last call for luncheon had been called, but a few minutes before the disaster.

An instant after the disaster those who were not incapacitated jumped from the train to render aid, but they were unable to do much, beside extinguish the fire, and they had to wait long hours before relief arrived.

Frightened women peering through the windows of the undamaged sleeping cars, fainted when they saw the bodies of their friends strewn along the roadside, blood from the wounds staining the sand drifts all about. Men who toiled hard at the task of rescue collapsed.

At 4 o'clock a relief special left Santa Barbara and made the 61 miles to Honda in 90 minutes. Simultaneously another special left San Luis Obispo occupied with nurses and doctors. It arrived shortly before the one that left this city. But what the work of rescue was possible had been done by those who had escaped the disaster.

Twenty-five bodies lay on the sand beside the track. The injured, many of them unconscious and dying, were scattered about on piles of bedding and prism seats brought from the Pullmans.

It was determined at once to remove the injured to San Luis Obispo, and to take the dead to Santa Barbara. The work of placing them upon the two trains was quickly accomplished.

Twenty-Five Injured.

Monterey, Mexico, May 13.—Running 35 miles an hour, a southbound train on the Mexican Central Railway from El Paso to Mexico City, left the track six miles north of Bermejillo Saturday, injuring 25 persons.

Fireman Yates Killed.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 13.—In a head-on collision between Wabash freight engine 191 and G. T. R. yard engine 634 on Saturday here, Fireman Thomas Yates of St. Thomas got caught between the engine cab and tender and was so badly crushed that he died at the hospital in the evening. Engineman Taylor of engine 191 and Engineer Goodes and fireman on yard engine 634 jumped and escaped injury.

NATIVES OBLIGED TO QUIT.

Eruptions of Stromboli and Etna Continually Increasing.

Messina, May 13.—The eruptions of Etna and Stromboli volcanoes increased as the night came on. An enormous volume of smoke and quantities of red-hot projectiles are being thrown out from Etna in all directions. There are also continued loud explosions and earth shocks. These latter are especially severe at the Etna Observatory, which is at an elevation of 9,000 feet, and only 1,700 feet away from the crater. The observatory lies above the forest district in a zone where scarcely any animal life exists. In winter this is covered with snow and in summer with dry lava.

The latest reports from that island declare the situation to be more terrifying. A few weeks ago Stromboli was covered with rich vegetation; now the island is stricken and desolate, everything having been buried under ashes. Every boat at the island has been pressed into service by the inhabitants to aid in their escape from the danger.

Resembles Vesuvius Eruptions.

Frank A. Perecit of New York, assistant director of the Royal Observatory on Mount Vesuvius, and the companion of Prof. Matteucci, the director of the observatory during the eruption of Mount Vesuvius in April, 1906, returned here yesterday, after having visited Mount Etna and Stromboli. He made most important observations and took interesting photographs. He said:

"The disturbances much resemble those which preceded the eruption of Mount Vesuvius last year. The smoke is now more dense and the dynamic force in the main craters has increased. The roaring of the volcanoes and the violent discharges gives the impression that stronger eruptions are imminent."

Grey Ashes Fall.

Naples, May 13.—Enormous clouds of grey ashes appeared Saturday from the sea, darkened the sky and fell on the town. Considerable apprehension was felt when it was realised that the clouds were ashes and cinders from Mount Etna and Stromboli. A similar phenomenon was noticed along the southern coast and caused panics in several places.

CROWN EVIDENCE ERRED.

Parkin's Body Exhumed Shows That Autopsy Was Not Complete.

Cayuga, May 13.—The exhumation of the body of Henry Perkins has resulted in the discovery that the kidneys had not been removed for medical examination, although Dr. Bauer of Hamilton, in testifying for the crown at the recent trial of Mrs. Mattie Perkins on the murder charge, declared that, to the best of his understanding, the organs had been taken to Toronto for analysis by Dr. Ellis, and had not been returned.

It is understood that the remains were brought to light at the request of the widow, who wished to have it established that the crown had erred in its evidence as to one or more particulars of the autopsy. She regards the discovery as of considerable importance, and has communicated with Gideon Grant of Toronto, associate counsel for the defence during the late proceedings.

The exhumation was carried out in the presence of Dr. Snider, J. C. Coulter (solicitor), Rev. Mr. Howard of the Presbyterian Church, Ralph Curry, a brother of Mrs. Perkins; Mr. Heaslip, a brother-in-law, and Mr. Grant, a local timber merchant.

So successfully had the emblaming process been performed that the body showed little trace of decomposition, although several months have passed since the burial. Surrounded by the little group in the cemetery, Dr. Snider went through with the operation of removing the kidneys. One was found practically untouched, while the other was partially gone. They were placed in a jar and sealed, and will be sent to Toronto.

Before the trial of Mrs. Perkins opened, the defence applied to the Attorney-General for power to have the remains exhumed, but the department showed hesitancy, and the matter was dropped.

Mr. Grant, for the defence, has served The Toronto Star with notice that a suit will be brought for alleged libel in certain published matter relating to the proceedings of the defence.

Ninety Lives Lost in Burning Copper Mine Near Mexico.

Mexico City, May 13.—Ninety men are supposed to have lost their lives in a fire which started in the Tenares copper mine at Velardena, in the State of Durango, last Friday night. The fire is still raging and is said to be beyond control.

Thirty-five bodies have been recovered. Seventeen miners are known to have escaped. This information has been conveyed in a despatch to the Associated Press office in Mexico City. The burning mine belongs to the Guggenheims.

PAY TRIBUTE TO THE LAW.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Admitted Bencher of Gray's Inn.

London, May 13.—(C. A. P.)—Laurier and Deakin were admitted to the honorary benchers at Gray's Inn on Saturday. The former paid a high tribute to the laws of the Mother Country, which had always secured for its sovereigns and subjects all their rights, liberties and privileges. Laurier, speaking at the Gaelic Society's concert, said the Dominion was covered with Scotsmen, among whom he numbered his closest political and personal friends.

CROP CONDITIONS NOT BAD.

Alarm Caused by Continued Bad Weather Is Subsiding.

Winnipeg, May 13.—The feeling of alarm over crop conditions in the West is very rapidly subsiding with the more favorable reports of seeding. In spite of really very bad weather, much seeding has been done though expensive and under conditions not calculated to improve the yield.

Alberta, according to reports on the Grain Exchange, is really better off than Manitoba.

Saskatchewan, too, is said to be in better condition, especially that fertile section on the Soo line. The buying for speculative interests has been very heavy in Winnipeg the past week, on information of positive failure to seed in many localities. The steady advance of prices has been very generally anticipated by speculators in different parts of the West.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Attorney Makes Sensational Charges Against Judge.

Lexington, Ky., May 13.—Attorney Beverley Jouett, in his opening statement before the jury here on Saturday, in the case of Judge James Hargis, charged with the murder of James Cockrill, at Jackson, Mich., made the sensational statement that he would not kill Cockrill himself, but that he would help defend the man who would kill him.

Jouett denied that feud feeling had resulted in the Cockrill killing, and said that Hargis had Cockrill killed because Cockrill stood in the way of Hargis' ambitions.

Jouett's statements caused a sensation, as this is the first time these direct charges have been made.

Bartender Commits Suicide.

Ottawa, May 13.—Early yesterday morning Oliver Dealauriers, a bartender, only three months married, shot himself, his death being instantaneous. There is no explanation for his rash act.

Nominated For West York.

Toronto, May 13.—Dr. Forbes Godfrey of Mimico received the nomination for the riding of West York for the local Legislature, at a convention held Saturday at Weston.

Hindus Still Restless.

Simla, British India, May 13.—Although no further disturbances have occurred, the marked unrest among the Hindus continues and the Government is determined to check its spread.

An extraordinary issue of the Official Gazette contains a proclamation of the viceroy, the Earl of Minto, prohibiting meetings for the discussion of public or political affairs without a week's notice.

A Real Seaman.

A short time ago a writer in "P. T. O." was talking with a sailor who had served under the command of the Prince of Wales. "When first we heard that the prince was going to command us," he said, "we were a bit dubious, and certainly we had to put up with a lot of chaff from the other ships of the fleet, who promptly christened our boat Buckingham Palace, and would stop us in the street and 'beg our lordships' pardon, but could we oblige them with a match?' The prince had not been abroad long, however, before we found out that he was no ornamental sailor, but a real seaman down to his boots. And he stood no nonsense either! He knew what he wanted, and he saw that he got it. During the whole cruise our ship was a picture, and a better disciplined or happier crew never sailed. The prince was a great change from some of the shouting, raving captains I have served under. You can take it from me," added the tar in conclusion, "that the Prince of Wales is a jolly good sailor"—only the adjective he used was not "jolly."

Premier and Suffragettes.

It has just come to light, says The London Daily News, that on Friday afternoon last Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman was cleverly interviewed by two of the most militant leaders of the suffragette campaign. The premier, who was on his way to Cannes, entered the dining-car of the train for the purpose of taking tea, and sat down at a table adjoining one at which were seated two ladies. The latter promptly introduced themselves as Miss Annie Kenney and Miss Mary Gawthorpe, and a friendly discussion ensued. Sir Henry expressed approval of the educational work of the Women's Social and Political Union, but went on to criticize its methods. He gave no hope that the Government would bring in a bill enfranchizing women this session and said he wished to dissuade the ladies from engaging in further demonstrations outside the House of Commons, considering that such proceedings were not likely to produce good results.

An amusing story of how young Irish farmers obtain American wives was related at the last sitting of the Royal Commission on Congestion in Ireland.

Mr. John Fitzgibbon, a Nationalist leader, of Castlerea, said that as an experiment he bought a grazing tract of nearly 300 acres and settled nine young farmers upon it.

"These men are all unmarried, except one," continued Mr. Fitzgibbon, "but they will probably get wives with from £150 to £200, girls who have gone to America and returned to Ireland with a little money.

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

Do Not Fail to Be Courteous at Home. Always Realizing That It Is More Judicious to Be Polite to Your Own Wife Than to Your Neighbor's.

[Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.]

MY DEAR JOHN—Do you remember Colonel Hosea Perkins, who used to live just around the corner from us on William street? Of course you do. Nobody could forget that stately figure and that ceremonious bow with which he punctuated every greeting. Old Perkins is dead now, but I'll bet a horse that he's doffing his crown every two minutes—that is, if he's gone to a place where crowns are supposed to be a necessary article of wearing apparel. He was the most painfully polite man I ever saw. His genuflections and

"beg pardons" used to get on my nerves until I could hardly refrain from a protest. He wouldn't wear his hat in the presence of ladies, and I've seen him standing on a street corner bareheaded in the broiling sun for an hour at a time while he talked with a female acquaintance.

I am reminded of Perkins by some actions of yours that I noticed while you and Anna May were visiting us last week. That old hypocrite was the embodiment of exaggerated courtesy to every one he met, with the single exception of his wife. Unless he had company he would drop his manners on his front porch and on the other side of his threshold become the most disagreeable reprobate that ever wore a long suffering woman to the grave.

I don't mean to intimate, my boy, that there is any resemblance between you and old Perkins, but I saw when you were here that you were already beginning to follow the general tendency of persons who wear trousers and forgetting at home some of the amenities you would never overlook outside. It's so easy to do. We are all naturally savages, prone to drop the social graces whenever we think nobody's looking and our families are supposed to kindly shut their eyes. Yet the little ceremonies and verbal expressions which constitute our everyday code of etiquette were designed for the sole purpose of smoothing the rough edges of our intercourse with the world, the flesh and the devil and keep us from flying at one another's throat, as we would like so much to do.

A Potent Force.

Next to the Christian religion politeness is the most potent force in the world today, and it is just as effective in one's own home as it is in the house across the street. Now, without any more beating around the bush, I want to say a few things to you on this subject, and I want to put 'em to you straight. When you have read this letter once, read it over again and get it stuck into your head so it won't slip loose.

You were almighty particular how you acted.

I wasn't around when you were "settin' up" to Anna May, but I'll bet a pile of good hard dollars that you were almighty particular how you acted when you were in her presence. There was nothing in the shape of courtesy that was any too fine for her when you came a-wooing. You had all your graces and some you had borrowed, I have no doubt, out for her inspection. You had old Chesterfield beaten so bad you could see daylight between you. Yes, you did. I wasn't there, but I know. That little girl you were exceedingly careful about then is your wife now, but in the change she has lost none of her rights. She is just as much entitled to the observance of the forms of courtesy as before—more than then, for as your wife she should hold a higher and more honored place in your life than as your sweetheart. Yet I noticed last week that you did not lift your hat when you met her downtown. I noticed that you allowed her to pick her own way along the street, to step up to the curbstone without any effort of assistance from you. I noticed when we dined at the hotel that you left her to grope through the mysteries of the menu unaided, while you contemplated the most desirable dishes for the satisfaction of your own precious stomach.

The old man isn't asleep, my son, if he does nod occasionally after his meals, and when I saw these little signs of ingrowing selfishness it worried me. Reminds me of a colt my father used to own down on the old farm. It was a frisky critter, as all colts are, but father was very proud of it and delighted in showing it to visitors. As a rule, when he wanted to exhibit the colt it was in the pasture, and one of the most vivid recollections of my boyhood days is that dignified old gentleman chasing that dern fool colt over a ten acre field. He would trot along and appeal to the colt in tones of strained honey. He would pretend to offer a regular cornucopia of things that horses are supposed to sigh for. The colt would coyly wait until he was almost within reach; then, with a sniff of disdain, it would raise its tail straight up in the air and gallop to the other side of the pasture. Finally the little beast would allow itself to be caught, just like a woman, and once he had his hands on him the old gentleman would let loose a flood of unprofane cuss words that would shuck the corn in the barn. "Contaminate your measly hide," he would shout, "I feel like breaking every bone in your ongregenerate carcass!" But he never did. My parent was a humane man, and, besides, the colt was valuable.

Before and After.

That's just the way with a great many men after they marry. They will pursue a woman with sorghum eloquence, write sonnets on the classic outlines of her snub nose, crawl on their knees before her like the devotees of a heathen goddess and after they get her treat her like a convict or lose interest in her and let her get along the best way she can. And some of these fellows really love their wives too. They simply think that the pretty words and gentle courtesies of courtship are features of the chase and are superfluous and foolish after the capture. They seem to forget that getting a wife is one thing and keeping her is another, as the records of the divorce courts show, but the same processes are effective in both.

But, you say, a man can't always be on his best behavior; he can't always sit around his own house in full dress; he can't make daily use of the stilted ceremonies of polite society in his home life. There you are wrong and you are right. If there is any place on earth that a man should be on his best behavior, it is at home, but I do not mean by that that he should put in practice all the purely artificial forms of social etiquette. Heaven forbid! No one detests meaningless ceremony more than I do. But the courtesies that spring from the heart, that are the outward manifestations of a desire to please or to be of service to its object, are entirely different. To the true gentleman they are as natural as the circulation of his blood. He can no more dispense with them than he can with his breath. It is a pity that so few of us are true gentlemen. Most of us are selfish to the bone, and genuine courtesy is an evidence of forgetfulness of self, a virtue which we have to cultivate. If it is worth while to be a gentleman at all—and I never heard anybody express any doubts on that point—it is certainly worth while to be a gentleman at home. The good opinion of your wife is of more importance to you than the opinions of all the rest of the people of the world put together. Yet you would fail to show to her the courtesy which you would bestow upon another as a matter of course and feel ashamed if you were remiss in the least particular.

Would raise its tail up in the air.

Cultivate Home Etiquette.

No, you can't do a better thing than to treat your wife at least as well as you do your neighbor's. She will appreciate it. I can say that with emphasis, for nothing hurts a woman more than the apparent loss of that fine consideration which distinguishes the wooing days. No matter if she does feel sure of your love, no matter if you prove your affection in numberless other ways, she who has reigned as queen is never fully satisfied with less than the honors due to royalty. And it is so easy to gratify her. It is only necessary to keep in mind all the time that your wife is a woman and that good breeding works as well in a smoking jacket as in a dress suit.

I have a very strong recollection of a blacksmith who lived in the little village where I went to school when a boy. He was a great, brawny, rough looking fellow, whose face and hands were grimed by the smoke of the forge. He seldom wore a coat and never a collar except on Sunday, but he was one of the truest gentlemen I have ever known, and his wife was envied by every other woman in the village simply because of his deference to her in private as well as in public. He was a rustic Bayard, but his chivalry was as pure and true as that of any broadcloth attired city man. No, my son, genuine courtesy is not a matter of dress or of ceremony, and in practicing it at home you don't have to sacrifice your own comfort to an extent worthy of consideration. On the other hand, it pays wonderfully in the pleasure it gives to your wife and, by reflection, to you. It pays in the grace it gives to your own character, and, better than all else, it pays in its influence upon the character of your family. Some of these days, unless you are different from the majority of mankind, you will be a father. Your children will be very much as you make them, and your actions will have more to do with the making than your commands. They will, consciously or unconsciously, copy your faults as well as your virtues, and the courtesy you display in their presence will, in some part at least, become fixed habits with them. Your own training has been such that I do not fear you will go far wrong in this particular, but notwithstanding this I have seen evidence that you are not holding up to the old man's standard, and I want you to be right—all right.

But Don't Overdo It.

Now, John, don't misunderstand me. I don't want you to be a jumping jack in the box at home or anywhere else.

I don't want you to be a jumping jack.

Extremes are always odious, and politeness may be so overdone that it becomes a pain instead of a pleasure to its object. Men like old Perkins simply make themselves ridiculous. True politeness is never obtrusive. The test of a well dressed man is your inability to remember what he wore. If he be inclined to foppishness, the conspicuousness of his attire will arrest your attention, as well as your condemnation. On the other hand, the absence of any part of the correct costume or an exhibition of untidiness or carelessness in the wearing is always conspicuous. So with politeness. It is greatly missed when it is absent. It should be unnoticeable when it is present. That is the brand to use in the home as well as outside of it. If you take it off when you hang your hat up in the hall, you can bet your sweet life that Anna May will miss it, and the missing will hurt.

Don't greet her with a grunt, but with a kiss. I wouldn't advise you to apply that form of courtesy to others, but in the home the customary forms may be modified, or, rather, magnified, for love and not custom dictates there. Don't take the best chair in the room unless she commands it. She probably will insist on reserving the most comfortable rocker for you, but you should never get into the habit of taking things for granted. Show her that you think of her first, that her ease and health and happiness stand foremost in your thoughts, and there isn't any doubt about her reciprocation. However much he may wish to do, the man usually gets the best of the bargain in the matter of attentions at home, but he shouldn't get the idea into his noggin that nothing is expected of him. Everything that is tender and solicitous and courteous and loving is expected of him. It is so easy to feel that these things are of no avail, because they are so often unaccepted or apparently unnoticed, but you can't make a greater mistake than to omit them.

She will insist on reserving the most comfortable rocker for you.

Be polite to your wife, John, whether you are at home or abroad. It doesn't cost you a red cent, it need not inconvenience you in the least, but it means an almighty lot to Anna May and just as much to you. Yours affectionately,

JOHN SNEED.

"REMITTANCE MEN."

Wastrels Pitchforked Into Canada the Land of "Forget."

While a new country offers a splendid field for those who, ambitious of getting on, are handicapped in old lands by the restraints and oppressions of ancient environments, it also offers, or seems to offer, a place in which old sorrows may be forgotten; a place in which the social offence, committed elsewhere, may be forgiven.

The bulk of the people who came out have, no doubt, had regard to the Ten Commandments, and are wholesome in their relations, but human nature is defective, and distance from the scene of the moral lapse is not infrequently desired.

Recently, was noticed a beautiful young girl in company with a strapping young fellow who, though manly-looking enough, confessed at a glance his social inferiority to his companion. The girl was English. She had a charming carriage, delicately-tinted cheeks, a mass of golden hair and an accent which told the story of breeding.

Coachman and Master's Daughter.

Enquiries from railway officials, and especially from the stewards of the ship in which they had come out elicited that the young man had been the girl's father's coachman in the south of England; that he had dared to make love to her; that this love had, in due course, been returned; and that they had eloped together, intending to go upon the land in the Saskatoon district.

There is some strictness of examination now, but the wastrel cannot be wholly excluded. For the wastrel appears frequently in the guise of the gentleman—is, indeed—the gentleman, only lost to duty, to regular habits, to ambition.

Tragical Contrasts.

The most tragical contrasts of feeling, of condition, are met with among the immigrants.

An army chaplain has been known to be working as foreman of a gang of navvies in the Lake Nipissing district—a gentleman to his finger tips, with that dreadful failing, which some foolish people think they can remove—by a bit of parchment.

He was idolized by the men, by the people of the district. He had humor, for he came from the Green Isle, and his stories were side-splitting. He was also an excellent manager of men.

Periodically he would disappear. Not one of the navvies ever hinted the cause of such disappearance. He would return in about a fortnight, with hands that trembled, and lips that were red and hot.

The Fatal Remittance.

The "remittance man" is a feature of any large immigration. This is the ne'er-do-well—young, often handsome, highly educated, in instances. Just spoiled—spoiled by softness, by sheltering, in his early youth. His parents were over-fond. Also, they had too much money. The wind must not blow roughly upon their darling, who came to expect that the world was made expressly for his pleasure.

He was dull at school; he was plucked at college, and he entered upon manhood without a profession. By and by his father coaxed him to go out to Canada and start ranching, which might answer to his love for outdoor life and sport.

And there have been men of this stamp who, thrown absolutely upon their own resources in a new country have "buckled to," and done well, but in nine cases out of ten the remittance is fatal.

It is expected, and when comfort can be had by merely sauntering to the postoffice, redemption is difficult.

Every centre in the Dominion has its remittance man, and the commercial methopolis is not without its quota. Extreme hardship has one of two possible effects—it either depresses or stimulates. The remittance man might be saved if the remittance did not come.

But, habituated to ease, and sure of the remittance, which will render effort unnecessary, slothfulness becomes chronic, and incurable, and there is a tragical loss to good citizenship: merely because a pampered young lad was not taken by the scruff of the neck at sixteen and told to make his living.

A Luxurious Conscript.

A wealthy factory owner of Chaux-de-Fonds, Switzerland, who succeeded in evading the rigor of his service as a conscript by much hospitality toward his officers, has been sentenced to two days' confinement to barracks and ordered to begin military service over again. When ordered to report himself he arrived at the barracks at Colombier in a motor car, accompanied by his valet. At a fabulous price he secured a private room there, which he furnished luxuriously and stocked with the best wines and cigars. Eventually he was permitted to live out of barracks and engaged a flat in the best hotel, where he entertained his officers liberally and took them for rides in his motor car. By shamming illness he avoided all drill and the ordinary duties of a soldier.

and sift, cream one and a half cupfuls of powdered sugar, then add half a cupful of sweet milk and the flour; fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs the last thing and add one teaspoonful of vanilla and half a teaspoonful of violet extract; bake in loaf three-fourths of an hour; when cold cover with white icing flavored with violet. A row of hearts completes the cake.

cream is used, taking one tablespoonful to each well beaten egg; also one tablespoonful of granulated sugar to an egg, adding a small half teaspoonful of soda (dissolved), a little grated nutmeg and salt. Mix very tender with flour; roll thin as cookies, cutting off small oblong pieces and then cutting each piece part way with knife into two or three slashes. Fry very carefully to keep the color of a lady finger.

How to Keep Slim.

"A special movement I give to reduce the hips," says a gymnasium teacher, "is to raise the right and left leg alternately on a line with the waist, repeating the movement about twenty times with each leg.

"It seems simple enough, but the average woman wants to stop when she has done the movement about five times."

Another exercise which will help to reduce the size of the hips and waist is to bend slowly at the waist line, arms hanging, until the tips of the fingers touch the floor. Then, after straightening the body again, place the hands upon the chest, throw them up to a perpendicular and outward on a straight line with the shoulders, then down. The bending movement, keeping the legs stiff, is excellent for the back."

Manners at Home.

If parents have one set of manners for the home and another for the outside world, the children will copy those they see in daily use.

There must be no selfishness at home if one does not want the boy or girl to grow up selfish. The foundation of the best manners is a good heart, of course, and a kindly feeling toward every one. Without this they are but artificial and will not stand the test of the buffeting of the world and all its opposing forces.

HEART TROUBLE CURED

In the rush, hurry and worry of modern times, we overwork the heart. Is it any wonder then that there comes a breakdown of this wonderful little engine, when such a continued strain is placed upon it day after day. There are many forms of heart trouble and the slightest derangement of this important organ is extremely dangerous. To strengthen the weak heart it is necessary to use a remedy that will act upon the heart tissue, restore and revitalize it and at the same time tone up and invigorate the nervous system, we have such a combination in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. Ella Dingman, Morganston, Ont., writes of her experience with them: "It is with the greatest of pleasure that I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled for a long time with my heart; I had weak and dizzy spells, could not rest at night, and I would have to sit up in bed the greater part of some nights, and it was absolutely impossible for me to lie on my left side. At last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good I got another box and they effected a complete cure. I have not been troubled with my heart since."

LORD CROMER RETIRES

ENVOY WHO WAS NEARLY FIFTY YEARS IN PUBLIC SERVICE.

Great Britain's Plenipotentiary In Egypt Resigns Owing to Ill-Health —Empire in Deep Regret—Did a Great Work—People of That Country Now Enjoy Peace and Prosperity Unknown for Centuries.

Foreign Secretary Grey has announced in the British House of Commons that Lord Cromer has resigned.

In his letter of resignation he says: "I have arrived at the conclusion that I must ask you to accept my resignation. I have done so after full consideration and after consultation with my medical advisers. I am most anxious that it should be particularly understood that the reasons which induced me to take this step were wholly due to the state of my health, and that no political considerations of any kind whatever are in any way connected with them.

"After spending 49 years in the Government's service I am thoroughly worn out and really unable to support any longer the excessive strain which my work here entails. I feel also that I do not possess the health of strength necessary to do justice to all the important interests involved.

LORD CROMER.

Both my doctors quite agree that it is necessary that I should give up my work."

Unexampled Services.

Secretary Grey, on making the announcement, and ex-Premier Balfour, who followed him, spoke with deep emotion of Lord Cromer's unexampled services to the Empire, and voiced the nation's regret at his leaving his post during such a difficult period, the Foreign Secretary declaring that it was the greatest personal loss the public service of the country could suffer.

The resignation by Lord Cromer of an office which though designated by a less high-sounding title is really the British vice-royalty of Egypt is an event of world-wide interest.

Lord Cromer is 66, but that is not an age at which Englishmen, notably those in high position, are inclined to seek retirement, for the English, while they do not go as fast as Americans, go longer. The work which he has carried on for about 25 years appears about to be subjected to a test that will determine its stability, and one would naturally think that he of all men would desire to remain in direction during such a crisis. As he is not a man to shrink from the trial, the conclusion is natural that the British Government takes a somewhat different view of his policy from that expressed by so many tourists and observers who have been impressed by its 'system' and 'method.'

Wonderful Progress.

Egypt under Lord Cromer's rule—for he has ruled as well as administered—has made really wonderful material and moral progress. It has enjoyed a tranquility induced rather than enforced. His ways have not been harsh, and his ideas have been those of a progressive, liberal-minded administrator, working through general material prosperity to a higher civic state. Crops have been better, taxes lighter, hospital and prison reform have been at work. The people have been exempt from burdens to a degree they had not enjoyed for centuries; but apparently the spirit of nationalism so prompt to rally around the "ancient line" against the most beneficent foreigner is rising. The Khedive is but a name; a gorgeously attired puppet; but for all that he is Egyptian, as compared with the quiet, white-haired Englishman who has made the present lot of so many Egyptians the most prosperous they ever knew. Just at this particular juncture the "Egypt for the Egyptians," movement is caught up in the swelling wave of pan-Islamism which is sweeping through the Mohammedan world, and the beneficent foreigner's alienship becomes thereby emphasized."

Firelight Photographs.

A photographer in London is taking portraits in a new way. He poses his subjects sitting by the fire and reproduces the scene with all the cozy glow of a drawing room in autumn before the electric lights are switched on.

The photographs are costly, but a bill of something like $30 a dozen does not dismay the woman who admires originality and has a long purse or unlimited credit.

FOR THE HOME WORKER

Charming and New Effects In Openwork Embroidery.

SOLID STITCHERY AND LACE.

A Blending of English Embroidery and Hedebo Work That Is Wonderfully Attractive—Centerpieces Not Much Used Nowadays.

There is a charm about openwork effects in needlework that from the very earliest times has appealed strongly to all votaries of the craft.

The revival of English embroidery has been one of the most successful renderings of the fancy for a jour effects at the hands of the embroideresses of today. Another is the so called bedebo work, in which drawn thread plays its part in conjunction with more or less solid stitchery and fillings of lace stitch, which may be endlessly varied according to the taste and skill of the worker. A blending of English embroidery and hedebo work in the most happy manner is exemplified in one of the illustrations, a nightdress sachet of fine white linen, in which part of the design consists of drawn threads buttonholed over and worked with point d'esprit alternating with frillings of lace "cobwebs" and other stitches carried out in white flax thread or D. M. C. cotton. A pleasant variety is given by the introduction of leaf sprays overcast in the usual manner by working English embroidery. The idea may be developed and adapted in a host of attractive ways and would work out charmingly for linen blouses, ends of sideboard cloths, the turnover of sheets, pillowslips, tea cloths, and so on.

The other illustration is a lovely example of fine embroidery worked upon a background of linen enriched with drawn thread work. A garland of La France roses exquisitely wrought in filo floss silk and shaded with the most delicate colors that needle painting can produce twines itself around a medallion of filmy texture, entirely carried out in cut and drawn thread worked with white filo floss. The work is so fine that it is evident the strands of silk have been divided and used two at a time at the most. There is something indescribably delicate and graceful about this piece which makes one feel that, though the fashion for table centers is on the decline, there are inducements which need no apology for adhering to it where work like this is concerned.

Dressing of Babies.

Dr. Alice Perry gives some remarkably good advice upon the upbringing of babies. In Good Housekeeping she says:

"Only two rules are necessary in the clothing of a child during the first few years of his life. Dress him warmly and loosely. It is a great blessing to babies that the long and heavy skirts are a thing of the past. Now the long clothes are of reasonable length and weight and are soon changed for the short skirts which allow the little limbs free play. Kicking is the most important part of a baby's exercise."

Give a talkative acquaintance half a chance and he will teach you a whole lot of things you knew before.

STEAMBOAT FIRE WAS A MYSTERY

City of Cleveland Almost Totally Destroyed.

LOSS AT LEAST $700,000

Fine New Passenger Steamer Burned at Shipyard—Incendiarism Suspected to Be the Cause—Nobody Was Injured—May Still Utilize the Hull—Will Delay Service This Season—Builders Loss.

Detroit, May 14.—The magnificent new passenger steamer City of Cleveland, under construction for the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company, and destined to run between Detroit and Cleveland, was swept by fire early yesterday and is a total loss except her hull and machinery. How much they have been damaged can not be determined until the hull is pumped out. The loss, which falls upon the Detroit Shipbuilding Company, is about $700,000, and is fairly well covered by insurance.

The fire broke out mysteriously just before daylight. Incendiarism is suspected. There were two watchmen on the steamer and another at the gate to the shipyard. The City of Cleveland was launched at Wyandotte, Jan. 5, and was to have been turned over to the navigation company about June 30. She was 444 feet long and designed to carry 4,500 passengers, with sleeping accommodation for 1,500.

The two watchmen on the steamer got ashore safely and no one was injured.

The shipbuilding company will rebuild the boat, it is announced, but it will be impossible to get her ready for service before next season.

BLAMED CARELESS SMOKER.

Supposed to Have Set Fire Which Caused Many Deaths.

Mexico City, May 14.—The fire in the Ternere Mines, which caused the death of upwards to a hundred men is supposed to have been started by a cigarette thrown away by one of the miners.

The part of the mine in which the fire originated, it is said, was extraordinarily dry, and it is believed that the man in throwing away his half-burned cigarette allowed it to drop in a bunch of waste. A blaze was the immediate result, and this quickly conveyed itself to the adjoining timbering.

The fire had gained great headway before it was discovered. The miners found that all avenues of escape had been cut off. Seventeen, however, who were in good position made a dash and reached the outer air. Rescuing parties have been working heroically, but only charred and unrecognizable bodies have thus far rewarded their efforts.

LONDON'S SECRET CONGRESS.

Has An Important Bearing On the Future of Russia.

London, May 14.—The Chronicle interviewed one of the delegates to the Russian secret Congress being held here, who said:—"The present session of the secret Douma is the most important ever held in its bearing on the future of Russia. The result will determine whether prosecution of the cause of social democracy will proceed on the old Terrorist lines, or become a system of passive resistance and public remonstrance.

Maxim Gorky was present at the meeting of the secret Douma yesterday. He arrived here unexpectedly Sunday, and will remain for the sittings of the Congress, which will probably last for ten days.

Twenty Years for Burglary.

Winnipeg, May 14.—One of the largest penalties for burglary ever known to have been given here, was meted out to Fred Hawkins, alias Stevens, yesterday, when he was sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary. Hawkins pleaded guilty to a number of daring burglaries.

Crashed Into Ship's Bottom.

Montreal, May 14.—While the Reford liner the Concordia was unloading some heavy pieces of machinery consigned to the Dominion Bridge Co. the derrick cable broke. A huge piece of machinery, which had been hauled up and swung clear of the hatchway, plunged down the hatchway. Passing to the bottom without touching anything, it tore a huge hole in the ship's bottom and stuck with the upper part imbedded in the ship.

The Corcordia, being in great danger of sinking in the deep water where she lay, was taken to shallow water, where the risk of sinking was less, and divers effected repairs

DEMAND FOR PREFERENCE.

Austin Chamberlain Leads Attack On Government Policy.

London, May 14.—In the House of Commons, on the second reading of the Finance Bill, Austin Chamberlain moved an official tariff reform amendment. He dealt with the general question of taxation and satarized the attitude of the Government towards the colonial demand for preference. The demands of the colonies he thought had been refused almost brutally. The Opposition were anxious not to repel the first united advance for closer union with the colonies. No juggling with the income tax would meet the case. He laid it against the British fiscal system that it acted as a handicap to trade and commerce, wages and employment, and suggested the imposition of duties on imported manufactured goods.

Lyttleton also condemned the action of the Government regarding the colonial conference, while Jesse Collings ridiculed the statement by Asquith that the question had been finally settled by the last election.

McKenna and Buxton replied on behalf of the Government, the latter arguing that the financial system of Britain was now sounder than for years. If Britain adopted preference, retaliation or protection, it would lead her into a hopeless chaos.

The debate was adjourned.

In the House of Commons Sir Stachey stated that the president of the board of agriculture had read Laurier's speech in reference to the importation of cattle and would of course give most respectful attention to the representations made by him.

FRENCH LABOR POLICY.

Government Will Not Permit Any Insubordination.

Paris, May 14.—When the Chamber of Deputies reassembled yesterday, Education Minister Briand replied to further interpellations of the Government, on the latter's policy towards labor. He declared that the Ministers had acted in the true interests of both the public and the working people in suppressing the violence and the tyranny of the revolutionary general confederation of labor, and expressed his determination, with the fullest approval of his colleagues, not to permit any attempt at insubordination on the part of the school teachers or other state officials.

Continuing, M. Briand said the Government categorically refused to authorize the school teachers and other state officials to form the unions which the general federation of labor desired in order to provoke confusion and disorder through the officials appearing to the country to be over the heads of the Cabinet Ministers. The Government desired to overcome anarchy by means of order and discipline, thus avoiding certain reaction. If the chamber did not support the Government's disciplinary measures the Ministers would not retain their portfolios. The debate was adjourned until to-day, when the Government will ask for a vote of confidence.

DEAKIN'S LATEST PROPOSAL.

Would Reform Colonial Office and Interchange Officials.

London, May 14.—(C. A. P.)—The Canadian Associated Press learns that Premier Deakin at to-day's sitting of the conference will propose there should be a reconstruction of the Colonial Office so as to provide for a periodic interchange of officials between Downing street and the various parts of the empire.

The Canadian Associated Press understands it has been decided to publish in extenso the proceedings of the Colonial Conference; the publication will be at an early date but the speeches will require some revision before publication.

Mr. Winston Churchill, replying to a question said the Colonial Premiers made clear to the Government that as their policy was to protect their position from British and foreign competition they could not in any way reciprocate to the free unrestricted import afforded them in this country, on the other hand, His Majesty's Government were not prepared to place a tax on foreign imports for the purpose of conferring further advantages on the self-governing colonies.

Train Derailed.

Columbus, Ohio, May 14.—Dashing through an open switch at Truro station, 12 miles southeast of Columbus yesterday, the West Virginia express on the Ohio Central Railroad, was derailed. One man, who was walking along the side of the track, was killed, Michael Martin, the engineer, who was pinned under his engine, will die, as will also Daniel Martin, the fireman, and an unknown woman.

Reported Victory for Sultan.

Melilla, Morocco, May 14.—It is rumored here that the army of the Sultan has won a victory over the forces of the Pretender near Marchica. The casualties on both sides are reported to be heavy, and the Government troops are said to have captured 200 prisoners.

DISASTROUS FIRES IN ONTARIO

Flames Do Enormous Damage At Clinton and Finch.

TWO CHURCHES DESTROYED

Thresher Works and Rattenbury Hotel Burned—Public Library and Other Buildings—Fire Brigades Render Good Service — Spark From Smokestack Was Cause —Finch Village Half Gone.

Clinton, May 14.—The most disastrous fire in the history of Clinton was started yesterday afternoon about two o'clock, in the works of the Clinton Thresher Co. A terrific wind was blowing, and it is thought the fire originated by a spark from the Thresher Co.'s smokestack falling on the roof of the frame factory. For a time it looked as though the whole town would be destroyed, as fully 25 buildings were on fire at once, and, with the wind blowing so hard, the firemen were at the mercy of the flames. Assistance was asked for from Stratford and Blyth, and it is to their efforts much of the credit is due in stopping the fire's progress.

Methodist Church Catches.

The flames leaped from the Threshing Co. to their office, then across the street to some small buildings at the rear of Wesley Methodist Church, and for a time this splendid structure was in great danger, but although fire caught in a few places it was eventually put out. Cinders and sparks were carried over to Elliott's Livery stables, but the fire brigade prevented them doing serious damage, although the contents of the livery and residences were removed.

The Rattenbury Hotel was now seen to have caught fire in the third storey, and, the building being entirely a frame one, fell a prey to the flames, as did also the adjoining sample rooms. It seemed for a time that the old postoffice building, adjoining the Rattenbury Hotel, also the large stable at the rear, and Flynn's blacksmith shop, would also burn, but the brigades from Blyth and Stratford arrived and prevented further destruction, although the rear part of the old postoffice was burned and McLean's restaurant was partly damaged by water.

Stables Destroyed.

Dr. Evans' house and stables were completely destroyed, and it was with difficulty that Davis' Livery, Dr. Gunn's office and residence, and also the residences of C. C. Rance, Jos. Copp, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Pratt, B. Hill and others were saved, although the contents of most of these were damaged by smoke.

The Thresher Co.'s plant loses $30,000 in the buildings, which were erected at a cost of $30,000, also the contents, worth $30,000, are almost a total loss; insured for $20,000.

The Rattenbury Hotel, owned by J. Rattenbury, was valued at $8,000, and was a total loss; insured for $2,000.

$50,000 Fire at Finch.

Ottawa, May 14.—A threatening fire broke out at the Village of Finch, the junction of the C. P. R. and New York and Ottawa line, an important dairy centre, yesterday.

At two o'clock a small rubbish pile, burning, set fire to some coal oil casks and then to the general store of A. F. Day in the McNaughton block. This whole building was burned. With it went the branch of the Merchants' Bank, who saved the books and bills alone; the armory and full equipment of a new issue of rifles and uniforms of No. 4 Company of the 59th Regiment; the paraphernalia of the Orange Lodge, and a branch of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, and the public library and 800 books.

A blacksmith's shop of A. F. Dingwall also was burned, as well as the old Presbyterian Church and the Methodist Church. Out of the latter the organ had been saved. Then the work of the bucket and pump brigade began to tell and at five o'clock the chief danger was over.

At night a big wind sprang up and sparks were flying over the village again, but the whole neighborhood has turned out. The loss will exceed $50,000.

INSULTED THE FLAG.

Canadian In Detroit Called Old Glory a Dish Rag.

Detroit, Mich., May 14.—A Sunbury, Pa., despatch says:—George J. Pegg, a Canadian employed at a local mill, alleged to have called the United States flag nothing more than a dish rag, was compelled by an angry crowd Sunday night to salute the emblem and carry it on a pole several miles, during which the paraders frequently threatened to throw him in the Susquehanna river.

He was led to the centre of a bridge crossing the stream, a man on one side of him carrying a rifle, and another with a noose. He was threatened by the mob with drowning. The enraged crowd surrounded him as he said: "I made the remark in ignorance of American respect for the flag of your country. I am very sorry." He was released amid hisses and groans.

Dominion Vs. the Province.

Ottawa, May 14.—In the supreme court yesterday, judgment was given in the appeal of the Province of Ontario v. the Dominion of Canada, dismissing both the main appeal and the cross appeal. No costs were allowed to either party. This is a case involving the rate of interest payable by the Dominion to Ontario on account of certain provincial credits; it also turned on the question, whether the Dominion was a trustee or merely a holder of these funds.

Oliver Must Show Records.

Calgary, May 14.—Hon. Frank Oliver and his deputy have been served with notice to appear with all records of the Department of Interior at the examination beaning on the case of Montalbetti, who is now at MacLeod jail on the charge of perjury in the Blairmore Townsite case. The registrar of the exchequer court has also been subpoenaed, together with the court records. Startling developments are expected.

STRIPPED AND TARRED.

Disgraceful Affair Occurred Recently at Port Elgin.

Kincardine, May 14.—The quiet village of Port Elgin on Friday had its good name disgraced by an unprecedented affair.

For some weeks past there has been a growing feeling against a man, named Joseph Elymer, an employe of the shovel works. Eylmer came here some time ago and went to board at the residence of a barber named Venner. People after a while began to gossip, and all the more so when Venner, about a month ago, left town, leaving his wife and family. Elymer has since lived at the house.

On Thursday night last a crowd of men broke into the house in search of Elymer, but he met them with a club and they made a hasty retreat.

On Friday morning one of their number, a supposed friend of Elymer, went down to the Venner residence and got the victim to come up town. They went to the Queen's Hotel, and at the noon hour, a few leading spirits had collected. When Elymer emerged from the hotel he was grabbed and rushed to the barn, where, in a box stall, he was stripped of his clothing and given a thorough coating of tar, hayseeds being afterwards sprinkled over him. In this condition he was left and ordered to leave the town.

J. Izzard, proprietor of the hotel, on learning what was going on, summoned Chief Heney, but the band of purity had flown. Several names were taken, and two of the men, Hamilton and McKensie, butchers, were taken before a magistrate and fined $1 and costs.

RATS WORKED ALL RIGHT.

Break Up Woman Suffragists' Meeting in England.

London, May 14.—Out at Wimbledon Hon. Bertrand Russell, woman suffrage candidate for Parliament, decided to open his campaign with a public meeting. The hall was crowded, chiefly with women. When the meeting opened it was seen that an organized attempt was made to break it up. The chairman pleaded that there might be order in the meeting.

"Will you please sit down?" demanded a man with a megaphone, and then came a great uproar, which lasted 5 minutes. Everything went on all right until Candidate Russell rose to speak. He had scarcely said a word when the man with the megaphone shouted: "Let 'em loose!"

An instant later forty big, whooping rats were scampering over the floor, terrorizing the audience, and especially the women. Needless to say, the meeting adjourned immediately in great disorder.

SPAIN AND BRITAIN.

Alfonso Refers to the Excellent Relations Now Existing.

Madrid, May 14.—King Alfonso, who was accompanied by Queen-Mother Marie Christina, opened the new Parliament yesterday. The King read a message from the throne, promising reforms in the state administration, including decentralization, and urged the immediate reconstruction of the navy. He referred to the meeting with King Edward at Cartagena, "by which the ties uniting Spain and Great Britain were strengthened," while the excellent relations between Spain and all other nations were maintained.

Out of Nineteen Cities and Towns in Ontario Peterborough's Taxes Per Head of Population are the Lowest Reported ---$7.96 the Amount, According to Last Report of Bureau of Industries---Some Comparisons With Other Places

Special to The Examiner

Out of nineteen towns and cities in Ontario, according to the last report of the Bureau of Industries, Peterborough is given as the municipality in which there is the lowest rate of taxation per head of population, the people of this city having to pay $7.96 each for municipal purposes, with Guelph is the next municipality in this respect. The figures for the nineteen places referred to, with details as to their population, taxes per head and rates of taxation, are as follows :—

| Municipality | Population | Taxation per Head | Rate |
|---|---|---|---|
| PETERBOROUGH | 14,391 | $7.96 | 19.5 |

| Windsor | 14,007 | 12.38 | 23. |
| Chatham | 9,629 | 13.45 | 28.7 |

Toronto, May 14.—Peterborough is still classed with the "towns and villages" in the report of the Bureau of Industries for the year 1905, the issue of which is out to-day. Next year, however, Peterborough will be placed in the class to which it belongs—with the cities—and will make a good showing in that class even.

In the report just issued by the department of the Provincial Secretary, Peterborough is shown to have a population of 14,391, an assessed value of $5,351,864 for real property, an increase over that for the preceding year of $345,750. The total assessed values of the city amount to $5,871,364, as compared with $5,497,189 in the year preceding.

Taxes were imposed in this amount of assessment for the year of $114,601, or $7.96 per head of population.

County Statistics

Information concerning the population of the county, with other figures on assessment and taxation per head are also given in the report. In the twelve townships in Peterborough County, outside of the three incorporated villages, there is a population of 17,223, with a total assessed value of $7,436,-213. The three villages in the county —Havelock, Lakefield and Norwood—have populations as follows:

Havelock, 1,034.
Lakefield, 1,389.
Norwood, 939.

The total population of the villages is 3,312, and the assessment, $3,390,252.

In population in the townships Otonabee leads with 2,004; Smith coming next, having a population of 2,403; Belmont has 1,969, and is closely followed by Asphodel with 1,803; and Douro and Dummer are close together, the former having 1,583 and the latter 1,560. Enniskmore has 1,020, the others all having less than 1,000.

In the section devoted to county figures Peterborough is represented as having received as rates from the local municipalities $20,723 and $2,372 from the Legislature for schools; from the same source the county received $9,838 for administration of justice, the total receipts for the year reported on being $45,912.

Under the head of disbursements, the principal items of expenditures were: Administration of justice and goal maintenance, $10,429; grants to schools and other payments on education, $9,216; interest on debentures, $9,365.

It may be somewhat of a surprise to some persons to learn that there has been a decrease in the population of the county. In 1903 the population of the County of Peterborough was 36,638; in the following year it had dropped to 35,561, and for the year 1906 it had dropped still further to 34,931.

Local Millers State That While No More Has Been Taken Yet It Must Come Soon — Manitoba Mills Take the Lead.

UP 30c. BARREL IN WEST

Cold Weather and Alleged Poor Crop Prospects the Causes Attributed—Must Affect Local Conditions in Short Time.

There will be an increase in the price of flour in the near future. This will be one of the first results of the recent jump in the price of wheat.

The Examiner was advised to-day that some of the Manitoba mills had already raised the price of their product 30 cents a barrel, and the Ontario millers will soon have to follow suit.

The recent cold weather has had an inflating influence on the price of wheat, which yesterday went over the dollar mark on 'change in Chicago. As a matter of fact, wheat can be bought at the present time for about 80 cents a bushel, the July wheat being quoted at the highest price on the market.

The big millers will not give quotations on flour for future delivery until the market becomes more settled, which condition is looked for in the course of a few days. With the return of fine, warm weather the conditions will become more satisfactory, and a drop in the price of wheat is looked for. This morning it shot up again beyond the closing quotations of yesterday, but afterwards dropped 3 cents a bushel by 11 o'clock.

The local millers are still selling to the old prices for flour, but one of them stated to-day that he thought it would be only a short time until the price would have to go up. How much the increase would be he was not in a position to say, but that there would be a jump he had no doubt.

HARD FROST WAS EXPERIENCED LAST NIGHT THROUGH MANITOBA

(J. R. Heintz & Co. Special.)

Chicago, May 14.—Following from Winnipeg: "Ground frozen hard this morning. Seventy-five per cent. of the farmers here have not commenced seeding yet. Wheat acreage will be greatly reduced."

We are getting messages of this kind from all points of Manitoba.

SCARCITY OF MEN WILLING TO WORK; AN INDUSTRIAL CO. FINDS THIS CONDITION HERE

The Quaker Oats Company is in need of 40 men for work in their mills here, and difficulty is being experienced in securing them. Advertisements were placed in the city papers, but there is apparently a scarcity of men suitable for that class of work, and the required number was not secured through that medium. To-day the necessity was so urgent that bulletines were put out, calling for applications for positions in the mills of the Company. It appears that there is no scarcity of men, but there is a decided scarcity of the right kind of men.

Men who come on and work a day or two and then lay off for a few are not the class that the Quaker Oats pany, or any other industrial concern, for that matter, want.

SLEIGHING ON MAY 6TH, BUT THE CROPS WERE NEVER BETTER

The fact that this season is unusually late, need not, in the face of statements made by some of the residents of the country, who have lived here for a number of years, be considered an alarming one.

Mr. S. D. Carver, of North Monaghan, told the Examiner on Saturday, a very cheering fact. He stated that in 1885, an unusually late spring, he saw a sleigh pass his door on May 6th—two days later than this year—and he further stated that there were never better crops, on the whole, than in that year. In view of this fact he did not think there was any cause to worry over the present situation.

WEATHER IS BAD IN THE WEST

Manitoba May be Without a Harvest Even With Weather Made To Order.

Special to J. R. Heintz & Co.

In market circles some alarm is felt at the situation so far as it relates to the wheat crop. Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary issued to-day is not at all favourable, taken as a whole. While it is true that in some parts the crops are promising, the tone of the summary taken altogether, is decidedly unfavourable, and will have, no doubt, further effect on the price of wheat on this continent. The despatch from Liverpool, received by Messrs. J. R. Heintz & Co., is as follows:—

Liverpool, May 14. — Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary says:

United Kingdom. — Warm, dry weather is still wanted.

France.—The outlook for the crops is generally favourable. Supplies still scarce.

Germany.—The weather is favourable, and the crops have shown some improvement.

Roumania.—Drought is still causing apprehension to the crops and the outlook for corn is bad.

Russia.—Dry weather now extends in the direction of the South-east, but there are no serious complaints heard yet. Supplies are very light.

Bulgaria.—Thirty per cent. of the winter crops have been abandoned. The same being replaced with spring wheat. Rain is urgently needed.

Turkey.—The outlook for the crops is unfavourable.

Italy, Spain and North Africa.—The outlook for harvest on the whole is satisfactory.

Agentine. — The strike situation still continues and is slightly hindering the loading the grain. The market is firm and prices are advancing rapidly.

India.—The weather still continues favourable.

Old And Respected Native Of The County Passed Away

Late Samuel McKibbon Was Born in Smith 77 Years Ago and Lived in the County Ever Since.

HE DIED IN LAKEFIELD

After a lengthy illness, Mr. Samuel McKibbon, one of the oldest natives of Peterborough county, passed away yesterday at his home in Lakefield, where he had lived for the past twenty years. The late Mr. McKibbon was born in the township of Smith seventy-seven years ago, and lived there for fifty-seven years, until his removal to Lakefield, upon his retirement from the farming occupation.

It will thus be seen that the deceased may well be looked upon as one of the oldest settlers in this county. Not only was he one of the oldest, but he was also most highly respected, and took a prominent part in all movements inaugurated for the benefit of the community. He was at one time county valuator, acting with Mr. Drummond in that capacity.

The deceased had been ailing for some time from a complication of diseases, which finally resulted in his death. He is survived by his wife, whose maiden name was Bessie Garbutt, a daughter of the late Isaac Garbutt, also of Smith, and one brother James, and one sister, Mrs. Shields, both of this city. Two children were born to the union, but both of these have since died.

In religion the late Mr. McKibbon was a staunch Baptist, and was one of the most prominent members of the church of that denomination in Lakefield.

He was born about four miles from Peterborough, living there until he became of age and married, when he removed to his own farm about two miles from Lakefield, where he lived until he retired and went to the village to live.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon from his late residence, Lakefield, at 2.30, and the interment will take place at Ray's cemetery.

No Spitting To Be Allowed In Public Places In City

Ald. Leary's Anti-Spitting By-law Was Carried Last Night by the Casting Vote of the Mayor---Some objection to the By-law.

CAN IT BE ENFORCED?

Ald. Leary's Bylaw to prohibit spitting on the streets and in public places, was passed by the council last night, although there was opposition to it by Ald. Morrow and others, that the measure was too broad and could not be enforced.

The bylaw makes it prohibitory to spit on sidewalks, in alleyways, on the stairways and entrances to public places, in street cars, or in any other place used by the public. The penalty is a fine not exceeding $50.

The vote on the measure was a tie, six aldermen voting each way, and the Mayor threw in the casting vote in favour of the bylaw.

Ald. Morrow objected to the by-law on the ground that it could not be enforced.

Ald. Bradburn asked if Ald. Leary had any information about the effect of such a bylaw in other places.

Ald Leary replied that it had been tried in Cobourg, and the bylaw had had a good effect. There was no more spitting around the street corners there.

"Oh, there's no one there to do any spitting," remarked Ald. Bradburn.

Ald. Morrow moved that the by-law be read six months hence, but withdrew his motion.

Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan that the bylaw be referred back to the Committee of the Whole Council.

The vote was a tie, and the Mayor voted in favour of the bylaw.

"OCEAN WAVE" ON THE MARKET

Proprietor Thinks That License Fee Asked by City is Prohibitory—Matter Discussed Last Night

At the meeting of the City Council last night a letter was read from W. McIlmoyle, the Market Clerk, stating that a man had made arrangements with him to use part of the Market Square for a short time for the purpose of operating a merry go round, known as "The Ocean Wave," and that afterwards the lessee found that he would have to pay a license fee of $20 for the first week and $10 for each subsequent week, which was regarded as prohibitory.

W. Heffernan, the owner of the machine, also wrote, stating that he proposed to move the apparatus to Jackson park as soon as the season opened and in the meantime he wished to make use of it in the centre of the city. The license asked, he said, he could not pay.

When the matter was discussed in council the question arose as to whether the market clerk had power to lease the square for any other than market purposes, and it was decided that he had.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

CLOSING MEETING OF GIRLS' AUXILIARY

An Interesting Meeting Held at St. Luke's Church Yesterday—Report of Diocesan Meeting

The closing meeting until the fall, of the Girls' Auxiliary, of St. Luke's church was held last night in the school room of the church. There was a good attendance and an interesting meeting was held.

A feature of the meeting was the report of the annual diocesan meeting, which was presented by Miss Pratley. It was a very interesting and comprehensive review of the work done at the late annual meeting.

Several ladies from the senior Women's Auxiliary were present at the meeting. After the business had been concluded refreshments were served and a delightful social evening was spent afterwards.

Forest Fire At Clear Lake Threatened The Cottages

Mr. Geo. H. Williamson's Summer Residence Had a Narrow Escape---Fire Went Within Two Feet of the Cottage--Large Stretch of Forest Burned.

FIRE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Yesterday the local people who own cottages in the vicinity of Sandy Point, Clear Lake, were thrown into a state of consternation by a report which reached town that a forest fire was raging in the Dickson Company's woods in that vicinity, and that their cottages were threatened with destruction.

The rumour unfortunately proved to be true, and although so far no cottages have been destroyed several are in danger, and a large tract of valuable timber is being devastated.

The origin of the fire is not known. It was first noticed by Young's Point residents boating on Clear Lake on Sunday, and an investigation showed that the woods at Sandy Point were on fire. The fire was then some distance away from the cottages at Sandy Point, and not much attention was paid to it then. Yesterday morning matters were much worse. A large tract of the woods was on fire, and the flames were making headway in the direction of the cottages, fanned by a strong west wind. The cottages belonging to Mr. George H. Williamson, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., Mr. R. B. Rogers, Mr. C. N. Brown and Mr. E. A. Peck were threatened with destruction.

The fate of the last three cottages is not yet decided. Mr. Wm Davidson, of the Dickson Lumber Co. went up to Clear Lake yesterday afternoon to investigate the matter, and this morning a 'phone message from him gave the information that the fire had passed to the west of Mr. Williamson's cottage, and that that building was safe. Mr. Williamson's cottage is nearly a mile south of the other cottages and the fire is reported to be moving northwards towards Mr. Rogers' and the other property. It is hoped that the fire will still keep to the west of the buildings.

Mr. C. N. Brown went up this morning to take what measures he could to prevent his property from being destroyed. If the fire continues to rage through the forest, it will mar the scenic beauty of the lake, as one of the chief charms was the heavily wooded shore.

Mr. V. Dingman, of the Y.M.C.A. accompanied Mr. Davidson to the scene of the fire last night and today reported to the Examiner that the fire had crept dangerously close to Mr. Williamson's cottage. At one corner the grass had been burned within two feet of the building. The fire burned all around the Y.M.C.A. cookery, which also had a narrow escape. Mr. Dingman did not consider there was any danger of the burning of the cottages north of that point as the fire was creeping south and south-west.

Last night when they left Sandy Point the flames were still spreading but not rapidly and it was not considered that any great loss would be created.

Mr. Dingman stated that he was informed by the children of Mr. Ayotte, the resides on the Burleigh Road near Sandy Point, that they had seen two men cross the fields on Sunday afternoon towards the woods and that shortly after the smoke was observed above the tree tops. It is presumed that they had been smoking and had dropped a burning match among some dry brush.

Under Control

A despatch from Young's Point this afternoon stated that the fire was under control and that no further damage was anticipated.

The Peterborough Light and Power Company wishes to remind its customers that Wednesday, May 15th, is the last day discount will be allowed on April accounts. The office will be open during the evening of the 14th and 15th, from 8 to 11 p. m.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CHEESE BOARD

Officers Will be Elected at the First Sale of the Season Which Will be Held To-morrow

To-morrow morning, the annual meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board will be held in the Bank of Montreal Chambers, at 10 o'clock. The officers will be elected, and the first sale for the year will take place. The cold weather has been detrimental to the dairy business so far this season, but with the return of better weather conditions there is every reason to believe that this season will be as successful as any in the past. There is a good demand for cheese from abroad, and good prices are likely to be realized, as a result.

THE TRENT CANAL

The Trent Canal project has become what its advocates in this district have always regarded it, a transportation factor of national importance. The very arguments which have been employed to "boom" enlargement of the Welland Canal as a grain-carrying route seem to emphasize the importance and value of the Trent Waterway. The Globe argues that the deepening of the Welland Canal to 21 feet will permit the shipping of grain in the large lake carriers from Fort William or Port Arthur to Kingston (without breaking bulk, and that from Kingston it can be carried in barges to Montreal, thus effecting a saving of 3 1-2 cents per bushel. The same or a greater saving of freight charges can be effected by way of the Trent Canal. Wheat, it has been shown, can be carried from the Georgian Bay inlet of the canal to Montreal at 2 cents per bushel. If the saving by the Welland Canal to Kingston amounts, as the Globe claims, to 3 1-2 cents, if we add the barge charges from Kingston to Montreal, we shall have the saving by the Trent Canal route amount to 4 cents. Thus, on the shipment of one million bushels of wheat by this route the saving, at the rate of 3 1-2 cents per bushel, will be $3,500,000, or, on ten million bushels, $35,000,000. Thus, the grain-growers of the country would save, in a few years, the entire cost of the canal ten times told. We have in this a complete demonstration of the utility of the Trent Canal. This does not include the large water-power development nor the tremendous development of local trade along its route, a development which will almost directly benefit the Provincial capital. Tenders are called for the canalization of the Holland River, which will bring the canal within a few miles of Toronto, which, by a short line of railway of perhaps thirty miles in length, will have the advantage of water shipment and cheaper freight rates to Fort William and Port Arthur. The deepening of the Welland Canal means an expenditure of between twenty-five and thirty millions. While it is desirable that this deepening should take place, it will involve more time and money than we can afford at present. The rapid settlement of the West and the consequent increase of wheat available for shipment indicate the importance of the time element. The Trent Canal is nearly completed. It can be rushed to completion. It will afford another important outlet, which can be used till canal enlargement is effected. Even afterwards it will be necessary. With all the avenues of outlet in full play; with the deepened Welland Canal, the Trent Canal, and that costly enterprise, the Georgian Bay Canal—estimated to cost $105,000,000 — all in operation, there will soon be congestion of our waterways and other avenues of transportation. The quantity of grain to be shipped out of the country, say, at present, fifty million bushels, will, in a few years, be multiplied ten-fold.

THE IRSIH COUNCIL BILL

It was a dramatic moment in the life of the mother of parliaments when Mr. Birrell rose on Thursday to outline the Government's Irish policy. It revived in the memory of the British nation two historic scenes within the same walls. The first was the introduction of Mr. Gladstone's home rule bill of 1886, and the second his last attempt, in 1893, to pay what he believed to be England's debt of justice to Ireland.

The first bill created a schism in the Liberal party which has not been healed to this day. The second bill, adopted by the House of Commons and thrown out by the House of Lords, was soon followed by the downfall of the Liberal Government and the exclusion of the Liberal party from office for ten years. What effect upon the same party will this present measure have? Conjecture on the point intensifies public interest. Three of the strongest men in the Campbell-Bannerman Ministry, Mr. Haldane, Sir Edward Grey, and Mr. Asquith, are outspoken opponents of home rule, but they have apparently decided to support a measure which falls far short of home rule in the Gladstone sense.

Mr. Gladstone's bill of 1893 provided for a creation of an Irish Parliament consisting of a legislative council and legislative assembly, both bodies being on an elective basis. The council was to be chosen by electors owning or occupying land or houses of the rateable value of more than £20. The assembly was to consist of 103 members returned by the ordinary parliamentary suffrage. The Irish parliament was to make laws in subjects relating exclusively to Ireland, except in matters of peace and war, public defence, treaties and foreign relations, taxation, commerce, navigation, coinage, weights and measures, and other imperial interests, or interests which Ireland, Scotland and England have in common. The Irish customs revenue was to go to the imperial exchequer, but the excise duties, local taxation, postal revenue, and other miscellaneous taxes amounting in all to nearly £6,000,000 were to go to the Irish parliament. The latter assumed the charges for the constabulary, civil administration, inland revenue and postal service. It had also the power of levying taxation other than existing taxation. In the matters reserved to it the Irish parliament was to have full legislative and executive power, but every act was subject to the approval of the Queen, or in other words, the British Government. The Irish representation in the House of Commons was to be reduced to 80 members, who were not to vote on matters relating exclusively to England, Scotland or Wales.

The bill introduced by Mr. Birrell is radically different from Mr. Gladstone's. As Mr. Birrell explained, it contains no trace of new legislative power, and does not authorize the levying of a single tax or rate. An Irish council, consisting of 82 elected and 22 nominated members, will be created to administer several departments, which relate to exclusively Irish affairs. The lord lieutenant of Ireland, the representative of the Imperial Parliament, is given power to reserve his consent to any resolution of the council. By this means, the supremacy of the Imperial Parliament is safeguarded. A special fund, amounting to a little over $20,000,000 yearly, is to be created by the British Government and paid into a separate Irish fund for the purposes of the Irish council. The control of the Royal Irish constabulary—a sore point with the Nationalists—is retained by the imperial authorities. Under the Gladstone bill all police powers were to be vested in the Irish parliament. The Nationalists regard the Royal Constabulary as an all-Irish institution, and a symbol of English domination and distrust, but the Unionists in Ireland regard the force with different eyes.

The fate of the bill will depend upon the attitude of the Nationalists and the House of Lords. The Unionists in the House of Commons will, of course, oppose it tooth and nail as an installment of home rule, but the Unionist majority in the House of Lords may hesitate before furnishing the Liberal party with another provocation to a crusade against the Upper Chamber. The Nationalists may also accept the bill as a vantage ground in the fight for home rule. At any rate, the Government may well claim that it can go no further in the present state of public opinion.

If You Want the Best, it is Tisdall's Ice Cream.

THE PROVINCIAL HEALTH OFFICER HERE

Passed Through City Last Night—Reports Smallpox in the East

Dr. Bell, formerly of Peterborough, Provincial Health Inspector for Ontario, passed through Peterborough last evening on his way west. The doctor's many friends in Peterborough were pleased to see him looking so well. He was returning from an eastern trip, where smallpox had been prevalent for some time, but unfortunately, in one or two places, had been mistaken for chicken-pox. The doctor found also an outbreak of diphtheria, (from which, unfortunately, several deaths have already occurred.

The doctor reports that considerable smallpox prevails throughout the Province, particularly in Western Ontario, but states that the lumber camps have been unusually lucky this year.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Beer, the national beverage of an Englishman, has a most deteriorating effect as to his individuality.

He naturally, after making himself at home in this country, looks for some hilarious entertainment. He finds none, nevertheless he soon finds a companion in a native or otherwise, and the topics for conversation being nil, they succumb to the great inevitable phraseology, "Come and have a drink," which they do, whether from a good motive or otherwise.

Naturally this appears to me to be the first step to the new arrival's downfall, or, as he may himself call it "deterioration of character."

In conclusion I may add that all such people who come here with a desire to further the prosperity of the sister country, should not be such slaves to their appetites. There are good, bad and indifferent in all nationalities, and it behooves one who knows to discriminate between right and wrong regarding these immigrants.

Yours truly,
"COCKAIGNE."

Editor Post Card Column:

I noticed some time ago through the press that we, of the George Street Methodist Church, are likely to have a Toronto minister to fill the vacancy that is about to occuur, requiring the sanction of the Stationing Committee. Would it not be better for all of us, if we are going to adopt the invitation system, to have the privilege of choice. To say the least I think it is very unfair to crowd upon the people of George street church a minister without even hearing him from our pulpit. Is there not a tinge of "Commercial Christianity" in this action?

Are we to submit to a precious few who may see fit to select in their opinion a suitable person for the hundreds that are members of the said church to listen to from one to four years irrespective of their choice. I think for the best religious interests of the people that it would be very much better to have the hearty co-operation of at least the members of the congregation than to allow those who may possibly think that their selection is all that is required. I am satisfied that the people of George street church would like the liberty of choice. The will of the people has come to stay. I will venture to say that the publicity of a choice by the will of the members will have a much greater effect of doing good than to allow a selection by gratifying the ambition of a select few. Seeing we are adopting the invitation system it would be better to give every member a chance to give the invitation indirectly at least.

MEMBER'S OPINION.

Editor Post-Card Column,—

Dear Sir,—If the object of sprinkling the streets is to lay the dust, then the labour is wasted. I notice that most of the streets are imperfectly watered, and that between trips the little water put on evaporates and the dust is ready to be swept through the streets in clouds in case of high winds. Will the "boss" of the water wagons bring up the matter to-night and provide a remedy, so that the citizens who have to "come down with the dust" in payment of alleged street watering will not have to be troubled with any other kind of dust?

Yours truly,
SMOTHERED.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I notice that the Turf Club intend having the competitors in the 5 mile road race on May 24th appear first at the corner of George and Hunter streets and run down to the Exhibition Grounds before the race is begun. If the Turf Club will allow the runners to start at the track instead of on George street, I can get four runners at least to participate who otherwise will not do so.

Yours truly,
"RUNNER."

Editor Post Card Column,

Sir,—I think the dogs are poisoned not because of the flowers, but because dogs are the friends of man. I heard a woman say, only yesterday, "If I had a husband like that I'd poison him!" People who have a good dog know they are safe; that is why they are poisoned. At the opera house last night a dog showed its master where his baby was that had been stolen by a woman.

Yours truly,
A LOVER OF DOGS

Hogs and Cattle Weighed To-day—Hogs Now Valued at $6.50

The market to-day was a little more lively than usual, and a few hogs and cattle broke the accustomed stillness, especially the former. Messrs. There was no hay for sale, and the demand is good. It is expected that the price of hay will advance before many days are past.

LAWYER ADVISED TO STEAL.

Confession of Former Loan Clerk Made Public.

New York, May 14.—Details of a confession made by Wm. C. Douglas, former loan clerk of the Trust Co. of America, made public yesterday, are to the effect that acting on the advice of a lawyer, he planned to steal $1,000,000 of securities in order to compel the Trust Co. to conceal his minor theft.

Douglas has already pleaded guilty to larceny, and is awaiting sentence. According to his confession he first took small quantities of bonds and, borrowing money on them, lost it in speculation. When it was evident that he could not retrieve his losses, a lawyer was consulted, who advised that the only way out of the dilemma was to steal $1,000,000 worth of securities, and turn them over to the lawyer, who might negotiate with the officials of the trust company, for their return. Douglas' understanding was that the lawyer expected to get $200,000 from the trust company for the restoration of the securities, which would have been sufficient to cover the amount Douglas had already borrowed and lost.

Charged With Causing the Death of His Sister-in-Law.

Orangeville, May 14.—The grand jury, after three hours' deliberation, returned a "true bill" in the case of the King v. Walter Jackson.

Jackson is charged with being implicated in the death of his sister-in-law, Lizzie Wells, last summer, by causing her to be drugged.

The Chief Justice addressed the grand jury at some length on the only criminal case to come before them, King v. Jackson, explaining very fully the law relating to such matters. About a dozen witnesses were examined. The court then adjourned until to-day.

Frank E. Hodgins is crown attorney and J. W. Curry, K. C., acts for the defence.

Refuse to Become Citizens.

Ottawa, May 14.—Rev. Dr. John McDougall, commissioner to the Doukhobors, is in Ottawa to report to the Government. He says that owing to the decree that the Doukhobors must become citizens of Canada or live in reserves. Quite large tracts of land now held by them under favored conditions will be thrown open to settlement. After their eight years in Canada only about one-ninth of the Doukhobors decided to become Canadian citizens. The tenet they held to was, "God is our king; we cannot become subject to any earthly sovereign." Thus they refuse to become owners of the land they have tilled.

HAVE TOO MANY SAILORS.

Colonies Should Assist Navy In Some Other Way.

London, May 14.—(C. A. P.)—The Chronicle's naval correspondent says the admiralty is perturbed at the erroneous impression prevailing in Canada and Australia that by merely contributing a trained reserve of seamen they assist in solving the problem of imperial defence. If war broke out tomorrow there are 30,000 British seamen for whom there are no ships. Therefore the colonies should assist in some other way.

LAHORE NOW QUIET.

Sudden Show of Military Force Awed the Revolutionaries.

Lahore, India, May 14.—The sudden and swift display of military force by the British authorities has dumbfounded the revolutionaries, and the arrest and deportation of Lala Rajpat Rai, the chief anti-British agitator, has paralyzed the organization of the seditionary movement, which is now without a leader. The troops were out all Friday night. But the city, hitherto the scene of nightly excitement, inflammatory oratory and processions, slept in unbroken stillness. The streets were utterly deserted.

The Pioneer welcomes the action of the Government of the Punjab, but doubts the necessity or advisability of a frequent repetition of strong measures. It says the present situation is not critical or serious if it is firmly treated in the ordinary way.

Brutal Murder.

New York, May 14.—The identification yesterday of the body of an Italian who was murdered in Columbia street, Brooklyn, Sunday night, as that of Thomas Boepoly, a longshoreman, formerly employed by the Ward Line, led the police to believe that his death was connected with the longshoremen's strike.

Boepoly's body was found in the cellar of an apartment house, with his throat cut and several knife wounds in the breast.

West York Bye-Election June 1.

Toronto, May 14.—The Ontario Government has passed an order in council fixing the date of the bye-election in West York, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Speaker St. John, for Saturday, June 1. Nominations one week earlier.

Unionist Gets a Seat.

London, May 14.—The bye-election for a member of Parliament from the Stepney division of Tower Hamlets, to fill the seat made vacant by the retirement of Sir W. Evans Gordon, Unionist, who resigned on account of ill-health, resulted in a victory for the Unionist candidate, F. Leverton Harris.

The election was hotly contested along the lines of the great political issues. Mr. Harris polled 2,299 votes, against 1,390 cast for Ben Cooper, the Liberal-Labor candidate. The Unionist majority obtained by Sir W. Evans Gordon was reduced by 312 votes.

The Georgian Bay Canal.

Ottawa, May 14.—The Georgian Bay Canal, it is anticipated, will cost $105,000,000. The work of the commission is nearing completion, and the proposal is to build a 21-foot waterway from Georgian Bay to Montreal. The report will be presented to Parliament at its next session.

Union Workers Go Out.

Montreal, May 14.—Employes of the Standard Foundry Co. have gone on strike because of the discharge of a foreman by the company.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—Heavy Receipts of Cattle at American Points.

LONDON, May 13.—Liverpool and London cables are steady at 11¼c to 12¼c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef, is quoted at 9c per lb.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 13.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards' west end yards, receipts of live stock for the week ending May 11 were 1346 cattle, 88 sheep and lambs, 3217 hogs and 1854 calves. Supplies to-day for local consumption consisted of 1200 cattle, 30 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 600 calves. A feature of the trade was the strong undertone to the market for cattle, an advance of ¼c per lb. paid in some instances by butchers for an extra choice steer, but for the average quality of cattle prices were firm but unchanged from a week ago. The feeling, however, is strong, and the general impression is that cattle will sell at higher figures between now and the end of June. Cables from Liverpool on Saturday were firm for cattle. The price showed no important change from a week ago, and on account of the high prices demanded here for choice stock, exporters showed little disposition to operate, and trade in this respect this morning was quiet. There was a large attendance of local buyers, and also a few from Quebec, consequently the demand was good, and, as the supply was not in excess of the requirements, an active trade was done. A few extra choice beeves sold at $5.85 to $6 per 100 lbs. Choice stock brought 5½c to 5¾c; good at 5c to 5¼c; fair at 4½c to 4¾c; lower grades at 3¼c to 4¼c per lb.

There was a firmer undertone to the live hog situation this morning in sympathy with the recent advance in prices, ranging from 2 to 5 per cent. for Canadian bacon in the Liverpool, London and Bristol markets. But, owing to the fact that supplies of hogs were fairly liberal, no advance in prices was established, but the tendency is no doubt towards a higher level. The demand from packers and dealers was good, and an active trade was done, with sales of selected lots at $7 to $7.25 per cwt., weighed off cars.

Supplies of sheep and lambs were small, for which the demand for local consumption continues keen, and prices were firm. Sales of sheep were made at 5½c to 6c, and lambs at 6½c to 7c per lb., while spring lambs sold at $4 to $7 each. Calves continue to come forward freely, but the bulk of them are of very poor quality and not fit for human food. But, notwithstanding this fact, there is a demand for them at $1 to $2 each, while fairly good stock bring $4 to $6.

PICTURES BY TELEGRAPH.

Photographs May Be Transmitted Over Wires In Three Minutes.

A machine for duplicating photographs by telegraph will be in actual operation in Berlin, Germany, this spring, and it is expected to be put to practical use by a number of newspapers in the near future. The device is the invention of Professor Korn of Munich. In a recent interview with P.T.O., of London, Mr. Alexander Kenealy, the pioneer of illustrated journalism and editor of the London Daily Mirror, said:

"We have the exclusive rights for England and the Colonies of Professor Korn's wonderful invention of photography by telegraph. It will be in practical use here in July, and the instruments are now being made for us by Carpentier, of Paris.

"How does it work?" echoed Mr. Kenealy with a good-natured smile "Oh, that is very simple. Professor Korn can telegraph a degree of light. You see, there is a strong electric light burning at each end of the wire. Then he shows his photograph to the light, a minute speck of it being registered at a time, and is reflected by a corresponding degree of light at the other end. Thus, one is able to see by telegraphy, shades or degrees of light being transmitted instead of signs, the cost being reckoned by time.

"No, there is nothing to prevent our having stations even in Canada and Australia, while we have at present a private wire to Paris, to which we can connect the instrument; and the patent can also be used in conjunction with an ordinary telephone wire, the photograph taking only three minutes to transmit.

"Professor Korn is about forty-three years of age, and is engaged at the University of Munich. I have been in correspondence with him for a year and a half, and went to Paris recently to secure the rights for the 'Mirror,' to attend the special representation given before a critical audience, including the French Postmaster-General and several Ministers of State, while King Edward showed great interest in this invention on his recent visit.

"Of course, there is a good deal of scepticism rife at present, especially in England, as there was in the case of Marconi, but Korn is sure to make a fortune in royalties from his remarkable invention."

HERO OF FAMOUS RAID.

Now Attends Imperial Conference as Premier From Cape.

Dr. Jameson, the hero of the futile raid upon Johannesburg, is the son of R. W. Jameson, a writer to The Signet in Edinburgh. He was born in the Scottish capital in 1853, and was educated for the medical profession at University College Hospital, London. After acting as house physician and house surgeon, his health broke down from overwork in 1878, and he went out to South Africa, settling at Kimberley, where he continued his practice. He numbered amongst his patients President Kruger and the native chief Lobengula, and came much in contact with Mr. Cecil Rhodes.

DR. L. S. JAMESON, C.B.

In 1888 he visited Lobengula at Bulawayo, and enabled the British South Africa Co. to obtain concessions in Matabeleland. Dr. Jameson abandoned his medical practice, and joined the pioneer expedition of 1889. A year later he obtained the concession in Gazaland, preventing Portugal from asserting her claim to the country. In 1891 he was appointed Administrator of Rhodesia. During his administration several wars took place with the Matabele.

On coming to England, in 1894, "Dr. Jim" was feted, and made a C. B. Shortly after his return to South Africa the world was startled with the news of the raid, the history of which is too well known to call for repetition.

A Hoodooed Ship.

The S. S. Greenland, says the St. John (Nfld) Herald, has gone to the bottom, and many mariners say this is the best possible thing that could have happened to this "hoodooed" ship, for she has been in trouble since first coming to the country in 1872. She had been burned to the waters edge, nots have occurred on board her, several times she had been on the rocks, and her crew were frozen on another occasion. This time her main shaft broke off Cape Bonavista, and she was swept by the tide and ice far out to sea. Seeing her plight at first, and while near other ships, the crew, all but 25 who included the officers and engineers and firemen left her, but these stood by her. Fearful weather followed, all her canvas was blown away, and she was swept out 215 miles E. N. E. of Cape Bonavista. She was then leaking from frequent nips in the floe and it was but a question of hours when she would go down, when fortunately for those left, the S. S. Newfoundland, that had been out 150 miles, was turning back, saw the distress signal flying and steamed alongside. All were picked off, and in less than half an hour the Greenland was swallowed up by the ocean. Capt. Bragg is on the Bloodhound and other ships have the balance of the crew.

Conundrums.

If a father gave 19 cents to one of his sons and 6 cents to the other, what time would it be? A quarter to 2.

If a postmaster went to a menagerie and was eaten by one of the wild beasts, what time would it be? Eight p. m.

If a guest at a restaurant ate a lobster and a second guest did the same, what would be the second guest's telephone number? 8-1-2.

From Behind the Counter.

"The saleslady differentiated several classes of shoppers?"

"Oh, yes, indeed! About five classes. So many!"

"Yes" (mademoiselle counted on her fingers), "heavyweight, middleweight, welterweight, lightweight and featherweight. Precisely five."—Puck.

Behind the Game.

Mrs. Potts—I can't see why you always stay late at your office these nights. I don't see that you gain anything by it.

Jack Potts (absentmindedly)—That's so, but I won't always be a loser. Luck will change.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Kiss the Post.

Billingsgate in past days was famous for its taverns, as well as its fish and its language.

The story is told by Lawrence that he once dined with Burke and others at the Tun. At dinner Burke was missed, and was found at a fishmonger's, learning the history of pickled salmon.

The language of the place, adds The Sheffield Telegraph, caused an old writer to dub it the Esculine Gate of London. The derivation of the name Billingsgate is not certain. One explanation connects it with an old image of Belus or Belen, an early King of Britain, that stood on the spot.

In former times the porters insisted on the passer-by saluting a certain post. If he refused he was bumped against the post, but if he kissed the post and paid 6d the porters gave him a name, and chose one of their number as his godfather.

Doctors Tried for 8 Years to Cure Me

BUT I AM WELL NOW AND BELIEVE I OWE MY LIFE TO

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

There is a remarkable cure described in this letter which should prove of vital interest to anyone suffering from derangement of the kidneys.

Mrs. Dave W. McCall, Lombardy, Leeds Co., Ont., writes: I desire to acknowledge the benefits I have received from Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I was troubled with kidney disease for eight years and doctored with several doctors to no avail until my husband got me Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I began using them. Altogether I used ten boxes, and can truthfully say I would have been dead long ago only for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Words cannot express my praise for them, for I believe there is no medicine so good for kidney and liver disorders."

In the treatment of Bright's disease or inflammation of the kidneys, the first consideration is rest for these filtering organs and this can only be obtained by quickening the action of the liver and bowels.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills succeed where mere kidney medicines fail because they act promptly and directly on the liver, take the work off the kidneys, and then by their invigorating action on the kidneys restore them to health and vigor.

Because of the intimate and sympathetic relation of the liver and kidneys it is useless to treat them independently of one another. This fact was in the mind of Dr. Chase when he prepared the formula of his celebrated Kidney-Liver Pills and the phenomenal success of this great medicine has proven his wisdom.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills positively cure liver complaint, biliousness, constipation, backache and kidney disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box of his medicine.

PRESENTATION TO THE EDITOR

Mr. F. R. Yokome Has Been Editor of Examiner for Twenty-five Years

This month Mr. F. R. Yokome has reached the twenty-fifth anniversary of his coming to Peterborough to assume charge of the editorial helm of the Examiner and last evening he was the guest of the members of the editorial and business staffs at an informal banquet at Hooper's Palm Parlours.

Mr. R. M. Glover, who himself, has been connected with the Examiner for sixteen years, acted as chairman, and referred to Mr. Yokome's long services in connection with this journal, and the unvarying kindness and courtesy that he had always exhibited to those under him.

Mr. M. J. Hutchinson also spoke of the kindness shown by Mr. Yokome and wished him many years in which to guide the editorial destinies of the Examiner. At the conclusion of his remarks he asked Mr. Yokome to accept from the editorial and business staffs, a handsome silver tobacco jar.

Mr. F. D. Craig, on behalf of the gathering, presented Mr. Yokome with a pretty bouquet of roses for his hospitable wife to whom the Examiner staff is indebted for many acts of kindness.

Mr. Yokome in replying thanked the members of the two staffs for their gifts and kind words and referred to his long connection with the Examiner.

Brief speeches eulogistic of Mr. Yokome's kindness and geniality were made by Messrs. B. T. Huston, J. D. Clarke and H. Theobald.

Mr. Yokome came from Napanee to Peterborough twenty-five years ago May 1st, to take the position of editor of the Examiner and he has safely piloted the journalistic craft through the storms and fair weather of a quarter of a century. Great changes have been seen in Peterborough and in this paper during that time. The Examiner was only a weekly then, not being converted into a daily till some three years after.

The general public will unite with the Examiner staff in congratulating Mr. Yokome upon his silver anniversary.

MOTHER HAS TO MEET TROUBLE ALONE

Mrs. Richards Says She Has to Depend on Herself—Son Proves Unworthy of the Name

REGULAR AT POLICE COURT

For the fourth successive Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Richards appeared at the Police Court, this morning much to their displeasure. Mrs. Richards does not believe in procrastination, and if there is any fine to be imposed she says that she prefers to have done with it at once. Her story has appeared in print before. She and her husband are rooming at Mrs. Kerr's on Hunter street, and it seems that they become hilarious at times, and Mrs. Kerr had to call in the police. Magistrate Dumble told them to leave the place but the landlady wished, but they have not as yet moved their headquarters. Mrs. Kerr has made no further complaint, and thus the case has been dropped.

But Mrs. Richards is no sooner out of one trouble, when some other crops up. This time it is regarding a tag for a dog, which Mrs. Richards has not yet purchased. She was told that she would have to pay $2 for a tag, and that she must report again at the Police Court five days hence.

Mrs. Richards said that "her very heart is worried out of her." Her sons are working out in Monaghan, and one of them was in the city today. As Mrs. Richards was leaving the station, the son ran out and around the corner of the civic building, and the mother stopped to tell the bystanders of the worthlessness of sons, saying that they do not help her at all.

A week ago, when she was at the police station, she had P. C. Metcalfe phone for her sons to come in and help her as she was in trouble, and she felt confident that they would do so. But, according to what she said, their filial assistance was a negative quantity.

Boy Broke Window

The father of a little boy who broke a neighbour's window had to pay a fine of $1 for his youth's store age propensities. Like other boys, he was carelessly throwing stones, but did not retain a constant aim, and as a result one of them crashed through a window.

A farm hand named Esthuxen, apparently a German, was charged with being drunk that night in a public place. He answered "No" to the usual query and said that he had just been sleeping. He is employed by a farmer named Deyell, in Otonabee. His Worship allowed him to proceed to the country, and advised him to stay there.

Mrs. John Whitfield, Swan Lake, Man., writes:—"I can hardly describe how bad I felt before I took Bileans. I could not eat but what it caused pain. There was a sensation of tightness in my side and my liver was entirely out of order. I could not sleep at nights, suffered also from kidney trouble, and was, altogether, in a very serious condition. I had been ailing in this way for years and it is gratifying to find that Bileans were equal to my case."

ED. HUFF MAKES THE MEN A GOOD OFFER

His Custom Tailoring Methods are Saving to Men—Up-to-date Tailoring Quarters Upstairs

Before purchasing the spring suit or outfit it is practical wisdom on the part of gentlemen to inquire about prices, as well as to satisfy themselves of the style and quality of fabrics.

A catchy little bill just issued by Mr. Ed. Huff, tailor and draper, upstairs over 408 George street, bears the striking heading, "$6 for Walking Upstairs." The reader is then told that, for the next ten days, Mr. Huff is prepared to make up, true to the fashion plates, regular $26 Elua or black serge or cheviot suits for only $20—thus paying $6 for walking upstairs. There is a dash and spirit to the offer that means business; and, as serges and cheviots are what men who know are wearing, Mr. Huff ought to have his hands full for the next ten days. Styles tell, but prices count. Gentlemen are both pleased and delighted with the fashionable tailoring quarters with which Mr. Huff has furnished himself in these new, convenient and central upstairs premises—open evenings to try on. The rooms have been tastily painted and grained, the walls artistically treated, the windows enlarged, and the floor of the cloth-room covered with a handsome bright green Axminster rug. Mr. Huff believes in working himself, and that honest stuff can be passed out to honest men by honest methods.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide

This word of late has been heard in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means a destroyer or killer of 'Herpes.' Now, 'Herpes' is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys, after which the hair grows.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. The Market Drug Store. Two sizes—50c and $1.

Music and Drama

"THE ROSE OF KILLARNEY"

That absence has made Tom Marks dearer to the hearts of the theatre-going public of this city was proved by the large audience that greeted him at his opening production in this city last night. The favourite comedian was at his best, and his personage adds greatly to the realism of the piece. The house was packed and greeted Mr. Marks in an enthusiastic manner when he appeared. The play was an Irish drama, "The Rose of Killarney," in which Tom Marks, as Teddy O'Mally acted the brave Irish boy with his loves and his troubles. The specialties were one of the strong parts of the evening's entertainment, and were in keeping with the rest of the performance. Illustrated songs in the latest hits, splendid moving pictures, and several musical acts with a vaudeville touch were put on.

The caste is a strong one, and the company's work is its best advertisement. To-night the bill will be "A Wife's Devotion."

NEW FIRE HALL WAS INVADED LAST NIGHT

Midnight Intruder Clamours for Admission and Was Baptised

A weary Willie who had spent too long a time last night over the golden goblet, mistook the new firehall on Aylmer street for his home, and clamoured loud and long to gain an entrance. The fire laddies on the occasion of their first sleep in the brand new building were forced to arise from their downy couches and respond to the hammering on the doors.

The rear door was first the scene of his midnight operations, which gradually shifted to the front of the building. The firemen looked down for some time with sympathy upon the head of the invader of their repose, until one devised a means to rid them of their tormenter and his ill-timed visit. A well-aimed dish of water had the desired effect, making the exterior of the weary one harmonize more with the interior.

"I thought you were friends" were his parting words as he disappeared into the night.

CELEBRATED MORRISON'S CENTENARY

Interesting Services Held Sunday—First Missionary Services in Knox Church

Robert Morrison's centenary was celebrated yesterday in St. Andrew's and Knox Churches. In the latter the pastor, Rev. H. J. Keith, preached from the text, Matt. 28, 19-20, and referred to the great increase in the interest being taken in mission work, especially during the last ten years. He spoke of the great opportunity for work in China to-day, and compared the present conditions there with those that confronted Morrison one hundred years ago. A personal application was made, and the fact was referred to that this was the first missionary service Knox Church had held since it became a separated church.

As will be noticed in an advertisement in another column, the Department of Railways and Canals, are asking for tenders for the construction of section No. 2 of the Holland River Division of the Trent Canal. This division when completed will bring the canal as far as Newmarket. The Government has recently voted $100,000 for the completion of this work.

Directors to Meet

A meeting of the Directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Exhibition will be held on Friday night next, at 8 o'clock.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday and to-day we have had about the first real taste of summer weather. The official figures for yesterday were 76 degrees in the shade as the highest and 30 as the lowest. Yesterday was the warmest day to date this spring. To-day the conditions are much the same, at noon the thermometer marking 74 degrees in the shade. The lowest temperature last night was 5 degrees. This is a great change compared with the last few weeks, as almost every night the temperature has been below the freezing point, and frequently to a considerable degree.

If you have not had Tisdall's Ice Cream, try it.

SHIRTWAISTS WITHOUT COATS FOR MEN

A Proposition That Appeals to the Men, but Custom Has to be First Uprooted

Some one suggested to-day that the young men should start a fad that would bring enjoyment and pleasure to them, namely, wearing shirt waists and discarding coats during the hot sultry days. When we see the young ladies attired in the most refreshingly cool (at least, they appear to be) white waists, with breezy little openings of Valenciennes lace, made especially, to lure the lingering zephyrs that may exist, despite the sultry oppressiveness of the atmosphere, many a man has been heard to cry "Oh, for a shirt waist like that!" Not only short sleeves and becomingly low necks, with a frosty film of adorning lace, but even perforations in the waist itself are now la mode, and the question has arisen, "Is there any waist left?"

Such is the aim of the fair femininity, and poor man has never deigned to aspire to such an airy dress. He has, it is true, a cool shirt waist, but custom does not allow him to go without a coat, and it should be high time that something was done in this respect. He does not want the questionable peek-a-boo merely the shirt waist, which he is accustomed to but minus the coat.

Who is going to start the fashion? Surely it appeals to all the members of the sterner sex—but have they the moral courage to make the innovation. It should be done, in justice to themselves, and will be if a leader can only be found. "Why don't you try?"

FIRE DRILLS IN THE SCHOOLS FALLING INTO DISUSE, SO SAYS A LOCAL GENTLEMAN TO-DAY

For Several Weeks Now No Drills Have Been Held in the City Schools—A Condition Which Calls for Attention From Board of Education.

A PANIC LIABLE TO OCCUR

Lessons are soon forgotten in this world. Following the experience of the Rockeliga School fire, many of the Public Schools in the Province of Ontario, those in Peterborough among them, instituted fire drills, and for a few weeks they were carried out and the pupils were trained to leave the schools quickly and quietly. Had a fire occurred then it is probable that the scholars would have left the buildings without the slightest confusion, and there would have been no loss of life.

Unfortunately, however, lately the practice of holding fire drills has, according to report, fallen into disuse, and the Examiner understands that in the city Public Schools drills have not been held for some weeks.

The suggestion was made to the Examiner by the gentleman who gave the above information, that the Board of Education should adopt a regulation making it obligatory upon the principals of all the schools under the direction of the Board to hold fire drills at least once a week, and, if it is found practicable, twice a week.

If the drills are good at all they are only good if they instil into the minds of the children a susceptibility to discipline, and this can only be accomplished by persistent effort.

The pathetic side of the Thaw-White case, will be shown in Magnificent Moving Pictures at Scott's Colliseum, 432 George Street. All parents should make an effort to be present to see these pictures and learn the moral necessity devolving on them to enlighten their children as to what they may have to encounter in life, so that they can be prepared to resist the temptations that may beset them.

Special efforts have been put forward to get the moral effect of this great case and in doing so, great expense has been incuned, but admission price will be the usual 5 cents. Thursday, Friday and Saturday only, so come early. Performances 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p. m. 3d-113

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS PURCHASE CLUB ROOMS

Have Bought Rooms in Old Opera House Block From Peterborough Elks.

Yesterday the Peterborough Council of the Knights of Columbus took possession of their new club rooms which they have purchased from the Peterborough Elks in the old opera house block. The Knights of Columbus will, on Victoria Day, May 24, entertain a large number of their brethren from different parts of the Province, who will gather here in convention, and the rooms which they have been occupying on Hunter street were considered not only too small for that occasion, but too small for the rapidly growing membership of the local Council of the Order.

Their new quarters consist of five rooms, a parlour, reading room, billiard and pool rooms and two smaller rooms. They are all comfortably furnished, and will make excellent quarters for this progressive fraternal organization.

Important Decision Was Given In Appeal Court

In Dispute in Connection with Lumber—New Trial Ordered in Spite of Defendant's Objection To It.

CASE AN IMPORTANT ONE

In the Court of Appeal in Toronto yesterday the case of Still versus Hastings, was again taken up, and the plaintiff, for whom Mr. D. O'Connell of this city, was acting, was given a favourable decision, the appeal of the plaintiff being dismissed with costs. The Globe, reporting it, says:

Still vs. Hastings. — E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., for defendant, appealed from the order of a Divisional court (13 O.L.R. 322)setting aside a nonsuit and directing a new trial in an action for malicious prosecution. Plaintiff is the owner of a sawmill carrying on business at Burk's Falls; defendant is a lumber dealer. Plaintiff was prosecuted by defendant for the theft of some oak timber, and was acquitted. Evidence was given to the effect that plaintiff took defendant's lumber from the latter's yard by permission, in the carrying out of a bargain for an exchange. The trial Judge ruled that there were no facts in dispute requiring determination by a jury, and that upon the undisputed facts plaintiff had failed to establish a want of reasonable and probable cause. The Divisional Court held that plaintiff, having admitted taking the lumber, but sworn that he had done so with defendant's consent, in exchange for lumber of his own, it must be assumed that the exchange was actually made, and belief of defendant, when laying the information, in the guilt of plaintiff, necessarily implied his having forgotten that he had made such an exchange, and such forgetfulness not being admitted, was a question of fact for the jury, and so too, the existence in the mind of defendant of an honest belief in plaintiff's guilt. Defendant contended that the ruling of the trial Judge that upon the undisputed facts plaintiff had failed to establish a want of reasonable and probable cause was right, and the non-suit should be restored. D. O'Connell, Peterborough, for plaintiff, contra. Appeal dismissed with costs.

Discouraging Reports On The World's Wheat Crop

Broomhall's Summary Indicates That Conditions Throughout the World Are Unsatisfactory.

IS GOOD IN SOME PLACES

Chicago, May 14.—The wheat market started rather wild, with July 96 1-4 to 97 1-2; September, 98 1-2 to 97 1-2; December, 99 1-2 to 99. The activity was rather short lived and prices eased off from 2 1-2 to 3 1-2 cents on heavy realizing. The weather in the Northwest and West is still unfavourable, snowing where there should be sunshine. From the present outlook, Manitoba may be without a harvest, even with weather made to order only about 40 per cent. of last year's crop could be put in the ground. This wheat will sell very much higher, and on reactions like to-day's it should be bought. Bradstreets' estimate for week will show a decrease of 312,000,000 bushels; clearances, 359,914. During the last half hour there was renewed activity and prices shot up 2 1-2 cents, but the gain was partly lost, closing steady. July unchanged from last night; September and December about half cent lower.

FIRE BOXES NOT TO BE TAMPERED WITH

Are Not Post Offices or to be Used for Amusement Purposes.

The public generally, and mischievous boys in particular, should take notice that it is against the bylaws of the city to interfere with the fire fire alarm boxes. At the meeting of the Council last night Ald. Tovey said that he had heard that the glass on one box had been broken already. He also understood that one lady had spent half an hour in attempting to post a letter in a fire alarm box on Charlotte street.

The public should understand that the boxes are for alarm purposes solely, and not to serve as a post-office or to be used for amusement.

The Tate Optical Co., Peterborough:

DEAR SIRS—During the last three or four years (prior to May last) my eyesight had failed to such an extent that I was unable to read or see anything at close range and could get no Glasses that would help me. I tried two different Opticians in Toronto and was told by both that they could do nothing for me, and that my sight would never be better. A statement of my case was sent to Montreal by a Hastings optician and several pairs of Glasses sent me, but with the same result my vision could not be improved. Last May, while looking at a Pair of Glasses you made for Mr. John Fife, Keene, and talking with him he advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, and I am pleased to say that the Pair of Glasses he made for me have given me entire satisfaction and I can do now what I have not done for years past—read any ordinary print and see distinctly at close range. I feel very grateful, not only for the interest you have taken in my case, but particularly so for the blessing of good eyesight. Thanks to your knowledge and skill.

Yours truly,

(Signed) JOHN CARTER, Sr.,

MINSTRELS HAD A GOOD REHEARSAL

Promises to be the Musical Event of the Season

Those taking part in the big minstrel entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club in the Grand Opera House, had a splendid rehearsal. The chorus under the direction of Mr. John Crane, is making rapid progress and will be one of the features of the entertainment. The music chosen is new and catchy and the production promises to be the event of the season. It will be given two nights during the first week in June.

LACROSSE

Arrangements have been made by the Young Shamrock Lacrosse Club to practice in the Riverside Park Grounds and play their matches at the same place, as well as to use the T.A.S. gymnasium and baths for the season.

* * * *

The Peterborough Lacrosse Club is using every effort to arrange a game for May 24th. They have so far been unsuccessful, having been disappointed by Toronto Junction and afterwards by Jack Miller's Orillia team of Australian travellers. Negotiations with the latter have fallen through and the date is still open one with the club. It is to be hoped that a game is secured for that day as a good gate would result and the club certainly needs the money.

BASEBALL

Toronto bumped Newark yesterday, and as Jersey City fell before Montreal and Rochester was too much for Baltimore King Kelley's, are once more at the head of the heap and here's hoping that they stay there. By taking three games from Newark and the majority of the games to be played this week with Jersey City, the Leafs should have a tight grip on the first rung in the ladder by the end of the week.

WILL PLAY LAMBTON CLUB ON MAY 24TH

Arrangements Made for Golf Club to Send a Team There for Victoria Day

Mr. A. H. Stratton, captain of the Peterborough Golf Club, has received word from the secretary of the Lambton Club, Toronto, to the effect that the latter club is expecting a team from Peterborough to play the home team on Victoria Day. In view of this fact, therefore the members of the Peterborough Club are asked to turn out at the links for practice before the game.

BRIDGENORTH SOCCER TEAM DISBANDED

Report Says That They Will Never Again Don Their Football Togs.

The Bridgenorth Football Club is dead—absolutely dead. Their practice ground has been ploughed up, their sweaters and trousers were hung up, and even their records were almost destroyed.

The once famous "Kelly's Pets" are now forgotten in the Soccer World, and their once doughty line up is heard of no more, as bringing alarm to an opposing eleven.

As the Battle of Zama was to Hannibal and Mark Antony's orations to Junius Brutus, so were the Peterborough Quakers to the Bridgenorth team. The Porridge Boys proved their undoing and destroyed in a sporty little hamlet the general love of the only game played. The Kelly team was unused to defeat, and when the Quakers conquered them they were never the same. Just as Young Corbett never recovered confidence after his defeat at the hands of Jimmy Britt, so the Bridgenorth team have never played with the same vim and snap as once characterized their play.

Perhaps in the next generation there may spring up another football team, but there will never be another Jopling, Coons or Kelly.

WANT A TUG OF WAR MATCH

Quaker Team Will Defend the Trophy on May 24th

Sporting Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I would like to ask, through the medium of your sporting columns, what is to become of the cup presented by the Peterborough Turf Club for tug-of-war teams, which was last won by the Quaker tug-of-war team, and which is now being held at the Crown Hotel. It was handed over to Mr. Jackson by Mr. R. Shepherd. Now, sir, we rightly claim that this cup belongs to us, and we are open to pull against all comers on May 24 for this same trophy. Hoping to see this branch of sport revive, I remain,

Yours, etc.,
Committee of Quaker Team.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

A WISHBONE TRICK.

How to Perform a Simple Yet Interesting Experiment.

When you have had fowl for dinner, preserve the bone shaped like a pitchfork, which is called the wishbone. That of the duck is the one which suits best for the construction of the little apparatus which we are about to make today. Twist a strong thread around one of the points of this forklike bone; then extend it to the other point, to which you will attach it solidly. Midway between the threads, extending from one point to the other, introduce a bit of wood not much bigger than a match, or a match itself, if you like, and turn it through several times in such a way as to twist the two lines of thread precisely as you would do in twisting the cord on a wood saw. The elasticity of the branches of the wishbone permits its extremities to approach each other slightly by means of this twisting. Draw the bit of wood back in such a way that its upper end alone will remain fixed in the thread and the other end will rest on the center of the bone and keep it with your finger there on the upper part of the same, as shown by the figure on the right in our illustration.

When you take away your finger, the thread will untwist itself rapidly, and the bit of wood will instantly describe a complete circle in the direction indicated by the arrow on the left side of our illustration. All this has nothing extraordinary in it, but here is where the optical illusion comes in. For you who are performing the experiment and for each of the spectators the rotary movement of the bit of wood will be so rapid that nobody will perceive it. It looks as if the free end of the bit of wood passed through the center of the bone in order to get to the other side or as if it were cut in two. Repeat the experiment as often as you please. The illusion will, even to the most incredulous, always be the same. —Magical Experiments.

Beautiful Star.

"You are the star of the evening, Miss Schmidt."

"Indeed? You are the first who has told me so."

"In that case, as the discoverer of a new star, I am entitled to give it my name. Will your accept it?"

Cultivate the Sympathetic Voice.

How few there are who realize the great importance of the tone of voice! We say words meant to be sympathetic and kind, but we say them with our lips only. Our heart is not in them; therefore their mission is lost.

Every one at some time or other has experienced the truth of the words of that well known saying, "It's not the things she says, but the nasty way she says them."

Are we all as careful as we should be how we speak to those around us?

The poorest girl may make herself universally beloved by the heartfelt way she utters her congratulations and condolences. Her "Good morning" may put fresh heart and good hope into the one greeted because the "good" is meant.

THE CANADA WIND.

Whence bloweth the Canada wind?
Not out of the west, though the west winds bear
Lightsome hours and the joy of spring,
And the heavenly blue of a wild birds' wing;
For the heart of the violet scents the air,
And the scent of the violet's all too fair
Its flowers in my hair to bind—
The west wind's of the lea,
And palls on the soul of me.

Whence bloweth the Canada wind?
Oh, not from the south, for the south wind brings Summer and dim, sweet, forest deeps,
And a bird in the wildwood hidden keeps
And mellow songs in the green light sings;
And flower, and song, and mystical things
My soul with dreamings blind—
The south wind's of the sun,
My soul's for a day undone.

Whence bloweth the Canada wind?
Not out of the east, for the east wind chills
With its dank, grey mists and its stores of rain,
And dawn is foredooming again and again;
Noon's dripping sky with greyness fills.
And night is black on the sodden hills,
And never a star I find—
The east wind's of the sea,
And drives to the heart of me.

Whence bloweth the Canada wind?
Its pathway is the way to the world's white rim,
The strange, white tracts of the barren zone,
Immutable, luminous, wild and lone;
Spaces enduring through aeons dim,
Veiling the sea, and the blue sea's brim,
Striving forever, yet never free,
Fetters which ever bind—
The Canada wind is the keen north wind,
The wind of the secret sea,
And quickens the soul of me.

Helen M. Merrill.

Local Firm Cleans Up Good Stake In Wheat; Big Profits

Bought It Last Fall When the Price Was Low—Sell Flour on Basis of Increased Price of Wheat.

GOOD BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

The present high price of wheat, and the prospect that it will go higher still is not such a disturbing prospect, from a national standpoint, as one might think, at first sight. Mr. C. R. Hosmer, President of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, was asked yesterday in Montreal if a short wheat crop in Manitoba would give Canada a commercial set-back. His reply was characteristic. He said:—

"Not at all. We all know that a small crop at high prices is just as profitable as a big crop at low prices. It is when we get a small crop and low prices that the shoe pinches."

Mr. Hosmer predicted that wheat would yet sell at $1.00 a bushel.

The recent increase in the price of wheat, is likely to prove pretty profitable for a Peterborough milling firm. It is stated that this particular firm bought hundreds of thousands of bushels last fall when wheat was low, and it has been kept in the elevators in the west all winter.

Making it into flour, and selling it at the price which will be asked for that product, on the basis of the new price for wheat, it can be seen that there will be enormous profit, in the increased price of the wheat alone.

Big Excursion To Toronto By The C. P. R. On Saturday

Trip Good for Three Days for Return Fare of $2.05---Many Attractions in the City on Saturday---Opening at the Woodbine and Baseball Game

Those who want to go to Toronto on Saturday should not be obliged to remain at home because of any lack of facilities for reaching the city. There will be a special excursion on the C.P.R., and the G.T.R. will offer special rates on the regular train leaving at 7.20 and returning at 7.05 from Toronto. The C. P.R. special will leave at 10.30 a.m. and will leave returning at 11.30 after the theatres, or giving an opportunity of spending the evening in the city. Over both railways, the tickets are good to remain until Monday night.

There will be many attractions in the Queen City on Saturday. The opening of the Woodbine races will take place that day, and the special event in this connection will be the race for the King's Plate, which will be run about 4 o'clock.

For those who enjoy seeing a baseball game, there will be the opportunity of seeing the two teams, now fighting for the Eastern League leadership, meet. Jersey City and Toronto will play on Saturday, the third of the series of the games between these two teams will be played.

There will be many other special attractions in the city, which will no doubt appeal to those who wish to spend a day or two in that city.

THE FUNERAL WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

Remains of William George Macdonald Laid to Rest Yesterday Under Colours of the Salvation Army

The funeral of the late William George Macdonald, aged seven years and six months, took place from the residence, 583 Downie street, at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Service was conducted at the house by Adjutant Wiggins, a large number of friends being present. The Band and a number of others gathered at the open door and led the singing. Reference was made to the deeply religious character of the deceased child and to his extraordinary knowledge of Bible subjects. Six boys from the Sunday school acted as pall-bearers, and it was an impressive sight to see them carry the snow-white casket to and from the hearse. The funeral procession was a large one, headed by the Band, playing the Army's Dead March. Then came the hearse, followed by the funeral coach containing father, mother, sister and grandmother; a number of children from the Sunday school and the adult members of the Army, the whole making a striking procession, as it wended its way along McDonel street and down George street, and creating much respect and sympathy. The burial service was conducted at the grave. The Sunday school sent a beautiful floral basket, while other cards bore the names, the League of Mercy, Mr. and Mrs. Gray, Master Carr, his Sister Nellie, Mrs. Tully and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald desire to express their thanks for the kindness and sympathy shown them by so many known and unknown friends. —Com.

DID NOT WANT TO BE BALLET GIRL

And Husband and Wife Are Not on Speaking Terms Now

Examiner Special.

Frankfort, Ind., May 15.—Squire Bogga and his wife have hit a martial snag. Mr. Bogga is one of the largest land-owners of the county, and is as eccentric as rich. He lives at Michigantown, and, among other things, runs the village opera house.

Drunk charges and counter charges filed in suit for divorce, the opera house seems to have disrupted the family. The wife alleges that her husband insisted upon her entertaining folk, and also charges that he became so infatuated with the stage that he insisted upon her donning the garb of a ballet girl and going on the stage. The wife declares that she seriously objects to posing as a ballet girl. She alleges further that her husband at one time hid all her clothes so that she was unable to leave her home.

The wife alleges further in her cross-complaint that her husband has a mania for playing "whitecap." She says that he caused a bundle of switches to be left at their door, addressed to her. A note attached to the switches stated, it is alleged, that neighbouring women would delight in using them on her. She says that she detected the ruse and that his action deeply humiliated her. She alleges further that her husband, although rich, insisted upon her leaving their home and taking rooms over a livery stable.

She says further on in the complaint that her husband objected to her attending any form of religious service.

Mrs. Bogga' son, by a former husband, seems to be a storm centre of Squire Bogga' matrimonial troubles. The wife declares that when her son graduated from the High School her husband refused to allow her to attend the commencement exercises.

HIGHWAYMEN KNOCKED OUT BY HORSE

Four of Them Were Defeated by the Equine in Mt. Holly, N. Y.

Examiner Special.

Mt. Holly, N.J., May 15. — When four men, armed with clubs, waylaid and assaulted Edward Grant, of Hanover, early this morning, they probably figured on having a good time with the thrifty marketman's wallet. They never thought of his faithful horse, "Jim," when they interrupted his master's daylight journey to the cranberry bogs. That's where the highwaymen made a mistake.

"We want your money and your watch, and we want them d——n quick," was the greeting which Grant received from the leader of the quartette.

The farmer was framing his refusal when a cluster of clubs bounced off his head. Grant immediately went into an executive session with the stars.

Then the horse got busy. "Jim" went up on his hind legs and shook off the two men that held him. Then he struck out fore and aft, starboard and port. He proved a good judge of distance, for two of the highwaymen went to the ground. "Jim" executed a few jig steps on the chests of the prostrate robbers and then guttered up his skirts and started for the Grant homestead. By the time he arrived there his master in the bottom of the wagon was unconscious. When he had revived enough to tell the story, a posse started out and spent all day scouring the neighbouring woods for the four men.

As for "Jim," he stood on the main street and held a reception. All the men and boys shook his hoof. The women petted him and stuffed him with sweets. The Selectmen are seriously thinking of discharging the four town constables and making "Jim" the entire police force.

LIGHTNING STARTS IN AT ONCE TO MAKE MEN TALK

Tosses People Out of Bed, Strips Hens of Feathers and Scatters Stone Walls

New York, May 15.—The first thunderstorm of the season here this morning was a peculiar one. Lightning knocked every pane of glass out of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Low on Westport avenue, and tossed Mr. and Mrs. Low out of their bed. They were shocked, but not injured.

The nursery of Addison Brown, on the same street, was struck, and half of the several hundred fowls were killed. The other half were left alive but stripped of feathers. Many of the hens were blinded, and some seemed crazy.

Another bolt tore through the barn of James Beers and left a hole through which a team of oxen can be driven. A stone wall was struck and scattered like so much popcorn. Numerous fissures opened in the ground. One was deep and big enough to bury a horse in.

Another bolt went through the James Beers house, opening holes in the side as though the house had been under bombardment with solid shot. Miss Edith Beers was stunned and seemed paralyzed for a time.

The several resulting fires were extinguished and further damage prevented.

Tired, Nervous Mothers

Make Unhappy Homes—Their Condition Irritates Both Husband and Children—How Thousands of Mothers Have Been Saved From Nervous Prostration and Made Strong and Well.

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involves; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly.

The ills of women act like a firebrand upon the nerves, consequently nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues" sleeplessness, and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

Do you experience fits of depression with restlessness, alternating with extreme irritability? Are your spirits easily affected, so that one minute you laugh, and the next minute you feel like crying?

Do you feel something like a ball rising in your throat and threatening to choke you; all the senses perverted, morbidly sensitive to light and sound; pain in the abdominal region, and between the shoulders; bearing-down pains; nervous dyspepsia, and almost continually cross and snappy?

If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition, and you are threatened with nervous prostration.

Proof is monumental that nothing in the world is better for nervous prostration than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; thousands and thousands of women can testify to this fact.

Mrs. Chester Curry, Leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra, 42 Saratoga St., East Boston, Mass., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For eight years I was troubled with extreme nervousness and hysteria brought on by irregularities. I could neither enjoy life nor sleep nights. I was very irritable, nervous and despondent.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and proved to be the only remedy that helped me. I have daily improved in health until I am now strong and well, and all nervousness has disappeared."

The following letter is from Mrs. Albert Mann, 154 Gore Vale Ave., Toronto, Ont.:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered a long time with serious female trouble having intense pains in the back and abdomen and very sick headaches every month. I was tired and nervous all the time and life looked very dreary to me and I had no desire to live until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to get some relief. My recovery was slow but it was sure and I have never regretted the money spent for the Compound as it brought back my good health."

Women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine that holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of female ills, and take no substitute.

Free Advice to Women.

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write to her for advice. Mrs. Pinkham's vast experience with female troubles enables her to advise you wisely, and she will charge you nothing for her advice.

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

Money Doesn't Insure Happiness, but the Lack of It Is Sometimes Fatal to Ideal Housekeeping — Going Into Debt Is a Hazardous Procedure For the Newly Married.

[Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.]

MY DEAR JOHN—I send the inclosed check with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret—pleasure that I am in a position to spare the money, regret that you should find it necessary to ask for it. You made no explanation of your need, but the fact that you did need it worries me a little. You know, my boy, that I have never been much of a hand to-harp on money matters. I have always held that there are objects in life more important than the accumulation of a fortune for my heirs to quarrel over. The tables which show how much a dollar at compound interest will amount to in a hundred years never appealed to me. I can use the dollar to better advantage now than somebody else can use the interest after I am dead. The eloquent figures which prove that if a man saves his cigar money rigidly he will in the course of a lifetime acquire enough to pay for a beautiful and most desirably situated lot in a fashionable cemetery never interested me in the least. As a straight investment a good cigar is worth all it costs. It will pay larger dividends than its equivalent in cash put away in a bank. If drawn upon in moderation, it makes a man a better husband, a better citizen, a better Christian. But here I am wandering away right at the start. I always fly the track when I begin to talk about smoke.

To get back to the forks of the road, I never figured on making a millionaire out of myself, nor have I had any overweening desire to see your name in the rating books with seven figures after it. I have no objection to millionaires. They average up pretty well with the rest of humanity. But I believe if you could pin 'em right down to the truth the majority of them would admit that they don't get as much real pleasure out of life as some of us who have to scramble for our ham and eggs. And, looking at it in this way, I have never tried to instill into your mind that money getting and money keeping were the chief end of man. I have rather been inclined to let you work out your financial salvation along your own lines, especially as my views on this subject are not strictly orthodox.

A Different Proposition.

But the business of piling up dollars just for the pleasure of looking at the pile and the task of securing enough of the same dollars to provide the necessities and some of the luxuries for oneself and one's family, with a margin for emergencies, are two entirely different propositions. A man isn't much of a man who doesn't look after his own to the very best of his ability, and, moralize as we will, there's no getting around the fact that money is to a certain extent the basis of happiness in our stage of civilization. The bliss of poverty and the joys of the simple life are all very well in poetry and philosophy, but when you come to hitching 'em up to practical everyday life they won't work out to suit us. A dry axle squeaks for oil, and poverty, instead of singing gladsome roundelays, hollers for help. We can't be happy unless we are comfortable, and our ideas of comfort nowadays are such that nothing but money will provide it. We must have bread and butter, and some of us insist upon cake. We must have good homes and warm beds and presentable clothes. We must have books and newspapers and cigars and chocolate sundaes, and we've got to have money to buy 'em unless we can get the fellow to charge it.

Piling up dollars for the pleasure of it.

And this brings me around to the main point that I want to push into your cerebellum. The moment you begin to spend money you haven't got you enter on the road to trouble, and it's a blamed short distance to your destination. No matter what your income is, if it's enough to cover the reasonable demands of your family you can live right up to the ragged edge of a deficit and still rattle along through life contented and happy. Mind you, I don't recommend that kind of a flirtation with Fortune. You have no doubt heard that she is a fickle jade, and I know by experience that she is not only inconsistent, but tricky. She'll throw you down just about the time you get puffed up with the idea that you're her best beau, and sometimes, not satisfied with that, she'll calmly sit down upon you and go to sleep. I've heard that she has a fondness for highballs, and this, if true, might explain some of her vagaries; but, however that may be, it won't do to trust her, and it's safer and wiser to leave a margin for emergencies when you are letting loose your income.

A Mighty Temptation.

Whether you keep on the firm ice or skate around the edge of the danger hole, you're all right unless you fall in, and then the Lord help you. Debt is the easiest hole in the world to get into and the hardest to get out of. When your mother and I were youngsters like you and Anna May, we had the same temptation to get outside our pasture and graze in the tall grass. We jumped the fence, just as you are doing, I'm afraid, and struck out joyfully for "green fields beyond the swelling flood." We had a gay time for awhile, but it was a mighty short while, and then we struck the rocks. We were head over heels in debt, so deep that getting out seemed an impossible job, and, like most people for whom the fool killer is looking, we compromised by going still deeper. Talk about trouble! Why, I wouldn't go through that experience again for a life seat in the United States senate. And if it hadn't been for your little mother I would have been walking down the alleys yet. "Look here, John Sneed," she says to me in her most convincing brand of voice, "we've got to get out of debt." "I've been kind o' feeling that way myself for some time," says I, "but how?" "Well," she says, "there's just one way to begin, and that's to quit making new debts. We'll do business on a cash basis after this, and whatever we have left we'll pay on the old accounts." "All right, Polly," says I, "that goes, and, it doesn't matter what we need or what we'll want, we'll wait until we have the money to pay for it before we get it." It took us a long time to get out of the woods, but Polly stuck to me like a little trump, and never since then have we owed a dollar from anybody or had the value of a hairpin charged.

Fortune will calmly sit down upon you and go to sleep.

I give you this little chapter of ancient history to show you I'm not peddling hot air. It's an experience that I want you to avoid, and the only way to keep clear of the devil is to stay out of his sight. Just you and Anna May make up your minds that you'll keep on the near side of your salary, and if you don't lay up any treasures in the bank you'll be accumulating an almighty big pile of peace and contentment, a property which no man in debt ever owns, but you'll have to take your wife into your confidence.

Make Her Your Real Partner.

You can't keep in the straight and narrow path of solvency without her help—not by a jugful. This is one of the places where the domestic partnership plan applies with double force. If one partner spends all the other partner saves and more, what's the use? No, son, she must know just what the situation is and must pull an even trace in your direction. She'll do it if she knows. You can't expect her to if she doesn't. Men are mostly to blame for extravagant women—the father possibly, in the first place, the husband in the second. If no restraint is put upon a woman's expenditures, if she is allowed to believe or encouraged to believe that a bottomless barrel is readily accessible to the man who supplies her with gold certificates, who can blame her if she tries her level best to live up to her position? How is she to know that it's all a sham—that the money she blows in so merrily and so thoughtlessly represents the very heart's blood of the man who gives it? How is she to know that he has toiled unceasingly to get it, has borrowed it from that amiable trio—Tom, Dick and Harry—until his credit is exhausted, has plotted and schemed to wrest from others, dishonestly or dishonorably, the dollars she must have without suspecting their source? "Ruined by his extravagant wife," they say when the certain end comes. They're wrong. He is ruined by mistaken love or mistaken vanity. She would have done otherwise had she known.

Keep clear of the devil.

There was little Billy Watson, who had an office on the same floor with me downtown. He went to the devil trying to supply his wife with all the tin she could spend and tried to jump the game with a clothesline. She caught him in the act and cut him down, but she didn't "cut him cold." No, by ginger, she stuck to him like sealing wax to a pair of Sunday trousers, pulled him out of the hole and made a real man of him. She was all right all the time, but she was racing with blinders. She didn't know.

Keep an Open Expense Book.

Don't make the mistake, John, of trying to handle everything yourself. It isn't fair to you nor to Anna May. It is her duty to help you to keep out of debt. It is your duty to let her know where you stand, so she can act with some degree of sense. As I advised you to do some time ago, make her your financial partner. Start right and work together and, above all things, my boy, pay as you go. Don't run bills with the butcher, the baker or even the candlestick maker. Pay cash on the spot for everything you buy. Then you can at least be sure that no overgrown bills will fly up and bump you in the face the first of the month. Then you need have no fear of pesky collectors hiding in ambush at every corner. Then you can walk straight down the main street with your head up like a thoroughbred, and you can look any man square in the eye and say, "Doggone your picture, I don't owe you a blamed cent!" I tell you, John, no man knows the joy of independence until he has been through the mill of the gods that grind smallest of all. Old Tom Jefferson declared that all men are entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The man in debt is permitted to live, but the rest is denied him. How in the name of Christopher Columbus can a poor incumbered critter pursue happiness when he himself is being pursued around the block and down the alleys by a Nemesis with a bill? He can't do it, and you can bet your last nickel that happiness is not going to hunt him up. She's a lady, all right, and therefore to be wooed, but no man in debt ever yet got on her eligible list.

Now, son, it may be that I've gone off half cocked in this matter, as I'll admit I often do. It may be that your request for money is based upon considerations perfectly proper; that you and your dear little girl, dear to me and your mother as well as to you, are trotting down the big road at just the pace and in just the direction we would have you go. Still, what I have said or tried to say won't do you any harm, and so I push it over to you with my love and my blessing. Yours as ever,

JOHN SNEED.

HERE AND THERE.

Velvet Ribbon a Smart Trimming. Sheima Cloth a Newcomer.

On the more dressy costumes of voile, colienne or wool batiste velvet ribbon and stitched silk bands are used with a liberal hand. Bands of silk set on the bottom of the skirt in the familiar Greek key pattern and outlined with very narrow braid are used on fine checked and striped materials, and the heavy design is most essential to hold down the skirts of the lightweight fabrics.

It is really necessary to have at least two coat and skirt costumes for the spring and, besides these, a handsome afternoon gown of silk, embroidered pongee or voile and a smart short walking dress of foulard or taffeta.

Sheima cloth, a lightweight worsted in taffeta weave, is one of the plain fabrics of the season which are well suited to the demands of both dressy and tailor made costumes.

Separate coats of silk are to have great vogue in the summer and in light shades will be worn with the smartest and daintiest of wash frocks.

The new pumps do not vary much from those of last year except that more of them come with bows of kid to match the material of the shoe.

Mauve, green and white mohair is not used for an elaborate style of dress, but is much seen in rather severe tailored costumes with short pleated skirt, half fitted three-quarter length jacket and long plain coat sleeves. For traveling and general wear this is an excellent dress carried out in dark blue or any other serviceable color.

Short braided jackets of all styles are smart again this season, and there are many extremely pretty models in Etons, blouse coats and boleros to select from.

Very dressy frocks of voile and silk show velvet ribbon applied in elaborate designs set off by fine braid or tiny ruffles or narrow lace.

The suit in the cut is of leatheroid chiffon broadcloth. The jaunty little Eton and skirt and girdle are trimmed with braid, and the sleeves are of the inevitable three-quarter length.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Living and Dining Room in One.

If any one chooses to have his living room and his dining room in one he has only to make up his mind to it and then look about to see how it may be done without first showing elegance and comfort to the door.

The only absolute requisites for such an arrangement are a large room and proximity to the kitchen. There must be room enough to leave the field clear for setting the table, and this there never will be if there is room for only one table, which must serve the family for all its needs.

Such is the unconscious perversity of human nature that so sure as there is but one table the children will get their books or their toys on it or the husband will get out his writing or spread out a map for reference as near as possible to the dinner hour.

The best plan probably is to have either a table reserved exclusively for eating from or else a table that is only a table while it is wanted.

In one house I'm a table twelve feet, perhaps fifteen feet, long. And this offers a spacious field for all household forces. It is modeled after the Jacobean design. The cloth often is laid at one end of it and dinner served without obliging those who have been working along its generous length to strike their tents and retreat with bag and baggage or scup and scuppage.

This, however, scarcely might be a good thing to do as an everyday thing. One advantage in having a dining room separate from the living room is that the household gets variety and unbends from the too stiff stretched cord of daily work. But in this particular instance the big room in which the table stood was little used during the day and only at night became the great center of the family gathering. Certainly it was a pleasant rallying ground and the scene of much hospitable intercourse and cheer.—Washington Star.

The Picture Problem.

According to "A Bachelor's Cupboard," pictures should never be hung so high that it becomes necessary to mount a chair in order to see them. Hang them so the center will be on a level with the line of vision of the person of average height, or about five and one-half feet from the floor. Every one must consult his own taste as to the grouping of pictures. In hanging pictures the stock in hand should be looked over and a general scheme decided upon.

Oil paintings and water colors should never be allowed to become intimate companions, but the latter may hobnob with etchings, pastels, drawing, photographs and even engravings without

SPRING FANCIES.

Charming "Harness" Effects — Choosing the Spring Hat.

Very charming things are done with black ribbon velvet in the way of suspenders, or "harnesses," as they are popularly called. Jet and enameled buttons are effectively used on them; also rhinestone buckles.

In choosing your spring hat, if your hair is at the pepper and salt stage, do not select one with a light colored brim. Either a rich dark color or black is more suitable. Light or bright colors give a faded appearance that is most unbecoming to the hair, but with snowy white any light or bright color that suits the complexion may be worn.

Sleeves are really as short as ever in spite of the prediction that they would be long. And they are made with shoulder puffs and three great full lace elbow flounces.

With evening gowns an Egyptian fashion has broken through the walls of conventionality. It is the wearing of a broad gold band around the upper part of the arm. The stones centered in the armlet match those of the necklace.

The jumper may be old style now, but the new waists carry out the lace sleeve and yoke design. There are pretty summer silks cut low in the neck and with only an embroidered strap over the shoulders. These are worn with a hundred different guimpes of as many widely different materials.

The illustration shows a jumper waist of an entirely new variety. It will be found appropriate for every seasonable material. The waist is made with front and back portions fitted by means of shoulder and underarm seams. The front edges are held together by means of straps, and the closing is at the back.

MRS. DANIEL LOTHROP.

Founder of the Society of Children of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Daniel Lothrop, who under the pen name of Margaret Sidney is widely known as the author of many books for children, is intensely interested in the little ones. Mrs. Lothrop's maiden name was Harriet Mulford Stone. She was born in New Haven.

It was Mrs. Lothrop who first perceived the assistance which would be derived for the furthering of the elevating spirit of love of country by the establishing of a society to be composed entirely of juveniles. With her usual energy and industry she contrived and arranged the preliminaries for the establishment of the National Society of the Children of the American Revolution, of which she was the founder and first president.

As a correction for the tendency of the danger of spoiling American children Mrs. Lothrop once published in a symposium the following suggestions:

"First.—The old fashioned respect for parents and for God should be revived.

"Second.—There should be an amendment introduced to the resolution that appears to have been adopted largely that the Sabbath was made for man to make a worse day out of it than out of the other six.

"Third.—That ill doing should be execrated and punished.

"Fourth.—That American children should always hear from American citizens expressions of loyalty to their country, which their lives bear out.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

News of the New Parasols—A Smart Burnt Straw Hat.

Some of the prettiest embroidered linen parasols have green or white handles of magnolia wood. Striped silk sunshades are very popular and come in all the new color effects.

Charming are coarse burnt straw hats trimmed with nattier blue velvet and pink roses. This is quite a favorite combination in the millinery world.

The all lace frock is to be worn a great deal. An exquisite creation is of Baby Irish with touches of black velvet and pale blue satin.

Most of the short walking skirts are plaited or of the nine gored circular style, which does not sag, as the three piece circular has an unpleasant habit of doing.

The newest shade in taffeta silk this spring is apricot, which is a bright brown. And there are numerous other shades of brown, green and gray that appeal to the lover of pretty fabrics.

The foulards are out this season in designs that are simply marvelous. There is a foulard that looks like crape, with a velvety surface that is slightly crinkled. It is lightweight, very soft and of beautiful brilliancy.

A cunning little white embroidered linen cape is lined with apple green and draped with a gauze scarf of the same shade. These capes are to be worn with all kinds of thin summer frocks.

Many of the shops nowadays make a specialty of attaching new hands to wornout glove tops. The cost is very little, and for a small sum one can buy a short pair of gloves and have them fastened to the old tops by clever and experienced fingers.

Paris muslin makes the dainty baby dress shown in the picture. There is a little yoke of all over embroidery in a small design outlined with valenciennes insertion. The neck and sleeves are edged with frills of the same lace.

MILLINERY MATTERS.

Topsy Turvy Hat Decorations—Feather Duster Plumes.

Unless the social lie rolls trippingly off his tongue many a man who thinks he knows about millinery, but who doesn't, may get himself disliked this spring when lovely woman asks if her hat is on right. The chances are that he will tell her that it is wrong side to for there is a departure in millinery which would suggest this mistake to all save the most observing. In other years the long sweeping plume of a hat was fastened to the left side. Now it has changed about and falls from the brim at the right. Several imported hats have plumes so long that they rest gracefully upon the wearer's shoulder.

To the uninitiated and casual observer many of the fancy feathers used suggest the useful feather duster in their types, and indeed many of them are drawn from the same humble sources, though dyed and made up in a way that atone for their plebeian origin.

All sorts of hanging trimmings are seen on hats. Long streamers of ribbon, tulle and lace or shorter bows that fall over the coiffure and drooping floral trimmings supported by tulle underneath feathers that reach quite to the shoulders are used on many of the more pretentious hats for state occasions.

Buckles of long, narrow shape are used effectively with ribbon trimmings, and on some of the newest Japanese shapes where crown and brim are merged, as in the regulation coolly hat, trimmings of velvet ribbon ending in long streamers at the back are dotted at intervals with bunches of small flowers, a revival of the early Victorian modes that are prominent.

The frock illustrated is in a gray French linen embroidered in self color. The waist can be admirably used as a separate blouse made up in any of the attractive shirt waist materials.

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

The Tailored Princess Gown—Styles in Silk Gloves.

The tailored princess gown has come to stay. It is found in rajah silk, pongee and taffeta as well as in cloth. It is usually trimmed with straps of the material edged with stitching or piping, with the occasional addition of buttons.

Long white silk gloves with the arm part embroidered in white or color with tiny posies are summer novelties.

Ceinture buckles of pink coral have appliques of gold in filigree design. Cameo brooches will be worn in fichu of soft lace or lawn, thereby giving a quaint old fashioned effect that is very attractive.

Belts of heavy finished elastic with plain gold buckles are made in most of the modish hues and are especially good in the dark blues, colors never attractive in leather.

An exclusive style in woman's footwear is the Tosa tie. It is a high pump made with four eyelets, through which broad grosgrain ribbon is laced and tied in a generous bow.

Whether a gown is made of silk, voile foulard or pongee, a jacket of the same will make it all the more attractive and useful, for this year Dame Fashion has decreed that a jacket of some kind must be worn, be the thermometer at its highest.

The shops show robes of chiffon and marquisette with exquisitely soft tinted flowers and a border of black polka dots.

The dress pictured is of champagne liberty foulard dotted with golden brown spots. The color is one of the loveliest of the season and the gown one of those very useful ones that can be worn upon a number of occasions.

SYSTEM EXHAUSTED BY WORRY AND LOSS OF SLEEP—PERFECT HEALTH THE RESULT OF USING

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Such cases as this make it impossible to doubt the restorative influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. E. J. Vanderburgh, of Eastern Welland avenue, St. Catharines, Ont., states: "For twenty-one years I was badly afflicted with heart trouble, nervousness and cramps in the limbs, also twitching of the muscles, and nervous headaches. I became weak, debilitated and emaciated. My condition was distressing and I was made worse through worry and loss of sleep.

"I tried a hundred remedies in vain, and, reading about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I decided to try it. After having used half a dozen boxes of this preparation, my old trouble had entirely vanished and I was enjoying better health than I had since girlhood. I am now past middle life and am in perfect health. I would not take worlds to-day and go back to my former state."

There is more or less mystery and doubt as to the specific action of many drugs, but it is positively and definitely known that iron forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, or, in other words, makes the blood rich and nourishing.

But iron alone cannot be taken into a delicate stomach. The great secret of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the way iron is combined with certain other restoratives so as to make a preparation that can be used with the greatest benefit by even the most weak and delicate person.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is also slightly laxative as well as tonic in influence, and, while building up the system, insures the regular and healthful action of the digestive filtering and excretory systems.

If you would enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves and replace weakness and disease with health and vigour, use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.—2.

This warmed air ascending straight through the flues in which it started, can be carried direct, with practically all its heat retained, to the furthest and coldest part of the building. 106

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

There Has Been Frequent Assertion to the Contrary, but the Fact Remains That the Best Place For a Married Man After Dark Is at Home.

[Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.]

DEAR JOHN—I get the notion in my head from a few random remarks in your last two or three letters that you are putting in a good deal of your spare time, and possibly some you have no right to spare, with the boys at the club.

Now, John, I don't purpose to give you a curtain lecture on the evils of clubs. As a rule, they are pretty good institutions. Of course there are clubs and clubs, but there is no doubt in my mind that the properly conducted men's club is one of the necessities of the present day life in the city. I belong to three of them myself and know their value. They are not, as some people seem to believe, mere gambling dens or drinking places in disguise. In all really first class clubs gambling is strictly prohibited, and intoxicating liquors are no more in evidence than at any respectable hotel. All this, of course, you know very well, and I mention it simply to show you right at the start that I have no feeling against the club as an institution.

But, my boy, no matter how many clubs he may belong to nor how good they are, they don't alter the eternal fact that the best place for a married man after dark is at home. I'm not in favor of reviving the curfew law, nor do I mean to say that a man should never leave the house at night. I drop into one of my clubs in the evening once or twice a week, and I am satisfied that this occasional association with my fellow men does me good. But I don't leave home more often than that unless your mother goes with me, and when I go to the club I never stay late.

Not a Mere Transaction.

When you married Anna May you assumed an obligation somewhat broader and more binding than is involved in the employment of a housekeeper. A man's duty to his wife is not ended when he merely provides her with food, clothing and shelter. Judging by actions, there are a great many men in this world who would disagree with me on that point, but they are men of strained vision and warped hearts. They keep their eyes focused on their selfish ambitions or pleasures until their field of view is entirely filled by the reflection of their own image. It's no use to argue with that kind of cattle, and I'm not going to try. But there are a great many more men who don't know or don't think, and I reckon you're one of them. Hoping that you are, I want to try to inject a few facts into your carcass for the benefit of your wife as well as yourself. It may do some good, and it may not. At any rate, it will relieve my mind.

As I was about to say when the trolley slipped, your wife didn't marry you for your money. You didn't have any in the first place, but if you had been worth a million the assertion would apply. She didn't marry you for a home. She left a better home than you are likely ever to provide for her. She didn't marry you to get a boost into society. She married you for yourself, and nothing less than yourself will satisfy her. She married you to get a husband, a companion, and it is your presence, your loving companionship, that she desires above all material considerations. This more than anything else she is entitled to, and there is nothing else so easy to give her; there is nothing else so much to your personal advantage.

How Would You Like It?

Try it on yourself and see how it works. Suppose the conditions of the sexes were reversed, as some humorists predict. Suppose you were tied up in the home all day with no one to talk to, except the servants or an occasional visitor. Suppose if your wife comes home to dinner at all she hurries through the meal and rushes off to the club, leaving you to spend the evening alone. How do you think you would enjoy an existence of that kind, and how long do you think you would submit to it without a protest, a protest so forcible it would make the windows rattle? I think just about seven days would finish you. No, by George, the conditions are not different! Neglect is just as hard on a woman as it would be on a man similarly placed. And the daily desertion of a wife is neglect pure and simple. It isn't a nice word to a man who imagines he is doing his whole duty, but it's the only one that will fill the bill. How many divorce cases have been caused by neglect of this kind I don't know, but I'll bet my best horse it's more than half the total.

What in the name of Grover Cleveland can you expect of a woman if you go gallivanting around every night and leave her to her own devices? While you are out with the boys having a good time what do you suppose she is doing? I can tell you. She is trying to read or to do a little fancy work and getting mighty small satisfaction out of the job. She is getting up every ten minutes and going to the window to look for you. She is wondering why you don't come and filling her brain with imaginary happenings. If you are long delayed, she sees you mangled by a car, knocked down by an automobile or held up by footpads. If she is of a jealous disposition her thoughts take another turn, and, no matter how innocent the cause of your absence may be, you must remember she has nothing to do but think. Under such circumstances the brain has a queer way of calling up unwelcome and unpleasant pictures. Night after night of this will turn the most ardent love into indifference. It will dry up the heart and sour the blood of the most long suffering woman on earth, and then the fool man wonders what has changed his wife and of course blames her. He thinks it all over and says to himself that he has given her everything in the world she has asked for or could want. He has been a true, kind and faithful husband, and her conduct is therefore inexcusable. He forgets that he has denied her that which she considers of far greater importance than all the rest, that which she desires far more than fine clothing—his companionship.

Here's an Example.

There was Jimmy Rogers, a member of one of my clubs, as fine a fellow as ever walked the streets, every inch a man, generous to a fault, straight as a footrule, a stanch friend and one of the best story tellers I ever heard. He was devoted to his wife, but he was an inveterate clubman. He never dreamed he was neglecting her, for, like many women, she endured in silence, became a confirmed misanthrope and finally died of nervous prostration, the victim of her own imaginings. After a long time Jimmy fell in love again, this time with a woman who said things and who knew his first wife. When he proposed, she gave him some information about his past life that astonished and pained him. She accepted him, but upon the express condition that he spend at least half of his evenings at home. Jimmy has kept the agreement and more. He doesn't come to the club more than half a dozen times a month, and he goes home early. His wife is one of the happiest women I know, and Jimmy says he never really knew how much good there was in life until he learned to live at home.

She gave him some information.

Not Always One.

You see, John, nature has planned it just that way. The highest state of happiness is possible only in the perfect companionship of man and wife. It is only when they live wholly for each other that they become truly one, as the good Lord designed it. Two persons of opposite sex who live together by authority of the law and the church who are always at loggerheads and who see as little of each other as they can without causing comment from the neighbors are not husband and wife in the true sense. They are not one, but very positively and distinctly two, and frequently make as much fuss as half a dozen. It isn't always the man who is at fault, not by a darn sight. I don't claim that all women are angels. I don't claim that any of them are. They're just women, thank heaven, and they have their failings, some more, some less. But I am addressing this letter to you as man to man. I don't pretend to say what a woman should do. What I want is to see you do what you ought to do to bring happiness to your home. Then if you fail it won't be your fault, but I have never known it to fail where the methods I have outlined to you have been conscientiously and lovingly tried. I claim no credit for them. They have been in use for ages, and what I have said to you along this line is but the sum of the experience of many men past and present, and which, boiled down, is simply the practice of the Golden Rule at home, where it is most needed and where it does the most good.

There is no finer sight in the world than that presented by a man and wife who, living always for each other, attain that condition of perfect unity which is the ideal married state. They are one, in fact, and you no doubt have noticed the physical resemblance which often comes to such couples in the course of years. Mr. and Mrs. Harper, over on Benton street, are a splendid example. When I first knew Dick Harper, forty years ago, he was a harum scarum boy who was sowing his oats with a steam drill. He was just about as wild as they make 'em and was getting mighty close to the jumping off place when he met Mollie Price. He married her, and she made a man of him. That was thirty-five years ago, and they are still spooning. When they were tied up he was about as far removed from her in facial appearance as it is possible to be, yet today an absolute stranger can at once see the likeness.

No Place Like Home.

But, getting back to clubs for a moment before I have to wind the clock, what is there in club life to compare with the comforts and pleasures of an evening at home—your dressing gown and slippers, your easy chair, a good cigar and your wife by your side to talk to, to read to or just to be there to give you the joy of her presence, or, more indolent, to listen to her chatter about a hundred things that may not interest you in detail, but are wonderfully entertaining in the abstract, because it is she who is telling them; to let her read to you while you people the blue smoke with the charming creatures of the story until the delicious monotone fades into a thin line of sound without meaning and you wake with a start to find her arms around your neck and saying, "Kiss me, John; it's time to go to bed?" The club cannot give any satisfactory substitute for this. The one is an artificial institution; the other is divine.

Still, as I said before, I would not have you give up your club if you can afford the expense. Get out with the boys once in awhile. It won't do you any harm, if you come home sober and financially whole. But make the club the occasional diversion. Reserve the great majority of your evenings for Anna May, who is worth more to you than all the clubs in Christendom, than all the friends you can make therein, stanch and valuable however they may be. Spend your evenings with her. Have your friends in occasionally in an informal way. Visit them in the same way—with your wife. Go to the theater or other places of amusement—with your wife. Go to church on Sunday—with your wife. Make her the sharer of your pleasures, the partner of your joys, and you can bet your life you can depend upon her sharing your troubles, whatever they may be. Stand by her as your other self, and she will stand by you. The chances are ten to one she will stand by you anyway. That is woman's characteristic, even when her loyalty is least deserved, but that doesn't relieve you from the obligation of devoted loyalty to her. On the contrary, it increases that obligation. Make her happiness the chief aim of your life, and you will find it reciprocal and more, for what you give will be returned to you with a substantial profit added.

And now, my boy, I have said enough, and, besides, I am tired. With love to Anna May, as well as unfailing affection for yourself, I bid you good night. Yours as ever,

JOHN SNEED.

P. S.—Mother says to be very careful about drafts on the back of your neck. J. S.

STAKED HIS VIOLIN.

The Incident That Cured the Great Paganini of Gambling.

When Nicolo Paganini was only fifteen years of age, it is said, he left his father's house and plunged into a reckless life of dissipation and gambling. At times his losses at the gaming table even compelled him to part with his violin. This occurred at Leghorn, where he was billed for a concert. A resident French merchant and amateur M. Livron, hearing of his dilemma, loaned him a Joseph Guarnerius. When Paganini went to return it after the concert the enthusiastic Frenchman exclaimed, "Never shall my hands profane the instrument which yours have touched!" and presented the violin to the virtuoso. This became Paganini's favorite violin and is the one he left to the city of Genoa, where it is exhibited in the municipal palace. The threatened loss of this instrument cured him of gambling. According to Paganini himself, his means had been reduced at the gaming table to a few francs, and he felt that he would be obliged to accept a standing offer for his much prized Guarnerius, made to him by a prince who greatly coveted it. As a last desperate chance of saving his precious violin he staked what little money he had left on one play and won. But the risk he had run gave him such a fright that he quit the gaming table for good and all.

PRIESTS DENOUNCE BILL.

Birrell's Irish Measure Actively Opposed by Catholic Church.

London, May 15.—The opinion in the lobbies of the House of Parliament on the prospects of the Irish Council bill, which is designated to meet the demands for Irish home rule, has taken a very pessimistic turn because of the growing belief that the Nationalist convention, which is to be held in Dublin May 21 and 22, will not accept the bill.

During the last few days Irish Catholic prelates have come out strongly in denunciation of the project. The Bishop of Limerick describes it as "a grotesque measure," while Archbishop Walsh says: "The bill seems so bad all around that I will find difficulty in saying anything to induce the convention to approve it." They are supported by Cardinal Vogue, primate of all Ireland, and the lead given by these prelates is particularly fateful, as practically every parish priest in Ireland will be a delegate to the convention. The Nationalist revolt is being assiduously stimulated by Timothy W. Healy, William O'Brien and other politicians.

It is believed Mr. Birrell is willing to amend in the direction of modifying the Lord-Lieutenant's power of veto, and increasing the Government allowance from $3,250,000 to $5,000,000.

SENSATIONAL CHASE.

Leader of Rock Cut Gang Escapes From Prison.

Rochester, N. Y., May 15.—Louis Peters, William S. Harmon and Harry Levine have been in jail here several days, charged with being suspicious persons. Yesterday they were arraigned in the Police Court, charged with car burglary and grand larceny, in breaking into New York Central Railroad cars and stealing clothing. The police allege they have evidence to this effect, gathered since the arrests. While in the detention pen at police headquarters, Harmon and Peters sawed the bars of their cells yesterday morning, broke a window, jumped 20 feet to the top of a shed, and then jumped to Exchange street in a dash for freedom.

Twenty policemen saw the men jump, and a sensational chase began, in which the bystanders joined. Harmon was caught after a hot chase. Peters was recaptured later hiding in a house on Washington street.

The police say that Peters is leader of the "Rock Cut" gang of car burglars, and has served a term in prison for car burglary. Harmon is alleged by them to have served a sentence in the penitentiary for carrying concealed weapons. Levine is not known to the police.

DISORDER IN INDIA.

John Morley Asks For Union On Subject In Parliament.

London, May 15.—Questions in Parliament yesterday drew from John Morley, Secretary for India, a statement that "the disorder in India had assumed a very serious aspect, and created a feeling of unrest both in the Province of Eastern Bengal and in Calcutta. It is not desirable that they (meaning the Indian rioters) should have it in their mouths to say that this House is divided."

Goose Prophet Dead.

Philadelphia, May 15.—Elias Hartz, who enjoyed a national reputation as a "goose-bone" weather prophet, and was for years one of the unique characters of Reading, is dead, in the Friends' Asylum here, at the age of 93 years.

When a young man he learned the science of reading the markings on the breastbone of a goose and foretelling the weather for the winter months. It was his custom to take a healthy, well-fed goose of the spring hatching, and have it served for his Thanksgiving Day dinner. The breastbone was then carefully cleaned to show all the markings and fine lines. From his readings of these Hartz foretold the weather from that day until Easter, and, strange as it may appear, about 90 per cent. of his "guesses" were good. Owing to ill-health he made no predictions during the last two years of his life.

Only Firecrackers Went Off.

Rome, May 15.—It is officially denied that an attempt was made to explode a bomb while the royal train stood in the station at Pentelagoscuro, Sunday. It is explained that some firecrackers were accidentally exploded before the train arrived and that the accident was of no significance.

The denial followed a report that a bomb, supposed to be used in an attempt to kill the King, had prematurely exploded, injuring three children.

"Black Hand" at Windsor.

Windsor, May 15.—Dominic Provenzano, the Italian, who stabbed and shot Antonio Cariti two weeks ago, will stand trial on the charge of shooting with intent to kill. The police think that Cariti was a "black hand" victim.

OVERCOME BY SMOKE.

Firemen Carried Unconscious From Burning Building.

New York, May 15.—Thirty firemen were overcome by smoke as the result of a stubborn fire yesterday in the sub-cellar and basement of a five-storey building at 326 Broadway, occupied in part by the salesroom and offices of the Remington Typewriter Co.

The blaze was confined at first to a quantity of material stored in the cellar, the burning of which filled the storerooms with smoke. With no window to allow the escape of the smoke, the firemen were overcome. One after another, they were brought out unconscious by staggering comrades. Nine ambulances carried the most seriously affected of the firemen to nearby hospitals. Although the fire made slow progress, the firemen had great difficulty in extinguishing it.

Boy Drowned.

Clarksburg, May 15.—While the seven-year old son of M. Stoutenburg, along with two school mates, was playing around the river trying to secure a fishing line, which they had found.

In reaching for it Willie fell into the water.

Mr. Steel caught the body while it was going down the river, and Drs. Moore and Hurlburt worked for two hours to revive him, but with success.

TRIES TO MURDER INSPECTOR.

Russian Female Terrorist Attempts Crime While Being Examined.

Moscow, May 15.—Madame Fromkina, who was arrested in the lobby of the Opera House here March 14, having in her possession an automatic revolver charged with poisoned bullets, and who was believed to be waiting for General Rheinbot, the Prefect of Police, with the intention of making an attempt to assassinate him, was later recognized as an escaped terrorist, who had been exiled to Siberia for making an attempt on the life of General Novitsky, chief of the gendarmerie of Kiev. The woman yesterday made an attempt to murder the inspector of the political prison here. While she was being examined by the inspector, Madame Fromkina fired at and wounded him with a revolver which had been mysteriously smuggled into her cell.

Ships Caught In the Ice.

Port Arthur, May 15.—Navigation is closed here again. Ice commenced to move Saturday, and as a consequence the channel has been closed. The steamers Manitoba, Huronic and others have been outside since Monday.

It looks as though it would be some days before the boats get in unless the wind changes.

Despite all modern improvements, Paris still heats its offices and its houses to a large extent with wood. Its bakers and confectioners use hardly anything else for fuel. It burns up whole forests of timber every year, and extensive forests in several regions of France are reserved for supplying it with fuel. Coal is scarce in France and dear and not of very good quality. Besides, the Parisians are conservative in home matters. The cheery appearance of the glowing log on the hearth appeals to them, and most likely generations will pass before they give up burning wood altogether.

THE GAELIC TONGUE.

Peculiarities of the Language of the Highland Section.

There are in Gaelic no neuter nouns. They are all either masculine or feminine. Sun, moon, star, tree, rock, stone, etc., are feminine nouns; sky, air, bird, fish, house, barn, etc., are masculine. A hill is masculine; a mountain, feminine. The ocean is masculine; the sea is feminine. Strange to say, the word for "a female" is a masculine noun and the word for "a manservant" a feminine. But these two curious exceptions stand practically alone.

In the construction of sentences Gaelic is very different from English. People who know enough about the language to make dangerous use of it will tell you, for instance, that in Gaelic you have to talk backward. By this is meant that you do not begin by using the same word that you would begin with in English. In Gaelic the verb comes before the noun and the noun before the adjective. Thus, if you were going to say "A wise man shuns evil companions" you would arrange your words in this order: "Shuns a man wise companions evil." This way of putting the verb at the very beginning of a sentence is really better than having it follow the noun. Being the word of the sentence, it stands in its proper place. To the highlander English is the language that is spoken backward.

Banana Leaves.

Banana leaves serve many useful purposes; for of them are made tough paper from the thinnest tissue to thickest cardboard, clothing, hats and brushes, mats and hammocks. Millions of pounds of banana fiber, misnamed manila "hemp," are each year brought to the United States or taken to Europe and spun into cordage from the fineness of silk up through the size of twine to the bigness of mammoth cables, and many dainty handkerchiefs and bits of fine lace have been woven from the fibers of banana leaves by the deft fingers of the women of South America and of the far east.

The Limerick Variety.

Some years ago M. Paul Villars, London correspondent of the Journal des Debats, went to Limerick on the occasion of a great Nationalist meeting. On arriving at the hotel he asked for a room in the front of the house. A servant took him to a small dark room looking on to an inner courtyard. M. Villars went to the window and satisfied himself that there was a mistake.

"This is not the front of the house," said he.

"Oh, yes, sir," the servant said; "it's the back of the front."

He Probably Spoke.

"I say, Mr. Johnston," said little Tommy, "are you fond of speaking?"

"Not very, Tommy," replied Mr. Johnston, with a smile.

"You don't speak much?"

"Well, not a great deal."

"I thought so," said little Tommy, "because I heard Sister Agnes say to mamma today that she had been waiting six months for you to speak."

Where the Wild Beasts Are.

A little girl at Great Totham, Essex, when asked to write about wild animals and the countries they inhabit, wrote, "Wild animals used to abound in England, but now they are only to be found in the theological gardens."—Lloyd's Weekly.

Very Wrong.

Teacher—If coal is $5 per ton, how many tons could you get for $20? Disturbing Element—Three tons. Teacher—That's wrong. Disturbing Element—I know it is, but they will do it just the same.

An Advocate of Credit.

"The way to get on," said the business man, "is to conduct your operations on a cash basis."

"Not in politics," answered Senator Sorghum. "Promises are just as effectual as cash and not nearly so dangerous."

Was It Fresh?

An Indiana woman, as she examined the fowl brought from the market, said to her little son, "Did the grocer tell you this turkey was quite fresh?"

"No'm," the boy answered; "he just said to hurry home with it as fast as I could."

General ideas and great conceit are always in a fair way to cause terrible mischief.—Goethe.

SUFFERED EIGHT YEARS FROM KIDNEYS

Doctor's said Female Trouble.

Mrs. Charles Lewis, Collingwood, Ont., writes: "For eight years I suffered from Kidney Complaint, and until twelve months ago doctors' said I was suffering from 'Female Trouble.' Last November (1906), I was seriously ill, resulting I believe from kidney troubles. Finding docter's medicine doing me no good, I persuaded my husband to purchase me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, after having read of a case somewhat resembling mine. I commenced taking them according to directions (not taking the doctor's medicine), and on second day a swelling commenced in my feet, legs and body. The following day I was so changed and swollen my husband, in alarm, hastened to Mr. Johnson's drug store, who told him to tell me he thought the pills were drawing something out of the blood, and to keep on taking them. I did so and after taking them a week, the swelling disappeared leaving me with a complexion free from pimples, tired, weary feeling gone, constipation, from which I suffered for years, gone, pain in the back, gone, and a general feeling of joy and light heartedness, I have not felt since a child, took place in me.

My sister-in-law (Mrs. Bryan), seeing the action of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the change for good they accomplished in me, sent for a box and they completely cured her. When there is an opportunity of telling people what Doan's Kidney Pills did for us, we always take advantage of it, and tell them to give them a fair trial."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, for sale at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

NEW FAST MAIL LINE IS APPROVED OF

Sir Wilfrid's Motion Adopted By Colonial Conference.

COMMITTEE TO LEARN COST

All-British Route Across Two Oceans —Four Days to Canada—Steamers to Be Subsidized — Sir Joseph Ward Wants New Zealand Brought Within Twenty Days of England—Deakin's Views.

London, May 15.—The Imperial Conference at its closing session yesterday adopted the motion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in favor of an all-British subsidized steamship route from the United Kingdom to Australasia by way of Canada. The committee is to be appointed to enquire into the cost of such a route and draw up definite propositions on the subject. The motion of Sir Wilfrid is designed to bring about a reduction in freight charges, thus giving an indirect form of preference to the British colonies, reducing the time from England to Australasia to twenty instead of thirty days, and in the end diverting some of the traffic now going by way of New York.

Not a Freight Service.

Mr. Deakin expressed satisfaction at the proposal, which he said, Australia would welcome. He pointed out that owing to the two transhipments the line would be one for mails and passengers only. It could not become a cargo line. Australia was now encouraging swifter means of communication through the Suez Canal and via the Cape, but they were interested in both the eastern and western routes. If such a project as Laurier's could be placed on a sound financial basis, the interest of Australia in it for postal purposes might become almost as great as that of New Zealand.

New Zealand Wants Fast Ships.

Sir Joseph Ward was disappointed at the suggested speed. New Zealand provided £40,000 for the present service, but they would sooner give as much as £100,000 towards a swift mail service that would bring New Zealand within twenty days of England. New Zealand would not be satisfied with an eighteen-knot service. They were willing to give their proportion for a fast service from England to Canada. The Pacific steamers must touch at New Zealand before going to Sydney, otherwise New Zealand would not contribute. This was a great opportunity to get an all-British route. He argued in favor of a twenty-one-knot service, and was quite prepared to face a large subsidy of £360,000 or £400,000 from the four countries concerned. New Zealand's principle would be an all-British route and a fortnightly service. He urged that tenders be asked for, with a view to ascertaining the cost.

Lord Strathcona's Gift.

London, May 15.—(C. A. P.)—Lord Strathcona has given £1,000 to provide shields for schools in the Dominion in order to foster the idea of helping the British and Foreign Sailors' Society. The shields are made of copper from Nelson's flagship Victory.

Asked whether he would bring before the Imperial Conference the objectionableness of the payment of percentages to emigration agents in Ireland, Campbell-Bannerman replied that time did not permit a return to the question of emigration, which had already been fully discussed. He also stated he did not intend to ask the views of the Premiers on the question of Home Rule for Ireland.

CHINA IS DISSATISFIED.

Claims Japan Has Committed Breach of Faith Over Property.

Mukden, May 15.—The repeated promises made by the Japanese the past three years to return to China the property appropriated through the exigencies of war, are still unfulfilled. In consequence of this China is experiencing much indignation at what is considered a gross breach of faith.

As yet the recovery of a large amount of Government and private property in numerous places throughout Manchuria, which was appropriated by Japan without compensation, on the sole pretext that China had failed to observe neutrality in allowing Russia to occupy these properties, is considered doubtful. This excuse is not considered honest, since Japan is fully aware of China's helplessness to enforce neutrality, while Japan, in regard to the abuse of the neutrality, is considered equally guilty. Russia holds much appropriated property, which has been given to Japanese traders without any compensation to China.

BOATS MISSING AND TRAGEDY FEARED

Forty Fishermen Believed to Have Perished.

FLEET DAMAGED BY STORMS

Four Vessels Sail—Only Two Return, Having Lost All Their Gear—One Hundred Children Left Fatherless —St. Pierre, Miq., an Unfortunate Colony — Disaster Every Season Among Fishermen.

Halifax, May 15.—News comes from St. Pierre Miquelon of what is believed to be one of the greatest tragedies in the history of the unfortunate French colony at the entrance of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Two fishing vessels, carrying crews totalling forty men, are believed to have gone to the bottom in the storms of April. On April 3 last four schooners fully manned, left St. Pierre for the fishing banks. Among the number were La Blanche, Captain Girandin, and Ste. Marie, Captain Lafleme. Since then nothing has been heard of these vessels or their crews. The other two craft returned shortly after their departure, having encountered severe storms, in which all their gear was lost. After effecting repairs both vessels again started for the banks, but were a second time overcome by the storms and compelled to return to St. Pierre in greatly damaged condition. It is feared that both La Blanche and Ste. Marie foundered in one of these storms with all hands. If these fears are well-founded forty men, all of whom were married, have perished. It is said that one hundred children will be left fatherless. Scarcely a season passes without disaster overtaking the French fishing fleet operating from St. Pierre. Many of the fishermen come annually from France, to prosecute the industry, bringing their families with them.

RUSSIAN MAY DAY,

General Tie-Up of Business — Workmen's One-Day Strike.

St. Petersburg, May 15.—The workmen of St. Petersburg generally celebrated the Russian May Day Monday with a one day's strike. The authorities had announced that a cessation of work there would be punished by a general lockout, but the workmen voted to give their day's earnings to the fund for idle workmen.

Street car service was suspended on several of the lines, and most of the newspapers announced the suspension of their afternoon or Wednesday morning editions, owing to the strike of their compositors. No disorders had been reported up to noon. The few districts in regard to which the authorities were apprehensive were patrolled by detachments of infantry and cavalry, and forces of troopers were held in readiness for emergencies elsewhere.

ASYLUM LAUNDRY BURNED.

Flames Checked Before Lives of Patients Were Endangered.

London, May 15.—Damage to the extent of $5,000 was done by fire at the London Asylum for the Insane yesterday. The fire broke out between six and seven o'clock in the drying room of the laundry, and before it was extinguished the roof and the upper floor were completely destroyed. Good work by the fire department of the institution prevented the flames spreading to the adjoining buildings in which were over 1,000 inmates. No trouble whatever was experienced. The fire originated among the wooden drying racks.

Odd Runaway Accident.

Alvinston, May 15.—A runaway accident occured yesterday.

A team driven by Hugh McDonald, having a load of door frames and lumber, ran away and overtook Mr. and Mrs. Sifton of Caradoc riding in a covered buggy.

Each horse attempted to pass on opposite sides of the buggy, and Mr. Sifton's horse, becoming frightened, also ran, and finally running into the ditch all stopped, the three horses being side by side with the demolished buggy under the wagon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sifton, an aged couple, were thrown out, and quite badly shaken up.

Hugh McKellar, an Alvinston carpenter, who was riding on the load of lumber, and McDonald, the driver of the team, were both hurt, but not seriously.

VIOLATED THE ACT IN STRIKING

Montreal Longshoremen Liable to Very Heavy Fine.

STRIKERS ATTACK WORKERS

Minister of Labor May Be Appealed to—Police Charge the Crowd—Stones and Other Missiles Used—Lieut. Beauregard Badly Hurt—Steamships Are Tied Up — Public Sympathy Against the Men.

Montreal, May 15.—Striking longshoremen attacked the men who were still at work yesterday afternoon, throwing stones and other missiles. The police charged the rioters and in the row Lieut. Beauregard was badly hurt. He was struck by one of the flying stones. The police reserves were called out, but made no arrests.

There are 1,800 longshoremen out. The carters and freight handlers remained at work. Two hundred men were engaged by steamship companies in longshoremen's places yesterday morning.

The men enlisted public sympathy against them by going out on a few hours' notice. They sent a demand for five cents an hour increase, about 10 a. m. Monday and at 6 p. m. went out on strike. They receive 25 cents an hour and 30 cents for night. They ask for 30 and 35 cents.

Have Violated the Act.

Ottawa, May 15.—Enquiry at the Department of Labor in regard to the Longshoremen's strike at Montreal elicits the opinion that this matter will come under the operation of the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act of last session, and that the men therefore are not at liberty to strike without first submitting the matters at issue to a board of investigation. The law of last session provides that it was to apply to mining properties, agency of transportation, or communication, or public service utility, including railways, steamships, telegraph and telephone lines, gas, electric light, water, and power works.

The final determination as to the application of this law to the case of the Longshoremen's strike rests with the Minister of Labor, and Hon. Mr. Lemieux is now in Quebec, but the matter will no doubt be brought to the attention of that gentleman without delay. Any employe who goes on strike contrary to the provisions of this Act leaves himself open to a fine of not less than ten nor more than $50 for each day or part of day that he remains on strike. The procedure prescribed under the law requires that when any dispute has arisen that the parties are unable to adjust themselves, they may apply to the Minister of Labor for the appointment of a board of investigation and conciliation to which the issue shall be referred.

ABUSE QUEEN'S STATUE.

Seditious Behaviour of Hindu Mobs in Madras Presidency.

London, May 15.—A special despatch from Lucknow, published here yesterday afternoon, say that the seditious movement among the Hindus is spreading in Madras province. Troops are patrolling the streets of Madras city and serious racial rioting has occurred at Delhi in the Punjab, where a mob of Hindus and Mohammedan malecontents knocked the crown off the statue of Queen Victoria.

Slipped Off Fender.

Toronto, May 15.—While crossing East Queen street, near Knox avenue, six-year-old Irene Reardon, daughter of Edward Reardon, 1366 East Queen street, was instantly killed by westbound King street car No. 922 at 1.45 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The car was in charge of Motorman William Lindsay, and Conductor D. Warnock, both of whom live at 139 Sumach street.

The child was going an errand for her mother. She was carried a car-length on the fender before she slipped off and passed beneath the wheels. The body was terribly mangled.

Coroner R. B. Orr will hold an inquest at F. Rosar's undertaking establishment this afternoon.

OVERPOWERED BY PEASANTS.

Rural Guards Disarmed In Bernsk District of Russia.

Simbirsk, Russia, May 15.—A strong revolutionary and agrarian movement is now in progress in the province. It originated in a rural strike in the Bernak district. Rural guards were sent there to restore order, fired on a mob of peasants, but were overpowered and disarmed, the vice-chief of the district and several guards being severely wounded. In spite of the despatch of Cossacks to the scene, the movement rapidly spread throughout the province and a minor state of martial law was proclaimed. A secret congress of the peasant leaders is now in session here.

Triumph for Mexico.

City of Mexico, May 15.—Guatemala has receded from the stand taken relative to the Lima extradition question, and President Cabrera expressed his willingness to have Gen. Lima, charged with complicity in the assassination of Gen. Barrillas, tried in Guatemala.

Mexico has replied to these overtures coldly. The incident is generally regarded here as a final diplomatic triumph for Mexico.

It is thought Cabrera's change of front was actuated by formidable preparations for a revolution against him.

Nearly Killed.

Brockville, May 15.—A young Italian named Andemicco was struck by the buffer beam of a passing freight train on the main line between Lyn and Mallorytown, where he was engaged with a gang ballasting. He was thrown into the ditch, and his escape from death was miraculous.

LENIENT TO JACKSON.

Pleads Guilty to Charge—Let Go On Suspended Sentence.

Orangeville, May 15.—Walter Jackson changed his plea yesterday of not guilty to one of guilty of administering drugs for an improper purpose, and was remanded for sentence, a bond of $1,000 being exacted to bind him to appear whenever called upon.

During the course of his remarks on the case Chief Justice Falconbridge spoke at some length on the prevalence of crimes of this character and said that in some respects it was similar to the abominable and detestable practice in the United States, by which women avoided the responsibility of motherhood or limited their families to one or two children. Of course in this instance there was a desire, observed his Lordship, on the part of the prisoner to shield the unfortunate girl from the disgrace which the occurrence would bring. The prisoner had already suffered much in mind and business in consequence of the affair and his Lordship was disposed to take into consideration in this case circumstances which greatly minimized the seriousness of the charge.

CAN BE SOLD ON SUNDAY.

Candies and Ice Cream Not Banned on Lord's Day.

Toronto, May 15.—Judge Morson yesterday handed out judgment in the appeal of John Devins, a restaurant-keeper at Sunnyside Crossing, from a conviction made by Magistrate Kingsford under the Lord's Day act, when he was fined $20 and costs for selling candies on Sunday and allowing them to be taken off the premises. Judge Morson quashed the conviction without costs. The main point in the judgment is that it is legal for a restaurant-keeper to sell candies, oranges or ice cream on Sunday and allow them to be eaten on or off the premises. Devins, who was fined on April 7 last, appealed from the conviction on the ground that the selling of the candies was a part of his ordinary calling, that of a restaurant-keeper, therefore, was no offence under the act. It is understood that there is no appeal from Judge Morson's decision.

STRYCHNINE IN SUGAR.

Attempt to Poison Family at Poplar Park, Man.

West Selkirk, Man., May 15.—Meagre details were received yesterday of a shocking tragedy at Poplar Park, a little settlement northwest of here, near Lake Winnipeg, where a Galician, whose name cannot be learned, attempted to poison his entire family, out of a spirit of revenge, cherished against his father-in-law. Five lives were in jeopardy, namely, the father-in-law, the mother-in-law, and the three children, and one child, aged three and one-half years, has since died. The others will probably recover. Neighbors, upon learning the circumstances, took the murderer into custody and conveyed him to this town, where he was handed over to the police. Owing to the fact that the prisoner is a Galician, unable to speak English, his version of the tragedy cannot be obtained.

GOES DOWN FOR 24 YEARS.

Heavy Sentence on Sneak-Thief at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, May 14.—Magistrate Daly yesterday imposed the heaviest sentence of imprisonment ever given in Manitoba when he sent J. G. Sterling, sneak thief, pickpocket and highwayman, to penitentiary for 24 years. This, following in the wake of the 20-year sentence imposed on Fred. Hawkins for burglary, is expected to have a deterring effect on this class of criminals in Winnipeg.

Engulfed by Earthquake.

Vienna, May 15.—It is reported here from Sarayevo, Bosnia, that the Turkish village of Mustajbasic, consisting of thirty houses and situated on a hill, was suddenly engulfed last Sunday night, presumably as a result of volcanic eruptions. A large number of the inhabitants perished, the remainder escaping by flight.

Prosperous Dairy Season

The First Sale of the Peterborough Cheese Board To-day Indicates that this Season Will be a Prosperous One.

First Cheese Of Peterborough District Sold At 11 1-2c. Per Lb.

There Were 809 Boxes Boarded This Morning—All Disposed Of at the Same Price—Mr. John Riddell Elected President—The 30th Annual Meeting.

LETTERS OF CONDOLENCE

The first meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board was held this morning when 809 boxes were boarded, all selling for 11 1-2 cts. per lb. The meeting was attended by about 25 salesmen and besides the election of officers, other business of importance was transacted. Last year at the initial meeting of the Board there were 1,371 boxes boarded, the highest price paid being 11 5-8 cts.

The new President of the Board is Mr. Jno. Riddell, a gentleman who has always taken a deep interest in the cheese making industry and who been secretary for the past couple of years.

The prospects for the season appear to be particularly bright and with the price of cheese beginning at 11 1-2c, there is every possibility for an excellent year so far as the farmers are concerned. Although the highest price at the first, last year, was 11 5-8 most of the cheese was sold for 11 3-8, so that on the whole the price for the coming year looks very promising.

The buyers present this morning were Messrs Geo. G. Gillespie, Wm. Wrighton, Cook, Morton and Whitton.

The bidding was somewhat slow as the buyers were doubtful as to getting the cheese out of Montreal at an early date on account of the strike of the Longshoremen, which has almost completely tied up the freight in the city of Montreal.

Mr. Whitton began the bidding at 11c. which was raised by Mr. Wrighton to 11 1-4c. The former bid 11 3-8 and Mr. Wrighton raised it to 11 1-2 where the bidding stopped.

In the absence of the President, Mr. T. D. Young, who through illness was not able to attend, Mr. R. Tudhope, the Vice-President, occupied the chair until Mr. Riddell, the new President, was elected.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by Mr. Hawthorne, the newly elected secretary, and adopted as well as the auditors' report. In the latter attention was called to the fact that some of the factories did not pay their fees to the Board last year. Some of the factories did not board in Peterborough but it was pointed out that many of them used the board's prices. This question was left in the hands of the executive to consider.

Two Arbitrators

Some difference was caused between the buyers and a number of the salesmen with regard to the appointment of the arbitrator. A couple of the buyers refused to allow a cheesemaker to settle a dispute. They claimed that Mr. Robt. Ward, the Government instructor, should be the arbitrator, as he would necessarily be an impartial judge. After a warm discussion it was decided to elect two arbitrators, giving them power to add to their numbers if necessary.

Election of Officers

The following officers were elected:

President, Mr. John Riddell.

Vice-President, Mr. R. Tudhope.

Sec.-Treas., Mr. Edward Hawthorne.

Arbitrators, Messrs. Jas. Ryan Robert Ward.

Auditors, Messrs. Robt. Bullock and W. Anderson.

Executive, Messrs. John Riddell, R. Tudhope and E. Hawthorne.

Letters of Condolence

Mr. George A. Gillespie called attention to the fact that since the last meeting of the Board two prominent salesmen had passed away. They were Messrs. Nicholls of Selwyn, and Garrett Galvin of Lakefield, the latter having been salesman for the Lakefield factory for 11 years continuously. It was decided to send letters of condolence to the families of the deceased men, expressing the sympathy of the Board.

President's Address

The president, in his inaugural address first called attention to the illness of the past president of the Board, Mr. Young. He exhorted the members of the Board to work unitedly in keeping up the reputation of the Peterborough Board, which has now the reputation of being the premier board of the Dominion.

He also spoke of cheese as being perishable goods, and advised that great care should be exercised in the curing and shipping of them.

He considered that the shippers should see that the cheese were not shipped too green, as their condition depended greatly upon this.

Mr. Riddell believed that as Peter-

THE NEW FIRE ENGINE

Which was tested with entirely satisfactory results by the Fire Brigade last night.

Test Of New Fire Engine Was A Complete Success

Chief and Others Interested Were Perfectly Satisfied With the Performance of the Engine—Four Strong Streams Working.

STEAM IN QUICK TIME

The new fire engine was given a thorough test last evening, and came through the ordeal with flying colours. The test took place at the creek at the corner of Aylmer and Brock streets at seven o'clock, and was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators, who seemed to find the event most interesting. The run from the old fire hall with the engine was made in good time, the fire under the boiler being lighted on the way. Steam was gotten up very quickly and in 7 1-2 minutes there were one hundred pounds pressure, and two strong streams were in action.

At one hundred and forty pounds, four streams were in use, three of them above the bridge and the other below Brock street.

Nearly all the members of the brigade were present, including Chief Rutherford, and the test was witnessed by Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, the Mayor and a number of the aldermen.

At the conclusion of the test Chief Rutherford expressed himself as being thoroughly satisfied with the performance of the engine. "You won't find a better engine than that anywhere," as he watched the four streams shooting skyward. Ald. Johnston was also pleased with the result of the test, which was regarded as most satisfactory.

The engine was taken to the new fire hall, where it will be kept in future.

Saturday will be a busy day in Toronto. The opening of the O. J. C. races at the Woodbine will take place, and the race for the King's Plate, the event of the meet, is billed for Saturday afternoon. In addition to this the Toronto and Jersey City Baseball Teams will play the third game of their series that afternoon.

The general impression at this stage of the season is that the real fight for the pennant will be between these two teams, and this will afford a good opportunity of getting a line on them.

There will be a good many Peterborough people in Toronto on Saturday. Join the crowd and come along. You will have a good day's enjoyment.

ACKERMAN-HEWITT NUPTIALS

Examiner Special.

Montreal, May 15. — At Christ Church Cathedral this morning a very quiet wedding took place, when Miss Mabel Hewitt, formerly of Stirling, was married to Mr. W. C. Ackman, of Peterborough, junior member of the firm of B. F. Ackerman, Son & Co., the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Symonds, rector of the cathedral, in the presence of a few intimate friends. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. W. A. Parker, of Montreal, and the couple were unattended. After a honeymoon trip they will reside in Peterborough.

CONTRIBUTORS WERE BANQUETTED LAST NIGHT

Willing Workers of Murray Street Baptist Church Provide Pleasant Time.

The Willing Workers of the Murray street Baptist church provided a pleasant evening to those who took part in the concert held there a week ago. An enjoyable programme was arranged after which the contributors were honoured by a banquet in their behalf.

ARE THE NEWSPAPERS OF PETERBOROUGH NO GOOD? MAYOR THINKS THIS IS THE CASE

His Worship the Mayor is credited with saying that the newspapers of Peterborough are no good, or words to that effect. If the newspapers were as fond of talking eternally, as some persons who could be named, they might use the tu quoque rejoinder, with a good deal of relevance.

THE REGIMENT'S CHURCH PARADE WILL BE TO ST. PAUL'S THIS YEAR

The church parade of the 57th Regiment this year will be to St. Paul's Church. This was practically decided upon at a meeting of the officers of the regiment, held last night, after the weekly drill, when the matter was discussed by the officers and the chaplain, in whose hands the question had been left at a previous meeting.

Rev. Dr. Torrance will be communicated with in reference to the proposal to hold the church parade to his church, and he will be asked to preach the sermon to the members of the regiment, on the suggestion of the chaplain. Officers of the 57th, who were spoken to to-day in reference to the matter, refused to discuss it, but the Examiner learned from an outside source that if Rev. Dr. Torrance and the congregation of St. Paul's desire it, the regiment will worship there this year.

THE INTERSTATE COMMISSION SCARES HARRIMAN INTERESTS

Railway Competition Dead in Area Equal to Third of Size of the United States—Result of Harriman's Operations.

A SENSATIONAL REPORT

(J. R. Heintz & Co. Special.)

New York, May 15.—The Evening Telegram has a despatch from Washington, D.C., to the effect that the Interstate Commerce Commission's report of its investigation of the Harriman railroads has been completed.

It states that the report finds that railway competition has been ended in an area equal to one-third of the United States, where Harriman is master, that Harriman's contracts with the Rock Island, Southern Pacific, Atchison and Illinois Central are in violation of the anti-trust act, and recommended that the Attorney-General proceed against them, that the purchase of the shares of one railway by another ought to be stopped by law; that there should be new laws to prevent inflation of securities, like that in the Alton reorganization; that the profits of the railroads of the west are being used to buy stocks and control systems in the east, instead of in building more roads for the development of the west, as they ought to be.

The report concludes that Harriman has now absolute control of the Illinois Central, and is so powerful in Atchison that he has been able to stop all competition between it and his roads. It is declared that the combination of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific has been so powerful as not only to suppress all competition but to prevent the building of the San Pedro road from Salt Lake to Los Angeles as an independent line. The report of the commission will be sent to Attorney-General Bonaparte in a few days.

Preparing Programme For Opening Kirkfield Lock

Deputy Minister Butler Will be Present and Declare the Lock Officially Open—Other Details.

GOVERNOUR NOT COMING

Preparations are being made for the ceremonies in connection with the opening of the Kirkfield Lift Lock. The original intention was to invite the Governor General to be present at the function, but unfortunately his presence is impossible, owing to the fact that he has gone abroad.

However the opening will be attended by some interesting features. Mr. M. J. Butler, the Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals will be present, and in all probability a number of members of Parliament and other prominent public men. A trip will be made over the lock in one of the Government steamers, and it will be officially declared open by Mr. Butler, who since his appointment to the office of Deputy Minister of this department, has taken a deep interest in the Trent Canal, and appreciates the importance of this national project.

FIRE IS NOW BURNING WESTWARD

Wm. Ayotte's Farm is Threatened—The Sandy Point Blaze.

Further information concerning the big fire, which is still raging in the woods around Sandy Point, was supplied the Examiner to-day by Mr. C. N. Brown, who returned last night from the scene of the fire. The cottages in the vicinity had a narrow escape. The flames burned the fence around Mr. R. B. Rogers' cottage, and passed within a few feet of Mr. Brown's place.

The fire was still burning fiercely last night, and the blaze had veered and is now heading west towards Barleigh, where the farm property of Wm. Ayotte may be placed in danger, although the clearing around the buildings will likely save them.

The fire was a blessing in disguise to the residents around Sandy Point, as it cleared up the brush, and at the same time did not do much damage to the trees, the fire being confined, for the most part, to the small bushes and shrubs and dry leaves.

It is hoped that the rain to-day will be sufficient to extinguish the flames.

WORKMEN'S FOOT CUT AT EAST CITY SAW MILL

Mr. Brisbeois of Concession Street Met With Accident This Morning.

Mr. Brisbeois, of Concession street, East City, met with an accident at the Peterborough Lumber Company's mill just before 12 o'clock to-day, which will necessitate his separation from work for a few days. His foot above the ankle was badly cut and he was taken in one of McCollum Bros. livery's to his home. This afternoon he was suffering much from the mishap.

AN INSTRUCTIVE PAPER ON CANADIAN BANKING

Was Given By Mr. D. Hughes Charles, at meeting of Board of Trade Last Night.

Last night Mr. D. Hughes Charles, the retiring president of the Board of Trade, gave a most interesting and instructive paper on "Canadian Banking" at the meeting of the Board. The Examiner is unable to publish this paper in full to-day, but it will be given to-morrow.

Quick Time Made By The New C. P. R. Trains From City to Toronto

Report That When New Time Table Goes Into Effect Express Trains Will Cover It in an Hour and Three-quarters.

ONLY ONE STOP MADE

One hour and three-quarters from Peterborough to Toronto is the time that will be required for the trip, which now takes nearly two hours and a half, when the new time table goes into effect, and the extra train is put on the run.

When the new local is run, the express at noon and at midnight from the west, and at 5.15 in the morning and afternoon, will only make one stop between this city and Toronto, and will be able to cut nearly three-quarters of an hour off the time made by them at present between these two cities. Burketon Junction will, it is understood, be the only stop which will be made after the new schedule is adopted.

LOCATION OF THE DAIRY SHOW

Farmers' Advocate Still Wants it Held in Guelph—Eastern Men Object Though.

SOME DAIRYMAN'S VIEWS

The question as to where the National Dairy Show is to be held is again occupying the attention of those interested in the dairy industry.

The Farmers' Advocate has taken a decided stand in favour of identifying the proposed National Dairy Show with the Guelph Winter Fair by "carrying out a consistent policy of concentration at Guelph, building up both the College and the Winter Fair."

Referring to this suggestion from the Advocate, the Canadian Dairyman says:

The main object of those who advocate the holding of a National Dairy Show is to bring all classes of dairymen, the dairy farmers, the breeders of all classes of dairy cattle, the cheese and butter makers, the proprietors of factories, the dairy instructors, the exporters and the manufacturers of dairy supplies and machinery, into closer touch with each other. It is believed that by uniting in the holding of one large exhibition, with its attendant conventions and demonstrations, that the dairymen from Eastern and Western Ontario, and, in fact, from other provinces and countries as well, will be brought into closer touch with each other to the benefit of all. With this object, the members of both the Eastern and Western Ontario Dairymen's Associations have expressed their willingness to unite in the holding of a central show in Toronto. In doing this, some of the members of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association expressed a fear that Toronto was rather far west and showed a preference for Peterborough. They were willing, however, to compromise on Toronto. Anyone, therefore, who thinks for one moment that the dairymen of Eastern Ontario will consent to go to Guelph for the holding of a National Dairy Show that, after all, would not be a dairy show, but a mixture of several other kinds of a show, gives clear evidence of how hopelessly they are out of touch with the feeling of the dairymen in the eastern portion of the Province.

THE WEATHER

Perhaps one of the most reliable proofs of the lateness or otherwise of spring is the condition of the foliage on the trees. As a rule the shade trees on the city streets begin to leaf out on May 8th; the leaves are about half developed by May 14th or 16th, and in full leaf by May 20th. These dates are for the average spring, but some seasons the conditions or more advanced or backward. Last spring for instance, the maple trees did not begin to send forth their foliage until the 14th, and this year will be still later, although a few warm days such as we have been favoured with lately will make a wonderful change in the now gaunt limbs. Yesterday the thermometer rose to 79 degrees in the shade. A year ago this date lawn mowers were in general use.

SOME DELIGHTFUL SUMMER TOURS TO THE EAST

Intercolonial Railway Issues Handsome Booklet Describing the Maratime Provinces' Beauties

From indications which may be relied upon, the number of tourists and sportsmen visiting the Maritime Provinces and Eastern Quebec will be larger this year than ever before. Under the head of tourists may be classed the large and ever-increasing number of people who are seeking suitable accommodation at the various watering places and attractive inland villages. In order that intending visitors to the country along the line of the Intercolonial Railway should have all the information possible, the Passenger Department has again issued its annual series of pamphlets, and the very useful "Tours to Summer Haunts" for 1907 is now available to applicants, to whom it will be sent free. The text details the character of the country, the historic and scenic points of interest, and facilities offered to votaries of rod and gun. Interesting and instructive reading is there provided for even those who have not opportunity of visiting the places described. The book contains some hundred pages and is generously illustrated with artistic half-tone reproductions of scenes incident to the text, and supplemented with a schedule of tours and excursions from Montreal to the eastern parts of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. Write for free copy to N. Weatherston, 51 King street east, Toronto, Ont.

THE GARBAGE BY-LAW AGAIN

Property Committee Will Deal With the Matter To-morrow.

The Property Committee will meet to-morrow night for the purpose of further dealing with the Garbage Bylaw and getting it into shape for presentation to the council at the meeting to be held two weeks hence. It is probable that two or three meetings of the committee will be required before the measure can be presented to the council. The Mayor and Ald. Stevenson are at work preparing the details of the bylaw. Alds. McIntyre and Elliott are ascertaining the revenue that may be expected and Ald. Morgan is figuring out the cost of operation.

These three sub-committees will report to-morrow night and further progress will then be made possible.

MANY CONTRIBUTIONS OF RUBBERS RECEIVED

Persons in the Country May Leave Them at W. H. Hamilton's Store.

Hamilton has kindly offered to receive on behalf of the ladies, any donations which persons in the country may make, and the ladies will be grateful if anyone who has rubber of no use to them, will leave it at Mr. Hamilton's store.

A SUCCESSFUL TRUST

Among the most notable and noted figures at the Colonial Conference in London was Hon. Louis Botha, premier of the baby self-governing British Colony, the Transvaal. He was conspicuous as an example of the product of the wisdom of the Home authorities in granting complete autonomy to people who become subject to British influence by the accident of war. A year or two ago he was a thorn in the flesh of the Imperial authorities, a bitter but brave enemy, fighting honestly in the interests of his people. His fight and that of his people was unsuccessful and the Transvaal became British soil. The people were given British liberty and free institutions, placed on the same political basis as Canada—"daughter in her mother's house, mistress in her own." This generosity, this magnificent confidence, has been justified and among the Colonial premiers none, in their speeches, rang a truer and more eloquent note of loyalty to the Empire and the splendid privileges it represents to all who live under its flag. The English papers reported the speeches fully. Among the many eloquently significant speeches of the Colonial premiers, that delivered by Botha at the Eighty Club Banquet is the most conspicuous. In the course of his address, Hon. Mr. Botha said, as reported:—

We in the Ttansvaal have received with gladness and gratitude the constitution which has conferred on us the inestimable privileges and rights of self-government. (Cheers.) The confidence reposed in us by his Majesty the King, by his Majesty's Ministers, and by the great British nation, is a fact which we in the Transvaal shall never forget. (Cheers.) We shall prove by our acts that we are worthy of the confidence reposed in us, and we are determined to make as great a success of this constitution as the Transvaal and the whole of South Africa have ever witnessed. (Cheers.) The British government have extended to us the hand of co-operation, and I am glad to say that not only the party who supported me in the Transvaal, but the whole people of the Transvaal, have grasped that hand of friendship, and will not let it go again. The manly and courageous confidence shown in the people of the Transvaal by his Majesty's government is the best seed that has ever been shown in South Africa.—(Prolonged cheers)—and I make bold to say that the harvest of that confidence will tend to the union of all people and all nationalities in South Africa, and will form a source of strength and of power to your glorious Empire. (Renewed cheers.) Never in the history of the Transvaal and of South Africa has it become so clear to the two great white races as now that the future welfare of the Transvaal and of the whole of South Africa depends entirely upon the mutual co-operation of the two great white races in the country. (Cheers.) My government in the Transvaal is aware of the responsibilities that rest upon it, and they are equally concerned and equally jealous of the honour of the British flag which waves over them as in every British community. (Great cheering.) Of course, the honour of that government is also at stake. The government and the people of the Transvaal feel that they are one of the many trustees to whom the British flag, and everything that the British flag denotes, is entrusted, and, being conscious of that fact, my government will maintain the honour of that flag and work for the interests of the Empire. (Cheers.) I have brought but one message from the Tansvaal to England, and that is that the Transvaal wants to strengthen the bonds of co-operation, love and unity within the Empire, and that I must tell the British people that we have grasped the hand of good fellowship. (Cheers.) We are also deeply grateful for the promise of his Majesty's government that the Orange River Colony will also soon receive the full measure of self-government —(hear, hear, and cheers)—and I hope sincerely and I trust that the constitution of the Orange River Colony will on all cardinal points be on the same lines as that of the Transvaal. (Cheers.) I think that every one here to-night will agree with me that the government of old Orange Free State was a government which could be respected, and which governed well. We usually used to say that it was the model little government of South Africa. I am glad to say that to-day there is a wonderful spirit in South Africa—a spirit full of good omen—namely, a spirit to work together for the good of the country. I noticed in the recent elections in the Transvaal how Englishmen voted for Boers and Boers for Englishmen—(cheers)—and I give you the assurance to-night that in our parliament there are English gentlemen seated there by virtue of a Boer vote, and contrari-wise. I can assure you that the Government which is in power today in the Transvaal is a government which owes its existence in no small measure to the vote of the British community. (Cheers.) This felicitous condition is to be greatly ascribed to the keen interest which his Majesty's government has taken in the furtherance of the welfare of South Africa, and we ask you tonight one thing, and that is to help us to establish a great, united; federated South African nation under the protection of the British flag. (Cheers.)

A speech like this could not be surpassed in imperialistic ring by any that Sir Charles Tupper could, or would, make, and there is no surprise that it was received with an enthusiasm unwanted to the undemonstrative Englishmen who heard it. Generosity and trust are, as a rule, when there is any good principle to appeal, a splendid investment.

LIP LOYALTY

The loyalty of the Roblin Government, is evidently for outside show, not for home consumption. There was a great bit of "spread-eagleism" in the decree requiring the British flag to be displayed on the "outside" of provincial school houses. That is all very well in its way, as a show of a form of lip loyalty. But this same super-loyal government permits the use in the public schools of the province of what is called "the Holton primer," a Yankee publication, which has on page 73, a cut of a picture of a Yankee flag, with a letterpress tribute to its almighty almightiness. This book is not one of the authorized public school text books, but is used as a supplementary book to the authorized primer. Outside the school house the British flag must be floated, under penalty of the withholding of the Government grant if it is not so displayed, that every Indian, half-breed and mounted policeman may see it. Inside the school, where the innocent eyes of the child can see, and the impressive mind of the child can be easily impressed and be influenced by it, the Yankee flag is displayed, and the child incidentally taught to revere it as an object of patriotic worship. The Roblin Government is Conservative, and, therefore, claims to be the only representative of true loyalty, yet it permits the Yankee flag to be educated into the hearts of the young Canadians, under the very flutter of the British flag, which, under the circumstances, is flaunted outside as a mockery.

EDITORIAL NOTES

In the case of the great Japanese General, Kuroki, who is soon to visit Canada, it is brains, not brawn, that makes the man. His height is four feet six inches.

A contemporary says that the farmer "smiles" at the advance in wheat. It says that if wheat reaches the dollar mark, "the Northwest farmers will be happy." They would be far happier if the weather man would give them conditions that would enable them to plant another crop.

Hon. William Paterson, says the Brantford Expositor, derides the idea that a general election for the House of Commons will take place before another session of the Dominion parliament is held. It is just possible, however, that Mr. Paterson knows less about such matters than the imaginative Conservative scribes.

Austin Chamberlain says the refusal of Great Britain to tax her people's food to give the colonies a preference is "a brutal affront to the colonies." The colonies as represented by Canada, are not disturbed by the refusal. We are not anxious enough for trade to gain it at the expense of the toil and starvation of our fellow subjects.

Jules Verne, the romancist, when round the world in eighty days, round the world in eighty days, he was regarded as a ridiculous dreamer. There is now a proposal within the limit of known practical accomplishment to girdle the world by travel in eighteen and a half days. We do considerable dreaming these days, but there are great dreams that become reality.

Our esteemed evening contemporary has an article on "Mr. Borden's Tour." Whatever scarcity of rain there has been this season, there seems to be no lack of sanctum water for purposes of dilution. The article mistakes assertion for fact, and does not think it undignified to be contradictory. In one part occurs this gloomy sentence:

The Conservative ranks may be somewhat disorganized throughout the federal jurisdiction, but that does not discount the fact that there are good men in the ranks.

But the writer works up his enthusiasm as he rambles on towards the end, and guarantees a triumphant tour to Mr. Borden, and declares:

The greatest enthusiasm prevails in the Conservative ranks throughout the Dominion.

These quotations appear to be a little contradictory, but not more so than Mr. Borden will have to be if, as our contemporary declares, he is to "be well received throughout the Dominion"—he will have to preach "adequate protection" in the east, and adequate free trade in the west.

IS YOUR COAT DUSTY?

You Probably Have the White Scab Of Dandruff On It

If your coat or shoulders have a white dust upon it, the chances are that it is from dandruff. The only way to permanently cure dandruff is to remove the cause, which is a germ. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. Every toilet table should have such a hair dressing, that contains also the destroyer of the dandruff germ. It stops all irritation, keeps the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome. Remember, that something claimed to be "just as good" will not do the work of genuine Herpicide.

Seattle Lawyer Crosses Continent to Win Pratt Institute Pupil as Bride

Examiner Special.

New York, May 15.—That Cupid recognizes no handicap of time, distance or chance was illustrated again yesterday when Miss Ettel Van Emmon, a student at Pratt Institute, bade her friends good-bye before leaving for Seattle. Miss Van Emmon will marry John Rutherford, of that Pacific coast city, who journeyed across the continent to woo and win her. The two had been friends before Miss Van Emmon left Seattle to study in the East.

Suddenly and without warning, Mr. Rutherford called on Miss Van Emmon Exater morning. She had come to New York last fall to pursue her studies at Pratt Institute.

"New York is a wonderful city," said Miss Van Emmon; "but I do get homesick for the West." Before Mr. Rutherford returned West, a few days later, Miss Van Emmon was wearing a diamond ring.

Miss Van Emmon will not wait for commencement in June, but will leave this week for her home in Montana to prepare her trousseau. Her father is a wealthy ranchman there. Miss Van Emmon tired of Montana, went to Seattle and obtained a position as teacher in the Public Schools there a few years ago.

"I liked my work," said Miss Van Emmon yesterday at her boarding-place, No. 183 Emerson place, Brooklyn, "but I wanted to spend a couple of years in New York, and take a course in designing. I'll probably give up teaching now."

Miss Van Emmon is pretty and was one of the most popular young women at Pratt Institute last season.

Mr. Rutherford is a real estate operator and lawyer in Seattle.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I notice letters in your paper that complains of the bad way the street watering is done. And the writers are right. It isn't half done. It's not much use housecleaning and having the dust fly in the high winds that blow in the spring time. Why, last Monday I had to rinse my washing over again. The dust blew on to the damp clothes and hung to them so that they had to be washed over again. I think its a shame that we have to pay a tax for street watering and it does little good, for the water is put on so thinly and so far apart that there is almost always dust.

Yours truly,

"HOUSEKEEPER."

Joe has been wanting to branch out and expand for some time past, and when the opportunity occurred he secured a lease of the adjoining shop, next door to his old but familiar premises. # SALVATION ARMY NOTES OF INTEREST

The special efforts of the Salvation Army in the self denial fund, has taken a broad form and the army is meeting with unqualified success. Different members have visited Norwood, Lakefield and Keene, and the results have been very satisfactory. In a week or so it will be all over and the list will likely be handed in for publication by Adjt. Wiggins.

On Thursday night a special service will be conducted by the corps Cadet Guardian, Mrs. T. Lang, and it will take the form of a song service and promises to be interesting.

MORE TEAMSTERS ARE AT WORK

Strikers Say However That They Have Not Worked for City for Some Time

It looks as if the teamsters' strike was being broken. The Mayor stated to-day that three more teamsters had returned to work this morning, making four in all. He understood that they were drawing from the gravel pit and were receiving either $3.50 or $3.60 per day, he was not sure which.

It is stated by the teamsters, however, that the men who are working have not been employed by the city for some years, and that none of the old teamsters have returned to the fold.

WANT A SIDEWALK TO THE PARK

Deputation Will Wait Upon Board of Works To-night—Mark Street Pavement Again

The Board of Works will once more attempt to settle the row famour question of the Mark street pavement. The Board will meet at 7.30 o'clock to-night at the corner of Hunter and Mark streets and go over the ground once again, after which they will return to the committee room and endeavour to settle the matter.

Considerable routine business will be taken up as well, and the session promises to be a busy one.

A deputation representing the various athletic organizations of the city will wait upon the Board to-night and request that a board sidewalk be built from Hunter street to the gate of Riverside Park. This walk is badly needed and would be of immense benefit to the hundreds of people who patronize the various games at the park. The Board of Works will make no mistake in granting the request of the deputation. Such action would be certain to meet with approval from everyone, and it is hoped that the Board will do as requested.

Music and Drama

"A WIFE'S DEVOTION"

The Tom Marks Company delighted another fairly large audience at the Grand last night in a pretty little home play, entitled "A Wife's Devotion." It is a play with a moral and was well put on by the company, which is as strong as any stock company that has ever played here. The specialties were also good and the illustrated songs pleased the audience. One of them was "Where the Golden Sunset Fades Beyond the Hills." The play to-night is of the comedy variety, entitled "The Irish Boarder."

THE DOG TAG LIST HAS BEEN PREPARED

There are Dogs That Have not Yet Been Tagged.

People are wondering when action is to be taken against dog owners who have not as yet purchased tags. However, the members of the force are compiling a list of names and in the near future the work of gathering in fines or exterminating the mongrels will begin.

Many good dogs have been rudely despatched by means of poison, which from the city treasury's standpoint, is a deplorable matter.

There are some that will have to be brought to time, as several have been already treated. They seem to forget the spirit of the old proverb, "A tag in time saves fine."

A VALUATOR VISITED THE LAKE

Mr. W. R. Aylesworth Was at Stoney Lake Yesterdaa On a Trip Of Inspectio

WHARVES ABOVE WATER

Mr. W. R. Aylesworth, the Government valuator of Drowned Lands, along the Trent Canal, visited Stony Lake yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the lake at high water. He was taken around the lake on the Government steamer Sovereign on board of which were Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the canal, and other canal officials, and a number of local cottage owners, whose property has been affected by the high water.

Stops were made at these places, and valuations made of the damages to wharves, etc., said to exist. The wharves injured by the water will be rebuilt at the expense of the Government a fact which is appreciated by the cottage owners.

The party found the water in Stony Lake very high, but the wharves rebuilt by the Government last year were not submerged, and this was the case also at McCracken's Landing and Mount Julian, both wharves being a foot above water.

The steamer carried the party to Burleigh Falls where the work at the lock was inspected. At Young's Point the Government work being done there was also inspected.

It was Mr. Aylesworth's first visit to the lake at high water and he will be enabled to more intelligently deal with claims after having inspected the district.

ASKS APPLICATION OF THE GOLDEN RULE

"Fair Play" Writes Letter on the Teamsters' Strike.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Just a few words in regard to the strike now on between the teamsters and our City Council. What are the aldermen thinking about to hold out so long for fifteen cents a day, when our streets are in the condition that they are at the present time? anyone that ever had anything to do with teaming knows that the teamsters' demand is far from being out of the way—at the price everything is to-day. Who is it keeps our town up, the man that works, or the man that walks around with a high collar? I think it is the working man we all have to depend on. Our City Council can pay their officials big salaries to walk around, when a working man or teamster asks for what is justly coming to him they wrangle over it for a month or so and then put him down. Now, I thing, it is time that a step in the right direction be taken and come to to some decision with the teamsters, and get to work on our streets, for it is badly needed. Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly,

"FAIRPLAY."

Board Of Trade President Favours Workingmen's Houses

Dr. M. A. Morrison Deals In Comprehensive Manner With Important Civic Questions in Inaugural Address to Board of Trade.

TRENT CANAL COMPLETION

The Municipality Should Consider Question of Providing Houses for the Workingmen — Other Matters of Interest Were Dealt With.

The Board of Trade held a successful meeting in the council chambers last night, the main features being an address delivered by Mr. D. Hughes Charles, ex-president of the board, on Canadian Banking. Dr. Morrison gave an outline of the many subjects that might come up for consideration, and the other topic was the discussion of the Inter-Switching Charges on the Railway Lines.

Mr. F. D. Kerr was appointed secretary in the absence of Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine, who was indisposed.

President's Address

Dr. Morrison, the newly elected president, stated in his address that the duties of the Board of Trade must present themselves before they can be dealt with.

The objects of the Board of Trade is to be an advisory board to the city council, also to further the mercantile, manufacturing and business interests of the city; to render services when called upon in cases of labour difficulties, and to generally assist in the advancement and upbuilding of the community.

It is with pleasure we note the early prospect of a promised completion of the Trent Waterway. The Government's having placed $700,000 in the appropriations for the commencement of work on the Trenton end, indicates its belief in the canal as a national undertaking. With the completion of the canal in sight the transportation question, will, so far as Peterborough is concerned, soon be solved. It will result in a large saving to the manufacturers and heavy shippers, and should save thousands of dollars annually to the citizens of this city in fuel alone.

The wisdom of this expenditure is not doubted, especially by those conversant with the conditions. It will place Peterborough on one of the main thoroughfares which lead from the wheat fields of the west to the consumer in the east; and let me here diverge to say, that with the Hudson's Bay route, the Georgian Bay canal, the Welland Canal, and the Trent Canal, and the three transcontinental railways, yet the transportation facilities will be inadequate to move the tremendous amount of grain that the three prairie provinces will grow, and carry back to them the products of the factories of the East. Last year the Western Provinces raised 200 million bushels of grain on seven and a half million acres. They have 200 million acres of grain producing lands.

Mr. Geo. Johnson, Dominion statistician, puts it this way: If we divide the wheat-growing lands of the West in squares, each of which would feed the British Empire, taking the average crop in Manitoba for the last 18 years, there would be 67 squares. Another has said that if one-sixth of the wheat-growing land of the West had half a crop, there would be grain enough to run a train of 40 cars, 1000 bushels to the car, every 20 minutes, the year round. Then, gentlemen, with such facts as these before us, the spouts cannot become too numerous, and we would urge upon the Government to make great haste to complete this Trent route.

Another question of great interest to Peterborough, and one that should be grappled with at once, is the power question. A few years ago we held out as inducements for manufacturers to locate here, cheap power, and we were looked on as holding a position of "splendid isolation" so far as cheap power was concerned, but things have changed. Since the Hydro-Power Commissioners have announced that they can get power at Niagara for $10 a h.p. per annum, and that Toronto can be supplied for a little more than $15 per h.p., this puts us in a position where we must bestir ourselves to be able to compete with the municipalities of Western Ontario. The city should get control of the best water-power within reach and hold it for further use. We are not building for this generation alone, but for the generations to come. Then let us lay well and strong the foundations, that the superstructure may stand forth in its beauty, a home for thousands upon thousands of happy citizens.

Workingmen's Houses

Next to the power question is that of workingmen's houses. At the present high prices of the commodities of life, the man who is entirely dependent on his day's wages cannot afford to pay a rental of $15, $18 or $20 per month. In order to live comfortably, give his family an education, and save a little for a rainy day, he must get a home for from $8 to $12 per month, and as there is at great dearth of this class of house, it will be good policy for those contemplating building to consider whether they could not build two houses where they intend building one, especially in the districts adjacent to manufacturing industries and where land is of a reasonable price.

We shall be face to face with the question of municipal ownership in a very short time, when the Council will ask the people whether or not they want to get into municipal lighting and heating. Thus far, our experience with municipal ownership has been profitable, thanks, no doubt, to the able management, but let us go slowly and be sure of solid ground before we take the next leap.

I regret to have to refer to the labour trouble now existing between the artisans of one factory and their employers, and also between the teamsters and the City Board of Works. We all know that these disputes are neither pleasant nor profitable to the workers or their employers, and I would suggest that these parties might well request our Arbitration Committee, of which Mr. R. E. Wood is chairman, to take the matter in hand and deal with it.

In conclusion, gentlemen, I would request your most loyal and hearty support in making this Board a progressive and powerful organization in this community. As your president, I am only a unit and cannot do much by myself, but with the united support of the membership we can become a potent factor in the upbuilding and beautifying of this rising city.

I think I am voicing the sentiments of the members of the Board when I say that I am pleased with the interest His Worship Mayor McWilliams is taking in the operations of the Board. I can assure His Worship that he will find a solid phalanx behind him in the members of this organization in any undertakings that the Council may institute for the advancement of Peterborough.

Communications were received from Mr. K. Eardley-Wilmot, of Perth, and Mr. E. B. Edwards, Edmonton, acknowledging resolutions passed at the annual meeting of the local Board and thanking the members for their kind remembrances.

Switching Charges

The secretary of the Toronto Board of Trade wrote asking that the different manufacturing establishments in the city be asked as to their opinion regarding the inter-switching charges on the several railway lines in Peterborough. The different points to be considered were —first, whether the companies considered the charges excessive; second, why are they oppressive; and, third, what should be considered a fair rate.

Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine wrote to the different business concerns, and received replies showing that those who were affected by the changed rate considered them altogether oppressive, and that a fair rate is one-half per cent. per 100 lbs; minimum two dollars per car, where the distance is half a mile or less; when the distance is between half a mile and one mile, three-quarters cent per 100 lbs.; minimum $2.50 per car. Where the distance is one to two miles one cent per 100 lbs., or a minimum of 3 per car. The Peterborough Sandstone Brick Company and the George Matthews Company were especially oppressed by the charges. The former state that it costs between $6 and $7 per car for switching from one siding on the C.P.R. to the G.T.R., whereas last year it only cost $2 per car. This company has been compelled to turn down orders on account of the high rate.

The George Matthews Company state that their charges amount to $2000 per year. Other companies in their replies state that they were not affected by the change, for instance, the C. G. E., the Canadian Cordage Co., Perkins, Ince & Co., and the Peterborough Lumber Co.

Mr. Dodd

Mr. Dodd, as representative of the C. P. R., was asked to give the reason for the changes made in the charges. He declined to give any personal opinion but said that the Railway Commission was not involved, although they had approved of it. He said that it was an arrangement between the different railway companies, but other than that he declined to make any statement.

Mr. Hughes Charles moved that the matter be referred to the railway committee with power to act, and that they be requested to deal with it promptly. Mr. E. S. Clarry seconded the motion, stating that there be added the fact that the G. T. R. makes a charge and exacts it, whereas the C. P. R. does not. The motion was supported by all.

Regarding the communications from Mr. K. Eardley-Wilmot and Mr. E. B. Edwards, Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Mr. Hughes Charles, that they be received.

Regarding Mr. Hughes Charles' address, Dr. Morrison said that he felt sure he voiced the general opinion of the assemblage in saying that they were pleased with the address, and expressed his thanks to the speaker for his pains in preparing so exhaustive a paper on the subject.

On motion the meeting then adjourned.

The Tate Optical Co., Peterborough:

DEAR SIRS —During the last three or four years (prior to May last) my eyesight had failed to such an extent that I was unable to read or see anything at close range and could get no Glasses that would help me. I tried two different Opticians in Toronto and was told by both that they could do nothing for me, and that my sight would never be better. A statement of my case was sent to Montreal by a Hastings optician and several pairs of Glasses sent me, but with the same result my vision could not be improved. Last May, while looking at a Pair of Glasses you made for Mr. John Fife, Keene, and talking with him he advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, and I am pleased to say that the Pair of Glasses he made for me have given me entire satisfaction and I can do now what I have not done for years past—read any ordinary print and see distinctly at close range. I feel very grateful, not only for the interest you have taken in my case, but particularly so for the blessing of good eyesight. Thanks to your knowledge and skill.

Yours truly,
(Signed) JOHN CARTER, Sr.,

Not so Bad Yet

Somebody has unearthed the fact that on May 10, 1854, the Western Ontario peninsula was covered with snow to the depth of a good 12 inches on the level. People in this section may therefore be thankful that they are living in a climate so salubrious, even if a few flakes of snow did fall on Friday, fifty-three years ago.

A Good Suggestion

The Lindsay Post makes the following suggestion to the Council of that town, but which is just as applicable to Peterborough: — "If our Council would follow the example of Orillia and some other neat towns, and place receptacles for waste material at sundry points on our main streets, our people and visitors would speedily get the habit of depositing paper bags, fruit peelings, etc., therein, instead of littering the pavements and roadways with them."

Personal Mention.

Mrs. J. R. Stratton will not receive again until the middle of June.

Mrs. Hiram Amey has left the city for Deseronto and Napanee on a visit.

A SIDING TO THE NEW MARL BED BEING BUILT

Mr. C. Mitchell is in Charge of Men at Drummond Station

The work at the Lakefield Cement Company's new clay beds, near Drummond's station, is nearing completion and it will not be long before the clay will be shipped out. Mr. C. Mitchell of Lindsay is at present in charge of a gang of men putting a siding into the grounds. The G.T.R. are building a portion of the siding and the cement company will construct the rest. As the demand for cement is steadily increasing the industry is becoming more important and it is necessary that plenty of material be found, and especially that it be close at hand. The Lakefield Company has been particularly fortunate in this respect as the Lily Lake bed was not far from the manufacturing plant and the new bed is also close at hand.

City Will Give Them Lumber for Sidewalk to Riverside Park---Mark Street Sidewalk Question Settled by Board of Works---Deputation From Douro Council---Sidewalk Petitions Belated

A three hours' session of the Board of Works was held last night when a variety of matters was considered. Deputations, as usual, were not lacking, and various demands were made upon the Board. The Mark street sidewalk question was settled by the committee inspecting the situation before the meeting.

One of the deputations consisting of representatives from the Douro Council, asked the city to repair the road east of the Nicholls Oval, which has been in a poor condition since the snow began to disappear.

Those present were, Ald. Duncan, chairman; Ald. McIntyre, Johnston, Wilson, His Worship the Mayor, City Engineer and Street Commissioner.

It was first decided that the Mark street sidewalk, north of Hunter street will be constructed inside the tree line to meet the wishes of the residents; south of Hunter street on the east side, the pavement will go outside the tree line; on the west side, however, the committee decided to stand by their original report and construct this section of the work inside the tree line. The action was supported by the City Engineer, who advised that owing to the high banks at the school and other natural drawbacks this pavement should go inside the tree line to avoid future trouble.

Sewer Connections

Mr. Head applied for connection with the new outfall sewer now being constructed from Smith street to Aylmer street. This was left in the hands of the Engineer to make arrangements with all those wishing to connect with the sewer.

Douro Deputation

A deputation consisting of Reeve Moher of the Douro Council, and Mr. M. Welsh, a councillor, next waited on the committee. Mr. Moher asked for some arrangement with the city whereby the road between Douro and the city would be improved. He understood that the city had done nothing with the road for 7 years. Two years ago the city had assumed the responsibility of the southern portion of Concession street and the Douro Council the northern, but the city had expended nothing. The worst place under the city's control, he stated, was along the hill on this side of the canal bridge on the Dummer Road.

The committee agreed that the road was in a bad state. It was moved by Ald. Johnston and Mayor McWilliams, that the matter be referred to the City Engineer, who will be required to get the estimates for the improvements. The motion was carried.

Defective Drain

Mr Irwin informed the Board that the branch of the Park street drain on William street was filled up, causing water to remain in the cellars of some of the houses near the corner of King and William streets. Moved by Ald. Wilson and Johnston, that the Engineer look over the situation and report on the condition of the Park street drain.—Carried.

Sidewalk to the Park

A deputation, cosisting of Messrs. C. G. Graham, E. M. Best, R. M. Glover and Dr. Morgan, waited on the Board, requesting a sidewalk from Hunter street east to the gate of Riverside Park. Mr. Best informed the Board that in wet weather the mud along that driveway was very destructive to footwear. The sporting fraternities of the city, he said, used that small piece of road very often during the year, so that it would be a benefit to a large number. A board sidewalk was requested, consisting of old lumber from board walks replaced by cement.

The chairman considered that, since the city did not own the right-of-way, the corporation should give the sporting organizations the sidewalk necessary and have them make arrangements with the owners of the driveway to have it laid. The deputation was agreeable to this.

The Mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson, that the Engineer be instructed to leave sections of old sidewalk near the Rapid Tool Co.'s building for the sporting fraternities.—Carried.

Belated Petitions

Petitions were received, asking for granolithic sidewalks on the west side of Bethune street, from London street to Dublin street, and on Aylmer street, between Wolfe and Townsend street. These petitions were both received after the first of May, so that these will not be constructed until those petitioned for before the first of May are completed.

A petition for a sewer on Townsend street, between Stewart and Rubidge streets, which was properly signed, was granted, as it had been in since April 9.

Defective Bridges

Mr. Henderson, superintendent of the waterworks system, informed the Board that the drain from the watering trough at the corner of George and McDonel streets was obstructed, preventing the outlet of waste water. He also stated that the bridge over the creek on Hunter street east was unsafe for traffic and needed repairs.

Moved by Ald. Wilson and Johnston, that these be repaired.—Carried.

Request For Roller

Dr. Wightman, of the Riverside Park syndicate, asked the Board for the loan of the city horse roller to roll the park grounds.

Moved by the Mayor and Ald. Wilson, that the owners of the park be given the use of the roller, provided they take it over to the grounds or pay for the city taking it across.—Carried.

Hunter Street Grade

In connection with the grade on the extension of Hunter street east over Armour's Hill, the Mayor moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the Engineer be instructed to bring Hunter street to the grade of the plan under which the street was purchased.

On the recommendation of the Board of Health, the Board recommended that instructions be given for the construction of a sewer on King street, from Bethune street to Stewart street.

HIS READY ANSWER

Says Only Millionaires Can Afford to Pay Less ter a Suit

"Why don't you make the cheapest clothes—suits selling below $15?" The question was asked the Semi-ready salesman. "Simply because the cheapest clothes are the most expensive apparel. Only a millionaire can afford to indulge in cheap garments. With the enormous amount of shoddy cloth hurled on the market since the rise in the cost of woollens, a man who pays less than $18 or $20 for a suit gets mighty poor cloth for his money. It costs just as much to make a cheap suit as it does to make a good one, so that the man who pays $25 of $30 for a suit gets more value for his money. The Semi-ready factory is kept as busy as it can be tailoring suits that men can bank on."

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

It Is Not Only Advisable For Married Folks to Share Their Joys Unselfishly, but the Wise Husband and Wife Will Be Equally Generous in the Exchange of Worries.

[Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.]

MY DEAR JOHN—I think you are making a grave mistake. I have been in the same boat and understand your motives. They are laudable and right as motives, but they go wrong in action. They don't accomplish what you expect of them. Did you ever see a cross eyed calf? I never saw but one, and I was the proud possessor of that one when I was a kid. That calf never did learn to get a proper focus on things (it joined the beef trust before it was a yearling), and its fool antics used to make me laugh till I got the stomach ache. I remember once upon a time Lightning, as I used to call it, because you never could tell where it was going to strike, got out of the pasture, and I was sent to drive it home. Returning, I had to pass through a lane, and the calf would butt into the fence about every third panel. No matter how hard I tried, I couldn't keep it headed straight. It so happened that old Deacon Norcross was coming down the lane at the same time. He had his head up and his eyes fixed on the blue sky while he sang "I Am Bound For the Happy Land of Canaan" in a voice that made the leaves curl. He didn't see the calf. He was oblivious to all earthly signs and sounds. But the calf both saw and heard him. It became excited, made a desperate effort to dash around the deacon and of course struck him square in the solar plexus. The deacon came down to earth doubled up like a jackknife, and his language when he recovered his breath was not of the kind we expect to hear in "the happy land of Canaan." Luckily for Deacon Norcross, there were no members of his congregation within hearing, and luckily for me there was a high fence in reach. A section of my trousers waved from the top rail for many a day thereafter.

The deacon's language was not of the kind we expect to hear.

Here's the Application.

I recall this incident simply to illustrate the point I made in the beginning that good motives don't always pan out good results. That calf aimed right and was doing its level best to go right. There are a lot of people just like my boytime pet, except that their strabismus is mental and not necessarily permanent. Now you come to me with your little troubles, which you think are big ones, and say you don't want your wife to know anything about them because you don't want her to have any worries that you can shield her from. I am glad to have you bring me your troubles, glad to give you my sympathy and my help; but, my dear boy, I and your mother are no longer your best friends. There is one who is closer now than we, one who is or should be your other self and from whom you should have no secrets.

If by keeping your troubles to yourself you could spare her trouble, it would be all right, although, for reasons which I shall explain later, I do not think it the best way even then. But you cannot keep your troubles to yourself. Woman's love has a keenness of perception that is superhuman. She can detect the slightest physical or mental variation from the normal in the object of her love. She knows that you are sick or worried almost before you realize it yourself. How she knows it I do not attempt to explain, but my experience has taught me that it is useless to try to conceal such things from your mother. No matter how free from pain or care I may pretend to be, she detects the false note instantly, and my observation leads me to believe this faculty is a universal accompaniment of love, masculine or feminine, but much more keen in the woman than in the man.

Worry Made to Order.

With this perception the majority of women unite a most vivid imagination, and therefore when the cause of worry is kept from them they supply one of their own. Naturally the imaginary trouble is much bigger and more terrible than the real one. The visions a woman can conjure up under such circumstances are seen by man only in the throes of a Welsh rabbit nightmare. So, instead of protecting her

For the Man Who Works at a Desk

Not Doctors, But the Right Kind of Food is What He Needs.

You work at a desk and you are shut up in an office all day long, your brain overworked, your body absolutely idle. You get "out of sorts" and your meals don't please you and what you eat doesn't agree with you.

Maybe you think you are sick, but you aren't. You need one of two things—exercise or better food, or both.

It may be impossible for you to get the exercise. It's the easiest thing in the world to get the right kind of food. Ask your grocer for Malta-Vita.

This famous food is the whole of the wheat thoroughly steamed and cooked in absolute purity and mixed with finest malt extract, a powerful digestive agent, which quickly converts the starch of the wheat into maltose,—malt sugar. Maltose is great food, and the weakest stomach digests and assimilates it without effort. The malted wheat, rolled into little flakes, is baked under such intense heat that when it comes from the great ovens, every flake is crisp, brown Malta-Vita,—the most delicious food in the world. Always ready to eat.

A perfect breakfast is impossible without Malta-Vita and it's good three times a day. All grocers sell it. Now 10 cents per package.

...concealment, you simply add ... unhappiness, or, rather, you cause an unhappiness she would not have felt at all. In most cases, had she known the truth.

My boy, let me give you one pointer good and strong. Don't have any secrets from your wife. Whatever your troubles may be, don't tell them to the policeman, but take them home with you and unload them on the little woman there who has a marvelous capacity for absorbing such things and giving in exchange a comfort nobody else can ever hand out to you. She is a wonderful alchemist, this little woman. You give her rusty iron, and she gives you gold 24 carat fine. She has a way of making trouble look like 30 cents and sending you back to work with a lighter heart and a stronger right arm. I will admit that she may not be able to resist the temptation to say, "I told you so," but that is woman's prerogative and does not make her anodynes any less effective unless you spoil it all by flying off the handle like a chump. No matter how great your sorrows, no matter how grave your difficulties, she can and will give you help, and in the helping she will herself be strengthened. She doesn't have to go off by herself and mope over imaginary ills. She has something tangible to oppose, and it gives her a certain happiness to be permitted to stand by you even in your troubles, to feel that she is your trusted comrade.

Not going to let you put her on the shelf.

Its Effort Wasted.

It doesn't pay, my boy, to treat a woman of this day and generation as a child. She knows too much to fill that role with satisfaction to herself or to you. The position of a pampered pet is distasteful to her. She averages mentally about as high as the betrousered half of creation, and she doesn't want to be ranked with the bric-a-brac on the parlor mantel. She is just as useful as she is ornamental, and she's not going to let you or any other man put her on the shelf, and, by ginger, she's right! It's a mighty good thing, too, for you and me and the rest of us fellows that she is beginning to assert her equality, even if some of her sex do run over the line. You know I never took much stock in the so called advanced woman who clamors for the rights and privileges of men, not because I don't think she is entitled to nearly all she demands, but because I think it will be a sorry day for her if she gets them. I believe in equality, all right, but the two sexes are designed for different spheres of action, and a mannish woman and a sissy are equally unnatural and abhorrent. The equality I mean is the equality of social and domestic position, the equality of authority, the equality of interest and the equality of consideration. The granting of such equality makes a freer woman and a better and happier wife, and that is the only kind of equality 90 per cent of her sex desires.

It is in the swapping of trouble that equality of interest shows its greatest value. There was never a man and never a woman who didn't have troubles of some sort, big or little, mostly little, and there was never a man and never a woman who didn't get relieved by letting them out, provided they had somebody to talk to in whose confidence and sympathy they could rely. There is relief in the mere telling, and so when you come home in the evening, tired and probably cross, don't get out of patience with Anna May if she gives you an itemised statement of the annoyances of the day. Most of her troubles may seem trivial to you, and singly most of them are, no doubt, but a woman's troubles stack up almighty big in the totals, and they are more wearing on the mind and nerves than the sorrows that stun by their weight. Let her rattle along as the spirit moves her and don't belittle or make fun of her. Under the influence of your sympathetic and loving interest her troubles vanish with the narration, and she is in a proper mental frame to spend a happy evening with you and to begin the next day stronger and braver.

Talk It All Over.

It is the same way with you and your worries. A man ought to be able to drop most of his troubles when he drops his work. That is one of the elements of manhood. But there are some that are too big or too intimate to be unloaded at the office, and they have to be carried home. If you lock them up in your heart they will of course go back with you next day, and, like all noxious things, they grow faster in darkness. Talk them over with Anna May, and if they don't disappear entirely they will shrivel up in your mind's eye, you will feel your chest bulging out again, your curving backbone will straighten out, and you can go back to your office the next morning as fit as a prize fighter when the bell rings. What matters troubles with the woman of your love by your side? They are but the handicaps which give zest to the contest.

When Johnny McIntosh went to the wall in '93, he came to me and poured out his woes. He didn't care so much for the loss of the money as he did for the grief it would cause his wife. He had been struggling along for months trying to weather the current and all the time putting up a smiling front to his wife. "She does not even dream there is anything wrong," he told me, and he really believed what he said. Mrs. McIntosh was a society woman who knew how to burn money as rapidly and as thoroughly as anybody I ever saw, and she seemed to enjoy it. Johnny had always kept her supplied with cash, but she knew no more about his affairs than a rabbit. He told me he would rather kill himself than tell her, but Johnny was no coward, and he faced the music like a little man. What do you suppose that woman did when he told her? No, she didn't have a fit. She threw her arms around his neck and cried, "Oh, Johnny, is that all?" She had known he was in trouble all the time, and her secret grief had been greater than his. The truth was a relief, and she sailed in and helped him out of the hole. He told me just the other day that his failure was the greatest blessing of his life, because it forced him to get really acquainted with Mrs. McIntosh, and you can bet your old hat he tells her everything he knows now.

Let out your sorrows.

Open your mouth, John, open your mouth, and let out your sorrows. Give Anna May a chance to show the gold that's in her. You needn't be afraid of the result. I warrant you she'll stand any test, and as your confidence in each other grows so will your love and your happiness. Your affectionate dad, JOHN SNEED.

GROWING OLD WHILE YET YOUNG

What a number of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case.

There are thousands of females all over our land, broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with disease peculiar to their sex, apparently growing old while yet young.

From early morn till late at night they have been on the go year after year, attending to the household duties. Is it any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? Palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, smothering and sinking spells, weakness, dizziness, sleeplessness and many other troubles follow. What a woman wants is something to build up the system and for this purpose you cannot equal

There is no dust nuisance in connection with the Sunshine.

Because the Sunshine is fitted with a dust flue (see illustration.)

When you rock down the ashes (no back-breaking shaking with the Sunshine) what dust arises is drawn from the ash-pan up the dust-flue, then across the fire-pot to the smoke-pipe, as shown in illustration, where it immediately ascends to the outer air.

Only two things to remember in connection with this operation:—open both the dust and direct draft dampers.

In Gardening Time.

By ALICE LOUISE LEE.

Copyright, 1906, by Alice Louise Lee.

THEY lay side by side, two long, narrow strips of plowed land separated by a woven wire fence. Tall, well trimmed hedges at either end screened them from the two parallel streets of the village; tall, well kept hedges at the sides screened them from the houses of their owners. Facing each other in the side hedges were small iron gates, entrances to these prosaic plots of ground.

On May 15, at 5:30 in the morning, the gate in the south hedge opened with a squeak, and a trim figure of decidedly scant dimensions stepped briskly through. A short blue denim skirt, a bit faded and worn, barely reached the tops of stout, thick soled, dew proof shoes. The sleeves of a blue calico shirt waist were pushed above the elbows, while concealed in the depths of an enormous blue sunbonnet was a small tanned face crowned by brown hair coiled tightly in convenient workaday fashion on top of her head. In one hand she carried a tin pail full of pieces of potato, "sets" for planting; in the other a hoe which had seen much service.

Beside the dividing fence she began work on the potato row, digging away so industriously that she did not hear the gate in the opposite hedge open and was unconscious of any disturbing element in her Eden until a cheery "Good morning, Ann," caused her sunbonnet to bob up hastily.

"Good morning," she returned in a faint and wondering tone.

On the other side of the woven wire stood a man, also in blue denim, but it was surprisingly new. So were his big straw hat and his bright tin pail, full of potato sets, and his hoe. So also was his method of preparing for a potato crop on his side of the fence.

"I made up my mind," he began, vigorously thrusting his hoe into the dirt, "that this year I'd get outdoors more. It's not good for me, this staying in the store all day. I'm going to do my own gardening."

"Are you?" came in a faint voice from the sunbonnet. It was a troubled voice. Ann was afraid of Stephen Long because his eyes twinkled and danced to the accompaniment of a fun loving tongue. Belle could cope with him, "giving him back," in the parlance of Bridgeport, "as good as he sent."

For a few moments the only sound heard in the garden was the click of two hoes—one a loud, strong, but uncertain click; the other light, but sure. Presently Stephen wiped the perspiration from his forehead and looked with an exclamation of dismay into the regular, shallow holes, the product of Ann's brown hands.

"Jerusalem!" he ejaculated. "Is that the way you do? See here!"

Ann glanced over the fence, and the sight caused her internal mirth. Next she inventoried the new tin pail, and her mirth became external. Their usual positions were reversed. All the dance and twinkle departed from Stephen's gray eyes, and he sent a look of comic dismay into the capacious sunbonnet.

"I've made every hole deep enough to plant old Hickory in," he said ruefully. Hickory was an enormous cat that played havoc with the rats in Long's hardware store.

"And you've—gone—and cut—the eyes out of your potatoes!" gasped Ann. Then she clung to a post supporting the wire fence and laughed. Her sunbonnet slipped back, revealing two pink cheeks and a small, delicate chin.

Stephen chuckled in sympathy and came nearer. "Why, confound it all, I cut the eyes out because—well, because they didn't look pretty, I suppose. Isn't that all right?"

At this Ann laughed until the sunbonnet collapsed in a heap into a potato hole back of her. Then she checked herself and explained: "The sprouts come out of the eyes. If you don't leave the eyes, you'll get no potatoes. See?"

"Yes; I see." His visual interest centered, however, on the speaker rather than on the eyeless potatoes. "Say," he suggested suddenly, "let's swap work this morning. I'll help you plant, and then you help me cut the sets."

"All right," agreed Ann. She turned to recover her sunbonnet and so failed to see the expression of satisfaction which overspread Stephen's face as he placed a hand on top of the post and vaulted the low fence.

When, an hour later, they sat beside the hedge over a basket of potatoes provided by Stephen, matters grew worse. He did not cut the sets correctly. His fingers were all thumbs, and he came perilously near having one less to get in his way while cutting his fourth potato.

Ann bound up the cut dexterously. Then she "set her foot down." "You hand me the potatoes, and I'll cut 'em," she said decidedly and fell to work with a will.

Stephen obeyed. "Seems to me you are rather little to be bossing your elders," he said, with a flash of his much dreaded fun.

Ann hung her head and blushed uncomfortably. She considered it a disgrace to be so small, an opinion shared by her dressmaker.

"It's much as ever that I can find where Ann Wright's waist begins or ends," complained the latter individual bitterly. "She's all waist. Might's well try to fit a broomstick. Best I can do is to hang her clothes on her and let it go at that. With her sister Belle, now, it's different."

So Ann meekly accepted the dressmaker's hangings and surveyed with longing Belle's plump proportions. She sighed the morning of May 16 as, at 5 o'clock, she donned her short blue denim skirt and looked at her small but muscular arms, white down to the elbows and brown beyond. She took pride and comfort in her garden, but she wished her hands were as white as Belle's.

Her face lighted as she opened the gate in her hedge and saw Stephen leaning on one of the line fence posts impatiently awaiting her. In his new role as gardener, with overalls and big hat and with that odd expression of dependence on his clean cut face, he did not seem to her half as formidable as the Stephen Long who had for ten years gayly sauntered through the hearts of half the girls in Bridgeport, his own untouched; danced at their weddings and stood godfather to their babies.

"I tell you what," he began as soon as Ann appeared, "I'm glad to see some one looming over the horizon who knows a trifle about gardening. What are you going to plant next?"

"Nothing," replied Ann promptly. "This morning I'm going to sow things—onions, for instance."

To her own surprise, her voice was mischievous. A strange feeling of buoyancy possessed her. The sun was sending red heralds up from the east to proclaim a perfect day. Belle was asleep, unconscious of the drama of the garden, and Stephen—well, Stephen's eyes were smiling at her, but not just as they smiled on the public at large.

"Mother isn't up yet," he began hesitatingly, "so I brought along a rug and a string"— He paused and held a hand out to her appealingly. It was the member wounded the previous morning.

Ann promptly dropped her hoe and attended to her surgery.

"Say," began Stephen suddenly, watching the operation, "do you always wear that bonnet in the garden?"

"Yes," returned Ann innocently, "always."

Stephen sighed. "I should think it would be awfully hot away back in there," meditatively gazing within as Ann raised her head.

But the bonnet slowly shaken was the only reply. In some ways its wearer could not see beyond its projecting sides. For fifteen minutes silence reigned in the gardens. Ann worked with her back to the wire fence lest Belle should chance to see her through the little gate. She drew the end of her hoe handle along the smoothed surface of her yard square onion plot and was carefully dropping the seeds when a voice of triumph sounded behind her:

"I've finished mine. Now what are you going to plant next?" There was a step beside her, and the voice of triumph became a voice of dismay. "Jeru-sa-lem! Is that the way you fix 'em?"

Ann turned and glanced into the next garden. "Yes. What have you done?"

Stephen stuffed his hands deep in his overalls pockets. "Me? Why, I sowed 'em broadcast." He removed one hand and motioned as though sowing oats.

Again Ann was convulsed with mirth. "How—how would you weed them if they came up thick all over?"

Stephen wormed a toe into the soft soil. "Weed! Why, I never thought about the weeding. I think," quite humbly, "that I better stick to the store and give up gardening."

Ann's heart unaccountably sank. So did her sunbonnet.

"No, I won't, either," with sudden energy. "If you'll bolster me up with advice, I'll stick to it."

Ann's heart unaccountably arose. So did her sunbonnet.

"Let's swap work this morning," proposed Stephen a moment later, and Ann agreed.

Next morning shortly after five she found Stephen smoothing over her carrot plot just south of the onions. "I thought I'd begin," he explained a little shamefacedly, "in your garden so you would help me. I don't know what to do with the pesky seeds. Either I'd plant 'em in a trench so deep they'd never hear the last trump or else I'd scatter 'em over the top to the four winds and the breezes between!"

After the gardens were planted there was no reasonable excuse for arising at 5 o'clock until the weeds appeared. Therefore, Stephen, released from his early morning duties, often came up on the Wright porch warm evenings and entertained himself gayly with Belle's chatter, while Ann slipped away and wandered in the garden hunting weeds.

At last, after a heavy June rain, they came accompanied by the tender vegetable shoots—potatoes, beets, onions—and Ann arose again at 5 and repaired, sunbonneted, to the garden. Her heart fluttered a little as she unlatched the gate. "He will get some one else to do the hoeing surely," she told herself. But no.

He greeted her with a rueful face. "Say, I'm glad you're here," he proclaimed frankly. "Do you pull these weeds or hoe 'em out or put a charge of dynamite under 'em?"

Ann heard herself laughing happily. The hoeing season had begun.

On the Fourth of July the families Wright and Long enjoyed new potatoes and peas. Stephen's row of vines abounded in peas, while his potatoes were deficient. In Ann's garden the case was reversed.

"We'll swap," said Stephen promptly. Swapping had become a habit with him. Two weeks later both families regaled themselves on beet greens. They came from Stephen's garden, but no one knew save the two gardeners.

"My sweet corn will be ripe in two weeks," said Ann timidly as she took the greens. "There will be enough for us both."

Her predictions were correct, but antedating the ripening of the sweet corn was the picnic in the Bridgeport grove.

"Will you girls ride over with me?" asked Stephen, coming suddenly around the corner to the porch the evening before, as Ann was watering the flowers and Belle swinging in the hammock.

"I thought you had gone to the picnic."

Belle answered promptly in the affirmative, Ann tardily. After he had gone Belle yawned and remarked carelessly: "Three in that narrow buggy! How tiresome! If you'd not happened to be around"— She did not finish the remark. Belle never hurt intentionally.

Ann made no reply, but swallowed hard at a big lump which would not go down. All her invitations were accidents and came because she "happened to be around" Belle. Nothing would induce her to go to the picnic.

Therefore, the following morning, although she donned the denim skirt, she did not repair to the garden until 9 o'clock.

"Belle, I've concluded not to go to the picnic. There's hoeing that must be done in the garden."

"Bother the garden, Ann!" came back Belle's voice good naturedly. "You're wedded to that garden."

Ann did not hear. She had seized her hoe and fled down the walk and through the little hedge gate. No hoeing was needed, but she hoed desperately, checking the sobs and forcing back the tears until she heard Stephen's buggy roll down the road; then she dropped the hoe and retreated to the corn.

The great stalks towering above her head closed protectingly about her. The rustling of their leaves drowned the sound of the released sobs. She sank down and, pressing the sides of her bonnet together over her face, wept as though she were thirteen rather than twenty-three.

There was an ache in her heart which was out of all proportion to its apparent cause. In fact, she would not acknowledge the real cause even to herself until she heard her name from the end of the row in the midst of which she sat.

"Ann, what is the matter? Are you hurt?" Stephen pushed rapidly through the corn and stood looking with perplexed eyes down on the slight figure hiding beneath the big bonnet.

"I thought you had gone to the picnic," replied Ann's muffled tones.

"Yes, I went, but more lemons were needed, and I volunteered to come back after them because I wanted to ask you why you wouldn't go. You see, I knew no work was needed in the— Ann! Why, Ann, dear, you are crying!"

Stephen dropped on one knee beside her and, gently opening the bonnet, looked in on a little wet face.

"What is it, Ann?" he asked tenderly.

Stephen took a firmer hold on the sides of the sunbonnet and, tilting her head farther back, forced her to meet his eyes. "Tell me, dear girl," he pleaded.

"I—thought—you'd rather—take Belle—alone." Ann's tongue tripped in confusion over the words, while the blood reddened her cheeks.

Stephen laughed in sudden relief. His reply was irrelevant. "Take Belle alone! Why, Ann, dear, I confess now that I hate gardening, but I've tried every other way for five years to"—

His face, with the rest of the sentence, was lost in the depths of the sunbonnet.

SUNDOWN WITH A BUMP.

The Irishman Decides That This Is a Wonderful Country.

An Irish contractor in San Francisco sent to Ireland for his father to join him. The journey was a great event to the old man, who had lived in rural districts all his life, and he reached San Francisco much excited.

After several days of sightseeing his son resumed his business and suggested that his father visit the Presidio.

"And phwat's the Presidio?" asked the old man.

"The Presidio, father, is the government reservation for the soldiers, a fine bit of a park, and you'll enjoy yourself."

At the end of a strenuous day the old man stood gazing at the big buildings, comparing them with the small huts of his old home. Seeing a soldier near, he tapped him on the shoulder.

"Me bye, phwat's that string of houses forninst us?"

"Why, those are the officers' quarters."

"And that wan with the big smokestack?"

"That's the cook shanty."

"Shanty, is it? Well, 'tis a great country. 'Tis palaces they're using."

The young man offered to show him the new gymnasium. On the way the sundown gun was discharged just as they passed. The old man, much startled, caught his companion's arm.

"Phwat's that, now?"

"Sundown," replied his friend, smiling.

"Sundown, is it? Think of that, now! Don't the sun go down with a terrible bump in this country?"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Overheard In Court.

There is a Chicago lawyer who, his colleagues aver, has a positive genius for malapropos suggestion to his witnesses on the stand.

Recently this lawyer was counsel in a suit for divorce, wherein he was examining a woman who had taken the stand in behalf of the plaintiff.

"Now, madam," began the attorney, who is always saying the wrong thing, "repeat the slanderous statements made by the defendant on this occasion."

"Oh, they are unfit for any respectable person to hear!" gasped the witness.

"Then, madam," said the attorney coaxingly, "suppose you just whisper them to his honor the judge."—Cleveland Leader.

Can Wash Her Sins Away.

The little four-year-old daughter of a minister friend of mine was given a little washtub and board for Christmas. She had often heard her father exhorting sinners to have their sins washed away, so when she received her washtub and board she seemed much pleased and said:

"Now, mamma, I can wash all my sins away."—Chicago News.

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

In Spite of the More or Less Popular Belief That Married Women Work Too Hard, the Fact Remains That There Is No Real Happiness Without Occupation.

[Copyright, 1906, by C. S. Yost.]

MY DEAR JOHN—Your letter reminds me of a German woman who lived in the little town of Missouri where I was raised. She was a cheerful individual of the Mrs. Wiggs type, and she had a laugh that would roll across the village like a peal of spring thunder. Its reverberations were infectious, and, no matter how worn and tired, no matter how troubled, my fellow citizens would be, they would echo a smile, and peace and contentment would settle down upon the whole community. Why, I've seen town meetings of the most violent character turned into love feasts by the influence of that laugh poured through the open windows of the city hall. But that isn't what I wanted to tell you about. Mrs. Schreider believed in the gospel of work. She was never idle. From sunup to sunset and after she was busy. Everything about her little house shone like new silver from the repeated scrubbing and polishing she gave it. She assaulted dirt with the vehemence of an American and the thoroughness of a Teuton. Rest was a luxury she disdained, and yet she was always healthy and always happy.

She assaulted dirt.

"How is it, Mrs. Schreider," she was often asked, "that you are so happy all the time?"

"Ach, Gott!" she would exclaim, with that irresistible laugh. "I haf no time for anyt'ings udder."

Sounds Very Well Indeed.

You say your wife "shall never work if you can help it." That sounds quite heroic and looks very well on paper, but it's ridiculous if you don't mean it and a serious mistake if you do. It isn't original with you. I have heard it a great many times in my life. Some of the men who said it did their best to live up to it, and some of them succeeded, to the sorrow of their wives, but there were several who afterward made their wives work like slaves and occasionally beat them. Between the pampered and miserable doll and the persecuted and equally miserable household slave there is a happy medium, and it isn't hard to find it.

There is an old axiom that "there is no excellence without great labor," and it is equally true that there is no happiness without occupation. Work of some description is as necessary to our mental as food to our physical well being. We somehow cherish the delusion that well financed idleness is the acme of earthly bliss, and yet when we get a two weeks' vacation, no matter how well filled our pockets, we begin to feel weary of it at the end of the first week and are impatient to get back into the harness before our time is up. Some can stand it longer than others, but there are mighty few who can contentedly do nothing for any considerable period of time.

"Oh, but you're talking about men," I hear you say. "Women are different." That's just where you're wrong, my boy. Women in this respect are not different. They must have something to do, and the man who imposes a life of idleness upon his wife, believing he is thereby contributing to her happiness, is making a blunder that he will pay well for in after years. I grant that his intentions are good, but they are of the same character as those used in certain quarters for paving material, and unless the wife is an invalid or is exceptionally constituted his object, prompted by love as it may be, will not be attained, because nature has implanted in every normal human mind a strong and overwhelming desire for action. The world must be kept moving, and it's up to us to turn the crank. The labor of woman is as necessary to progress as that of man, and it doesn't matter whether it is your wife or my wife or the bodcarrier's wife—each has a definite duty to perform and will find her greatest happiness in its performance.

Some can stand it longer than others.

Now, don't go off half cocked. I don't want to see your wife scrubbing the front steps, although if it is necessary even that probably would do her no harm. I wouldn't have her do anything but that which she is physically able to do and wants to do. Mind what I say now—wants to do. The fact that so many women are useless dolls is mainly due to foolish young husbands like yourself who force their wives to a life of inaction. If given their own way they would choose labor of some character, and 90 per cent of them, impelled by a divinely given instinct, would say housekeeping.

But Not Drudgery.

Among my acquaintances is a young man who has your idea very deeply impressed. When he was married, three or four years ago, he took his beautiful wife to a boarding house and has kept her there ever since. She pleaded for a home, but he would not have her soil her hands. The inactivity of a boarding house was to her unbearable. She has a very fine voice and rare dramatic talent. He reluctantly consented to allow her to give music lessons. Now her income is larger than his own a brilliant future is open to her, and yet she continues to plead for a home, just a little flat where she could do all the work herself, where he and she would be all in all to each other. She just had to do something, but she would infinitely prefer the labors of a home, with its cares and its joys, to the triumphs of her profession.

She has a very fine voice.

The home is the best place for the development and exercise of a woman's talents for numerous reasons, most of which are entirely obvious. Whether it is an original gift to the sex or the result of the training of thousands of years is immaterial. The fact remains that she shines with greatest brilliancy in the domestic atmosphere, and here she should be allowed to sparkle unshadowed. The majority of women realize their duties and responsibilities and desire to fulfill them. They know that they can best be fulfilled in the home, and if let alone they will derive the greatest amount of satisfaction and contentment from the performance of the tasks which home service brings to them.

I don't believe that a woman should be a drudge. I don't believe that she should be required or allowed to do more than she wants to do. When her work ceases to be a pleasure, then it has passed the limit of expediency and defeats its most important object. Where the line should be drawn depends entirely upon her temperament and her physical strength. Some women can do joyfully and with benefit to themselves an amount of labor that would destroy others, and there are some women, like some men, whose excess energy carries them far beyond their physical powers. Too much work is as bad as idleness. There is a golden mean, and instead of trying to prevent Anna May from doing any work at all you should exercise your authority or your influence, whichever you please to call it, to keep her from doing too much. I say this because I've got an idea that she's a hustler, and, while hustlers are admirable people as a rule, they need a little restraint exercised for their own good. However, there are not many women who need a check-rein in the matter of work. They are a good deal like us men in that respect. Most of us believe in temperance when it comes to labor, and some of us are total abstainers. But, whether men or women, we are all better off if we perform a reasonable amount of good, honest work every day, and fortunately the ones of either sex who are content to do nothing are comparatively few.

Some of us are total abstainers.

Idleness a Menace.

Your wife must have something to do, and your silly pride should not stand in the way of the doing. Idleness provides more cases for the divorce courts than any other single agency. It doesn't usually appear in the evidence under that name, but it's responsible just the same. Most frequently it is disguised as incompatibility of temperament, which means that Mrs. Jones has sat in an easy chair and lolled away her happiness. Discontent invariably accompanies inaction, and in its train are the other mental and physical ills which make life unbearable to herself and bring misery to her mate. Yet if that same woman were given something to do, something that she felt compelled to do, either by duty or from the sheer love of it, the mere occupation would remove the shadows from her mind, bring the blood coursing through her veins, redden her cheeks and brighten her eyes, substitute a smile for a frown and give that zest to life and love which is the mainspring of happiness. Ad, my boy, let Anna May do whatever she wants to do within the bounds of her capacity. If she takes pleasure in housework, don't hinder her. There is nothing degrading about it. On the contrary, there is no more honorable employment for a wife, and there is none by which she can add so much to the peace and contentment of the home and to the happiness of her husband, her children and herself. Talk as the "advanced woman" may about the enlargement of woman's sphere, she cannot get away from the fact that nature's inexorable laws have given her a field peculiarly her own, a field in which she has no rival, in which she can and does do her greatest work for humanity, and that field is bounded by the four walls of the home. It is true that housework has its cares, its myriad annoyances, that often bring tears of vexation or discouragement, but no method of life has been yet discovered that does not have a few kinks in it, and there never will be. It would be a doggoned monotonous existence anyhow. It's the kinks in life that make existence really worth while, and they are as necessary to the making of a woman's character as of a man's, provided, of course, there are not too many of them. When you start out for a drive you don't care for a straight road unless your only object is the exhilaration of motion. If you want to get the greatest possible enjoyment, you choose a winding road, where curves bring new vistas into view at every turn, and so in life. But, here; if I keep on in this strain I'll be writing poetry in a minute, and of all things on earth deliver me from amateur poetry, particularly when it's maudlin.

Happiest Woman in the World.

As I was saying, the housewife has her troubles, great bunches of 'em, but the woman who pounds a typewriter or who stands up behind a counter and murmurs "Cash!" can never know the joys that mingle with and overlap the cares of the wife who looks after her own household.

I just dare you!

Why, my boy, there never was a happier woman than your mother, and she has worked, worked hard, all her married life, not because she had to, for I've always made enough to take care of her without it, but because she wanted to, because she would have been unhappy otherwise, and I dare you to say that your Anna May is any better than my wife—I just dare you! No, John; let her work; let her do just as much as she pleases to do in reason. It won't hurt her—there is no better exercise in the world than housework—and it will make her a better wife and, please God, a better mother when the time comes.

It is true there are some women—and it pains me to see the number growing larger all the time—who have a strong aversion to domestic labor. I don't believe Anna May is one of them; but, if she is, let her follow her bent if it does not destroy your domestic relations. There is no more pitiable object on earth than a woman of energy and talent compelled to live a life of inaction because her little tin god of a husband would consider himself disgraced if she were to do a little honorable work on her own account. Don't be that kind of a chump. It's pure and unadulterated selfishness. That's all there is to it. If you love your wife, give her freedom. Let her do the work that pleases her best, for therein lies her greatest happiness. But keep her at home; keep her at home! I draw the line there. If her ambition takes her beyond the portal for her labor, employ a housekeeper, but preserve the home. It is her haven and yours. There is no satisfactory substitute for it. It attains its highest glory when the wife is its head and directing force, when her life is mainly devoted to its welfare; but, whether or no, it is home, and nothing else will serve. Your affectionate dad,

JOHN SNEED.

Not Afraid of Assassins.

President Benjamin Harrison used to ramble around Washington at night by himself. Colonel Dan Ransdell, a lifelong friend of the great Indianian, was President Harrison's marshal of the District of Columbia and kept in very close touch with the president all through his term. Colonel Ransdell lived north of Dupont circle, quite a mile and a half from the White House. He ceased to be surprised by the unexpected and unannounced visits made to him by the president at various hours of the night after General Harrison's first few months in the White House. Once when Colonel Ransdell remonstrated with him against venturing out at night unaccompanied, admonishing him of the danger of assassination, General Harrison said:

"An assassin cannot be dodged, Dan. I am as safe from harm on that score while walking from the White House to your residence after dark and alone as I am when receiving callers or going about the city in the daytime under the watchful eyes of detectives and policemen. The assassin always gets his prey when once he makes up his mind to do so. But I have no fear of assassination, least of all am I afraid of being assaulted in a dark street at night."—Washington Herald.

Ideals and Acts.

Ideals are more potent than acts. Let a millionaire give £10,000 to a hospital. The public is for the moment struck, but who save the institution itself remembers the gift next day? Let a "leader of society" start a charity bazaar. Let her gather a little court around her. Let the stall holders be visions of beauty, their coloring perhaps just a trifle "assisted," and under their spell let the buying be brisk and a great financial success be scored. The masses will read the account in their newspapers with wondering admiration, but they will find there no wholesome stimulus for themselves, since the motive of the brilliant function was rooted in display. Th charity, as elsewhere, it is, I repeat, not the action, but the spirit of the agent, that permanently tells.—Montague Crackanthorpe in Fortnightly Review.

Prepared For Temptation.

Little Tommy had been forbidden to swim in the river, owing to the danger. One day he came home with unmistakable signs of having been in the water. His mother scolded him severely. "But I was tempted so badly, mother," said Tommy. "That's all very well, but how'd you come to have your bathing suit with you?" Tommy paused and then said, "Well, mother, I took my bathing suit along thinking I might be tempted."—Dundee Advertiser.

AFTER THE OFFICIALS.

May Be Further Enquiry Into Case of G. T. R. Conductor.

Toronto, May 16.—A communication from Justice Riddell was received by the Attorney-General's Department yesterday, recommending that further enquiries be made in the case of G. T. R. Conductor Thompson, who was sentenced to three years in penitentiary for neglecting his duty and thereby causing an accident on the line.

The judge does not suggest that there should be any amelioration of Thompson's sentence, but without mentioning any names, he intimates that there were officials who should have seen to it that Thompson should not work a longer period in the day than the legal number of hours, and the inference to be drawn from his letter is that these parties are as deserving of punishment as Thompson.

The communication had not reached Premier Whitney, who during Mr. Foy's absence is acting Attorney-General, so that nothing has been decided as yet as to the course the department will adopt in the matter.

Married Man of Fifty.

Windsor, Ont., May 16.—Mrs. Hattie Tilden, formerly of Guelph, was here yesterday looking for two of her children, aged 4 and 6, who, she claims, were taken from her by a stepson living in Detroit. Her story was that she married her husband, a furniture manufacturer, in Guelph, when she was 16 and he was 50, going with him to live in Seattle. They were separated a couple of months ago through trouble for which she blames her stepson, and she came back to Guelph, with her children, to live. The husband returned to his former home in Hamilton, where he died in the hospital a few weeks ago, and when she went there, she claims that the stepson took her children to his home in Detroit.

Montibetti In Jail.

Macleod, Alta., May 16.—Felix Montibetti, the man charged with perjury in connection with the petition of rights action over the Blairmore townsite is confined in the R. N. W. M. P. barracks here. The preliminary was to have been heard on the 11th inst. at Frank, but owing to the non-arrival of material evidence the case was postponed until next week. It is not at all probable that the preliminary will be concluded for over a considerable time, as there is a very voluminous amount of evidence contained in written documents and sworn statements. Bail for Montibetti was placed by the magistrates for $10,000 bonds, for which have not been forthcoming.

May Municipalize Cars.

San Francisco, May 16.—The United Railroads operated over 100 cars Tuesday, and everything passed off quietly outside of the district south of Market street. Here hoodlums kept up a riotous demonstration, and beat and abused many passengers and carmen. Fifty thousand persons rode Tuesday.

The carmen are now directing their energies towards formulating a plan for the municipal ownership of the street railroads, and L. D. Mahon, president of the Association of Street Railway Employes of America, expresses the belief that this will follow the present car strike.

Suffragist Loses.

London, May 16.—At the bye-election held at Wimbledon, Henry Chaplin, Unionist, and ex-president of the Local Government Board, whose candidacy was opposed by the woman suffragists, was elected by the great majority of 6,984 out of a total vote of 13,562.

Mr. Chaplin was Joseph Chamberlain's first lieutenant throughout the latter's protectionist campaign, and based his fight largely on that issue.

Revivalist Goes to Jail.

Chicago, May 16.—A despatch from Athens, Ga., says that because he whipped his 12-year-old son for playing baseball on Sunday, J. H. Arnold, a traveling revivalist, was sentenced to six months on the rock pile. Physicians testified that the boy was lashed until his flesh was pulp.

Arnold said he believed it was a deadly sin to play baseball on Sunday.

Fast Service Discovered.

London, May 16.—(C. A. P.)—The problem of the establishment of an Empire-linking mail and passenger service has caused great interest among the commercial men of the principal ports. The president of the Southampton Chamber of Commerce, though disappointed that Liverpool is named as the home port, welcomed the proposal and said that the day might come when it would be feasible to run a second line of subsidized steamers from Southampton to Canada.

Bristol, which Sir Wilfrid Laurier visited yesterday, advocates its claims as a terminal port, while Liverpool hopes if subsidies are given for a line between Liverpool and Canada, one of the existing mail lines will be favored, and that no new line will be brought into existence, as competition is already keen enough.

Dies In Fermenting Vat.

Walkerville, May 16.—Wm. Kenney, aged 22, employed in the mash-room of the Hiram Walker & Sons Distillery, was drowned in a large fermenting vat Tuesday night. Foreman Chittum found a derby hat, and saw a hand, clutching a broom, protruding from the semi-liquid mass of mash in the vat. Kenney was dead when he was pulled out. A coroner's jury was empanelled yesterday, and an inquest will be held Monday.

Nephew's grocery, $10,000; J. R. Simpson, township clerk's office; A. F. Day's stock, removed through first fire, $500, (D. M. Munroe owned this block), loss $8,000; Mrs. G. J. D. McDonald, aged 60 years, who owned three of the large buildings burned, was affected by the shock and had a paralytic stroke yesterday morning. Miss Grace Cameron, living three miles from here, was hurt. Frightened at the fire, her horse ran away, and she, jumping out, hurt herself.

The insurance is about $21,000.

Farmer's Suffer.

Napanee, May 16.—During a heavy gale fire started in the chimney of Jacob Roblin's house, two miles from Adolphustown Village, 20 miles from Napanee, and destroyed Roblin's barn, J. M. Joyce's barn and drivehouse, J. M. Outwater's barn and drivehouse and O. R. Hawley's barn, in all about nine buildings.

Ruef Pleads Guilty.

San Francisco, May 16.—Abraham Ruef, acknowledged adviser of Mayor Schmitz, and once the recognized dictator of municipal affairs in San Francisco, unexpectedly pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge of extortion. Sentence will be pronounced two weeks hence.

Tears sprang to the eyes of veteran reporters, who have been Ruef's lifelong acquaintances, and whose papers have conducted against him and his political associates a long and bitter campaign for the purification of municipal affairs.

Australia's Confidence.

Perth, West Australia, May 16.—At the interstate conference yesterday the Hibernian Societies, representing 26,000 members, a resolution was adopted expressing confidence that the Irish party, under the leadership of John E. Redmond, will adopt a correct attitude toward Birrell's Irish bill.

Tidal Wave on Lake Superior.

Sault Ste. Marie, May 16.—The water at this end of Lake Superior and St. Mary's River dropped two feet Tuesday night, remained two hours then rose again. Marine men are unable to account for the action, unless it was a tidal wave. No damage is reported.

Farmer Killed.

Listowel, May 16.—Alvin Ludwood, the son of a well-to-do farmer in the Township of Wallace, near here, was instantly killed yesterday morning while driving a team, hitched to a roller, which passed over him.

Criminal Libel Charge.

Fredericton, N. B., May 16.—In addition to the civil action instituted against The Gleaner Publishing Co., Limited, for $25,000, it was learned last night that Hon. Mr. Emmerson has advised his counsel to proceed against Managing Director Sockett on a charge of criminal libel.

A warrant will be issued in a few days, if it has not been already.

Brakeman Killed.

WERE NOT REFUSED WORK.

Englishman's Story of Prejudice Against Them Is Denied.

Port Arthur, May 16.—There has been a story going the rounds of the eastern papers, which has gained some credence in England, that a party of 24 Englishmen from Ipswich had been refused work in Port Arthur entirely on the ground that they were Englishmen. It is true that a party of men came to Port Arthur from England under promise of work on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, but on arrival it was found that they were not capable of doing the work the company wanted them to do, which was rock work, under contract to Foley Bros. & Larsen. The matter was taken up by Immigration Agent Burriss, and work was found for every one of the 24 men. Representatives of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and of Foley Bros. & Larsen both emphatically deny that the men were refused work because they were Englishmen, or that they were refused work at all, and say that they would have been given work as common laborers, but they preferred to remain as such in Port Arthur.

Did He Deceive the Girl?

Hamilton, May 16.—Magistrate Jelfs committed John Kerillo, the man who was arrested Tuesday on a charge of obtaining $240 from Rosa Taka under false pretences, for trial at Cayuga. The Magistrate said the alleged offence was committed out of his jurisdiction. Kerillo is said to have obtained money under pretence of marrying the girl.

The Best Dressed Man.

Of course the best dressed man in the world is the English gentleman. If you enter the royal inclosure at Newmarket or visit the lawn at Goodwood on the day of a classic race; if you attend a fashionable orchid or horse show when some great personage presides, you will hardly see any one dressed otherwise than perfectly. But take the hurrying passengers in the city, on the street cars, trains or 'buses, go freely among the men in the street, and you will share the conviction I have arrived at—namely, that the American is in general dressed more stylishly and in better fitting and better cut clothes.—C. M. S. in Derrick's Trade Report.

Mme. de Staël's Reply.

Mme. de Staël is responsible for a contribution to the woman suffrage question which may interest those who have done and suffered for the cause. "I have no taste," said Napoleon in talking to her, "for women who meddle with politics." "You may perhaps be right," replied Mme. de Staël, "but since people have taken the freedom to cut off their heads on account of politics they ought at least to be allowed to understand why."—Westminster Gazette.

The Blue Jay.

There is a belief current among the negroes in the south that the blue jay visits the infernal regions every Friday. This belief varies somewhat in different parts of the south. For instance, in South Carolina it is supposed to be carrying sticks for the devil's fires, while in Mississippi and Louisiana the bird is supposed to report to his satanic majesty the status of his affairs on earth.

SCHEME TO MURDER CZAR NICHOLAS

Russian Terrorists Plot the Emperor's Death.

SOLDIER OF GUARD ARRESTED

Confesses That He Accepted a Large Money Bribe to Carry Out the Assassination—Police Discover Widespread Conspiracy—Real Instigators Still at Liberty—Money Used Proceeds of Robbery.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—A terrorist conspiracy, directed against the life of Emperor Nicholas, the existence of which has been suspected for some time past, has been revealed by the arrest at Tsarskoe-Selo, of a soldier of the guard regiment. Yesterday the man confessed to the acceptance of a large money bribe to assist in the murder of his Majesty.

According to the details of the plot, the existence of which has been confirmed by one of the highest officials of the court, suspicion was directed to the soldier by the fact that he was seen to have in his possession considerable sums of money. He was at once placed under observation. When he noticed that he was being shadowed he became panic-stricken and sought the authorities. He then broke down and voluntarily made his confession, after which he begged for protection.

All the threads of this conspiracy, which is radically different from former attempts of this nature, are not yet in the hands of the secret service men. A few underlings have been apprehended, but the real instigators of the crime, and the men who furnished the blood money, have not yet been identified. It is thought that the money used is part of the proceeds of several political robberies committed during last fall and winter. Many of the participants in these so-called expropriations have been arrested and executed, but the loot was never located.

The police officials maintain a mysterious silence when questioned regarding this conspiracy. They refuse to either affirm or deny the story, and limit themselves to stating that there is indication that the men arrested last week in this city were connected with this conspiracy.

This statement coincides with information obtained in revolutionary circles, where it is declared that the men apprehended last week were occupied with the reorganization of the fighting bands of the revolutionists, which the police succeeded last year in breaking up, and that the authors of the present conspiracy must be sought outside of St. Petersburg.

Drumhead Bill Rejected.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—The council of the empire or Upper House of Parliament yesterday rejected the bill of the Lower House abolishing trials by drumhead courtmartial, which was passed by the latter body April 30

Escaped Prisoner Recaptured.

Woodstock, May 16.—Word reached Woodstock yesterday morning that Frederick Forbes, the escaped prisoner from Woodstock jail, had been arrested in Pontiac, Mich., Forbes is a Tillsonburg man, and prior to his last sentence spent one or two terms in Woodstock jail on minor charges. Last winter he was sentenced to the Central Prison at Toronto upon a charge of theft from the vinegar works, Tillsonburg. He was brought to Woodstock jail to await removal to the Central. Owing to the crowded condition of the prison he remained here until March 12. He escaped while housecleaning was going on in the jail.

Civil Service Commission Meets.

Ottawa, May 16.—The civil service commission met and organized here yesterday.

J. M. Courtney, the chairman, pointed out that the enquiry would be conducted under the following heads:

1. General operation of the Civil Service Act. 2. Classification of the service. 3. Salaries. 4. Temporary employment. 5. Technical employes. 6. Promotions. 7. Discipline and hours of service. 8. Efficiency of the departmental staffs. 9. Retiring allowances. 10. Any other matters which suggest themselves as requiring consideration.

The commission will report next session.

Indian Accused of Murder.

Rochester, N.Y., May 16.—The trial of Harrison Hill, an Indian, accused of having murdered his brother-in-law, Elijah Peters, on the Tonawanda reservation on Jan. 14 of this year, opened in the federal court yesterday. The defendant appeared in person, and after the reading of the indictment, entered a plea of not guilty.

WAS MOSTLY CANADA AT CONFERENCE

Premier of Victoria Says Australia Was Scarcely Spoken Of.

CHURCHILL MAKES DENIAL

Says Statements In Regard to Sir Robert Bond Are Impudent Fabrications—Was No Scene at Conference About Newfoundland—Jameson Prophesies Failure Will Lead to Future Good.

London, May 16.—(C. A. P.)—Dr. Jameson, addressing the members of the Baltic Exchange yesterday afternoon, said it was to Premier Deakin they owed what had been got at the Conference. Referring to the Colonial Secretary, Jameson ventured to prophesy that the present arrangement would be such a failure that at the next Conference they would get what they wanted.

Lord Weardale Cromer, M. P., representing the British group, received from the Canadian Speaker an invitation to hold its next interparliamentary conference in Ottawa. Premier Laurier expresses his cordial approval.

Thomas Bent, Premier of Victoria, says wherever he went in England he heard nothing but the cry "Canada." The newspapers scarcely spoke of Australia, which glorious country is more loyal to the King than even the people at home.

The colonial statutes bill has been read a first time. Its object is to facilitate proof of colonial statutes by providing that copies of colonial laws be received as evidence in British courts, if purporting to be printed by the Government printer.

The G. T. R. has completed the purchase of additional ground for the erection of offices in Trafalgar square.

CHURCHILL DENIES STORY.

Says Statements Attributed to Bond Are Fabrications.

London, May 16.—Winston Churchill, the Under-Colonial Secretary, in the House of Commons yesterday, referring to The Daily Mail's report of the closing session of the Imperial Conference Tuesday branded statements attributed to Sir Robert Bond, Premier of Newfoundland, who was quoted as denouncing the Colonial Secretary, the Earl of Elgin, for deliberately neglecting the Newfoundlanders for the sake of American interests, as an impudent falsification.

Aiming his remarks at Lord Northcliffe, he said: "I am surprised that a person recently created a peer of the realm should be willing to let a newspaper under his control employ for political objects, methods of such transparent mendacity."

He said that as he had learned that the statement had been cabled fully to the colonies, it became necessary for him to state that from the beginning to the end it was a baseless and impudent fabrication. There was nothing in The Mail statement that bore the slightest resemblance or form to what took place at the Conference

Sir Robert Bond, in an interview, repeated the substance of his reported statements Tuesday, but denied having created a scene.

Premier Bond denies that anything "sensational" occurred at Tuesday's conference, but regretted that the Imperial Government had not met his reasonable demands. He is still hopeflu that they will use their best efforts to undo the mischief caused by the modus vivendi. He is deeply disappointed at the result of his attempt to obtain justice.

Severe Rainstorm.

Memphis, Tenn., May 16.—Reports received yesterday from West Tennessee, Northern Alabama and Mississippi indicate that one of the worst rainstorms of recent years fell Tuesday throughout this section, amounting in some places to a waterspout.

Fireman Fatally Injured.

Orangeville, May 16.—Fireman Paul K. Baker of Toronto Junction had his skull fractured, and suffered other injuries, which may prove fatal, in a railway accident near here yesterday. The accident was caused by the driving shaft on the engine breaking.

Government Sustained.

Paris, May 16.—The prolonged and heated debate in the Chamber of Deputies regarding the labor policy ended as was anticipated in a vote of confidence in the Government.

Freedom of Bristol.

London, Eng., May 16.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Joseph Ward and Sir Robert Bond were yesterday presented with the freedom of the City of Bristol.

TEAMSTERS ARE NOW OUT ON STRIKE

Strike At Montreal Assuming Serious Proportions.

SHIPPING WILL BE TIED UP

Shedden Co.'s Men Joined by Others This Morning — Mr. Lemieux Expected In the City—Shipping Federation Seek Government Action—Strikers May Be Prosecuted—Papers Against Them.

Montreal, May 16.—The longshoremen's strike in the port of Montreal is gradually approaching a crisis. While yesterday there had not been any further outbreak among the men the strikers are becoming very restive and trouble is feared before long. Neither side have so far given the slightest indication of yielding, and claim to be confident of victory. Some 1,800 men reported at union headquarters yesterday. Hon. R. Lemieux, Minister of Labor, was communicated with at Fraserville, Que., yesterday by the shipping federation, asking for the enforcement of the Conciliation Act dealing with strikes, but he wired for them to take up the matter with Deputy Minister at Ottawa. It was not thought Mr. Lemieux will take a hand in the matter unless more serious trouble develops.

Vessels Get Help.

Owing to the strikers not attacking the non-union men the steamship companies are steadily getting more men to work and yesterday morning the C. P. R. steamer Lake Manitoba cleared at the usual hour. Nearly all the cargo had been placed on board. Steamers leaving at the end of the week will clear with light cargoes in order to make their sailing dates.

Freight is accumulating very fast on the wharves, and every hour means that it has become more difficult to unravel the tie-up.

The exact situation was that each side was marking-time to see what action the other would take.

Papers Condemn Men.

Nearly all the local papers claim editorially that the men had no right to go out on such short notice, and the steamship companies are making the most of the support from this quarter.

No disorders have yet taken place, apart from the attack on some men working on vessels Tuesday, and this was soon suppressed.

It was proposed to arrest the leaders of the strike, under the clauses of the new act, but it was apparently decided yesterday that such an act might do more harm than good, especially as the act has not yet been tested in the courts, and there would necessarily be great delay in obtaining a conviction under it.

Teamsters Go Out.

The longshoremen on strike were joined by the teamsters of the Shedden Forwarding Co. yesterday. In the afternoon 155 teamsters employed by Cunningham & Wells went on strike for higher wages. There are now over 400 teamsters out, and it is said that by noon to-day Montreal may be in the grip of a general teamsters' strike. The move of the Shedden Co.'s men is understood to be merely the signal for the entire local body of city teamsters to come into the field for more wages. The chief transfer companies of Montreal expected that their employes would be on strike this morning. This statement is founded on the expressed opinions of several of the largest local employers of teamsters. Those who will be most seriously affected are:

Cunningham & Wells, employers of nearly 250 men.
Meldrum Bros., 250 men.
Canadian Transport Co. (C. P. R.), over 400 men.
Terminal Warehouse & Cartage Co., about 200 men.
Canadian Transfer Co. (Great Northern), between 125 and 150 men.
Daniel Donnelly, about 200 men.

CARS REMAIN UNLOADED.

Ottawa Teamsters Still Hang Out For More Pay.

Ottawa, May 16.—The Dominion Transport Company, whose staff of 23 teamsters went on strike Thursday for an advance of $4 per month, have not been able to procure men and the freight which should be delivered in the city, is accumulating. Over 100 cars are standing on the C. P. R. tracks at the Union Depot, and there are no men to relieve the situation. A report that one of the C. P. R. freight handlers was discharged because he persuaded new hands employed by the transport company not to work, is denied by C.P.R. officials, who say the railway company is not directly concerned in the strike. City merchants are beginning to send special carters to the station for their freight.

Try Efficiency of the Act.

Vancouver, B. C., May 16.—The efficiency of the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act from the employers standpoint is to be tested here immediately, according to the announced decision yesterday of the manager of the Marble Bay Mine.

Mackenzie King, Deputy Minister of Labor, has declined to interfere in the strike, which has tied up Texada. Yesterday the mine owners issued summons against fifty miners to appear in court to explain why they should not each pay a fine of five hundred and ten dollars. This is the first time this feature of the act has been invoked.

Lord's Day Act In the West.

Winnipeg, May 16.—Restauranteurs may sell fruits, nuts, ice cream and cigars on Sunday the same as on other days, to be consumed either on the premises or wherever it may please the customer to do so, in spite of the interpretation of the Lord's Day Act, as handed down by the police commission.

This was the substance of the decision given by Premier Roblin to a delegation of more than 100 wholesale fruit and tobacco dealers and restauranteurs at the Government Building yesterday.

SEVERAL BLAZES AT SOO.

Overcharged Transformer Responsible For Much Damage.

Sault Ste. Marie, May 16.—Owing, it is said, to a leak in one of the transformers of the Tagena Water & Light Co., a portion of the system became overcharged at four o'clock yesterday morning, resulting in a series of fires.

The bookstore, owned by Cliffe, on Queen street, was completely gutted and the large stock will be a total loss. The stock was insured for $2,000 in the Anglo-American, which will not nearly cover the loss.

The offices of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. adjoining was saved, although a number of machines were destroyed.

Mrs. Sims, who occupied rooms above the bookstore, was robbed of $460 and a gold watch. The thief was arrested.

The fire also visited the C. P. R. ticket offices and freight sheds and Anderson's music store, but no serious damage resulted.

A number of other fires resulting from the same cause were reported during the day.

Looking For Train-Wreckers.

Windsor, Ont., May 16.—Detective Mahoney is looking for some parties who are believed to have made an attempt at train wrecking on the W. E. and L. S. Railway, by removing fishplates and spikes from one joint of the track. The removal of the plate was not noticed until the construction train passed over it, with Manager Warburton and a number of workmen on board. Had the train been going at any rate of speed it would have been derailed.

NOW IT'S MEAT THAT GOES UP IN PRICE; 17c. NOW AND IT MAY GO TO 20c.

Following hard on the announcement that the price of flour was to be increased comes that of the increase in the price of beef. Yesterday morning the price of the best cuts of beef was increased, generally, to 17 cents a pound, and this is not the worst feature. It was stated last night in the rooms of the Examiner that unless there was an immediate improvement in the weather and a prospect of pasture, the price would go up still further, and 20 cents a pound would be charged.

This is, indeed, unpleasant news to the consumers, who have had the opinion that at 15 cents a pound they were paying a pretty stiff price for meat. The reason assigned for the increase, which is already a matter of history, and for that which is said to be coming is that the fodder is becoming scarce. If the grass comes up plentifully at once there is a possibility that the price may not go any higher, but it is understood that this is the only thing that will save the consumers from the necessity of paying 20 cents a pound for the best cuts of meat.

City Teamsters And Board Of Works At Last Agree

Strike Settled by a Compromise—Teamsters Accepted $3.65 Per Day and Have Resumed Their Duties—Each Load Will Consist of 1 1-2 Yards.

ALL THE MEN AT WORK

The famous strike of the city-employed teamsters, now belongs to the past. It was finally disposed of last night at the meeting of the city Board of Works, when the teamsters decided to accept $3.65 per day, and the Board agreed to give them the same.

About fifteen teamsters employed by the city waited on the committee and stated that they were willing to accept the $3.65, each load to consist of one and a half yards of gravel, and go to work whenever requested by the Street Commissioner. The Board accepted this, so that the improvements to the city sidewalks was resumed to-day.

Both the Board and the workmen won and lost. The teamsters were offered at first $3.50 per day, but they wanted $3.75. They received an advance of 40 cents per day, instead of the 50 cents requested. The Board at first offered an increase of 25 cents per day, and finally gave the teamsters an advance of 40 cents.

After the deputation was heard, stating that $3.65 would be accepted, Ald. Duncan said that if all the teamsters had struck in a business-like manner in the first place, and not a few of them holding up the city the way they did, they would have been granted the $3.75 per day. One of the teamsters in answer to this stated that the other teams had not so much work to perform as the city teamsters, and therefore could not reasonably command such wages.

Ald. Johnston believed that the matter should be settled at once, and although he believed that the offer of $3.50 was a fair one, he moved seconded by the Mayor, that the Board grant the teamsters $3.65 per day.

Ald. McIntyre stated that he was "in the hands of the Philistines," and that there was not much use in making objections. But to show that he had not changed his opinion he moved that the teamsters be paid $3.75 per day. There was no seconder to the latter motion and the former was carried.

Ald. McIntyre did not consider it fair to increase the salaries of city officials when the poor teamsters were allowed to go without a living wage.

The Mayor claimed that their wage had been increased 12 or 13 per cent., which was more than the city officials were granted.

The famous strike of the city teamsters therefore belongs to the past.

Death Resulted Before His Native Home Was Reached

Altitude of 7,000 Feet However, Was Safely Passed—Funeral of Late Dr. Neill Held This Afternoon From Brother's Residence—History of His Travels in Search of Health.

THE STORY OF HIS DEATH

The remains of the late Dr. Chas. Neill, who passed away on Tuesday on a train going into Chicago, arrived in the city on the C.P.R. local last night, and this afternoon at 2 o'clock were conveyed to their last resting place in the Little Lake Cemetery. The body of the deceased man was accompanied by Mr. N. D. Neill of Brantford, who recently went to El Paso, Texas, to bring his brother home to Canada.

Mr. N. D. Neill, at the request of the doctor in attendance upon his brother, went south to accompany him home, being informed that he was hopelessly ill. The late Dr. Neill, previous to taking up his residence in the Hotel Dieu, El Paso, resided for some time at Las Cruses, about 50 miles distant.

El Paso was left on Sunday afternoon, when the two brothers began their long journey northwards to Canada, accompanied by a trained nurse, who came as far as Chicago. The doctor attending his brother advised Mr. Neill that if the now deceased man could be gotten beyond the rarified air of the mountains, about 200 miles this side of El Paso, he could be gotten home alive. The altitude at that point is 7,000 feet above sea level, so that the greatest care had to be exercised.

The round of death almost fell upon the sick man coming through this great altitude, but he witnessed the journey and afterwards rallied. From there the journey was made in safety until nearing Chicago, when death overcame the doctor and he passed away on the train at Rock Island about noon on Tuesday. Toronto was reached yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, and the body was brought on to Peterborough on the local.

Dr. Chas. Neill was born in Barrie in the year 1868. He was a graduate of Trinity College, Toronto, and for eight years practised dentistry in Peterborough. He gave up his business here about four years ago on account of ill-health, and spent some time in Muskoka at Ketcheoum Lake, Calgary, Colorado Springs and Denver, before going to Texas. He only became seriously ill about the first of January last. His death was due, according to four or five medical experts, to consumption, contracted in the course of the practice of his profession.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Mr. R. Neill's residence. The following acted as pall-bearers: Messrs. Robt. Neill, Peterborough; N. D. Neill, Brantford; Jno. Neill, Whitby; Samuel Neill, Guelph; B. F. Reesor, Lindsay, and Jno. A. Phin, of Toronto. A large number of floral tributes were presented, among them being a beautiful "Gates Ajar" by some of the deceased's Peterborough friends.

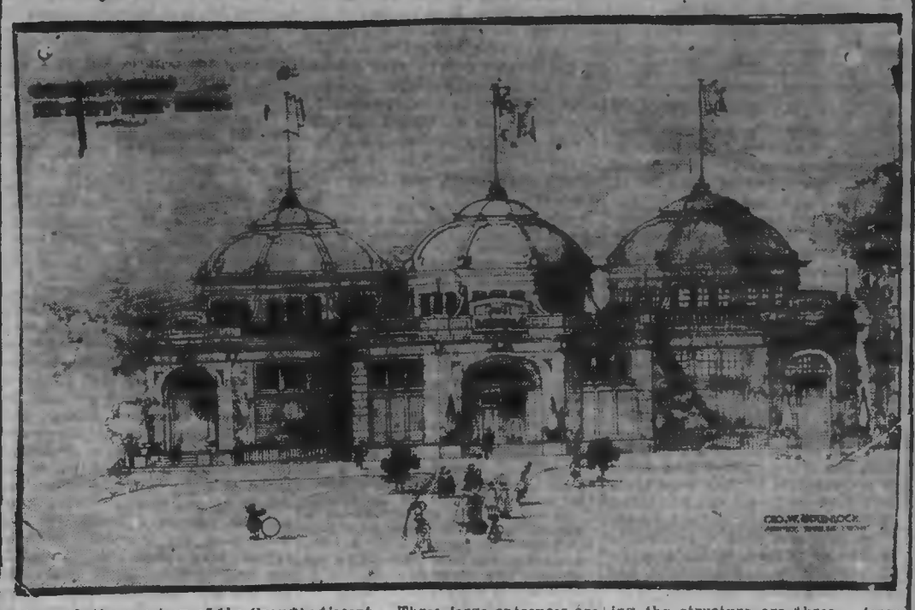
THE CANADIAN RAILWAYS' EXHIBIT BUILDING FOR THE TORONTO INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION



Through the courtesy of the Grand Trunk Railway System the Examiner is able to give the above reproduction of the Canadian Railway's Exhibit building that is being erected this year on the Toronto Exhibition Grounds. This latest addition to Toronto's Exhibition Park will be a large capacious building for the Canadian Railways, forming a permanent building for their exhibits. In plan it will take the form of three octogonal halls, joined together by a central passage with toilet rooms and offices adjacent. Three large entrances are provided fourteen feet wide, with terrace of steps to each; a shipping platform opening on to each hall being provided at rear.

Abundance of light is obtained from sides and through large domes over. Dimensions of each half are 62 x 62 making a total frontage facing each road of 120 feet. The general exterior is designed to give a pleasing and subdued effect to the eye, stone and brick being blended together, with just the necessary ornament to make one harmonious whole. Surmounting the structure are three large ornately proportioned domes giving the necessary light, air-space and picturesque sky-line to the building. Space is provided by stone panels for all necessary inscriptions and signs over each main entrance. Twenty-two feet in height is provided to striking of domes inside; total height from floor to top of dome being about 56 feet in all.

When complete the structure will rank as one of the most picturesque well planned, convenient and useful buildings standing in Toronto's Park of Exhibits. Estimated cost is $40,000.

The Train Was Almost Wrecked

Timbers in Bridge Across Patterson's Creek Gave Way as Lakefield Train Was Passing Over—Train Rocked From Side to Side.

TIMBERS RESTED ON GROUND

The passengers travelling on the noon G.T.R. train to Lakefield today had a very narrow escape from injury, or possibly worse, before the train had left the city limits. As a result of the accident referred to, the bridge over the creek between Brock and Murray streets, was left in a precarious condition and some of the cars were almost thrown from the track at this point.

The engine passed over the structure in safety, but the heavy freight cars behind caused a couple of decayed timbers across which the ties are laid, to give way. The train rocked from side to side, and according to witnesses of the occurrence the coaches narrowly escaped being upturned.

The large timbers which were broken in two, spanned the second section from the north end of the bridge, and were the two which supported the ties on the eastern side. Luckily the distance to the ground beneath, where at present there is no water, was not great, so that the ends of the broken timbers rested on the earth. Apparently this alone saved the coaches from upsetting and protected the passengers from injury.

The east rail of the track had sunk several inches below the other as the train passed over, but finally rested about 4 inches below. Temporary repairs were made this afternoon to permit of the return of the train at five o'clock, but before the bridge will be in a proper condition new timbers will have to be installed.

Later it was learned that the cause of the breaking of the timbers was the passing over of six coal cars each containing 50 ton of coal, making a total weight of 600,000 lbs. A number of men were despatched to the scene of the broken bridge to repair it this afternoon.

PETERBOROUGH NOT THE ONLY DOG-GONE(D) CITY

Rochester Canines are Disappearing by the Arsenic Route.

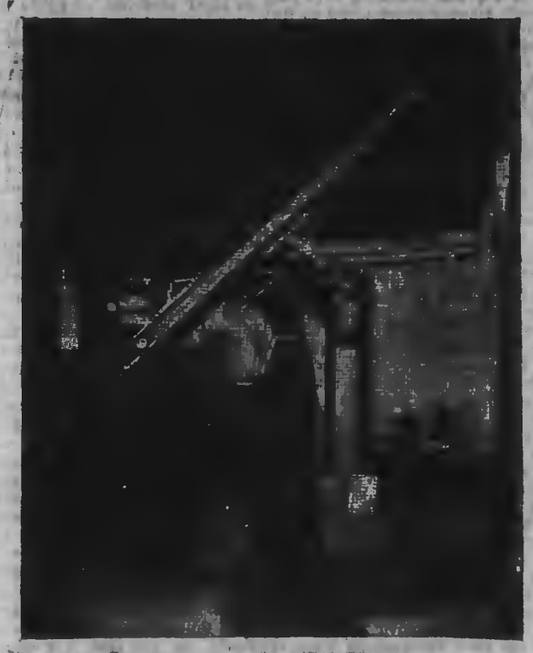
Peterborough is not the only city that is stricken with an epidemic of dog-poisoning. The trouble is almost universal, according to the press. The following from the Rochester Post relates one instance of a poisoner's work in the City of Flowers:

A dozen dogs poisoned in a fortnight is the record of the neighbourhood of Meigs, Harvard and Oxford streets. In the case of two dogs, arsenic was used, and it is supposed that the same poison was used in all. The dog owners of the neighbourhood are thoroughly aroused over the cases, and the Humane Society is making efforts to find out who does the poisoning.

Suspicion points to one resident who was heard to remark that if the dogs of that part of the city were not kept in their own back yards, there would be fewer of them. No proof has been obtained.



Five Inch Telescope of Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville, Who Will Lecture To-morrow Night, on "The Universe; How Big is It?"

At the regular fortnightly meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society, on Friday evening, in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, the president of the local section, Dr. Marsh, will deal with a most interesting subject, "The Universe—How Big is it?" The topic is suggestive of its importance to every student of astronomy, and every member of the society is urgently requested to attend.

To deal with such a subject scientifically means that no guesswork is permissable, and only proven facts may be presented. Modern astronomy, through careful observation, with the assistance of marvellously accurate instruments, has placed the subject on a scientific basis.

Dr. Marsh for many years has made a carful study of this feature of astronomy, and he is recognized as an authority on the subject. He has taken special care in the preparation of this lecture, so as to present the matter in a form readily grasped by the most amateur.

The executive of the society are very anxious that every member shall attend this meeting, owing to the importance of the topic, as it embraces somewhat of a summary of the entire study of astronomy.

This meeting will be open to the public and all who are interested in this study are cordially invited.

FRED SIMPSON WILL RUN UNDER COLOURS OF PETERBOROUGH Y. M. C. A. IN EXAMINER RACE THIS YEAR

Fred Simpson, the Hiawatha Indian, who ran so cleverly in the Examiner road race last Thanksgiving, will this year enter the race under the colours of the Y.M.C.A.

Simpson has joined the local association, and although at present he is working on a drive at South River, near Georgian Bay, is commencing to train for the event.

There are not a few who considered Simpson's work, in his first race here last Thanksgiving, as surprising, considering that he had done but little training. Out of an entry list of about 25 contestants, the fleet-footed Indian finished third, and it was generally conceded that he was the freshest man of them all at the conclusion of the ten mile run. Simpson has therefore many admirers, who believe that he has plenty of speed, and that he will gain a reputation for himself in coming sprinting events.

The Indian is now at South River, in the employ of Mr. Geo. Strain, and is working on a drive in company with a number of other Indians from the Hiawatha reserve. He has written to Mr. Dick Baker, the Y.M.C.A. trainer, stating that he will begin at once to get into shape. He asked for some of the oil for the muscles, and stated that if at all possible he would enter the ten mile road race in Toronto on the 29th of June. He wished, too, to be given instructions as to diet, etc., so that he means business.

Simpson is yet only a young man in the prime of life. His associations with running have, up to the present, been slight, the Examiner road race of last year being the only one of any account in which he has participated. He has, nevertheless a wide circle of admirers who predict a bright future for him, so that his actions in the sprinting arena will be watched with interest.

Condemnation Of The Unjust And Unfair Three-fifths Clause

Strong Resolution to This Effect Passed at Temperance Meeting in Charlotte Street Methodist Church Last Night.

TEMPERANCE ADDRESSES

The annual temperance meeting in connection with the Charlotte street Methodist Church was held last night, when in three admirable addresses three phases of the temperance question were dealt with, and a resolution condemning the Three-fifths Clause in the Local Option Act as passed by the Ontario Government, was unanimously adopted by the meeting, which was unanimous in its denunciation of this clause, as unjust to the temperance people of the Province.

The detrimental effects of the liquor traffic were dealt with by Mr. S. A. Armstrong in an address in which he referred in detail to the ravages the traffic was making among the young men of the land.

Mr. A. B. Cunningham spoke on the attitude of the Ontario Government towards the temperance problem. He stated his belief that in many respects they were to be commended; in the first place for the enforcement of the License Law, and for the action taken in refusing to grant licenses in municipalities in which Local Option bylaws had been quashed by technicalities. The proposal to amend the law to prevent a mere technicality being considered sufficient grounds for quashing a bylaw, was approved.

In the matter of the Three-fifths Clause, however, there was nothing but condemnation for the action of the Government. This clause was considered most unjust to the temperance element, and the speaker believed that unless this ground of complaint was removed no support could be looked for from the temperance electors.

The question of the Franchise was dealt with by the pastor, who sought to impress upon his hearers the sacredness of their right to vote. He declared that it was the duty of Christians and of temperance advocates to put the matter of principle before that of party allegiance, when the elimination or curtailment of the liquor traffic was at stake.

Following the addresses referred to the following resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted by the meeting:—

(Resolved,—That we express our appreciation and hearty approval of the Government's policy of strict enforcement of License and Local Option Laws, and

That we commend the policy of no issue of licenses where Local Option bylaws have been quashed on technicalities.

That we heartily endorse the intimation of Premier Whitney that legislation be enacted preventing the quashing of Local Option bylaws on trivial technicalities, and that the expressed will of the people be maintained.

Resolved,—That effective law enforcement removes all necessity for three-fifths majority, and that we respectfully urge our representative, Mr. T. E. Bradburn to assist the government in every way possible in the removal of this objectionable and unnecessary clause.

A. B. CUNNINGHAM,
Chairman Temperance Committee.
A. BROWN,
Secretary.
Per H. M. M.

During the meeting appropriate musical numbers were rendered, Miss Frances Manning singing a solo, and the quartette, Messrs. Prest, Clarke, Hammar and LeBar, gave a selection.

Mr. Jas. O'Brien received a cable to-day from his son, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, dated Rome, stating that he had arrived in that city safely, and that he was in perfect health. Before he leaves Rome, the popular priest will have an audience with His Holiness, Pope Leo.

Induction Of New Pastor At Warsaw On May 23rd

Special Meeting of Peterborough Presbytery Was Held Yesterday in Toronto, When the Matter Was Decided Upon.

MR. CAMP TO THE "SOO"

Examiner Special.

Toronto, May 16.—A special meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough was held in connection with the Synod of Toronto and Kingston in St. James' Square Church, Toronto, yesterday. The Rev. J. Skene presided, and with him were Rev. Messrs. MacLennan Reeves, Marsh, D.S.C.; Burns, McLeod, McDonald, Potter, Abraham, Camp, and Dr. Sinclair, with Messrs. Fowler and Cullen, Elders.

The Rev. G. A. MacLennan of Norwood was elected a commissioner to the General Assembly, instead of Rev. A. C. Reeves, who intends taking a special course in post-graduate theology in McCormick Seminary in June and July.

The Rev. W. R. Johnston, B.A., resigned the pastorate of Bethesda and Alnwick, and the congregation is cited to appear for its interests at a special meeting of Presbytery to be held at Hastings on Tuesday, May 28, at 10 a.m.

The call to the Rev. A. E. Camp, B.A., Havelock, from St. Paul's, Steelton, Sault Ste. Marie, was presented. The call is very largely signed and unanimous.

The Presbytery decided to cite the congregation to appear at the meeting in Hastings on the 28th inst., when the call will be considered. Mr. Camp has given no hint as to his decision regarding the call.

Springville congregation were given permission to expend territorially, and the congregations of Pontypool and Jamestville were encouraged in their determination to arrange for a manse for their minister.

The Rev. Mr. Currie, recently called to Warsaw, notified Presbytery of his acceptance of the call, and arrangements have been completed for induction on May 23, in the afternoon. The clergymen who will take part in the exercises will be Rev. S. S. Burns, Rev. H. J. Keith, Rev. D. A. Thomson, Rev. G. A. MacLennan and Rev. D. D. McDonald.

DANDELION SANDWICHES THE LATEST

Italians Spring Something New in Light Lunches—Cost But Little.

This morning over 50 Italians arrived in the city from Montreal to work on the C.P.R. in and around the city. They will probably be engaged in repair work on the tracks and will be employed for some time.

A custom of the Italians caused some amusement this morning. Among their baggage were loaves of bread in bags, besides a little meat. When they determined they prepared for breakfast, which was of the light variety. They first scattered around the vicinity, and returned after a little while with their hats filled with dandelions. They had a knife or two, and passed them around and thus cut slices from the loaves of bread. Taking two of these, they made dandelion sandwiches, quite original, in fact, the yellow flowers being supposedly butter. They attacked them with relish and seat and were apparently satisfied with the taste. One or two of them had meat of some kind which disappeared with equal gusto.

Verdant nature is used on the table in more than one variety; nasturtium sandwiches are common, but it remained for the Italians to invent something new in the line, and, result—dandelion sandwiches.

MUSEUM OPEN ON FRIDAY EVENING

The Museum in Inverlea Park will be open to-morrow evening until dark. The society has received a number of requests from citizens, who have to work until six o'clock, and who are, as a result, unable to visit during the day, to open it during the evening occasionally. In view of this fact, Mr. Wallace, the secretary, has notified the press, that he will be there to-morrow until dark, and anyone who wishes to look through the building will be welcome to do so to-morrow. It will be open occasionally in the evenings during the summer, notice of this to be given through the press.

THE TEAPOT-TEMPEST STILLED

The striking city teamsters seem to have a good case. Absolutely in the increased cost of maintaining teams. With oats at from 40 to 43 cents per bushel, and hay from $14 to $15 per ton, it costs considerably to keep a team, that hasn't the happy faculty of living on air, as some aldermen, outside of Peterborough of course, seem to do. Relatively, for there has been a pretty general increase in the salaries of civic officials. Why the aldermen should stick at 15 cents a day on the pay of teamsters with heavy work to do, while officials with comparatively light work and little responsibility—for they are not all of them kept to their responsibility—appears peculiar. Why, the extra amount that would go to teamsters if they were given the fifteen cents per day demanded, would hardly amount to the hotel bill of an alderman on a deputation to Toronto or Ottawa, which is sometimes necessary and expedient, and sometimes slightly otherwise.

Besides, the matter of wear and tear to body, soul and harness, resulting to teamsters and their equipages in using some of our streets deserves compensation to the amount of, at least, 15 cents per day. There is work for teamsters and, if they are put at work at the advanced wages, there is not a reasonable ratepayer who would object if they were put to some very much needed work. On passing through the streets this morning after last night's rain, one saw on George, Hunter, Aylmer and other streets, numerous holes in the road-bed, filled with water and mud, being gouged deeper by every passing wheel. At the intesection of Hunter and George streets there is quite a little colony of mud holes. If a teamster or teamsters were put at work drawing street metal to fill these holes even at $3.75 per day, it would be a good investment.

Why can't the members of the Board of Works see these things? Why can't they do the little work that would keep the surface of these streets in good order? It is poor economy to save in teamsters' wages and allow holes to develop that are an absolute disgrace. At the intersection of Hunter and Rubidge streets, there were two or three deep mudholes. The wonderfully constituted Board of Works drew a small load of gravel and slid it into one of the holes on the side of the street, not much used; but other holes were neglected. This is over a week ago. One of the holes left is at the edge of the wooden crossing and a vehicle coming from the west will plunge into this hole and the wheel will come with a heavy thud against the edge of the crossing, at least a foot above the bottom of the abyss, with danger of smashing it. One can be sure that the ratepayers would not grudge the extra 15 cents per day demanded by the teamsters, to put out of commission such man-traps that abound in all our streets. The reasonable citizen does not object to paying taxes if even reasonable value can be got from their expenditure. But the most unreasonable taxpayer can easily justify his "kick" against paying taxes to be dumped into mudholes in our streets.

Since the foregoing was in type the strike has been practically settled. The council has magnaminously granted the teamsters $3.65 per day, thus saving 10 cents a day. Let the teamsters and taxpayers both be thankful for small favours; the teamsters for an extra 15 cents per day, and the taxpayers that we have a Board of Aldermen that are such astute financiers. But the saving effected can easily be neutralized by an increase of salary to some civic official or by the expense of an aldermanic deputation to some city to find out how to make a sewer carry water up grade.

It is not pleasant to have to write of these things, and aldermen naturally object to such criticisms. Remove the cause or the causes and the result will cease.

An inventor claims to have devised a means of automatically preventing railway accidents. Turn about is fair play. Railways seem to have developed a way of producing accidents automatically.

HASTEN GENTLY

There are two sides to every question, and municipal ownership and operation of public utilities is no exception. While the experience of Peterborough with civic ownership and operation of the waterworks is satisfactory, so far, under a commission's good management, it is not at all clear that we should have, or should not have, a similar experience with operating, say, a lighting system or a street railway system. It is impossible to dogmatize on the merits of public ownership and operation; all depends on the manner in which the operating is done. The Hamilton Times devotes, from time to time, considerable attention to the weaknesses and failure of municipal ownership and operation of public utilities. It prints, as one day's instalment, these instances:

Mr. Samuel A. Freshley, manager of the Grand Rapids, Mich., municipal electric light plant, is a believer in doing public business on business principles, and therefore, in his recent report to the Council, he recommends that the city abandon its municipal plant, which it has operated for nine years, and contract with a private company for its lighting. The city of Grand Rapids has had the experience common to most municipalities that have embarked in municipal ventures. The service was "good in spots," but it has never paid, and has been a constant source of wrangling. Now the plant is so insufficient and behind the age that it is necessary to do something. The present cost of the service is $21,186.84, and the Muskegon Company offers to furnish it for $14,964, besides giving some advantages not furnished in the past.

Chatham, Ont., is having trouble over its municipal electric plant. A Montreal man offers to furnish power produced by gas engines for pumping water and for electric lighting at a cost of $15 a horsepower. City power costs $67. The proposed plan would reduce the cost of operation of these services very materially. The Council will get particulars and consider the offer. If this Montreal man can furnish power at $15, Mr. Beck will have to face keen competition.

These instances do not by any means settle the question of the desirability or undesirability, the feasibility or impracticability, of municipal ownership. As remarked, a great deal depends on the application of the principle of municipal operation. It may not be an edifying or illuminating statement, but about all that can be said is that, if municipal operation of public utilities is successfully conducted, it will be successful. That is as far as one can safely go at present. Dr. Morrison, President of the Board of Trade, harked back to a characteristic of his Scottish forebears in counselling caution — exercising canniness—in embarking upon municipal ownership and operation of a lighting system. Everything will depend upon its management, and the question arises whether we are ripe for trying the experiment. Judging by analogy, we are not. Since Peterborough was incorporated as a town in 1850, we have been experimenting with municipal operation of street building and maintenance. If, in fifty-seven years, we have failed to learn how to do this successfully—if, in that time—with nearly three score years of experience—municipal management has resulted in the streets we have to-day, what would be the result if municipal management should attack the lighting enterprise without an atom of experience? If we contemplate municipal ownership and operation of a lighting plant, we should, as the President of the Board of Trade suggests, go slowly. The principle is on trial, and the net results are just beginning to accrue. The fullest possible information should be obtained, the successes should be set against the failures, for there are both, and a balance be struck. If we are to go into municipal ownership and operation of public utilities, let us do so with our eyes open—knowing the best and the worst of it.

ROSS WAS RIGHT

The Supreme Court has upheld the view of Hon. Mr. Ross and of the Minister of Finance of the Dominion by its judgment in the suit over interest moneys of the Province now in the hands of the Dominion Government. It will be remembered that in stating the financial standing of the Province the Treasurer of the Ross Government included among its assets a sum of money amounting to nearly $2,000,000 on which interest was paid annually by the Dominion. Hon. Mr. Matheson, the present Treasurer, and the entire Opposition challenged the correctness of this course, and asserted that the Province did not own such an asset, could not collect it, and that the Dominion could not pay it over, but must merely pay the interest; and much was made of the matter by the Opposition's financial critics. The Dominion Government was asked for its view, and Hon. Mr. Fielding gave it, to the effect that the Dominion might at any time rid itself of the trust by paying over the principal to the Province.

To get an intelligent idea of the matter it must be understood that these trust moneys consisted of $312,769 of the Upper Canada Grammar school fund; $1,472,391 of the Upper Canada building fund, and $124,685 of the Upper Canada improvement fund. At the time of Confederation the Dominion took over these funds from the Province in trust, and until January 1st paid interest thereon to Ontario at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum. This was, of course, a fine snap for Ontario, but as 3 per cent. was more like the borrowing rate paid by the Dominion, it was a little hard on it. On January 1st, 1905, the Federal Government determined to cut down the rate of interest to 4 per cent., offering at the same time to the Province the alternative of paying over the whole principal and letting the Province invest the funds for itself. After the great ado made over the matter and the contention of the Whitneyites that the money in question was not an asset of Ontario and that the Dominion Government could not pay it over, and could not rid itself of the 5 per cent. liability. Mr. Whitney's Government could not very well accept it and a cut from 5 to 3 per cent. in the revenue therefrom without protest. It did resist. It entered suit in the Exchequer Court to compel the Dominion to continue paying interest at 5 per cent. This claim was upheld by the courts. The Dominion also secured a decision of the court that the Province could be compelled to accept the principal if the Federal Government desired to pay it over. Each side appealed from these decisions, and the judgment of the Supreme Court now dismisses both appeals. Whether appeal will be carried to the Privy Council is yet to be made known, but it is far from likely that it would be successful.

The net result is that the contention of Hon. Mr. Ross and Mr. Fielding is sustained; the correctness of the Ross Government's statement of the Provincial surplus is affirmed and its critics (now in power) are discredited; the Dominion is relieved from paying the 5 per cent. rate, and the Province must accept the principal, on which it will get about 3 per cent—until it is squandered.

Time and the course of events are justifying the Ross Government.—Hamilton Times.

Ottawa has an Improvement Commission. Peterborough has an Improvement Omission.

There are 900 men concerned in strikes in Toronto. It is feared that this condition will delay building operations.

Toronto plumbers are on strike. The Globe has put its poetry machine out of gear and stowed it in the basement.

If Toronto had put as much wisdom into its bargain with the street railway as it is putting indignation into its abuse of the Privy Council, the indignation would have been unnecessary.

Burning the parliament buildings and pelting the Queen in the person of her representatives with overmature eggs; the Mail and Empire's "so much the worse for British connection" and Tory Toronto booting the Imperial Privy Council, show that Conservatism is always ready to rebel when it can't have its way.

Had a Nasty Bronchial Cough

AS AN AFTER EFFECT ON PNEUMONIA—NOTHING PROVED EFFECTIVE UNTIL WE USED

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

Many a mother can say, as does Mrs. Harker, in the following letter, that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, has proved a friend to her in time of colds, with the little ones.

Mrs. Walter Harker, Sydenham, Frontenac county, Ont., writes:

"Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, has proved a friend to me in times of colds with my little ones. I have tried many others, but have found none just as good. My little boy, about a year old, had pneumonia and was left with a nasty bronchial cough, but Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is helping him wonderfully and I am sure it will cure him.

"We have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with splendid results and have great faith in all of Dr. Chase's medicines."

It may not have occurred to you that both bronchitis and asthma are diseases of the nerves of the bronchial tubes and lungs and that is why severe attacks of coughing are brought on whenever these nerves are irritated by changing temperature, the breathing of dust or emotional excitement.

It is by its remarkable facility for soothing the nerves and absorbing the delicate membranous linings with a protective coating that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has proven so thoroughly effective as a cure for bronchitis and asthma. Its power in these disease is unquestionable.

Relief from coughing comes almost immediately and by persistent use a cure is gradually and certainly brought about.

When the system is greatly run down it is advisable to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in order to assist in restoring vigour to the wasted nerves.

A MAGISTRATE INVESTIGATES ZAM-BUK

Says is a Wonderful Healer and Does More Than is Claimed For It

Probably no household remedy in existence has won such glowing tributes from people in high places as has Zam-Buk. Mr. Roger F. Perry, Justice of the Peace for British Columbia, recently tested this famous balm, and this is what he says of it:

"The Pavilion,
"Goldfields, B.C.

"To the Zam-Buk Co.:

"Gentlemen.—After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years standing which no doctor has been able to do any good for.

"I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in their home. It truly does even more than you claim for it. For my own part I would not now be without it in the house. Yours very truly, ((Signed) "Roger F. Perry,

"Justice of the Peace for B. C."

Zam-Buk differs from ordinary salves and embrocations, for while these mostly contain animal oils and fat Zam-Buk is purely herbal. It closes and heals cuts, festering sores, ulcers, eruptions, boils, eczema, chafing sores etc. In the household it is the handiest possible remedy for burns, scalds, children's injuries. It instantly cleanses any wound to which it is applied; prevents festering, inflammation or blood poison. It cures piles, varicose ulcers, and fistula. All druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box, or from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 6 boxes for $2.50.

Music and Drama

THAT IRISH BOARDER

As "That Irish Boarder," Tom Marks delighted an audience of goodly proportions at the Grand Opera House last night. In a role, for which nature has eminently fitted him, Tom Marks gave further evidence of his versatility, and incidentally kept the audience in roars of laughter. The most humorous situations developed out of the boarder's efforts to keep out of the clutches of the widow, Smith. How he succeeded in doing this, and how he saved his friend, the young doctor, from going to jail, and the farmer and family from losing their property are admirably told in the play. He proved the undoing of the villain, for of course there was one—and gave life and humour to the story. There were the usual good specialties between the acts. To-night "The Wife" will be the attraction, and on Saturday night the amateurs will be given a chance.

FAREWELL BANQUET AND PRESENTATION

Two Members of the Test Departmen of the C. G. E. Honoured Before Departure.

Long's Palm Parlours last evening were the scene of a farewell banquet and a double presentation in honour of two members of the Test Department of the C. G. E., who are leaving Peterborough, one for Toronto and the other for the Canadian West. The banquetted were Messrs. Norman E. Bell and R. S. Cotton. Mr. Cotton leaves the city next week for the West in course of the construction work of the Canadian General, while Mr. Bell left this morning for Toronto, where he has secured a position.

After partaking of the excellent supper, a toast list, in which most of the members of the Test Department and a number of ex-members took part, was run off. During this, Mr. Bell was presented with an address, read by Mr. Wallace Van Norman, and a gold fob by Mr. Herb Hamilton. Mr. E. M. Hooker read the address to Mr. Cotton, and Mr. Gordon Hall presented him with a gold mounted pipe.

The recipients of the handsome gifts responded, thanking the boys for their kindness. They expressed their regret at parting from Peterborough and the C. G. E., where they also had the most pleasant associations with their fellow workers.

The banquet was presided over in a most capable manner by Mr. Louis Bolin, who directed the course of events.

The banquet closed about midnight with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the "National Anthem."

GOOD RECORD OF CHEMONG TRAPPER FOR RAT SEASON

Dan Whetung Led, But Others Had Successful Season—5,570 Skins Gathered This Year.

SOME FIGURES ARE GIVEN

Reference has been made in these columns to the great catches of muskrats made by Dan Whetung, of the Chemong Indians, this season. Yesterday Mr. Whetung supplied the Examiner with a detailed statement of the number of rat pelts sold by those members of the Band, as well as by a few trappers in Ennismore.

No fewer than 5570 rats were trapped by the Indians and the few Ennismore trappers engaged in this work during the last season. These were all sold to local furriers, and brought from thirty to forty cents each. It will be seen, therefore, that trapping has proved a profitable occupation for those who engaged in it this season. The tale of the rats is told in the following figures:

Good Programme For City Teachers' Convention

Interesting Feature of the Annual Gathering Will be an Address by Prof. Auden, Principal of Upper Canada College.

INTERESTING SUBJECTS

The programme for the annual convention under the auspices of the Teachers' Institute, for the city of Peterborough, which will be held in the Central School on Wednesday and Thursday, May 22nd and 23rd, has been arranged, and it is one of more than ordinary interest. At the public meeting which will be held on the evening of Wednesday, an address will be given by Prof. H. W. Auden, principal of Upper Canada College, Toronto, on "Tendencies in Education." In addition to the lecture a good musical programme will be given. It will be contributed to by Miss K. Wallis, Miss M. Burnett and Mr. Freeland. To this session the public is cordially invited.

The sessions for the teachers will open on Wednesday morning at 9.30, when the minutes of the last convention will be read and this will be followed by the address of the president, Mr. J. W. Kelly. Mr. F. E. Kerr will give an address on Cardboard Modelling, and Miss M. McCarthy will address the teachers on water colours. A talk on Composition by Mr. Wallace, followed by a discussion, will close the session.

In the afternoon Mrs. W. J. Morrow will address the convention on Voice Culture, and this will be followed by an address from Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, B.A., who will take as his subject, "Liberal Education." Mr. M. O'Brien, Inspector of Separate Schools, will follow with an address on "Questioning." This will close the afternoon session.

At the Thursday morning session the subject of Geography will be taken up by Mr. M. J. McDonnell; Mr. J. C. Smythe will discuss Commercial Geography, and Mr. Walkey Physical Geography. An interesting feature of this session will be an address by Mr. R. N. Merrett, B.A., who will speak on "Science of Arithmetic, with applications."

At the afternoon and closing session Mr. William Smith will give an address on Literature; Miss M. A. O-Connell will follow and speak on Intermediate Literature, and Miss Thomas on Primary Literature. The last address in the convention will be by Mr. D. Walker, B.A., Public School Inspector. Mr. Walker will speak on Schoolroom Ethics.

It will be seen from the programme that a most interesting series of addresses and papers has been arranged and considerable benefit should be derived from the gathering. The president of the Institute is Mr. J. W. Kelly, and the secretary, Mr. F. E. Kerr.

CONSTABLE ADAM'S NEW BATON

Was Cut from a Sour Apple Tree and Will Prove Distasteful to Offenders.

P. C. Adams has a new baton, and it's a dandy. It is polished and smoothed, and is peaceful enough to look at, but in the hands of the officer it takes on a vastly different appearance and is a very formidable weapon. (When asked about it this morning, as to the tree from which it was cut, Officer Adams awaited those present to guess as to the species of wood. Some said maple, another hickory, while a wiseacre suggested that it might be of Lebanon cedar, but none of the answers were correct.

"It was cut from a sour apple tree," said the officer, "that is, an apple tree that grew from seed. It was planted on the Court House grounds, and I had a good sized limb cut off, and this is the result."

It certainly has no soft spots, and when used in emergency cases will leave a sore spot wherever it strikes. The local police, however, are not butchers, and the club is drawn only as a last resort.

Reginald Rochon Had A Very Narrow Escape

Kenora Boy, Who Has Visited in Peterborough, and is Well Known Here, Almost Fatally Shot by Accident.

WAS SHOOTING RABBITS

The Kenora Miner and News in a recent issue, tells of the almost fatal accident which Mr. Reginald Rochon, of that town met with. Mr. Rochon is well known to a number of Peterborough persons and has visited here on different occasions. The Miner and News referring to the accident, says:—

Reginald Rochon, a popular clerk in Supt. Scully's office of the C. P. R., accidentally shot himself in the abdomen while out near the Scramble mine on Sunday, and now lies between life and death at St. Joseph's Hospital.

It appears that he was out driving with two other young men, W. McCannon and W. Cameron, and seeing a rabbit shot at it, but failed to kill the animal. In order to put the rabbit out of misery, "Reg." as he is popularly known, hit it with the butt end of his revolver. This action caused one of the cartridges to explode, the ball passing through his hand and entering his abdomen. His companions drove the injured young man to town, as quickly as possible, and medical attendance was hastily summoned. As operation was decided upon to save the young man's life, and it was found that one of the intestines had been punctured. The delicate operation of the surgeon's was a success, and unless peritonitis sets in the patient has a fair chance of recovery.

Reginald Rochon is a son of Joseph Rochon, who came down from Winnipeg at once when notified of the accident. He is also a nephew of Mrs. P. H. Austin. He is a great favourite among his young friends and all with whom he has become acquainted since coming to Kenora. Sincere regret is expressed at the unfortunate accident and his struggle for life will be watched with the keenest sympathy.

DELEGATE WILL GO TO WINNIPEG

Mr. A. McCollum, Was Chosen by Combined Chapters of Brotherhood.

A splendid meeting of the Peterborough combined Chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held last night at St. John's school. Mr. R. J. Devey, director of St. John's Chapter, presided, supported by Canon Davidson, Mr. A. Kingdon, director of St. Luke's Chapter, Mr. Bennett, Mr. F. Linton, Mr. J. R. Bell and a good number of Brotherhood men.

The meeting opened with devotional exercises and at once proceeded to discuss the ways and means of sending a delegate to the Dominion convention, at Winnipeg, on May 23rd. After Messrs. Bell and Bennett had presented their report a long discussion ended by the members present pledging themselves to procure the necessary $50 by Saturday, at noon.

Mr. J. Bell, Mr. Bennett and Mr. A. McCallum were nominated, and a ballot resulted in the election of Mr. A. McCallum whose election was then made unanimous. Although St. John's Chapter in voting strength was about eight to one, a most pleasing feature was the election of St. Luke's Chapter for the honour of representing Peterborough at this important convention. The funds are being provided by the three city chapters.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY

The Tate Optical Co., Peterborough:

DEAR SIRS—During the last three or four years (prior to May last) my eyesight had failed to such an extent that I was unable to read or see anything at close range and could get no Glasses that would help me. I tried two different Opticians in Toronto and was told by both that they could do nothing for me, and that my sight would never be better. A statement of my case was sent to Montreal by a Hastings optician and several pairs of Glasses sent me, but with the same result my vision could not be improved. Last May, while looking at a Pair of Glasses you made for Mr. John Fife, Keene, and talking with him he advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, and I am pleased to say that the Pair of Glasses he made for me have given me entire satisfaction and I can do now what I have not done for years past—read any ordinary print and see distinctly at close range. I feel very grateful, not only for the interest you have taken in my case, but particularly so for the blessing of good eyesight. Thanks to your knowledge and skill.

Yours truly,

(Signed) JOHN CARTER, Sr.,

SIX TEAMS ENTERED IN THE LEAGUE

Intermediate Baseball League Gets Away With a Good Start—Mr. Lang an Enthusiastic President

GAMES START IN TWO WEEKS

Six teams were received into the Intermediate City Baseball League, at a meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. parlours last night. Mr. James Lang, President, acted as chairman in a most acceptable manner. Mr. Lang is desirous of seeing some good games in the league, but is especially anxious to have the players preserve decorum at all times, and eliminate rowdyism and rough-house work.

There were six representatives, one from each team, besides a few supporters from each. The representatives were — Karenots, V. Carton, in the absence of Charlie Ray; Excelsiors, Harvey Staunton; Lilies, Herb Campbell; West Ends, Watson Butcher, Lakeviews, Harry Theobald; Strathconas, Chas. Curtis.

It was decided that these teams compose the league, as any other teams were absent through their own negligence, and if they desired to join they should have been present. The following players were then given permission to play:

Excelsiors. — H Belleghem, B Billington, W Clancy, F O'Shea, W Russell, D Rightmyer, C Chitheroe, B Johnston, R Phalan, F Guerin, O Coughlin, J Tobin, W Heuslip, J Seymour, T Munden, H Staunton.

Karenots — C Ray, V Carton, N N Geule, D Stone, L Borradaile, L Johnson, G Long, E Fox, F Conroy, A Bravender, C Lees, S Laing, S Ferguson, V Craig.

Lakeviews — J Mahoney, T J Cahon, P Milley, L Henry, O Kenneahey, H Theobald, C Goulain, T Menzies, M McGill, R Winch, L Doherty, V Wilson, A Letellier, G Houston, K Pentland, Fred Holland.

West Ends. — J McKern, A Rose, B Halpin, P Grange, L Dobson, C Dobson, E King, M Cameron, C Hagerman, N Moore, G Fowler, R Halpin, W Butcher, F Wellesley, L Cassidy, M McIntee, C Sherwood.

Lilies — E Foley, R Hillier, T Graham, E Sheppard, W Dunsford, W Dilston, F Chamble, J Price, R Pilling, T Connors, E Simmons, J Simmons, R Ryan, H A Webb, B Bartley.

Strathconas. — C Wilson, C Delaney, F Parnell, B Parnell, W Regan, O Curtis, B Heard, E Dormer, E Allison, H Crane.

It was decided to play a single schedule of home and home games at the Driving Park, the Oval and the Lilies' field on Paterson street. The matter of umpires was again discussed and the following will be asked to accept the duty at some time: W J Stacey, Herb Campbell, F D Craig, Jos Picard, Leo Derocher, Chris Graham and Harry Burridge.

The schedule of games will be drawn up on Saturday night at the "Y" by the following committee: Messrs. Ray, Campbell and Curtis. The games will be played in the evenings and will be of seven innings duration.

A small fee was asked as an entry from each club and the League gives promise of some fairly good ball—at least the games should be hotly contested. The first game will likely be on May 24, but none will commence before that date. The friends of the various clubs should take an interest in their progress and turn out and root for them.

GREAT INTEREST IN THE HORSE RACES

Turf Club's Matinee on May 24th, Should Attract a Large Crowd.

A great deal of interest is being taken in the programme of races which the Peterborough Turf Club will hold on May 24th at the Driving Park. There are three horse races on the card; a named race, a 2.30 class and a free-for-all and there promises to be a large field in each event. All the local fast ones and a number of outside horses will start and the programme will be an interesting one.

In addition to the horse race there will be a five mile Marathon race on the track, and a large number of local runners have already announced their intention of entering. Three good prizes are offered and no doubt a big crowd of runners will face the starter.

The games promise to be decidedly interesting and will no doubt be witnessed by a large crowd.

A CUP FOR THE CITY INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

Clubs Would Appreciate a Donation of a Cup for the Winners

At the meeting of the Intermediate Baseball League last night it was mentioned that the race for the championship would be greatly enlivened if some true sport would donate a cup. The clubs would much appreciate any movement in this direction and the games would be more warmly contested. The cup could be given to be played for every year, the club winning the league would hold the cup for a year. It is hoped that someone will feel disposed to be generous and help the boys.

The best place to buy sporting goods is Stratton's.

ROLLER HOCKEY

The roller hockey team will have another practice at the rink to-night after the skating. All players are asked to be on hand as the team must get into shape at once if games are to be arranged with outside clubs. A practice game will be played to-night and this will add to the interest of the workout.

ATHLETICS

The Y.M.C.A. Harriers' Club will hold their weekly run on Friday of this week, instead of last night. All the members possible are requested to be on hand sharp on time.

CITY'S WORK IN FULL SWING AGAIN

Teamsters Are Once More at Work and Everything is Lovely.

The city's work, which has been tied up to some extent by the teamsters' strike, is now in full swing, and the worried look has disappeared from the face of Street Commissioner Harry Evans. The teamsters went to work as usual this morning drawing from the city gravel pit.

The pathetic side of the Thaw-White case, will be shown in Magnificent Moving Pictures at Scott's Colliseum, 432 George Street. All parents should make an effort to be present to see these pictures and learn the moral necessity devolving on them to enlighten their children as to what they may have to encounter in life, so that they can be prepared to resist the temptations that may beset them.

Special efforts have been put forward to get the moral effect of this great case and in doing so, great expense has been incuned, but admission price will be the usual 5 cents. Thursday, Friday and Saturday only, so come early: Performances 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p. m. 2d-1

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

Chicago, May 16.—There was a wild opening in wheat. July 93 1-2 to 92 1-4; September 91 1-4 to 94 3-4; December 95 to 96, but the break was of short duration; offerings were quickly taken and prices started upward until July reached 93 1-2, September $1, December $1.02. We shall continue to have sharp fluctuations, and on all of these setbacks you should buy this what. It's bound to sell much higher. The weather map showed up a little better this morning but the bug reports are coming in thick and fast. It was a runaway market. The last hour the crowd was short and no wheat for sale. They simply jumped over themselves to get out. There was a little reaction just before the close, but the market showed from 4 1-2 to 5 cents advance from last night's finish.

Gillott, of Millbrook, was in the city this morning arranging for a concert which will be held in that village on the night of Victoria Day, May 24, in connection with the Millbrook Lacrosse Club. Mr. Gillott has secured some talent from this city and an interesting programme will be given. The object is to provide funds for the lacrosse club, and if the project is supported in a manner commensurate with the energy and enterprise of the manager of the club, Mr. Gillott, there will be a bumper house.

Nurse Tells Of Eczema Cure

Mrs. C. Stanley Jones, professional nurse, 283, Simcoe street, Toronto, writes: "In my occupation as nurse I have come across many cases in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used with extraordinary results. One case is that of a sixteen months old child who was cured of scald head and another that of a woman cured of eczema on the face after the doctors had given her up."

SOLAR INFLUENCE.

It Is Difficult For a Fire to Burn In the Sunlight.

"Did you ever know that fires don't burn as well in sunlight as they do in the shade or at night?" asked my friend, the man much given to hunting and fishing. "Of course they don't seem to because of the greater light from the sun, but I mean as an actual fact they don't. I noticed this thing when on a hunting trip up in Maine first, and how it happened to attract my attention was that the fire went out, totally out, before the sticks were entirely consumed. The wood was dry and resinous, and there was no reason, why every particle of it shouldn't have burned. The guide told me he had noticed the same sort of thing innumerable times when fires were burning in the sunlight, and this started me on an investigation which proved in actual practice that open fires not only don't burn so well when the sun's rays are shining on them and fail to throw out as much heat by thermometric tests, but often are actually extinguished by the sun if the rays are bright and strong enough. Coal fires are affected just the same as wood. Strange to say, several scientists to whom I have appealed asserted that the sun's rays could have no effect whatever on a fire. They do, however. I know this beyond all shadow of doubt, and I wonder what the reason is. Other scientists say it's because the heat of the sun adds to the consumption of oxygen of the atmosphere which is necessary to a blaze and also produces carbon, which helps to extinguish the fire."—New York Press.

MIRTH AT MEALS.

Flip In Jokes Like These Between Each Mouthful.

A doctor says, "Don't allow a meal to pass without a joke between each mouthful." This will enhance the value of humor to a great degree. Dinner will move along something like this: Mouthful of soup—screams of mirth, flakes of laughter and breadcrumbs pervading the air. Mouthful of roast duck reminds domestic humorist of something.

"Do you know why a duck goes into the water?" Long silence and more extensive eating. Domestic humorist answers it himself as follows: "For divers reasons." More bread, vegetables and general good feeling. "Why does he come out?" No answer and no sound but that of an old joke under the table cracking its knuckles. "For sun-dry purposes," explains the ready and brainy man, looking casually at a memorandum on his cuff. More dinner and then, "Why does he go in again?"

Nothing can be heard but the low mutter of a thinker, perhaps, as he grapples with the great problem. "To liquidate his bill." Yells of laughter, screams of delight and astonishing feats of digestion promoted by mirth. "And why does he again come out?" More thought and mastication; then the gastric jester says, "To make a little run on the bank," and amid a great shower of vest buttons and mirth the genial, all round tonic humorist and joy promoter goes on.

Too Roomy.

"Gracious!" exclaimed the economical mother. "I thought I had cut down this old suit of your father's so it would fit you, but it seems entirely too large yet."

"Yes, ma," replied the bright boy, "especially the 'wide ex-pants.'"—Catholic Standard and Times.

A Syllable's Difference.

"You are in a position to be praised for many things."

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum, "but sometimes a man's influence does not depend so much on what he is praised for as on what he is appraised for."—Washington Star.

Anxious To Accept Invitation to The Charlotte St. Church

Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Port Hope, Submits Invitation to Become Pastor of Charlotte Street Church to His Board.

A DEFINITE DECISION SOON

Examiner Special.

Port Hope, May 17.—Rev. G. W. Henderson, who, this June, will complete his second year as pastor of the Methodist Church here, has received an invitation to accept the pastorate of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, Peterborough, commencing July, 1908. As to whether he will accept the invitation, nothing definite has been decided yet. He has submitted the matter to the Quarterly Board of the church, and another meeting will be held early in the week, when it is expected that the matter will be definitely settled.

Rev. Mr. Henderson came to Port Hope two years ago this June, so that in 1908 he will only have been here three years, while he is a four-year man. In view of this fact there may be some difficulty in securing his release from the church here. Mr. Henderson, however, it is understood, is desirous of accepting the invitation to the Peterborough Church, and the Quarterly Board is likely to grant his request to be released at the end of three years.

Since Mr. Henderson came to Port Hope he has done excellent work and has become very popular with his congregation. His work among the young people of the church has made him a great favourite with them, while he is recognized as one of the leading pulpit speakers in the Methodist Church. It is expected here that the invitation will be accepted by Mr. Henderson, subject, of course, to the action of the Stationing Committee after the next meeting of the Quarterly Board.

The Examiner is informed that at the last meeting of the Quarterly Board of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church it was decided to extend an invitation to Mr. Henderson to accept the pastorate of the church here, after the expiration of the present pastor's term of two years, for which he was engaged. It is always understood, of course, that any arrangements made are subject to the approval of the Stationing Committee of the Conference.

INFANT'S BODY IN THE BUSHES

Gruesome Discovery Made by Small Boys at Lindsay While Playing Baseball Last Night

BODY IN A COTTON BAG

Lindsay, May 16.—This evening a short time before six o'clock, some boys who were playing ball in a vacant lot in the south ward, discovered concealed in some bushes, the body of an infant wrapped in a cotton bag and covered with a newspaper. The chief of police was summoned and had the remains taken to an undertaker's. There is at present no clue to the perpetrators of the deed. An inquest will be held.

ANOTHER LARGE PARTY OF IMMIGRANTS COMING

Is Expected in Quebec on Sunday Morning—May be a Little Late

Twelve hundred immigrants from the Old Country are expected to land at Quebec on Sunday morning. They are being conducted to Canada by the Salvation Army and are coming over on the Southwark. Colonel Kyle, of Toronto, is in charge of the party, and is crossing with them. All the immigrants will have been allotted places to work before the boat reaches the Canadian port. This is a part of the Army system which has been reduced to a science.

City's Deputation Held Conference With Mr. Beck

In Reference to the Proposal to Purchase the Property of the Peterborough Light and Power Company ---Nothing Decided On.

Examiner Special

Toronto, May 17. — A deputation from the city council of Peterborough, waited upon Hon. Adam Beck this morning, in regard to the city's proposal to acquire an existing electric power within its borders. Legislation for this purpose was secured at the last session of the Legislature, the purchase to be subject to the approval of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission. To-day's meeting was in the nature of a conference with Mr. Beck regarding the matter but nothing was decided upon.

Narrow Escape Of Little Boy From A Watery Grave

Eight-Year-Old Son of Smith Street Resident Tumbled Into the Swift Current—Rescued at the Last Moment by Mr. E. H. Thompson —Was Playing in a Punt.

A WARNING FOR PARENTS

The Otonabee River which has such a lengthy line of victims recorded against it was almost the scene of the first drowning tragedy of the year yesterday afternoon about five o'clock. The tragedy was only averted by the quickness and presence of mind of one who witnessed the final struggle for life of the little fellow who, while playing in a punt just below the Smith street bridge, tumbled from the boat and narrowly escaped a watery grave.

The little fellow who fell from the old punt was Joseph McCallum, the eight year old son of Albert McCallum Smith street, an employee of the Quaker Oats Company. His experience was one which he will not care to have repeated for some time. Falling backwards from the boat he tumbled into the swift current of the river which carrried him rapidly down stream.

Alarm was Sounded

Some boys playing near the shore witnessed the scene and gave the alarm which resulted in the rescue of the boy by Mr. E. H. Thompson, a contractor, who resides next door to the McCallum family. He had just arrived home from Chemong and was changing his clothes when he heard his wife scream for help. Mr. Thompson understood the cause for alarm and looking towards the water discovered the unfortunate youth tossing about in the current with his little hands extended in the air.

With but part of his clothes on, Mr. Thompson plunged into the river, reached the drowning boy gasping for breath as he was on the verge of sinking for the third and last time. The rescuer is a powerful swimmer yet with difficulty he braved the strong current and landed on shore with his precious burden in safety.

Mother was Anxious

In her anxiety to see her little son again, Mrs. McCallum, who had lain seriously ill in bed for more than a week walked to the shore of the river in night attire and with no covering on her feet. The little fellow, however, soon began to breathe freely and in a short time all fears as to his safety were dispelled.

The accident should not be without its results. Parents who reside in the vicinity of the river or lake should take particular care, especially in this season of the year, of the actions of their children. If Mr. Thompson had not been at his home last evening there would have been no possibility of the rescue of young McCallum, which can be considered nothing less than a miracle.

It is stated that the rescuer has a lengthy record for saving lives from drowning and the snatching from death of the youth last night made the seventh rescue during his career. He has also, it is understood, received medals from Humane Societies in the Old Country for his daring and presence of mind in similar cases and undoubtedly such actions as he performed last night should be suitably recognized.

Music and Drama

THE WIFE

The Grand held another audience of goodly number last night when the Tom Marks Company put on a splendid play entitled "The Wife." It pleased the audience and won more laurels for Mr. Marks whose stage work delights the local public. To-night the company will produce that fine Irish play Shamus O'Brien. The specialties will be featured and the coupons for the drawing on Saturday night will be given at the door. The prize is any dress now on display in the window of Mr. Richard Hall's store.

THE POWER COMMITTEE IN TORONTO

Waiting Upon the Hydro-Electric Commission To-day.

A deputation consisting of Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Stevenson, is in Toronto to-day for the purpose of waiting upon the Hydro-Electric Commission in reference to the proposed purchase of the Peterborough Light and Power Company's plant. It is necessary that the consent of the commission be secured before the city can go ahead with the purchase.

JUSTICE IN DANGER

A man who is described as "well dressed and of gentlemanly style," was arrested in Galt, charged with stealing a breast pin from a Bazaar. He pleaded guilty and said that the temptation to steal came over him so strongly that he could not resist it, and he stole the pin. The jeweller did not press the charge and the Magistrate allowed the thief to go on suspended sentence, practically free. Two questions at least arise out of this situation. One is whether an impulse to theft that cannot be resisted should, as it appears to have done in this case, furnish a justification for theft. The other is whether it is fair to society to turn such irresistible thieves loose on the community. It would appear that leniency of this kind, because a man or woman wears good clothes and has money in pocket, or has good connections and a respectable position in society, tends to encourage this sort of dishonesty. It, besides, destroys the illusion, which we, in this free country, dream of, that before the law all are equal, and demonstrates that we have one law for the rich and ostensibly respectable, and another for the poor. At least we have two ways of administering the law. If a poor man with a starving family, detected in stealing a loaf of bread, should raise the plea, that the desire to save his children from starvation, constituted an irresistible impulse to the appropriation of the bread, his plea would be laughed out of court and he would go to jail as fast as a policeman could drag him there.

Justice, the blind goddess, slipping the bandage aside far enough to recognize social distinctions and acting upon them, is bad enough, But when political reasons come into play to defeat the ends of justice and to permit the rascal to go unwhipt of justice, things are coming to a dangerous pass. We have the Orangeville case where one Jackson was charged with a serious crime, a crime which is wide-spread and operating to negatively depopulate our country, that of having caused the death of his sister-in-law, by the use of drugs, administered for a criminal purpose. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned, and after the evidence of two physicians showed that he had applied to them for drugs, had been taken, adjournment was made for luncheon. When the court resumed its sittings the counsel for the prisoner stated to the judge that the prisoner, on consultation, had changed his plea to "guilty." It appears that the Crown prosecutor acquiesced in the evident purpose of this change of plea—to secure immunity. The judge solemnly addressed the prisoner "dwelling at some length," the newspaper report says, "upon the prevalance of crimes of this character," to which the prisoner had pleaded guilty. To the surprise of everybody, except, it is to be assumed, those privy to the arrangement to defeat the ends of justice, the learned judge proceeded to make "crimes of this character" less "prevalent," by discharging the prisoner upon the ostensible ground that the prisoner had committed the crime for the purpose of shielding the girl from disgrace—for which he was presumably responsible. By a parity of reasoning the judge would have been justified in discharging the man if he had killed the girl to shield her from disgrace. Besides the scoundrel had "suffered in mind and business" on account of his crime. That any judge, being compos mentis would, for such palpably frivolous and palpably factitious reasons, set free a man with, according to his own confession, the blood of a fellow being on his soul, is inconceivable. There seems to be other reasons—one newspaper says the reasons are political. Whether or not this is the case, it appears that an explanation is due from the judge, the Crown Attorney or other persons as to the reasons that influenced, a course which to everyone, cognizant of the facts as given, represents a grave and gross miscarriage of justice. The government has a considerable mania for "investigating" officials, charged with the heinous offence of taking part in election contests. Certainly the government would be justified in investigating the circumstances, surrounding the deliberate liberation of a criminal, self-confessed—guilty of taking human life. What makes the alleged political aspect of the case more serious is the alleged fact as reported in the press that an active political worker in Manitoba, guilty of robbing His Majesty's mails, one of the most serious offences known to law outside of murder, was, through the exercise of political influence, set Scot free. Social-considerations poison in the well of justice is bad enough, but, when to this is added the bane of political considerations, we are certainly in a bad way.

EDITORIAL NOTES

An increase of nearly a hundred millions in the trade of Canada in one year is not a bad record. Last year the trade of Canada was greater than that of the previous year by $92,128,995.

Doubtless the members of the Imperial Parliament fairly represent the sentiments of their constituents. If this is so, then the people of Great Britain are not very close to Mr. Chamberlain's preferential policy, which involves taxing food stuffs brought from other countries besides British countries beyond the seas. This is shown by a majority of 273 in the British House of Commons against Austin Chamberlain's tariff reform resolution. Taxing the poor man's loaf is not yet popular. Imperial unity is something of a dream compared with the reality of cheap bread.

The Canadian Speaker, London, has given an invitation for the holding of the next Colonial Conference in Canada. Not a bad idea. If Britain is the Head of the Empire, Canada is its right arm. It would do the insular Britishers in power good to study colonial conditions and sentiments on the spot; and the attendance of the Premiers and Ministers of other colonies would tend to make the latter better acquainted and draw them closer together.

The Lord's Day Alliance is to take a hand in "saving the mischief averted," which, it is asserted, is likely to ensue from the decision of Judge Monson, of Toronto, that it is lawful for restaurant-keepers to sell candies and similar light refreshments on Sunday. Isn't it rather a matter for a Board of Health?

The Conservative newspapers are greatly distressed at present over the increase which has taken place in the expenditures of the Dominion Government, although they fail to show, the Brantford Expositor remarks, just what items they object to. Why do they affect so much unconcern over the increasing expenditures in Ontario? They will find, if they are interested in the matter, that the expenditure of the Province, under the John Sandfield Macdonald Government, increased at the rate of 11.3 per cent. per year. Under Liberal rule it increased at the rate of 5.5 per cent. per annum, while the Conservative party, in its first two years of office, rolled up the figures at the rate of 5.1 per cent. per year. Civil government, which is the most controllable item of the public expenditure, was increased by the John Sandfield Macdonald Government at the rate of 5.1 per cent. per year, by the Liberal party at the rate of 6.7 per cent. per year, and by the Whitney Government at the rate of 12.2 per cent. per year. It would be difficult to find at Ottawa a parallel for anything of this kind.

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. M. J. Dabbruzz

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary J. Dabbruz, of 150 Main Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba, writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a blessing to me through that delicate period known as the change of life. For six years it disturbed my entire system. I had hot flushes, was extremely nervous, became pale and debilitated, very irregular in the monthly flow, and the blood all seemed to be in my head. I had frequent palpitation and throbbing of the heart; in fact, my whole system seemed to be in disorder.

"I received no relief from the suffering incident to this period until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; but I date my relief from the time I took the first bottle. I gradually improved, nature took her course painlessly, and in due time I was a well woman."

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

Give Fair Play to

A really reliable remedy for headache —Zutoo.

If you have got it into your head that Zutoo Tablets will hurt you, you are mistaken.

It isn't fair to us for you to judge Zutoo by the drug cures.

It isn't fair to yourself to suffer from headache, when this really harmless vegetable headache cure is within your reach.

The fair thing for both of us is—to judge Zutoo on its merits—to test it.

If you find it does not cure your headache, sick, nervous or otherwise, in twenty minutes, and leave you feeling good every time—no bad after effects, then discard it.

But do not condemn it unfairly without a trial, and keep on suffering from headaches. You really do not have to, and one trial of Zutoo will prove it.

All we ask for Zutoo is fair play—that you give it a trial before concluding as to its merits or demerits.

Wont you do this? You'll be glad ever after if you do.

We'll send trial tablets for nothing, or you can buy them at dealers in 10c. and 25c. packages.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH BEING DRUNK

Created Disturbance at the G. T. R. Station Last Night

Mr. and Mrs. Slattery arrived in the city yesterday from Ottawa, according to Mrs. Slattery's statement, and they both became popular before the day was over. Mrs. Slattery ended up with being nabbed by P. C. Newhall, and appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning. She was charged with having been drunk and disorderly, but said, in answer, that she was not very intoxicated, but was tenaed by a band of young boys and girls at the G.T.R. station. She and her husband are umbrella tinkers and were seen plying their trade yesterday. She was allowed to go as she promised to leave the city.

Robert Morrison spent last night behind the bars after being fined $2 for being drunk yesterday morning. He apparently had money enough, as he paid the fine yesterday with a five-dollar bill, and to-day, when he was re-fined the usual $2, he produced another fiver. Next time he goes to jail.

Cow Testing Association At Keene Had Good Record

Excellent Work Being Done by These Associations Throughout the Dairy Sections of the County

8,000 COWS WERE TESTED

The work of the testing associations in Canada is steadily on the increase; over fifty, mostly in Ontario and Quebec, will be in operation this year under the direct charge of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, Ottawa. About eight thousand individual cows are under regular test, the milk being weighed every ten days, and the composite samples tested every month. Reports are sent monthly to each farmer detailing the total estimated yield of milk and butter fat of each cow whose milk he has weighed and sampled, whether he sends records from five or fifty cows.

At the Spring Creek Association, near Woodstock, Ont., for the 30 days ending 1st April, 75 cows were tested, averaging 688 lbs. of milk, testing 3.7 per cent. fat. The lowest yield was 235 lbs. milk and the highest 1460 lbs., testing 3.0.

Dixville, Que., month ending April 20, had an average from 116 cows of 372 lbs., milk testing 3.7, the highest yield of any one cow being 750 lbs., testing 3.2.

At North Oxford, Ont., 106 cows gave an average yield of 726 lbs., testing 3.2. The most from any single cow was 1725 lbs., testing 3.3. This cow as a two year old gave over ten thousand pounds in 12 months. She is owned by the secretary of the association there.

St. Prosper, Que., had only 22 cows for the first period ending 26 April, with an average of 354 lbs. of milk, testing 3.5. The number of cows will be largely increased next month.

The first test at Keene, Ont., for the thirty days ending 25th April showed an average from 56 cows of 679 lbs. milk, testing 3.0. The lowest yield was 209 lbs., and the highest 1120, testing 3.4.

The members of the association of East and West Oxford sent in records from 104 cows, average 769 lbs., testing 3.3. The best individual cow here gave 1560 lbs., testing 3.... One good herd record shows an average from 11 cows of 1124 lbs. milk, testing 3.1, or 35.7 lbs. of fat each.

Hamilton Cultivators Are Praised In Australia

Interesting Letter From Antipodes Referring to Farm Implements Manufactured by Local Firm.

MACHINES SATISFACTORY

Hamilton's farm implements have become popular not only in Ontario and Canada but their merits have been recognized and appreciated in the Antipodes.

Yesterday the Peter Hamilton Co., Limited, received the following letter from Messrs. J. P. Richardson & Co., of Melbourne, Australia, the firm that acts as selling agents for the local manufacturers in that continent.

Melbourne, April 3, 1907.

Messrs. J. P. Richardson & Co.,
316 Flinders Lane,
Melbourne.

Gentlemen, — In handing you our order herewith for a number of Hamilton Cultivators, we feel that it may interest you to know that we have had a very successful season with them.

We have had experience in the sale and handling of all other makes of spring tooth high wheel cultivators, on the market, and have no hesitation in saying that the Hamilton, working under all conditions, is infinitely their superior.

We have sold it for use in all varieties of soil as well as hard ground, and in every instance it has performed its work not only to our satisfaction but to the purchaser's as well.

Please instruct the factory to hurry shipment, also advise at the earliest moment the date they expect to get them away from New York, as our stocks are already getting low, and we don't want to be without a supply.

Yours faithfully,
BUCKEYE HARVESTER CO.

THE MONETARY TIMES ON PETERBOROUGH BANKS

Thinks a Sub Agency to the Toronto Bank, of Port Hope, is Being Opened Here

As an example of the ideas entertained by some big financial journals, with regard to Peterborough banking institutions, the following is taken from the last issue of the Monetary Times:

"A branch of the Toronto Bank is being opened at Peterborough, and will be a sub-agency of the Port Hope branch. The Peterborough agency will be open twice a week."

The Times evidently should have stated that a branch of the Traders Bank was being opened in Port Hope and will be a sub-agency of the Campbellcroft branch.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Would you please call the attention of the management of the Street Railway to the poor service between 6 and 7 a.m. on the Jackson Park line, as residents find the first car too early and the second one too late for work at 7 o'clock in the city. Then again there is quite a number of men go out west to work; a 14-minute service would help.

Yours truly,

ENTERTAINMENT WAS REPEATED

Gymnastic Exercises of Y. W. C. A. Classes Given Again Last Night Before a Large Crowd

AN ENJOYABLE PROGRAMME

A repetition of the Y.W.C.A. closing exercises was given last night in the Y.M.C.A. Hall before an attendance that in view of the fact that it was the second rendition of the programme, was exceptionally large, in fact the seating accommodation was somewhat taxed. The programme which with a few changes was the same as presented two weeks ago, was an enjoyable and effective demonstration of the work being done in the gymnasium department of the Y.W.C.A., and the able manner in which every number was given reflects great credit upon Miss Coventry, the efficient physical directress.

The different drills were executed with a precision and grace that indicated careful training, as well as individual ability. These qualities were apparent in the junior girls, as well as the seniors, and all merited the hearty applause with which they were received. "The Froggies" made the same instantaneous hit as at the last entertainment, their novel number winning them round after round of applause. Other numbers that were received with especial marks of appreciation were the lantern drill and the Japanese fan drill, both very pretty numbers, and effectively and gracefully presented by the senior girls.

The musical numbers were an agreeable variety to the programme and were well received by the audience.

Following is the programme:
Dumb bells, seniors.
Sailor drill, juniors.
Vocal solo, selected, Mr. Sawers.
Wand drill, seniors.
Twenty Froggies, children.
Piano solo, selected, Miss Gumpricht.
Fencing, Miss Hamilton and Miss Coventry.
Lantern drill, seniors.
Wnd drill, juniors.
Club swinging, seniors.
Club swinging, seniors.
Fancy steps, juniors and seniors.
Vocal solo, Miss Manning.
Dumb bells, juniors.
Violin duet, Miss M. Burnett and Miss K. Wallis.
Japanese fan drill, seniors.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful bouquet of flowers to Miss Coventry, the physical directress, as a mark of the esteem in which she is held by the members of her different classes.

RUNAWAY STEER GIVES SOME EXCITEMENT

People of Lindsay Are Given a Bad Scare —Animal Half Crazed Raced Around the Streets

Some excitement was caused on Monday about noon when a steer which had broken loose at the market place, chased several people, and gave them a run for their money or their life. The animal had been brought to town by a farmer and sold to Mr. Adams. The animal became excited while in the wagon rack and pretty soon had knocked part of the rack down. Then it fell down itself, and lay like dead for a few minutes. However, when an effort was made to secure the animal it chased its would be captors right and left. Eventually it raced across the street and there the short rope around its head was snubbed around a post. Then big ropes were secured and the animal securely fastened and then taken over to the pen to cool off after the excitement.—Lindsay Watchman-Warder.

On the 7.20 a.m. train tickets will be sold, good to return on the flyer, leaving Toronto at 7.05, or on any train on Monday, for $2.05. Tickets are on sale at the city ticket office by Mr. W. Bunton.

STOLE LIQUOR FROM GRAND TRUNK CARS

And Detective From Toronto is in Lindsay Looking Up Evidence in the Case

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder says:

Detective Zeats, of the G.T.R. was in town this week. His object, it is said, was the investigation of the breaking into a sealed car at the G.T.R freight sheds last week. Twenty-three bottles of ale are alleged to have been stolen on the occasion and one lone bottle only left for the detective and the authorities. Working on that lone bottle no doubt the G.T.R. Sherlock Holmes has secured a clue to the car seal breakers, and if the culprits are caught it will likely be "23" all right for them.

VINOL SETTLES

The Cod Liver Oil Question

Not one will dispute the curative and strength creating value of cod liver oil. For centuries it has been recognized as the greatest of all healing and body-building agents for wasted human strength and vitality.

Yet, owing to the heavy, greasy oil which envelopes the medicinal elements, and which has no value, either as a food or medicine, many patients weakened by disease cannot digest it either in its raw form or as an emulsion, and others will not take it on account of its disagreeable odour and taste — consequently its value is lost.

Now, the process discovered by two eminent French chemists — Morgues and Gautier—should interest every person in Peterborough, for all of the tonic, body-building and curative elements of cod liver oil are now separated from the greasy, useless oil, and given to the people in delicious Vinol. For this reason it is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions.

As a body-builder and strength creator for old people, weak women, delicate children, and after sickness, and all pulmonary diseases, it is recommended by over 5,000 of the leading druggists of America as the best.

Your money back if it does not do all we claim. McDermid & Jury, Druggists. Also at the Market Drug Store (the Ormond & Walsh Old Stand).

SAW A PRISONER'S FATAL JUMP

Mr. Harry Long Was on the Train From Which Mannarino Took His Fatal Leap

ON HIS WAY TO COAST

Mr. Harry Long, who is on a trip to the Pacific Coast, has had at least one exciting experience since he left Peterborough. Mr. Long was on the train and saw a prisoner jump from it to death. The story is told in the following despatch from Ashcroft to the Vancouver News-Advertiser:

Ashcroft, B.C., May 8.—Paul Mannarino, a prisoner from Nelson, on his way to the penitentiary in charge of Constable Webster, jumped through a car window on train No. 97 this afternoon. The train was running 40 miles an hour when Mannarino made his fatal leap. He landed head first on the rocks 30 or 40 feet below, where he was picked up insensible. As soon as the train was brought to a standstill, and died a few minutes later. The body was left at Ashcroft, where an inquest will be held.

Constable Webster continued his journey to New Westminster in charge of other prisoners.

FREE METHODISTS HERE IN JUNE

All Arrangements Made Regarding the Week of Meetings Beginning June 4th

EDWARDS' PARK SELECTED

The Free Methodist Camp Meeting of the Toronto District will, as mentioned previously in the Examiner, be held here next month. All arrangements have now been completed, and for one week, beginning on Tuesday, June 4th, the Free Methodists will hold forth in the vicinity of Peterborough.

The meeting place for the religious services has been located in Mr. Edwards' pine grove, which is situated only a short distance west of Jackson Park. It may therefore be easily reached by street car, and the grounds are provided with plenty of shade and pure water.

The services will be conducted by the Rev. J. S. Bradbrook, of Syracuse, N. Y.; Rev. W. H. Reynolds, of Bracebridge, Rev. L. Slingerland, of Cordova, and others, besides the ministers of the district. Those in charge of the meetings state that they are held simply and solely for the salvation of sinners and the sanctification of believers. They will allow no huckerstering stand or refreshment booth on the grounds.

Each day the services will begin at 6 o'clock in the morning. The order of services will be: Holiness Meeting, Love Feast, Preaching, Children's Meeting, Preaching, Ring Meeting, and Preaching. The latter begins at 7.30 every evening.

The pathetic side of the Thaw-White case, will be shown in Magnificent Moving Pictures at Scott's Colloseum, 432 George Street. All parents should make an effort to be present to see these pictures and learn the moral necessity devolving on them to enlighten their children as to what they may have to encounter in life, so that they can be prepared to resist the temptations that may beset them.

Special efforts have been put forward to get the moral effect of this great case and in doing so, great expense has been incuned, but admission price will be the usual 5 cents. Friday and Saturday only, so come early. Performances 2 to 6 and 7 to 10 p. m.

JUMPED ON BOY'S LEG AND BROKE IT

Harry Raymond is Alleged to Have Broken Charles Stevens' Leg Last Night With Malicious Intent

APPEARED IN THE COURT

Harry Raymond was charged before Magistrate Dumble this morning with having assaulted Charles Stevens, son of Mr. Geo. Stevens, of East City, and having done actual bodily harm to him. In fact, the boy's leg was broken. The Crown was not ready to proceed with the prosecution, as it is believed that the boy's limb will not have knitted before that time, and his evidence is of the greatest importance.

Mr. Kerr appeared on behalf of Raymond and asked that bail be named, and the Magistrate set the amount at $500 in two securities. Raymond was remanded for one week.

The Way it Happened

Mr. Stevens, father of the boy, said that yesterday evening he left his son to drive a wagon around to the barn at the rear of his house, while he went in for five minutes. When he returned he found Raymond kicking and punching his son, who lay on the ground helpless. Mr Stevens was greatly excited and drove Raymond away, but did not touch him, as the latter had a large rock in his hand. The father then ran to call the police and a doctor, and, while absent, a gentleman saw Raymond return to attack the boy, but he immediately back when this gentleman approached.

It was found that Charlie Stevens had received a severe fracture of his leg. The father believes the tibia is broken.

Hit His Horse

It is believed that Raymond hit young Stevens' horse with a stone, and the young lad jumped out of the rig to prevent a repetition of this. Although it is generally known that, as regards real prowess in defending himself, Charlie Stevens is easily better than Raymond, yet the latter in some way tripped him and must have jumped on the side of his leg, as the imprint of his boots are evident at the fracture. The bone is broken just above the ankle.

According to this account of the fray, the assault was a brutal one, as Raymond is much older than young Stevens.

It is not known when he will appear for trial. It may be not sooner than six weeks.

BATTERY HELD THEIR FIRST DRILL

Large Turnout of Men of the 24th Last Night—Camp on June 17th

The first drill of the 24th Field Battery in the Murray street Armouries was held last night, when some twenty officers and men were out. Uniforms were issued, and the men were put through a foot drill by Sergt.-Major Fee.

The battery will drill twice a week, Monday and Thursday nights, at the 57th Regiment's Armouries until June 17, when they go into camp at Petawawa. There is great enthusiasm amongst the men, and the battery promises to have a most successful season.

A number of good recruits were taken on last night. Uniforms will be issued on Monday night at the East City Armouries, and Sergt. Boyle will be on hand for that purpose at 7.30 o'clock. The members of the Battery after receiving their uniforms, are expected to go at once to the 57th's armouries for drill purposes.

MR. LAWLESS IS NOT LEAVING PETERBOROUGH

Will Continue to Conduct the National Hotel—Mr. Regan to Act as Manager

Mr. Ambrose Regan, manager of the National Hotel, informed the Examiner to-day that the rumours to the effect that Mr. J. A. Lawless, the proprietor of that hotel, was contemplating leaving Peterborough were entirely without foundation. Mr. Lawless is in New Liskeard at the present time, and will conduct the hotel which he has bought there. The National Hotel here will be managed by Mr. Regan, while Mr. Lawless will have charge of the New Liskeard end of the business, and will frequently visit this city. He stated that he is in the hotel business in Peterborough to stay, the success attending his venture here being such as to warrant him continuing the National here.

THE INDUSTRIAL FAIR DIRECTORS TO MEET

At eight o'clock this evening the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition will meet in the Bank of Montreal chambers, which have been loaned to them by the Manager, Mr. Montizambert. The meeting will be for the purpose of arranging the special prizes and to make arrangements for the publication of the prize list. A full attendance of the members of the Board of Directors is requested by President Leary, as the business of the meeting is important.

If You Want the Best, it is Tisdall's Ice Cream.

LARGE SHIPMENTS OF CANOES ARE LEAVING

Carload Goes Out of Peterborough Almost Every Day

The canoe business of the city is rapidly on the increase. Almost every day a carload of canoes from the factories leave the city, the bulk of which go to New Ontario. Montreal is also the objective point of many Peterborough canoes, and at present the English factory has an order for fourteen for one firm in that city.

The canoe factories are experiencing great difficulty in obtaining enough men to carry on the business here, and at present they are working overtime.

SUN AND SNOW

Sometimes Help the Hair to Go

In any changeable climate the hair is apt to become brittle and to break off stubby here and there. This makes a hair dressing almost a necessity, especially to ladies. In using a hair dressing, why not get the best, one that combines with it the efficiency in killing the dandruff germ, the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, causing what is called falling hair, and in time, baldness? Newbro's "Herpicide" is that kind of a hair dressing. You have no idea how delightful your scalp will feel and how stylish your hair will appear after an application or two of Herpicide. It is certainly a wonderful innovation as a scalp antiseptic and hair dressing.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. The Market Drug Store. Two sizes—50c and $1.

THE MILK WAGON WAS UPSET

And the Lacteal Fluid Distributed Over the Adjacent Scenery

The epidemic of runaways which has been making things lively in the city for the past two weeks, was continued to-day on Smith street, when the horse attached to Norman Fowler's milk wagon, indulged in a lively dash that had rather serious results.

The animal became frightened at something on Dennistoun avenue, and dashed across the Smith street bridge and to the top of the hill, where it was captured by a boy.

As it was being brought back, the horse broke loose again, and upset the wagon, spilling the milk and demolishing the vehicle, before its progress was stayed.

THE BROKEN BRIDGE IS NOW BEING REPAIRED

Lindsay Carpenters Working on the Structure To-day

This morning half a dozen G.T.R. carpenters from Lindsay arrived in the city and are now busily engaged repairing the broken timbers of the bridge at Murray street over the creek. Temporary repairs were made yesterday afternoon, and the returning train from Lakefield was able to pass over in safety. The shunting engine also crossed the bridge, so that there is now no possible danger. The repairs will be completed as soon as possible, when the broken timbers will be replaced by more substantial ones.

GRANTS MADE TO TWO BANDS

$500 for the 57th and $150 for Salvation Army Band—The Finance Committee Met

LICENSE FEE WAS REDUCED

The Finance Committee of the city council last night decided to recommend that the 57th Regimental Band be given a grant of $500, under the same conditions as last year. The band is expected to give thirteen Friday night concerts during the summer and in case any of these are prevented by rain or any other cause, the band will have to make it up by giving an extra concert on some other night.

The committee also decided to make a grant of $150 to the Salvation Army Band on the same conditions as last year.

The committee took up the request of W. Heffernan that the license fees for merry-go-rounds should be reduced.

It will be remembered that this matter came up at the council meeting on Monday night and was referred to the committee with power to act. Mr. Heffernan is the proprietor of a machine known as the Ocean Wave, and had made an arrangement with the market clerk to use the market square for a short time before removing the apparatus to Jackson Park. He found that he would have to pay a license fee of $20 for the first week, and $10 for each succeeding week. This he regarded as prohibitory and he wrote to the council to that effect.

The committee last night decided to recommend to the council that provision be made in the bylaw for having the license fee $40 for four months. To do this the bylaw will have to be changed.

The committee decided to take steps to have the father of a local boy who is now in the Victoria Industrial School, help to pay for his maintenance.

There were present, Ald. Tovey, chairman; the Mayor, Ald. Bradburn and Phelan.

Former Peterborough Man Sustains Serious Injury

Mr. John R. Laing Injured in Mercer Reformatory—Is a Brother of Mr. Robt. Laing, of Peterborough.

HIS RIBS WERE BROKEN

The Globe has the following reference to a serious accident which on Wednesday befel a former resident and native of Peterborough:

"Mr. John R. Laing, assistant engineer at the Mercer Reformatory, was seriously injured yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon as the result of machinery catching his sleeve. He went upstairs to the laundry to put a belt on a pulley. While doing so, his sleeve caught and he was violently whirled around several times with the consequence that his left arm was badly torn, two or three ribs were broken and one of his lungs was punctured. He was at once removed to his home, Gwynne avenue and received the attention of Dr. J. S. King, physician for the reformatory. Mr. Laing is about 40 years of age and has a wife and family."

Mr. Laing is a brother of Mr. Robert Laing of this city. He was born in North Monaghan, but passed nearly all his life in Peterborough, till his removal to Toronto, about five years ago, when he was appointed by Hon. J. R. Stratton, at that time Provincial Secretary, to a position in the mechanical department of the Mercer Reformatory, and he proved to be a very competent and reliable official. He is about 45 years of age and married, his wife being a daughter of the late George Mollmoyle, auctioneer, Lakefield.

Private advices state that his injuries are of a serious character, but the attending physician says that his recovery is possible. His friends in Peterborough, and the friends of the family, will extend their heartiest wishes for a favourable outcome of the serious accident of which he was the subject.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

Chicago, May 17.—The wheat market opened wild; July 98 to 96 1-2; Sept. 99 to 97 1-2, and soon demonstrated how unsafe the short side is. It jumped immediately into one of the most remarkable bull markets seen in many years. Everybody wanted a little wheat. The whole country has caught the fever and there seems to be nothing at present to stop wheat from selling very much higher. The news both foreign and domestic is extremely bullish. July wheat sold up to $1.03 1-2, and Sept. $1.04 1-4. When the advance was checked by heavy profit-taking causing a reaction of about one cent and a half, closing from 1 1-4 to 1 3-4 above last night. On a further set-back it will do to buy.

Corn followed wheat and scored a good advance. Receipts small; 65 cars. The big commission houses are the best buyers. We must have perfect weather in order to break this corn market. The close was from 3-4 to 1 cent above last night.

The oat market was a wild one today. Patten houses heavy buyers and prices advanced to 48 3-4 May; 47 5-8 July; 39 1-2 September. These prices look too high to us but it is unsafe to go short. Strong interests are under the market and can easy put it higher.

GOOD CROWDS SAW THE THAW-WHITE PICTURES

At Scott's Colosseum last night the Thaw-White pictures were shown for the first time in Peterborough, and a large number of persons witnessed them, and were pleased with the nature of the entertainment. # WESTERN CROPS WILL BE ALL O. K.

Winnipeg, May 16. — Senator W. D. Perley, Wolseley, Sask., one of the most successful farmers in Western Canada, does not believe that the backward season gives any cause for uneasiness. In a letter to the Telegram, he says:

"I know, on the Perley farm, we will seed the last acre we intended to in wheat, having an abiding faith, based on experience and observation of 17 years of farm life, that the harvest will come off all O. K.

"I always have noticed that we have had a growing season of sufficient length to ripen the crop, provided the farmer was ready, as they are this season, to seed the land as soon as the natural conditions were favourable.

"Some of the wheat is now well sprouted, and will be as far advanced as that sown in former years at a much earlier date."

Fooled the Doctors and Got Well

GIN PILLS CURE RHEUMATISM

They certainly were a surprised lot of doctors out Tyneside way. They had been treating Mrs. Harris for years. Gave her about everything that was ever heard of for Rheumatism—and then told her the disease was chronic.

A friend told Mrs. Harris about GIN PILLS. Just to oblige her friend, Mrs. Harris took a box. When that was gone, she dismissed the doctors and bought another box of GIN PILLS. By the time these were gone, she was so much better that she bought the third box and laughed every time she saw a doctor.

Tyneside P. O., Aug. 6, 1906.

I received your sample box of Gin Pills, but as there was only enough for a trial I got a box from our druggist, and now I am taking the third box. The pain across my back and kidneys has almost entirely gone, and I am better than I have been for years. I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism, but it has all left me. MRS. T. HARRIS.

The doctors can't explain it. They don't try to. They said Mrs. Harris could not be cured. GIN PILLS cured her. Proof beats explanation all to pieces. Do YOU want proof? Write, mentioning this paper, for a free sample of Gin Pills and try them yourself. Then you will see what Gin Pills will do for YOU. Write now to the Bold Drug Co., Winnipeg, for a free sample.

CANADA TO ADVANCE IN FUTURE

Macauley's Famous Vision Will Likely Be Realized.

POPULATION TO BE 80,000,000

Dominion to Reach That Number Before End of Century—Problem of Preserving Loyalty Will Be Difficult Says Bishop of Montreal—Spiritual Help Needed—Fiery Speeches on Naval Policy.

London, May 17.—(C. A. P.)—Professor Leacock spoke to the Victoria League on the question of Canada. Mr. Haldane, moving the vote of thanks, said it had been calculated that Canada, before the end of the century, would possess a population of 80,000,000. What a power!

It might be that Macaulay's famous vision would be realized and the centre of empire be transferred elsewhere, but if development went on the right lines it would be the development of the same empire by the same people, permeated with a deeper sense of unity.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has again drawn attention to the immense and grave problem of Canada. The men undertaking spiritual work going there are quite inadequate in numbers. The difficulty was as great as any church had to contend with. The Bishop of Montreal said all the wit and wisdom of England would be needed to solve the problem how to perpetuate the magnificent loyalty now animating Canadians.

London, May 17.—(C. A. P.)—At the annual meeting of the Navy League it was decided to abstain from appealing to the country to protest against the present naval policy of the Government charges and countercharges, fiery speeches and angry interruptions were the features of the meeting.

H. F. Wyatt moved an amendment deeply deploring the diminution of naval strength involved in the reduction of the naval estimates. The amendment mentioned the abandonment of the Esquimalt and other naval stations. Mr. Wyatt told of the differences between himself and the majority of the committee.

Admiral Freemantle disagreed with the amendment, which was rejected by 44 to 27.

NUDE BODY ON LAKE SHORE.

Young Englishman Walked Into the Water Near Grimsby.

Hamilton, May 17.—The nude body of Howard Boyd, a young Englishman, was found on the lake shore near Grimsby yesterday. It is supposed that he was drowned during the night, but whether it was a case of suicide or a case of a man walking into the water in his sleep is a question that a coroner's jury will have to determine. The young man was employed by James Smith of Grimsby, with whom he resided. He was apparently all right when the family retired Wednesday night, leaving him in the kitchen. When the family arose yesterday morning the kitchen lamp was still burning and Boyd's clothes were on the kitchen floor. He was seen wandering through the village in scant attire about midnight.

Government Will Protect Publishers.

Toronto, May 17.—A rumor has got out with reference to the tenders which are being called for the printing of school readers, to the effect that legal proceedings will be taken to prevent the publication of such books by successful tenderers under the advertisements.

A statement, however, was issued yesterday by Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, assuring tenderers that under the present act of the Legislature the province assumes all rights in copyrights connected with these publications and the Government will feel bound to protect any successful tenderer who may publish books against litigation which may be brought for the reasons stated above.

AND SKIN ERUPTIONS.

"For soreness after shaving, scurvy, chapped places, eruptions, and all skin troubles of this kind, Zam-Buk is really marvellous." Such is the opinion of Mr. Robert Wharburton of Shaw St., Hamilton, (Ont.) He says:—"Every season I am troubled with Scurvy, but this time it seemed worse than before. I tried all kinds of ointments, but none of them did me any good. Perhaps the Scurvy would be smooth for a while, but it was soon just as bad as ever. I saw a good report about Zam-Buk and decided to try it. After only two or three applications I could see an improvement, and now I am glad to say I am completely cured."

Whenever you have any form of skin rash, chafing or irritation, just apply Zam-Buk and the result will highly satisfy you. Zam-Buk is purely herbal—devoid of all trace of animal fat or mineral coloring matter. ## CRICKET TEAM HAS MANY GAMES TO PLAY

Seniors and Juniors Must Get Down to Practice if They Want to Win

Apparently cricket is going to boom in the city this summer, judging from the fact that there is a junior and senior team, and that already quite a number of games have been arranged. There is plenty of material for two teams, but the men must turn out regularly and get down to constant practice.

The games that the senior team has arranged for, are:

Peterborough at Warkworth, on May 24.

Lindsay at Peterborough, May 25.

Peterborough at T. C. S., I., Port Hope, June 8.

Grace church, Toronto, at Peterborough, July 1st.

The management is endeavouring to get return games with each of the above teams, besides home and home games with Omemee and Colborne.

This constitutes a series of games which will undoubtedly prove interesting, and the senior intend to make a big attempt to carry off first honours in all thee contests.

The junior team is booked to play home and home games with Lakefield Preparatory School and the Littleside T. U. S. teams.

Practice will be held every evening from 6 to 8 o'clock, and on Saturday afternoons from 2:30 to 5 o'clock, and, it is needless to say, a full attendance is requested at every practice.

SILVER CUP FOR THE INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

Review Printing Company Presents a Cup for Competition Among the Clubs in the League

The officers of the Intermediate Baseball League and the members of the various clubs composing it will be pleased to learn that the Review Printing Co. has donated a handsome silver cup for competition. The team at the head of the league for two successive years becomes the owner of the silverware, which is worth while striving for. The fight for the leadership ought to be a warm one as every team wants its name on that cup. The league appreciates this donation, and hot games are now assured.

SEE THE KING'S PLATE TO-MORROW

Special Excursion Will be Run to Toronto To-morrow for This Purpose

The probabilities for to-morrow indicate that it will be a fine day. To-morrow is the day of the excursion to Toronto on the C.P.R. by special train, leaving the station at 10 a.m. sharp, and arriving in Toronto at noon. This will give ample time to lunch and to reach the Woodbine, where the King's Plate will be run, or to go to the ball grounds or lacrosse field. The special train will return, leaving Toronto at 11.30 p.m., but those who wish may remain in the city until Monday night, tickets being good to return on any regular train on Sunday or Monday. The return fare for this trip is only $2.05, and tickets may be secured at the city ticket office of the C.P.R., the Examiner office, or at the station.

When Your Health Fails--What Then?

BETTER TO GUARD AGAINST SUCH AN EMERGENCY BY KEEPING VITALITY AT HIGH-WATER MARK BY THE USE OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle.

In these days of strenuous life and keen competition there is no place for tired brains and weak bodies.

Success is for the strong and alert for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy.

It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health, and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion, such as brain fag, headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, failure of memory and loss of power to concentrate the mind.

While Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has succeeded in curing many cases of partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, and the most severe forms of nervous prostration and exhaustion, it is not well to delay treatment until these stubborn and dangerous diseases set in.

At the slightest indication of waning nerve force, begin the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and with a few weeks' treatment you will be able to restore the vitality of the body to high-water mark, remove the causes of nervous disorders, and prevent serious results.

Miss Mary Leitch, Coulson, Simcoe county, Ont., writes: "When I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food my nervous system was all run down, and I suffered terribly with nervous headache and sleeplessness. Sometimes I could not sleep for three or four nights in succession. By the use of several boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food these troubles were entirely overcome, and I consider the preparation an excellent nerve tonic."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.—1,

THE MIDLAND FOOTBALL LEAGUE TO OPEN

First Game Here To-morrow Afternoon Against Omemee

The Omemee football team comes to Peterborough to-morrow afternoon to play the first game in the intermediate series of the Midland League. The game will be played on the Exhibition grounds, beginning at 4 o'clock. The admission fee to the grounds will be 10 cents. Those who witness the match will certainly be rewarded for their time and money. The Omemee team was one of the best in the league last year, and an intermediate team has been chosen from the Quaker ranks which will make them go some. The locals' lineup will probably be:

Goal—Stewart Laing.
Backs—Scrimshaw, Donaldson.
Halves — Hamilton, Sullivan, McGill.
Forwards—Brodie, Robert Evans, W Hayes, Rowe, Coleman.
Referee—B F Huston.

BASEBALL

The Peterborough baseball club will practice to-morrow afternoon at the Riverside Park, and everyone intending to play ball with the club this season, should be out to-morrow. The backward weather has made it almost impossible to get practice, but it is hoped that a good workout may be indulged in to-morrow, and with a couple more practices the team will be in pretty fair shape to meet the Arctics in the first game of the season on May 24th.

• • • •

A meeting will be held on Tuesday night next at the Oriental Hotel for the purpose of arranging a senior city league. All clubs intending to enter are asked to send representatives, as if a league is to be formed, it will be necessary to start the project at once. It is understood that four teams are ready to enter such a league, and it rests with them to get the organization started.

LACROSSE

There will be a full practice of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon, and all players are asked to be out in uniform as it is important that the team should get into shape at once. A few of the enthusiasts swung out yesterday afternoon and indulged in a lively workout. Among those who were out in uniform were Pat McDonough, A. M. Regan, Judd and Devlin.

FOOTBALL

The following will represent the Quaker team in their game with Norwood this evening at 7 o'clock on the Exhibition Grounds:—

Goal—McFadden.
Backs—Doris, Evans.
Halves—Scrimshaw, Fitzgerald, Deforge.
Forwards—R Best, E Best, Huston, Crough, Baker.

• • • •

Port Hope and Oshawa open the Midland League in their district to-morrow afternoon at Oshawa. Wilson of Cobourg will referee.

• • • •

The champion Fall River team play the senior Quakers on Riverside Park on Wednesday afternoon, May 29th.

THE TURF

A matched race between Bert McCollum's black pacer and Wm. Whitton's "Silver Queen" will be run tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Driving Park. The stake is $100.

CRICKET

On Saturday afternoon two scratch teams from the local Cricket Club will play a practice game at 2 o'clock on Nicholls Oval. This, with other practice games, should produce a well-balanced senior eleven.

MANY MONUMNETS WERE SOLD

Mr. J. Coughlin, of Local Marble Works, Does Big Business in Hastings County

The Marmora Herald says: Mr. J. Coughlin of Peterborough, was in town recently erecting monuments to several of our late prominent citizens. We are informed that the monuments just furnished are entirely satisfactory; in fact the work done by the firm has always given satisfaction.

Mr Coughlin is a county of Hastings boy and is well known. He has been doing business in Marmora for the past thirty years, making several trips each year, and many of the handsome memorials that mark the last resting places of our departed citizens were erected by him.

The Coughlin Monumental Works, Peterborough, are among the oldest in the province, having a very extensive business. They have one of the largest and best equipped factories for the manufacturing of monuments in Ontario, also a staff of the best workmen, marble cutters, granite cutters and polishers. They have the newest and most unique designs, and pride themselves on their excellent material and workmanship in lettering, carving, tracing, etc.

DIFFICULTIES STARING CHEESE BUYERS

Longshoremen's Strike Making it Almost Impossible to Get Cheese to Steamship

The local cheese buyers are having considerable difficulty in getting their cheese through Montreal to the steamships on account of the Longshoremen's strike in that city which has tied up several hundreds of dollars worth of freight. M G Gillespie who purchased from four or five factories, intends shipping to-morrow. Formerly the cheese has been sent to Montreal to an agent there and is afterwards transhipped to the steamers. Mr. Gillespie states that this system is now not possible on account of the strike and he has to ship the cheese by through freight. To-day he heard that this might also be impossible so that the shipment may not reach the steamer in time for the voyage across the ocean.

REGIMENT WILL TRAVEL BY GRAND TRUNK

Leaves Peterborough on Saturday Night at 8:15 for St. Catharines

The officers of the 57th Regiment held a meeting last night to make final arrangements for the St. Catharines trip on Dominion Day. They have decided to go by way of the Grand Trunk via Port Hope. The special train will leave Peterborough on Saturday night, June 29th, at 8.15 and will arrive in St. Catharines about 1 o'clock. Returning it is expected the special will leave the town on the Welland at at 11.15, arriving home in the morning.

The objective point of the regiment this year seems to be a popular selection among the regiment and upwards of 400 are expected to take in the trip.

The address will be engrossed and presented at the meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery, and this body of which the Moderator is a member, will also take action to celebrate the semi-centenary of Mr. Duncan's entry into the Ministry.

At yesterday's session of the Synod, the report of the Committee on Young Peoples' Societies, was presented by Rev. J. G. Potter, of Peterborough. It showed the existence of 76 Christian Endeavour Societies; 95 Young People's Societies and Guilds; 10 Young Men's Brotherhoods, and 35 in other forms. About 70 per cent. of the young people contributed to missions, and in many cases they supported local interests or philanthropic movements. Rev. Dr. D. McTavish suggested that the work of the Young People's Societies should be amalgamated with that of the Sabbath schools, as has been done in the Methodist church, and a motion by Rev. J. B. Fraser, commending this idea to the favourable consideration of the General Assembly, was carried. Rev. Dr. W. S. McTavish thought, however, that it was only a matter of organization and unification to bring the Presbyterian young people to the high position occupied by the Methodists.

RECTOR PAID A HIGH TRIBUTE

To the Worth of the Late Dr. Neill at the Funeral Service Yesterday

WAS A NOBLE GENTLEMAN

In conducting the funeral service for the late Dr. Charles Neill yesterday, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, with whose church the deceased was associated, referred in words of praise to the exemplary life of the deceased. His remarks were based on the text, "Whose names are in the Book of Life." The speaker said that there were many true Christians unknown as such to the world; many were known to God alone. While in this world, however, they had made it richer by their lives, though the world was unconscious of the influence thus exerted. Many names, he said, which the world never honoured, by which it was never stirred, are written in God's Book of Life. Referring to the late Mr. Neill, Mr. Langfeldt said that he commemorated his life as one of noble usefulness and unselfish friendship. The speaker had had many pleasant conversations with the deceased, and he valued his tender friendship. While here and in good health he had never missed a service at St. Luke's, to which house of worship he was greatly attached and which he generously supported. His religious life and his faith were not demonstrative; he hated and avoided any pretentions of sentimental religion, but he lived a Christian life, carrying out the principles of the Gospel to the best of his ability.

Referring to the unselfishness which had characterized the life of the deceased, Mr. Langfeldt said that he had contracted the dread disease which had resulted in his death while doing his duty in his profession. Whenever he could, he did good, and a host of friends are mourning the death of a good man and true. In concluding his address, Mr. Langfeldt said:—"I speak of him as I knew him, and I am glad and thankful that I had the honour of being his confidential friend. I stand beside his coffin with much grief, and I lament his death, and yet I rejoice at his warfare being ended, his battle won, and his rest assured. I feel confident that his name is written in the Book of Life. God knows His own the best, and I have that blessed hope of immortality which brings one so near to the other world and its happy re-union."

Nurse Tells Of Eczema Cure

Mrs. C. Stanley Jones, professional nurse, 283, Simcoe street, Toronto, writes: "In my occupation as nurse I have come across many cases in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used with extraordinary results. One case is that of a sixteen months old child who was cured of scald head and another that of a woman cured of eczema on the face after the doctors had given her up."

THE DAVIDSON EPISODE

At a meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners held yesterday afternoon, John B. McDonald was appointed to act as police constable until such time as P. C. McGinty is sufficiently recovered to be able to resume his duties upon the police force. Mr. McDonald, in physique and in other ways, should make an effective addition to the force. He will begin his duties at once.

P. C. Newhall, taking the manly and honourable course expected from an officer with his record for efficiency, expressed regret at his tasty language in connection with the Davidson matter, and the clerk was instructed to write Mr. Davidson to that effect.

A resolution was passed to the effect that steps should be taken to provide a better room for the use of the constables.

The North Ontario Reduction & Refining Company, Limited, who are installing a plant for the refining of Cobalt and other ores at Sturgeon Falls, have their buildings, including a laboratory and sampling plant, just about completed and have contracted for all their machinery, which will be installed as rapidly as possible. They expect to be ready to receive ore some time in June.

This is the first refining plant to be erected in the Province of Ontario, which should enable the Company to secure the bounty offered by the Ontario Government, which amounts to $65,000 a year, this will pay 30 thirty per cent. on the entire capital. In addition to the bounty, enormous profits made by refiners will enable the company with its low capitalization to pay very large dividends.

Canadian Banking System Is The Best In The World

Interesting Paper on Banking System of Canada as Compared With That of United States, Read at Board of Trade Meeting by Mr. D. Hughes-Charles--- The Agency System

An interesting feature of the inaugural meeting of the Board of Trade held on Tuesday night, was a paper read by Mr. D. Hughes Charles, manager of the Bank of Commerce, on "Canadian Banking." Mr. Charles' paper was as follows:

In reference to the motion of Mr. Poussette regarding his proposed amendment to the Canadian Banking Act, I have been asked by your president to read a short paper upon the Canadian Banking System. As time is limited, I shall only be able to touch upon the most important features of the system, but hope, even if I have to be brief, I may be able to throw some light upon the subject.

First of all I may say that we have the branch system of banking in Canada, that is, head offices or the parent banks in the larger money centres, with branch offices all over the country. This is following the Scotch system, and is much better adapted for the needs and development of the country than the American system, where they have no branch offices, thus making every bank purely local.

Banks Are Strong

There are thirty-six banks in Canada with paid up capital of $95,333,726, and reserve funds of $49,716,665, and about 1,700 branches. A branch of any of these banks is much stronger than any local bank could possibly be, as it has the capital of its head office behind it, and by the branch system, accumulated savings can be transferred from places where there is not sufficient business enterprise or the need to use them to places which have business enterprise beyond local savings.

Another point in favour of the branch system is that the training of employees is upon much broader lines than any local bank could give. Young men are transferred from branch to branch the whole length and breadth of our vast country, and this gives them a better knowledge of the capabilities and possibilities of our country and of the various kinds of businesses carried on.

An additional security to note holders and depositors shareholders in banks are liable for double the amount of stock subscribed for.

Bank Notes

Banks can issue notes to an amount not to exceed their unimpaired paid up capital and no note shall be for a sum less than five dollars or for any sum which is not a multiple of five dollars, and arrangements must be made by the banks for the redemption of their notes at any place in Canada.

As security to noteholders the Bank Act provides that five per cent. of each bank's issue must be deposited with the government. This fund is called the Bank Circulation Redemption Fund, and is to be used to pay the notes of any bank which suspends payment. The notes of a suspended bank are to bear five per cent. interest from time of suspension to time of payment, the latter to be named by the liquidator, assignee or minister, and after that date interest shall cease. Notes are a first charge upon the assets of a bank.

Privileges Of Banks

Under their charters, banks can deal in gold and silver coin bullion; discount and lend money and make advances upon the security of and take collateral security for any loan made by it, bills of exchange, promissory notes and other negotiable securities, or the stock, bonds, debentures or obligations of municipal and other corporations, whether secured by mortgage or otherwise, or Dominion, Provincial, British and other public securities. They can lend money to any wholesale purchaser or shipper of or dealers in products of agriculture, the forest, quarry or mine, or the sea, lakes or rivers, or to any wholesale purchaser or shipper of or dealer in live stock or dead stock or the products thereof, upon the security of such products or of such live stock or dead stock or the products thereof. They can lend money to any person engaged in business as a wholesale manufacturer of any goods, wares and merchandise upon the security of the goods, wares and merchandise manufactured by him, or purchased for such manufacture. The bank may lend money upon the security of standing timber and the rights and licenses if held by persons to cut or remove such timber.

They can take money upon deposit, sell drafts, bills of exchange, and carry on such business generally as appertains to the business of banking.

A bank is prohibited from the buying or selling or bartering of goods, wares or merchandise, or engage or be engaged in any trade or business whatsoever. A bank cannot purchase or deal in or lend money or make advances upon the security and pledge of any share of its own capital stock or of the capital stock of any bank. A bank cannot lend money or make advances upon the security, mortgage or hypothecation of any lands or tenements or immovable property or of any ship or other vessel,

Organization of Banks

The capital stock of any bank hereinafter incorporated shall not be less than $500,000, and as soon as that is bona fide subscribed, and a sum not less than $250,000, thereof has been paid to the Minister and the Directors, not less than five, elected by the subscribers at a meeting called for that purpose, must apply for a certificate to the treasury board, and the bank must not issue notes or commence the business of banking until such certificate is obtained. Upon the issue of the certificate, the minister shall forthwith pay to the bank, without interest, the money which had been deposited with him, after deducting $5,000 required to be deposited for the securing of the notes issued.

The bank shall not pledge, assign or hypothecate its notes, and no advance or loan made on the security of the notes of a bank shall be recoverable from the bank or its assets.

The bank shall hold not less than 40 per cent. of its cash reserve in Dominion notes.

Working of the Act

The foregoing is a brief synopsis of our Bank Act and system, and now I want to say something about the practical working of it. The act has been well and wisely considered and is about as good as it can be made for a country like ours, where so much has to be and has been done in the development of its immense resources, and where private capital has been and is still limited for the work to be done. If banks come to grief it is not the fault of the act, but owing to bad management.

They are not allowed to lend upon real estate but they can take a mortgage as collateral security to a doubtful account, and the reason why a bank should not be allowed to lend upon real estate or fixed assets is obvious to anyone conversant with the business of banking. A loan involving a real estate transaction, especially where the payment depends upon the sale of the real estate is bad banking, and to take up an account where the safety of it has to rest upon the fixed as well as the liquid assets is bound to lead to trouble. A bank should not lend money where there is likely to be a lock up of capital. Its customers are in many different lines of business requiring assistance at different times of the year and therefore convertibility should be the dominant idea in making advances.

The Deposits

Then again, and of more importance in this matter of locking up capital, a bank's obligations to its depositors and note holders must never be lost sight of by a prudent banker. Deposits are of two kinds—those payable on demand, such as current accounts, and those payable after notice, or interest bearing. Both, however, are really payable on demand, as in these days no bank could afford to ask for notice of withdrawal. Depositors often think, I am sure, that banks pay very small interest, but when they stop to consider that for every dollar deposited only about sixty cents of it can be loaned out, as cash reserves have to be kept up to meet daily withdrawals, they must admit that the rate paid is high enough.

Depositors can make a choice of the bank in which they place their money, but note holders have no such choice, as a rule, regarding the bank notes they take, and that is why bank notes rank as a first charge against a bank's assets; and this is only fair—and gives a stability to our currency which is the admiration of American bankers. Another thing they admire is its elasticity—that is, that the circulation of the bank's notes can go up and down without affecting the money markets. When the crops are being moved, circulation goes up, and when realization begins, it comes down.

Note Redemption

As it is the desire of each bank to get its own notes out and every other bank's notes in, there is a constant redemption going on between them, which is a good way to keep them alive to their obligations.

If banks cannot lend upon real estate or fixed assets, the act gives them great scope in lending against liquid or movable assets and this is where the wisdom of our legislators stands out most prominently, for, had the banks not been allowed to take goods, wares, merchandise, etc., as collateral security from wholesale dealers and manufacturers, then the development of the country would have been greatly retarded.

The bank's cash reserves consist of gold, silver, Dominion notes or legal tenders, 40 per cent. of which have to be held in compliance with the act, notes and cheques of other banks and call loans. I think the latter seem to be the cause of Mr. Pousette's motion, for to more Canadian customers, banks keep a considerable portion of their call loans in New York, where a call loan is strictly on call; whereas in Canada such has not been found the case, and it is surely better policy to keep funds which may be required any minute, invested in a foreign country, where the calling of it in will not affect our own people.

If everything were known, and it is impossible to find out on short notice, I do not think if we could put stocks and deposits held out of Canada against the loans, that there would be much to find fault with and the figures published by the government include the business of banks which have branches in Newfoundland, the West Indies and the United States, making the proof stronger against Mr. Pousette's contention. Another thing which should be taken into consideration is the balance of trade against this country, amounting to the immense sum of $536,833,510, for the years 1898 to 1906, both inclusive, an average of over one million per week which has to be provided for. I have got the figures for our own bank of the foreign stockholders in 1906 and since then the United States shareholders have largely increased their holdings. There were 1052 shareholders owning stock par value $3,081,050, market value over $5,000,000, and using these figures, the deposits and stock of our bank owned abroad, exceeded the loans at the end of February, 1907, by over $4,000,000; and it is reasonable to suppose that some of the other banks would make the same showing.

Loans Outside of Canada

The following figures taken from the government return of February, 1907, will show the deposits and loans outside of Canada of the various banks:

| | Deposits elsewhere than in Canada | Call and short loans elsewhere than in Canada | Current loans elsewhere than in Canada |
|---|---|---|---|
| Bank of Montreal | $30,810,443 | $26,797,974 | $43,402,809 |

You will observe that the total deposits held out of Canada are $61,201,448, of which the Bank of Montreal had $30,810,443 or about 50 per cent., while the total call and time loans were $90,569,629, of which the Bank of Montreal held $43,179,274, or about 48 per cent.

It is not the amount of Canadian money used outside of Canada by the banks, and it is a mere bagatelle compared with the loans and discounts in Canada, which makes money on credit scarce, as complained of by Mr. Pousette, but it is the enormous inflation which has been going on for some years past which causes the trouble. Manufacturers of all kinds have been enlarging their premises and plants—often going into debt to do so. Business men have been taking out their hard earned profits to buy lands in the North-West. Millions have been lost in stock speculations, and the Cobalt mining boom has caught many fools and many who are not thought to be fools. The fact is banks have been too liberal, if anything, in spite of anything to the contrary. Loans and discounts, according to the government statement of March last, were $579,057,554, against $475,022,442 the previous March, or an increase of 104 millions; while the deposits, for the second time in ten years, are less than the loans.

This shows the trend of affairs and is enough to make men pause and consider well before going into any schemes outside of their own legitimate business.

Mrs. Gunter Now Sick in the Kenora Hospital as a Result—To Build Addition to School at Havelock.

NEWS FROM RAILWAY TOWN

Examiner Special.

Havelock, May 17 — The School Board held a meeting on Monday night to discuss the matter of building an addition to the public school, for the accommodation of the pupils. The school at present is much too small for the number of pupils attending.

On motion of Dr. Holdcroft and Mr. Jas. Black, a committee was appointed composed of Messrs. Mathison, Herrington and Patterson, to look after plans and specifications in the way of extending the present school building.

A number of accounts were passed, after which the Board adjourned.

On Wednesday afternoon Magistrates Mathison and Joyce held court in the town hall, to hear a charge of using insulting and obscene language laid by Mrs. McDonald, (nurse) against Wm. Ellis, of Trent Bridge. After sitting for some hours, the Magistrates threw out the case.

Rev. H. Caplan and Mrs. Caplan have issued invitations to the parishioners of St. John's church, to meet His Grace the Archbishop of Toronto, at the parsonage on Tuesday of next week, from three to five o'clock in the afternoon.

Candles were used in St. John's church on Sunday night, owing to a fuse burning out. This made some people think of the long ago time.

Mrs. L. M. Gunter formerly of town, but now residing at Ignace, Ont., has been seriously ill at the Royal Hospital at Kenora. The last word received was that she was recovering somewhat. Mrs. Gunter lost her entire baggage in the terrible C.P.R. wreck at Chapleau on the 10th of April last.

Little Oscar Cole, the five year old son of Mr. Wm. Cole, of town, while playing with some children on Friday had the misfortune to have his leg broken by a hay-rack falling over on him. The little fellow is doing as well as can be expected.

A number of the members of the Missionary Society of the Methodist church, attended the annual convention of the District of Campbellford on Wednesday, May 15th.

Rev. Mr. Caplan intends holding services at Rush Point school house, as has been customary. He will commence on Sunday next, May 19th.

On Monday night, May 20th, a meeting will be held in the basement of the town hall, for all those interested in baseball, when an endeavour will be made to organize a team for the coming season.

The Havelock football team will journey to Marmora on Friday to play the return game. The game will commence at half past six o'clock.

"The Poor Mr. Rich" in the opera house on Tuesday night, proved to be a complete failure. The play was indeed anything but pleasing, especially in the eye of the ladies. After the first act the crowd seemed to gradually grow smaller. They may rest assured of an empty house should they return.

Mr. A. E. Barratt was in Montreal this week on a business trip.

Miss Shannon, of Marmora was the guest of Miss Maye McNichol on Sunday.

Miss Lena Waters, of Peterborough, is spending a few days at her home in Trent Bridge.

Miss Maude Cole left on Thursday morning for Peterborough, where she will visit with friends for the next few weeks.

Mr. F. McWilliams and Mr. Hugh Shannon, of Marmora, were in town on Tuesday night.

Miss Bessie Rose was in Peterborough on Tuesday.

Miss Lottie Childs, of Peterborough is in town, the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. V. A. Coon.

Fruit Cures Constipation

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Constipation because they are Fruit Juices in Tablet form.

Constipation means a disordered liver. When the liver is weak, bile is lacking. And it is the bile—which the liver excretes—that flows into the intestines and moves the bowels.

Fruit is the great liver tonic. It invigorates the liver and causes more bile to flow into the bowels.

Purgatives, powders and purging mineral waters, never reach the liver. They irritate the bowels and FORCE them to move. They generally do harm. They NEVER do any PERMANENT good.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices—in which the medicinal action is many times intensified by the wonderful change which takes place when the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are combined.

"Fruit-a-tives" have already proved a cure to many thousands of people in Canada.

"Fruit-a-tives" are free from calomel, cascara, senna and other bowel irritants. They are concentrated fruit juices with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics added.

"Fruit-a-tives" move the bowels regularly and easily every day — and thus cure Constipation.

that had occurred as the old man stood there he saw something coming across the moor, something which terrified him so that he lost his wits, and ran and ran until he died of sheer horror and exhaustion. There was the long, gloomy tunnel down which he fled. And from what? A sheep-dog of the moor? Or a spectral hound, black, silent, and monstrous? Was there a human agency in the matter? Did the pale, watchful Barrymore know more than he cared to say? It was all dim and vague, but always there is the dark shadow of crime behind it.

One other neighbor I have met since I wrote last. This is Mr. Frankland, of Lafter Hall, who lives some four miles to the south of us. He is an elderly man, red faced, white haired, and choleric. His passion is for the British law, and he has spent a large fortune in litigation. He fights for the mere pleasure of fighting and is equally ready to take up either side of a question, so that it is no wonder that he has found it a costly amusement. Sometimes he will shut up a right of way and defy the parish to make him open it. At others he will with his own hands tear down some other man's gate and declare that a path has existed there from time immemorial, defying the owner to prosecute him for trespass. He is learned in old manorial and communal rights, and he applies his knowledge sometimes in favor of the villagers of Fernworthy and sometimes against them, so that he is periodically either carried in triumph down the village street or else burned in effigy, according to his latest exploit. He is said to have about seven lawsuits upon his hands at present, which will probably swallow up the remainder of his fortune and so draw his sting and leave him harmless for the future. Apart from the law he seems a kindly, good-natured person, and I only mention him because you were particular that I should send some description of the people who surround us. He is curiously employed at present, for, being an amateur astronomer, he has an excellent telescope, with which he lies upon the roof of his own house and sweeps the moor all day in the hope of catching a glimpse of the escaped convict. If he would confine his energies to this all would be well, but there are rumors that he intends to prosecute Dr. Mortimer for opening a grave without the consent of the next-of-kin, because he dug up the neolithic skull in the barrow on Long Down. He helps to keep our lives from being monotonous and gives a little comic relief where it is badly needed.

And now, having brought you up to date in the escaped convict, the Stapletons, Dr. Mortimer, and Frankland, of Lafter Hall, let me end on that which is most important and tell you more about the Barrymores, and especially about the surprising development of last night.

First of all about the test telegram, which you sent from London in order to make sure that Barrymore was really here. I have already explained that the testimony of the postmaster shows that the test was worthless and that we have no proof one way or the other. I told Sir Henry how the matter stood, and he at once, in his downright fashion had Barrymore up and asked him whether he had received the telegram himself. Barrymore said that he had.

"Did the boy deliver it into your own hands?" asked Sir Henry.

Barrymore looked surprised, and considered for a little time.

"No," said he, "I was in the boxroom at the time, and my wife brought it up to me."

"Did you answer it yourself?"

"No; I told my wife what to answer and she went down to write it."

In the evening he recurred to the subject of his own accord.

"I could not quite understand the object of your questions this morning, Sir Henry," said he. "I trust that they do not mean that I have done anything to forfeit your confidence?"

Sir Henry had to assure him that it was not so and pacify him by giving him a considerable part of his old wardrobe, the London outfit having now all arrived.

Mrs. Barrymore is of interest to me. She is a heavy, solid person, very limited, intensely respectable, and inclined to be puritanical. You could hardly conceive a less emotional subject. Yet I have told you how, on the first night here, I heard her sobbing bitterly, and since then I have more than once observed traces of tears upon her face. Some deep sorrow gnaws ever at her heart. Sometimes I wonder if she has a guilty memory which haunts her, and sometimes I suspect Barrymore of being a domestic tyrant. I have always felt that there was something singular and questionable in this man's character, but the adventure of last night bring all my suspicions to a head.

And yet it may seem a small matter in itself. You are aware that I am not a very sound sleeper, and since I have been on guard in this house my slumbers have been lighter than ever. Last night, about two in the morning, I was aroused by a stealthy step passing my room. I rose, opened my door, and peeped out. A long black shadow was trailing down the corridor. It was thrown by a man who walked softly down the passage with a candle held in his hand. He was in shirt and trousers, with no covering to his feet. I could merely see the outline, but his height told me that it was Barrymore. He walked very slowly and circumspectly, and there was something indescribably guilty and furtive in his whole appearance.

I have told you that the corridor is broken by the balcony which runs round the hall, but that it is resumed upon the farther side. I waited until he had passed out of sight and then I followed him. When I came round the balcony he had reached the end of the farther corridor, and I could see from the glimmer of light through an open door that he had entered one of the rooms. Now, all these rooms are unfurnished and unoccupied, so that his expedition became more mysterious than ever. The light shone steadily as if he were standing motionless. I crept down the passage as noiselessly as I could and peeped round the corner of the door.

Barrymore was crouching at the window with the candle held against the glass. His profile was half turned towards me, and his face seemed to be rigid with expectation as he stared out into the blackness of the moor. For some minutes he stood watching intently. Then he gave a deep groan and with an impatient gesture he put out the light. Instantly I made my way back to my room, and very shortly came the stealthy steps passing once more upon their return journey. Long afterwards when I had fallen into a light sleep I heard a key turn somewhere in a lock, but I could not tell whence the sound came. What it all means I cannot guess, but there is some secret business going on in this house of gloom which sooner or later we shall get to the bottom of. I do not trouble you with my theories, for you asked me to furnish you only with facts. I have had a long talk with Sir Henry this morning, and we have made a plan of campaign founded upon my observations of last night. I will not speak about it just now, but it should make my next report interesting reading.

CHAPTER IX.

Baskerville Hall, Oct. 15th.

My dear Holmes,—If I was compelled to leave you without much news during the early days of my mission you must acknowledge that I am making up for lost time, and that events are now crowding thick and fast upon us. In my last report I ended upon my top note with Barrymore at the window, and now I have quite a budget already which will, unless I am much mistaken, considerably surprise you. Things have taken a turn which I could not have anticipated. In some ways they have within the last forty-eight hours become much clearer and in some ways they have become more complicated. But I will tell you all and you shall judge for yourself.

Before breakfast on the morning following my adventure I went down the corridor and examined the room in which Barrymore had been on the night before. The western window through which he had stared so intently has, I noticed, one peculiarity above all other windows in the house—it commands the nearest outlook on to the moor. There is an opening between two trees which enables one from this point of view to look right down upon it, while from all the other windows it is only a distant glimpse which can be obtained. It follows, therefore, that Barrymore, since only this window would serve his purpose, must have been looking out for something or somebody upon the moor. The night was very dark, so that I can hardly imagine how he could have hoped to see anyone. It had struck me that it was possible that some love intrigue was on foot. That would have accounted for his stealthy movements and also for the uneasiness of his wife. The man is a striking-looking fellow, very well equipped to steal the heart of a country girl, so that this theory seemed to have something to support it. That opening of the door which I had heard after I had returned to my room might mean that he had gone out to keep some clandestine appointment. So I reasoned with myself in the morning, and I tell you the direction of my suspicions, however much the result may have shown that they were unfounded.

But whatever the true explanation of Barrymore's movements might be, I felt that the responsibility of keeping them to myself until I could explain them was more than I could bear. I had an interview with the baronet in his study after breakfast, and I told him all that I had seen. He was less surprised than I had expected.

"I knew that Barrymore walked about nights, and I had a mind to speak to him about it," said he. "Two or three times I have heard his steps in the passage, coming and going, just about the hour you name."

"Perhaps then he sees a visit every night to that particular window," I suggested.

"Perhaps he does. If so, we should be able to shadow him, and see what it is that he is after. I wonder what your friend Holmes would do, if he were here."

"I believe that he would do exactly what you now suggest," said I. "He would follow Barrymore and see what he did."

"Then we shall do it together."

"But surely he would hear us."

"The man is rather deaf, and in any case we must take our chance of that. We'll sit up in my room to-night, and wait until he passes." Sir Henry rubbed his hands with pleasure, and it was evident that he hailed the adventure as a relief to his somewhat quiet life upon the moor.

Sir Henry suddenly drew Miss Stapleton to his side.

The baronet has been in communication with the architect who prepared the plans for Sir Charles, and with a contractor from London, so that we may expect great changes to begin here soon. There have been decorators and furnishers up from Plymouth, and it is evident that our friend has large ideas, and means to spare no pains or expense to restore the grandeur of his family. When the house is renovated and refurnished, all that he will need will be a wife to make it complete. Between ourselves there are pretty clear signs that this will not be wanting if the lady is willing, for I have seldom seen a man more infatuated with a woman than he is with our beautiful neighbor, Miss Stapleton. And yet the course of true love does not run quite as smoothly as one would under the circumstances expect. To-day, for example, its surface was broken by a very unexpected ripple, which has caused our friend considerable perplexity and annoyance.

After the conversation which I have quoted about Barrymore Sir Henry put on his hat and prepared to go out. As a matter of course I did the same.

"What, are you coming, Watson?" he asked looking at me in a curious way.

"That depends on whether you are going on the moor," said I.

"Yes, I am."

"Well, you know what my instructions are. I am sorry to intrude, but you heard how earnestly Holmes insisted that I should not leave you, and especially that you should not go alone upon the moor."

Sir Henry put his hand upon my shoulder, with a pleasant smile.

"My dear fellow," said he, "Holmes, with all his wisdom, did not foresee some things which have happened since I have been on the moor. You understand me? I am sure that you are the last man in the world who would wish to be a spoil-sport. I must go out alone."

We wish every run-down woman and every woman suffering from some disorder peculiar to her sex could read the letters we have from grateful users of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets.

They would never afterwards doubt our statement that "They make Healthy Women."

We never violate confidence. We never yet published a letter without permission. There will be nothing wrong, however, in giving the following snatches from letters recently received.

"I think they are just wonderful."

"In less than a week I could see good results."

"I couldn't have got more good if I had gone to see Dr. Hugo himself."

"My physician gave me the first box."

"I am feeling now like a new woman, have better color, eat better, sleep better, feel better."

"Health Tablets have done for me what my physician seemed unable to do, i.e., made me a healthy woman."

These few abstracts show the appreciation in which these tablets are held by those who have used them.

If you are sick or not feeling as well as you would like to, we want you to take a box of these tablets.

You can't realize until then how much good one box will do you.

FREIGHT MEN GO OUT; MORE STRIKERS

Add ro the General Tie-Up At Montreal.

ARBITRATION IS REFUSED

Longshoremen Stand Out for Five Cents Increase—Decline to Accept an Advance of 2 1-2 Offered by Shipping Federation — 350 Freight Handlers Join the Teamsters in Leaving Work.

Montreal, May 17.—The federation of shippers and the C. P. R. offered the longshoremen an advance of 2 1-2 cents per hour yesterday, but the men, after due consideration, not only refused to accept the advance, but also declined an offer to arbitrate, and the following is the document:

"The shipping federation of Canada and the C. P. R. Co. submit offer without prejudice of an increase in wages to the longshoremen of the port of Montreal of 2 1-2 cents per hour worked day and night on the understanding that these rates are to remain in force till the last ocean vessel sails from Montreal season of 1907.

"If this is not acceptable then they are willing to arbitrate the question of wages, provided the workmen resume work forthwith, in which case the decision of the arbitrators will date from Friday, May 17, 1907, it being understood that the rates fixed by the arbitrators are to remain in force until the last ocean vessel sails from Montreal season of 1907, these two offers to remain open for acceptance till Friday, May 17, 1907, at noon.

(Signed) "H. A. Allan, President of the Shipping Federation of Canada.

"D. McNicoll, first vice-president, C. P. R."

A further complication was added by the freight handlers to the number of 350 "resigning" their various positions and leaving work. To signalize the occasion the men formed in parade order in front of the longshoremen's headquarters and marched westward in Commissioners street to cast in their lot with their fellow workers, the Shedden Co.'s teamsters, who had previously "resigned" Wednesday morning. These men held forth at Nault's Hall in Guy street, and their action added to the general holiday aspect of the situation.

Miners to Test Act.

Vancouver, B. C., May 17.—Behind the miners of Marble Bay Island, in their fight with the management of the mines, stands the Western Federation of Miners, which, since March 25, the date on which the men quit work, has been supplying them with strike pay. The men declare that the fight is practically out of their hands, and that any settlement reached will have to be negotiated through the Western Federation.

The decision of the mine owners to commence criminal prosecution of the men under the provisions of the Dominion Industrial Investigation Act, will bring all the power of the Western Federation to bear to render the act imperative in this case.

WHEAT CROP A FAILURE.

Prices Are Now Higher Than For Several Decades.

Odessa, May 17.—The European wheat situation is regarded by competent grain merchants here as being most unfavorable. The present prices are the highest the experts on the Bourse can remember to have been quoted in Russia for decades past. The provinces of Bessarabia, Poltava, Kherson and Podolia are gravely affected. Seventy-five per cent. of the winter crops have been damaged by the cold weather and dry spring. Owing to the sudden rise in temperature a fortnight ago the entire spring crops will be lost unless rain falls within a week, in which case possibly 35 per cent. of the spring crop will be reaped.

About Kishiney the farmers are reploughing their fields, the first sowings having been ruined by drouth. At Kelsabethgrad the winter wheat crop is a total failure, and the spring crops are threatened with destruction owing to lack of rain.

Submarines Stand Test.

Newport, R. I., May 17.—With all hands well and contented, with a bountiful supply of fresh air, and with records of submergence broken, the submarines, Octopus and Lake, rose to the surface of Narragansett Bay at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, ending a test of 24 hours under water.

The Octopus rose first, and the members of the naval trial board crowded about her as the conning tower hatch flew open. The members of the board at once went below to note conditions on board, and to test the air supply. Samples of air were bottled every two hours throughout the test for analysis by the board.

The Octopus blew out foul air only twice during the twenty-four hours she was at the bottom of the bay. It was computed that only one-forty-fifth of her air supply was exhausted. If these figures are correct they tend to show that the boat could main submerged 45 days, provided the food and fuel supply was sufficient.

Miners Will Eject Japs.

Vancouver, B. C., May 17.—Angered at the introduction of Japanese into the Atlin district by J. M. Ruffner, the miners have determined to force the Orientals out of the camp. In their fight against the Japanese the miners have the merchants behind them.

The miners declare that the Japanese will be forcibly ejected this week if they do not move immediately.

Sultan Yields to France.

Paris, May 17.—The Sultan of Morocco has decided to comply entirely with France's demands for reparation as the result of the murder of Dr. Mauchamp.

The Ministers decided to await the receipt of the full text of the full letter before arriving at a decision as to whether it is satisfactory.

In any case, the occupation of Oudja will continue until an absolute settlement has been reached.

EMPHATIC PROTEST WAS MADE

Bond's Attitude At Conference Is Substantiated.

DEAKIN MAKES STATEMENT

Corroborates Summary Given in London Mail as to What Occurred—"News" Terms Report as Malignant Invention of Thugs—Colonials Unfairly Treated—Canada Only Country Mentioned.

London, May 17.—(C. A. P.)—The Mail obtained the following statement from Premier Deakin: "The report of Bond's remarks in The Mail correctly summarized his speeches and general attitude. Bond certainly protested emphatically on behalf of his colony, both against the treatment to which its Legislature had been subjected, and against the refusal of the Imperial Government to reverse."

Deakin, however, believes that Bond did not leave the conference room till the conference closed.

Churchill, in the House of Commons, said The Mail's statement that Bond admitted its report of the incident at Tuesday's conference to be substantially correct, is, in his opinion, another misrepresentation. Churchill explained that the summary of Bond's speech was not given in the precis because it was very long and complex, but would be published in extenso shortly. The part of the debate on the fisheries question which related to foreign affairs this conference decided should be secret.

The News, which describes The Mail report of Bond's speech as a malignant invention of journalistic thugs, and hopes that Bond values his reputation more highly than to leave his word in an equivocal position. An explanation is all the more necessary in view of the way the concession of Newfoundland territory to the Harmsworth syndicate was rushed through, which has not been forgotten.

Sir W. Lyne, who expresses disappointment at the results of conference where colonials have been unfairly treated in more ways than one, says that Canada seems to be the only country in the King's dominions spoken about here.

DANGEROUS PURGATIVES

Medicines of This Class Do Not Cure—Their Effect is Weakening

Nothing could be more cruel than to induce a weak, anaemic person to take a purgative medicine in the hope of finding relief. Ask any doctor and he will tell you that a purgative medicine merely gallops through the bowels, weakening the tender tissues. He will tell you also that a purgative cannot possibly cure disease, or build up bad blood. When the blood is weak and watery, when the system is run down a tonic is the one thing needed—is the only thing that will put you right. And in all this world there is no tonic so good as Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People. Every dose of these pills actually makes new, rich red blood which fills the veins, reaches every organ in the body and brings health and strength to weak despondent people. Miss Annie Beaudreau, Amherst, Magdalene Islands, Que., says:—"I was pale, my heart would palpitate violently at the least exertion, and I suffered greatly from severe headaches. I tried several medicines which seemed actually to leave me worse. Then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and a half dozen boxes have made me as well as ever I was. They have done me so much good that I would like every weak girl in the land to try them."

It was the new blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually made that restored Miss Beaudreau to health and strength, and in the same way they will restore all sufferers from anaemia, indigestion, heart palpitation, neuralgia, rheumatism and the secret ailments that make the lives of so many women and growing girls a burden. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CALL BILL AN INSULT.

Suggestion That the Dispute Go Before the Peace Conference.

Dublin, May 17.—The executive committee of the Sein Fein Society, representing advanced Irish Nationalism, considers Mr. Birrell's Irish bill to be an insult to Ireland and wants the Nationalist members of Parliament to withdraw from the House and demand a settlement of the "international dispute between Ireland and England at The Hague conference."

Indians to Have Peace Pow-wow.

TALKED ON RECIPROCITY.

Hon. R. F. Sutherland Takes Issue With Ex.-Sec. Shaw.

New York, May 17.—In an extemporaneous address delivered last night at the annual banquet of the Canadian Club of New York Hon. R. F. Sutherland, Speaker in the Canadian House of Commons, took issue with Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, ex-Secretary of the United States Treasury, who had preceded him as a speaker, and declared substantially that Canada had determined upon a tariff policy that would be of a nature retaliatory toward the United States. Mr. Shaw had addressed himself to the subject of "Reciprocity." His remarks were listened to by more than three hundred guests present at the banquet, which was held in the great ball room of the Hotel Astor. He had declared in effect that reciprocity between Canada and the United States was impossible and undesirable. He had stated further that he believed Canada and the United States would "settle down to the policy of maintaining one-priced markets"; that they would maintain such tariffs as would best conserve their own interests, but would then treat all outsiders with equal consideration.

GREAT SOCIALIST VICTORY.

With Anti-Semites Will Be Powerful In New House.

Vienna, May 17.—The returns from the elections held Tuesday throughout Austria are not yet complete, but show conclusively that the most powerful parties in the Lower House of Parliament that will assemble June 12 will be the Socialists and anti-Semites.

The success of the anti-Semites has not been so remarkable, but still it is great. They numbered twenty-six representatives in the old House, and they have already fifty-nine seats in the new, with thirty candidates in the re-ballots.

Consequently, there are two distinct features to be seen in the coming House—a Socialist party, possibly 70 strong, and an anti-Semitic clerical centre, numbering perhaps 80 or 90, as the German clericals, who secured 26 seats, always make a common cause with the anti-Semites. Herr Von Machet, the Minister of Public Instruction, has resigned in consequence of his defeat at the polls.

ROB JEWELLERY STORE.

Safe Blown Open — Diamonds and Watches Carried Off.

Alexandria, Ont., May 17.—Burglars Wednesday night entered the jewellery store of H. R. Cuddens and, blowing open the safe, carried off a lot of watches, diamonds and other jewellery.

Persons living near heard the explosion and came to their doors, but were ordered back and shots were fired to intimidate them.

Cuddens' loss is thought to be over two thousand dollars. His valuable showcases were wrecked also.

To Discipline Pastor.

New York, May 17.—The trustees of the Bushwick Avenue Congregational Church, Brooklyn, the pastor of which, Rev. Dr. John L. Clark, recently officiated at the marriage of Wm. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, and Mabelle Gilman, after a meeting Wednesday night, announced that another meeting will be held to-night at which some action regarding the matter will be taken. The meeting Wednesday night was behind closed doors. One of the participants, according to a published statement yesterday, said that Pastor Clark had placed his resignation at the disposal of the board of trustees.

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

Do Not Commit the Error of Comparing Your Wife's Early Culinary Efforts With the Perfection Acquired by Your Mother After a Lifetime of Training—Be Complimentary.

[Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.]

MY DEAR JOHN—Your mother requests me to inclose her recipe for making biscuits for which you asked her. She is too tired to write tonight, but in this connection she has made a few remarks, and, as you have reason to know, there's always more good horse sense in what she says than you can find in a day's search through the writings of the philosophers, from Plato to Tom Lawson. I have a few thoughts of my own on the subject, and I am going to mix them up with those of your mother and send 'em along for your edification—sort of an admonitory sandwich in which the meat is from her and crusts from your dad.

The joke about mother's biscuits is so old that these scientific fellows who "chase the panting syllable back to Noah's ark" have found traces of it in the ruins of Nineveh, and it is apparent that it had lost its youthful freshness even then. But the fact that it survives the centuries proves that it is an illustration of an immortal crisis in family affairs. The gustatory sense is most acute in youth. As boys our chief characteristic is an internal and unappeasable hunger. Everything we put into our little insides, from batter cakes to ice cream soda, gives us enjoyment that is animal in its ferocity. Naturally the person who provides us with the pleasures of the table during this period becomes the culinary ideal of our lives. You never taste such made pies as mother used to make. Mother makes the same pies now, uses the same ingredients and mixes them with the same consummate skill, but they wouldn't give you the supreme satisfaction they once did. The trouble isn't with the pies, my boy. It is that you have changed.

Not a Parallel Case.

So for this reason and some others it is not fair to compare your wife's cooking with that upon which you fed in your growing days. In these times of really practical cooking schools it is possible to find young women who can give the most experienced housewives a handicap and beat 'em by a length. Understand me, I say it is possible, but you would probably have to search a long time before discovering such a one. Cooking schools, however excellent, are like all other schools. They merely lay the foundations of an education that must be completed in the postgraduate university of practical experience, and it is only once in awhile that they turn out a full fledged cook. The average young housewife knows a little—usually a very little—about cooking, and yet the average man expects her to have the culinary skill of a $10,000 chef or of a woman who has been superintending a kitchen for a generation. What they ought to do, what you ought to do, is to forget that you ever had a mother when you come to the table, and, if you can't help making comparisons, for heaven's sake keep 'em to yourself. Give her a chance. She'll learn, and with a little encouragement she'll soon be making pies as good as mamma's best. You won't be able to enjoy them quite so well, because you have lost some of your capacity for enjoyment, and you can't appreciate their equal excellence because you have placed a halo around the memory of mamma's pies. Your mother is a mighty good cook, but she lacked a whole lot of being one when I married her thirty years ago, and your wife will have to be ground through the same mill. Help her along. No matter if the biscuits are a little soggy or the steak overdone. You are young yet and can stand it. At any rate, you won't make matters better by comparisons or criticisms.

There have been about as many homes broken up by smart Alecky husbands as there have been from causes recognized by the law. Your wife may be lacking in some of the qualifications of a housewife, but I have strong doubts about your ability to teach her. When my old chum Bob Ramsey got married to little Mollie Peterson, he at once assumed the high and mighty lord protector air. She was just out of a convent and didn't know anything but French and fancy work, and Bob undertook to show her. What she lacked in practical education she made up in spunk, and inside of two weeks she was back at her mother's, and Bob was down on his knees asking for forgiveness. It was a case of genuine love, and they fixed it up. Today she is one of the best housekeepers and one of the most faithful and devoted wives in America, but she wouldn't have been if Bob hadn't changed his tactics. As I have pointed out to you before, you can't break one of our girls to harness with an ox goad. If you drive her at all, it must be with a blind bridle and a cluck suggesting encouragement, but never force. Hold the reins if you must, but when you find it necessary to pull on them do it so gently that she won't suspect it. I used to have a filly that would take the bit in her teeth and run away every time I cracked the whip, but give her a lump of sugar, pat her on the back, and she would go at any pace I wanted. That's the way you've got to treat a woman if you want to have a home where peace and happiness prevail.

Compliments Cost Nothing.

Compliments will accomplish more in a month than criticisms in a lifetime. Don't you suppose she knows as well as you when anything is wrong with the cooking, and do you imagine that her mortification and disappointment will be relieved by your measly kicks? Not on your life! On the other hand, don't you suppose that she knows you're lying when you praise the batter cakes you can hardly swallow? Of course she does, but nevertheless the load that you put in your stomach you lift from her heart, and she inwardly resolves to do better if she has to break her arm stirring batter. She realizes that you are a hypocrite, but she knows that you are a hero, and she can't find fault with hypocrisy that is prompted by your love for her.

Carping criticism is just as useless in any other department of household affairs. Man may be lord of creation, but he wants to hang his crown and scepter on the hall rack when he enters the home. That is woman's realm, and it is eminently right and proper that there he should play second fiddle. He gets up in the morning, swallows a hasty breakfast and hustles off to his office. He comes back home in the evening, eats a heavy dinner, reads awhile or goes out to a club and then goes to bed. Home is to him simply a place to eat and sleep. What does he know about the details of household management? What does he know about the thousand and one annoyances and difficulties which confront every good housewife, and, not knowing, how can he place a proper value on results? The wife lives at home. The greater part of her duties and responsibilities is bounded by its four walls. Here she should have full sway, her only limitations the size of her husband's purse and the conditions of his labor. By his advice and sympathy he can do much to relieve her troubles and make her way more pleasant.

Encourage Her Home Instinct.

The home instinct is strong in nearly all women, and the majority will do everything possible to make home pleasant if given proper assistance and encouragement. They will make mistakes, of course. I have yet to see the man who doesn't. But in most cases they can see them as quickly as the creatures in trousers who assume to know it all and will do much more to correct them than he can possibly ask if they are let alone. There are times, I will admit, when it becomes advisable—nay, absolutely necessary—for a man to call his wife's attention to errors she has overlooked or willfully made. He should always remember, however, that it is his wife and not his office boy he is dealing with and that diplomacy will do more with a woman than a big stick, no matter how vigorously used. Some men will tell you that a big stick is the proper weapon for the maintenance of discipline and peace in the household, but I want to inform you with all the emphasis that I can put into it that the one important thing to maintain in the home is love.

The most effective instrument for use in a husband's hands or a wife's either, for that matter, is compliment, yet it is one that is less used than any other. The beauty and graces that in our courtship days drew forth the most extravagant praise are suffered to pass unnoticed or unmentioned in later years. The little attentions that once so delighted us become mere matters of daily routine, and we accept them as our right and without comment. Yet all the time that dear little woman hungers for the recognition that is her due, longs with the longing that man cannot understand for the little word that expresses your continued admiration, for the little acts that are proof of your undiminished affection, for the evidences of your appreciation of her efforts to make you comfortable and happy. She hungers, but all too often her love is allowed to slowly perish from starvation. The heart dries up from lack of nourishment, and the blind man wonders at the change. No matter how strong your love may be, no matter how much you appreciate her labors and her personal attentions to you, all this has little value to her unless it is expressed in some form. Still waters run deep, you have heard, but the very uncertainty of its depth, the possibilities of dangerous undercurrents, the monsters with which the imagination may people it, make it much less attractive than the babbling brook where clear waters conceal nothing, which pursues its cheerful way between flower strewn banks, catching and throwing back the sunshine as it passes. The brook is just as constant as the ocean, and it has no secrets.

You Must Entertain Her.

However taciturn you may be in your office, drop it when you come home. Loosen your tongue and open your eyes. See the things that please you and tell her that they please you. If she has put a flower in her hair, notice it and say so. If she has donned something new in dress or adornment, tell her that you like it, if you do; if you don't, why, compliment her anyhow. When she prepares a new dish to tempt your flagging appetite, let her know that it pleases you. Praise her cooking. Praise her economies, even if they are rather expensive at times. Praise her housekeeping generally. Praise her looks. Many a woman becomes a slattern because she feels that her husband no longer takes an interest in her appearance. Compliment her whenever and wherever occasion justifies and sometimes when it doesn't and you will encourage her to efforts that will increase your happiness as well as her own. Judicious praise, my boy, is a mighty good thing anywhere, but its highest use is in the home.

One of my old friends married a girl of many accomplishments, but physically unattractive. Her features were plain, her form far from the perfect model; her clothes gave evidence of a lack of taste as well as of that indefinable quality which women call style. He made it a point to compliment her on her appearance. She began to sit up and take notice, commenced exercising daily to fill out the hollow places in her form, devoted hours to the treatment of her hair and complexion, studied dress with much more diligence than she had ever studied Browning's poems, and, by George, if that little woman hasn't become one of the handsomest, one of the most attractive women you could find in twenty blocks! Do you suppose she would have done this if he had called her attention to Mrs. Jones' superior styles, Mrs. Smith's more beautiful complexion or Mrs. Thompson's more perfect figure? Not on your life! She would have grown uglier and dowdier every day.

I've got a long way from the biscuits I started out with, but they're probably cold by this time, and there's no use to go back to them. However, the principle's the same all the way through. Don't pester your wife about what your mother or anybody else could do. Help her to find her own way, give her the incentive to effort in your expressed delight in her and her achievements, and you will have a home that will be a delight to everybody. Yours affectionately,

JOHN SNEED.

Would Import Russians.

The Prairie is a weekly paper published at Calgary, not without some vigorous views and breeziness of expression. A contributor called "Augustus" proposes to settle the coal strike by importing 3,000 Russians.

These Russians are to be treated in a manner which will make them feel that they are still under the Czar. Confiscation of all his property and deportation are among the wild punishments to be inflicted upon any Russian miner who joins the union. The editor mildly says: "Augustus has opinions on the coal situation which he airs in this number. You may not agree with him; but his remarks are at least readable."

Candidates In Hants.

Halifax, N. S., May 16.—Hants County Liberals yesterday nominated Sheriff James O'Brien of Windsor for the Provincial Legislature. The Conservatives have nominated E. A. O'Brien, merchant, of Noel, who in June last was defeated by 120.

JURY NEARLY CHOSEN.

No Trouble Now Feared In the Idaho Murder Trial.

Boise, Idaho, May 17.—There is still every reason to hope that the jury will have been selected before court adjourns on Saturday afternoon. Haywood has changed greatly in his demeanor within the last two days.

At first he left his counsel severely alone and appeared to be taking little or no interest in the selection of the jury. Now, however, he scans each talesman closely and is almost continually in conference with his counsel.

It would appear from interviews with the best informed persons here that any fear of trouble caused by the more radical element has now disappeared. The belief is expressed that the representative men of labor union circles throughout the country fully realize that the State of Idaho proposes to give the men a fair trial.

Harry Orchard, the prisoner witness upon whom the State of Idaho chiefly relies to prove its charge that an inner circle of the Western Federation of Miners planned the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, broke his long silence yesterday.

Orchard denied that force was used to obtain the statements he made, and denied that state officers promised him immunity for his confession of crime or reward for the value of his alleged confession. Orchard's manner and conversation tended strongly to confirm the assertion that he has been converted to Christianity, which statement he made himself.

As a precautionary measure, the actual place in the penitentiary where Orchard is confined is kept secret.

CUTS OFF 13 LICENSES.

Decision of Government Affecting Rainy River District.

Toronto, May 17.—Instead of cutting off only eight liquor licenses in the Rainy River district, between Fort William and Kenora during the double-tracking of the C. P. R. those points, the Government will close out thirteen. This action has been prompted by the desire of the Administration to protect the thousands of navvies, who will be employed on the work, from the evils of indiscriminate liquor selling.

Kenora being an incorporated town will not be affected, but every other settlement in the prescribed territory will be left dry. The licenses to be cancelled are: Keewatin, three taverns, one shop; Wabigoon, two taverns and one shop; Dryden, two taverns; Vermilion Bay, Dinorwic, Gold Rock and Ignace, one tavern license each.

Eudo Saunders left the city last night for Ottawa, where he will appear before the license commissioners to present the desire of the Ontario Government that no license shall be issued in Nepean Township in the County of Carleton. Nepean voted on local option last January, and carried it, but the bylaw was set aside by the court. The commissioners have entertained a doubt as to whether the case was the kind from which the Government desired to withhold licenses.

The temperance and moral reform committee will also wait upon the commissioners in support of the prohibition.

ANOTHER TRAIN SMASH.

Engineer Stuck to His Post and Was Badly Injured.

Toronto, May 17.—George Shields was seriously injured by a railway accident at Mimico yesterday morning and is in the Western Hospital, suffering from severe scalds and burns.

The C. P. R. train, of which Shields was driver, left the Union Depot at 9.45 a.m. yesterday for Hamilton. Passing through the Grand Trunk yards at Mimico his engine collided with a G. T. R. freight, which was standing on a siding, but with engine pilot and cylinder projecting over the main line.

The smoky atmosphere prevented Shields from realizing the position in time to entirely avert an accident, but when he saw the danger he pluckily stood by his engine and applied the emergency brakes. This doubtless saved the lives of many passengers, as all the coaches were filled. Only the smoking car left the tracks.

The impact threw him over the cab to the track and scattered live coals and scalding water over him. The fireman jumped from the engine and saved himself.

Both engines were derailed. That of the G.T.R. was almost demolished, while freight cars blocked the adjoining tracks.

Must Serve Seven Years.

New York, May 17.—Anisia Louise De Massy, recently convicted of having killed Gustav Simon, a Broadway shirt waist manufacturer, was yesterday sentenced to serve seven years and five months in the state prison for women at Auburn.

Despondent Woman Suicides.

Ottawa, May 17.—A member of a well-known family in Metcalfe, Mrs. James McCovey, hanged herself in a barn there yesterday in a fit of despondence brought on by ill-health.

Woman and Children Drowned.

Duck Lake, Sask., May 17.—Word has been received here of the drowning of Mrs. G. Cardinal and her three children while crossing Coal Lake.

SEEDING IS VERY LATE

WESTERN FARMERS FIVE WEEKS BEHIND IN THEIR WORK.

This May Really Be An Advantage—Better Chances of Bumper Crop—Early Seeding Does Not Mean Rich Fruition—Farmers to Be Congratulated—Means Less Work and More Money.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan farmers are more than five weeks behind in their seeding. Are they downhearted? Not they! Downhearted folk do not live in the West. They have called history and the almanac to their aid, and they find that the later the seeding, the better the chances of a bumper crop. Now, most of us would have thought that with late seeding there would exist a strong probability of autumn frost injuring or killing the wheat. Not so, say the farmers. The long days of summer will ripen the Number One Hard. The shortness of the germinating season not only does not necessarily operate against a good crop, but as a rule the best crops are obtained when the spring is not exceptionally early or the seeding done at an early date.

Mr. Golden, the Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Manitoba, has issued a bulletin on the subject, covering conditions for 28 years past. The bulletin seems to show clearly that early seeding does not mean rich fruition. Knowledge and experience have shown that two of the chief factors in the maturing of grain are almost invariably present after a late spring—sufficient moisture, which in early seeding is often wasted, and the absence of stagnation in the grain's growth. In other words, moisture and a healthy, continuous growth, of which the rapid growth of the hot-house is a parallel, are the important factors in wheat raising in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Thus, evidently, the Western farmer is entitled, not to condolence, but to congratulation. He has less work to do and more money to expect. Thus are the eternal laws of economics once more fractured by the amazing experiences of modern practice and the circumstances surrounding modern conditions.—Courier.

LAKES WERE ONCE SEAS.

Great Salt Lake Is Slowly Drying Up —May Become Desert.

The Great Salt Lake, it has just been discovered, is gradually drying up, and the inhabitants of Salt Lake City seem quite surprised.

They ought not to be. All salt lakes owe their salinity to the fact of their having no outlet, and a lake without an outlet is a dying lake.

Nor is death usually long delayed, speaking geologically. Lakes Koko Nor and Lob Nor were undoubtedly extensive inland seas not so very many decades ago, yet Seven Hedin found them the other day reduced to mere acrid puddles, set in the midst of well nigh limitless salt deserts that once were their beds.

The terrible Takla-makan desert, too, in which Hedin nearly died of thirst, was once the bed of just such a lake. So also were the salt deserts of Persia. Northern Tibet is studded with salt lakes in process of desiccation. The Aral and the Caspian "seas" were at one time far more extensive than is now the case, proving that they, too, are undergoing the inevitable process of desiccation, to which all such bodies of water are sooner or later invariably subjected.

So that, as a matter of fact, the early Australian pioneers were not so very far out in their reckoning, when they imagined that the greater part of the unknown interior of the island continent was occupied by an inland sea, into which discharged the many rivers, that like the Murray and the Darling, flowed away from the outer ocean instead of towards it.

They were a few centuries too late, that was all. The Australian Mediterranean had been there, but it had dried up. The last remnants of it exist to-day in deep depressions, like Lake Eyre and Lake Torrens, themselves in process of desiccation. The rest of its area is occupied by the series of salt deserts to which modern explorers have given the name of the Dead Heart of Australia.

London's Mud.

It has been calculated that the cost of a muddy day in London is something like $25,000. This is not surprising when one remembers that no fewer than thirty-two tons of mud are carried about from place to place on the wheels of carts and carriages and horses hoofs. After a wet day the dry mud brushed from people's clothing amounts to fifteen tons, and a very similar amount is shaken out of the door-mats.

Five Emeralds.

Cortes obtained in Mexico five emeralds of wonderful size and beauty. One was like a rose, another in the shape of a horn, a third in that of a fish, with diamond eyes; a fourth like a bell, with a pearl for a clapper; the fifth was a cup, with a foot of gold and with four little chains, each ended with a large pearl. He had also two emerald vases, worth $80,000 apiece each.

PEOPLING QUEBEC.

Garden of Province—Why Old Country People Like It.

While the great rush of immigrants is to the Northwest, there is a quiet movement going on in the Eastern Townships, organized by prominent citizens there, and supported, to some extent, by the Provincial Government, which has for its object increased settlement in the "Garden of Quebec."

The lure of the West, and especially of the Klondike, caused a certain exodus to occur some years ago from the Eastern Townships—a depletion which was deeply regretted by prominent citizens, who were well persuaded that in this favored portion of the province the chances of making a comfortable living were equal to these in any other part of the Dominion. Though the Townships might not have gold (and even this has yet to be tested), it had the finest land in the Dominion, orderly institutions, and the most alluring scenic aspects, composed of hill and valley, lake and river, with the soft and serene atmosphere which bespoke long settlement.

To Attract Farmers.

To improve the situation it was resolved to direct the attention of small farmers and farm laborers in the Old Country to the Eastern Townships, and although there is no rush in response, the movement has met with a steady measure of success.

Hundreds of English families have been settled in the Townships during the past few years, and considerable numbers are expected this season.

All are selected on the other side by the emigration societies there, and communication made with either Mr. Marquette, the provincial immigration agent, or the local committee in the Townships. It thus happens that when the farmer or the laborer, with his family, come out, there's a place for them, sometimes it is the place of farm hand, and sometimes, where there is a little money in the case, it is a farm ready for working.

The chief interest of this movement for British settlers consists in the fact that the Townships mimic, in many wholesome ways, the life of the Old Land. The sense of neatness and order is all-prevalent. The farmers give the idea of care and pride.

Sense of Neatness.

The hedgerows, in great part, have taken the place of the snake fence.

Before every house, whether in the country itself or the nearby village, there is a garden plot, where grow the simple things which, in the Mother Land, are so dear to love and memory.

The people, belong, for the most part, to the Old Loyalist stock. They are as yet unbitten by the sceptical spirit of the age, and they present wholesome aspects of life which are found attractive by Old Country people who, when they reach the Townships, suffer less wrench of feeling than do those who make their homes on the bare prairies.

The immigration movement in the Townships is considered to be hopeful. There is abundance of the finest of land, but what, perhaps, is most important, there is an industrial awakening which promises, in the small towns, to add much prosperity to this desirable part of the province. In St. Johns, Sherbrooke, Granby, Farnham, Huntingdon, Coaticook, and other places, there are large concerns which give employment to thousands in the making of sewing machines (as in the case of the Singer factory at St. Johns, employing fully one thousand hands), farming implements, rubbers, mining machinery, and the like. With the improvement in this double direction—agricultural and industrial—the prospects of the Eastern Townships are considered bright.

Wage-Earners of Canada.

The average yearly earnings at all occupations in Canada, according to the figures of the last decennial census, were $387.16 for males and $181.98 for females. These apply to wage-earners fifteen years of age and upwards, and are taken from completed records of 514,930 persons. Trade and transportation pays an average wage of $503.02 for every male employe. Professional men, including clergy, Government employes, musicians, teachers, engineers, etc., earn $676.88 per year. The average earnings of males employed in manufacturing are $403.14, in agriculture $207.55, in domestic and personal service $272.46.

Of the number of wage-earners stated above 81.17 per cent. are males, 18.83 females. The percentage in different classes of employment are: Agriculture, 8.93 per cent.; domestic and personal service, 25.61; fisheries, .91; forestry and lumbering, 2.02; manufacturing, 33.83; mining, 2.93; professional, 6.34; trade and transportation, 19.37.

The average yearly salary paid to male teachers in Canada was $486; to females, $245. The average salaries according to provinces were as follows: British Columbia, males $676.84, females $553.08; Ontario, males $537.85, females $307.75; Northwest Territories, males $498.12, females $428.31; Manitoba, males $487, females $410.22; Quebec, males $450.12, females $138.44; New Brunswick, males $412.52, females $227.61; Nova Scotia, males $384.03, females $237.66; Prince Edward Island, males $246.15, females $180.03.

New $30,000 Station.

The Brandon Construction Co. has announced that it will build the new $30,000 station building for the Great Northern Railway. The structure when completed, according to the plans, will be one of the finest of its size in the country. It will be of one-storey construction, on stone foundation, with cut stone trimmings. The walls will be red brick with enamelled brick inside.

The new station will have tiled floors and slate roof. The platform will be constructed of vitrified paving brick. No word has as yet been received by the contractors when to start work, although it is expected the building will be completed by the fall.

What Happened to Sam.

There was a young fellow called Sam,
Who closed the door with a slam.
His aunt said, "Dear me!"
And his mother said, "Gee!"
But his father, he only said, "Samuel!"

Do not crowd the young stock unnaturally.

Given a tight roof, if the hog is fairly well protected from the wind, he will, unless he is sheltered alone, need no litter. He is better without it.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

EASY MATTER TO REMOVE GRATES

If necessity requires, it is an easy matter to remove the grates from the Sunshine.

Just loosen the cotter pin (see the top arrow pointing at it) and the grates on the right can be lifted out. Repeat the operation on the left, and you can do the same with the remaining grates.

Could any operation be easier or simpler?

These four grates are made of heavy cast-iron with the strongest kind of bull dog teeth. Heavy and strong enough to grind up the biggest clinker into particles small enough to sift through the narrow openings between the teeth.

What's left in the ash-pan is not worth sifting.

If your local dealer does not handle the "Sunshine," write direct to us for FREE BOOKLET.

POTPOURRI OF MODES.

Novelty Suitings—Plaid Silks For Linings—The Foulard.

One of the novelty suitings used freely by French dressmakers this season is called drap crepe. It is a semitransparent fabric, with a granite-like surface that comes in all the leading shades, and is very popular in gray and all the neutral shades.

Bright plaid silks are considered smart for linings of all semitransparent goods and under black grenadine is most effective.

The foulard ranks with the pongee as an extremely fashionable and thoroughly serviceable dress fabric, and since it is comparatively inexpensive many women are using it this season to develop frocks that are dressy, but still of simple design.

THE FASHIONABLE PONGEE—5430, 5568.

For a serviceable traveling or street gown the striped suitings are unequalled. They come in a variety of colors and are easily fashioned into the smartest of the season's tailored frocks.

For a young girl the overblouse is the most up to date of the season's styles. A graceful amount of fullness is provided by tucks at the shoulder, and the shaped trimming band that outlines the neck and large armholes adds greatly to the beauty of the mode.

Small round crinoline hats are trimmed about the crowns with a box plaited ruffle of satin ribbon, the plaiting being near the top of the crown and the plaits falling to the edge of the narrow round brims. Over this white lace is plaited, and at each side are fastened sprays of three or four large pink roses.

The cut shows a dainty gown of shantung pongee in sage color, with trimming of black soutache braid applied over a simple design and worn over a guimpe of imitation Irish lace. The blouse is closed invisibly at the back.

FASHION GLEANINGS.

Ankles Like Chameleons—Filet Lace Rules This Season.

Some of the new hosiery shown this spring will hypnotize the average woman. It is "fearful and wonderful" or "perfectly lovely," just as it strikes the individual taste. A style that may be exploited by wearers of the short walking skirt is hosiery of shot silk. Such stockings look as if they were made of changeable taffeta shading from color to color and are worn with pumps of tan and black patent leather. Of course they are expensive.

Filet lace rules this season, as Irish lace did two seasons ago. The square mesh is the thing.

A novel use of leather is in the form of a hatpin. It is rather large, cone shaped, embossed and stained in a handsome design representing leaves and fruit or flowers very rich yet subdued in color. Though it looks massive, it is hollow and of very light weight, and it gleams like a bit of enamel on the spring hat. To meet the desire for small ankles, which arises because of the distension of the feet by low shoes, rubber anklets have been devised to wear inside the stockings or when shoe and stockings are removed at night. It is claimed for these anklets that they retain the flesh in firm but easy bonds, which would otherwise be spread when the high laced boot is discarded.

Stunning automobile coats of rough pongee, with collars and cuffs and sometimes hoods of plaid taffeta, have been seen.

Here are four very attractive berthas to transform an otherwise plain frock for a little girl. No one of these berthas involves any great amount of labor, and each and all are dainty, becoming and graceful.

Predicts Gold Rush.

William Spitual, a prospector, who has spent the winter at Yellow Head Pass, claims that in a short time there will be another rush of gold-seekers to the mountains, greater than the famous Klondike rush. This time it is the Yellow Head Pass that is said to hide a rich store of mineral's wealth. The creeks in the pass are believed to contain some.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

Exquisite French Fans—Crochet Buttons on Pique Suits.

Exquisite little French fans of green, reddish brown, blue and other colored silks with an inserted band of cloth of gold are works of art. These dainty and artistic breeze makers are spangled with golden sequins in wreath and feather designs, and the sticks are of sandalwood.

Pique and duck coat and skirt suits are braided in fine soutache. An occasional inserting of a heavy lace, such as Irish crochet and crochet lace buttons, enriches some of the gowns.

MISSES CHECKED BLOUSE—5650.

As in gay colors there ever lurks the element of coquetry, how irresistible will be the maidens who carry those quaint conceits, the cretonne or chintz parasols!

Where skirts are made plain the best materials to use are the glossy ones, as they carry a certain dressiness with them. The new and very brilliant silks are the proper ones for the purpose, and the new satins make up admirably into the plain skirted suits. The skirts must be rather full and must have an elegant sweep, without which all style is lost.

An auto bag of dark green leather is lined with silk and fitted with brushes and combs and mirrors.

The illustration shows a charming blouse for a young girl. In the cut it is checked blue and white silk trimmed with blue velvet and a chemisette of white lace. The way the bands of velvet are arranged is decidedly chic and novel.

MODISH MATTERS.

Latest Automobile Hat—Smart Trimming For Gowns.

Automobile hats are now made with hair protectors attached. They are hoodlike arrangements, covering the back hair. They fit snugly and are fastened to the hat by buttons, hooks and eyes or are sewed to the rim of the cap. Leather, pongee, cravenette, silk and satin, all are used in the making of the newest garments for motor wear.

Tiny bows of color on yokes and vests of white lace or chiffon and narrow pipings of silk on lacey sleeves are very smart. For instance, a gown of gray and white printed chiffon has a surplus ice bodice folded over a cream chantilly yoke and vest. At the top of the lace stock is a narrow line of soft silvery green silk. Below the neck are three demure little bows of the same. At the elbow where the undersleeves of white mull emerge from those of chiffon and lace are narrow pipings of the green silk.

Dainty summer frocks in batiste or muslin have finely gathered bodices and skirts, the uncommon touch being a box plait of satin ribbon down the center, decorated with tiny ruched rosettes of ribbon in place of buttons. The neck is finished with the daintiest of small lawn and valenciennes collars.

Panama cloth is a favorite material for spring suits, and the model illustrated is of this cloth in smoked gray trimmed with braid. The little vest is of velvet overlaid with oriental embroidery, that gives a touch of color and brilliancy to the whole.

FRESH FRILLS.

Fabrics Used In Wedding Gowns—Revival of the Leghorn.

Tulle is being used for many of the late spring wedding gowns. Glossy silk crapes, too, have come into the market in great quantities, and they are chosen by some brides. Chiffon cloth is still a standby for brides who are economically inclined and expect to get some use out of their wedding gowns later on.

Do not mix the flowers in the wedding toilet. If orange blossoms decorate the gown, wear them also in the hair. Sometimes roses and lilies of the valley are combined, but be certain to have them combined wherever used.

Crossbarred dimity, dainty with little colored flowers, is one of the fads of the season for trousseau sets for girlish brides. One of the latest developments for brides with pretty feet are the little shoes of silver brocade to go with the wedding gown.

Leghorn hats are with us again in goodly profusion. They are the real old fashioned kind, with the small, low crown and the floppy brim, and if they are worn in the most up to date manner they are allowed to flop as they will. Primmed simply with a band of black velvet round the crown and tied in a bow with ends that hang almost to the waist at the back, they are very smart. Mme. Melba, it seems, set the fashion.

The cut shows two pretty little frocks for children made of linen. They may be made either as simple or as elaborate as is desired.

STARVING BABIES

The baby who suffers from indigestion is simply starving to death. It loses all desire for food and the little it does take, does no good, and the child is peevish, cross and restless. Mothers will find no other medicine so prompt to cure as Baby's Own Tablets — they always do good, they cannot possibly do harm. Mrs. James Savoy, Little Lameque, N. B., says: "I believe that had it not been for Baby's Own Tablets my child would have been in her grave. She was completely run down, would refuse food, and was rapidly falling. Nothing I gave her did her any good, until I began the use of Baby's Own Tablets and these have changed her into a well and growing child." Sold by druggists or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

The Right Sort of Patriotism.

The Ontario Government has voted the sum of $75,000 to purchase flags for the public schools of the province. These flags are to be used as object lessons in patriotism. We have an impression that there is a good deal of humbug about this flag business. Patriotism that goes no farther than a lot of bunting does not amount to much. In times gone by Canadians have paid little attention to flags, and yet were about as loyal a people as there is any need for. If patriotism is to be taught in the schools, it should be by means that appeal to intelligence, not merely to the eye. Let the children be taught the resources and the opportunities of their country, and the duty that these entail. Let them be taught that while it may be occasionally necessary to fight for their country it is always necessary to work for their country, and that this is to be done by performing faithfully the daily duties of life, showing justice and kindness to their comrades; that all good work is patriotic and all bad work is treason. If this lesson is thoroughly instilled into the minds and hearts of children more good will be done than by unlimited flag-flying.—Walkerton Telescope.

FORECAST OF FASHION.

Accepted Glove of Eight Button Length—Flowered Taffeta Parasols.

The new three-quarter length coat sleeves demand gloves neither short nor long, but of about the eight button length.

Parasols of flowered taffeta, with deep hems of a plain shade, go well with a linen suit. Tunics and peplums of lace are seen on many of the evening and reception gowns. Lace tunics on underdresses of soft material, such as crepe de chine, soft satin or mousseline, are charming in their effect. Long coats to imitate tunics are favored for afternoon dresses.

The choicest piece of neckwear today is the embroidered collar. A wide assortment is offered, and one can get them at any price. The hemstitched kind is good for everyday wear, but the French linen with hand embroidery is the really fashionable one.

The shepherdess shaped hats are very popular, and the directoire modes are worn with some types of gown, but the preference seems to be for medium sized rather than the exaggerated styles of headgear.

Tussore ribbons in cachemire patterns or pompadour designs, with velvet and silver and gold borders, are rich in effect and high in price. These trim elaborate gauze gowns—rather frocks if one is to be correct.

Embroidered flouncings and bordered materials of various sorts are among the features of summer fashion, and many of these gowns are extremely attractive. Illustrated is a frock of this description charmingly simple and dainty. It is of flouncing combined with valenciennes lace, but any bordered foulard or batiste material can be used in the same way.

Do You Eat and Sleep Well? —Or Are You Pale, Weak and Miserable?

Has your nerve given out? Have you lost confidence in yourself? Has work become such an awful burden that you look upon it with horror?

There's just one thing left to do, and that is to take Ferrozone and get your system into good shape again.

It's quite impossible for anyone to be weak or nervous that uses Ferrozone. It contains so many strength-giving properties benefit is bound to result from its use.

Ferrozone possesses the power to kindle new vitality and vigor where almost a dying condition of weakness exists.

It is an extraordinary and magical tonic, containing more actual nourishment and strengthening elements than you can get at in any other way. As a blood purifier, nerve strengthener and appetizing tonic there is simply no equal to Ferrozone. Of this we are positively sure.

It is crowned with the success of splendid cures; will restore anyone to health who uses it. The following letters from people who have actually experienced what Ferrozone can do will clearly show you just how beneficially it acts:—

No Medicine Ever Did So Much Lasting Good as Ferrozone.

"It would be difficult to express my thanks for the benefit I have received from Ferrozone," writes Miss Eva Wight, of Florenceville. "I was so weak and miserable that I could scarcely go around the house. My head ached, there was a dragging weakness in my limbs, and I felt as if every spark of life had left me. Ferrozone improved my appetite, toned up my blood, and soon made me well. Nothing I ever used did me half the good I got from Ferrozone."

The Great Tonic, Ferrozone, Brought Back Life.

"I am anxious to speak a good word for such a magnificent tonic as Ferrozone," says E. P. Gerow, of Yorktown. "I was wretchedly worn out. I was apprehensive, and lacked confidence. It was simply due to my very weak state. The only remedy that really did me lasting good was Ferrozone. It rebuilt my strength, has made me as vigorous and happy as a man could be. In the whole range of medicines I never used anything with half the merit I found in Ferrozone."

Though you spend a thousand dollars on doctors, you can't get a more vitalizing, strengthening tonic than Ferrozone. It is the best that money, combined with scientific research, can produce. If anything in this world will make you strong it must be Ferrozone. Others have proved its worth. You can easily do so for yourself. It will send new vital energy and renewed youth singing through your veins. It's nature's own remedy—a true food tonic.

ENGLAND

The tragedy of a man who, after unsuccessfully claiming a fortune of several millions, tried to commit suicide by starvation in an unoccupied bungalow at Pangbourne, has startled the pretty little Thames-side village. On a recent Sunday morning a woman who was acting as caretaker at the bungalow, found two broken panes of glass in one of the windows. Entering, she found the door of one of the upstairs rooms fastened from the inside. On the landing was a note which had been pushed under the door. The woman at once sent for the police, and a sergeant who arrived found the note to be of a startling character. It read: "Sick with walking about looking for employment and for days without food, I came upon this, and, thinking it was empty, I entered it to die of starvation. I should prefer to do so under cover. I found the house furnished, and obviously unoccupied. After thinking the matter over, and being too weary to look further, I determined to stay here until death came—which, if I am left in peace four days, it will do. Apologising for any trouble that I am causing, I enclose a sketch of my history.—A. F. S. Dundas." With the note was a cutting from a newspaper, dated 1904, headed: "A New Tichborne Case." This related to an appeal which failed, in the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania, against the decision of the Orphan Court of Philadelphia. The lower court had refused to admit that Arthur Fitzroy Somerset Dundas was the rightful heir to a share of the late Mrs. Anne Dundas' property, which was valued at several million dollars. When the sergeant entered, the man said he had tried to destroy himself with his neck-tie and braces, but failed in each case.

A case which excited great local interest came before the West Bromwich Stipendiary, when Samuel Keys, a nonagenarian, was charged with assaulting and threatening his son-in-law, James Coleman, and Mr. Coleman's coachman. It was stated that he made an unwarranted claim for money against his son-in-law and charged him with robbing him of £1,000 in connection with a building society. Complainant said the defendant went to him at his house, and after repeating the demand for the payment of the money struck him with a stick, and the coachman was called and the defendant also struck him. Subsequently he revisited the house and terrorised the inmates. The Stipendiary said if persons of 88 years of age did not behave themselves they must be punished. The defendant was fined and bound over to keep the peace.

Wales has become the scene of a strike of shop-assistants against the "living-in" system. It threatens to spread all over the country unless the employers give way. It began some time ago in Bridgend, where a staff refused to "live in" and demanded 15s. a week in lieu of board and lodging. The employer gave way, and the trouble was averted. Some of the assistants of J. D. Llewellyn & Son, grocers, of Neath, made a similar demand, the sum asked for in this case being 12s. a week. The head of the firm, consented to the assistants living out, and offered 10s. a week, but these terms were refused. The result has been that 14 of the assistants have handed in their notices, and the firm has had to close one of its shops. Feeling on the subject is very strong in the town, and the local Trades and Labour Council and officials of the National Amalgamated Union of Shop Assistants, Warehousemen, and clerks are supporting the assistants.

With the object of obtaining information first-hand as to the treatment of the inmates of Swindon Workhouse, Mr. A. H. Lee, a member of the Swindon Board of Guardians, obtained admission disguised as a shoemaker, tramping from Oxford to Cirencester. He had to take a bath, he says, with two other casuals. The food he found wholesome and cleanly served, but he considered it insufficient for an able-bodied man. All he could say of the drink was that it was wet and warm, and the bedding left a good deal to be desired. Mr. Lee, by his experience, has made himself liable to be unseated from the board, the law disqualifying from sitting any person who has received union or parochial relief twelve months before his elections or since his election. He declines, however, to resign until officially requested.

SCOTLAND

A blue book was issued recently containing the fifty-second annual report of the Registrar General on the births, marriages and deaths registered in Scotland during the year 1906. The population of Scotland at the middle of the year 1906, is estimated to be 4,726,070, of whom 2,305,850 are males and 2,420,220 females. This estimate is 49,467 more than the estimated population at the middle of the year, 1905, the increase of the male population being estimated at 25,765, and the female population 23,702. The total number of births registrated in Scotland during 1906, was 131,920. These births are 539 more than those of the previous year and 619 more than the average number registered during the last five years. The number of deaths during the year was 75,585, which is 1059 more than in the previous year, but 2081 fewer than the average number registered annually during the previous ten years. Marriages registered during the year numbered 33,123. They are 1880 more than in 1905, 1321 more than the average number registered during the previous ten years, and are the largest number registered in Scotland, in any year, since the institution of a national registration. The number of living children born in Scotland during the year ending December 31, 1905, was 131,453.

A dastardly outrage was committed upon Dr. John Carswell, the eminent lunacy expert and physician, in the streets of Glasgow one afternoon recently. The affair was carried out in the coolest manner possible, and only the unfortunate antecedents of the assailant, account for its premeditation and motive. Dr Carswell had just emerged about three o'clock, from the eastern district hospital, where he had been paying his daily visit to the mental wards, and had sauntered leisurely to the car station. While he was standing on the edge of the pavement, a man approached from behind, fired three shots into him from a revolver and, pointing the muzzle skywards, emptied the remaining chambers. A great sensation was caused by the incident and soon the bystanders crowded around the wounded man, over whom the assailant was coolly standing. Dr. Carswell instantly recognised that he had been shot by William Purves, a former Clyde pilot who had brought an unsuccessful action of damages against him for alleged unprofessional conduct and wrongful certification in lunacy. Indeed Purves made no secret of his identity, willingly spoke his name and address and spoke quite frankly about the motive he had in using violence towards the doctor.

Two men lost their lives, and two others were seriously injured in an accident which happened recently on the Great North of Scotland Railway at Newton Bridge, between Craigellachie and Dufftown. During the repairing of a bridge a crane was being used to remove a girder, and when the latter had been raised several feet from the ground it swung around and carried the crane and the bogie to which it was attached, as well as four men, over the parapet into the river, thirty feet below. Two of the men were killed, being held down in the river by the debris. One of them had both legs cut off. The other two men who were precipitated over the bridge each sustained a fractured skull and were removed to Elgin, where they are progressing as favourably as can be expected. Six more of the workmen had very narrow escapes, succeeding in running up a bank out of the way of the falling crane.

IRELAND

A long-standing feud between two clans of Antrim families had a tragic sequel the other day in Cushendall Court House, when two men, named Delargy, were remanded, charged with the murder of a middle-aged farmer named James McAuley. Leaving church after mass one Sunday, two younger representatives of the hostile parties fought on the roadside, but were separated. In the evening, however, the quarrel was renewed, and a terrible melee ensued, in which members of each each family (men and women) engaged, the weapons used being sticks, stones and a sledge-hammer. One of the accused, it is alleged, wielded the hammer to such effect that the deceased's skull was crushed in like an egg shell, several other combatants being seriously injured.

Remarkable circumstances were connected with a driving accident which occurred recently on the south side of quays, near Victoria Bridge. A hackney car was going towards Kingsbridge Station, when the horse stumbled and unseated two gentlemen passengers and the driver, all of whom alighted on the roadway unhurt. The animal then took fright, swerved towards the embankment, and, with the car attached, sprang over the low wall into the Liffey, a dive of some 30 feet, where the tide was full in. The horse swam a short distance; then, coming close to Messrs. Guinness' landing stage, it was secured, and when the harness was cut, was taken out of the water, apparently little the worse for its exciting experience.

A man giving the name of Parker was brought before the resident magistrate at Ballinasloe for examination recently. It was alleged that he had visited a couple of farms in the vicinity of Kiltown and Attlone and apportioned them out amongst the tenants. He is alleged to have stated that he came from County Galway, and represented himself as an estates commissioner engineer. He was supplied with maps, etc., and seemed to understand the business of a land surveyor. He thoroughly satisfied all the applicants for the land, and, it is stated, borrowed sums of money from several of them and then decamped. The victimized tenants are very reticent in giving information to the police.

The London and Northwestern Railway Company are making an interesting innovation in their Fleetwood to Belfast steamers. Close to the saloon in each steamer a room is being set apart as a telephone room, and when the steamers are alongside the quay at Belfast communication will be established with the National Telephone Co.'s system. Passengers arriving at Belfast will be able to communicate with their homes in order to advise their friends of their arrival, and in the same way business men will be able to communicate with their offices or works or the establishments of those on whom they intend to call.

There is a gratifying absence of crime in some districts of Ireland. Proof of this was given at the opening of Letterkenny Quarter Sessions recently. His Honour Judge Cooke was presented with a pair of white gloves, emblematic of the absence of crime in the district. His Honour said he was satisfied to hear that there was no criminal business to be dealt with. The whole country had to be congratulated on its freedom from crime. Addressing the Grand Jury at Enniskillen, Judge Craig was glad to say that there was only one bill to go before them, and it was a case that, he thought, would present no difficulty to them.

The latest story of supernatural influence comes from Clones in County Monaghan, where spooks are alleged to be playing with fire. A gentleman died, and shortly afterwards articles, especially clothes, about the house took fire in a mysterious manner. After much destruction to bedding and clothing, the relatives of the deceased man became so alarmed that they moved to another building. The fires, however, have still continued, and the worst of it is, say those who have seen them, that the flames refuse to be extinguished.

Exciting scenes occurred in Belfast recently, when Mr. Arthur Trew, in one of his political and religious addresses from the Custom House steps, referred to the contest in North Belfast and called for the National Anthem. As the first verse was being sung a section of the crowd sang "God Save Ireland," and immediately angry shouts were followed by blows, and hundreds quickly fled. A large force of police who were present quelled a further conflict.

Peterborough Fire Brigade; Some Interesting History

Forty-five Years of Fire Protection in This City—First Brigade Was Organized in Year 1862.

SOMETHING OF EARLY DAYS

Reminiscences of the Older Members—Chief Rutherford's Long Service—Some Big Events.

At this time, when Peterborough is making so much progress along the line of better fire protection, some information concerning the early days of the brigade should be of interest. This city, with a new firehall, a modern fire alarm system, with a fire-fighting equipment that is adequate and effective, and a well trained brigade, is in a better position than ever before to prevent the ravages of the dreaded fire fiend. And the various steps by which this state of affairs has been brought about are no doubt unknown to the general public.

This article is not intended to be a complete history of the Peterborough fire brigade. To complete such a work would take the labour of weeks; in fact, would be almost impossible, as the only record which remains is the memory of the few surviving members of the early fire brigade. Unfortunately, the minute books of the meetings of the brigade have been lost or destroyed, and thus no information can be gained from that source. Therefore, with the time and space available, it is possible only to briefly outline some of the most important episodes in the history of the brigade. So far as can be ascertained, these reminiscences of the early days are authentic, and they are given to our readers as such.

Have Always Been Effective

In a general review of the 45 years during which there has been a fire brigade of some kind or other in Peterborough, one is struck with the fact that at all times has the work of the brigade been effective. Even in the early days, when the apparatus was of the most meagre description, and the brigade composed of those who first reached the scene of the blaze, they generally succeeded in extinguishing the fire before serious damage was done. Thus, during all these years Peterborough has not been visited by any serious conflagration, such as has checked and set back the growth of other places. In 1860, the only fire of this kind occurred, when an entire block was wiped out, but that was before the organization of the first brigade. Since that time there have been many dangerous fires, some of which threatened the destruction of the business section, but so well have they been handled by the brigade that in no case did they get beyond control and sweep, unchecked, among the handsome buildings in the central part of the city.

A Picturesque Organization

In looking back another point that is noticed in connection with the brigade is that the firemen were prominent in the celebrations and demonstrations that were held. No parade was complete without the fire fighters in their big helmets and flaming red shirts; no fireworks display could be given without the brigade to assist. They were always to the fore on occasions of this kind, and were undoubtedly one of the most picturesque organizations of the town. To the firemen the citizens of Peterborough may give credit for the magnificent musical organization known as the 57th Battalion Band, of which every resident of the city is justly proud. The band was organized by the firemen, and for many years, when under the leadership of Mr. Finch Miller and others, was called the fire brigade band, and under that name was well known throughout Ontario for its splendid playing.

Always Progressive

The brigade during its long career has always made an effort to keep step with the march of progress, and in this aim they seem to have been eminently successful. Thus, early in the eighties we find that members of the brigade devised the alarm system which has just been discarded, and which has done useful and effective work during the past years. At that time, when the question of how an alarm system could be arranged, it was suggested that a telephone be placed in each fireman's house. This plan was found to be too expensive, but it lead some of the members of the brigade to reaching the conclusion that if it were possible to ring an extension bell in connection with a 'phone at the same time it would be equally as feasible to ring a number of bells at the same time. They tried the plan and found it to work so perfectly that the Bell Telephone Company adopted the scheme. The work of putting the wire into the

"THE BOYS OF THE OLD BRIGADE"

The members of the Brigade at that time were as follows—reading from left to right;—

Top Row—S. Clegg, *A. Jones, *W. Metheral, Wm. Greer, Ald. T. J. Wilson, Herb. Eastland, E. Page.

Middle Row—R. Clegg, Frank Burdette, *Chief Rutherford, Asst. Chief J. D. Craig, *J. Haggart, *W. Turner.

Bottom Row—W. Green, Jos. Yelland, Harry Evans, Street Commissioner; *Chris. Rutherford, *J. Gibbs.

The names marked with an asterisk are those of all that are left of the "Boys of the Old Brigade."

New Park Street Church Will Be Built At Once

Building Committee Decided Upon the Location Last Night—Site of Present Church Selected.

BUILDING TO COST $15,000

It was a history-making session last night at the Park Street Baptist Church. It was the first meeting of the Building Committee. Rev. A. H. Brace opened with prayer.

There were present Messrs. Frank Coon, T. G. Gillespie, R. F. Buntin, W. C. Burrie, Jos. Johnston, Albert Inkpen, Wm. Kemp, H. Jewett, Ald. Tinnter and Geo. Hayward.

Mr. T. G. Gillespie was appointed secretary, and Mr. Lorne Hicks his assistant. Mr. Frank Coon was chosen chairman, and Mr. Wm. Kemp treasurer.

A lengthy discussion on the best location for the new church followed, resulting in a resolution to build on the lot now occupied by the church, with the 50 feet to the north, and to the effect that the building shall be proceeded with immediately.

It was the general opinion of the committee that the limit should be $15,000, and that the seating capacity should be for 500, at least, without gallery.

The committee then went into ways and means. The scheme outlined by the pastor was accepted, and, before rising those present subscribed $1,000 for the undertaking. This act on the part of the committee will be a great inspiration to the church and congregation to follow their example. The matter is being entered into with keen enthusiasm, and the membership, none of whom are rich, will respond liberally.

A committee of eight were appointed to receive pledges from the membership and report at the next meeting.

STALLS WILL BE FREE TO EXHIBITORS

Important Decision of Directors of Peterborough Industrial.

A well attended meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair was held last night at the Bank of Montreal chambers. The chief matter of business was the placing of the special prizes. Another important feature of the meeting was the decision to grant the stalls in the exhibition grounds free to the exhibitors.

SOCIETY IS TO HOLD A FIELD DAY

Astronomical Society is Planning Such An Event.

The Peterborough Astronomical Society is planning a field day, which will be held in the latter part of June. It is proposed that the members of the society, armed with a number of instruments, shall visit some convenient part in the country nearby, where observations can be made. It is planned to make the affair last for an afternoon and evening. Refreshments will be provided and the affair will take somewhat of a picnic nature.

STEAMERS FROM RICE LAKE CARRY MANY PASSENGERS

Three steamers, with a total of 90 passengers, came up from Rice Lake this morning. The Water Lily, from Harwood, carried 35; the Monarch, from Gore's Landing, 30, and the Rainbow, from Hirdsall's, 25. The principal import from the south was potatoes. The Rainbow carried a couple of tons of these.

KING'S PLATE TOUCH BY MARK ST. EQUINE

Gallant Run at the Clasp of the Thunder—Must Have Been an Old Army Horse.

While a Mark street gentleman's horse was standing in front of his residence this afternoon the threatening northern sky suddenly rumbled with a loud clap of thunder, which proved greater stimulus to fast travelling than any other goad. The horse started off as if from a gun and for a block or two he had the King's Plates beat by a rod or more. It was certainly a lively run while it lasted, and it is fortunate that there was no one in the buggy. The heat was a short one stretching into only one block; however, it was exciting as the buggy was bumped around against post and tree until shafts and tugs were a tangled mass.

OBITUARY.

SAMUEL GILLIES

The death occurred of Samuel Gillies in Toronto yesterday afternoon at five o'clock, after a rather prolonged illness as a result of a paralytic stroke received three years ago. The immediate cause of his death was erysipelas, although he had not enjoyed the best of health since the date of the stroke.

The deceased was 68 years of age and a highly respected resident of Manvers, where he was born. He married Sarah Jane Sisson of Manvers 44 years ago, and his wife and two children still survive him. They are Robert Gillies of Port Hope and Mrs. Henderson of Manvers. The family moved to Peterborough two and a half years ago, residing at 170 Perry street.

Mr. Gillies was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, 170 Perry street on Monday, May 20, at 2.30 p.m. and proceed to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Proposal Made For The Formation Of Otonabee Diocese

With Peterborough as the See City—Diocese of Toronto Embraces Too Much Territory—Name of New Diocese Suggested.

NORWOOD MINISTER'S VIEW

The proposal to appoint a Coadjutor-Bishop to His Grace Archbishop Sweatman, has brought forth the proposal or suggestion to ease the situation by the appointment, not of a Coadjutor-Bishop, but by the creation of a Suffragan-Bishop to be styled the Bishop of Otonabee—of the suggested new Central Ontario Diocese of which Peterborough is to be the See City.

There is a possibility or a proposal that the Anglican Church will divide the present Diocese of Toronto and institute a new one embracing this district. It has been considered that the present Diocese of Toronto embraces too much territory and imposes too arduous duties upon its episcopal head and some are advocating the constitution of a new diocese.

Nothing has yet been definitely decided but the question is being seriously, if informally discussed. Already names are being suggested for the Diocese, should it be formed, and the following from the Canadian Churchman," by Rev. E. W. Pickford, of Norwood, will be of interest:—

It is rather premature to be talking about a name for a new diocese which is as yet only problematical. It is like children who discuss the names of the children they think they will have when they grow up. Should, however, the city of Peterborough ever become the centre of a new diocese, a good suggestion for a name would be that given me by a clergyman in this neighbourhood some years ago, when this matter was being discussed. He suggested calling the new diocese the Diocese of Otonabee, after the river which flows through the city, and has furnished the power for many of its industries. Looking forward to such division it would be one step towards it to elect at the next Synod, not a Coadjutor-Bishop, but a Suffragan-Bishop to be styled the Bishop of Otonabee.

Another writer in the Churchman, Charlotte E. Leigh, also suggests that the name "Otonabee" be given the preference.

Sunday School Convention Opened To-day In Rome

One Thousand Delegates to World's Convention of Sunday School Representatives Which Opened To-day in Italy's Capital.

PROGRAMME OF MEETINGS

Examiner Special.

Rome, May 18. — One thousand delegates representing thirty million people throughout the world, were present to-day at the opening of the fifth World's Sunday School Convention. The representation of the United States is larger than that of any other country. Foremost among the Americans in attendance are John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia; Bishop J. D. Haskell and President Edward K. Warren of the American Sunday School Association. Canada likewise is represented, as well as England, the Scandinavian countries, China, Japan, Australia, the West Indies, Africa and India.

The Programme

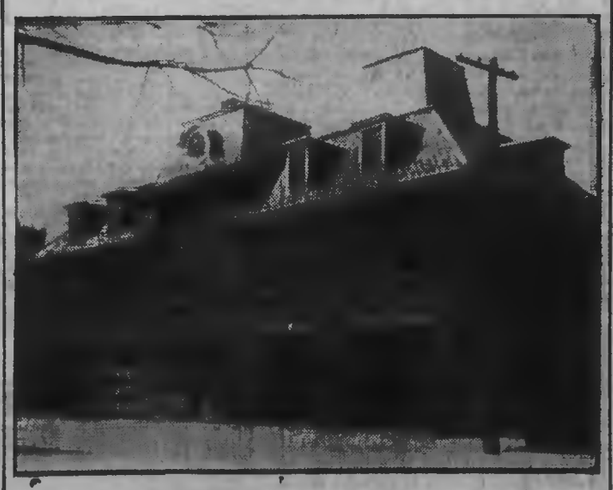
The Rev. F. FB. Meyer of London, will lead the first service to-morrow morning and this will be followed by a number of communion services, the delegates of each denomination meeting in their respective churches. In the afternoon the convention sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan of London.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to the convention services with morning conferences in English, French, German and Italian. The afternoons and evenings will be given to addresses on important subjects by Bishop Hartzell, of Africa; Bishop William of Switzerland; Rev. Dr. C. R. Blackhall of Philadelphia; Charles Waters, of England; Marion Lawrence, of Ohio; and others of prominence. The closing service will be held on Thursday evening, with addresses on the significence and influence of the convention. The final address was to have been delivered by Rev. Dr. John Potts, of Toronto, but unfortunately ill health prevented his attendance at the convention.



PETERBOROUGH'S NEW FIRE HALL

Which was opened for use last week and which is a credit to the city

RAIN STORM WAS NOT GENERAL

Scarcely Any Rain at Springville—Electrical Disturbances Great—Tree Struck in East City

The electrical storm this afternoon in the vicinity of Peterborough was very marked. Considerable rain fell and the lightning and thunder were acute. Little damage was done through the lightning, but, according to reports from the county, great gutters have been made among the fields of grain. The spring work on the low lands will be put back again at least a week.

In East City the lightning was very keen. A tree in Mr. E. A. Peck's garden was struck and badly split.

Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville was called up by telephone after the storm, and he stated that there was scarcely enough rain there to settle the dust. There was also little lightning, but the magnetic disturbances were great and the electrical disturbances greater. The latter were quite noticeable from the ringing of the telephone in Dr. Marsh's residence.

No damage was done at the local power house, but the lightning entered upon the arresters quite freely and was grounded.

Stratton's for purses and shopbags.

MR. BAKER'S DESIGN OF THE NEW PROPOSED FLAG FOR CANADIANS

The Examiner to-day publishes a cut of a proposed Canadian flag design, by Mr. R. H. Baker, of this city. This design was submitted to the Toronto Globe, and the editor of the Magazine Section, writing to the Examiner, in reference to it, says: "I am in doubt whether anything since then has quite equalled it in merit." The flag has been described in these columns before, so that it will be unnecessary to repeat. The cut gives an excellent idea of the thought the designer had in mind.

"THIS IS MY 39th BIRTHDAY"

Nicholas II.

Nicholas II., the present Czar of Russia, who is the eighth ruler to represent the House of Romanof-Holstein, was born May 6, or May 18, according to the new style, in the year 1868, and was the eldest son of Emperor Alexander III., and Princess Dagmar, the daughter of the late King of Denmark. His education by private tutors was supplemented by extensive travel. One of the most exciting incidents of his early career was his attempted assassination by a fanatic when he was travelling through Japan on his way around the world. Nicholas ascended the throne November 1, 1894, and, four weeks later, was married to Princess Alexandra Alix, daughter of Grand Duke Ludwig IV., of Hesse, and grand-daughter of the late Queen Victoria. They have four children, four of them daughters, the youngest a son.

PRAISE YOUR WIFE'S COOKING WHETHER SHE DESERVES IT OR NOT

That vexed question of cooking, is the subject of the concluding letter in the series on "The Making of a Successful Husband," which have been published in the Examiner during the last few days. In this letter John Sneed gives his boy some excellent advice. He points out that it is poor policy to praise his mother's cooking at the expense of that of his wife. He also advises his son to compliment his wife occasionally—even though she may not deserve it.

CITY FLOWER BEDS ARE BEING INVADED

Complaints Registered Against Actions of Petty Thieves

Residents in many parts of the city are complaining of the theft from their gardens of plants, bulbs and flowers. In fact, the custom is becoming too prevalent and many cases of petty thefts of this nature have been reported.

A lady on Edinburgh street complains of losing several valuable bulbs which she had been taking care of for some time. This is a mean practice and should be "nipped in the bud," the same as the petty thieves are doing with their neighbours' flowers.

APPLICANT SAYS HE WAS TREATED UNFAIRLY

Complains About the Choice of Mr. MacDonald, as a Member of the Force.

The Examiner has received a communication from one of the applicants for a position on the police force of the city. The letter is rather too personal in tone, as besides being too long to print at the late hour it was received, in its entirety, but the gist of complaint is that the other applicants besides Mr. MacDonald were not treated fairly. It is pointed out that the successful applicant does not meet the conditions laid down as to age and physical fitness; that the other applicants were ignored and not even granted an interview with the commissioners, and knew "nothing about it till the appointment was made." The writer also claims that the most of the applicants have been law abiding residents of the city since childhood and should have received greater consideration than a man who has given the best part of his life to the service of another country, and returning a few months ago, "demands the best position in the city."

The best place to buy sporting goods is Stratton's.

TRAVEL EXHIBIT OPENS IN LONDON

An Interesting Exhibition of Modern Travelling Facilities Will be Held for Three Weeks

The exhibition illustrates, in a comprehensive manner, all the modern facilities and commodities appertaining to travel: Equipments for living in tropical, sub-tropical and Arctic regions are also shown.

TORONTO PRESS CLUB'S ANNUAL PLAY

"The Importance of Being Earnest" Will be Given During Race Week at Toronto

The theatrical attraction that will draw most attention in Toronto during the spring race meet is the production of "The Importance of Being Earnest," an English comedy that is to be seen at the Princess Theatre on May 30, 31 and June 1. The Toronto Press Club is producing the play with Mr. Douglas A. Paterson and Mr. Robert Stuart Pigott as the leading men. Both are seasoned actors of prominence on the American stage, and are supported by a very competent cast, including Miss Berenice Parker, a well-known artist. The play will be preceded by "Gringoire, the Ballad Monger," a clever playlet illustrating the times of Louis XI. of France. The Press Club's annual theatrical performance has become a social function of great importance in Toronto, and the coming production promises to exceed its predecessors in artistic quality. On Friday night the officers of the Canadian Press Association will receive their fellow craftsmen from all over the Province.

ON TO HUDSON BAY!

Do you see any connection between a Peterborough canoe and provincial politics. No? Then, note that the Peterborough canoe factories are busy beyond their capacity and the supply of workmen, in trying to fill orders for canoes, largely demanded by New Ontario. It is safe saying that this demand for canoes, paralleled by demands upon other industrial and financial resources of older Ontario would not have existed, at any rate with anything like the present force and momentum, but for the foresight and enterprise of the late Ross Government. That government, with a splendid optimism, had faith in the great hinterland of this great province. They proposed, organized and conducted an exploration of this territory in face of the cavilling and opposition of the Opposition of Ontario, led by Mr. Whitney. This pessimistic wet blanket derived thickness and texture from Mr. Whitney who in an address delivered in Massey Hall, at a great Conservative rally, jeered at Premier Ross with the taunt that the present benedictine Senator had duplicated in kind the achievement of Columbus and "discovered" New Ontario, which was hardly worth the trouble, for, Mr. Whitney, in a declamatory climax of depreciation, referred to it on that occasion as "The Land of the Stunted Poplar." But the advance of events has most amply justified the foresight and faith of Hon. Mr. Ross and his government. As a corollary to the potential value of New Ontario as discovered and demonstrated, the Ross Government devised and built the Provincial Railway a hundred miles into the wilderness as a necessary means of making the great resources of our new possessions available for development to the enrichment of older Ontario—the quickening of the industrial impulses and enterprises of older Ontario, and the establishment of profitable ventures to supply the demands which the development of the new country created. Among the many results is the fact of the discovery of the greatest mineral deposits of their kind in the world, a discovery which has made the howling wilderness of New Ontario—nameless, unknown a few years ago — familiar as household words in the mouths of great financiers on the changes of the world from San Francisco to St. Petersburg. The very building of the Ross Government Provincial Railway unearthed those great mineral deposits. Where the wolf of the genus lupus had sole possession a few years ago, the speculative wolf of the genus homo now roams at will, and with very good reason. While reckless speculation finds its base of operation in the Cobalt belt, there is at the same time potential wealth for the legitimate investor and exploiter.

The mining activity has developed all other firms of industrial activity and enterprise. A pioneer railway that was regarded by its opponents as an extravagance and a failure in advance, now enjoys the employment of its full capacity of freight and passenger transportation. It has justified its existence a thousand fold and its extension, not only to the junction with the Grand Trunk Pacific Transcontinental, another splendid Liberal dream-reality, but to the northern limit of provincial territory. We know that far beyond the Abitibi there are stores of mineral and forest wealth, needing, for their commercial development, the aid of railway transportation. On to Hudson Bay! should be the railway slogan dinned into the ears of the Ontario Government. This government is committed by every consideration of enterprise and duty to the best interests of the province, to pursue with vigour the railway policy so courageously inaugurated by their predecessors. The latter builded better than they knew —they built in faith to find the fruition in magnificant reality. They had no guide but the light of faith in the resources of the new country to lead them. The present government have the light of fact to guide them; they know that the country yet unprovided with development conditions is well, infinitely well, worth the price of extended construction of transportation facilities. There should, then be no hesitation — no necessity to wait for the reports of Dr. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. Mr. Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, as to the resources of the new territory to be tapped.

The Government owes it to older Ontario to take the necessary steps to develop the admitted and undoubted resources of yet virgin New Ontario. Older Ontario, through the lure of the West, is being robbed of the best elements of its agricultural manhood. We deplore this in a way; but recognize the compensations. Building up the West will create a market for the industrial products of older Ontario, and in this way level up the loss. Development of New Ontario will have the same result, with all the gain our very own. Whether these results take the form of Peterborough canoes, electric generators; or turbine wheels and sawmill machinery; or Quaker Oats or Canada Flakes; or reapers and mowers; or binder twine and cordage; or tools; or carpets, employment for labour and prosperity for the industrial activities of older Ontario will be the harvest. On to Hudson Bay with the provincial railway, gathering on the way freight of forest and mineral wealth, and at the end an ocean port and wealth of fishery products! Wake up, Whitney! Call back Reaume, or rather, call for tenders for the extension of the Provincial Railway to James' Bay. Ontario is the first of the provinces of the Confederation; see to it that she is first in the railway race to the sea.

WHY NOT EXTEND THE SCOPE?

The Toronto News, discussing the Lamieux bill, says that if the Act works well in connection with public utilities which serve all the people, there is a sound argument for enlarging its scope so as to cover industries other than public utilities. It adds:

The public has been penalized long enough by being forced to bear the trouble and inconvenience consequent upon the paralysis of particular industries, the dislocation of general trade, men out of employment, and all the foolishness and fear and violence which come of the bad blood engendered by a prolonged strike or lock-out. If this Act proves efficient, or can be made more efficient by amendment, it should be extended to cover all industries where a cessation of labour will cause public inconvenience. It should also be extended to cover such public utilities as milk and bread, and other commodities necessary to every family whether or not they constitute natural monopolies.

The Ontario Act respecting the Railway and Municipal Board, goes pretty far in the direction indicated by our contemporary. For example, section 59 reads as follows:

Wherever there shall exist, on any railway or street railway, or public utility, a strike or lock-out, or any strike or any lock-out, by reason of which, in the opinion of the Board, the general public shall appear likely to suffer injury or inconvenience with respect to food, fuel or light, or power, or the means of communication or transportation, or in any other respect, and the parties to such strike or lock-out will not consent to submit the matter or matters in controversy to the Board, the Board, after having first made due effort to effect a settlement thereof, by conciliatory means, and such effort having failed, may proceed, of its own motion, to make an investigation of all facts bearing upon such strike or lock-out, and shall make public its findings, with such recommendations to the parties involved as, in its own judgment, will contribute to fair and equitable settlement of the cause of the strike or lock-out, and in the prosecution of such inquiry the Board shall have all the powers conferred upon it by any other section or sections of this Act.

The News specifically mentions strikes or lock-outs affecting the supply of bread and milk as justifying Government intervention, and it will be observed that the Railway and Municipal Board Act clearly reaches these commodities, which are articles of food, and goes far enough to reach any industrial war by which the general public may receive injury of inconvenience.

It is to be noted that the Ontario legislation does not go as far as the Dominion Act, in that it merely provides for compulsory investigation, leaving it to public opinion to do the rest, while the Dominion Act forbids a strike or lock-out pending investigation. If further legislation is to be had along the lines suggested by the News, it should come from the Province, for the reason that the Dominion Government, in dealing with matters of this nature unless as regards corporations chartered by it, is clearly trespassing on Provincial jurisdiction.

Even with legislation as it now stands, the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board might well have investigated the situation with respect to the milk supply of Toronto, as affected by the recent trouble, and it would seem to have missed an opportunity of demonstrating its usefulness when it failed to make the attempt.—Brantford Expositor.

PETERBOROUGH FIRE BRIGADE; SOME INTERESTING HISTORY

different houses and of installing the first system, was done by the firemen themselves.

First Hose Wagon

About this time also the brigade came to the front again by having built the first hose wagon ever used in Ontario. Previously hose reels had been used but the Peterborough brigade hearing of a wagon being used in Boston determined to have one for themselves and accordingly a vehicle was built and was found to answer the purpose admirably. Other brigades were quick to follow their example after Peterborough had shown the way.

Just when the first fire protection was secured for Peterborough it is hard to say, but in 1860 the corporation was the proud possessor of a small hand engine which with a few short lengths of hose, completed the equipment. There was no such thing as a brigade then, the engine being taken out of the shed in which it was stored by the people who first reached the scene when the alarm was given. Others joined in as the engine came along, and when the blaze was reached everybody took a hand in helping to quell the flames.

The First Brigade

It was in October, 1862, that the first fire brigade or fire company, as it was called then, was organized. In 1860 a conflagration made almost a complete sweep of the block bounded by George, Simcoe and Water streets and destroying twenty-nine business places. This with the smaller fires happening soon after, opened the eyes of the citizens to the need of better protection from fires.

In the Examiner of May 15th, 1862, appeared the following editorial reference to a fire occurring a week before, which illustrates the the feeling of the people on the subject:

"Again, have we been reminded of the want of a fire company, or some such organization in cases of fires. When the alarm was given the engine was soon on the ground, and had there been an experienced, cool commander, he would have placed the engine at first where it ought to have been. Never have we seen more confusion and loss effected by so many people as at the fire on Saturday, and the failure seemed to be clearly traceable to the fact we have noticed, that there was no head, no directing mind, to say what should be done."

At this time there was an agitation for better protection from fires, and in the last week of October of that year we find that a petition was presented to the town council, signed by a large number of ratepayers, who expressed their willingness to organize a fire company, if the council would place the meagre apparatus on hand in a state of repair. A joint meeting of the ratepayers and a committee from the council was held with the late Charles Perry, in the chair. It was agreed by the council to have the apparatus repaired, and those interested in the project went to work at once with the forming of the company.

The Original Officers

On Friday, October 31, an enthusiastic meeting was held in the town hall, and the company was organized with the following officers:

D McNaughton, Captain.
W H Scott, 1st Lieutenant.
L York, 2nd Lieutenant.
J O'Donnell, Secretary.
A Stewart, Treasurer.
M Lane, 1st Branchman.
W H Wrighton, 2nd Branchman.
W J Robinson, 3rd Branchman.
H Bradbeer, Captain of Hose.
J J Lundy, Lieutenant.
A Comstock and Wm. McDonnell, Axemen.

Of these gentlemen, only three, Wrighton, Lundy and Comstock are now residing in Peterborough. Most of them have long since departed this life.

Apparatus Was Meagre

The apparatus at that time was of a rather primitive nature, consisting of a hand fire engine and hand reels for hose. The Fire Committee of the Council that year had two tanks for the storage of water built, one at the corner of George and Brock streets, and the other at the Market Square. These, with the wells in the neighbourhood, were the only available supplies of water if the fire was away from the river. The bucket brigade was an institution that did good work, pails being passed from man to man in a long chain from the water supply to the fire. In the minutes of the Council meeting in that year is noticed an account for pails used at a fire, so that in all cases the buckets were not supplied free of charge. The brigade was, of course, a purely volunteer one, and the citizens generally assisted when they were called upon to help pull the engine or to aid in quelling the flames.

Ralph Helm was the first chief of the brigade, and Mr. Kimbal the first assistant chief, being appointed by the Town Council on November 17, 1862.

New Firehall

In 1863 the Council continued their campaign for better fire protection, and it was in this year that the firehall on Simcoe street, just vacated by the present brigade, was built, or at least commenced. On June 1st the Council first took up the matter of building a new hall. On that night it was moved by Coun. Lundy, seconded by Coun. Burnham, that the Committee on Public Property procure a suitable plan and specification of a building to contain a lock-up, engine house, hook and ladder room, a room for the use of the fire company, etc., the building to be two storeys high and to be 50x58 feet.

The resolution carried, and the committee at once set about preparing for the new firehall. It was at first proposed to build it on the Market Square, at the corner of Charlotte and Water streets, and the cost was to have been $500. After the matter had been under discussion for some time it was decided to build a more substantial building and to erect it on Simcoe street. The building was made three storeys instead of two, as had been intended at first, and the building was made commodious enough to last until the present time, although it was rebuilt and changed in 1866.

Interesting Reminiscences

Mr. W. H. Wrighton has many interesting reminiscences of this period of the brigade's history, and when seen by the Examiner he recalled the scenes that used to take place when an alarm was sounded. Nearly everybody in the place used to turn out to the fires, and did everything in their power to stay the advance of the flames. With the equipment which they had at their disposal the effective work done was amazing. Mr. Wrighton remembers the big fire spoken of above, which destroyed the Albert Block, as it was known then. The people could do nothing to stay the progress of the blaze in that case. The buildings were all wooden structures, and huddled sociously together that the citizens with their puny engine and bucket brigade were powerless, and had to watch the blaze destroy 29 of the most handsome business places in the town.

The bucket brigade, according to Mr. Wrighton, was one of the features of every fire, and did good work. They used to call upon the merchants to supply them with buckets, and in some cases nothing more was heard of them.

"Sometimes they paid for them, and sometimes they didn't," remarked Mr. Wrighton.

The latter was a member of the brigade for a good many years, from 1862 until well on into the seventies; in fact, until after the present Chief Rutherford was appointed. Mr. Wrighton was for some time chief engineer, and among others he recalls who occupied that position at that period were the late Col. Poole, Messrs. O'Donnell and Swain.

The Brigade in the Seventies

Chief Thomas Rutherford, who, from the view point of experience and long service, is able to speak with more authority, perhaps, than any other resident of Peterborough on fire matters, in this city, was able to supply the Examiner with much valuable and interesting information concerning the early history of the brigade. The chief has been a member of the Peterborough Fire Brigade, for almost forty years, first joining the forces of the firefighters in the year 1868. For twenty-six years he has been chief of the brigade, ever since its reorganization in 1881.

John McNaughton was chief of the brigade when Chief Rutherford first joined that organization. There were in all sixty members, and there were two companies, one looking after the hose and the other the hook and ladder department.

The officers consisted of a chief and two captains. The alarm system was of the simplest nature, consisting merely of four bells, hung from wooden frames, in different sections of the town, upon which the alarm was sounded.

Mr. McNaughton was succeeded by Mr. W. H. Wrighton, in 1871. During the time that the latter was in charge of the brigade White & Davis' factory, at the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets, was destroyed by fire. Mr. Wrighton gave way to the late Colonel Poole, who was in charge of the brigade until 1874, and was succeeded for one year by Charles Stapleton. During the latter's regime occurred the fire which burned down Mill's store, at the corner of George and Brock streets.

Brigade on Strike

The late John Gibbs, father of Mr. John Gibbs, of the present brigade, came into charge of the fire fighters in 1875, and Chief Rutherford rose to the position of captain of hose company. He had previously been president of the brigade, the first office which he held. Mr. Gibbs held office for three or four years, when he was dismissed by the council, and immediately the brigade went on strike the whole sixty members leaving the force and selling out their effects.

The town could not be left without a fire brigade of some kind, and immediately steps were taken to form another brigade, with George Mitchell as chief, and Messrs. McDonald and McNeil as captains. This new brigade was only in existence about a year when the town council decided to reorganize the the firefighting forces and place them upon a more effective plane. The late Walter Paterson was chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee at the time, and Mr. Rutherford was appointed chief, and asked to form a brigade.

The New Brigade

The brigade as we have it now, was organized in February, 1881, and of the members who were present at the organization meeting, only three in addition to Chief Rutherford, are members of the present brigade. They are Messrs. Chris. Rutherford, J. Gibbs and A. Jones.

The officers of the Protection Hook and Ladder Company, in existence the year before, had been as follows:

Captain, E. Hughes.
Lieut., George Pappin.
Secretary, J. C. Robertson.
Treasurer, W. S. Cocks.

Messrs. C. Rutherford and J. Gibbs are the only members of this company still connected with the fire brigade.

The company was only in existence a little over a year when the proposal was made to amalgamate it with the hose company of which Mr. A. Jones is the only member left in the present brigade.

Organization Meeting

A meeting was held in the fire hall on February 17, 1881, for the purpose of organizing a brigade, and uniting the two companies. Among those present at the meeting were: Chief Rutherford, S. Billington, J. D. Craig, A. Clegg, S. Clegg, W. Cook, J. W. Flavelle, S. H. Green, T. Goldie, J. W. Jenkins, J. M. Mowry, H. May, L. W. McBain, G. McBain, M. M. McDonald, A. N. Shaw, R. Clegg, C. Rutherford, D. Jameson, G. Pappin, F. Weir, J. C. Robertson, J. Pentland, and others, whose names have been torn out of the minute book, which is the only record of the career of the brigade in those days.

The officers elected at that meeting were:

Captain, T. Billington.
Secretary—J. C. Robertson.
Treasurer—L. W. McBain.

The brigade for the first time, in 1881, received anything in the way of pay. In that year the Council decided that they should not have to pay poll tax.

Brigade Reduced

Chief Rutherford, at the time of organization, decided to reduce the strength of the brigade to thirty members, which was done by taking half of each of the original two companies. Since then the strength of the brigade has been decreased again, the chief allowing members to drop out, without replacing them, until at the present time the department has about twenty members.

The history of the brigade from this time forward is well known to the residents of the city, and it is not necessary, in this article, which is intended to give some idea of the early conditions, to touch upon the progress made during more recent years. There have been few events of great importance in the history of the brigade in the last twenty years. Reference has already been made to the fact that the brigade originated the alarm system just discarded, and also built the first hose wagon used in Ontario. The personnel of the brigade has changed but slowly in that time. Most of the members of the brigade have been connected with it for long terms of years, but, of course, some of them have dropped out, among them Mr. J. D. Craig, who was assistant chief for 15 years, from 1885 until 1900.

As has been said, there have been few serious fires, though in the last score of years there have been some that have given the fire fighters considerable anxiety and labour, the most dangerous being those that occurred on George street or the other business streets. Those who have been residents of Peterborough for a number of years will remember the fire which destroyed the group of factories along the raceway, on and above the site of the Quaker Oats Co.'s building, and the several fires on George street.

Now the brigade is once more in the van with complete fire-fighting facilities and ready for all emergencies. The next forward step will likely be the organizing of a paid brigade. At the rate at which Peterborough is progressing at the present time, it will soon be in a position to establish such an organization.

One Narrow Escape

In the long history of the local fire brigade there has never been a man killed or seriously hurt at a fire. Chief Rutherford, however, recalls one narrow escape which he and another member of the brigade, whose name he forgets, once had. Brodie's mill on the raceway was on fire, and the chief and his companion were on the top storey, when the roof began to fall in. It looked as if the two men were doomed, and there was great excitement among the spectators. They were unable to reach the front of the building where there was a ladder, but managed to make their way to the second storey. Further progress by the stairs was cut off, and their predicament seemed even worse than before. Finally, in desperation, they jumped from a second storey door on to a pile of waste material outside the building, and escaped without a scratch.

Formal Opening of Hall

The formal opening of the new firehall should be made an occasion of in celebration befitting such an important event in the history of the brigade. The fire fighters are now, and always have been, men of whom the citizens, as a whole, should feel proud, and when there is an opportunity offered, full advantage should be taken of it to show the appreciation in which their services are held by the people of Peterborough.

AN EXPENSIVE HOBBY

HON. LIONEL ROTHSCHILD'S COLLECTION OF RARE ANIMALS.

Has Largest Private Museum In Existence — Book on Extinct Birds to Cost $100,000—Big Price For a Flea —Employs Zebras for Driving and Farm Purposes — Possesses Many Unique Specimens.

Ordinarily when an author publishes a book he expects to make something out of it. The Hon. Lionel Walter Rothschild of London and Tring Park, England, does not depend on literature for a living. Like some other members of the famous family of financiers, he has a hobby, and a rather expensive one at that. In the collection of rare animals and insects and in publications about them he has spent what to many would seem a very comfortable fortune. His zoological museum at Tring Park is perhaps the largest private museum of the kind in existence. He edits reports on the collections of this museum which cost him a great deal, but he is now engaged in the publication of a book about "Extinct Birds" which as a sort of literary and scientific luxury promises to beat the record. This work is said to have cost the author about $100,000, and only 300 copies of it will be issued. These will be printed in English and sold at $125 a copy. Thus, even if he sold all the books at the price named, he would be a loser to the extent of over $60,000.

But $60,000 is nothing to the eldest son of Baron Rothschild. He spends about as much as that every year in keeping up his wonderful zoological gardens and museum. He has fitted out expeditions to go hunting in the tropics for rare animals, paying high prices where necessary to obtain them and buying out whole collections sometimes just to obtain one extraordinary specimen. His younger brother Charles, whose hobby is the collection of fleas, once commissioned some Arctic whalers to obtain for him specimens of the fleas of Arctic animals, and there was a story that Charles had offered a prize of $5,000 for a single example of the flea of the Arctic fox. This was denied, but it was not denied that he had made special inducements to the Arctic fishermen to find for him specimens of insects from the polar regions. Charles Rothschild has manifested strange devotion to his singular hobby. He says that every mammal and bird has a particular kind of flea and that some of them have several kinds, so that the flea affords more diverse material for a collector than any living creature. He has fleas from every corner of the world, over 10,000 different varieties. It affords him as great delight to secure a new kind of flea as it does J. Pierpont Morgan to obtain a rare specimen of the work of an old master.

HON. LIONEL WALTER ROTHSCHILD AND HIS MUSEUM

Imperishable Paper.

In the publication of the work on extinct birds great care has been taken to render it so far as possible imperishable. The most expensive paper is used, and the blocks for the color plates cost over a thousand pounds. Among the birds now extinct, or practically so, of which the book has illustrations are the great auk, the whale-headed stork, the King Albert's bird of paradise from New Guinea, the Labrador duck and Manteil's kiwi.

The Hon. Lionel Walter Rothschild, though 38 years of age and though occupied with business cares and his duties as a member of Parliament, has attained reputation as a scientist. The study of animals and insects and their collection are with him no mere hobby, and he has written several works on natural history which have been accepted as authorities in their field.

Zebras In London.

He was one of the first Englishmen to employ the zebra for driving and farm purposes. He startled the staid British public a few years ago by driving zebras four abreast through the streets of London. His collections embrace a wide variety of specimens belonging to the animal kingdom, living and dead, but perhaps he takes the greatest interest in birds. Among stuffed specimens of the latter in his museum at Tring Park is an example of the great auk, with two eggs, bird and eggs together being valued at about $1,700. Another rare and extinct bird in the museum is the grotesque whale-headed stork from the White Nile.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF QUEBEC.

Sharp Criticism On Teachers' Salaries and Other Matters.

A good deal of comment has been caused by Mr. Anglois' attack upon the Quebec schools. The member for St. Louis said: "The average salary of the 4,700 female teachers in this province is $119, while in Ontario it is $348. In a word, if Quebec only pays half the amount to her elementary teachers of what is paid in the other provinces, he contended that there was but one result to follow.

He maintained that these teachers were getting less to-day, in fact, than they were twenty years ago. There are teachers, he said, in the County of Charlevoix who receive the miserable pittance of $70 a year, $90 in Kamouraska, $87 in L'Islet, $97 in Rimouski, and $99 in Temiscouata. As a matter of fact, the new counties were doing better for their teachers than old counties like Berthier, L'Assomption and other districts around Montreal. Quebec Province paid for educational purposes $1.42, while Prince Edward Island paid $1.66, New Brunswick $1.89, Nova Scotia $2.13, Ontario $2.31, British Columbia $3.75, and Manitoba $5.84.

Inspection a Farce.

He did not blame the fathers of families any more than the Governments, for all Governments had been greatly at fault. He denounced the school inspection as a farce, and then took up the question of public libraries, to show that there was something more useful than in shouting patriotism at St. Jean Baptiste Day celebration. We have not, he said, a single public library, so to speak, in this province, while Ontario has 490, Massachusetts, 634; Connecticut, 226; Rhode Island, 99; New Hampshire, 169; Vermont, 119, and New York, 924.

He referred to the Protestant educational campaign, which had been recently made in this province by the recognized lay and clerical leaders of their separated brethren, and he maintained that the majority in this province was still more in need of such a campaign than the Protestants.

Public Scandal.

Referring again to the question of teachers, he said that the salaries had been so reduced that to-day there were only thirty-one lay male teachers in the province, and no wonder, for they only received $262 a year. He said he was an uncompromising adherent of the uniformity of books. The different series of books now in use in this province made education too expensive for the people's means. In Toronto books cost 25 cents a year, while in Montreal the first year they cost $1.11; the second year, $1.12; the third year, $1.94, and the fourth year, $2.26. This was nothing less than a public scandal.

SIR WM. MULOCK TO MINERS.

An Object Lesson to Canada in Settling Labor Questions.

At the final meeting of the Conciliation Board, met to deal with the miners' grievances in Fernie, the other day, Sir William Mulock made an able address upon the labor disputes, the methods settling them and the law. Following the official statement of the signing of the agreement vice-president Sherman, of the United Mine Workers of America, passed a bouquet of thanks to Sir Wm. Mulock and Mr. King.

"We had not organized formally under the act," returned Sir William, speaking also for his colleagues. "That did not appear necessary in view of the contemplated settlement between the parties themselves aided by Mr. King. They have acted most wisely. I have been gratified by the intelligent spirit manifested by the miners. In this they have made a great advance in the settlement of disputes and have set an object lesson to the labor circles of Canada. It is impossible that all the demands on one side could be granted. Every question of importance in life that requires concurrence of many minds must be settled by compromise. Every large public question upon which the people unite has to be the result of an adjustment of opposing and conflicting views. So in trade disputes."

Referring to New Zealand where arbitration and enforcement is compulsory, Sir William said:—"I have never favored anything in the way of compulsion or coercion. We must appeal to men's sense of right and justice and not to force in the settlement of industrial disputes."

Of their reference to his long trip to be of service, he said:—"The satisfaction I have received in witnessing your efforts to solve this problem is one of the greatest pleasures I have experienced since I took any interest in public affairs."

Horse Show a Success.

The recent Horse Show in Toronto, as an exhibition and in point of attendance, was a success. More people saw it than saw the show last year. More people came to Toronto from outside points to be present. The horses, in nearly every class were especially good, in one or two cases only the judges withholding ribbons. Moreover, there were more entries.

Financially, the show has a little balance in the wrong column, an actual deficit of $8.00. The boxes brought in only $2,142, this year, as compared with $4,355 last year, and though the general attendance was larger, the prices were lower, and the admission receipts lower. The management set out with subscriptions of $2,000 from the Ontario Horsemen's Association, $1,000 from the Canadian Horse Show Association and $1,650 in individual subscriptions from members of the Toronto Hunt Club. This would leave an apparent surplus, but the subscribers are repaid in part by the association.

Those having most to do with the show are well satisfied with its success, a success attained despite more than one serious handicap. As to the judging, no complaints have been made.

It pays to advertise, we know.
The cheapest way is best.
Just tell your wife, and she will go
And tell it to the rest.

Rush for "Transformations."

Small fortunes are being reaped by London hair dressers, owing to fashionable women's demand for "transformations," which apparently in simple English are hair pads. Men would be surprised, said a Bond Street coiffeur, if they knew what a large number of women are now relying upon false hair to give them the appearance the present fashion demands, which is a very high coiffure. A girl with her own hair dressed nicely is rarely seen in fashionable circles nowadays. Even women and girls with beautiful hair pay willing from 5 to 50 guineas for these transformations. Girls in their teens are quite as anxious for them as their mothers.

HAS SAVED THOUSANDS

LORD LISTER CELEBRATES HIS EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY.

Grand Old Man of Surgery—Introduced the Antiseptic Treatment of Wounds—Vastly Reduced Mortality—Opened New Field of Remedial Treatment—Has Been Called Benefactor of Humanity.

Lord Lister, the famous surgeon, has just celebrated his eightieth birthday. He is still hale and hearty, and received with pleasure congratulations from all parts of the world. In the morning "the renovator of surgery," as he has been called, received a deputation chosen by the Committee of Scientists of the World, who informed him that it had been decided to publish his writings in book form. The veteran's birthday was treated in Berlin almost as if it had been a German national event. One of the German papers, in an article entitled "Benefactor of Humanity," states that the introduction of the antiseptic method "has brought mankind one of the greatest blessings of all time, and made the name of Lister immortal." It is just forty years since he first announced to the world his discovery of the antiseptic treatment which has made his name one of the most honored in medical circles all over the world. It would probably be impossible to find another man in the world to whose work so many people owe their lives. Before the treatment which he introduced became general it is estimated that nearly 50 per cent. of surgical operations proved fatal owing to septic poisoning. What to-day would be considered a simple operation, was in those days always faced with the probability of a fatal termination. At the present day it is only in very rare cases that the wound caused by an operation is attacked by poisoning. This is almost entirely due to the antiseptic treatment which has made the most intricate and complicated operation possible. Pasteur had already thrown much light on the nature and history of the germs which caused gangrene and other poisonous diseases that so frequently followed an operation. Lord Lister took up the work where Pasteur had laid it down, and not only threw further light on the germs themselves but discovered the means by which they could be destroyed.

Lord Lister has had the gratification to see his principle universally adopted. Oxford, Cambridge, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dublin, have honored him with their degrees; foreign societies innumerable have conferred their distinctions. But the greatest honor in the eyes of his profession was that, having been made a baronet in 1883, he was raised to the peerage in 1897. For centuries the Church, the Army, the Navy, the Law had contributed largely to the Upper House; Literature had a representative in Macaulay; but Art and Science were in the main neglected until Leighton and Sir William Thomson (Lord Kelvin) were made peers; and the noblest of all professions was overlooked until it was honored in the person of Joseph Lister—the first medical man as such to enter the House of Lords. In what spirit did this most unassuming of men receive these honors? Here are his words when the City of Edinburgh gave him its freedom:

"I regard this and all worldly distinctions as nothing in comparison with the hope that I may have been the means of reducing in some degree the sum of human misery."

Noble words, worthy of a noble man. The King appointed Lord Lister Serjeant-surgeon-in-Ordinary soon after his accession.

Walter Scott as a Boy.

When Sir Walter Scott was only eighteen months old he was taken with a severe fever, which affected his right leg so that he was lame throughout his whole life. At the age of four a favorite aunt took him to Bath in hope that the waters there might lessen if not entirely cure his lameness, but they did not give him any relief. He lived at Bath for several years, learning to read at a dame school, taking private lessons of an aunt and often attending the theatre with his uncle, Captain Robert Scott. It is told that one evening upon seeing the play "As You Like It" young Scott became so excited during the quarrel between Orlando and his brother that he screamed out at the top of his voice, "Ain't they brothers?"

Superstition In Calcutta.

The greatest superstition exists in Calcutta. Not long ago an Indian gentleman residing in Jaun Bazar street had a live goat flung down from his two storied house in accordance with the directions of a so called magician, who was called in to cast out a devil with which a son was supposed to be possessed. The poor brute was first fed with a few bamboo leaves over which the wizard mumbled some mantras, and it was then pushed over the terrace. The animal was killed, and its flesh was distributed to the poor.

TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN WHO ESCAPED SPRING CATARRH BY TAKING PE-RU-NA

Spring Fever Is Spring Catarrh—Nothing Robs One of Strength Like Spring Catarrh.

Miss Nellie Condon.

Pe-ru-na Is a Fine Tonic For a Weary Woman.

A Letter of Praise.

Miss Nellie Condon, 460 7th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I consider Peruna the ideal spring tonic.

"For the past five years I have taken it at this time of the year and find that it enables me to endure the variable weather of the spring and the trying heat of the summer."

Peruna affords the most prompt and permanent relief in all cases of nervous prostration, caused by systemic catarrh, as verified by many cures on our records.

Mrs. Hattie Hamilton.

Gained Eighteen Pounds.

Mrs. Hattie Hamilton, R. F. D. 2, Sparta, Ky., writes:

"I have taken two bottles of Peruna and commenced on the third.

"I did not really need the third one, but thought it best to take another bottle.

"I have always weighed 102 pounds, but since I began taking Peruna I weigh 120 pounds for the first time in all my life, and I am now 33 years old.

"Your medicine has surely done me a great deal of good and I have recommended it to several others who have begun taking it.

"My mother, who is 76 years old, had grown so weak she could scarcely walk.

"She took two bottles of Peruna and is fleshier and is looking well."

A Spring Tonic.

ALMOST everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna possesses such qualities is beyond all question.

We have on file thousands of letters which testify to the curative value of Peruna in cases of nervous depression and run down conditions of the system.

A Typical Letter.

Mrs. Rhoda Stuffebeam, Bunch, Iowa, writes:

"For years I suffered with catarrh of the throat and bronchial tubes.

"I doctored with different physicians, but kept getting worse all the time.
